Texas State Health Officer Releases Polio Vaccine Questions And Answers

At this time of the year when the peak Polio Season is drawing near physicians and health officers are emphasizing the importance of the Salk Polio Vaccine for all children and expectant mothers.

In that connection Dr. Henry A. Holle, Texas Commissioner of Health, has released the following 16 questions and answers about polio vaccine:

Q. Can I be sure the vaccine is safe?

A. Yes. There is every assurance that the vaccine is safe. Since revised federal safety standards were adopted in the spring of 1955, some 10 million children have received vaccine with a perfect safety record.

Q. Why did a few vaccinated children get polio?

A. (a) A small number received inoculations from several early lots of vaccine which contained live virus. No incidents of this kind have occurred since the revised safety standards went into effect last May.

(b) Some children received their first shot last year at a time when polio was on the rise in their communities and the virus already was in their systems; thus, the vaccine was given too late to stop the disease.

(c) Polio vaccine, like vaccines for other diseases, cannot protect all children because there are a few children who do not respond to any vaccine.

Q. How effective is the vaccine?

A. Apparently even more effective than it proved to be in the tests of 1954. The US Public Health Service has reported that in 1955 paralytic polio was cut by at least 76 per cent in vaccinated children, as compared with those who had received no vaccine.

J. How does the vaccine give protection?

A. It causes a child to develop polio-fighting particles called antibodies in his bloodstream. Enough antibodies prevent the polio virus from causing paralysis.

Q. How many shots of vaccine are needed?

A. Three. The first shot should be given now; the second shot two to four weeks after the first; the third, seven months to a year after the second.

J. Can the vaccine cause someone to become a polio carrier?

A. No. Killed virus, such as is used in the Salk vaccine, cannot multiply in the body and be excreted, which is how polio virus is spread.

Q. Is vaccine research continuing?

A. Yes. The objectives are to increase the effectiveness of the vaccine, to find out how long it protects, and to discover simpler and less expensive methods of production.

Q. Is the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis still providing vaccine?

A. No. The NFIP completed its vaccine distribution program in 1955. Vaccine distribution is now the responsibility of public health authorities and physicians.

Q. Is there much polio now?

A. There were nearly 30,000 cases in 1955, and we must expect many in 1956. Texas has had 257 cases through May 12 of this year.

Q. When will we wipe out polio?

A. No disease can be conquered overnight. The vaccine must be far more widely used before polio is overcome. When supplies are sufficient for vaccination of all those in the most susceptible groups, and if parents rapidly take advantage of the vaccine's protection, we should see a sharp decline in paralytic polio in the next few years.

Q. Who is eligible to receive vaccine?

A. As long as supplies are limited young people and expectant mothers must be given first priority because they are most susceptible to polio. Therefore, in Texas only persons under 20 and pregnant women of any age are eligible to receive the vaccine.

Q. If my child's second shot has been delayed, will it be effective now?

A. Yes. The effect of the first shot is not lost, even if the second cannot be given for several months afterward. With two inoculations, your child should have protection against paralytic polio for the coming polio season. But don't stop with only two shots of vaccine.

Q. Why is the third shot necessary?

A. To give better and longer-lasting protection. See that your child has his third shot as soon as he is ready for it and vaccine is available to him.

Q. When can my child receive his third shot?

A. As soon as vaccine supplies have met the demand for first and second doses. This will vary among the states. Check with your doctor.

Q. How long does protection last after the third dose?

A. This cannot be answered because the vaccine has not been in existence long enough. However, Dr. Salk's studies show that a group of children inoculated three years ago still have protective antibodies. It is expected that protection will last for some years.

Q. Should a child who has had polio be vaccinated?

A. Yes. Usually the child is immune to the one type of polio virus that caused his disease, but not to the other two. The Salk vaccine protects against all three types of polio virus.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnson and Mrs. Velma Hamilton visited in San Antonio last Tuesday where they met the ladies' brother, Boyd Morris of Corpus Christi.

THREE STATES REPRESENTED—Three men from as many states, each man outstanding in his field, will be in Amarillo on June 22-23, to address the 77th Annual Convention of the Texas Press Association. Carter will address the publishers at their closing banquet Saturday night. Krebbel's talk will be part of the Friday morning business program. Some 250 daily and weekly newspapermen and women are expected to attend the convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Laughlin returned to their home in Lubbock Sunday after a few days visit with relatives here. Their daughter, Nan remained for a longer visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Burnett and Mr. and Mrs. Webb Laughlin at Moline.

Wendell Evans visited his grandmother, Mrs. J. Everett Evans, and his aunt, Miss Gladys Evans, last Friday. He was on his way from Corpus Christi to New Jersey, where he will be engaged in construction work.

GOD-GIVEN RIGHTS

Certain rights, such as the right of trial by jury, are spelled out specifically in the Constitution of the United States.

But, as a DeMille Foundation Bulletin observes, there are vital rights which are not so specified. The Bulletin says: "The Constitution does not set forth the right of a man to eat . . . nor to sleep . . . nor to stand up nor lie down. These actions are part of daily living — of life itself, and therefore need no defining."

