Laymen-Led Revival Meeting Starts Sunday At First Baptist Church

Christianity will be seen in action in the laymen-led revival which will begin Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church here in Goldthwaite. This revival will continue through April 14.

Ten men will preach and over twenty will give their personal testimony for Jesus Christ. All of the music will be in charge of the men. Services will begin at 8 p.m. each evening and 11 a.m. Sunday.

In seeking to utilize this New Testament method of witnessing much preparation has been made for this revival, it was announced this week by Rev. Presnall H. Wood, pastor. Cottage prayer meetings and visitation have received much emphasis. A continuous 12 hour prayer effort will be held at the church next Saturday beginning at 12 o'clock noon and continuing until 12 o'clock midnight.

This revival will prove to have a twofold blessing. It will bless the men of the church by having this leadership of the revival. It will also bless the friends and neighbors of these men because they will know that these men are not ordained preachers, but only men who are striving to serve Jesus Christ.

Firemen Answer 2 Calls Tuesday Night

Goldthwaite had two fire alarms Tuesday night. The first was sounded about 10 p.m. when a truck caught fire on the San Saba highway near The Hanger and second was at 3 a.m. Wednesday morning when firemen answered a call to the back of Barnes & McCullough for a trash fire.

Fire Chief Jack Reid said that the alarm was turned in right after the strong wind came up and apparently caused sparks to fly from a trash burner. It was raining at the time and when firemen arrived they found no fire. They assumed either the rain had put out the fire or it could have been a false alarm.

SOME THOUGHT IT STORM WARNING

A number of local residents thought it was a storm warning when they heard the fire siren sounding at 3 a.m.

According to the fire chief and city officials this was not the case. The city has no official signal or warning system on storms through the fire siren.

"Hi, Neighbor" John L. Gwin sends greetings from Jackson, Alabama, to their friends and former associates here. Says He: "We really enjoy the Eagle. It means so much just to read about our friends and neighbors in Goldthwaite."

NATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL WEEK
The week of April 8th through the 14th has been set aside as National Sunday School Week, dedicated to America's Youth in Religion. The sponsor of the week, the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., has chosen this guiding theme for the occasion: "Sunday School—Source of Spiritual Strength."

More than ever before our young people need the guidance of religious training and education. It is through our Sunday Schools that tomorrow's leaders are introduced to fundamental principles that lay the groundwork for fuller, happier and more useful later life. It is through the Sunday School that religious appreciation and understanding can be applied in terms of everyday living, and help our young people to become better citizens. This is the significance of Sunday School Week.

Don't ever sell the youngsters short. They will usually come up with an answer, and to our surprise, many times with a good one to heed, even though they may get it sorta mixed up in their presentation.

For example:
A few days ago LeRoy Stacy and his little son 'Ricky' were having themselves a good time just romping with the mother and wife, Mrs. Stacy, thought they were going a bit too far with their play started to call them down.

Rickey stopped for a moment and looked at his mom and said: "Now mother, remember, don't get your TEMPERATURE up."

LONG SHADOW
There is one phase of the tax problem which deserves more attention than it has been getting. That is what excessive taxation will do to future employment and opportunity in this country.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has pointed out that our labor force is growing by almost 1.5 million people a year. But, he says, if the government keeps on taking as much money out of the economy as it does now, there won't be sufficient capital available to pay for the industrial expansion needed to create jobs for all these workers.

The tax problem isn't just limited to how much we must pay this year or next. It is casting a long shadow on our children's future.

Is my name, Vic E. Koleber such a hard name to get used to or to remember? That question often comes to my mind as I go along with my job in this work called 'newspaper business'.

It is interesting and sometimes a bit amusing to note the different ways folks spell the name or pronounce it for that matter. If I were to try to tell you how to pronounce it here I guess I would say that Koleber is pronounced with about the same accent on the first syllable as on the last—sorta like Kol-ah-ber, and you don't pause too long on the "ah." That's not so tough, is it?

Well at any rate, here are a few ways people have spelled my name, or ways in which I have been addressed: "Kolebar," "Kokebar," "Cobbler," "Kobber," "Koleber," "Clabber," "Calebar." Not to mention the few things I have been called that wouldn't do to print here.

