As it stands at the present the county quota is only one-half complete and in order to fill the quota it will be necessary to have 90 pints of blood donated at the next visit of the Bloodmobile here on Friday May 18.

Officers Have Busy Season

The past five or six weeks have been a pretty busy season for local law enforcement officers, according to announcement by Mills County Sheriff, C. F. Stubblefield.

Along with their regular routine work in connection with law enforcement duties there have been such additional duties as investigating burglaries at the high school building, Hollis Blackwell Wool Warehouse and a bakery truck which was entered.

Officers have announced that investigations reveal about a dozen local teenage boys, 15 to 18 years of age, are involved.

It was pointed out by officers that the matter is getting beyond the petty stage and felony charges could be filed.

The cooperation of parents and adults in helping to correct the situation is asked by officials.

Sheriff Issues Poison Warning

Mills County Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield has issued a word of warning to folks who may be responsible for placing poison on the streets or in the yards of Mills County homes during recent weeks.

Reports have come to officers about the matter and the Sheriff is making an appeal to citizens to refrain from throwing out poison.

It is a simple matter, when poison is thrown out in food particles intended for animals, for some child to get the poison instead. This would indeed be a tragedy.

FHA Broadens Lending Authorities To Meet Small Farmers' Needs

The Farmers Home Administration has broadened its lending authorities to meet the special needs of established small farmers who, due to drought and other adverse conditions, have been forced to work part-time off the farm in order to make a living for the family, Walter T. McKay, the agency's State Director announced today.

The extension of credit to these small farmers, who are in need of credit primarily for farm operating expenses which cannot be obtained from their usual source of credit, together with the income from office work will permit them to continue farming, and to maintain a satisfactory standard of living, McKay said.

These loans are short-term credit designed to help farmers finance one year's operations. Credit may be extended to farmers who are operating units no larger than a family type farm provided there is a sound basis for credit. McKay stated this means that the anticipated gross income from farming and other sources must be sufficient to repay the loan, meet farm and home expenses not provided for in the loan and provide a reasonable margin above such amounts.

Applications may be filed at the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration. FHA personnel may be contacted at the FHA office in the County Courthouse on Tuesday morning each week. The local county Farmers Home Administration Committee determines the eligibility of applicants for these loans.

Glynn Collier Is Named Chairman For 1956 Red Cross Fund Drive

GLYNN COLLIER

The appointment of Glynn Collier as 1956 fund drive chairman for Mills County was announced this week by Warren P. Duren, chairman of Mills County Red Cross Chapter.

Mr. Collier will start preliminary plans this week for organizing the drive which will be conducted during the month of March.

The quota for Mills County has been set at $2,057.00 for this year. From reports coming in the demand for disaster relief through the Red Cross has hit an all time high during the past few months with the peak disaster season still ahead. There will be a much greater demand for help through this organization this year than during the year just past. For that reason folks will be called on to increase their Red Cross support.

In announcing the appointment of the 1956 Drive chairman Mr. Duren pointed out that a large number of volunteer workers will be needed to make the campaign a success.

Community chairmen will be named by Mr. Collier and committee workers will be announced as they are appointed during the next three weeks.

All those who are interested in volunteering their services for this drive during the month of March are urged to contact Mr. Collier at Mills County State Bank.

Pressure Is on to Replace Lodge as U. S. UN Envoy | American Delegate Blamed For Recent Loss of Face

Special to Central Press Association

WASHINGTON—The Eisenhower administration is under growing pressure to replace Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., as United States ambassador to the United Nations. There are even some officials within the administration who are unhappy about the job Lodge has been doing recently.

Lodge is blamed particularly for the loss of face suffered by the United States in the recent "package deal" for admitting new members to the UN.

First, Lodge said the United States was opposed to Russia's insistence on including Outer Mongolia in the "package." Then, it was decided that the United States would "abstain" from the voting. When Nationalist China threatened to veto Outer Mongolia, the United States urgently asked the Formosans not to do that.