Then the Bulletin adds: "Our founding fathers took for granted certain human rights and therefore saw no need to write them in the Constitution.

"These are God-given rights and the right to life is one of them!

"The right to life means the right to work—for like eating and sleeping and breathing, working is an indispensable part of living."

That right to work involves exactly what the term implies—the right to join a union or not join a union as each individual sees fit; the right to be free of coercion by either the union or the employer. This is the all-important right that the closed shop and the union shop deny to millions of supposedly free people.

ARE YOU IN TOO MUCH OF A HURRY?

You're speeding whenever you're driving faster than you ought to—for the condition of the road, your car, yourself and the weather. But some people never think of conditions when they drive. They operate in a kind of vacuum, obsessed with the thought of getting wherever they're going in the shortest possible time. It's part of the "in-a-hurry" complex that's characteristic of our age.

The person who is securely in the grip of this complex is unable to unwind or relax. He hurries through his meals . . . dashes from place to place . . . crams his life full of unimportant activity and lives in a constant state of nervous agitation. When he drives, he's impatient, jittery, over-anxious — one of the worst menaces on the highway.

The Texas Safety Association says there are varying degrees of the malady. And every driver should check his driving behavior to make sure he's not developing any of the symptoms.

Are you restless and impatient behind the wheel . . . likely to be discourteous to pedestrians and other drivers? Do you fuss and fume every time you must stop for a red light, a train, a pedestrian crossing or a traffic tie-up? Do you find yourself inclined to pass other drivers for no other reason than just the desire to get ahead of them? Are you overly time-conscious, always figuring how you can save a minute here and there in traffic? These are a few of the symptoms.

If you find it hard to get a straight answer from yourself on these questions, you might try observing your passengers for some hint as to your driving rating.

If they're tense and nervous . . . grab onto the seat or the door . . . press down with both feet to apply their own brakes . . . frequently offer advice or warning . . . it's a pretty safe bet that you're not exactly a calm, cool and collected driver.

YOUR NAME IN THE PAPER

How valuable is local newspaper advertising to local business people? Here's what the American Bankers magazine, a publication which represents a traditionally hard-headed profession, has to say: "No business man or woman in any town should allow a newspaper to go to press without his or her name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page advertisement in each issue of the paper but your name and address should be mentioned if you do not see more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town . . . it's the best possible town advertiser. The man or woman who does not advertise does an injustice to himself or herself and definitely to the town."

HOW WOULD YOU REACH A FAIR DECISION ON TELEPHONE RATES?

The members of the City Council are on the spot in the telephone rate matter.

They naturally want to be fair to their friends and neighbors.

Also, they want to be fair to the telephone company — for they recognize the value of telephone service to the community.

How would you decide if you were the judge — like the City Council is, under the law?

Wouldn't you look at the facts — higher costs, higher wages, higher taxes — and try to reach a fair decision — fair to the company, and fair to the telephone users, too?

Certainly you could not be blamed for what the facts show. You have no control over them. Neither does the City Council. Nor, for that matter, does the company.

Sure, it's a tough decision. But you want to be fair — just like the City Council does.

So, when the Council decides the telephone rate matter, remember its sole duty is to judge the facts. It has no control whatever over the things that make a rate increase necessary.

Census Bureau Current Population Survey Now Based On Larger Sample

An expansion in the Current Population Survey, begun last December to improve Federal statistics on employment and unemployment, has been completed and the larger sample will be in effect when the U. S. Census Bureau collects facts from a panel of local residents in June, according to Supervisor Walter A. Freeman, Jr. of the Census Bureau's district office at Dallas, Texas which participates in the survey.

The expanded sample consists of about 35,000 interviewed households located in 330 different areas throughout the country, including nearly all of the previous sample of 21,000 interviewed households in 230 areas. The increase in size and dispersion of the sample improves the precision of national totals and also, and more important, the precision of the significant details obtained from the survey, such as distributions by age, occupation, hours worked, and length of time unemployed. In addition, an expansion will be possible in the amount of information available for Regions and other large geographic areas.

The supervisor pointed out that the Current Population Survey is authorized by law. This law provides that all information about individuals be kept in strict confidence and that only statistical totals be published. Information obtained in the Current Population Survey cannot be used for tax investigation or regulation. Current Population Survey information will be collected locally during the week of June 17 by Mrs. Nella P. Casbeer, Lampasas, Texas.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Regardless of who is elected this summer, most Texans probably won't find their daily lives greatly changed.

But to one segment of the population, the 22,000 state employees and their families, it matters a lot. It affects their livelihood.

As much as a 20 per cent turnover in state employees can be expected after the new officials take over in January.

This estimate comes from Pirtle Watts, executive secretary of the Texas Public Employees Association. About one-third of the membership is concentrated in the Capitol; the rest is scattered over the state.

TPEA members on the whole are quite discreet in their politics, Watts thinks. Their association by-laws expressly prohibit any group endorsement.

But individuals, especially certain key personnel, are courted by candidates. Many office-seekers, especially in Travis County, regularly promise "more adequate pay."

