MAJOR TORNADOES of 1956, as compiled from preliminary Weather Bureau data, clearly point to Spring as a time for special watchfulness by residents of the central United States—the world's most dangerous tornado area. Civil defense units are on special call throughout this vast region for possible rescue work. In addition, if a tornado-hit locality is declared a major disaster area by the President, as happened in Numbers 1, 3, 6, and 10 above, the Federal Civil Defense Administration can provide funds to aid communities in temporary repair of public facilities. SOLILOQUY

The following item appeared a couple of weeks ago in the San Saba News:

71 YEARS AGO—APRIL 1886

"It is currently reported that the new town of Goldthwaite has now a weekly newspaper, published regularly, but we have seen only the initial number, which was issued in pamphlet form. Exchange, Bro. Thompson?"

Judging from that article one could guess that they were referring to one of the papers which preceded the EAGLE. We understand that there were two, The "Mountaineer" and "The Mountain Eagle" before the present Eagle was established in 1894.

The clipping was presented to us by Clyde Cockrum who commented: "That's the year my father Jess Cockrum came to this country."

This week has been designated as Clean-Up Week in Goldthwaite.

While part of the week has already passed, there still remain three days in which to concentrate on the subject. It is our hope that by the time you read this you will already have your contribution made towards a cleaner and better community in which to live. It is also our hope that a good many of our fine citizens from the entire county have done their part in the program of cleaning up the park and made their contribution toward the landscaping project.

Following is a list of clean-up suggestions that may help some to do the job even better. Some of these suggestions may not apply directly to our area, but, they are good nevertheless.

CLEAN-UP SUGGESTIONS

The accumulation of rubbish and litter is a major factor in thousands of building fires every year and often results in loss of life. Destroyed, or badly damaged, are dwellings, manufacturing plants, commercial establishments, and storage warehouses.

HOW CAN YOU HELP PREVENT THESE LOSSES?

The National Board of Fire Underwriters offers these Spring Clean-Up suggestions:

Clear out debris: Get rid of rubbish or anything combustible that you're not going to use that is now in attics, closets, cellars, garages. Rubbish, such as old papers and rags, is a fire hazard. It furnishes readily burnable fuel for fires starting from other causes. Clean these hazards out of your house, store or factory.

Watch outside fires: Clean up your yard. Keep grass cut low around buildings. Never burn papers on a windy day when there's danger of sparks setting fire to any house, shrubbery, clothing or outbuildings. Use an incinerator wherever possible. Clean out paint and oil rags: Destroy rags or keep in closed metal container; hang up mops and paint-soiled clothing so air can circulate around them. Paint or oil-soaked rags heat up from chemical action, burst into flames. Clean up after painting jobs.

Check your fuses: Use 15 ampere fuses in regular household circuits, and don't use a substitute for fuses; keep wiring in good repair; have all work done by an expert electrician. Fuses protect your appliances, your house and your family from damage and possible fire when wires are overloaded or a short circuit occurs.

Avoid flammable liquids: Remove them from your house. Many persons are killed annually trying to clean with gasoline, benzene or naphtha. A tiny flame or spark—even from static electricity—will ignite gasoline vapor. Play safe! Do not use highly flammable or explosive fluids for dry cleaning!

Check stoves and heaters: Clean and check all heaters and have repair work done. Radiated heat from hot stovepipes, furnaces, and stoves will char beams or partitions too near them, causing a fire that will damage or destroy the house.

Portable heaters: Place portable, openflame heaters so they can't be knocked over or tipped. Avoid using rubber hose as fuel conductors for gas heaters; rigid metal pipes are safer. Always store kerosene outdoors, fill lamps and heaters outdoors. Don't carry or fill heaters while they are lighted. Keep a door or window open slightly while heater is burning.

Check pipes and chimneys: Clean soot out of chimneys and smokepipes. Check for cracks and holes; have chimneys repaired—where mortar or bricks are loose—and replace pipes if necessary. Dirty and defective chimneys are a leading cause of fires.

