Quarterback Club Honors Basketball Girls And Boys At Annual Banquet

Speaker Wright Tells Importance Of College Degree

Bob Wright, assistant coach at Howard Payne College, told a group of high school basketball girls and boys the importance of getting a college education as they were entertained by the Quarterback Club at their annual recognition banquet last week Tuesday night at The Hangar.

Basketball girls were honored guests of the club as the district champions again this year, and the basketball boys for their taking second place in the district.

"You can make a livelihood without a college education, some successful businessmen have without even a high school education, but they are limited," Coach Wright told his audience. Then he pointed out further that making a livelihood is much easier with an education and that without it the individual is limited.

Talking further about the college education and getting that degree he cautioned his listeners that it is expensive and really costs plenty of money and determination, but, it can be had by anyone who is willing to pay the price to get it. Few can't get it if they have the will to get it.

Mr. Wright concluded his remarks by stating: "After four years of college you will be a little better prepared for the opportunity that may come along," and he cautioned: "There is no substitute for ambition."

During the program of the evening 13 girls were presented their letters and jackets by Coach Dick Hampton. They were: Dorothy Warlick, Shirley Rowlett, Addie Joe Conrad, Lou Elta Jordan, Barbara Burns, Alice Ann Davis, Linda Hall, Nelda Jo Terry, Carlene Woods, Esther Thorne, Zora Lee Roberts, Lawanna Benningfield and Virgilene Geeslin who was absent.

Coach Bill Gunn presented basketball awards to the following boys: Jerry Kight, Johnny Vaughan, Bobby Laughlin, Don Woods, Eddy Jones, Tilmon Kirby, Phillip Edgington and Jerry Hammond. Harry Smith received a basketball letter jacket.

Mrs. Dick Hampton and Mrs. Bill Gunn, wives of the coaches, were honored as being the "Unsung Heroines" of the athletic program of the high school. Johnny Vaughan presented Mrs. Hampton a corsage and one for Mrs. Gunn, who was unable to attend, was presented to Coach Gunn.

Carlene Woods, representing the girls basketball team, presented a gift of appreciation to Coach Hampton.

City Tax Rate Set By Council

The regular city tax levy of $1.50 per $100. valuation was approved by the council meeting in regular session Monday night at the city hall. This rate remains the same as it has been for a number of years.

Tentative tax supported budget for the city of Goldthwaite was adopted at the session also. The tax supported budget for the city is for operations outside the City Utilities department.

MOTHER OF THE YEAR—Mrs. Annie Laura Hale, 70-year-old Goldthwaite housewife, Wednesday was named 1957 Texas Baptist Mother of the Year. She has been a Sunday school teacher for the past 56 years, reared 14 children and sent nine of them to college.

Every Member Canvass Is Started Here By First Methodist Church

Sunday marked the beginning of the 1957 Every-Member Canvass of the First Methodist Church membership in Goldthwaite, according to a joint statement of the Official Board Chairman, William Schneeberg, and the pastor, Walter J. Cartwright.

Preliminary committee work has been done in a series of meetings in recent weeks under the direction of Ray Duren, General Chairman of the Canvass.

Other committee chairmen are: W. C. Barnett, program chairman; Glynn Collier, survey chairman; M. Y. Stokes, education chairman; Dr. T. C. Graves, visitation chairman; Harold Yarborough, chairman of master list; Julian Evans, publicity chairman and Wm. Schneeberg, materials chairman.

WILLIAM SCHNEEBERG Board Chairman

Assisting Dr. Graves in the visitation of all Methodist homes will be the following Division Leaders: Dr. M. A. Childress, Malcolm Jernigan, Jesse Moreland and R. L. Steen. Approximately 60 persons will take part in the visitation program.

The general membership of the church and some special groups will take part in a program involving special speakers at the morning services each Sunday for a month. The "kick off" meeting for all workers will be held immediately following a luncheon just after the morning worship services, Sunday May 19.

RAY DUREN Canvass Chairman

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hardgrave and Mrs. Hobson Miller visited Miss Lucy May Burrus, a patient in Hillcrest Memorial Hospital, Waco, Sunday.

A 70-year-old housewife who was married in a buggy, reared 14 children and sent nine of them to college, Wednesday, May 8, was named as the 1957 Texas Baptist Mother of the Year.

She is Mrs. Annie Laura Hale, a member of the First Baptist Church here, a Sunday school teacher for the past 56 years, and an energetic church worker for more than half a century.

Baptist leaders said Mrs. Hale was chosen for the honor "because of the dedicated motherhood she has exemplified in her home and the consistent service she has rendered as a Christian workman through the years."

Several other women were also nominated by pastors and churches over the state. Judges for the final selection were Dr. E. S. James, editor of the Baptist Standard; John Starr, WFAA radio and TV newsman, and the Rev. C. E. Colton, pastor of the North Temple Baptist Church, all of Dallas. Sponsors of the mother of the year project are the Standard and the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Born in Washington County, Mrs. Hale grew up on a farm, married a neighborhood boy (John Harvey Hale) and for years kept her youngest children under a tree while she worked with her husband in the fields.