And those employees whose jobs hinge on the boss' being reelected naturally pull for him. State law, while not as strict as the federal Hatch Act, puts some restrictions on this.

Formerly a rider on the appropriations bill forbade any political activity by state employees. Now the ban is only against use of state cars, or campaigning on state time.

DAVY READY FOR TOURISTS—Texans, who tour their Capitol by the thousands each year, will see a fresh-faced Davy Crockett this summer.

Crockett's huge portrait was re-hung in the Capitol foyer last week after an extensive re-touching job. Legislators last session authorized $12,000 for conservation work on five valuable paintings.

Taxpayers have invested $95,409 in the fabulous art collection scattered over the Capitol. Resale value is estimated as high as half a million dollars. Tourist favorites are "Down at the Alamo" and "The Battle of San Jacinto." They are located in the Senate chamber. Each cost $12,500.

NO TROUBLE SEEN ON POLL—No objection is expected by the Democratic Executive Committee chairman to putting the interposition question on the July primary ballot.

Chairman George Sandlin discounted talk of a court challenge to the validity of the 150,000 signatures on the referendum petitions. Spot checks are being made against poll tax lists, said Sandlin.

Texas Referendum Committee presented the petition. It asks a vote for or against interposition, integration of Negroes in public schools and intermarriage of whites and Negroes.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Pyburn and sons of Tahoka were weekend guests of his grandmother, Mrs. A. E. Pyburn and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Huffman and other relatives.

JULY PLENTIFUL FOODS

Feature foods for the month of July are listed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as broilers, and ice cream. Production of both is expected to reach record highs during the month.

The total list includes more than a dozen foods. Cantaloupes and watermelons are expected to dominate the fresh produce markets along with fresh summer vegetables. Movement from the areas of heavy production is stepping up and supplies increasing.

Fresh and processed lemons and limes are the only fruits listed on the July plentiful list. Milk production is still running far ahead of last year and all dairy products are just about as abundant this month as last.

Turkeys, canned cranberry sauce, peanut butter, canned tuna in oil and pinto beans round out the list for the Southwestern area.

For the family picnics and weekend outings, you can't beat a menu made up of foods which are now in heavy supply... fried or barbecued chicken, fresh vegetables, iced watermelon or cantaloupes plus dairy products.

Wayne will soon return home, but Bernice and the children will visit friends and relatives here until after the Wilmeth reunion July 4.

Billy writes from El Paso asking if the fields are too dry here for him to bring sparklers and other fireworks for the Fourth. He says for us to meet them in Brownwood July 3. Daughter Ruth writes that their son-in-law, Tommy Sheffield, a civil engineering major, graduated from Lamar Tech at Beaumont May 29, and he and Marilyn and Brenda left, June 8, for Port Lavaca where he has accepted a job with a chemical company.

A letter from Carroll Lockett, who graduated at Whiteface High School, says he intends to enter Texas Tech at Lubbock this fall.

Joe Reeves is working at Brownwood. He will enter John Tarleton at Stephenville in September.

Mrs. Grace Bateman writes from Fort Worth that her son, John Robert, medical student at Galveston, has been accepted in the Air Force Medical Reserve. Mrs. Hubert Reeves is attending Howard Payne College this summer. She and I ran across each other at Walker Memorial Library Thursday afternoon.

John and I came by to see the Henry Grady Sunday afternoon. We were surprised to find Mrs. Grady up and able to do a good part of her work though still in a cast since her tragic accident in March when she was helping doctor a calf and the cow ran at a dog and ran over her partly crushing two vertebrae. She was to get out of the cast and into a brace in a few days. The doctor says she may have to wear the brace the rest of her life.

John and I called on Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reynolds in Brownwood Sunday afternoon. They have a nice little home with lots of pretty flowers on Sixth Street. Mrs. Flora Gatlin Bowles, who is writing a history of Mills County, asked me to write a brief history of this part. So I'm on the trail of anyone who knows any old timer tales. Roy and Maud told me some interesting things. If you have anything of interest, please contact me. Write me or come to see me, or let me know, and I'll come to see you. The time is short. I must get it in soon.

The mocking bird sings for me morning, afternoon, and night. A wren trills on the windmill tower. And yesterday morning a bluebird flashed the heavenly blue of his wings and lit on my gate post. Nothing thrills me more than the sight of a bluebird.

Summer Party Ideas

HERE are some ideas and suggestions you might find helpful for your summer parties.

Strips of raw carrot or celery in an avocado dip has become popular.

To prepare the dip, mash 2 medium avocados (about 1/2 c. of dip) until smooth. Beat in tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. each of salt, onion juice, 1/4 tsp. each of salt, and pepper and chili powder. Chop, grated onion and 2 tsp. chopped ripe tomato. Chill until cold and garnish with a dash of black pepper.

It's always a good idea to have prepared barbecue sauce in the refrigerator.