Check ash receptacles: Always put ashes in covered metal container. Hot ashes in wood boxes set fire to many buildings. In the cellar this is particularly hazardous, because flames quickly spread up through hollow walls of buildings.

Fireplace care: Use a wire-mesh screen in front of fireplace. Be sure the fire is out before you retire or leave the house. Spark from unguarded fireplaces can start serious fires.

General repairs: Plan needed painting and renovating this spring. Remodel and modernize your home for greater safety. Replace faulty stair treads. Install a heavy door at head of cellar stairs, fitted tightly and kept closed. This will help to keep fire from spreading up the stairway.

Smokers: Don't smoke in bed. Smoking in bed can be fatal. Fumes from burning cloth may overcome or asphyxiate you before fire reaches you. Place plenty of ash trays about your home for smokers. Keep matches in safe containers and away from young children.

Foreign Military Aid Sums Well Spent. Study Contents Eighty-Five Per Cent To U. S. Manufacturers

Special to Central Press Association

WASHINGTON—There has been a lot of talk in and out of Congress that foreign aid is putting an undue drain on the program, disputes this. It reports that 85 per cent of all military aid funds are spent here in the United States through places with manufacturers.

The report declared also that military aid to other countries amounts to only about five per cent of the total of all United States Defense expenditures. It says that because of this aid to other countries the United States and ground forces is the size of the U. S. Army.

Washington

Since 1949, it says, Congress has appropriated $24 billion for the military aid program and billion actually has been spent compared with billion spent in the meantime on the U. S. forces.

The report of the firm, made at the request of a special Senate committee investigating the aid, is that the money has been well spent, although, however, if the growing economy in Congress will agree.

POWER DRIVE IN LABOR

Labor sources blame the actions of some union leaders on a "Caesar complex" which they say, once they are in a position of power in a union, is ready for new and bigger conquests.

Otherwise, these sources say, there is no explanation for why some of these trade unionists in jeopardizing good jobs which would enable them to live in comfort.

One AFL-CIO official explains it this way: A head of a union, or a leading official in the union, often gets a high salary, say of $30,000 or perhaps as much as $50,000 a year. If he is smart, he tries to do a good and conscientious job of running his union. Certainly, he gets enough money not only to live very well, but to put away a tidy sum for the future.

Usually, if he does a good job in his union, he is about as any jobholder in the country, wherever he may be. When he gets old, he usually has the advantage of a retirement which will keep him comfortable for the rest of his life.

Then what earthly reason would he have for trying to make money or increase his power by misuse of his job? None unless the feel of power has caused his ego and imagination to wander.

The official said this is the basic trouble in cases where leaders have become involved in scandals.

NEWSMAN BAN OFF SOON?—Diplomatic sources say they expect Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to lift the ban on travel to Red China by American newsmen. There is strong pressure on Dulles from some American media to revoke the ban on the grounds that it curtails freedom of press coverage around the world.

In addition, Rep. Emanuel Celler (D), New York, has introduced legislation to override the travel ban for newsmen and the administration isn't anxious for the issue to be aired in congressional hearings.

Reports say that if Dulles does decide to lift the ban, he is expected in return to free the nine Americans still held in Communist prisons. However, Dulles has refused to make any advance with the Reds.

The State secretary insists that the United States won't be mailed into permitting travel into Red China while American azen are imprisoned there.

Fountain of Freedoms...a Free Press. THE history of the press, since its development five centuries ago, has been a history of restraint. It is natural for men in authority to resent the sting of criticism. It is human for them to be ambitious, and to seek to entrench themselves. Hence rulers often avoid criticism and disagreement by stifling it. But the courageous men who founded this new nation sought here full freedom for each individual. When they established a constitution, aware of the human frailty even of rulers elected from among them, their First Amendment provided that "Congress shall make no law...abridging the freedom of speech and of the press..." With the widespread education and enlightenment that resulted, the people here have advanced farther toward all freedoms than the people of any other nation. The beacon of this Western World, marks for all nations the start of the path to Freedom: Freedom of Speech and of the Press. MRS. JAMES A. WESTLAKE

Miss Wanda Lou Wesson And James A. Westlake Are Wed

The First Baptist Church of Goldthwaite was the setting Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock for the wedding of Miss Wanda Lou Wesson of Dallas to James A. Westlake also of Dallas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Craig Wesson of Goldthwaite and Mr. Westlake is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Westlake of Dallas.