In other words, while the United States was basically opposed to the admission of Outer Mongolia, it refused to stand publicly for its principles and, in fact, was privately acting in a completely opposite direction.

Lodge's critics concede he undoubtedly was carrying out administration policy. However, they feel he must be replaced to erase the bad taste left by the whole situation. Overall, Lodge has been regarded as an effective spokesman at the UN in his own right and is highly respected by President Eisenhower.

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr.

● OLD AGE—House Speaker Sam Rayburn says his doctor has checked his health and advised him he'll probably live to be 90 or 100 years old.

The rugged Texas Democrat will be 74 years old Jan. 6, but looks much younger. Rayburn already has established a record for serving as speaker longer than any other man. He has also served longer in the House than any other living member.

Rayburn was sworn in as a United States representative on March 4, 1913. Only one man who took the oath before him is now in Congress. He is Carl Hayden of Arizona, who became a House member two years before Rayburn. Hayden is now a United States senator.

● POLITICS—The White House is leveling its big guns at only one Democratic presidential aspirant so far—New York's Gov. Averell Harriman, who has not yet announced he is running.

A short time after James Hagerly fired at Harriman as the "Tammany nominee," President Eisenhower reportedly told GOP congressional leaders with a chuckle that the New York governor is a "Park Avenue Truman."

Why Harriman is being singled out, when Adlai E. Stevenson is the Democratic front-runner, is somewhat of a mystery. It may be that Mr. Eisenhower is set to wage a more vigorous campaign—either as the GOP nominee or in support of someone else—against Harriman than he would if Stevenson gets the nod.

● RISKS?—The Senate investigation of discharges of federal employees for security reasons has produced some surprising figures from key agencies.

The State department, which long has figured in congressional probes of Communism, is a case in point. Its own figures reveal that from May 28, 1953, when the Eisenhower security program went into effect, until June 30, 1955, four persons were dismissed as security risks.

There were six other persons ousted against whom some adverse information had been given, but they were not removed as security risks.

Out-of-town friends who attended the funeral of Mrs. Jennie Trent Dew last Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Johnson of Methodist Home, Waco; Mr. and Mrs. Terrell, Waco; Rev. and Mrs. John Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dickerson, John and Charles Little all of San Saba; Mrs. Norman Weatherby, Brownwood; Col. M. Y. Stokes, of Dallas and Mrs. Boone of Brownwood.

C. A. Hill of Winters was in Goldthwaite last Saturday visiting friends. He was reared in Mills County but moved to Winters in 1937.

R. Lynn Brown of Sweetwater, has been here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jake Brown and other relatives.

25 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from the Eagle files of January 30, 1931)

Yesterday morning the driver of a bus coming from Lampasas discovered a trailer attached to a truck turned over about twelve miles south of this place. Upon investigation he found a man beneath the trailer. Other passers came to the assistance of the bus driver and the trailer was pulled off the man and he was brought to this city and given first aid and then carried to a Brownwood hospital.

Judge L. E. Patterson's car was robbed of its spare casing and rim last Sunday night, while parked in front of the Methodist Church during preaching services.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Casbeer celebrated their Golden Wedding on January 20, on that date they had been married even fifty years and both had lived in Mills County fifty-two years. They are natives of Texas and have lived on their home place in South Bennett community all the years of their married life.

The remains of Milton Hill was brought in Tuesday evening from Belton where he died early that morning from mumps, and was conveyed to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hill, at Bethel, from which place the funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, burial made in the cemetery at that place.

Mrs. Lee Wilkerson and baby came over from Dallas last weekend for a visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Faulkner.

Howard Morris and wife of Austin visited his parents and other relatives here Sunday. Miss Garetta Little came with the Howard Morrises and spent the day with homefolks and friends.

VIC'S . . . SOLILOQUY

Folks were glad to welcome L. V. Benningfield back home last week from the hospital in Dallas where he had been for a few weeks. He was glad to get home too. In fact he was quick to come down to the freight station to check up and see how things were going. Mrs. Benningfield looked after their freight deliveries while he was away and naturally he wanted to see if all was well.

