Next Stop Is Regional Play-Off In Denton This Coming Saturday

Goldthwaite Meets Cooper At 8:45 A.M.

Goldthwaite High School Eaglettes took another step toward the State A Basketball Championship Tuesday night when they defeated Clyde 66-58. The game was played before a record crowd in Howard Payne Gym in Brownwood.

Their next step up the basketball ladder will take place in Denton this coming Saturday when they are scheduled to play Cooper at 8:45 a.m., according to announcement by Supt. J. T. Jones Wednesday noon. Regional play-off games will be played in North Texas State College gym.

Two games will be played Saturday morning with the two winning teams matching their wits Saturday night at 7:15 o'clock to determine the regional championship. Winning team from this match will then go to state.

The two losing teams from the Saturday morning games will in all probability play another game about 5 p.m. to determine the third place winner.

The Eaglettes took a commanding lead over the Clyde Sextette in the first quarter of the Tuesday night game scoring 25 points to 12 for their opponents.

Addie Jo Conradt turned in a stellar forward performance playing under the basket with 28 points to her credit. Shirley Rowlett and Esther Thorne helped to make her winning streak possible. Rowlett scored

During the second period the Eaglettes boosted their lead by four more points making the score 40 to 23 at the half.

This 17 point lead proved a life saver later in the game when Clyde outscored Goldthwaite during the second half. More than once during the third and last periods the lead held by the Eaglettes was cut to a mere five points. Score at the end of the third quarter was 55 to 43 and the game ended with Goldthwaite holding an eight point lead at 66 to 58.

GIRL SCOUTING - A FAMILY AFFAIR

Girl Scout organization, next week observing its 45th anniversary offers reassurance and tangible help to worried parents. In Scouting, more than two million girls from 7 to 17 are learning in their free time to take care of a home, to be healthy, to get along with people, to be good sports, and most important, to be good citizens.

Lumped together, Girl Scout activities add up to character building. It's character building in terms that Tom Sawyer would have understood and enjoyed—fun and adventure.

Girl Scouting exists here and in other communities because many parents are concerned about what their children do after school hours. Women volunteer to serve as troop leaders. Men give a few hours to committee meetings or act as consultants. These are the people who translate character building and citizenship into the excitement and adventure children love.

They are making good citizenship as well as Girl Scouting a family affair.

There is one very important reason why men join the Girl Scouts. Today—more than ever—men and women are aware that bringing up a daughter is the responsibility of both parents. And parental guidance doesn't stop at the front door. Dads and daughters who share the companionship of Girl Scouting have a chance to work and play together. It's good for the girls—it's equally good for their dads. Being a hero to daughter may seem a small return for all that men bring to Girl Scouting—but most Girl Scouts' fathers think they're getting the better half of the bargain.

ANNUAL BANQUET NEXT TUESDAY

Tuesday night of next week, the Girl Scouts will entertain their families and guests with a banquet at the new school lunchroom in observance of "Girl Scout Week". This is an annual affair for the Girl

DUVAL STORY AND BETTER GOVERNMENT

In this issue of the Eagle will be found the last of a series of eleven articles on the Duval County story. It summarizes the weaknesses in the Texas legal system that permitted the Duval County situation to come into being and to exist for a period of 40 years.

This concluding article also points out what the newspaper profession of Texas, as represented by the Texas Press Association, is trying to do to restore and preserve democracy with its "Better Government" legislative program.

The legislation proposed by this organization is designed to "make public business public." Texas newspapers believe that nothing is more conducive to honesty in government than the spotlight of publicity. Most of these proposed laws make it illegal for public officials to conceal their official actions.

There is not one thing in any of the fifteen proposed bills to which an honest official can object. They should be enacted by unanimous vote in both the House of Representatives and the Senate. A negative vote on such worthy measures cannot very well be explained and certainly will raise a question in the minds of the constituency of any legislator so voting.

If, after reading this concluding article, you think the people of Texas are entitled to the protection against corruption and oppression these proposals offer, then write your representative and senator and tell them you expect their support when the measure comes to a vote.

Now that we have completed publishing the series of articles we would like to hear from our readers about the stories and how our readers liked them.

If you have read all or even part of them we would like very much to have your comments. Just sit down and write a letter or postcard to Vics at the Eagle office and just let your hair down. Tell the Editor how you feel about the Duval Story. If you liked the articles, tell us so, and if you didn't like them tell us why you didn't.

Referring back to the request for readers to write their representative and senator urging support of the Better Government bills as they come up in the legislative session.