The double ring candlelit ceremony was performed by Rev. Presnal Wood, pastor of the church, before an altar centered with an arch entwined with brake fern, white roses and wedding bells, flanked by baskets of craft lilies, desert stock with a background of California palms.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Lathon Jernigan, organist, who accompanied Mrs. Ralph Massey of Denton as she sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lords Prayer." Candles were lighted by Harlan Jernigan, nephew of the bride and Sandra Westlake, niece of the groom.

The lovely bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an original waltz length gown fashioned of all white nylon tulle accented with embossed embroidered sprays.

The dress designed with a long molded bodice featured a pointed waistline and a wide V neckline outlined with scallops of embossed embroidery extending down the bodice in a spray design and into the skirt. Tiny short sleeves were edged in embossed embroidery and tiny covered buttons extended down the back. The buffant skirt billowed from the lower waistline over multiple layers of net, tulle and satin.

She wore an imported illusion waist length veil caught to a lace bonnet edged with tulle and sprinkled with pearls and iridescent sequins. Her bouquet was of gardenias and lilies-of-the-valley atop a white Bible showered with white satin ribbon tied in double lovers knots.

Her traditional something old was her mother's earrings; something new, her dress, and a pearl necklace, gift of the groom; something borrowed her veil; something blue a garter, worn by classmates of the bride and she also wore a penny in her shoe.

Miss Peggy Jones of Goldthwaite was maid of honor. Mrs. Seneca Cowan, Jr. of Lubbock was bridesmatron and Misses Patricia Wesson and Marsha

Knights of Dallas nieces of the bride were junior bridesmaids. They wore Twilight Blue chiffon over Dusk Blue taffeta dresses designed with rounded necklines and tiny cap sleeves, complemented with white short gloves. The skirts were gathered to attached cummerbunds. They wore matching half hats with tiny yellow velvet flowers around the edge. They also wore shoes of matching Twilight Blue and carried colonial bouquets of yellow rosebuds with yellow satin ribbon streamers and bows.

Pat Cain of Austin served as best man. Herb Goodenough of Dallas and Eldon Solberg also of Dallas were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wesson chose a gray nylon lace over pink taffeta, with matching accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Westlake mother of the groom wore a dress of mint green silk shantung with pink accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Youth Center. Mrs. Lillian M. Nelson Presents $100,000. Gift To Texas Baptists

Mrs. Lillian M. Nelson, a 73-year old widow who has lived frugally all her life, recently gave Texas Baptist $100,000 in common stock. The money to be used in foreign lands.

Mrs. Nelson is a member of the Beacon Hill Baptist Church in San Antonio and has been a Baptist Sunday School teacher for the past 55 years. Her father, Washington Lafitte Martin, was a captain in the Confederate Army and moderator of the Mills County Baptist Association for 20 years.

Mrs. Nelson said "If I can't go to the foreign mission field, it is my duty to make provisions for those who can. I am obligated to see that the other person has the same opportunity of knowing Christ that I have."

She is a native of Goldthwaite and entered the Baylor Female College (now Mary-Hardin Baylor at Belton) in 1900 and after receiving her bachelor's degree taught school at Mullin and Dublin. Mrs. Nelson met her husband in Dublin. A son, Gale Harper Nelson was born to the couple. Twelve years after receiving her bachelor's degree Mrs. Nelson returned to the University and received a master's degree.