L. V. isn't supposed to work for a while and when he came down town to see about things, the first thing that happened was he started to get right into the middle of work. He was soon told, by his Mrs., to get back to the house and do as the doctors told him. In commenting on the situation he said: "I'm doing a pretty good job of baby sitting, anyway."

Folks who missed seeing the benefit basketball games last week Monday night at the local gym missed a good evening of entertainment. The Elementary School boys and girls from Mullin and Goldthwaite played some fine basketball. From all indications both these schools have some splendid material coming up for their high school basketball teams in the next four years.

Then there was also the game between the Star All Stars and the Goldthwaite Lions Club. That, my friends and readers, was some game. I didn't get to see the final play of this game and when I inquired later about the score at the end of the game I was told they kept score alright but it wasn't official. I'll say this much. It was a good thing that the Lions Club boys had some reserves, they sure came in handy for the first stringers. There were times when each of the teams had six men playing for moments until referee, Carl Casbeer, could take inventory to see how many were on the court. But since it was all in fun it was certainly in order—even for the referee to enter into the spirit of things and help the teams with a play or two.

Public Acceptance Of Sports Car Is Predicted By Shelton

This year will bring the greatest public acceptance of sports car styling and performance in American automotive history, O. P. Shelton of Shelton Bros., Motor Co., said today.

This inclusion of sports car styled cars in the lines of three volume producers in the low priced field for the first time backs up forecasts of a substantial increase in purchases of these high performance cars, he said.

Shelton's own company introduced the Studebaker Hawk models for 1956, first complete line of sports-type cars in the American automotive industry.

An indication of the increasing recognition of the widening interest in sports cars is the selection of three American-built sport cars as first prizes in a nationwide reader contest by TRUE magazine. The dealer said he is cooperating in the contest since first grand prize is a Studebaker Golden Hawk. Further details and entry blanks are available at his dealership in Goldthwaite.

To bake 10-12 cup cakes, cream 1/2 c. shortening and 1 c. firmly packed, light brown sugar until light and fluffy. Add 1 egg and beat well.

Stir in 1/2 c. each, chopped, seedless raisins and broken pecan meats.

Mix and sift 2 c. sifted, enriched flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. cinnamon, 1/2 tsp. nutmeg. Add alternately with 1/2 c. strong, cold coffee and 1/2 c. vanilla.

Stir in 1 c. finely chopped, raw apples. Fill well-greased muffin pans 3/4 full. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 min.

Painting the Lily

If you want to paint the lily, frost with confectioners' sugar icing to which a little cinnamon is added and garnish with whole pecan nuts.

Apple Ambrosia is a healthful and delicious fruit dessert. To serve 6, core 2 large red apples, but do not pare. Cut into thin slices. Score 2 ripe, peeled bananas with tines of fork; slice. Combine apples, bananas, 1 c. grapefruit sections, 1 c. pineapple tidbits. Sweeten to taste.

Supporting Your Town

Merchants who do not advertise are invited to read the following from the American Bankers Magazine, as it might give you a new slant on business, your own business, as well as the matter of building your town.

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

Military Personnel Have Certain Benefits Under Income Tax Law

Military personnel enjoy certain benefits under the income tax law. E. C. Wentreck, Agent in Charge, Internal Revenue Service, Brownwood announced that items such as subsistence allowance, the government bonus, mustering out gratuity, uniform allowance, gratuity and National Service life insurance dividends, are not taxable and should not be included on the return.

Lump sum payments received by Air Corps Reserve officers in termination of service under Act of June 16, 1936, are not considered mustering out pay and are therefore taxable. Compensation for services, longevity pay, and reenlistment bonus, are taxable and are usually included in the amount shown on the Form W-2, he explained.