The couple started out with just one horse, one cow, a buggy (the same one they were married in) and $10. They have never had any great amount of money, but they reared 11 children of their own and three left by a sister when she died, sent all of them to high school and nine of them to college.

Not one of Mr. and Mrs. Hale's children has ever been arrested or fined. One of them is a Baptist pastor and the others are all active Christian workers. Of the Hale's 20 grandchildren, all who are old enough to decide religious matters for themselves are Christians.

Home religion has long been a tradition with the Hale family. There were no nurseries where Mr. and Mrs. Hale lived, but they took the children to church anyway, laid them on a pallet or a bench and gave them a bottle or a bite to eat. Bible stories and family prayer were also part of the children's training. After the small church they attended was disbanded the parents held Sunday school classes in their own home for their children and any others who wanted to attend.

"What does it mean to be a Christian mother?" Mrs. Hale was asked.

"I wouldn't take a million dollars apiece for my children," she said. "There is a lot of pleasure in raising a big bunch, but there is also a lot of heartache and worry, too. It's worth it, though."

"I wouldn't change my life for anyone's. And the greatest thrill of all is knowing that my children are all Christians."

"If you are a Christian mother, you can always depend on the Lord to help you when you need him and the going gets rough. I couldn't have made it without him."

Mr. and Mrs. Hale met at a rural high school in Coryell County, eloped and were married at a minister's house while still sitting in a buggy at the front gate.

Mrs. Hale has taught the women's Bible class at the First Baptist Church in Goldthwaite for several years now but became assistant teacher last year after she got an infected foot. She is also prayer chairman for the Woman's Missionary Union, and has been church clerk, a Training Union director, WMU community missions chairman and a member of the baptismal committee. Mr. Hale is the church custodian.

The couple's children are the Rev. Earl Hale of Fort Worth; Oren, an employee of Convalr at Fort Worth; Orville, a teacher in the Brownfield High School; Mrs. Pearl Long, a registered nurse at the San Saba Memorial Hospital; Mrs. Vera Ware, a beautician at Menard; Mrs. Dora Knowles, a beautician at Santa Ana, Calif.; Mrs. Ruth Dumas a Marfa housewife and worker at the Baptist Mexican Mission there; Mrs. Ima Booth, a Cotton Center school teacher; Billy, a Mullin farmer, and Anna Gene, a band director and teacher at the Goldthwaite High School. One child, Ona V died when she was a year old. The three other children reared by Mr. and Mrs. Hale are Mrs. Connie Knowles, a Goldthwaite housewife; Mrs. Woodrow Boykin, a Star housewife, and Allen Shotwell, another Convalr employee.

Bloodmobile Coming May 16

The next visit of the Bloodmobile to Goldthwaite will be Thursday, May 16, it has been announced by Norman Duren, blood program chairman for Mills county.

Mrs. V. Z. Cornelius is the arrangements chairman for the visit and has announced that it will be held in the chapel of the First Baptist Church from 1 until 5 p.m. on the 16th of May.

There were only 55 pints of blood donated at the last two visits of the Bloodmobile to Goldthwaite. This is way below the quota of 180 pints set for Mills county for the year. The county is 125 pints short with only one more visit of the Bloodmobile this year to make up the difference.

Therefore, if the blood program is to be maintained and Mills county is to continue to be included in the program, then a lot of residents of the county will have to donate blood during this visit.

Norman Duren asks that anyone who can or will donate a pint of blood and who hasn't been contacted to please phone 255.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Finley and daughters, Patricia and Debbie of Austin and Mrs. Wayne Campbell and son Paul of Dallas were guests of their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Womack last weekend.

MILLS COUNTY PARK

As this is being written it is still anyone's guess what the weather will be like at the time this paper goes into the mail, and as you get your copy.

For some very good reason tho, we have been very happy to write stories informing our readers of the postponement of our county park clean-up and the barbecue which had originally been scheduled two weeks ago.

The rains came in April and kept the workers from the clean-up drive and also delayed the benefit barbecue which is being sponsored by the Garden Club and the Lions Club to help finance the park landscaping project.

In the meantime tho, considerable work has been done along the landscaping line. A number of Pecan trees have been set out and work for other shrubs to be put out is going ahead.

In addition to this, there has also been a lot of work done during the past two weeks with respect to park lay-out providing proper roadways, parking areas and the general picnic grounds. All in all things are beginning to shape up and with the right spirit from citizens of the entire county we will have a beautiful park one of these days. It isn't going to be an easy job and will not be done in a hurry. But then, on the other hand, no job that is really worth while is easy or done in a hurry.

It's going to take time and a lot of work, this year and a few more years to get the job done, but, it will be worthwhile in the long run.

If all goes well—with respect to weather conditions—we will have a big benefit barbecue at the park this evening.