PROTECTING RETIRED ACREAGE

Texas seed laws are being taken to task because of an oversight in one of the county's most important agricultural programs—the soil Bank Conservation Acreage plan.

Because Federal conservation acreage measures fail to stipulate that seed bought for use on reserved acreage be tested and tagged to qualify for federal payment, some persons are disregarding state laws which establish standards of purity and quality for commercial seed.

For example, the Federal Government has agreed to pay 80 percent of the purchase price for grain sorghum seed used on retired acreage, whether the seed be cleaned, tested, tagged, treated, or not.

FALSE ENCOURAGEMENT
Those who have construed this as encouragement to plant "cheap" seed in order to effect slight savings in cost are endangering the value of their land in the long run. It is hoped that the oversight which might cause such false encouragement will be cleared up soon.

Texas seed laws provide that all seed sold or offered for sale in the state, excepting some transactions between farmers, ings that once were officer quarters, the post powder magazine and the sutler's store. The well that once helped supply water for the post is preserved, also.

A forty-ton granite monument, sixteen feet high, is on the parade ground of the abandoned fort. It was erected as a part of the state and federal observance of the Texas centennial of independence from Mexico. A bronze plaque on the monument records the dates of military occupancy and a recognition of the one-time importance of the town as the seat of West Texas civilization, headquarters of the buffalo hunters and principal supply station for the trail drivers of the continent's longest cattle trail—Fort Griffin to Fort Dodge.

and revitalize land with healthy and helpful crops, not to jeopardize it with a "grab-bag" seed purchase.

Quail Program Needs Aid Now

AUSTIN, (Spec)—An appeal to Texas sportsmen and land owners, interested in bobwhite quail propagation, to expedite their applications for young birds from the experimental state quail farm near Tyler was made by the assistant Executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the time is growing short for preparation of areas to be restocked under the statewide habitat improvement program.

"It is urgent," said the Assistant Executive Secretary, "that work in preparing the places particularly designed for quail restocking be hurried along. This is necessary since our field men, who must approve these areas, will be able to determine what action has been taken."

The Assistant Executive Secretary said ordinarily lands deemed suitable for the quail restocking have to be disked or otherwise prepared for food and cover growth for the young birds.

He said the experimental quail farm, which distributed about 17,000 bobwhite quail last year, is expected to reach about 40,000 bird capacity during its first full year of operation in 1957.

Texans interested in qualifying for hatchery stock either to replace native stock which perished during the record drought or to augment native stock already available on the land, should contact their local game warden or nearest field man for the Commission.

The Game and Fish Commission, at its last meeting in Austin, reported favorably on the program to push restoration of bobwhite quail, long a favorite fall target of Texas hunters. Commission sentiment, it seemed, was that the experimental hatchery had justified its authorization two years ago not only through young birds made available for restocking but for its general influence on habit improvement throughout the state.

FAITHFUL MOMENT IN A CHILD'S DAY

You remember being in this picture yourself, years ago—don't you? More than once, you stood with your friends . . . you prayed together for a classmate, for the boys in service, for our country's welfare. Perhaps not more than two or three of you belonged to the same church, congregation, or synagogue. But you had this in common. You all knew how to pray to God. That habit of prayer wasn't taught in school or practiced only in your home. You were taken to church or synagogue every week. Your parents knew their duty to help you find a Faith to live by. And now it's your turn—to fulfill the same obligation to your children. Start this week, worshipping together.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.
HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

People who suffer from hypertension, or high blood pressure, nowadays have more optimism than they have had a generation ago.

Hypertension is not a sign of something wrong, like the stuffy nose that comes with a cold. It occurs because of a narrowing of the arteries which carry the blood through the body. It is a sign of something wrong, like the stuffy nose that comes with a cold. It occurs because of a narrowing of the arteries which carry the blood through the body.

At a time the blood vessels lose their elasticity and the heart muscles thicken with the extra work load. Results: high blood pressure, and ultimately heart damage.

What causes the arterioles to tighten and constrict? No one knows.

