Pre-Publication Sale Of Mills County History Book Is Announced

The pre-publication sale of the History of Mills County, which will soon be published, is on. If bought now the History will cost $3.50, if bought after it is printed it will be more expensive.

The History contains a complete political, social and economic account of a small tract of 734 square miles which was organized as Mills County in 1857.

The land for 61 years was out government or law. Cowboys and Apaches fought for possession; early settlers ended in fighting Comanches 25 years. Honest Man's Mob was on cattle rustlers and thieves; Trigger Moun-Mob with a man of mystery leader causes a reign of terror hangings and ambushes.

One reads the 300 pages he may vicariously seek adventure and mystery with ex-sheriffs B. F. Geeslin, H. C. Ezzell, J. Hern Harris or he may spend a cold night in the old Jerusalem Hotel with Claude Ecott and his mysterious guest armed with two 45 six shooters and a Winchester; or he may be enraptured with the fight in the waters of the Colorado between pioneer hunters; Baldwin Lonis and Joe Spinks with the last panther; or one may be thrilled by the cadence of the music of the hounds and the shouts of the hunters as they trail the last great beast of the woods to his death, the jaguar.

You may purchase the History at pre-publication price of $3.50 by contacting Mrs. Ray Duren, Treasurer of Mills County Historical Society or Mrs. Cecil Parker, Sales Manager, Pottsville Star Route, Hamilton, Texas.

TODAYS Menu

Easy-To-Prepare Menus For Unexpected Guests

By ALICE DENHOFF

A WELL-STOCKED emergency shelf is insurance against the time when unexpected meals must be prepared.

In some households, this is a frequent occurrence. But for the homemaker who can survey a row of cans and packages, it's just a matter of working out a menu that can be quickly prepared.

Canned tuna is an especially useful item to have on hand for hearty, satisfying sandwiches. They're ideal when a really big meal isn't necessary, just something good and a little different. With a salad, or an assortment of crisp relishes, some ready-to-bake rolls and a simple dessert, or fruit and cheese, a good meal can be quickly prepared.

Toasted Sandwiches

To make 6 French-Toasted Tuna Pepper Sandwiches, drain a 6½-oz. can chunk-style tuna, reserving oil.

Combine the tuna oil and a chopped medium-sized green pepper. Cook over low heat until green pepper is tender.

Add the tuna, a chopped, canned pimiento, ½ tsp. paprika and 1 tsp. vinegar and mix well.

Spread on 12 slices buttered bread to make sandwiches.

Combine 2 slightly beaten eggs, ½ c. milk and ½ tsp. salt and mix well.

Dip In Egg

Dip sandwiches in egg mixture and arrange on well-greased baking sheet. Broil 3 to 4 in. from source of heat 4 min. or until browned. Turn and broil 3 min.

For 6 hearty sandwiches, drain over rice.

Combine a 10½-oz. can condensed tomato soup, ¼ c. water and ½ tsp. oregano and mix well. Heat to boiling point. Add tuna to tomato soup mixture and mix lightly.

Have 6 slices processed American cheese (about 6 oz.) and arrange on bottom halves of 6 hamburger rolls, split in halves and toasted. Arrange 6 thin slices Bermuda onion on remaining halves and brush with butter.

Broil 3 to 4 in. from source of heat 5 min. or until cheese is lightly browned.

Serve tuna mixture over rolls.

Served In Style

Tuna Stroganoff isn't really an emergency dish but something to be carefully prepared and served in style. Incidentally, this is a good one to remember for Lenten meals.

To serve 6, drain 2 (7-oz.) cans solid-pack tuna, reserving oil. Combine tuna oil and 1 chopped, medium-sized onion; cook over low heat until onion is tender.

Add ¼ c. all-purpose flour and 2 c. water and cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Add a 6-oz. can tomato paste, ½ lb. sliced mushrooms, ¼ c. chopped parsley; mix well.

Break tuna into pieces. Turn half of tomato mixture into greased 2½-qt. casserole. Top with tuna and remaining tomato mixture. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 30 min.

Add 1 c. sour cream, salt and pepper to taste and mix well. Bake 10 min. more or until thoroughly heated. If desired, serve over rice.

THE INDUSTRY NOBODY REALLY KNOWS

The Gulf Oil Corporation has performed a public service by issuing a booklet entitled "The Industry Nobody Really Knows." Written by Craig Thompson, a nationally-known free lance writer, its purpose is to give consumers a better understanding of just how the oil industry gets its job done—and to banish the fallacy that a big oil company is "a sort of gigantic octopus feeding on the little fellows."

As Mr. Thompson says, ". . . In this extraordinary enterprise, no company can ever be big enough to become a dictator and go man with guption too poor to find a place in it." The industry has long been in a process of healthy disintegration, and that has created great opportunities for small and middle-sized business men. The big company is often the small company's best customer. Where, in 1944, one company sold 88 per cent of the oil products bought by American consumers, today there is not a single company that can claim as much as 10 per cent of the total market.