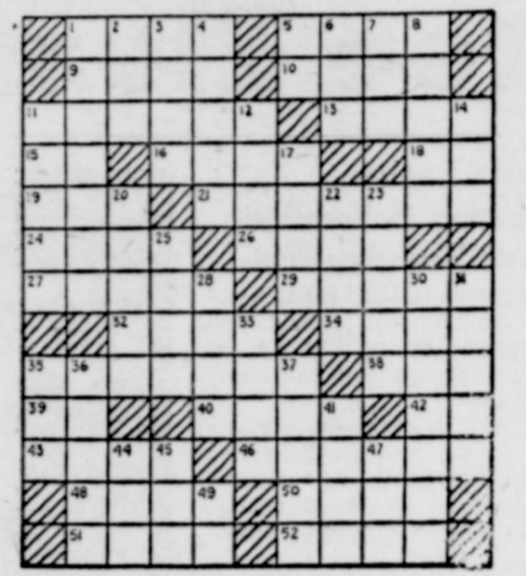

But, to add to all these and many others in the crowning climax—or last straw. Now comes the one who didn't have trouble with my last name. The other day I received a piece of mail which was addressed "CIXROE W. Koleber. And a letter from Washington addressed: Mr. and Mrs. Ethel E. Koleber—guess that shows you who has the influence around our house."

DON'T IMITATE FAILURE!
Writing from London, labor columnist Victor Riesel says: "Socialism has failed here. They nationalized the steel industry, coal mines, railroads and the health service. All these lost money. Wages didn't go up. Profits went down. There were strikes. And the Socialist managers were as tough as any old-fashioned capitalist manufacturers' group—more so, believe me."
There is a moral in this for all Americans—and especially for American labor, unionized or non-unionized. Everyone gets hurt by socialism—and the masses of working people get hurt most of all. We should have the intelligence not to imitate failure!

He has secured the right to pump water from the old well known as the artesian well on the brow of the hill east of town. This well was abandoned a few years ago after having been sunk to the depth of 800 feet.

Atomic Energy Commission Squabbles Still Going On Dissension Between Strauss And Murray Seems Unsettled

Special to Central Press Association

WASHINGTON—There is still squabbling among members of the vitally important Atomic Energy commission although it has been kept under wraps for some months.

The first public hint that dissension continues among AEC members was dropped at a hearing held recently by the joint congressional atomic energy committee.

The hearing brought out that AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss and Commissioner Thomas E. Murray are still at odds, particularly over peacetime development of atomic power.

These two authorities have fought openly on a number of occasions on both the power policy issue and also on the question of halting hydrogen bomb tests.

Strauss told the congressional committee there has been "encouraging progress" in nuclear power development. Murray, however, was quick to maintain that present policies of industrial atomic power "are not adequate."

Those who sponsored a drive last year to lower the benefit age for women to 62 and for disabled workers to 50 are ready with new proposals. They haven't been outlined in detail but are sure to involve more liberal benefits.

The drive would get under way this year with expectations that it would be completed next year in plenty of time for the changes to take effect before the 1958 congressional elections.

However, one factor causing the Democrats to hesitate slightly is the fact that many believe that the Republicans might get credit for the changes because they were made in a GOP administration.

LIMELIGHT FOR KENNEDY—Senator John F. Kennedy (D), Massachusetts, will step into the limelight again during the special Senate labor racketeering inquiry headed by Senator John McClellan (D), Arkansas.

Kennedy, who narrowly lost the Democratic vice presidential nomination last year, has stayed on the political sidelines since then. However, as a member of the McClellan group he is expected to take an active part and his performance will be watched closely.

His role may strengthen his standing in the 1960 political picture although Kennedy has disavowed any intentions to run for either President or vice president on the next Democratic ticket.

GOP FEARS—A number of influential Republicans fear further losses to the Democrats in the 1958 congressional elections unless there is a positive uptrend in farm income, particularly in the Midwest.

Miss Emma Harrison returned to her home in Brownwood the first of this week after spending some time in this city assisting in the post office.

J. A. Allen and daughter, Miss Lois spent last Sunday in Brownwood and attended the Knight Templar Easter service in the Presbyterian Church in that city.

Hillside Mission
By LIDA BYRNE

We all want the desires of our heart fulfilled. Some of us may not have many desires, but how can we get them granted the right way? The Bible says: "Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give the desires of thine heart." "Psalm 37:4."

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Anderson of Abilene were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kirby and family last weekend.

Tax Returns Must Be Signed

Sam Hamlett of Internal Revenue Service, Brownwood, Texas, comes to the rescue of harassed taxpayers with a sure fire last minute check for that 1956 tax return.