We will make it even easier for our readers to do that. If it is too much trouble to write your representative and senator you can write your comments to them and include it in your letter to the editor and mail or bring it to the Eagle office. We will see that your expressions are relayed to our state representative from this district, Ben B. Suddeth and to our Senator Carlos Ballier. Now, how's that for service.

This is one time you can let your wishes be known. We will be happy to hear from you and will be looking forward to your letters.

James "Jimmy" Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller of this city, who recently moved with his family to Corpus Christi had a brand new experience as he took over his new job as pharmacist with a large drug store.

He had been working only a short time for the firm. It was late in the evening and traffic was slow and only a limited number of employees left on duty when a lone customer walked into the store.

Jimmy approached the man to wait on him and about that time the fellow came up to the counter pointing a gun towards Miller and said: "This is a stick-up, hand me the money." Jimmy related that he looked at the stranger, thinking it was some local young business man, knowing he was fairly new there, trying to be friendly and get acquainted. He replied: "Man, you are joking."

Then the handit made it known that he meant business. In reporting the incident to his parents and friends here Jimmy commented: "Boy, it didn't take long for me to find out that, 'It was for real.' Nearly $4,000 was involved in the stick-up."

GARDEN CLUB AND PARK PROJECT

Two weeks ago announcement was made that members of the Garden Club had had a meeting with members of the Park Board and representatives of a nursery firm to discuss plans for landscaping municipal park.

The announcement stated that the Garden Club had decided to sponsor the landscaping program.

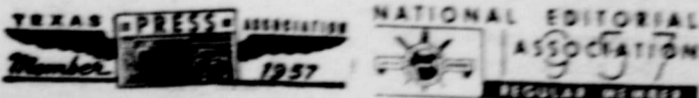

As we see it that was indeed a fine gesture and we were happy to get the report from Mrs. W. P. Duren, president of the organization. It is our belief that the project under the club's direction will be taken care of in good order.

It is also our belief that the ladies will need some help from everyone in the community to get the job done and get it done in less time. We are all interested in seeing the park landscaped and improved as a Mills county recreational spot. We can see that come to pass if we will plan now to do our part when the call for help comes from Garden Club members as their newest civic project gets underway.

Knowland-Knight Alliance Aimed to Block Nixon?

Special to Central Press Association
WASHINGTON—Well-informed Californians say that William F. Knowland and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight have entered into a pact which could be the chief matchstick in Vice President Richard M. Nixon's path to the 1950 Republican nomination.
Knowland's announcement that he will not seek re-election to the Senate in 1954 stirred immediate speculation that he would challenge Knight for the California governorship next year.
Insiders say no "challenge" is involved, they maintain, in that Knight will not run for the Senate. As they are successful, the "K and N" pact will have firm control of the California delegation to the 1950 Republican convention.
Thus, they will be in a position to block Nixon, with whom they frequently have been at odds in the rough, no-holds-barred fare of intra-party politics in the Golden State.
Though Nixon may have President Truman's tacit endorsement, politicians say it is unlikely that he could win the nomination if a delegation from his own state opposed him.

Senator Knowland

● CAPITOL HILL STRATEGY—Democratic leaders plan the biggest emotion-packed session through the House this year in hopes of standing a better chance of Senate approval.
The two issues are civil rights and federal aid to education. The latter falls into the emotion category because Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Negro Democrat from New York's Harlem, has pushed to force action on his amendment to deny aid to any area that doesn't integrate the races in their schools.
The House defeated the school bill last year after taking Powell's amendment. However, a larger number of Republicans are expected to vote for it this year than last, and sponsors believe the bill can get through.
Tentative plans call for the school bill to be first and civil rights second in the House, but the two may be turned around.
If they can be sent to the Senate soon enough this year, the reason, they stand a better chance of withstanding a veto filibuster. If they get there late, there will be more pressure to get up on them rather than to hold up other important legislation a time-consuming southern talk-fest.

● HAMILTON HOOPLA—Alexander Hamilton, who had more than his share of troubles when he was alive, is getting belated posthumous honor from the federal department he more or less founded.
The Treasury department has brought out a display of historical material observing the bicentennial of the birth of Hamilton, its first secretary.
The exhibits range from a letter The Federalist author is reported to have written at the age of 12 to the pistols he used in the duel with Aaron Burr, which resulted in Hamilton's death.
Included is the last of Hamilton's letters, one he wrote to his wife on the eve of the duel, declaring that he must "expose my life to any extent rather than take another."
The material was gathered from the Library of Congress, Treasury, National Archives and private collections. It will be on display until after Labor Day.
Through a series of pictures, including a huge original portrait by John Trumbull, the story of the soldier-statesman's life is told in letters and neatly-penned notes of official correspondence over the tale.