High blood pressure sometimes goes up for a period of days or weeks—or even longer and then drops back to normal. Sometimes it may jump from pure nervousness while your physician is examining you. Perhaps there is a connection between hypertension and the strain of modern life. People who work under constant stress, who worry too much, are often susceptible. Heredity is a probable factor, and the condition occurs most often in persons between 30 and 50.

Low blood pressure seldom causes trouble. Afflicting relatively few people to a serious extent, the condition is usually a symptom of a specific disease which can frequently be treated successfully. The thing which will count most in adding years to the life of hypertension sufferers is the willingness to change their living habits, following the rules of moderation in everything. By getting under a doctor's care and following a few simple rules for moderate living, they can probably work and enjoy life as long or longer than their next-door neighbors without high blood pressure.

There is nothing to gain from worry about your chances of developing hypertension. Just make it a point to have a physical examination at least once a year. And worry and argue as little as possible.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

We didn't have any mail delivered Saturday April 13, but the following Monday I got a handful of letters. One from Beaumont from my daughter, Ruth; one from Abilene from Granddaughter Carol Jean; one from Fort Worth from my sister, Grace; and one from Gruver from Hazel Brooks, daughter of my lamented friend, Flora Reeves, Hodges.

Hazel said her mother had a stroke early Saturday morning, March 23. They called the doctor and had him call the ambulance from Spearman. It was the day of the blizzard, and if it had been a few hours later they wouldn't have been able to get her to the hospital. She passed away that evening about five o'clock, at the Spearman hospital. Hazel and her brother, Fred Hodges, of Gruver were with her. On account of the blizzard they were marooned there till Monday. But before the telephones went out they did get messages through to Hazel's husband, Otho Brooks, at Gruver, and to her brother, Sam Hodges, at Amarillo. The Sam Hodges family could not get to Spearman until Tuesday. Flora was laid to rest beside her husband at Texhoma Wednesday afternoon March 27.

That same week I noticed in the twenty-five-years-ago column of the Goldthwaite Eagle that Flora's father, John Reeves, passed away at his home at Ebony March 20, 1932, at the age of 80.

A letter from the Burt Brileys of Brownwood Monday said Frank Crowder and Frank Dyer had been to see them. Frank Crowder said Charlie Griffin was in a critical condition in a Brownwood hospital.

Carol Jean said she and Don went to Beaumont the last of March. They stopped at Woodville and gathered beautiful dogwood flowers. The next weekend they went to the Texas Relays at Austin. She said the Brownwood-Goldthwaite country really looked green and pretty and bluebonnets were blooming along the highway. They are looking forward to our coming May 27—her graduation day. Her family are coming too. She says there will be a place for all of us to stay. She hopes she'll get everything done. She finds everyone thinks he is busier than anyone else.

Sister Grace wrote that, that tall, redheaded, doctor son of hers will graduate at Galveston May 30. She received an excited phone call from him not long ago. He is going to intern at a big hospital in Los Angeles. She couldn't understand the name.

Wednesday we had a letter from Mrs. Edna Dwyer dated April 14. She had gone with the Charm Wittenburgs to church at Goldthwaite that day and saw Luther Jernigan and his bride. She said the people were really giving them a happy welcome. For Easter weekend she was looking for her children, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cawyer, of Orange and Ednabeth and Harold and Shelley of Abilene. Also Harold's mother from Eastland and his grandmother from Santa Anna. They're having a little party for Shelley's first birthday. The real date is April 27, but they had to have it where they all could get together.

El Paso is all abloom with many beautiful flowers. And during these Easter holidays the parks have been full of Easter egg hunts. And all during the holidays the El Paso Electric Co. has had a lighted cross on the mountain.

Tempting Cookies Made With Nonfat Dry Milk

By ALICE DENHOFF

THERE'S something satisfying about running up a batch of cookies once in a while. It's a treat for the whole family, but for the children it is something extra special.