Mrs. Horace Kirby got a new range a few days ago. Like most housewives Willie Bell was really proud of her new range and went after the little chore of cooking for her family in grand style.

The day after she got the stove and it had been installed and adjusted she was really enjoying cooking breakfast for their son Tilmon. He was eating his breakfast and although his mother hadn't thought too much about the matter, pretty soon he spoke up and said: "Mom, since I have been sitting here eating my breakfast you have wiped off your stove at least five times."

RED CROSS BLOOD PROGRAM

In just a week from today Mills county residents will be called on to support their Red Cross Blood Program by donating a pint of blood to be used through the blood center at Waco for this area of which this county is a part.

We say "Their" because it is a program that has been of great benefit to residents of this county who have been in need of blood during the past and there may very well be some in the future, too.

Local blood donations during the past two visits of the Bloodmobile to this county have been very low with only 55 pints donated. That isn't a very good showing, is it?

The quota for this county has been set for this fiscal year at 180 pints.

According to that, we are still short 125 pints which are to be donated during the next visit of the Bloodmobile here on Thursday, May 16. If we are to meet that quota we will have to have at least 150 donors to report, because, not all of those reporting can donate blood.

We must face facts. Unless the response from Mills county, and other counties as well, picks up there is a likelihood that the Red Cross Blood program will have to be discontinued or some counties will have to be dropped from belonging to the program.

Local Red Cross officials have expressed real concern about the lack of interest and the poor response from donors. This, in spite of the fact that many patients from this county have received many pints of blood when they were hospitalized during the past.

Folks who have had experience along that line can readily tell of the importance of the program when they have a patient in the hospital who is in need of blood and they learn of the fact that they live in a county that is participating in the blood program and that blood is available for them.

It is our hope that more residents of this county will respond next Thursday and donate a pint of blood.

President's Summer Plans Include Wisconsin Visit

WASHINGTON—Despite his open disaffection for Senator R. McCarthy (R), Wisconsin, President Eisenhower is reported to be planning to spend some time this summer in his home state.

White House sources say Mr. Eisenhower's vacation schedule include a visit to Wisconsin's lake region, which is noted for its fishing. Next to golf, fishing is Ike's favorite sport. A return to mile-high Colorado, previously scheduled as number one playground, apparently has been ruled out by the President's doctor. His 1955 heart attack in Denver after strenuous activity in Colorado's rarefied air.

Besides the Wisconsin interlude, the chief executive is said to be planning a trip to New Hampshire, which is the home state of his top aide, Sherman Adams, and which also abounds in streams and lakes. Mr. Eisenhower's summer holiday is to begin soon after Congress adjourns. The date for adjournment is July 15.

MAIL CRISIS—Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield didn't plan it that way. He threatened curtailment of services because of lack of funds to result in realization of his big project—a mail service that goes its own way.

There were those who suspected Summerfield was making a grandstand pitch for his project when he told a House committee he had to have to cut out Saturday mail deliveries and curtail other services if Congress did not vote the department $47 million in extra funds to operate the department through June 30.

However, even rank and file postal workers said this was what Summerfield was really in a tight spot and had no alternative but to cut services to get by on lesser appropriations.

Thus, Congress was thrust into the villain's role as being responsible for reduced mail service and the inevitable loss of jobs.

Such a situation could change the thinking of many congressmen who remain opposed to increased appropriations in the midst of a budget-cutting drive, and they might become agreeable to amending postal rates to make up the deficit operation.

AMBASSADOR'S DEATH—When the frail, anguished Canadian ambassador to Egypt plummeted to his death in Cairo, his death was heard with frightening clarity in Ottawa and Washington.

Lester B. Pearson, Canadian minister of external affairs, announced E. Herbert Norman's suicide directly to "overwork, overstrain and the feeling of renewed persecution on a sensitive mind and a very robust body."

In Washington, the Senate internal security subcommittee defended its publication of Communist allegations against Norman, accusations the Canadian government said were disposed of "ago" after careful investigation.

One member of the Canadian house of commons said the subcommittee's statements—immune from legal challenge as are all congressional reports—led directly to Norman's death.

Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker charged: "This is but further evidence that trial by suspicion and conviction by innuendo have terrible results in the lives of those subjected to them."

Long-time critics of the methods of congressional investigation felt that, after years of seemingly futile verbal warnings, a blood-and-thunder demonstration had finally and tragically been forced on the conscience of the lawmakers and the nation. They hoped it might help change some of the investigation methods.