Barbecue Preparation

For a fine concoction that bestows easy preparation, combine 1 c. catsup, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. each of Worcestershire sauce, chili powder, elderberry, 1 c. tomato juice, 3/4 tsp. prepared dry mustard, 1 1/2 tsp. brown sugar, 1/2 onion, minced, 1/4 tsp. each garlic powder and black pepper. Covered properly it will keep for months.

Bob Dish

Use this sauce for a quickle bob dish.

Cut frankfurters in 1 in. pieces and spread with prepared mustard.

Alternate layers of frankfurters, chunks with pieces of dill pickle, cooked potatoes, tomato wedges and onion slices on skewers. Sprinkle with salt and ground black pepper and broil until brown. While broiling, brush with the barbecue sauce.

Cheese Dunk

For a nice cheese dunk to serve 8-10, mash a 3-oz. pkg. cream cheese until smooth and stir in 1/4 c. catsup, 1/2 tsp. onion salt, 1/4 tsp. ground black pepper and 1/4 c. cream, stirring until well blended. Place in bowl, surround with potato chips and sprinkle with additional black pepper.

For a tangy cheese canape, sprinkle crackers with ground ginger. Cover with a thin slice of cheddar cheese cut to fit. Top with a stuffed olive slice. Sprinkle with black pepper and broil 4-5 min. until cheese is bubbly. Serve piping hot.

Cheese Dumbbells always seem to make a hit whenever they are served. Mix well 1/2 lb. grated cheddar cheese, 3 ozs. cream cheese, 1/2 tsp. mayonnaise, 1/4 c. chopped walnuts and 1/4 tsp. dry mustard. Shape into small balls and spear on slim pretzel sticks.

Mills County Mistletoe Industry Featured In Journal Of Geography

A feature article about the Mills County Mistletoe Industry appeared in the May issue of Journal of Geography, a copy of which was received here last week. The Journal is of international circulation, published in Wisconsin for teachers of Elementary, high school and college Geography.

The story was contributed by Mrs. Faye C. Griffis of Weatherford, Texas, author, and teacher of Social Studies at Weatherford Junior High School. She visited Goldthwaite early this year when she gathered information for the story.

In a letter to W. P. Duren, Mills County State Bank, who was used as local source for verification of the subject, Mrs. Griffis stated:

"Enclosed is a copy of the Journal of Geography which, on page 251, you will find the article I wrote concerning Goldthwaite. This magazine has an international circulation and is by and for professional geographers and teachers of Geography. Therefore, I am happy to say "we" have an article in it concerning Texas and I feel that you and your community will be glad to know of the publicity from this small contribution. Perhaps your newspaper would make note that Goldthwaite has been publicized in which case I would appreciate a clipping of same.

"I wish to thank you personally for the help and I enjoyed the information secured on the trip to your city early in the year."

Following is the story reprinted from the Journal.

MISTLETOE MYTH DEVELOPS INDUSTRY

The slaying of the Scandinavian god, Balder, by Blind Hogar is a fascinating myth to some scholars, but to the people of Mills County, Texas, it is good business and money in the bank. Mistletoe, the only weapon to which Balder, the Beautiful, was vulnerable, is a quick, easy crop, bringing over $30,000 in three weeks' picking to adults and children of the Goldthwaite and Priddy communities of Northeastern Mills County.

MYTHOLOGICAL BACKGROUND

The mistletoe myth dates beyond 500 B. C. Balder (often Baldur) was to the Scandinavians a symbol of all things good and beautiful. He was a favorite of his mother and all the other gods. His dream that he was dead brought him great fear. His mother, Frigga, and wife, Nanna, traveled the world and secured the promise of every person and everything not to harm the adored Balder. To celebrate these promises, the friends of the god danced in a great festival to prove to him his dream was not an omen. But Loki, an evil god, learned that the useless mistletoe had not been asked to promise protection to Balder. While all the people threw sticks and stones at Balder to show him nothing could harm him, Loki whittled a tiny arrow of the mistletoe branch. This he gave to Blind Hogar, who, in his joy over the invulnerability of his god, threw the arrow at Balder. It struck him in the heart.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

The Druids, Celtic priests of Gaul, deemed "the mistletoe sacred, especially if grown on an oak tree," and their meetings were held under these lucky oaks, which they blessed with rituals and ceremonies.

Searching for charms of good fortune and happiness, the peasants in 16th and 17th Century England used the green mistletoe branches to decorate doorways and houses at Christmas time. The custom of using evergreens for festive decorations at Christmas spread over northern Europe, and the mistletoe became a favorite due to its legend and its accessibility.

The idea was brought into the New World and the tradition of "getting caught under the mistletoe and paying with a kiss" caused more demands for the lucky greenery.

And that is where the small, timbered area of Mills County, Texas, fits into the progress of mistletoe as a quick cash crop.

LOCATION

The industry is located in two Texas counties, Mills and Wilberson. The rolling, wooded section between the Priddy and Goldthwaite communities of Mills County produces most of the commercial mistletoe for the 734 square miles of Mills. It is part of the North Central Plain Landform Region of Texas, and is at the junction of Grand Prairie and Edwards Plateau in Central Texas.