"Did you fill in your security number?"

"Did you attach your tax withholding form, or form to your return."

"Did you doublecheck your arithmetic and last, but not from least?"

"Have you signed your return? Both husband and wife must sign when making joint returns."

Importance of these check points is the fact that, according to Mr. Hamlett, more than 5,000 unsigned returns were returned to taxpayers in the area for signature last year. This helped hold up mailing of many eligible refunds.

HOME SEWING CAN CUT CLOTHING COSTS

As you plan the family spring and summer wardrobe, decide what to sew and what to buy ready made. You can have more and better clothes if you make them yourself—provided you sew well and have time. You can also save dollars if you are skilled enough to make your own alterations of ready made, re-model garments, and do a good job of mending.

A convenient sewing area will increase your efficiency and pleasure in sewing.

Specialists suggest you include these features in planning and organizing a sewing center:

Cutting surface or table of elbow height.

Convenient pressing area—including ironing board, sleeve board and steam iron or electric iron with pressing cloth.

Sewing machine (placed so light comes over left shoulder).

Sufficient light, both natural and artificial.

Easily cleaned floor—waste basket near machine.

Adequate storage for patterns, supplies, pressing equipment and yard goods within reach.

Electrical outlets properly placed for sewing machine and irons.

Chances are such a working area already exists in your home. Some planning and re-organizing may make it more convenient and usable. A separate room is ideal if sewing is a major activity.

EASY IRONING

Spring house cleaning may mean an added chore of ironing curtains. To make the job easier add a bit of paraffin to the hot starch solution in which you dip your curtains. This will prevent the iron from sticking to the fabric while you press them. The smooth, easy movement saves energy too.

Avoid rolling clothes tightly after sprinkling them. This causes more wrinkles, thus more difficult ironing; fold the clothes loosely and put them in a plastic bag or wrap with plastic cloth. If a few things are left over for the next ironing, they will keep nicely in the refrigerator.

UNITED NATIONS Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is shown arriving for one of his final conferences in Cairo with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser on the Middle East crisis. Despite an Egyptian news agency's statement that the two had reached "agreement on the canal solution," there was no definite evidence that Nasser had agreed to any terms except his own. Antibiotics
Antibiotics are known as aids for poultry — among other uses. They tend to stimulate growth, improve feeding efficiency, and combat disease. Certainly antibiotics are an important tool for poultrymen.

My Recommendation:
Use Dr. Salsbury's Medic-Aid, a concentrated compound of antibiotics and vitamins (for drinking-water use). Start chicks on Medic-Aid for faster growth, better health. Costs about 1c a chick, first 4 weeks. Get Medic-Aid in tablets or powder form. See me now for poultry health needs.

Vaccination
Chicks need protection against disease—one way to provide it is through vaccination. Now you can vaccinate for Newcastle disease, infectious bronchitis, fowl pox, laryngotracheitis. It will pay you to prevent disease.

My Recommendation:
Vaccinate with Dr. Salsbury's vaccines. Made according to strict standards, and tested for potency, safety, and purity. A choice of methods: drinking water, intranasal-spray, or dust. See me now for the vaccines and other poultry aids that you need.

HE: Right! This J-2 Rocket* is really a new driving experience!

FRIEND: Well, I've handled a Rocket Engine before, but nothing like this. They've always had pep, but this one's got that extra pep when you need it!

HE: Don't forget economy.

FRIEND: Yes, but you can't feel economy.

HE: Feels pretty good to the pocketbook.

FRIEND: Right! But it beats me how you get economy with a big car like Olds.

HE: Easy. For cruising around, you just use one dual-barrel carburetor.

FRIEND: Bet that waters down your performance some.

HE: Not a bit. I've got regular Rocket performance right through the economy range. And believe me, that's plenty. But if you need more power...

FRIEND: Then what?

HE: Go to Stage Two. You just saw what that does. Give it three-quarters throttle and you've got three dual carburetors dishing up more power and torque.

FRIEND: Tell you the truth, I've always liked an Olds. Thought we might get one ourselves some day.

HE: Checked the price lately? You'd be surprised how easy it is to own.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

has proven successful as improving crop in the Mills Soil Conservation District. It has a record of increasing succeeding crop yields 25 to 100 per cent. It is a drought resistant legume. Its tap roots improve the subsoil and cause the soil to take up and hold water. The organic matter consisting of stems, roots and leaves tend to bind the soil particles together and to reduce erosion damage. The decayed plant material also increases the water holding capacity of the soil. The number of helpful organisms are also increased as a result of the organic matter added by the crop.