Most cookie recipes specify very little, if any, milk. So we thought you might be interested in some new and excellent ones that are fortified with nourishing nonfat dry milk.

Delicious Cookies

To prepare about 2 1/2 doz. delicious cookies, cream 1/2 c. butter and 1/4 c. shortening. Add 3/4 c. sifted confectioners' sugar. Blend thoroughly. Stir in 2 tsp. vanilla extract.

Sift together 1 c. sifted flour, 1/2 c. instant nonfat dry milk powder, and 1/4 tsp. salt. Blend with creamed mixture. Pour in 3 tsp. water and mix until well-blended. Stir in 3/4 c. whole wheat flour. Chill about 1 hr.

Shape dough into 1-in. balls. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 400° F. 10 to 12 min. or until firm but not browned.

Remove from baking sheet immediately. If desired, sprinkle with additional sugar.

To make about 24 (1 1/2-in.) Crispies, cream 1/2 c. shortening. Add 1/4 c. firmly packed brown sugar, 1 egg yolk and 1/2 tsp. vanilla. Sift together 1/2 c. sifted flour, 1/2 c. instant nonfat dry milk powder and 1/4 tsp. salt. Stir into creamed mixture, blending well.

Shape mixture in 1-in. balls. Dip in 1 slightly beaten egg white, then roll in 3/4 c. crushed corn flakes. Place balls about 1 in. apart on ungreased baking sheet. Bake at 375° F. 5 min.

Remove from oven. Make a thumb depression in each cookie. Return to oven. Bake 8 min. Cool. Fill hollows with chopped candied fruit, jelly or tinted confectioners' frosting.

What's Happening In Immigration?

OTON, (Spec)-CNR) - full airplane loads— 390—of known tubercular patients designated as alien refugees have been placed in hospitals at government expense.

ter, were placed in hospitals under an "I-14" Immigration Service paper which committed the Government to payment of $19.00 daily for each patient—a total of something over $200,000 a month. Estimates made at Camp Kilmer, N. J., where the refugees landed, indicated that these foreign patients will require hospital treatment varying from 6 weeks to a full year.

"Operations of this kind violate and nullify both the letter and the spirit of all American immigration laws," protested Rep. Walter in an interview. "Certainly, I sympathize with and want to help real Freedom fighters escape the persecution and blight of Communism. But I question seriously whether shipment to America of nearly 400 foreign patients with a communicable disease, will contribute much in that direction. "And I doubt very seriously that many Americans—who must pay their own bills for high priced hospitalization without any help from the U.S. or any other government—will see the justice of loading a $200,000-a-month burden on U. S. taxpayers for treatment of Hungarian tubercular patients."

Rep. Walter, co-author of the McCarran - Walter Immigration and Naturalization Act of 1952, has formally requested Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., to discontinue the emergency, blanket parole program under which approximately 24,000 non-quota Hungarian refugees have been landed in the United States. Prior to that, and after the Hungarian rebellion of last Fall, some 6,300 so-called refugees were admitted into the U.S. on unfilled quota lists, in addition to the 24,000 parolees.

"The United States, one out of twenty-six countries offering asylum (to the Hungarians), has taken about 25% of the Hungarian refugees," Rep. Walter wrote the attorney general in his letter requesting discontinuance of the emergency admissions program. "It is my considered opinion that as of this time, the United States has taken what is generally referred to as a 'fair share' of the Hungarian refugees."

Not only has the United States admitted a fair share of refugees, said Rep. Walter. These admissions were approved in so hurried a fashion that screening was impossible.

"It is a cold, simple fact," he said, "that the overwhelming majority of the Hungarian refugees have not been screened for Communist affiliation, criminal background, or health. In a recently published interview

Dr. Richard P. Saunders, President of the Save the Children Federation in Austria, analyzed the post-Hungarian rebellion refugees this way:

"One fifth Freedom fighters; two fifths Communists and criminals, two fifths opportunist seeking to escape a harsh life," declared the House Immigration.