We hear of men who have amassed vast fortunes in oil. But, for each one of these, there are hundreds of prospectors who never find a drop of the precious stuff. To quote Mr. Thompson again, "Of the hundreds of thousands of men who have gone questing for oil since the turn of the century, fewer than one in a thousand have wound up with anything like a million dollars."

The highly competitive oil industry touches all our lives. We ought to know more about it.

*Copies of the booklet may be obtained from: The President, Gulf Oil Corporation, P. O. Box 1166, Pittsburg 30, Pa.)

THE WHY OF "TIGHT MONEY"

You've undoubtedly heard of the "tight money" policy now being followed by the Federal Reserve Board—a policy which makes money more difficult to borrow and which tends to increase interest rates.

But you may have wondered why the Board should find such a policy necessary. U. S. News & World Report explains in these words: "There is at present a strong inflationary demand for credit. Industry is seeking record amounts to finance huge expansion programs. State and local governments have vast programs of public works. Builders are pressing for funds to finance more homes. Consumers are spending record sums, and want to borrow to keep on spending. Meanwhile, most of the labor force is already fully occupied and unions are demanding and getting wage increases. Many production lines are operating at capacity. With costs increasing and prices rising, the possibility of greater inflation threatens."

"The men on the Federal Reserve Board who shape money policy for the government are determined to keep this situation under control."

SENATOR BORAH WAS WRONG

In an earlier era, it seems clear, the advocates of the federal income tax had no conception of the extent to which it would grow—and the tremendous portion it would take from the earnings of the people.

In defending this tax, the late Senator Borah once said: "The great and honored lawyer, Joseph Choate, denounced such a tax as socialistic. He said that if you can levy a tax of two per cent, you may lay a tax of fifty per cent or a hundred per cent. "Who will lay the tax of fifty per cent or a hundred per cent?"

"Whose equity, sense of fairness, of justice, of patriotism, does he question."

"Why the representatives of the American people—not only that, but the intelligence, the fairness, the justice of the people themselves, to whom their representatives are always answerable."

Senator Borah was a famous and able man, but in this case he could hardly have been more wrong. An income tax of 50 per cent now applies at levels which are far from great wealth. And in the top bracket the tax is 91 per cent—only nine per cent short of the total expropriation that Joseph Choate feared.

Moreover, even in relatively modest brackets, the tax collector hits very hard. Taxes, direct and indirect, account for about one-third of a $7,500 annual income. And a man earning $85 a week works more hours to pay his taxes than to pay for his food and clothing combined.

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Recalcitrant Republicans May Feel Ike's Wrath Die-Hard Right-Wingers Lost Prestige in Vote

WASHINGTON—White House sources say President Eisenhower is so earnest about remodeling the Republican party that he is now ready to war against members of the GOP who refuse to have anything to do with "modern Republicanism." In 1952, 1954 and 1956, Mr. Eisenhower supported all Republicans for office, regardless of whether they agreed with his views of what the party should stand for. Thus, some extremely right-wing Republicans, far from the "President politically than many Democrats, nevertheless had his blessing.

White House aides now say Mr. Eisenhower is abandoning this policy, and that his tremendous election victory, while the GOP failed to win a majority in Congress, has convinced him that the party cannot exist unless it "goes modern."

Therefore, the President is likely to take sides in GOP primary races in 1958, throwing all his prestige behind any "Eisenhower Republican" who vies with a member of the "old guard." However, even before 1958—particularly in the next session of Congress—the chief executive will undoubtedly exert all the pressure at his command to help "modern Republicans" and hinder right-wingers.

CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATIONS—In what may be a related development, an effort will be made in Congress in January to put an end to so-called character assassination by congressional investigation.

Senators Thomas H. Kuchel (R), California, and Prescott Bush (R), Connecticut, both Eisenhower Republicans who won re-election this year, will introduce a resolution calling for the Senate to elevate the level of committee investigations and "to assure citizens of fair treatment at the hands of their legislators." Kuchel said the resolution would call for a code of conduct which will curb what he calls "frustrating and degrading abuse of witnesses, smears of innocent third persons, and use of investigations as sounding boards for the rankest heresy."

The target apparently is Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (R), Wisconsin, who frequently opposes the administration. McCarthy a ranking Republican on the Senate permanent investigation committee—and he headed the committee during the first two years of President Eisenhower's first term.

GEIGER COUNT MARRIAGE—Disclosure that the United States plans to establish a "safe" radiation exposure standard for the entire U. S. population raises all kinds of possibilities, particularly involving marriage.

Some scientists say that individuals, if plans are approved as being worked out, may have to carry personal "score cards" showing just how much radiation they have accumulated during their lifetime and how much more they could safely take.

Such records, it was said, may even determine what couples may marry and have children. For example, a man with a high accumulation of radiation soaked up from medical X-rays and atomic test exposures would be dissuaded from marrying a girl with a similar high rating.

As one man put it—the possibility is not eliminated that a Geiger counter would properly precede an engagement ring.

CAMPAIGN FLYING—Air line authorities report that the two major political parties did more campaigning by air in 1956 than ever before in history.