HARVESTING

In the short season between Thanksgiving and December 20th, the mistletoe sheds are open, and bankers, housewives, school children and merchants swarm into the wooded areas, usually their own ranches, to gather the new green parasites from the mesquite and oak trees.

The converging point for Mills County was a large shed, and the scene for the three-week period was reminiscent of the old cotton gins where long queues of wagons waited to unload. Instead of wagons, the 1955 Christmas foliage was brought to market by pickup trucks, jeeps, station wagons and Cadillacs, which waited as long as two to three hours to have their pickings graded. (There are only two grades, i.e. good and bad). The chop was picked by farmers for quick cash, and by children and their parents for Christmas pocket money and a Sunday afternoon sport.

The 1955 harvest was a short crop due to drought conditions of the Central Texas Region, but the shed remained open and at work from daylight to 10 p.m., employing over 55 local workers in the weighing, packaging and shipping processes. At a price of seven cents a pound, the heavy shrubby plant brought at least $30,000 profit and brief employment at an otherwise dull time in the ranch country.

The young, firm leaves and berries which were bought in Mills County and flown to the northern and eastern section of the country accounted for the crop profits. Old and crushed portions of the mistletoe, rejected as "poor" grade, were discarded and used by some ranchers as sheep and cattle feed.

THE MISTLETOE PLANT

The mistletoe is a member of the Phoradendron family with 100 species. American mistletoe is found in 10 varieties, the Phoradendron flavescens being the most common. It is "a parasitic plant made of living chlorophyll and manufactures its own food". It grows in great clumps in branches of various deciduous and evergreen trees. It is an evergreen with jointed branches often as long as four feet.

The evergreen leaves are thick and oval. The minute blossoms are yellowish green, and form small white berries which contain seeds and sticky juices.

The ripe berries adhere to the beaks and claws of birds and are carried to limbs of other trees where they are wiped off into the joints and bark. The seeds take root in both deciduous and evergreen trees, but never in the ground. Propagation from the seed begins when the haustoria (rootlets) reach into the conducting tissues of the host for their water supply.

In the United States, mistletoe appears from New Jersey southward and westward. The poplar, willow, mountain ash, maple, mesquite and rarely the oak are listed by many authorities as most likely to be attacked by the parasite.

THE FUTURE

Cultivation and production costs are nil since yearly propagation is assured, and transportation to sheds is at the expense of the pickers. Owners of the sheds bear costs of weighing, boxing and shipping. Markets are available both by contract and open sales.

The gay custom of using mistletoe for home decorations and lapel ornaments during the Christmas season has grown to national extent, and the demand is being supplied on a quick, easy, do-it-yourself basis by a few alert shed operators.

As long as a kiss is free under the mistletoe, the ancient Norse myth will put money in the "jeans" of the people in Mills County, Texas.

Telephone Official Discusses Change To Dial System And Rate Increases

John D. Allen, Division Manager of the West Texas Division of The Southwestern States Telephone Company, was in town this week relative to the proposed plans for the new dial telephone building and system at Goldthwaite, Texas. He also furnished information on the proposed dial rates for Goldthwaite and proposed interim rates as presented to the City Council for consideration.

Allen stated that during the past few months many requests had been made by the citizens of Goldthwaite and the City for a modern dial system. Allen stated that his Company, The Southwestern States Telephone Company, was now in position to meet this request and to furnish Goldthwaite with the most modern type of dial service engineered to work with the 4-A Toll Dialing System to be established throughout the nation.

The telephone company has purchased a lot back of the Magnolia Petroleum Company which now adjoins their present property. On this new lot they plan to locate a modern dial building to be constructed of Haydite tile, buff brick, and glass brick; reinforced with steel beams and steel reinforcing throughout. The telephone company is now proposing to start work on this new building in December 1956 and it is planned that the system will be ready for conversion to new dial operation by May 1957. The ceilings of the building will be constructed of fibre glass and the space above the ceiling will be of fibre glass insulation.

In connection with the cut-over to dial, larger cables will be installed and many of the present cables will be replaced and rerouted to form a better distribution system on the new system.

At the end of May 1956 Goldthwaite had 679 telephones on its system and the exchange is experiencing a steady growth of telephones. The system will be extended and enlarged to reach other areas of the City and the cable plant facilities will be increased to a great capacity.

The last rate increase was placed into effect on May 1, 1950; six (6) years ago which established the following rates at Goldthwaite:

| Class of Service | Present Rates |
|----------------------|---------------|
| Business One Party | $ 5.00 |
| Business Two Party | 4.00 |
| Business Extension | 1.00 |
| Residence One Party | 3.25 |
| Residence Two Party | 2.50 |
| Residence Four Party | 2.25 |

Allen states that Goldthwaite has lower telephone rates than any town of comparable size in this area—and rates much lower than smaller towns in the area.