SPARKS FOR MINDS

ALMOST five centuries ago, Gutenberg's invention of movable type started a revolution. It has been going on ever since. For five times five centuries—and eons before—a few men were the privileged rulers—by accident of birth or of circumstance. The people were subjects, supporting those thus kept in authority. However, movable type, by cutting the cost of printing, began the process of making knowledge more widely available. People's understanding then grew. Sparks of hope were awakened in the minds of men. When it became apparent to entrenched authority that permitting wide dissemination of information and ideas might in time destroy their sinecures, censorship was exercised. In a search for greater freedom, men of many races and creeds created the ocean to establish homes on this continent. They and their children founded here a nation dedicated to 8 new principles: government by the people, and for the people. And knowing that liberty could be overthrown only by suppressing freedom of speech and the press, they provided further that this basic freedom should never be abridged. That system of government created in 1776 was not only for all men to advance, limited only by their efforts. In but a few generations it won for the world a higher standard of living and of freedom than had ever before been dreamed possible. America's freedom of the press has played a vital role in the world that the patriotic instilling of an informed people can be relied on to govern.

CONTROL HOUSEFLIES
Flies carry disease germs that endanger health. Don't give them a chance to live and multiply.

Sanitation is the first step in controlling this pest. Make sure all windows and doors are tightly screened. Keep garbage and other refuse tightly covered and dispose of it frequently by burning or burying. Keep compost piles covered and clean up after dogs, cats and chickens.

Killing is the second step against this pest. Kill flies by spraying in and around the house. Use both the space and surface-type spray. The new bait preparations are good for use outside where flies gather. For information on type of bait or spray to use, and how to apply, get a copy of the bulletin, "TEXAS GUIDE FOR CONTROLLING HOUSEHOLD INSECTS."

I have just received a supply of this bulletin as well as others both new and a new supply of ones that I formerly had. The new bulletins are: Making Homemade Soap, Day Lilies, Vegetable Gardening, Is Your Home Safe?, and Choose Your Pattern Wisely.

I also have a new supply of Sweets for the Family Table, which is the bulletin for use in making jams, jellies and preserves.

POSSUM KINGDOM STATE PARK is truly a water sports paradise. Excellent fishing, sixty-seven miles of boating water, deep diving from rock cliffs, skin diving and water skiing all can be enjoyed at this remarkable park on the Brazos River.

Even the park's fascinating name has a remarkable background. The Act of Congress under which the Morris Shepard dam was built to create the lake described the site as a paradise for opossums. So the park was called Possum Kingdom when the cabins were built, boat docks constructed and park facilities installed.

Development of the park had the needs and comforts of fishermen as a major objective. When 350 miles of shoreline and 710,000 acre foot of water, the lake is renowned for its black bass, crappie, white perch and channel cat. Recently white bass have been caught. Thermacline of the lake is taken twice weekly giving the fishermen data on the best depth at which to fish for different species of fish. Large docks care for rental boats and for private boat storage.

Because of the lake fluctuation the docks have been constructed so that they rise and fall automatically with the lake level. A canteen supplies tackle, staple groceries and cold drinks. Fresh bait is obtainable in the park at all times.

Besides equipment camping areas for which reasonable fees are charged, the park has a large free camping area. There are ten artificially cooled tile cabins, numerous picnicking units and playground equipment.

The park is reached by the longest park road in the state. This Park Road 33 leaves U. S. Highway 180 at the old oil town of Caddo and goes directly to the park.

FLOOD BATTERED, BUT IT'S HOME

ABILENE, TEX. — Familiar surroundings outweighed all flood discomforts with Mrs. Gertrude Hurd, 75-year-old blind resident of the flood-struck North Park area here, who insisted on returning to her home as soon as waters went down sufficiently, despite urging from friends and Red Cross workers. Here she sits in her favorite chair from which she says she can find her way to anything in the house. Helping her is Estell Johnson, one of the 56 trained Red Cross national disaster workers who have been dispatched to the Southwest storm area to assist chapter volunteers in helping disaster stricken families restore homes, furnishings and other living necessities. Red Cross relief operations have been constant throughout the month of April in Texas, with workers now spread through eight tornado swept counties and 18 other counties affected by floods.

Congress Will Cut Budget, Says Senator Johnson

Congress will cut the budget submitted by President Eisenhower for the fiscal year 1958, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, Senate Majority Leader, predicted this week.

"There will be material cuts in the budget," Senator Johnson declared. "We are going to try to make them material enough to justify relief from the heavy tax burden."

The Texas Senator is a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Johnson said that during his visit to Texas the latter part of April he heard many "disturbing reports" about the economic situation.

"Business men tell me their profits are down even though they are doing more business than they did last year," he said. "People on a salary tell me their bank accounts are lower even though they have had no salary cuts."

Soil Conservation Issue Of Eagle To Be Published Thursday May 23

The second annual Soil Conservation issue of The Eagle will be published this year on Thursday May 23.

Work on the special issue got underway several weeks ago as feature stories and pictures began to be assembled by members of the Soil Conservation Unit staff and the Eagle.

Setting this material into type also started several weeks ago and will continue each week until the special issue comes out.

The response from readers and favorable comment on the special Soil Conservation issue line—the cost of living, the cost of money, the cost of doing business. We have prosperity in terms of gross income. But in terms of take-home pay and profits—the kind that puts pork chops and potatoes on the table—the picture is far from bright.