They compute that Republican and Democratic candidates for President and vice president and the "truth squads" of the two parties chalked up 220,000 air miles during the campaign. The previous high was in 1952, when 178,275 miles were recorded in the air. Train travel was minimized by the major candidates but strategists of both parties concede that for congressional and local campaigns, the airplane isn't the answer for the aspiring candidates.

Tom Cookseys, Jr. Winners In Mullin Christmas Lighting Contest

MRS. GEORGE FLETCHER

A large number of cars were in the pilgrimage touring Mullin and outlying areas to see and enjoy the Outdoor Home Christmas Decorations contest sponsored by the Mullin Home Demonstration Club, Saturday night, December 22. After the tour the group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Fletcher for refreshments.

The three judges agreed that the decorations should be judged upon an overall appearance at a distance, balance, unity of theme and lighting effectiveness. The judges were instructed to judge first and second places and mail the prize money without announcing the winners to the group.

Approximately fifteen homes were visited and first prize of $25.00 went to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cooksey, Jr. The Cooksey home created a warm glow of cheerfulness with a large lighted tree in the picture window, which also revealed the family in the living room and other inside decorations. Outside two large lighted candles helped to frame the window. Lights on the eaves of each of the side wings of the house added brilliance to the central scene. The front door bore a jolly Santa with the word "HI" near by.

Second prize of $20.00 went to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Fisher whose decorations consisted of snowmen made of sprayed tulle weeds—each depicting a member of the family whose name was printed upon his snout. "Frosty the Snowman" was being played softly inside the house.

Honorable mention went to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wright whose decorations consisted of a Nativity scene, a Santa scene on the porch and a large tree in the yard gaily lighted; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dudley, whose shrubs and trees were bright and cheerful with lights; Mr. and Mrs. Tom McArthur with a window Christmas tree and a large

Supporting Your Town

Merchants who do not advertise are invited to read the following from the American Bankers Magazine, as it might give you a new slant on business, your own business, as well as the matter of building your town.

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

LAWYER TALK

Persons feel that the "whereas" clause, "aforesaid", and legal verbiage used by lawyers are intended only to confound and confuse the layman.

Nothing could be further from the truth. In drafting legal documents, the lawyer attempts to draft them in such a way as to exclude all ambiguities. In the last analysis, a legal document means what some court at some future time shall declare that it means. As a consequence, it is the lawyer's duty to his client to attempt to draft the instrument in such a way that it can mean only one thing.
Most any paragraph of non-legal language contains numerous ambiguities. When a lawyer refers to the "deed aforesaid", he is attempting to make it clear beyond question that the deed he is referring to is the deed mentioned in a prior portion of the instrument. Likewise, when he prefaces a legal document with a long list of "whereases", he is simply reciting pertinent facts for the benefit of the court to show the facts of the situation that lead to the execution of the instrument.

The difficulty with drafting a document in layman's language is that to the trained analyst such language is susceptible of several meanings, and consequently is likely to lead to litigation. It is the draftsman's purpose to avoid litigation which is usually expensive for the client.
Another reason why lawyers use legal language is historical in nature. Thus most deeds declare that the grantor "by these presents does grant, sell and convey" the land in question to the grantee. Each of the words recited has a technical meaning. The words together have frequently been construed by the courts and consequently the lawyer knows in using them that their meaning is settled, and that they will operate to properly transfer the title. He would be inviting litigation for his client, if instead of using those words, he devised new language to express the same purpose. He could only say, "While I think the language that I have used will accomplish the purpose, I cannot be sure of it."
As a consequence, the lawyer, in the interest of his client, naturally uses the time-tested language instead of experimenting with new language.
(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

AUSTIN, Texas—First appointment of incoming Gov. Daniel is that of a new secretary of state. Chosen for the job was Zolie Steakley, 48-year-old Austin and Sweetwater attorney.

Steakley will succeed Tom Reaveley in the $15,000-a-year post. Term of office runs concurrently with governor's. Duties are many. Included are granting of corporate charters, approving securities issues, and handling election records.

Steakley, who served as assistant attorney general under Gerald Mann and Grover Sellers, has been in private practice in Austin for the past 10 years. He said he will sever all connections with his law firm before taking office.

Scores of other pending appointments spiced Texas news through the holidays. In some cases, the issue is, not only who will be appointed, but who will do the appointing. After he is inaugurated, Daniel will have some 200 posts to fill. Incoming Atty. Gen. Will Wilson can appoint 43 assistants.

But some 70 vacancies in state agencies, college boards and judicial posts will occur before Gov. Shivers leaves office Jan. 15. He can make these appointments or leave them to his successor. Custom varies. In a few past instances, sharp controversy has arisen between outgoing and incoming executives as to who should make these "twilight appointments."

Other appointments already announced include:
TO THE INSURANCE COMMISSION, John Osorio, 35-year-old Austin attorney and executive secretary to the governor, by Gov. Shivers.

Osorio will replace Byron Saunders who leaves Jan. 1 to take a Dallas insurance job. Osorio's new job pays $15,000 a year; term runs until February, 1959. If he inherits Saunders' assignment on the Commission, he will have supervision of the life segment of the Texas insurance industry.