Nitrogen is added to the soil. Nitrogen is one of the most essential plant nutrients that aid in growth of crops. Nitrogen fixing bacteria on the roots of guar have the ability to remove the nitrogen from the air and store it in the plant roots. When the plants decay this nitrogen is available for succeeding crops.

Listed below are a few hints in planting guar that the supervisors of this District would like to pass on to those who plan to plant this year:

1. Plant between May and July.
2. Plant five to six pounds per acre in rows and cover seed from one to one and one-half inches deep.
3. Inoculate the seed with the proper inoculant.
4. Fertilize with 200 pounds of 20 percent phosphate per acre.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

(Written for last week)

We've really had some out-of-the-ordinary weather in El Paso this past week. Tuesday night it rained. Wednesday's paper said it was one tenth of an inch. Clouderoft had 15 inches of snow and snow plows had to open up the roads. Yesterday (Friday) March really blew her top in El Paso. Wind at 55 miles per hour, cold and full of dust, blew down tree limbs, fences, and signs. At Moreshead and Henderson Streets where the Grandview Church of Christ was making an addition to their building, a cinder block wall was blown over and their light system was put out of commission. They were having a revival, so they went ahead and had services by candle light. Today it has been cold. Highest temperature a cool 50. Forecast for tonight 6 degrees below freezing in El Paso and 12 below in the lower Valley. Our beautiful, fine irises, just bursting into bloom, look-bedrabbled, but I gathered a handful of lovely half-open buds from the climbing Tallisman.

A letter from Mrs. Edna Dwyer today was dated March 20. She said they had a good rain that day. She has been home since March 10. She has all her garden planted except her squash and okra. Cecil Egger planted her orchard in corn March 1. It is already up and she hopes to have roasting ears for our Auld Lang Syne reunion June 12. She says the orchards have bloomed beautifully, but she is afraid of late frosts that may come. Tonight may get them.

She says the Charm Wittenburgs have a new car and they invited her to go to church with them at Goldthwaite last Sunday. She went. They had dinner with the P. R. Reids, and the day was perfect.

Red Cross Fund Drive Is Short Of Goal Here

The Goldthwaite and Mills County Red Cross drive for funds is considerably short of the goal set for the 1937 campaign. It was announced Tuesday by Gerald Head, fund drive chairman.

Up until Tuesday afternoon $1,248.38 has been contributed while the county goal is $2,987. Mr. Head announced that some of the communities in the county, as well as Goldthwaite, are still short of their goal, while some communities have gone over their goal.

Campaign workers feel that a number of persons have been missed while contacts were being made and they are urging all those to send their contribution to Gerald Head, chairman, or Glynis Collier at Mills County State Bank.

This appeal is directed to residents of the city of Goldthwaite as well as the entire county.

Two Boys From Gatesville School Take Local Car

Two boys from the Gatesville School for Boys made their visit to Goldthwaite Sunday night when they picked up a car belonging to Guy Radt and driving to San Saba, Richland Springs and Brownwood where they were picked up later that evening. The car was taken from the front of the Methodist Church.

The boys, 15 and 18 years of age, left Gatesville Sunday afternoon in a "borrowed" car which brought them to Goldthwaite. Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield stated where it was abandoned for the local auto.

After the Radt car was reported missing Sheriff Stubblefield sent out an alarm on state-wide radio for a pickup. The car was recovered and brought back here before midnight.

Monday night when Sheriff Stubblefield went to Brownwood to bring the boys back here officers discovered them missing from the Brownwood jail where they had picked a lock to gain their freedom. This time they took a car and made their way to Brady before being picked up by officers.

They were brought back here Tuesday by Sheriff Stubblefield and were later returned to Gatesville.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

A letter from Mrs. Brownie Reeves White of Los Angeles Wednesday said her sister, Mrs. Flora Reeves Hodges, passed away Thursday, March 21, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Brooks, at Gruver Texas.

I was shocked and grieved. Flora was one of my dearest friends. We both grew up at El Paso and were girlhood chums. I had a letter from her just last week. She said she had been improving ever since she went home December 13. For the past two years she has spent much of her time in Brownwood, helping care for her aged mother, Mrs. Sarah Ann Reeves, who is 99 and lives at the Pioneer Nursing Home.

