Goldthwaite Goes Dial At 10 Tonight

Change-Over To Be Made By City, Phone Officials

The Goldthwaite telephone exchange, operated by The Southwestern States Telephone Company, will begin to operate on the new dial system when a switch is pulled tonight at 10 p.m.

A. J. Lacy, West Texas Division Manager for the company, said that the change over will be made at 10 p.m. because the traffic is lighter at that time. Mr. Lacy advised telephone users that after this hour they will hear a dial hum instead of the old familiar "Number, please."

A number of city officials and civic leaders are expected to be present when the dial system goes into operation, including officials from the company's general office in Brownwood.

Months of study, engineering, and planning, months of actual work and days of final tuning-up have gone into plans for changing over to dial operation.

The new dial building was completed in February, and installation of equipment was finished only a few days ago.

The new building, equipment, land, labor, and related expenses represent an expenditure of approximately $170,000 Lacy said.

"Installation of this new system will relieve the load on toll and local service and enable us to continue giving better service," he said.

The latest addition to the company's facilities is another step in meeting the growing demand for both long distance and local telephone service.

A folder has been mailed to each subscriber with a sticker attached to be placed in the middle of the dial, showing the new telephone number. Numbers in Goldthwaite will have uniform prefixes, Mission, followed by five digits. For example, to call Mission 8-2244, you will dial the first two letters and then the five digits. The directory, containing all the new numbers has been delivered. More detailed dialing instructions is found in the new directory.

The books will also contain information on reporting fires, on other types of emergency calls, and on dialing for long distance, information or other special service.

Mr. Lacy urges all subscribers to consult their new telephone directories before using the new instrument, as all telephone numbers have been changed. However, subscribers are cautioned not to use the new numbers until after the cut-over tonight.

"An open house to show the public the new building and equipment is being planned," Lacy said. Tentative date for this event is the afternoon of August 11. Complete details will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Truett Auldridge and children spent the weekend in Copperas Cove with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bird.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody Perkins of Big Lake were recent guests of Mrs. Brit Davee. Mrs. Davee accompanied them to Temple where they visited relatives.

To Report a fire in Goldthwaite with the new dial telephone system you must dial MI 8-2211, it was announced this week by Jack Reid, fire chief and W. C. Barnett, city manager.

But, that isn't quite all you have to do in order for the system to work effectively.

Officials are taking this means to inform the public and are presenting the following instructions.

To turn in a fire alarm inside the city limits of Goldthwaite you simply dial MI 8-2211, this automatically turns on the fire alarm. Then you must stay on the line until your call is answered so that you can report to members of the fire department where the fire is. Just dialing the number will only turn on the alarm, it will not tell the firemen where to go to the fire. Dial the number, wait until you get an answer and then tell the person answering the phone where the fire is located. That's how it will work. Officials state that it will be extremely important for person reporting a fire to do it correctly to avoid confusion.

To report a fire outside the city you are to call any of the following persons connected with the fire department. Jack Reid, Ray Duren, W. C. Barnett or Everett Holland. The alarm system has not been used in connection with rural fires and will not be used under the new dial system.

VIC'S . . .

SOLILOQUY

UP TO THE STATES

President Eisenhower belongs to that fast-growing group of authorities who believe that one way to bring about tax reduction is for the states to assume responsibility for some of the costly activities that are now carried on by the federal government.

The President proposes a "task force for action" which would have a three-pronged job: "To designate function which the states are ready and willing to assume and finance, that are now performed or financed wholly or in part by the federal government; to recommend the federal and state revenue adjustments required to enable the states to assume such functions; and to identify functions and responsibilities likely to require state or federal attention in the future and to recommend the level of state effort or federal effort, or both, that will be needed to assure effective action." As specific examples of programs in which there should be greater state participation, the President cited slum clearance and disaster relief.

It is an obvious fact that the federal government can only spend money which it has first taken from the people and the enterprises of the states. It is also a fact that a substantial proportion of that money is absorbed by federal administrative overhead—and that in most instances the state would get more concrete return out of each dollar if they did the work themselves.

Moreover, the money saving, important as it is, would be only a part of the benefits that would result. If the states knew they had to do their own financing, they'd examine spending proposals with much more critical eyes—instead of seeking government aid for all manner of unnecessary projects. Then, best of all, there would be reaffirmation of the largely forgotten principle that local needs should be met so far as possible by local action—a principle which lies at the heart of free, representative government.