AS ASSISTANT ATTORNEYS GENERAL, James N. Ludlum of Fort Worth, Cecil Rotsch, Grady Chandler and E. M. de Guerin of Austin, appointed by Will Wilson.

Ludlum will head the oil, gas and water section. De Guerin will be Wilson's administrative assistant. Rotsch will be special trial assistant, and Chandler will be chairman of the opinion committee.

Wilson said he will keep about one-fourth of the present attorney general's staff.

MORE MONEY SEEN—State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert thinks the upcoming legislature will have $50,000,000 more than was available two years ago. He estimates a surplus of $34,329,384 from the present biennium plus $15,843,389 more from present tax sources in the next biennium.

But state services will require a minimum of $12,000,000 more than this, according to retiring House Speaker Jim Lindsey.

If legislators agree, new taxes will be necessary. Texas Constitution prohibits exceeding the comptroller's official estimate without taxes to cover them, except by special four-fifths action.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness also noted an upswing in state revenue. His annual audit of the treasury showed $193,000,000 more on hand than at the same time in 1955. Receipts from excise taxes were $10,000,000 higher than two years ago.

COUNCIL RECOMMENDATIONS—Texas Legislative Council has submitted a blueprint for action on some of the 55th session's toughest issues.

A joint House-Senate group, the Council studies major problems between sessions, then makes recommendations. Included in the proposals for 1957 are: (1) Annual sessions of the legislature and $3,000-a-year salaries for legislators, (2) setting standards for outside activities of legislators, (3) requiring registration and expense reports by lobbyists, (4) outlawing "chapter seven" combination surety-trust companies such as US Trust and Guaranty, (5) making the State Hospital Board responsible for the criminally insane.

FIRST RIGHT-OF-WAY—A new era in highway building was launched with the first purchase of right-of-way with state funds.

Since passage of the federal highway aid bill, the State Highway Department has inaugurated a policy of buying land for interstate highways. Previously, the department paid only for construction. First tract bought will be used in making an expressway of U. S. 67 between Dallas and Texas.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer emphasized that the new policy applies only to the interstate system.

LAND BOARD OFFERS TRACTS—Veterans Land Board is advertising for bids on some 56 tracts of land over the state.

Tracts, forfeited by their veteran purchasers, are now available to other veterans. Bids will be accepted until Feb. 5, 1957, the date when the board will open them.

Further information can be obtained by writing the Veterans Land Board in Austin.

HANDS OFF, SAYS GOP—Texas' top Republican has called on his fellow party members to stay out of Democratic Party affairs.

H. J. Jack Porter, national committeeman, urged this policy when the party's leaders came to Austin for electoral balloting and an executive committee meeting.

Porter said Republicans have tipped the balance in the Democrats' liberal-conservative battles. But from now on, he said, the GOP would concentrate on its own candidates.

SHORT SNORTS—For the second time in recent weeks a Capitol reporter was asked to leave an official meeting. Kenneth Towery, Pulitzer Prize-winning former Cuero Record editor, now Austin-American-Statesman reporter was barred from a joint meeting of the Legislative Budget Board and State Hospital Board so members could "discuss matters frankly."

Judgments obtained by the state in Veterans Land Board suits now total $3,099,889.50. Latest court action added $680,678 to funds recovered from improper sales under the land program.

Ground has been broken for the new State Courts Building. First shovels of dirt were overturned by Gov. Shivers, Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, Supreme Court Chief Justice John E. Hickman and other officials.

Development of a hardy, drought-resistant pine promises to bolster Texas lumber industry, says the Texas Forest Service. A five-year test project showed the pines would mature with 25 per cent less rainfall than normally required.

Duval's Background For Dictatorship Is One of Violence and Sudden Death

By FREDERICK HODGSON

SAN DIEGO, TEX.—To know the history of Duval County is to understand the power of George B. Parr. To know the county's people is to know Parr himself. Parr's power, and that of his father before him, is based on the Latin-American, by tradition an easily led "follower." Almost 90 per cent of the people in Duval are "Mexicans," so called even though their families may have lived on this land since the days of the Conquistadores. Most of them are desperately poor. Many are illiterate. Many speak no English at all.
Perhaps half the population of this little county town, 4,397 at the last official census, live in miserable "jacales," unpainted huts built with scrap lumber.
The town, officially a city, is typically Mexican, with a mission-style church and of central plaza with a band stand. The line separating Duval from Jim Wells County runs through the town, and through the center of the San Diego Cafe, meeting place of the anti-Parr forces. Across the street, Highway 44, and catty-corner to the West is the Court-house and the Windmill Cafe, headquarters of the Parr brigade.
The "Mexican" in Duval is small, dark-skinned, Catholic by religion.
George Parr is an "Anglo" and by all rules of deep South Central Texas he and his followers should be as different as day is from night.
The average "Anglo" in Duval is a big man, taller by inches than the general run of Americans. By religion he is Protestant. He speaks little or no Spanish. He is apt to wear fancy, high-heeled Western boots and a Western hat.
Even though his skin may be tanned by the sun to the shade of copper he thinks of himself as "white"—in contrast to the Mexican-American who is patronized as a peon, as part Indian. The "Anglo" speaks of "good Mexicans" and "bad Mexicans" but always of "Mexicans." He doesn't think of the Latins as Americans at all.
More than a trace of the frontiersman still remains in the Duval "Anglo." There are men still living who can tell truthfully of calling trigger on yelling Apaches.
It is more than a bit startling to the outsider to get the "feel" of the small towns in Duval, Jim Wells, Brooks, Webb and other counties of the area. A man from north of the Nueces River is a naughty, fed them when they were hungry, led them like a flock of sheep, robbed them blind, tended their hurts—and used them so adroitly that no man dared oppose him. He made alliances with political leaders in adjoining counties. His power was vast.