Those persons who complete the long Form 1040 and itemize deductions on page 2 may deduct amounts expended for insignia and attachments for the uniform, loss due to replacement of shortage in accounts not due to negligence, and other deductions allowable to individuals not in the military service.

Items not deductible include auto upkeep, damage to household equipment in moving, depreciation on uniforms, expense of visiting home, uniforms or alterations, and war insurance premiums.

The card from 1040A will again be available for the person whose total wages are less than $5,000 and who did not have over $100 of other income. Form 1040 will meet the needs of those who do not use Form 1040A.

In completing the form, Wentreck further explained, you should add your service serial number after your name. The instruction booklet issued with the return will answer a lot of your questions.

An additional source of information, the booklet, "Your Income Tax for 1955," may be obtained by sending 25c to the U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Wentreck urged all military persons to contact their personnel who have been especially trained in the preparation of income tax returns.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

By CHARLES HAENISCH

The time is at hand when farmers and ranchers should start thinking about what is going to happen when sudden spring showers dash down on their bare pastures and shallow plowed fields.

Most conservative farmers and ranchers in the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District that have bare spots in their pastures and shallow plowed fields are going to chisel and pit those spots and break up the pan.

These practices are only temporary in nature, but they can mean the difference in storing some spring rains in the ground where they can be tapped by the roots of plants or go roaring off down the creeks and rivers, causing untold damage to fences, livestock, growing crops, roads, railroads, and often endangering human life.

Bare spots in pastures or even bare pastures are nothing to be ashamed of during a drought like we are in — the shame comes in leaving them bare to the dashing rains.

Chiseling is a means of getting some water in the ground to help Mother Nature cover her earth with grass again. Regardless of the amount of rain that falls on some bare hillsides, there will be little grass grown until some of the rain gets into the ground. A cover of grass is the most effective means of getting water into the ground. So it is a vicious circle in Mother Nature's world. Pitting or chiseling helps her break into this circle to make a start.

Of course, chiseling is not the whole answer to an abundance of grass. Unless the load is lightened on the pasture little good will come of it. If there is a cow or sheep waiting for anything that grows, it would be a waste of time and money to chisel, but light stocking or complete deferment on the pasture which has been chiseled will pay big dividends in getting a cover on the bare spots.

Jesus Demands a Choice

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Luke 18:18-19:10.

A rich ruler came to Jesus asking what he should do to inherit eternal life. Jesus told him to keep the commandments. He said he had done that. When Jesus told him to sell his possessions and follow Him, the man went away grieving.

As Jesus and the disciples neared Jericho a blind man sat by the wayside begging. Hearing a commotion he asked what it meant and was told Jesus of Nazareth was passing. The man begged Jesus for help and his sight was restored.

A rich publican of Jericho named Zacchaeus was curious to see Jesus, so, being short of stature, he climbed a tree the better to see Him. Jesus called to him to come down as the Master would lodge with him that night.

Zacchaeus came down and told Jesus that he was giving half his good to the poor, and if he had cheated any man he would recompense him fourfold. Jesus told him he had won salvation. MEMORY VERSE—Joshua 24:15.

Get Brooder Houses Ready Early To Start 1956 Chicks Replacements

College Station, (Spec.) — Texas poultrymen will start 8 to 10 percent of the 1956 replacement of chicks during this month, and careful attention should be given to the cleaning and repairing of the brooder house in preparation for growing the chicks, says Ben Wormell, Extension Poultry Husbandman of Texas A. and M. College.

The brooder houses should be cleaned and put into good repair by making sure that all windows, doors and ventilator sections are well fitted and working smoothly. The roof should be checked for leaks. Thermostat apparatus on brooder stoves should be carefully checked and stoves cleaned to assure a dependable source of heat when it is needed, says Wormell.

Adequate feeder and watering space is recognized by poultrymen as important to uniform growth of all birds. Up to three weeks of age, birds should be provided with one inch of feeder space per bird. It should be increased to two inches, from three to four weeks of age, and during six to seven weeks, it should be increased to three inches per bird. These needs can be met by one four foot trough for each 100 chicks at the start. At six to seven weeks of age they will need three troughs four feet long by four inches deep per 100 birds.