TODAY'S Menu
For Your Meat File

By ALICE DENHOFF
GOOD meat dishes are always welcome news.
One such is a top-of-the-stove ham casserole.
Buy 2 ham slices each 1-in. thick. Wipe with cloth. Place in a heavy skillet and brown on both sides.
Combine 2/3 c. light corn syrup and 1/2 c. fresh orange juice and pour over ham in skillet. Cover tightly and cook slowly for 20 min.
Cut in Strips
Cut 8 medium carrots in strips and slice 2 unpeeled oranges. Arrange strips and slices around ham in skillet. Cover again and continue cooking for an additional 20 min.
To serve, arrange strips and slices around ham on large heated platter. Four liquid from skillet over ham before serving.
Beef à la Russe with Potatoes
Pancakes is another good, hearty main dish.
Have 2 lbs. lean beef cut 1-in. thick. Cut the meat in 1/2-in. strips.
Heat 2 tbsp. lard in skillet, add meat and cook slowly for about 30 min. If necessary, add another tbsp. lard to prevent meat from drying out.
Onions and Mushrooms
Add 2 tbsp. finely chopped onion, 1/2 lb. chopped mushrooms (a 4-oz. can of mushrooms may be used if desired) cover and cook 10 min. more.
Blend 1 tbsp. flour with fat in pan. Add tsp. each salt and paprika, 1/2 tsp. pepper and 1 c. sour cream.
Cook slowly about 5 min., stirring to blend mixture. Cover and cook another 5 min. Serve hot with potato pancakes.
To prepare pancakes, add 2 well-beaten eggs, 1/4 tsp. baking powder, 1 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/2 cup flour to 2 c. grated raw potato, mixing thoroughly.
Drop mixture by spoonfuls on hot greased griddle and brown slowly. Turn, brown other side.
Thrifty Dish
Stuffed Flank Steak is a tasty dish and it's thrifty, too.
To serve 6-8, have 1 flank steak (about 1 1/2 to 2 lbs.). Ask butcher to score steak and cut a pocket.
Break 4 c. dry bread into small pieces. Mix 1/2 c. evaporated milk and 1/2 c. boiling water. Pour over bread and let soak until soft.
Melt 1/4 c. butter or margarine. Add 1/2 c. finely chopped onion and cook without browning, about 5 min. Add to bread-milk mixture with 1/4 c. finely chopped parsley, 1 beaten egg, 1/2 tsp. salt and pepper to suit.
Press stuffing into pocket of steak. Place in shallow pan, uncovered, and cook in 350° F. oven until tender, about 1 hr.

Within the past four years the railroads have contributed to the farmers, ranchers and dairymen, through a 50% reduction in rates on hay and other feedstuffs, 25 million dollars.

Both the Congress of the United States and the Legislature of Texas, by resolution, have expressed their thanks to the railroads for this substantial contribution.

Through the years the railroads have always extended a helping hand to their neighbors in times of disaster. To us this is a basic responsibility of good Americans.

SELECTING OUR PARITY FORMULA

Parity formula may be in...
by Secretary of Agriculture Benson to "improve the present means of setting fair prices for farm products is expected to meet with heated debate in Congress. The present plan establishes the same purchasing power for farm commodities which they had in the years 1910-1914 when prices paid and received by farmers were considered in good balance. This base period ratio is adjusted to reflect average price relationships over the most recent 10-year period. Benson's recommendation, submitted in a report to Congress, would change the selected base period to the years 1947-56 in figuring the ratio. This would enable Benson to lower price supports without actually lowering percentages of parity rates.

The wider, more recent base period would involve a complex change which finally would boil down to this: an over-all two percent reduction in price supports.

The 1947-56 period is one in which agricultural prices fluctuated widely. It reflects changes in administrations and in farm programs.

If Congress keeps this in mind, which it undoubtedly will, this plan is very unlikely for the law books.

Leslie H. Utzman Visits In Germany

AUGSBURG, GERMANY (AH-TNC)—Army Specialist Third Class Leslie H. Utzman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Utzman, Route 1, Goldthwaite, Tex., recently spent a three-day pass in Germany.

Specialist Utzman is regularly assigned as an assistant machine gunner in Company E of the 11th Airborne Division's 188th Infantry Regiment in Augsburg. He entered the Army in February 1955 and received basic combat training at Fort Bragg, N. C. Utzman arrived overseas in March 1956 from an assignment at Fort Campbell, Ky.

He attended Mullin High School and was a farmer in civilian life.

Not until the Fifteenth Century did Europeans put much stock in last names. Most had none. If need be, they used their given names, and now and then their fathers' given names (like John John's son) or their home towns' or neighborhoods' (like Thomas of Aquinas).