Old Archie sat in the State Senate for twenty years, ran a rip-roaring wide open county back home in Duval where not a dog barked without his permission. He controlled the courts, the police, the schools, the rackets, everything in the county. He manipulated elections with the dexterity of a gambler with a deck of cards.

There were sporadic revolts against his rule, of course, but these were put down ruthlessly. On primary day in 1912, for example, three men were shot to death in the street in front of the Courthouse. Two years later a determined attempt was made by Parr foes to clean up Duval by the simple expedient of abolishing the county altogether. It didn't work. In 1915 the Texas Supreme Court ordered an audit of the county's books and the Courthouse burned down after the auditors had worked only one day, destroying the records.

In building his power, and in consolidating it, Old Archie had one powerful force operating in his favor—the Constitution of the State of Texas.
Ironically, that much-amended Constitution of 1878 was framed deliberately to give counties the greatest possible measure of home rule. Behind the solid rampart of that document the Duke of Duval ruled with the absolute authority of a Medici.
Thus it was the Constitution, as much as Parr himself, that posed the serious obstacle to Attorney General John Ben Shepperd in his march on the Duchy of Duval. He had to stay carefully within its obsolete framework while fighting against forces that cared not one snap of the fingers for all the law in Texas.
Old Archie's son, the present Duke of Duval, grew up in this atmosphere of corrupt politics. He knew of the liquor-laden pack trains that came into the county during the lush days of prohibition. He knew of the other things that went on, and he learned well. His playmates were the Latin children of San Diego. Spanish, not English, was his mother tongue.
Among his playmates was Manuel "Meme" Marroquin, now Parr's most bitter enemy, editor of a militant little bi-lingual newspaper "New Duval." Other articles in this series will tell more of Marroquin, a man who has suffered much, including physical beatings, at the hands of the Boss and his henchmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hines Are Honored On Golden Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Hines of the Scallorn Community were honored by their children with open house, Sunday, December 16, from 2:00 until 5:00 o'clock in their home in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Hines and Miss Annie Laura Fields were married in Lampasas County, December 16, 1906. They have made their home in Mills County, in their present home, all of their married life. They are the parents of three children: M. F. Hines of Lometa, and twin daughters, Mrs. John Allan Todd of Dumas, Texas and Miss Greta Sue Hines of Lometa. Their lives have been blessed with the addition of two grandsons, Frank Richard Todd, a student in Tarleton State College and Gregory Hines of Lometa, Texas.

Before the guests began to arrive moving pictures of the Hines family and other members of the house party were made by Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Johnson of Fort Worth, a niece and nephew of Mr. Hines. As the guests arrived, they were greeted by the honorees and their children. Mrs. Maude Townsen, sister of Mrs. Hines, received the gifts at the door. She unwrapped and displayed them for the guests to see. The guests were registered by Mrs. Judson Strickland, who then directed them to the refreshment table which was beautifully laid with a lace cloth and silver and crystal appointments.

The wedding cake was topped over a golden orchid. It was served by Mrs. W. A. Willy, sister of Mrs. Hines. Coffee and punch were poured by Mrs. M. F. Hines. After being served refreshments, the guests were invited to view the beautiful array of gifts. White and gold chrysanthemums, carnations and gladioli were used throughout the house to add beauty and color to the occasion. A clever arrangement of gold flowers and leaves were arranged around an old fashioned horse and buggy, in which sat a miniature bride and groom. An old time kerosene lamp made the lightpost for the arrangement. On the chimney of the lamp, which burned throughout the afternoon, were the words: "Annie and Frank" 1906-1956.

During the appointed hours over a hundred guests called. Those coming from out of the county were: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Weathers, Mrs. John Kuykendall, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cooke and son, all of Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Johnson of Fort Worth, Mrs. Maude Townsen, Mr. and Mrs. W. A.

Willy, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fields and Ruth and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Straley all of Adamsville. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wooten and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Young of Lampasas; Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huffstutler and Jan of San Saba; Fred Martin of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Mrs. Jesse Colby of Arlington, and Mrs. C. Scripture—Matthew 8:1-9:34

A leper came to Jesus, worshipping Him, saying, "Lord if Thou wilt, Thou canst make me clean." Christ touched him, saying, "I will, be thou clean," and the leprosy was cleansed.

A centurion begged Jesus to heal his suffering servant, saying he knew that if He spoke the word the man would be healed. Christ answered, "As thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee."