MATADOR ON GUARD IN EUROPE

The launcher is on a trailer. The Matador travels at near-sonic speed and turns its nose downward over the target.

Wormell recommends five one gallon waterers by each brooder having a capacity of 500 checks. From two to three weeks of age, two waterers with a three gallon capacity should be provided for each 100 birds. If a water system is available, a four foot automatic water trough should be provided for each 250 checks.

Where chicks have access to range, Wormell recommends one square foot of floor space for every two birds. Since green feed is often not available on the range, there is a trend towards growing pullet replacement chicks in confinement, he adds. Under these conditions each bird should be provided with one square foot of floor space, until they are eight or nine weeks of age.

On this basis a 30 foot by 40 foot house would be required to raise replacements for a thousand hen laying flock. Wormell adds that it will probably be to the poultryman's advantage to double this space, 30 by 80 feet, and keep the pullets confined to the house until maturity.

One sound method that is now being employed by some poultrymen is to leave the chicks in one house for the six months growing period and for the first year of egg production.

Making sure the brooder house and equipment is adequate and in good repair will pay good dividends in the production of a high percentage of good quality uniform pullets for next year's laying flock, says Wormell.

Farmers To Find Something In Schedule F Of Income Tax Form

"Farmers will find something new has been added to Schedule F of Federal Income Tax Form 104C," said James B. Marley, District Manager of the Social Security Administration in Austin. It is called Schedule SE and is a special blank for showing name, social security number, and earnings on which the self-employment tax will be paid for the year beginning January 1955.

When Congress brought self-employed farm operators under the Social Security Act, it specified four ways of figuring whether they had self-employment earnings that could be used for social security purposes.

1. Farmers using the accrual method or those whose gross income is more than $1,800 and whose net income is more than $900 will report their actual net earnings as self-employment income.

2. Those grossing more than $1,800 and netting less than $900 may report the actual net or $900.

3. Those grossing between $800 and $1,800 may report one-half of their gross or their actual net.

4. A farmer who grosses less than $800 but nets only as much as $400 may report his actual net.

The last three methods described may be used only by farm operators who figure their income on a "cash" basis. Therefore, a farmer who grosses as much as $800 may be covered by social security if he wants to be whether he actually anything or not. That that many 65-year-old will qualify for social benefits within just by showing they have as much as $800 worth of in both 1955 and 1956.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

We rejoiced when we read in the Eagle that some counties had shared rain, sleet, and snow over Texas last week. We even had rain to the amount of .65 inch. We awoke early morning to find that the night had made the wet. In the afternoon we began to fall again and continuously through the day and still rained some Sunday morning. We had to leave Saturday morning wash on the till late Sunday afternoon. We also had several days of wind from the north. We noticed as we came home church Sunday that red geraniums were blooming on the south side of the house in many places.

A goodly letter from Mrs. Hubert Reeves surprised us and gladdened our hearts the first of the week. It was dated Wednesday, January 18. She said, "It is snowing here today, so we're not having school. We started, but the call came just after we left. Hubert called Charm Whittenburg, and we came home from there." Doesn't it sound good? Snowing, and the phones working too. Gives us a hope of peace and prosperity. If it would only keep it up so those who till the soil could sow and reap. And wouldn't it

WOMEN HAIL NASSER FOR VOTE

A CROWD of Egyptian women, granted the right to vote under the newly-adopted constitution, cheer Prime Minister Abdel Gamal Nasser as he appears at a window of his office in Cairo. This marks the first time in the long history of the Land of the Pharaohs that women have been permitted to cast a ballot. (International) be wonderful to have a good fruit year, and a good pecan crop again?

Miria also said that their aunt, Mrs. Flora Reeves Hodges, had come back to the Pioneer Nursing Home at Brownwood to be with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Ann Reeves. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Fred Hodges, and her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Brooks, of Gruver had brought her. They took time to make a short visit to the kin at Ebony.