"It is not surprising that there are such strong demands for economy in government. The recent tax bite was a heavy strain on our people."

published last year was very gratifying and Soil Conservation officials and members of the Eagle staff are putting forth much effort to publish an even better and bigger issue this year with more informative stories, pictures and ads.

Actual printing of this special issue got underway last week when the first press run was made. Last year when members of the Soil Conservation Unit staff and The Eagle cooperated in planning the special issue 16 pages were printed. This year plans call for more feature stories and pictures and also making available more space to advertisers with 20 pages to be printed.

A number of merchants and individuals have already made arrangements to carry special messages in this issue. Others are invited to do so within the next few days while space is still available.

Fifty Tracts Up For Sale By Veterans Land Board On June 6

AUSTIN, (Spec)—Fifty tracts of land, mostly in Central Texas and the upper Valley region, will be offered for sale on June 6 by the Veterans' Land Board.

Forfeited earlier by the Board because purchasers were not keeping up payments, the lands total 3003.44 acres. They are located in 25 Texas counties.

Nine of fifty tracts offered are in Medina County, just west of San Antonio. This is the largest county offering. Nearby Zavalla County has five of the forfeited tracts.

Forfeited lands to be offered for sale in East and Northeast are in Lamar, Red River, Hopkins, and Rusk Counties.

In Central Texas, forfeited tracts are in Erath, Comanche, Brown, Hamilton, Coryell, Lampasas, McCullough, Williamson, and Bastrop Counties.

Upper Valley lands are in Bexar, Medina, Karnes, Frio, Zavalla, Maverick, and Dimmit Counties.

Hidalgo and Cameron are the only two counties in the Valley with forfeited lands.

In West Texas, tract will be offered in Presidia and Culberson Counties, and in the Panhandle in Oldham County.

Anyone desiring information about the sale may contact the Veterans' Land Board in Austin, Land Commissioner Earl Rudder said Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pack and daughters, Joyce and Lois, visited relatives in Shive and Stephenville last weekend.

Mrs. Sud Locklear of San Saba was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Locklear on Wednesday of last week.

Tax Education Course Is Taught To GHS Students

Tax education has become a very common high school subject along with the three R's, according to Jim Cheatham, Administrative Officer of the Brownwood office. Goldthwaite should be proud of the fine Tax Education Program being carried out at Goldthwaite Public Schools.

David J. Williams principal of the Goldthwaite High school, and Ruth V. Carothers, teacher of the High School Tax Training Program, are to be congratulated on the very fine job they are doing with the 22 students enrolled in the tax course here. There are approximately 1000 teachers in 782 schools teaching 36,000 high school students in the North Texas district of Internal Revenue Service who are participating in this program. On a nation-wide basis there are 41,000 teachers presenting the course to approximately 3,000,000 students, including 15,000 teachers presenting the farm course to 500,000 students. Students and teachers alike find the course interesting and profitable to them in preparing the students' own tax return and in helping Dad to prepare his tax return, according to Mr. Cheatham, Administrative Officer.

The Tax Education Program gives practical illustration to many of the other things learned in the regular high school courses. The course demonstrates the growth of Joe Johnson from his high school days through the young family man to the mature corporation executive and it teaches the high school students to solve Joe's tax problems at all stages in life. Most Dads would do well to seek Junior's help after he has been through the tax course, according to Mr. J. T. Jones school superintendent.

Jack Locklear of Brady visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Locklear last Thursday night.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

BY HUBERT COPELAND

There are three good reasons why Clear Creek near Brownwood did not reach the flooding conditions that it has in the past. Namely three recently completed flood water retarding structures.

The three structures are a part of eight that are planned for the entire watershed of Clear Creek. The fourth structure is under construction at the present time and bids on another will probably be out before the end of the year.

Rainfall during the heavy rains of the past weekend varied greatly amounting to as much as four and one-half inches on the upper portion of the watershed to slightly less than two inches on the lower reaches.

Naturally the rains that fall on the upper reaches of a watershed are the ones that usually cause flood damage. This was true in this case. Fences were washed out, farm land inundated and livestock endangered. The usual story. The flood water in its mad rush to the sea, or in our case the Colorado River, came upon an obstruction. This obstruction was in the form of a flood retarding structure, in this case Site number two on the upper reaches of East Clear Creek. The rain in this area measured three and four inches, falling at the rate of one inch an hour.

Landowner L. D. Wells who donated land for the structure stated, "I've seen larger rains on the watershed, but it was large enough to wash out the water gaps on the upstream side of my place."

Bill Thomas, who lives in a stonies throw of the structure, said, "I didn't hear the usual roar of the creek after this rain and went down to see why. Instead of the usual roaring torrent, I found a quiet peaceful stream well within its banks. The water was almost clear, it did not have its usual silt load."