Flora May Reeves was born May 28, 1876, in Tennessee. Her family moved to Mills County in 1883. She knew all the hardships of those early years. A place to go to school was quite a problem. Her father, John Reeves, taught school at Mesquite and other places in San Saba County. Flora went with him and they boarded wherever he was teaching.

She boarded awhile with the Uncle Jimmy Reynolds family, and she and Miss Dolly Reynolds went to school somewhere near there. She and her brother, Cisero, rode horseback and went across the river to the Bowser school for awhile. She attended Buffalo School the year my father taught there (1889). And when they built the Reeves School house in 1885, she attended there. I had been going to school at Ballinger, but I was so homesick, my father let me come home and attend there that year. Miss Sallie Hilderbran was our teacher. After that Flora stayed with her mother's brother, Dr. Sam Houser, and went to school at Aubrey in Denton County. Later she attended Howard Payne College at Brownwood. She taught school at Washboard in Mills County.

I think it was in 1902 she married Sam Hodges of Aubrey. They moved to Texoma and made their home there. There her husband is buried. She is survived by two sons, Sam and Fred; and one daughter, Mrs. Hazel Brooks. A younger daughter, Lucille, was killed in an auto accident in her early youth. She has only one grandchild, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hodges. Her son, Fred, has a number of step children who claimed her for their grandmother. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Sarah Ann Reeves, of Brownwood; two brothers, Homer of near Brownwood, and Stanley of El Paso; one sister Mrs. Brownie Reeves White of Los Angeles.

Last summer we would go up Ave. B. about three blocks to the Pioneer Home in Brownwood to see Flora and her mother. There we talked over the dear, delightful days of long ago.

We had low temperatures in El Paso, this past week, but very little damage from frost. A letter from Clayton Egger yesterday spoke of good rains and good prospects for grain crops. A. P. S. said, "Your yard is also responding to the rains and is beginning to look very pretty. Brownie White mentioned the earthquake at Oxnard, Calif. where she had gone to visit her son, Charles.

Brownie says they have met at Oxnard Mrs. Ada Clendenen mother of Warren Clendenen. The Warren Clendenens lived in El Paso last year. Mrs. Clendenen, Bernice, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert White of San Angelo. She says she and Charles met and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ed Bull about a year ago. She says they are both charming and interesting. I am very much interested in Mr. Bull's "Memories" now running in the Goldthwaite Eagle.

Little Miss Vicky Shirley returned to her home in Odessa Sunday after a ten day visit here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sykes, who accompanied her home. While here Vicky had a good case of the mumps.

TODAY'S Menu

Four Ways To Show Off Your Talents As A Cook

By ALICE DENHOFF

TO show off your talents as a cook, serve a two-story baked omelet. It takes a bit of care to make this recipe properly, but it is not too demanding for average culinary skills.

To serve 4-6, put 2 tbs. butter in a skillet. Add 2 minced green peppers, 4 minced scallions and 1 c. fresh or canned tomatoes. Let simmer 15 min.

Separate 5 eggs and beat yolks with 1/2 tsp. salt and dash each of pepper and cayenne, tsp. dry mustard and 1/4 tsp. each thyme, tarragon, marjoram and sage.

Add first mixture; turn into a casserole. Place in pan of hot water; cover and bake at 400° F. for 20 min.

Whip Egg Whites

Whip egg whites on platter with wire whisk until they are stiff enough to stand. Sprinkle 3 tsp. dry mustard over them. Add 2 tsp. catchup, a few drops at a time, whipping until blended. Spread over baked egg-yolk mixture and return to oven, uncovered. Reduce heat to 300° F. and bake 15 min. longer or until raised and brown. A green salad goes well with this one!

Cottage cheese with mushrooms adds up to a good main course for luncheon.

Simmer (8-oz.) can sliced stems and pieces mushrooms with 1/2 tsp. salt, dash of pepper and 2 tbs. mace in their own liquid until liquid is completely absorbed. While still hot, add 2 tbs. tart diet-type French dressing and 2 tbs. capers. Chill.

Mix 2 c. cottage cheese with enough cream to moisten and add 2 tbs. finely chopped chives. Heap cheese in bowl and chill thoroughly in refrigerator.

Turn out on large platter and garnish with crisp chivey or other salad greens. Place chilled mushrooms on greens around cheese mound and garnish nicely with celery curls, watercress or other desired garnish.