Operating costs continue to increase and the telephone company is no longer in position to absorb these increased costs. The Minimum Wage Law which set a dollar minimum rate has increased costs and materials have increased and along with the inflated value of a dollar it is becoming increasingly difficult to earn on the telephone company investment at Goldthwaite. The telephone company is therefore proposing to the City Council an interim rate to be made effective as early as possible to help meet its operating deficit and a dial rate to be made effective June 1, 1957 after the exchange is converted to dial in May 1957. These rates are set forth below:

| Class of Service | Immediate Proposed Rate | Proposed Dial Conversion Rate |
|----------------------|-------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Business One Party | $7.50 | $9.75 |
| Business Two Party | 5.00 | 7.75 |
| Business Extension | 1.50 | 1.50 |
| Residence One Party | 5.00 | 5.75 |
| Residence Two Party | 4.00 | 4.75 |
| Residence Four Party | 3.00 | 3.75 |
| Residence Extension | 1.00 | 1.00 |

The dial rates when established will make it possible for the telephone company to earn 5.85% on its investment. Mr. Allen stated. Rate negotiations have been in progress for some time with the City Council and they are now giving very careful consideration to the telephone company's problem here.

All party lines will be equipped with selective ringing; that is, only the called party's telephone will ring. Allen has made it very clear that a person who now has a straight line residence telephone can down grade their service to a party line with very little increase in their rate. As an example; a subscriber with a one party residence telephone at a present rate of $3.25 can down grade their service to four party residence dial service at a cost of $3.75 or an increase of only 50c.

Allen says: "It is not possible for our company to sit still in this day of modern business. We must steadily expand and improve service. It is the desire of the company to furnish the best service possible to its patrons—

News About Social Security

Retirement means different things to different people. Maybe it's a chance to do more work for the lodge, church or civic club. Possibly it is an opportunity to travel, or to relax and catch up with all the good reading you have passed by. For many, retirement means to slow one's activities or even shift to another job, or develop a hobby into a commercial success.

For this latter group, 90 percent of whom are probably receiving social security monthly benefit checks, retirement is also defined by the social security law. Through the law, Congress says that any person eligible to receive social security payments, may earn $1200 a year or less and still receive all of his benefit checks. If a social security beneficiary works every month in the year and earns more than $1200 in the year, then he loses one check for every $80 or fraction of $80 earned over the $1200. For those who consider themselves retired, but do participate in seasonal employment or self-employment, the social security law also says an individual may get social security benefits for any month in which he neither renders substantial services in his business nor earns over $80 in employment.

Retirement does mean many things. If you consider yourself retired, and you are receiving monthly social security checks, but have reason to believe that your earnings will exceed $1200 during this year it will be well to get in touch with our social security office. If your earnings for 1956 total more than this amount you will be required to file a report by March 15, 1957.

SEVEN STEPS TO INSECT CONTROL

Texas farmers may be living in the modern era, but many of his problems are as old as history.

And about this time each year, the farmer starts his ageless battle with a familiar enemy—crop pests.

Fortunately, the chemical industry can furnish effective implements in this unending war. But their real utility is no better than the way they are used.

Chemical control of insects—and weeds—can be a boon or a bust, depending upon methods and time of application. Just as irrigation can be wasteful or beneficial, so can crop spraying or dusting.

It will be to the Texas farmer's advantage to follow an organized method of crop treatment for the best insect control. The best plan will be to contact your county agent and study the seven-step program as set up by the Texas Extension Service.

Much effectiveness of spraying or dusting is nullified by poor timing. Treatment on a "guess basis" often catches harmful insects in the pupa stage when insecticides and pesticides have little or no effect. It may also do away with some of the useful type insects.

The seven-step program varies over the state but each area of Texas has a definite plan set up according to local climate and insect conditions. This type of spraying assures the farmer of getting the most benefit out of money spent for insect control.

Although most insect infestations are expected to be approximately "normal" this year, one pest stands out as a threat in near plague proportions—the grasshopper. This spring the state and federal governments are carrying out an all-out fight against hoppers on range lands of the Panhandle and West Texas. But cultivated land is the farmer's own battlefield. Quick control of this pest can save many thousands of dollars in crops this year.

A word of caution about chemical preparations! Although the chemical industry has taken every precaution to make them safe as possible, some of them can be harmful if misused.

Read and study the manufacturers' recommended measures of use. They are printed on every container—and are meant to be followed.

FORD sets 500-mile record at Indianapolis Speedway

Again proves nobody outperforms Ford ... dramatic demonstration of the kind of performance and roadability that makes all your driving more fun in a Ford!

A Ford V-8 hurtled across the brick and asphalt surface of tough and testing Indianapolis Speedway... whirling through the tight turns and flashing over the straight stretches... to set a mark that no stock car ever reached before!

Previous to Ford's record run, no other stock car had gone even one lap at Indianapolis at 100 m.p.h., but one of Ford's laps was timed at the electrifying speed of 113.7 m.p.h. And Ford averaged over 107 m.p.h. for the full five hundred miles... close to the average set by the extremely costly, specially-built racer which won the Memorial Day "500".

Ford fully realizes that the welter of claims and counter claims about "racing victories" (many of them completely contradictory) must be confusing and disillusioning to the public. Ford ran this race against time, over the true "Classic" distance and at the most famous track in America, in order to dispel this cloud of doubt and disbelief and prove that no one outperforms Ford!