Now let's look at Clear Creek as a whole. A rain of three or four inches will usually put the creek on a fair size rise. Three or four days later it has ceased running. With the eight flood retarding structures all retarding the excess flow of the major branches of Clear Creek, the minor branches will have a chance to be drained down before the flood pools of the structure are full. Then comes the gradual overflow of the excess flood water stored behind the structures. Each structure has a draw-down tube designed to fit the watershed above and the stream channel below. Then instead of a mad rush to the river, Clear Creek will be retarded and the stream flow will be stretched into a month or more on the main stream.

the center of the coliseum sur- rounded by a silvery-looking iron fence. The plot covered with grass. A pool and statue in the center. In a broad space at each end and around the pool were blooming red, white, and pink geraniums. Luxuriant and perfect. And that reminds me. I had a pink geranium in a pot that I cared for all winter. I brought it in every night when it was cool, and set it out in the day time. When it was warm enough I left it out at night. I fed it and fertilized it, and finally it bloomed profusely. Not long ago it disappeared. Nothing else was missing, but I've never heard from it.

I believe I enjoy most of all the beautiful exhibits of irises and roses. And especially do I like to find out the names of each. I find that some of ours were just as fine as those I saw on exhibit.

The Del Camino Nursery had a soil-testing Clinic there. They offered to test one cup of soil for each person. I took along my cupful. And I also took some damaged leaves. They said our soil lacked sulphur, and the leaves showed I had a bad case of red spider. I'm spraying every third day now.

I guess we'll go to town to- morrow. I want to go by the nursery and get a full report and the remedy.

Mrs. Peterson, an El Paso writer, called Saturday to tell me that the El Paso Chapter of the Texas Women's Press As- sociation was meeting Sunday afternoon, May 12, at 2:30, with Nancy Miller of the El Paso Times. It is just a nice little so- cial meeting with generally an interesting speaker.

Mrs. Mordant Grady called me Monday and said, since I am going away soon, she is giving in my honor a Brown-Mills County party Sunday afternoon, May 19, at her beautiful new home up against the mountain. I'm to invite all the old friends I can find.

Billy said last week that he had made track. This week he made chorus, and he has been staying after school some to practice chorus. Today (Friday) they had their relay races. He said his team won two out of three.

For so long after our neigh- bors moved away, Johnny had no one to play with, but now a nice little girl has moved next door. They came from Georgia. Her Daddy is attending a guided missile school at the Fort. She and Johnny have great times. Yesterday he told me that he and Shirley were going to have a picnic in the country that afternoon.

Three little girls who live back of us came over in the after- noon. Some kept letting out some screams over there, so I went to the kitchen door and said, "Hey," who's doing that screaming over there?" One of the little girls said, "Oh, that's just Linda. She's an alligator."

May 2, at 2:30 o'clock. Services were conducted by Rev. Walter J. Cartwright, pastor of the church assisted by Rev. Pres-nall H. Wood, pastor of The First Baptist Church.

Hern Harris, son of the late Jess H. and Elina Harris was born in Comanche County September 30, 1897 and passed away in a Brownwood hospital April 30, 1957. He had been a rancher all his life. He devoted 10 years in serving Mills County as sheriff, carrying out a tradition begun by his great uncle, George Cunningham, who was Mills County's first sheriff.

On December 21, 1924 he was married to Miss Bea Ashton of Mullin. They made their home in Comanche one year before moving to Mills County where he spent the remainder of his life.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Bea Harris of Goldthwaite; three brothers, George Harris of Kermit, Chester Harris of Brownwood and Dick Harris of Calgary, Canada; two sisters, Mrs. Neva Taylor of Fort Worth and Mrs. DeAlva Gadberry of Memphis, Tennessee. Also a number of nieces, nephews and a host of friends.

Pallbearers were C. F. Stubblefield, Fred Reynolds, Malcolm Jernigan, Jerry Walker, Raymond Little and Ernest Wilson. Honorary pallbearers were the following officers and former officers from over the state who attended the rites in a body: Levi Duncan, Texas Ranger, Uvalde; J. Y. Hamilton ex-state-officer, Evant; Clark Royal, sheriff, Meridian; Luther B. Person, sheriff, Lampasas; Woody Young, sheriff, Hamilton; Chester Avinger, City Judge, Brownwood, Ray Masters, sheriff, Brownwood; Bill Cooksey, highway patrolman, Gatesville; Jess Askey, highway patrolman, San Saba; Brantley Barker, sheriff, San Saba; Martin Koonsman, National Automobile Theft, Abilene; George Caulder, deputy sheriff Brownwood; W. L. Mahan former sheriff of Mills County; Clyde Cockrum, deputy sheriff, Goldthwaite, and Mr. Storms, highway patrolman of Gatesville.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Roy Wilkins Funeral Home with burial in the Oak View Cemetery at Mullin.

drawn on the Duval County general fund, all made out in Parr's own handwriting, and all made out either to Thomas Y. Pickett and Co. or to Thomas Y. Pickett personally.

Most of the checks are in the amount of $1,000 and the endorsements on these are correct, each check stamped on the back Thomas Y. Pickett and Co. and each deposited in the company's account.