Daughter Ruth writes this week, "I can't seem to have much time for correspondence and operate this nursery school and cafeteria." A nearby friend has gone to work, so Ruth has taken on the responsibility of taking care of her little boy after school.

A letter from Mrs. Edna Dwyer, dated January 21, said it was raining at Orange, which is not at all unusual. She wished she could have been right in the middle of the party we gave for our Brown, Mills and San Saba County friends. She was homesick to see someone from home, and she hoped her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilmeth, of Brownwood, would come this weekend, as they had promised to come the last of January.

I also received a letter from Roscoe Reeves of Gorman this week. He said they received 1.4 inch of last week's moisture, but it was not enough. Most all the grain is dead, and there is no grazing in the fields. Roscoe writes wonderful letters. Always makes you feel like someone very precious. He told me that just a little more than a year before I wrote about seeing Ruidosa, Cloudcroft and White Sands, he and his family had visited those very places and he found the scenery so beautiful that he said to his wife, Ruth, "I wish May (his sister) and Stella and Clemmie could see this." So in just a little over a year I did see it. Now he says he is going to wish that I may get to make that trip through New England states that I have so long wanted to make. Wouldn't it be wonderful if it would come true!

Last night (Friday) I was off to a 6:45 baby-sitting job, and Grace and Bill and the boys had to be at Billy's Cub Scout Pack meeting at Clardy School at 7:30. Grace asked her Daddy to go with them, but he refused. So that left him with the supper dishes. This morning he was about sick. We asked him if it was the supper dishes. He intimated that it might have been. I told him next time he had better take Grace up and so along.

PARENT PROBLEMS

Facing Life's Problems

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

WE'VE all known people who were victims of self-pity. We don't want our children to be like that. Instead, we want them to face life squarely and bravely. For this reason, we should set a good example and point out the outstanding courage and fortitude of other persons we have known.

Comfortable Earnings
There's Mrs. Truselow (not her real name), for example, a mother of three grown children who have families of their own. Her husband is an engineer with comfortable earnings. For a great many years, Mrs. Truselow had worries and burdens which might have overwhelmed another person with less fortitude.

Hopeful and Cheerful
During all this period she has been hopeful and cheerful. Never have her closest friends seen her indicate any sign of self-pity. Those who have known her from girlhood say she was always like that. She is truly an inspiration to all who know her.

On a trip throughout Europe last summer, there was in our group of thirty persons a retired banker who could see scarcely three feet in front of him. Yet he enjoyed the scenery, including that of the Great Glockner Pass and St. Bernard Pass of the Alps, through the eyes of his amazing wife. He went with us on local tours through ancient ruins, museums, churches, and was the most chipper and cheerful member of the party. He always seemed to say something which proved the difference between him and the rest of us was that he was more optimistic. His humor was delightful and he never once complained about food, hotel room or anything else.

One day, when he and I were enjoying a cool drink together, I told him, sincerely, that he was a great inspiration to me. His answer was that he couldn't see why. "I know I will soon be totally blind," he added, "but I'll get along. When I wander down my home street and see a blind man there with a Seeing Eye dog, I tell myself how much better off I am than he is, for I can still see a little."

As long as I live, I shall remember that day and be inspired by Hammond Clary.

ments For Assignments To Next August Now Authorized

Army enlistments for assignment to the 8th Infantry Division, which is scheduled to move to Europe next August, are now authorized under the Army's unit rotation plan.

Under the Army's unit rotation policy, the 8th Infantry Division will replace the 9th Infantry Division in Europe. Combat units are selected for rotation between overseas and stations in the United States on a fixed time-table.

The rotation plan allows the individual soldier to outline his future moves and gives him a chance to serve with one of the Army's outstanding units.

A full overseas tour with any U. S. Army unit in Europe is three years, therefore, recruits for the 8th Infantry Division must enlist for at least three years, with a four-year enlistment encouraged.