But mostly they went by their given or baptismal names. Some churches today still call their members by their first names (Sister Joan and Brother Albert) like royalty (e.g. Queen Elizabeth). In certain European countries you can register a child's name if it is one of an approved list. High nobility goes by its last name (de Medicis, Marlborough), but knights take their given names (Sir Winston).

Since people had little property interests in their last names, English and American law gave them little or no protection. Trade names of course, are another matter.

But in France and Germany the law gives one a property interest in his name; you may get a court to keep somebody from adopting your name by showing it would harm you. But not as a rule in America or England.

For instance, on the ground that by his writing he had earned a property right in his name, Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) once sued a man for printing a work called "Sketches by Mark Twain." But the court ruled that Mark Twain had no sole right to use either his own or his pen name, except on his own books.

As a rule you can change your name at will even without going to court.

But a court action to change your name puts the public officially on notice that you have a new one, and it saves you endless trouble in collecting debts, identifying yourself, getting credit, inheriting property, selling your home, getting insurance, Social Security Benefits, etc.

Some people change their names too much for their own good by using nicknames, middle names, and various ways of spelling the same name. It may cost real money to prove that John Jacob Smith is the same as Jack Smith, Jake Smith, J. J. Smith, or J. Jake Smythe.

Decide on a good name to put on legal papers, checks, contracts, auto licenses. Stick with it unless you have good reason to change it.

Texas Rich Can Buy Stock In Legislature, Says Observer Editor

How the Texas state government has been corrupted by a decline in the moral standards of the people is described in the March issue of Harper's Magazine.

"The rich think they can buy stock in the Legislature or an executive agency as they can in a corporation; and they can," writes Ronald Dugger, editor of the Texas Observer, an Austin weekly newspaper. His article, titled "What Corrupted Texas?" says the press and pulpit largely ignore the situation.

Dugger writes: "The very forms of government have been corrupted. Instead of the 'conflict of interest' of an occasional adviser in Washington, the government in Austin harbors entire agencies which act from an identity of interest with the industries they are charged to regulate. In certain crucial respects, government has become corporate: or, it is at one with the private controls."

Dugger says William Murray, chairman of the Railroad Commission, which regulates the oil industry, "has divested himself of some oil interests, but he is still in the oil-drilling business."

Dugger continues: "His company actively solicits drilling contracts from the oil companies. He appears to see no conflict of interest in this situation, although he is a member of a commission which has enough control over industry practices to make differences of millions of dollars in a company's annual income.

"The oil industry has an awesome power over the candidacies of the men who seek high office in Texas. The new Governor, Price Daniel, whose present policy views parallel those of the industry, recently not only denied saying he didn't want oil money in his political campaigns, he added he didn't see how anyone could get elected in Texas without it."

Dugger writes: "The chairman of the State Board of Parks, Andrew Howsley, is also the principal oil lobbyist in Austin and executive vice president of the Midcontinent Oil and Gas Association. Until late last year, Sam Neathery, Gulf Oil's lobbyist in Austin, was also a member of the State Board of Local Examiners."

Former Governor Allan Shivers "admitted his frequent use of industry planes, especially a Tennessee Gas Company DC-8, although he rode a lot of them," Dugger says, adding:

"Railroad Commissioner Murray recalls a recent flight by all the commissioners aboard a Phillips plane and other flights for commission personnel in planes owned by Magnolia and the Rocky Mountain Oil and Gas Association."

Dugger asks "why have we not heard the voices of the preachers, the priests, and the rabbis raised to stay the deterioration of their society's government?"

He writes: "Politics quite aside, have they no responsibility? Have they no duty to speak of the ethics of the leaders of the state, to question specifically the ways money is made and spent, and if not to expel the money-changers from the temple, at least to reject their virtues? Imperceptibly money has ascended into the pulpit here as elsewhere in the land."

"The Press has a greater immediate responsibility to a commonwealth than either the schools or the churches. The sensational aspects of the Legislature's corruption have been news for many years, yet the editors to the capital press have been: 'Cover the committee hearing,' 'Report the debate,' 'Newspaper publishers have long imposed, and reporters have long accepted, a condition of willful inactivity. Corruption is reported only when it is forced on the reporters (except for a few men on the Houston Post). The dailies simply do not comment on the identity of interest between state agencies and the industries they regulate, and their positions on issues and elections affecting their principal advertisers have been predictable and uniform."

Proposed Legislation Would Increase Truck Weight To 72,000 Pounds

AUSTIN, Texas, (Special)—Trucks will weigh nearly twice as much as was permitted twelve years ago if a bill before the legislature legalizing a 72,000-pound gross weight limit is enacted into law, it was pointed out here today.