Peter de Paolo, leader of the team of drivers that piloted the winning Ford, states flatly: "No other stock car could have equalled this performance!" And Pete de Paolo should know, for he was the first driver to win the "500" Classic with a better than 100 m.p.h. average. And now he comes back with a group of drivers to establish a stock car record with the great '56 Ford!

Ford wrote this new mark large and bold in the record books. And the whole Ford did the trick. From the hood-full of throbbing horsepower to the road-hugging rear end, Ford demonstrated that it has what it takes to make your driving more enjoyable. Convince yourself that driving a Ford can be real fun. Test drive a '56 Ford. There's a set of keys waiting for you, so come in and see us soon.

Ford's record was timed and certified by the United States Auto Club

AUSTIN, Tex. — Next month, for the first time in 24 years, Texans will be asked to vote—not only on men—but directly on issues.

State Democratic Executive Committee members have approved the placing of three questions on the primary ballot. Voters can express their desires for or against:

1. Legislation exempting a child from compulsory attendance at integrated schools.
2. Legislation "perfecting" laws against intermarriage of Negroes and whites, and;
3. Use of interposition to halt federal encroachment on states rights.

Majority approval presumably would constitute a mandate for action by the next legislature.

Goldthwaite, Texas

Historically, such voters referendums seldom have been used. And not too successfully. Present procedures, still substantially unchanged, were set up with the passage of the Terrell Election Laws in 1907.

In the nearly 50 years since then, referendums were held only three times. And failed to pass twice. In 1908 a prohibition proposal was voted down more than two to one. In 1919 the people rejected three to one a proposal to call a constitutional convention.

But, in 1932 Texans voted overwhelmingly in favor of repealing the federal prohibition amendment. A year later the legislature followed suit and ratified the repeal amendment.

This was the last referendum submitted until this year.

In other action the State Executive Committee certified a list of 31 candidates for statewide office. It ignored a charge by Reuben Senterfitt that Price Daniel's name was ineligible to appear on the ballot because he had not resigned his U. S. Senate post.

Fort Worth was selected by the committee as the site for the Sept. 11 state convention. Principal business at that time will be naming new party officers and deciding on a general election platform for the Democratic gubernatorial nominee.

GOP CHOOSES CORPUS — Texas Republicans will hold their August 29 state convention in Corpus Christi. GOP nominees for state office, presidential electors, a new state chairman and a general platform will be decided upon at that time.

Selection of the convention site was made at the party's state executive committee meeting in Austin.

Committee members sent Dwight D. Eisenhower a telegram asserting their confidence that he will carry Texas and be re-elected in November.

REDISTRICTING URGED — Demands that Texas congressional districts be realigned were heard at both political party meetings.

Texas was allotted an additional congressman after the 1950 census. Since the legislature has rejected redistricting bills for the past two sessions, the extra man is elected by the entire state.

Bill Elkins, candidate for congressman-at-large, told the Democratic executive committee the main plank in his platform is to have the office he seeks abolished.

Republican National Committeeman Jack Porter said the GOP legal committee might seek federal court action to force the legislature to redistrict.

It's not fair to have the same representation from districts of 100,000 as you do from areas with more than a million," Porter charged.

PEARSON BLAMED AGAIN — In a report made public by the Insurance Commission, TVman Drew Pearson received the brunt of the blame for luring Texans into investing money in the now defunct US Trust & Guaranty Co. The report was based on answers to questionnaires sent draft purchasers by the state liquidator's office.

Questionnaires were answered by 3,608 purchasers. They represented investments of $4,711,132. Nearly half of them charged Pearson with influencing them into buying. This because of his personal, oft-repeated statement that "You can put your trust in U.S. Trust."

Because Pearson personally recommended the purchase, the TV broadcaster several months ago pledged to refund all "profits" made on his commercials. As of this writing the Insurance Commission's records do not reveal any such repayments by Pearson.

CIVIL IMMUNITY DENIED OFFICIALS — Public officials are not immune from civil liability for acts in connection with their duties. An Austin district judge so ruled in a case involving two former employes of the Insurance Commission.

Examiners Larry W. Blanchard and Robert R. Butler are among more than 50 defendants in a $6,890,000 damage suit. It was filed by the state liquidator against those allegedly responsible for the 1954 collapse of the General American Casualty Co. of San Antonio.

PARR TRIAL DELAY EXPECTED — Another six months delay seems likely before the trial of George B. Parr on income tax evasion charges takes place. Parr's plea to have the trial in Laredo, rather than Austin, was rejected by the US Supreme Court. U.S. Attorneys promptly asked Judge Ben H. Rice of Austin for an early setting, preferably in July. But Parr's attorneys say they will file for a rehearing before the Supreme Court. Such action could keep the case from coming up until January of 1957.

Parr was first indicted in 1954. He is charged with filing false returns in 1949, 1950 and 1951 and failing to pay the government $86,000.