Basic training for the enlistees will be held at Fort Carson, Colorado, where both basic and unit training will be given prior to the overseas movement.

There will not be a specific branch assignment made at the time of enlistment, but an Infantry Division is composed of components of nearly every branch in the Army. Signal Corps, Medical Service, Transportation, Engineers, Quartermaster, Ordnance Corps, Chemical Corps, Military Police, Chaplains, Adjutant General Corps, Finance Corps all make up and Infantry Division, as well as Infantry, Armor and Artillery.

Additional information on enlistment for direct assignment to the 8th Infantry Division may be obtained from Sgt. Shelton at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 102 North Center, Brownwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Auldridge had as guests several days last week their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dennis Auldridge of Lubbock.

CHILD SAVED AS MOTHER DIES

KATHY GROVE, youngest passenger aboard the ill-fated train which overturned in Los Angeles, is comforted by her grandmother, Mrs. Nora Grove, of Del Mar. ber of seed involved and obtaining an accurate count of moths, the rate of kill by ordinary ginning processes could be determined. This improved process speeded up the research program by at least a year, experts said.

Data is now being compiled at the various experiment points. The result should be known within six weeks—and the sterilization project will be continued or abandoned, depending on the outcome.

If sterilization is declared unnecessary, ginners in 127 Texas counties will be relieved of a heavy responsibility which slows their operations. Ginners over the remainder of the state can be assured by the knowledge that they may not have to install expensive equipment at a later date. They also can breathe easier knowing that their gins will not be materially helping spread the insect infestation through release of cotton seed into other areas.

However, the experts emphasize that if results of the project are the least bit doubtful, then present seed sterilization methods must continue to be enforced by Texas and federal agencies.

Harold H. Carter Takes Part In "Operation Cowlex"

Marine Pfc. Harold H. Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Carter of Route 3, Goldthwaite, Tex., is participating in "Operation Cowlex", a six-week cold weather landing exercise in progress in the Aleutian Islands off the coast of Alaska.

"Cowlex" is designed to test cold weather clothing and equipment and to try new amphibious landing techniques under adverse weather conditions.

Twenty-five hundred Marines of the 1st Division sailed from San Diego, Calif., January 5 to participate in the exercise.

The maneuvers are scheduled to be climaxed late in January with an amphibious assault by a reinforced battalion on the island of Umnak.

Umnak lies on the southern border of the Bering Sea about 650 miles southwest of Kodiak, Alaska.

COTTON SEED RESEARCH

An expensive and troublesome cotton seed treatment aimed at killing pink bollworm larvae may be abandoned in Texas this spring.

Texas and U. S. Department of Agriculture experts have been working several seasons to determine whether sterilization of cotton seed actually is necessary. The treatment was designed to kill larvae within the seed by controlled heat.

A few years ago, a new theory was advanced. The pink bollworm larvae—a very delicate organism—was known to have a hard time surviving the buffing and joils of ordinary ginning. Wouldn't this rigorous experience be enough to achieve an effective kill without sterilization? Research men were determined to find out.

The cotton research center at Brownsville was a typical center of operations. Here the men examined many thousands of seed fresh from the gins in heavily infested pink bollworm areas. It was a tedious process, requiring each seed to be broken open separately and examined.

The vast amount of slow hand labor involved indicated a project extending over several years. Then an idea was developed that hastened the examination.

A special room was designed and built so that the controlled humidity and heat would provide ideal hatching condition of the larvae into the moth stage. Special nets were erected to trap the emerging moth.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Accusations and denials fill the air as investigators dig into details of how US Trust and Guaranty and other now-defunct companies operated.

Rep. Bert McDaniel of Waco, lawyer for US Trust, told house investigators he had no knowledge of payment by any A. B. Shoemaker company to influence legislation.

McDaniel said he sponsored a bill to bring companies under securities regulation and voted for a similar bill which passed. He said he abstained from voting on HB 240 which would have placed US Trust under the state banking laws.