Two of the checks, however, stand real scrutiny. They're not piddling little $1,000 items. They are for big money. And they don't bear the Pickett company rubber stamp, indicating that they didn't go through the company account.

One of these checks, dated simply June, 1951, and not signed by the County Judge as required by Texas law, is for $5,500. This check is number 544.

The other check, number 17, is dated July, 1952. It is for a whopping $6,500. And this one wasn't signed by the County Judge as required by law.

The harder up the county gets financially, the more they dig around in the old records. And the more they dig around in the old records, the more odd-looking checks they turn up with funny endorsements.

As I said, Dan Tobin and Thomas Y. Pickett have been running around the state trying to tap the oil companies for a little financial assistance to the county. Tobin split with the Duke some time back, and Pickett says he hardly knows the man. Maybe they're both smart. A lot of the Duke's old friends have found themselves in trouble.

The Cause of Corruption in Texas Which brings me to the third thing I've been wondering about. What is the Texas Legislature going to do about plugging the gaps in the law which John Ben Sheppard said make situations like Duval County possible?

I've read several articles in national magazines about the corruption in Texas on the state level. I've been in and out of Texas, studying Texas laws and lawbreakers and writing a book and a movie script, for about 10 months now. In my humble opinion the corruption in Texas starts right down at the grass roots, in the counties and the little towns. And it starts with the out-moded Texas Constitution and the lack of adequate statutes to enable people at the county level to keep things clean. Your primary trouble, Texan, is not in Austin.

Twice in as many legislative sessions the Texas Press Association has laid a stack of proposed bills in front of the lawmakers, incorporating a number inspired by Sheppard's findings in Duval County along with others that Sheppard and the TPA have urged "for good government in Texas." These others deal mostly with keeping government meetings open to the public eye, keeping public records public, and requiring the publication of information the people have a right to know.

As John Ben Sheppard put it, "Take any four or five of these proposed new laws and enforce them, and you just can't have a Duval County." There are 15 of them altogether.

I came back to Texas to do some final checking on a few things including these bills. I have to admit they even with my natural newsman's cynicism, I was a little staggered to find that the Texas Legislature had been in session three months in 1957 and was active six months in 1956—and in all that time only a couple of the bills have struggled through to the Governor's desk for signing into law.

Some of the most important of them are staggering through the legislative halls, not expected to live. Others have had their death blow unless interested citizens raised a protest. Among the staggering is SB 223 which would make it possible for men who steal public funds to be indicted and prosecuted outside the county of the offense. Such a law would prevent

The state's tremendous land and water resources—ill from many years of neglect—are getting a good "shot in the arm" from the various Soil Conservation Districts.

Hundreds of small dams, known as retention reservoirs, have been constructed on upstream tributaries in major Texas watersheds. Many others are planned in conjunction with large downstream reservoirs.

These upstream water retention structures are beginning to dot the countryside. In some areas, they can be seen from the highways. They might appear, at first, to be an exaggerated "Texas-size" stock tank.

The small dam projects have a three-fold purpose: Prevent flash floods, conserve water and stop soil erosion.

Thousands of acres in low-land areas have been made available for crops and pastures because the retention structures have eliminated seasonal flash floods. SCD co-operators in the area, through proper land treatment on farms surrounding the reservoirs, help preserve every rain drop that falls. They also assist the Soil Conservation Service in obtaining necessary easements for proposed reservoirs.

The dams, when constructed, remain the property of the landowners. Recreational facilities have been set up by many owners. An irrigation has been applied to small, adjoining crops.

The structures are designed to release excessive water downstream at a slow rate, thereby putting into practice the idea to "make water walk, not run." When a flash flood strikes, the reservoirs catch the water and release it very slowly.

Completion of all the planned small dams will, in the future, tend to stabilize the flow of large creeks and rivers—providing more dependable, year-round surface water supplies.

All Texans should be proud of the locally controlled Soil Conservation District SCD boards of supervisors and the farmer-cooperators are far-sighted, progressive leaders. They have recognized that, as the soil goes, so goes the nation. And they're doing something about it.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texans will be a long time cleaning up from one of the greatest flood disasters in the state's history.

Nearly 10,000 persons were forced out of their homes and some 35,000 square miles were affected, according to official estimates.

State, national and private agencies are cooperating to help the flood victims. At the request of Gov. Price Daniel, Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower designated the flooded counties as "major disaster areas." It brought an immediate flow of funds, equipment and supplies to aid the State Disaster Relief Headquarters.

Governor Daniel also asked the Legislature for $20,000 to replenish the National Guard's fund for emergency work.

As waters receded in most areas, people began to take stock of the future. Though crop damage was estimated as high as $30,000,000, most farmers took a long range view.

Many missed the corn planting season and will have to switch to sorghum or some other crop. Others have put cattle back on dry feed after seeing the best pasturage in years ruined by floods. "But," they say, "at least it's wet."

Water conservationists point to the flood-ruined areas as "Exhibit A" in the case for more dams and lakes. Rampaging rivers could be held in check, they say, saving top-soil and water for future use.