In the same twelve years the trucking industry has managed to lengthen vehicles from 45 to 50 feet and to increase their height from 12½ to 13½ feet as a result of five separate laws shoved through the legislature.

"The legal gross weight in 1945 was 33,000 pounds," said Quin Baker, of Quanah, chairman of the executive committee of the Texas Railroad Association, which represents all the railroads in Texas.

"The truckers have, in the last 12 years, come before the legislature five times to gain weight, length or height increases, but they have consistently opposed any increase in taxes.

"Should they attain their latest objective, they will increase the gross weight limit from 33,000 to 72,000 pounds, a gain of 39,000 pounds in a dozen years."

Baker explained that the railroads are opposed to bigger and heavier trucks despite the fact they, themselves, operate extensive fleets of vehicles and are a substantial and important segment of the trucking industry.

"We are not willing to see willful destruction of the highways such as will be done to a greater extent than now if the 72,000-pound limit becomes the law," Baker said, "but the trucking industry has conscientiously sought and obtained bigger truck and weight allowances while fighting just and equitable taxes needed to produce funds for road construction and maintenance."

"In fact, two years ago, the trucking industry was able to obtain legislation which lengthened their vehicles from 45 to 50 feet, but bitterly opposed all attempts to provide the state with more revenue through a tax on distance traveled plus the weight of freight moved on the highways.

"In that session the gasoline tax was increased one cent per gallon, but diesel fuel, which no passenger car uses, was taxed only an additional one-half cent.

"Neither are truck operators satisfied no matter how much weight they are legally allowed to carry," Baker declared. "The Department of Public Safety's license and weight division even now has only 63 officers to patrol the several thousands of miles of Texas' highways. Yet they made 5,967 arrests last year of drivers of trucks exceeding the gross weight and axle load limits. An additional 3,396 truckers were fined for carrying more than their registered weight.

"It is estimated that 100 overweight vehicles escape detection for each one apprehended. Many do this by traversing the lightly surfaced farm-to-market roads and secondary highways, which were certainly not intended to carry the behemoths now on our highways. If only one out of every 100 were caught, that means truckers exceeded the gross weight and axle load limits 596,700 times last year.

"It is appalling to know that even as recent as last year truckers were fined for carrying loads as large as 190,000 pounds, or 80 tons. The legal limit is 29 tons."

SAVINGS ON HOME SEWING VARY ON DIFFERENT ITEMS

Which items of clothing, if made at home, help the family budget most? This is a question for many homemakers who want to use their time and sewing skill to best advantage.

Experiments with three types of cotton dresses, commonly made at home, indicate that making women's daytime or street dresses is most worthwhile when both money savings and time spent are considered. Children's dresses rate second place and women's house dresses last, according to research household economists and clothing specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Although savings on children's dresses were less than for women's daytime dresses, they were still appreciable. Total cost of five ready-to-wear children's dresses, in a recent study, was $21.94. In contrast, the total direct cost of the five "homemade" dresses was $11.15. Thus, total money saved by making, amounted to $10.79, or an average of $2.16 per dress. Time spent in making averaged a little less than 2 hours a dress.

A comparison of figures for the three types of dresses shows that making children's dresses saves less than making women's street dresses but more than making women's house dresses. Ready-to-wear women's street dresses purchased at about $10 could be made for about $5, but housedresses purchased at about $3.50 cost about $2.25 to make at home.

More children under 14 are killed by home accidents than by any single disease. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council warns that all medicines should be labeled and placed out of reach of children; firearms kept unloaded and stored in a safe place; matches and knives should be out of reach of youngsters; and scissors, pins and sharp tools are no good as playthings for children.

Better keep the danger around the house and accident hazards and warns the Council.

Falls are the home's greatest hazard, claiming a total of 14,000 lives annually in the nation, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. Burns are second, causing about 5,400 deaths annually while poison and carelessness with firearms each take about 1,000 lives yearly.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

I heard over the radio several times today (Friday) that March came in like a lion. Not so in El Paso. The day was mild and the temperature up to about 70. Most all of February was made up of mild warm days. Snapdragons on the south side of our north rock fence have lived all winter and now have strong stalks of buds which are opening into beautiful pink bloom. The pansies on the south side of the house are a joy, surprising us daily with exquisite blooms.

A letter from Mrs. Ralph Wilmeth of Fort Stockton last week said Ralph had just returned from a visit to his Dad (Jim Wilmeth of Brownwood). He found him out at his ranch at Ebony in the midst of a repair job on his house there which had narrowly escaped being burned to the ground. The house, which is occupied by the Taylor Duncans, is reported to have caught on fire from frozen butane. Taylor was gone from home, and only Mrs. Duane and Annette were there, and all the water was frozen. They hardly know how they got it put out. At no time this winter in El Paso have we had cold that would compare with that.