FEET OF CLAY

A gentleman from the Pacific Coast who had to spend some time in Washington, D. C. recently, trying to get consideration of needed harbor improvements for his community, came home a disillusioned man. He said:

"Every move made in Washington is based on politics first—facts second." That is a pretty rough statement but the evidence leads one to believe that it is not too much exaggerated.

A late and glaring example is the very evident swapping of votes by the "Civil Rights"—"Hell's Canyon" Senators to pass their pet bills. Apparently principles involved in both issues were of secondary consideration—lawmakers on either side could change their votes as easily as a snake can shed its skin.

It is a sad experience for a citizen to see the feet of his public servants whom he has considered a cut above ward politicians, suddenly turn to clay. Who would knowingly have dealings with a man who followed these tactics in private business transaction?

HOW TO DEAL WITH UNION BOSSISM

Washington Report, a newspaper published by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, says: "The arrogance of union bossism, as demonstrated before Senator McClellan's Select Committee, finally has brought the nation to the verge of a Constitutional crisis. . . . The issue becomes unbridled, monopolistic union power vs. the Nation, and Congress can deal decisively with bossism by taking two simple steps: (1) Passage of a national employee free-choice law, which makes union membership voluntary. . . . (2) Application of the anti-trust laws to unions. . . ."

"Congress should act on the real issues involved and demonstrate by appropriate legislation that it is fearless of labor bosses."

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

President Alarmed By Inflationary Pressures | Economists Assure Ike No Cause for Concern

Special to Central Press Association

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower has made it plain that he is more than a little alarmed over the inflationary pressures which have brought nine consecutive new monthly peaks in the cost of living.

The government's top economists, however, are assuring the chief executive that there is no present cause for deep concern and that a reversal of the upward trend may be counted on in August.

Ewan Clague, head of the bureau of labor statistics, predicts that the cost-of-living index will show another rise for June, but that it will hold steady in July, and drift downward in August, when the crops are harvested.

This view is shared by the outgoing secretary of the treasury, George M. Humphrey, who insists that wholesale prices have already begun to "stabilize" and that consumer prices probably will flatten out soon.

Nevertheless, congressional Democrats, notably Senator Robert S. Kerr, Oklahoma, and Paul Douglas, Illinois, maintain that the Eisenhower administration has mishandled the inflation threat. The Democrats believe high prices will still be a hot political issue in 1958.

● NO TV EXCHANGE—Chances aren't good that the United States and Russia will ever get together on an exchange of uncensored radio and television broadcasts as proposed to Moscow by the State department.

Even if the two countries should work out some satisfactory arrangement, it would be many months before such a plan could be put into operation because of the numerous details involved.

The main roadblock is the Soviet insistence that President Eisenhower should appear on the American programs shown on Russian television screens.

Mr. Eisenhower hasn't exhibited any willingness to do this personally, although he is perfectly agreeable to having other American officials participate in the exchange.

Some United States officials fear that the proposed exchange might be somewhat of a one-way street because Soviet leaders would have an audience of millions of Americans while only a comparative few would see programs in Russia because of limited facilities.

● CHANGE OF HEART—President Eisenhower has indicated that he is sorry he gave the go-ahead for a proposed agreement with Russia on suspension of H-bomb tests.

The chief executive was all for the test ban at first, but he had a change of heart when he received a special scientific report that if the tests are permitted to go on for another four or five years the United States could produce an "absolutely clean" H-bomb.

White House sources say Mr. Eisenhower would very much like to assure the scientists that their tests can continue, but that he has made a commitment on the bid to the Soviets and he doesn't want to back out of it now.

It would come as no surprise to diplomats, however, if the United States suddenly showed much less eagerness in negotiations with Russia at the London conference of the United Nations disarmament subcommittee.

● ROCKET RUCKUS—Despite persistent rumors that Army rocket experts might have to bail out the Navy's earth satellite project, good progress is being made in the United States effort to launch the world's first man-made "moon."

No one will say so officially, but it is no secret that the United States would like to get its earth-circling satellite into the skies before the Russians launch theirs.