BIRTH CERTIFICATE BOTTLENECK — State Health officials are urging parents of children who will enter school for the first time next fall to avoid the "birth certificate bottleneck." In past years thousands of requests have swamped the department in September. An estimated 260,000 children will be eligible to enter first grade this year.

SHORT SNORTS — Soaring heat and lack of rain is withering Texas crops and pastures in all areas except the high plains, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The high plains still are green after three consecutive weeks of showers. . . . May was one of the best contract award months in Texas construction history. The $168,102,823 contracted in May brings the 1956 total to $572,000,000. That is better than the record year of 1953. . . . Eleven South Texas counties have been quarantined against shipments of citrus fruits from Mississippi, Florida, Louisiana and Alabama. Purpose of the State Agriculture Department's ban is to prevent a possible infestation of the Mediterranean fruit fly into Texas groves.

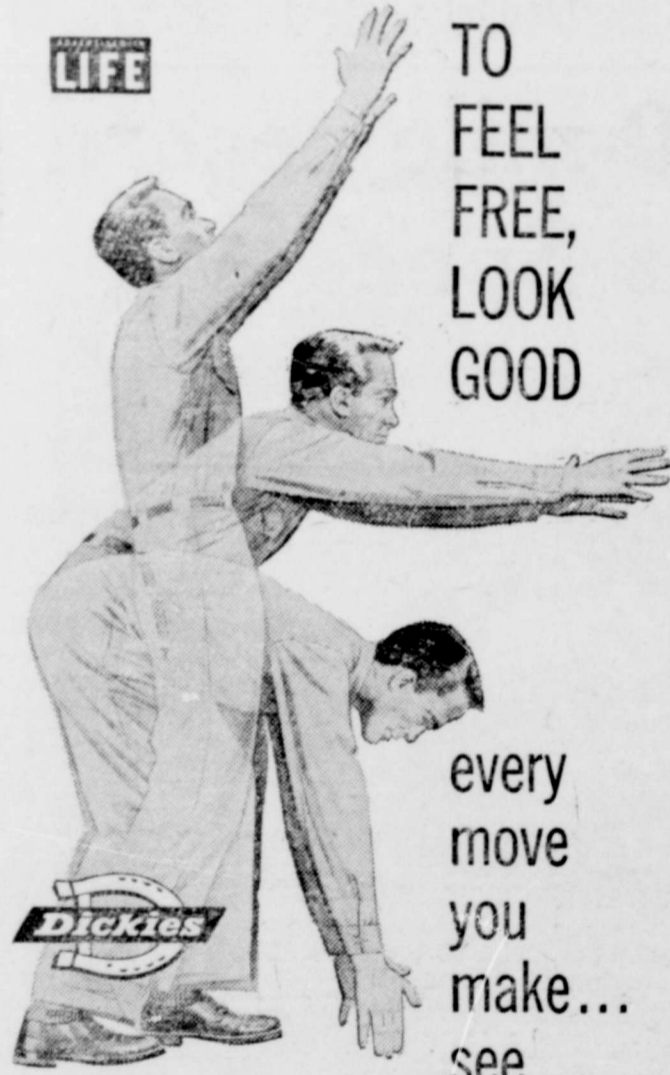

Star Postmaster Exams Announced

PARENT PROBLEMS

Interesting Facts About New Teachers

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

MOST people suppose the average beginning teacher in urban schools is a young, unmarried thing with no one to look after but herself, living at home with her parents at little or no cost and that, moreover, she intends to teach only until she can find a husband.

But the chances are better than 1 in 4 that the beginning classroom teacher is a man, not a woman.

Only 1 in 1,000 is under 20 and almost 7 in 10 are 23 or older. About 36 percent of beginning women teachers are already married; 60 percent of beginning men teachers are. One out of ten has 1 child and another tenth has two children.

Recent Study

These facts were disclosed in a study of "First-Year Teachers," reported in the Research Bulletin of the National Education Association, February, 1956. The study was based on random sampling of 5,000 first-year urban teachers of the United States, to whom questionnaires were sent. Only 2,600 returned the questionnaires.

Most of the teachers who replied had college degrees—about 94.2 percent of them. Also, about 10 percent are going on for higher degrees. Perhaps teachers with less education were among the number not returning the questionnaire, rendering these percentages too high for the truth.

Secondary Schools

About two-thirds said their lives were not restricted in any way. A larger proportion of secondary school teachers than of elementary teachers were disappointed with teaching during the first year. Up to 40, the older the teacher on beginning to teach, the more likely he is to like it.

Both single men and single women found teaching less to their liking than did married men and women. One out of 5 single men said they would prefer another field. The smaller the system in which the teacher begins, the greater the chances for liking it.

Annual Convention

At the recent annual convention of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, I sat in on the discussion group of principals and supervisors, mostly from larger school systems, who exchanged experiences on ways of helping the beginning teacher get started well and hopefully.

Clearly the day of the "snooper-vision" is past. Help is not imposed, as a rule, but made available by voluntary workshops led by seasoned regular classroom teachers who have excelled and are able to inspire the new teacher.

(My bulletin "Helping Our Children Succeed at School" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)