We've been losing our neighbors again this week, and Billy and Johnny again find themselves without playmates. The Daigles (second door), who just returned to their home here last fall after a two years stay in Germany, have sold their home and left today for Albuquerque, N. M.

The Watsons just across the street who rented from our friends, the Cohns, whom the Military Service sent to New York just before Christmas, moved last night away across town to be nearer his work.

Tonight we got out of cooking supper and washing dishes. We went with Billy to the Fun Fair at Clardy School. Clardy has more than one thousand pupils enrolled. So you can imagine the crowd. They had all sorts of things for making money. In the cafeteria you could get enchiladas, hot tamales, mashed beans, cabbage slaw, and hot dogs, with coffee or milk to drink. Billy's room had a talent show. Billy sang a solo. His mother accompanied him. He did it well with a poise that was admirable.

Over the radio we continue to hear of rain in Texas. Once we saw in the paper there had been an inch to three inches over Central Texas, and Brownwood was among the towns mentioned. A letter from the Burt Brileys of Brownwood, dated February 20, said it had been cloudy so long they would be glad to see the sun again. They spoke of drizzling rain that amounted to 1 1/2 inch. Someone had been up the road from Brownwood to Star and said things surely looked good.

But today (Saturday) comes a letter from Mrs. Edna Dwyer. She has had a letter from Mrs. Effie Egger of Ebony and it says they have had wonderful rains and everything is beautiful. The wild plums and agartas are in full bloom, and the peach trees just ready to bloom. The grain is fine and the cattle are grazing their fill.

Mrs. Dwyer says her granddaughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Everett, came from Abilene February 23, bringing with her the precious little great-granddaughter, Shelley. They will be with them (Mrs. Dwyer and the Crawfords) till March 9. Mrs. Dwyer will accompany them to Abilene and will spend a week there. Then Elizabeth will bring her to her home at Ebony. Mrs. Dwyer says she is very anxious to get home and get to work on her flowers and garden.

evening. While in Houston they visited Mr. and Mrs. Jess Ball and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Burk and three children of San Angelo were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Burk.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Langford from the Methodist Orphanage of Waco visited here recently with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cox.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

By CHARLES HAENTSCHE

Many farmers throughout the district are making preparations for seeding grass this spring. P. O. Harper of Star, like many others, has already secured his seed and prepared his land. He plans to plant about 100 acres of Blue Panic grass. In addition he is adjusting his row equipment on his tractor to seed the Blue Panic grass. Soil Conservation Service technicians are assisting him with the change.

With the heavy response there has been to the Soil Bank Program and the many farmers who are planning to plant grass, there is going to be a shortage of planters. Anyone who would like assistance in converting their row equipment into a grass seed planter should contact his Soil Conservation District Supervisor or the technicians of the Soil Conservation Service located on the second floor of the Court House.

Do you need to know what kind of grass would do best on your soil? Do you need to know if you should grow a soil conditioning crop before you try to plant grass? Does the grass that you plan to plant need to be planted in a dead cover? If these questions are troubling you, see your District Supervisor or Soil Conservation Service technician.

All of the grass seeding equipment owned by the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District is being reconditioned now so it will be ready for use this spring. If you need one of these pieces of equipment, see your local soil conservation district supervisor soon.

They don't, there is generally and there is no responsibility for removing public post an official to comply. He came ed that the best pro- alert newspaper backed laws. Auditing laws, is laws, and laws for public officials who do faith with the people, ll, laws to indict and prosecute malefactors outside their own sewed-up counties.

It happened that the conclusions tallied with those of the Texas Press Association, which for several legislative sessions has asked for laws to strengthen the people's right to know what is going on in government. President of that group is David C. Leavell, publisher of the Galveston News-Tribune. Under his guidance the TPA is pushing 15 bills "for better government" at this legislative sessions, most of which are aimed at plugging the loopholes that made Duval County possible.

TPA members, by and large, believe Duval County is a warning of worse things that can happen unless the people of Texas act. Chief among these are probably Russell W. Bryant, publisher of the Italy News Herald, who is TPA's Legislative Committee chairman, and W. R. Beaumier who publishes the Lufkin Daily News, and its vice chairman.

Shepperd is quick to deny that the TPA's bills are proposed just because of Duval County, which he says would be a case of the tail wagging the dog.