IT'S GOVERNOR LOCK NOW—Sen. Otis Lock of Lufkin became Governor for a day and received all the honors customarily paid on such occasions.

May 3 long will be remembered by the 46-year-old lawyer who has served 18 years as a state official.

He issued a proclamation designating the day as Texas Interscholastic League Day; addressed the high school journalists assembled in Austin; served coffee and cake in the reception room of the Governor's office; and attended a banquet given in his honor by his many Lufkin friends.

As president pro tem of the Senate, Lock became Governor for a day when Governor Daniel and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey left the state on official business.

LONG TALK—Longest filibuster in Texas Senate history brought only a "moral victory" for opponents of school segregation bills.

Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. and Henry Gonzalez teamed up to talk 36 hours and 2 minutes against a bill to allow school boards to assign pupils to certain schools. When they finally quit, their colleagues passed the measure and sent it back to the House for concurrence on a minor amendment.

Proponents agreed to delay for a few days taking up other segregation bills. Previous filibuster record was 31 hours and 25 minutes set in 1949 by opponents of a medical bill.

Kazen and Gonzalez were aided by prolonged questions from other anti-segregation minded senators. Those who opposed the bill included Sens. R. A. Weinert, Bruce A. Reagan, Hubert Hudson, Charles Herring, Carlos Ashley and Frank Owen II.

ICT REPORT—Senate ICT Committee's voluminous report had no kind words for those who had been connected with $4,000,000 failure.

It said the company was founded contrary to law and operated in a negligent, haphazard and downright fraudulent manner. It sharply criticized Ben Jack Cage, nettime ICT manager, and labor leaders who had helped Cage sell union people on investing in ICT.

Union officials, it said, had been compromised by "lavish entertainment" or payment of money. Their attitude was called "negligent or at least contemptuous."

Committee made 20 recommendations for tightening laws to prevent future ICTs. One would make insurance company officials criminally liable for false statements. Another would place insurance securities under supervision of a securities commission.

NATUROPATHS SET BACK—Naturopaths are in a worse quandary than ever now that State Supreme Court has ruled their licenses to practice are no good.

This upheld a lower court ruling that the 1949 licensing law was unconstitutional.

Texas Naturopaths will be in court again next week when Ex-Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe comes to trial. Cox is charged with consenting to accept a bribe from a TNA member in return for killing a bill outlawing naturopathy.

INSURANCE REORGANIZATION—Governor Daniel is riding a crest of triumph after House passage of his plan to reorganize the Insurance Commission. After weeks of wrangling and nip-and-tuck committee votes, final approval was by a lopsided 109 to 25.

House version calls for a three-man, full-time board all to be appointed by the governor. Senate already has passed a similar bill calling for a part-time board.

Both versions would remove from office John Osorio, the present commission chairman, and Member Mark Wentz. Opposition by their friends in the Legislature was one of the main obstacles to reorganization passage. Joe P. Gibbs, the third member of the commission, was appointed recently to serve temporarily.

THUMBS DOWN—In the push to clear the Legislative calendars, a lot of bills are falling by the wayside. Measures which already have hit the dust include those to: Abolish the property tax on automobiles and substitute higher registration fees, provide for re-districting of county precincts; require county judges to be lawyers; allow cities on local option to elect officials for four years instead of two; raise the minimum age for senators from 26 to 30 and the minimum for representatives from 21 to 25; require persons over 60 years of age to obtain an annual exemption certificate to vote; prohibit cities from annexing property across county lines; and allow cities to issue bonds to build municipal parking lots.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnson have returned home from El Paso where they visited their son, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Henry Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Hobson Miller of Kermit spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Miller and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Bramblett and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Clappe and children, David and Sandra of Fort Worth spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Parker.

Mrs. Vida Laird and sons, Jerry and Russell and Everett D. of Hempstead were recent visitors in Galveston where they attended the wedding of their son and brother, Kenneth Laird and Miss Angelyn Hildabran.

Boy Scout Camporal At Barnett's Ranch On Colorado River May 10-11

Several hundred Boy Scouts and Explorers will pitch camp at Barnett's Ranch on the Colorado River Friday and Saturday May 10-11 for their annual spring Camporal.

The Scouts will bring camping equipment and under the supervision of their Scoutmasters will set up camp Friday afternoon. The public is invited to attend the campfire that night after the Scouts have cooked their supper.

Field events to take place on Saturday include building fires by flint and steel and by friction, pancake race, water boiling contest, sack race, tent pitching, judging, compass, signaling, first aid and pioneering.

"This is to be a Patrol Contest based on a standard with each Patrol Leader in charge of participation of events and camping" according to Lee R. Tesson of Goldthwaite, Camping and activities. It is expected that Troops and Posts will have week-end camping from Lampasas, Lubbock, Saba, Richland Springs, Goldthwaite, Mullin and Pecos.

The Scouts will prepare for breakfast and lunch Saturday and the Camporal officially close at 4:00 p.m. Saturday.