A man lying on a bed, sick with palsy, was brought to Jesus. Christ said, "Son, be of good cheer; thy sins are forgiven thee." But certain scribes said: "This man blasphemeth."

Jesus, passing, saw a man named Matthew who was a taker of tolls. Jesus said, "Follow Me, and the man left his post and followed Him."

TODAYS Menu

Hearty Budget Dishes

FOR many of us, it's back to three square meals a day and no frills—a boon to both digestion and budget! So let's start off with something very simple but very good.

Braised oxtails have wonderful flavor when the meat has cooked slowly with its bones for several hours.

To serve 6 nicely, have 3 lbs. oxtails cut in 2-in. lengths. Roll in 3 to 4 tsp. flour that has been mixed with 2 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. pepper.

Meanwhile, cook 1/2 lb. chopped onion in 3 tsp. hot lard about 3 min. Add oxtails and brown thoroughly.

Add 1 c. bouillon, a (#2) can tomatoes, 1/2 tsp. ginger and 2 lemon slices. Cook, covered, over low heat until meat falls away from the bones—about 3 hrs. Thicken broth for gravy and serve immediately.

Thrifty Dish

Chinese Pepper Steak is a thrifty dish.

To serve 3-6, have 1 lb. chuck, round or flank or 1 beef heart. Cut meat in strips. Flour and season each piece with salt and pepper.

Brown in 4 tsp. butter or margarine.

Add 2 large peppers and 2 large onions all cut in strips. Simmer together for 5 min. 1/2 tsp. celery seed, 1/4 tsp. ground cloves, tsp. tumeric, 1/4 tsp. each ginger and mustard, 1/2 tsp. salt, juice of 1/2 lemon and 1 c. boiling water. Pour over meat. Cook until meat is tender.

Spaghetti Dish

Spaghetti Meatball Skillet is a good time-saver as well as a thrifty dish since the main ingredient is canned tomato sauce with meatballs.

To serve 4, prepare 8 oz. spaghetti according to package directions. Drain in colander.

Meanwhile, melt 2 tsp. butter or margarine. Add 1 c. chopped celery and cook over low heat until tender.

Add 4 thinly-sliced medium carrots and 1 c. water. Cook until carrots are tender.

Add spaghetti sauce and meatballs and salt and pepper to suit. Mix well and heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally.

A good salad goes well with this one.

Driving Public Has Many Common Misconceptions About Traffic Laws

The past eighteen years experience of the Texas Safety Association reveals that many Texas drivers and pedestrians have misconceptions about traffic laws. Here are seven such misconceptions — how is your score?

1. The driver on the right always has the right-of-way at an intersection. Not so; Texas law states that the car entering the intersection first has the right-of-way. When two cars approach the intersection from different directions at approximately the same time the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right-of-way to the vehicle on the right.
2. Pedestrians must yield to cars at intersections where there are no traffic lights. Wrong! The law gives pedestrians the right-of-way, with certain limitations, at all marked crosswalks.
3. When a school bus stops to pick up or discharge children, you have to stop if you are behind it and traveling in the same direction. This is only partly correct. Texas law requires you to stop in such cases no matter in which direction you are driving.
4. You don't have to stop on yellow when a traffic signal is changing from green to red. Wrong! The Caution, or yellow light is a signal that the red or Stop signal will be exhibited immediately thereafter and vehicular traffic shall not enter OR BE CROSSING the intersection when the red or Stop signal is exhibited.
5. You can make a turn any time as long as you signal. That is incorrect. To make a turn, you have to be in the proper lane and you are required to signal at least 100 feet before you turn.
6. You may pass any time you see an opening. Wrong again.

Texas law says that you have to give a car coming from the opposite direction at least 100 feet clearance after you have passed. You cannot pass at all when approaching within 100 feet of a bridge, viaduct or tunnel; or traversing an intersection or railroad crossing. The passing laws, of course, contain many other specific limitations.

7. Drivers must watch out for pedestrians walking on the roadway. This is a good idea, but the law says a pedestrian must walk on the left side of the road or on the left shoulder. It is also illegal to walk in a roadway if a sidewalk is provided.

Mills County Bond Sales Are Well Over Quota

W. F. Duren, Chairman of the U. S. Savings Bonds Committee for Mills County advised today that citizens of the county had purchased a total of $140,743 Series "E and H" Savings Bonds through November 1956. The County's goal for the year, is $112,000. Bonds purchased thus far represent 125.7% of this goal.

Mr. Duren also had some timely advice for the lucky folks who will receive money for Christmas this year. "There is a wonderful way to spend Christmas Cash to make it worth much more. Buy United States Savings Bonds and watch them grow."

Mr. Duren had a timely suggestion for a New Year's Resolution. He said all of us could help ourselves, our families, our community and our country by resolving to use a systematic savings plan. A plan that works automatically and pays off with guaranteed results. The Government has such a plan, the Payroll Savings plan for the purchase of Series "E" United States Savings Bonds.