When the Naval Research Laboratory, which was assigned the task of building the rocket vehicle that will carry the "moon" up into its orbit, experienced some setbacks, a call went out to Army rocket scientist Dr. Werner von Braun.

Navy scientists now appear to have overcome formidable obstacles and the rocket is nearing operational status.

News Of The Ebony Community

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Relief from this long, oppressive season of heat came Sunday afternoon when a little shower, amounting to about 3 in., fell. Our first since June 5. We're truly grateful.

This past week John and Ollie Wilson of Brooksmith and I made our long-planned visit to see the Fines at Bangs. In the summer of 1910 Ollie and I attended the summer school of the University of Texas at Austin. Mr. T. S. Parker, superintendent of schools, at Ochiltree was there. He needed teachers and offered Ollie and me positions in his school, and we took him up. We rode the Santa Fe clear across Oklahoma and changed cars at Kiawa, Kansas, to go back down to Glazier, Texas where we took an open auto for the 45 mile ride to Ochiltree.

We found ourselves in the top of the Panhandle, in the midst of the wide extended plains, far, far from home. No going home nor seeing any of the homefolks till school was out.

Not long after we got settled, Mr. Parker had his nephew, Neely Fine, of Brownwood come up there and take a place in a store. Mr. Parker, Mr. Fine and I boarded at the same place. It was to the mall—which got in after dark—that we looked each day with great expectations. Besides mail from the homefolks, I was getting frequent letters from John. Mr. Fine was young and accomodating. Every night he would go to the post office and bring me my mail. A few years ago he told Ollie that he brought so many letters from John to me that he just had to see John, so Ollie brought him and Mrs. Fine down here one afternoon and we had a delightful time talking over the Ochiltree experience. This summer I decided we would pay that visit back. So last Tuesday afternoon we didn't let the heat faze us. We went for Ollie and went straight from Brooksmith to Bangs.

The Fines were looking for us, and we had a happy reunion. Mr. and Mrs. Fine have a son, Dr. C. N. Fine, who is head of the Animal Husbandry Dept. at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

Mrs. Edna Dwyer said she had early Sunday morning callers. They were her grandchildren, Ednabeth and Harold Everett and the precious little great-grandchild, Shelley, of Abilene. They were on their way to Victoria to see Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cawyer.

Alvie Egger of the Sweetwater country was fishing on the Colorado this last week.

I see Clayton and Helen Egger are coming along nicely with their house.

The Brileys should be bustling this week, for the children are to start coming in the last of the week. The Mitchells are due Saturday, July 25, and the Beliches Monday, July 29.

As this letter goes to the mail box Monday morning we report another shower, amounting to about 4 in., making about .7 in., since yesterday at noon.

Number Getting Social Security Here Increases

At the end of 1956, more than 316 beneficiaries in Mills County were getting social security payments totalling more than $150,000 annually, according to an announcement received from Maurice M. Chastain, Social Security Administration district manager in Temple.

This is a substantial increase in the number of beneficiaries over last year and is partly due to lowering from 65 to 62 of the age at which a woman without an entitled child in her care may qualify for benefits, Chastain said. He also pointed out that three-fourths of the men becoming age 65 are eligible for social security benefits; and all people over 65 years of age, 62 percent are now drawing benefits or will be entitled to draw them when their income from work stops.

In December 1956, 37 children in Mills County were being paid at the rate of approximately $15,000 per year. These were mostly minor children of a deceased insured parent. All of them were unmarried children under age 18. Chastain called attention to a recent change in the law which makes payments possible for a child over 18 if the child became totally disabled before reaching 18.

Chastain concluded that approximately 55.5 million people are in work covered by the law and that over 90 percent of the people who work for a living, and 9 out of 10 mothers and children have a stake in the social security insurance program.

as long as they are used for best wear. Garments with decorative details, padding, interfacing and designs which cannot be removed must either be dry-cleaned or laundered with special care. Dry cleaning avoids any risk of spoiling the appearance of the garments.

To launder the garments, wash each one individually in softened water. Rinse completely to remove all traces of soap or detergent. Soft water helps to prevent hard water curbs or lint from sticking to the cotton. Use warm, not hot, water with mild soap flakes or detergents. Soapless detergents are good for dark cottons, especially in hard water. Be sure to read the directions on the package. Some detergents are used for cotton and some are recommended for rayon. Do not use a bleach. Many of the bleaches affect the finish of the material.