"The defects in the law that we found in Duval County were not new discoveries," he says. "They have been there for decades and longer. The Duval County business simply shows what can happen in any of the 254 counties of Texas if something isn't done about the loopholes."

The bills which Shepperd and TPA think would improve and safeguard the quality of government in Texas are simple.

One of them would make it possible for persons charged with embezzling or misusing public funds to be indicted in any county adjoining the county where the offense occurs, or in Travis County.

Such a law would keep crime and punishment apart from local politics. This "outside indictment" is already provided by law in rape cases, so it isn't new.

Another proposed law would require District or County Attorneys to file suit for recovery of misapplied funds in any political subdivision of the state within their jurisdiction, with or without the permission of the governing body. Another would make an audit of the records mandatory when 30 percent of the qualified voters petition the District Judge.

An anti-secrecy bill is included in the bunch, requiring that all meetings of official bodies be open to the press and public except as now otherwise provided by law. There are a few cases in which closed meetings are necessary—such as when job applicants are being considered. In all other cases, as Shepperd puts it, there is no business in public office that is not the public's business.

If one of the TPA bills goes into effect as law, public officials who stand on the Fifth Amendment and refuse to answer questions about their official conduct would be removed from office. Shepperd maintains that this is not inconsistent with the Constitution.

"The Fifth Amendment is a guarantee that a person does not have to incriminate himself in a criminal proceeding. It was never intended to shield bad office-holders from just criticism or to keep unworthy men in office. Such a distortion of its use is not consistent with the honor of public service."

Green and Lock Sponsor News-Reporting Bill

A bill to assure the right of press, TV and radio representatives to attend and report county, precinct and state political conventions is before the Texas Legislature. Introducing the bill in the House is Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth (left). Sponsoring the legislation in the Senate is Sen. Ottis Lock of Lufkin (right). Green's bill is HB 108. Lock's is SB 94. This legislation is one of the 15 "Better Government" bills advocated by the Texas Press Association in a campaign for open meetings and full accounting of public funds.

Chevy is America's "hot" car —officially!

Chevrolet Wins Coveted Manufacturers' Trophy at Daytona Beach as "best performing U. S. automobile"!

Want facts about performance? Then look at the official figures from NASCAR's* internationally famous Daytona Beach competition for stock cars. Here's what you'll find: Chevrolet, in two weeks of blistering competition, proved itself as America's Number One performance car. Nothing in the low-price field could touch it.

No other car, regardless of price, scored such a sweep. And Chevy walked away with the famous Manufacturers' Trophy, hands down!

The 1957 Chevrolet is, by all odds, the most astonishing performer ever produced in the low-price field. Best of all, this superiority isn't limited to just a few extra-cost high-performance models. Every type of Chevy—from the six-cylinder models right up to the 283-horsepower "Super Turbo-Fire" V8's, from the single-carburetor V8's with Powerglide to the stick-shift "270's"—is a championship car.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Bribery charges and counter-charges have driven the insurance investigations out of Austin headlines.

It's at least temporary relief for the insurance companies... who have been hurt by loose accounting methods within their industry.

Grabbing the spotlight from the insurance firms was a naturopathic doctor and a lone member of the Texas House of Representatives.

Dr. Howard Harmon of San Antonio hurled charges of "offering to accept a bribe" against Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe.

Cox countered with a "offer-to-bribe" charge against Harmon.

Dr. Harmon produced a tape recording of an alleged conversation he had had with Cox.

A Travis County grand jury investigation resulted in indictments against Cox charging him with "consenting to accept a bribe."

Cox's attorney announced a slander suit would be filed against Dr. Harmon.

Meanwhile, a House investigating committee checked into all phases of the matter.

All in all, it was the fastest action seen around the Capitol in many years.

REORGANIZATION BILLS—Two bills to reorganize the Insurance Commission have been introduced in the Legislature.

One, by Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria, proposes a part-time policy-making board. Members would meet 24 days a year. Executive director would run the department.

A second, prepared at Gov. Price Daniel's behest, was introduced by Rep. Marshall Q. Bell of San Antonio. It would provide a full-time board limited to quasi-judicial functions and, like the Fly bill, a department director.

SENATE RACE—With filing deadline passed for the special U. S. Senate race, little has changed since the last such election in 1941.

Field is overflowing, rules intact.

Pool bill, which would require a run-off if the top man lacked a majority, was lying in state in the Senate. Even supporters said it looked dead.

In 1941, W. Lee O'Daniel was top man in a field of 21. This year the field is laden with almost the same number of contenders. Two Republicans and almost every conceivable type of Democrat are included.

WATER BILL PASSED—First water conservation bill to gain final passage would allow the Water Board to cancel unused water permits to cities.