Poultry Marketing Specialist Is Named Man Of Year In Agriculture

F. Z. BEANBLOSSOM

For his conspicuous service in poultry marketing, F. Z. Beanblossom, College Station, was named "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" today by The Progressive Farmer magazine.

Beanblossom, poultry marketing specialist for the Texas Extension Service, Texas A. & M. College System, has made big contributions to the poultry industry since he began working in Texas shortly after World War II. Seeing the greatest need was for improvement in poultry marketing, Beanblossom began working to improve quality. He talked with farmers, poultry dealers, hatcherymen, poultry breeders, feed salesmen and processors explaining that "consumers will buy quality products."

One result of his promotional work was in the field of graded eggs. Ten years ago, there were practically no eggs sold in Texas on a graded basis. In 1955, over 40 million dozen were sold on a graded basis and Texas egg producers were paid over 2 million dollars more for their product.

Beanblossom has sold the idea of quality from the farm to the table. He has pushed chicken of tomorrow contests for better broilers, processors for cleanliness and attractiveness of dressed turkeys and broilers, restaurants to serve more eggs and poultry meat, truckers to be more careful in handling, feed men for better feeds, handlers for more efficiency in their operations, etc. But whatever his job, you can be sure of one thing—he's trying to help Texans sell more Texas poultry.

Mrs. Oran Carothers and son, Nathan visited in Roswell, New Mexico with relatives during the holidays.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Did you ever see anything like the Christmas lights of El Paso?" asks the editor of the El Paso Herald Post. "All over town sparkle and gleam. They are the Great White Way of the York look pale."

Plaza Park looks like a veritable Fairyland of Christmas Decorations. When Bill and Grace came here in 1950 the trains were running right alongside the north side of Plaza Park — They're now underground. People who rode the trains from everywhere looked out on Plaza Park and said that nowhere else had they seen such beautiful Christmas decorations as in El Paso. The Post says credit for this fine display goes to the ladies of the garden clubs. Over the years they've worked at it, given ribbons for awards, and each year the number of El Paso homes and neighborhoods that put up lights increases.

Christmas night we went driving just to see the beautiful display. All along the streets beautifully lighted Christmas trees shone through picture windows. In the yards nativity scenes and lighted Christmas trees. On the housetops Santa Claus and reindeer. Everywhere red, green, blue, and yellow lights. And everywhere we went there was the star on the mountain. We drove up the Scenic Drive, far up the mountain, and looked out over El Paso—a city lit with the beautiful lights of Christmas. The scene was magnificent.

As we came home, we drove through blocks and blocks of luminarias. These are small paper sacks each containing sand and a lighted candle. They are placed all along the sidewalks and on either side of the walks leading to the houses. They are the Southwest's traditional greeting to the Christ child. They are entirely new to me.

A Christmas letter from Mrs. LaRock of Charlottesville, Va. my good baby-sitting customer whom the Government sent from here last May—says they love Virginia. They have a wood right back of their house. She says, "We have a nice neighbor who baby-sits, but we all miss Mrs. Briley when it's time to go out."

A card from Charles and Helen Griffin and Debbie and Diana and Delain is, postmarked Blytheville, Ark. We're glad they didn't have to go back to far away Alaska.

A card from the Taylor Duncans tells of a two inch rain at home.

A card and letter from Mrs. Stanley Reeves tells of their golden wedding anniversary to be celebrated Dec. 30, very quietly at their home, with their daughter, Mrs. Mildred Crawford, of San Antonio bringing the dinner.

Well do I remember Christmas fifty years ago. Stanley and I met in Brownwood. I was on my way to attend the State Teachers' Association in Fort Worth and he to Aubrey in Denton County to claim Miss Willie Zumwalt for his bride. We agreed to take the early morning train and travel together to Fort Worth. But when I got to the depot the next morning, Stanley didn't show up. He had decided he couldn't wait till morning and had gone on on the night train.

In the same mail with Mrs. Stanley Reeves' letter came also a letter and an announcement from Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Reeves inviting us to the surprise celebration, Dec. 30 of the golden wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reeves.

The next day we received through the mail, an invitation to the celebration, Dec. 30, of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert White at their home, 2017 Fillmore Ave., in San Angelo. My heart is all aglow with memories of Auld Lang Syne.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gilliam and sons, John and James, spent the Christmas holidays in Ballinger with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laughlin and children of Dallas spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Worley Laughlin.

Scallorn News

Seemingly the greatest blessing through the Christmas season was the three inch rain which fell here recently and the warm sunshine which followed. Vegetation is popping up every where making it possible for grazing in the near future.

Applications Processed Under Emergency Feed And Grain Program

During the four months per-through December 3, 1956,
as, Burnet, and Mills
farmers and ranchers
under the emergency ain and roughage pro-received assistance in urchase of 59,662,096
of grain and 25,418 tons
age, Aston W. Cole,
s Home Administration
or for the three counnounced today. 4,022 aps for grain assistance applications under the e program were prouring this period.
emergency feed grain hage programs are ind to help established and ranchers, who are y engaged in farming ching, to maintain their erds of cattle, sheep and f their circumstances
n that this assistance is Cole advised. The local
s Home Administration
tees have the responsi-
to determine the eligibil-individual applicants and to approve the amount of feed each applicant may purchase under the program.