Wholesale admission like this, declared the House Immigration subcommittee chairman, "mark indelibly the concerted campaign now being waged to crash down every legal bar against a literally unlimited, unrestricted and unscrutinized flood of immigrants into the United States from all over the world. The enemies of Free America are out to change the very character and makeup of our nation and our people, by completely wrecking all laws now limiting or restricting immigration in any way."

Rep. Walter, and a group of House colleagues defending immigration restrictions now on the statute books, face a desperate battle to avert repeal or emasculation of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act at the present session of Congress. Bitter attacks on the law have been launched both inside and outside the government. President Eisenhower himself sent to Congress early this year a special message calling for changes in the law which its supporters believe amount to virtual repeal.

The Communist Party, at its convention in New York in February, adopted a specific resolution for a Party program seeking outright repeal of the Immigration Act.

Duren Cemetery Working May 1

As is usual on the first day of May, there will be a cemetery working at the Duren Cemetery. Everyone interested in the upkeep of this cemetery is asked to attend. All who can are urged to bring pickups to haul rocks, and all are asked to bring shovels, rakes and seed forks, according to an announcement by A. E. Duren.

Veterans Receiving Federal Benefits Should Report Income-Dependency

Veterans receiving federal benefits can prevent overpayments and having to make a refund to the government by reporting promptly and accurately any changes in income or dependency status, Dr. George T. McMahan, manager of the Veterans Administration Center in Waco, said today.

"When an overpayment is made to a veteran based on incomplete or inaccurate information furnished by the veteran," Dr. McMahan pointed out, "the Veterans Administration is obligated to recover the overpayment, often at the cost of hardship to the veteran."

Veterans attending schools or in training should make sure the monthly certificate of training is complete and accurate before signing, Dr. McMahan said. If the attendance record is inaccurate, an overpayment may result. This must be recovered.

Veterans receiving service-connected disability compensation most often receive overpayments because they fail to report changes in marital status or number of dependents. Prompt reports of divorce or remarriage, and births or death, will enable Veterans Administration to keep its records current.

Veterans receiving non-service connected pensions may incur an overpayment if they fail to keep VA accurately and promptly informed about their income. Statutes limit such pensions to totally-disabled single veterans, or widows with no children, whose income does not exceed $1400. For married veterans, or veterans with a child or children, and widows with a child or children, the limitation is $2700.

Further information may be obtained from any VA office. Veterans Administration Office Brownwood located at 207 Brown Street.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Reorganization of the Insurance Commission is a supercharged issue again.

More than a month ago the Senate passed a bill that would sweep out present commissioners and allow the governor to name a new board. But the House State Affairs Committee shunted it off to an unfriendly subcommittee.

Some thought it would die there. Then a verbal battle broke out between John Osorio, chairman of the commission, and Gov. Price Daniel.

Osorio, who was appointed by former Gov. Allan Shivers, will lose his job if Governor Daniel's reorganization plan goes through.

In answer to questions from Rep. Jerry Sadler, Osorio said that Daniel had offered to help him find another job if he would support reorganization. Osorio replied that he felt such a "deal" would violate his oath of office.

Osorio also said, in answer to Sadler's questions, that the governor apparently did not oppose his confirmation by the Senate until after the Commission had closed down the ICT Insurance Co.

Governor Daniel called the charges false. He said he had expected personal attacks to result from his efforts for reform. Then he declared he would fight "even harder for cleanup and reorganization."

In reply to the governor's accusation of a "false" charge, Osorio offered to take a lie detector test, if Daniel would.

House committee members, meanwhile, took new looks at the reorganization bill, admitted to being in a tight spot. Sentiment is reportedly very evenly divided.

ANNUAL SESSIONS FAVOR-ED—With time running out on this session, the prospect of annual sessions in the future is gaining favor.

Senate gave preliminary approval to a measure for annual session and $7,500-a-year salaries for legislators. House passed a similar version with only $4,800 a year pay.