Sandwich Spread

If the refrigerator holds some leftover veal, use it for a delicious sandwich spread.

To 1 c. of minced veal, allow 1/2 tsp. chill sauce, 1/2 tsp. each of horseradish, vinegar and dry mustard. Mix with enough mayonnaise to spread and use with lettuce leaf between unbuttered rye or wheat slices.

LONE STAR Agriculture

Released by
The Texas Department of Agriculture

By John C. White, Commissioner

DAIRYING AND TEXAS AGRICULTURE

Dairying, one of the youngest of all phases of Texas agriculture, has made such remarkable strides that it is now a leader in the state's farm economy.

A $250 million annual business, Texas dairying during the past three years has ranked second only to cotton in total farm income value.

This position, of course, is partly due to the drought which has taken as part of its terrific toll large drops in profits from livestock and other major farm products.

Still, the fact remains that Texas has come a long way from the days when most of our dairy products were imported and milk-producing was more a side-line than an industry in its own right. Dairy income today accounts for one out of every eight dollars earned in Texas agriculture.

This development from meager beginnings has been brought about by several economic factors and the foresight of state dairy leaders.

First, dairy development was recognized as a year-round income source as opposed to seasonal income from crops and livestock. Because of this, the dairy dollar is said to multiply itself approximately seven times in trade activity, far ahead of other farm products.

Then, too, the dairyman's productive capacity was challenged by tightening of the cost-price squeeze on all farm industries in recent years. To meet the challenge, Texas milk producers have become some of our most efficient farmers, modernizing and increasing production through use of new equipment, such as tank trucks for hauling, plant pipelines and other major improvements.

The drought, curiously enough, has also had an effect on these increases. Imported feeds, although expensive, have improved dairy cattle diet and increased the amount of milk produced. In 1956, for example, dairy production was up 14% from 1955.

To handle marketing problems resulting from such increases, Texas dairymen organized themselves into the business of selling their own product much the same as other farm industries have done. The Texas dairy promotion and marketing program through milk-producers co-ops and their branch of the American Dairy Association is one of which we can be proud.

The dairy industry has truly come into its own as a full-fledged and vital partner in Texas Agriculture.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

The Texas Department of Agriculture was 50 years old last month.

Voted into existence by the Texas Legislature in January of 1907 to become operative in March of that year, the original agency had four employees whose duty was nothing more than to organize farmer's institutes over the state to keep alive agricultural interests.

Future sessions of the legislature broadened the scope of activities and established greater powers for the protection and furtherance of Texas agriculture.

Today, 50 years after its inception as a bureau of limited function the Texas Department of Agriculture is a major state agency charged with the administration of agricultural laws and providing service to all Texans through its many varied duties.

To carry out the numerous and important tasks of the department there are now some 140 employees with the Commissioner of Agriculture as head.

Briefly, the Texas Department of Agriculture serves to keep open the channels of trade within and without the state for Texas farm products.

It promotes, fosters and encourages expansion of Texas agricultural industry through recognized inspection procedures such as quarantine control measures against certain plant diseases and pests; makes available to farmers and seedmen better planting seed, both registered and certified; protects the entire public through inspection services from fraudulent and dishonest weighing and measuring devices; prevents operation of improper nursery, floral and other agricultural businesses through licensing, registration and inspection; provides market news reports of primary benefit to the farmers; and expands and develops better markets for Texas agricultural products.

It is the only major state agency established by statute and is one of the few independent farm agencies remaining in the United States.

Through recognition plans carried out in the last few years, the Texas Department of Agriculture has become more self-sustaining in order to provide more services to more Texans at less general cost than at any time in its entire 50-year history.

Bills Introduced To Aid Stockmen

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson has introduced in the Senate a bill establishing a minimum period of five years during which livestock sold because of drought may be replaced without capital gains tax being paid on proceeds of the emergency sale.

"The long-continued drought has forced many cattlemen to sell their valuable foundation herds," Senator Johnson pointed out. "These cattlemen made such sales with the clear intention of buying replacement stock and getting back in the cattle business as soon as the drought ended."

Under the present law, the Senator said, proceeds of these sales are subjected to capitol gains tax unless the seller can show "reasonable cause" for not being able to replace the stock within one year.