Eligible applicants are helped in buying corn, oats, barley and grain sorghums, or approved feed mixtures containing either 60 or 75 percent of these grains through a Government subsidy of $1.50 per hundred weight.
The Federal Government bears the full amount of this subsidy.
In addition to the emergency feed grain assistance, eligible applicants are helped to buy hay or other approved roughage to maintain their basic herds. Under this program applicants receive a Federal subsidy of $7.50 per ton on roughage actually bought. Fifty percent reduction in freight rates may also be secured by farmers and ranchers who have hay shipped into the drought counties by rail. The County Judges in the designated drought counties are now authorized to execute certificates for reduction in freight rates.

IMPROVED PLANTING PRACTICES — A NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION

A good New Year's resolution for Texas farmers would be, Resolved: To plant Texas registered or certified seed for the 1957 crop year.

There is no such thing as "bargain basement" seed. Cheap seed often results in inferior plants—you get about what you pay for, with few exceptions. Registered or certified seed isn't necessarily expensive but it is sensible—you know what you are paying for.

The farmer should look for the official tag on the bag of seed which indicates that the contents have been inspected by the Texas Department of Agriculture. It means the seed meets specifications of the Texas State Seed Law that demands certain regulations.

A seller of certified seed must plant his plots with the purest foundation or breeder's seed. The fields to be certified must be isolated from similar crops according to the standards and these fields are checked by impartial state inspectors for purity and freedom from disease and weeds. Warehouses where seed are stored must measure up to certain standards and seed are sealed in a bag with the red, white and blue state of Texas seal and the Texas certified, or registered tag securely attached.

Registered seed, strictly, is not guaranteed quality seed. The tag merely guarantees that the bag is properly labeled as to content; what percent is foreign matter, etc. This label is purple. Certified seed, on the other hand, must meet strict standards and this tag is pale blue.

These labels are the farmer's protection against inferior or misrepresented seed products. He knows exactly what he is buying and that his seed bags contain exactly what the tag says they contain.

In other words, the tag on the bag guarantees the breeding in the seed.

Further information about Texas registered and certified seed will be given on request. Address inquiries to John C. White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Capitol Station, Austin 14, Texas.

Olson, vice president and general manager, at Galveston. He succeeds Arthur B. Clements who has been on leave because of health.

A native of Kansas and one of the best known operating officials in the Southwest, Clements has been with the Santa Fe since 1908, and superintendent of the Southern Division since Sept. 1, 1938. In addition to Temple, he also served at Galveston on the old Galveston Division and was named chief dispatcher there Dec. 1, 1927; in Beaumont as trainmaster from January, 1937 through June, 1938; and as trainmaster at Brownwood from July 1, 1938 through Sept. 1, 1938 when he was named superintendent.

Baker has been trainmaster at Temple for the past three years. Born at Plantersville, Texas, he entered Santa Fe service there as an apprentice operator in May, 1919. He became operator-clerk on the Gulf Division in 1931, later serving as relief dispatcher and dispatcher. He was named trainmaster at Beaumont Nov. 17, 1941, and served in a similar capacity at Galveston and Brownwood prior to his appointment at Temple.

Additional changes in the Southern Division operating department include the appointment of Lawrence Cena as trainmaster at Brownwood and A. N. Wade as trainmaster at Temple.

Cena entered Santa Fe service Apr. 8, 1948 as a stenographer-clerk at Chicago and came to Texas as secretary to the superintendent at Fort Worth Mar. 2, 1951. He was named acting trainmaster June 11, 1956 at

Texas Farm Bureau To Push For Amendments To Soil Bank Program

WACO—(Spl.)—Texas Farm Bureau members will join with members from all over the nation during the next session of Congress in attempting to amend soil bank legislation to carry out Farm Bureau policies.

Many specific Farm Bureau recommendations are included in the Agricultural Act of 1956. However, at Miami Beach, Fla., Dec. 13, delegates to the American Farm Bureau convention approved the following recommendations "in order that the soil bank may make a maximum contribution to the solution of our surplus problem:"

(1) Maximum possible use should be made of Commodity Credit Corp. stocks for payments in kind under the acreage reserve program. Certificates entitling producers to payments in grains other than rice should be interchangeable.

(2) No acreage placed in the soil bank under either the acreage reserve or the conservation reserve should be harvested or grazed under any circumstances.

(3) Farmers placing land in either the acreage reserve or conservation reserve should be required to maintain the acreage of other land on the farm that normally is idle or devoted to uses that exclude it from the soil bank use.

(4) Producers desiring price supports should be required to place cropland in the soil bank in amounts determined by applying a percentage factor to their acreage of price supported crops. This recommendation is not intended to require a reduction of acreage devoted to alloted crops. Producers will be free to meet this requirement either by placing such amount of their alloted acreage as they desire, in the acreage reserve program, or by placing "conservation reserve" acreage in the conservation reserve program. In either case soil bank payments would be earned.