Sen. Charles Herring of Austin protested the plan could take away water supplies cities need for growth. He attempted to amend the bill to limit cancellation to permits for which cities could not show prospective need.

MCLARTY CONVICTION UPHOLD—Brady Land Dealer T. J. McLarty apparently is to be the second man to go to the penitentiary for fraud in connection with the veteran land program.

McLarty's conviction was upheld in Court of Criminal Appeals. He was sentenced to four years for "falsely interpreting a written instrument" in selling a tract in a Zavala County block deal.

MORE REVENUE SEEN—Possibility of new taxes this session faded with advance reports of the comptroller's report of expected income.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's estimate of revenue for the next two years is expected

Here's Summary Of High Points In The Story Of Mills County

The History of Mills County will be ready to go to the printers June 1, according to an announcement by Mrs. Flora G. Bowles. The book will be of enduring value to the citizens of Mills County. The story is unique in substance as for over 60 years the area was a "no man's land" made up of the fringes of four bordering counties which extended no aid in government by peace officers.

Stories as told by pioneers and their children are true of Indian raids and clashes between mobs and outlaws which continued until 1887. These true stories will make up a legendary tradition in days to come in the county and will pass down through generations of young people after the county records have turned to dust.

Chapter I, contains topography and geography, consists of stories of animal life, vegetation, resources and climate.

Chapter II—Pre-organization Period 1828-1887, early settlements, Indians, mobs, outlaws, social and economic phases.

Chapter III—Organization Period—Development and Important events.

The first "Big Top" came to town with clowns, steam calliope, brass band and elephants. The great recreation of the period was the Annual Confederate Reunion, every 4th of July for three days packed with fun; held by the Jeff Davis Camp 117 of Goldthwaite, camps and camp fires, merry go round; white and pink lemonade in barrels and tubs. The parade of Confederate soldiers, brass bands playing Dixie which was answered by rebel yells; were all exhilarating. Then came the speaking, programs of recitations, pantomimes, songs (cake walks, negro minstrels, etc. were enrapturing to the crowds. These programs were directed for twenty-five years by a young music teacher of Goldthwaite, Miss Nora Hooks (Mrs. J. O. Berry) she was named the sweetheart of the old Confederate soldiers, both her grandfathers were Confederate soldiers.

Chapter IV—Growth of churches.

Chapter V—The Woman's Movement.

Chapter VI—True stories of law enforcement by the ex-sheriffs.

Chapter VII—The history of the important communities with true stories told by the Pioneers. The mystery of the "Little Log School House in the Woods" as told by the old Indian Scout and tracker of outlaws, Robert Miller and passed to the writer by Mrs. Luffa Owens' Head. "The Great Blizzard of 1896" and the narrow escape from death of the late J. T. Owens from Pig Foot Ranch. These and other true stories are told.

Chapter VIII—Biographies of the builders of the county—the greatest chapter in the book.

to show $99,000,000 more than was available this biennium.

This is $49,000,000 more than the last official estimate in December. It is also well above the figure Governor Daniel set as necessary for present spending requirements.

CONGRESSIONAL REDISTRICTING—A constitutional amendment to reapportion Texas congressional districts after the 1960 census has been approved by the House.

Present districts are based on the 1930 census. Urban areas, like Houston and Dallas, have multiplied several-fold since.

New plan would turn the job over to a five-member board of state officials if the Legislature failed to act in 1961.

PRECINCT CHANGES—Re-alignment of precincts within counties due to population changes also is a warm issue.

House constitutional amendments committee sent such a measure to subcommittee for more study.

Proponents contend that growth of cities has given Texas as 81 counties with 50 per cent or more of their population in one precinct. According to majority rule principal, cities should get more precincts, they argue.

Opponents, including the Farm Bureau, say it would turn county government over to the cities. Rural evaluations would be raised and the money spent in the cities, they claim.

NEW ROAD FINANCING—Cities and counties having difficulty paying for right-of-way for state highways may get help through a 50-50 plan.

Governor Daniel said he has asked Atty. Gen. Will Wilson to draw up a bill to let the state pay half the cost of land for intermediate roads. Highway Commission also has recommended the plan.

At present cities and counties pay full cost of land for state highways; state pays construction costs.

State now buys all the land for federal interstate road system. Federal funds underwrite 90 per cent of this.

SHORT SHORTS—Sale of 52 tracts forfeited by veterans land purchasers is set for April 3. Land totals 3,932 acres, is located in 23 counties. Ten thousand veterans have made inquiries, said the Land Office.

Value of livestock in Texas dropped $100,000,000 last year from 1955, reports the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Drought forced decreases in herds brought estimated value to $622,000,000.