Session on odd-numbered years would be as now. On even-numbered years a short budget appropriation session would be held.

Measure is a constitutional amendment which would require approval of the voters in November, 1958.

SLUM BILL MOVES—Texas cities would be able to get federal aid for cleaning up blighted areas under a bill given final House passage.

Senate State Affairs Committee blackballed the same bill 9 to 8. But supporters gained an unusual victory when the Senate voted 23-6 to accept the report of the committee minority.

Opponents attacked as unconstitutional the provision allowing a city to condemn property for sale to private parties. Backers said the bill had safeguards to prevent abuse of condemnation powers.

SEGREGATION UP TO SEN-ATE—Enactment of 8 bills designed to preserve school seg-regation is in the hands of the senate.

Sponsors predicted an easy majority in the upper house. However, two South Texans whose constituencies are already integrated promised opposition. Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo and Sen. Henry B. Gonzales of San Antonio indicated they might try to talk the bills to death in an end-of-session filibuster.

Measures already given House approval would (1) allow school boards to assign pupils to schools, (2) exempt children from compulsory attendance at integrated schools, (3) authorize state to pay tuition for pupils to segregated non-sectarian schools where no segregated public school is available, (4) authorize school boards to designate schools as "White," "Negro" or "integrated," (5) direct the attorney general to defend antisegregation suits against the state, (6) prohibit public employment of NAACP members and (8) ban future integration without a local school district vote.

TEACHER MONEY SOUGHT—Two bills aimed at gaining funds for teachers pay raises probably will be debated this week. Each has gained committee approval in both houses.

One would double tuition at state colleges for an estimated $10,000,000 more in revenue. Another would make one per cent of the permanent school fund available for current spending. It would bring in $7,000,000 to $11,000,000.

Added to a predicted $27,000,000 surplus in the general fund, passage of the two bills would bring to about $47,000,000 the amount available for teachers raises.

Teachers originally asked a basic $399-a-year boost, plus improvement in the schedule of increase for experience. This would cost a total of $87,000,000.

Governor Daniel suggested a compromise whereby teachers would get the basic raise, but not the experience increase. Teacher spokesmen have indicated probable acceptance.

WOMEN GAIN GROUND—Women's clubs won a modified victory with Senate passage of a much patched separate property bill. It would give married women authority to manage their own estates without husband's consent.

Farmers And Ranchers Save $3,707,040 On Railroads' Hay Rate Freight Cut

AUSTIN, (Spec)—The railroads' voluntary 50 per cent reduction in hay rates in eight drought-stricken states has saved ranchers and dairymen $3,707,040 in the last five months.

Of that amount two-thirds, or $2,630,611, benefited Texas agriculturists, the Texas Railroad Association announced here.

The 50 per cent slash in rail rates ended March 31 with the coming of good rains to the areas affected.

The action by the western railroads is credited by officials of many state agriculture associations in Texas with saving the herds of thousands of small ranchers and dairymen.

In appreciation for the railroads' rate slash the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce extended to all the lines an appreciation banquet in San Antonio. It was the second such affair honoring the railroads, another one having recently been held in Dublin, Texas.

During the last several years the railroads, through rate slashes on grains and hay, have saved the western states $26,207,040. No other type of transportation has extended the reductions on rates.

The period from Oct. 13 through March 31 found the railroads hauling into the drought-stricken area 20,753 cars or 324,476 tons of hay. Of this amount, 12,643 cars, totaling 205,184 tons, came into Texas to save ranchers and dairymen $2,630,611.

Next was Kansas, with 62,570 tons at a saving of $474,931. Oklahoma was third, receiving 52,408 tons worth $556,134 in reduced freight rates to the agriculturists of the Sooner state.

The remaining tonnage was divided between Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and Nevada. Utah received none.

A number of restrictive amendments were put in before passage. One would require a woman be 21 before assuming estate management "to prevent a 14-year-old girl from getting married and throwing away her inheritance."