"The question immediately arises as to what is 'reasonable cause,'" Senator Johnson declared. "It takes time to rebuild ranges and pastureland that have been subjected to a prolonged drought. My bill would allow our stockmen at least five years to replace their sacrificed foundation herds before they have to plead for an extension and furnish an affidavit of 'reasonable cause.' They should not be penalized by their own Government because of a disastrous situation not of their making."

Identical legislation has been introduced in the House of Representatives by Rep. Frank J. Kard and four other Texas Congressmen, O. C. Fisher, Walter Rogers, Olin Teague and John Young.

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—After five weeks of headline making, three Legislative Investigating committees still are busy.

House committee looking into ICT's failure was to run until April 1; Senate committee to April 10.

Recent additions to the committees' massive records:

1. Several former ICT directors denied having signed a document wiping out a $900,000 debt-owed ICT by Jack Cage and Co. Shown photostat of such a document, they said it was not the instrument they signed.

2. Leaders in the Texas Federation of Labor called Ben Jack Cage, former manager of ICT, a "scoundrel." Union members had invested millions in the company.

3. A number of union members and officials told how they were paid by Cage to help advance the cause of ICT among labor members. One said he thought he was paid to keep to himself his belief that Cage was a "crook."

4. Max Wayne Rychlik, son-in-law of former Insurance Commission Chairman Garland Smith, remembered an additional $9,800 he had received from a Ben Cage affiliate. It made a total of $18,200 paid Rychlik for his "job" without work.

5. House members investigating bribery charges questioned the former executive secretary of the Texas Naturopathic Association. But Albert D. Brown, who was with the organization back in 1955, could give only estimates and guesses on how TNA had spent some $20,000 raised during the last session for "legislative education."

6. John McCully, labor union employee, had a difficult time accounting for his expenditures of union funds. In his operation of the union's publicity office, the Action Agency in Austin, he "accidentally" dropped a few political advertising bills into ICT files.

BIG PUSH—Legislators face a killing pace for the next few weeks if they are to finish session in 120 days.

After that point, their pay ceases. Time is almost two-thirds gone. Multiple investigations have diverted a lot of time and energy. Important bills are stacked up.

But a major milestone—passage of the general appropriations bill—is in sight. Senate committee approved it for floor action this week. House already has passed it.

Senate committee's version differs slightly. It includes a 10 per cent raise for lower-bracket state employees, 15 per cent for college teachers.

Wrapping up the big money bill will put the session over the hump in the minds of most members. Meanwhile, both houses are hacking at the small stuff. Special sessions have turned out local and uncontested bills at the rate of one a minute.

CODE OF ETHICS—Scandals and investigations put new impetus behind the administration-backed drive for a code of ethics and lobby registration act.

But it hasn't made the subject much easier to agree on than in previous sessions. Objectors claimed it isn't possible to pass a law making people honest.

House, nevertheless, passed a bill to third reading. It would require registration of persons paid to appear before state agencies. Officials would be prohibited from using their public office for private gain, accepting gifts, favors or services that might influence action, etc.

Sponsors fought off an attempted amendment requiring officials to file a written state-

DELAY GRANTED—Physicians Life and Accident Ins. Co. has until April 11 to present a more favorable picture to the Insurance Commission.

Commission's show cause order alleged the firm's capital was impaired. Former Gov. Coke Stevenson, head of the company, said the management is "making progress" toward recovery of needed funds. He asked and was granted more time to prepare the case before the Commission.

DEPOSITORS DENIED PREFERENCE—US Trust and Guaranty Co. creditors will have to "share and share alike."

At least that is the decision of Austin Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts. Depositors had brought suit asking for first claim. Several contended the company's advertising, by Drew Pearson, led them to believe their funds were being held "in trust."

US Trust went bankrupt more than a year ago. Assets salvaged by the liquidator total a little more than $2,000,000. Claims against it add up to nearly $7,000,000.

Distribution of these assets may be held up further if depositors decide to appeal.

UTILITIES CONTEST—Private and cooperative utilities have moved the arena of their chronic combat from courts to Legislature.

A recent Supreme Court decision held that a co-op could continue to serve customers in an area annexed by a city but could not add customers in that area.

Co-ops are working for passage of a bill that would give them this right of expansion. It provoked hot debate before a Senate committee.

Private power company spokesmen said the co-ops were trying to go far beyond the original concept of the rural electrification program. Co-op attorney contended present restrictions would mean "slow death" to REA.

Bill was sent to subcommittee to work out compromise.