Former State Sen. R. C. Lanning of Austin also said he knew of no payments by Shoemaker to legislators. Both McDaniel and Lanning, an attorney who resigned from the Board of Control to represent Shoemaker during the legislature, said they had done nothing illegal or unethical.

Renne Allred Jr., former Insurance Commission examiner, declared that bank affidavits on insurance company assets cannot always be taken at face value. He cited a case involving the now-defunct Commercial Security Insurance Co., of Houston. It showed a bank deposit of $250,000. But said Allred, this was $50,000 in cash and a note for $200,000 with a restriction against drawing on the account.

Bank officials immediately denied this. They declared they had proven in court that there was no restriction against this account.

Allred also testified that the Insurance Commission received information in a report in September, 1954, that would have enabled it to close down US Trust then.

Two executives of large legal reserve life companies presented industry views in an appearance before the senate committee. Emphasizing Texas legal reserve life companies' long record of no loss to policyholders, they declared they felt such companies had been unfairly damaged by recent developments.

Present insurance laws are adequate, they said. The problem now is enforcement. Along this line they suggested the possibility of a single commissioner with sole power. This drew quick fire from Gov. Allan Shivers. These companies, he said, had asked his help during the last session of the legislature to set up the present three-man board system.

US Trust operated without a license from May 31, 1955, until put into receivership December 12, an Insurance Commission attorney told the senate investigating committee. Paul Connor said that all company licenses expire May 31, but by "tacit understanding" they continue operating until the commission takes action to deny a new license.

Quizzing of employees brought only a strengthened conception of US Trust as a "one-man business," but shed no light on whether more than $50,000 in cash withdrawals was used to buy influence. Former staffers told the house committee that money from checks drawn to "cash" went to the president, and they had no knowledge of what he did with it.

Both House and Senate committee chairmen stated they want to question Shomake as soon as he is able to appear. He has been in the hospital since January 7 suicide attempt.

Meanwhile, the Insurance Commission began work on a revised plan to hasten the examination of Texas companies. All will be required to prove solvency by May 31 or lose their licenses.

REVENUE FUND IN RED

Texas' general revenue fund is $1,100,000 in the red, and it is expected to dip lower.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said the deficit likely will continue until May when income should exceed expenses again. Meanwhile, the shortage may hit ten million dollars. Nobody will lose, said Calvert, since banks have agreed to cash warrants without discount.

A similar state deficit developed last year and continued until the spring payment of corporation franchise taxes replenished the general fund.

FOUR ELECTIONS IN 1956

There will be an extra election in 1956 as the result of a legislative boner. The error will cost the state and some counties $200,000.

Nine constitutional amendments will be voted on in November. Eight were drawn properly. One, however, calls for a vote on the second Tuesday in the month. General election day is November 6, the first Tuesday. Therefore the state must call an election the following week in order that the ninth amendment may be legally voted upon. That will be November 13.

The troublesome amendment would permit the state to spend up to $1,500,000 a year in aid to dependent persons over 18 years of age who are mentally or physically totally disabled.

SUPPORTERS WRITE SHEPHERD

Rumors that Attorney General John Ben Shepperd planned a quiet retirement to private life following this term in office have sparked a drive by his friends to keep him in public office. Not only has Shepperd been besieged by calls, wires, and letters urging that he stay in Texas government, but reports have it that supporters have raised a campaign chest ample for any contested race.

EVIDENCE WITHHELD

Accusation of hampering the investigation of a murder case has been made against Ronnie Dugger, editor of the Texas Observer, a political tabloid published in Austin. District Attorney Ralph Prince leveled the charges from Longview. He said Dugger would be called before the grand jury there to explain why he had failed to turn over "important evidence" (a bullet) which Dugger found at the scene of a shooting. Turning over of such evidence is required by law, Prince pointed out. The grand jury is investigating the death of a Gregg County Negro youth. Dugger denied a statement by Prince that he was trying to "create a rest" in the area.