When ironing a dark cotton garment, press it on the wrong side to retain the finish of the material.

Folders Tell How To Catch Catfish, Carp

AUSTIN, (Spec)—Be you carp or catfisherman? The Texas Game and Fish Commission has some red hot information for you. In pamphlets just issued there is expert advice on how to catch both catfish and carp. The publications also tell how to cook them.

Carp fishing has become quite a fad on many Texas lakes and streams, when fishermen have found them to be plentiful and real battlers. Biologists of the Commission are doing everything they can to eradicate carp as "rough fish."

There are still thousands of fishermen who like to catch carp. Many private dock owners bait holes for carp fishing. They grow big and fight hard.

The folder on catfish describes the individual fish and tells how the fisherman can identify them. It also tells of methods of taking catfish, and the kinds of baits best suited to catfishing.

Copies of these pamphlets can be had by writing to the Game and Fish Commission, Walton Building, Austin, Texas.

Warm Springs Representative Makes Visit Here

Ralph Murray, field representative for the Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitation Foundation was a visitor in the Eagle office one day last week and discussed various aspects of this well known physical rehabilitation center.

The Foundation, which meets the highest treatment standards required by accrediting agencies, has brought new hope and hope to hundreds of handicaps. Murray expressed pride in the fact that the Foundation has never denied treatment because of lack of finances to any Texas resident under 21 who was referred to by a physician.

A general misconception of the Foundation, Murray said, is that it treats polio cases. The comprehensive treatment program also benefits victims of all types of accidents resulting in cord injuries as well as individuals suffering from cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, arthritis, other types of neuromuscular and musculo-skeletal conditions to all readers of the Eagle to stop by and visit the Foundation any time the opportunity presents itself. Murray said belongs to the people of Texas and we want them to know about it."

OIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

used ranges in the Soil Conservation Service producing more plants are increasing in numbers and in yield to Tom Shiflet, conservationist of Fred-by ranchers who are practicing a conservation program on their land. Many of the deeper rooted high producing grasses were found to be on the increase. Ranchers making considerable progress in more efficient use of rainfall, in producing more grass are Henry Soules, Lee Walton, Harry Welch, Caryl Wall, F. R. Baird and V. C. Bradford. Many others are doing equally as well, but time did not permit visiting more places.

Temperature readings were taken on the Henry Soules ranch last Wednesday at 11:00 a.m. with the following differences. The air temperature was 100 degrees while under a good cover of bluestem grass the soil registered only 84 degrees and on soil practically bare the thermometer reached 114 degrees. This difference of 30 degrees has considerable influence on plant growth. When soil temperature goes above 100 degrees, plant growth virtually stops. On upland soils, short grasses such as buffalo were brown and all growth discontinued while side oats gramma, little bluestem, and indian grass were green and still growing.

Possibly the best way to obtain the better grasses on rangeland is to have supplemental grazing in fields in the form of clover or blue panic grass. L. B. Burnham has had 100 pair of cattle on 225 acres of clover since January and said he could have had better grazing had he stocked twice as many to prevent the clover from maturing so early. His cows and calves did not need any feed at all last winter and he sold some 550 pound calves off the clover last week.

Tom Cody Graves Sends Last Report From Valley Forge

Valley Forge, Pa.—Friday, July 19, today everyone left that came from Goldthwaite, besides me. This was the last week of the Jamboree. This last week we have swapped (one boy was offered $10 for a horned toad, another offered $14 for a region nine patch, and still another swapped a region nine patch for a transistor radio), worked on the Jamboree Adventure award, and met boys from all over the United States and territories.

The first night we had an opening program with 5500 boys. This was opened by Vice-president Nixon and then we had a speech by Dr. Authur A. Shuck, Chief Scout Executive. During the week we kept to a pretty tight schedule. Last night we had a closing ceremony for the Jamboree. At a given signal all the boys in the Jamboree lighted a candle which they had been given. The whole place was so dark and then so light that you would think an atom bomb just hit. On the stage at the time were all the foreign boys. Then flags from all the nations that had boy scouts were brought onto the stage (the stage is just a little larger than a football field).

Dr. Graves, along with four other men from region nine were picked to represent the region at the foreign group ceremony. During this program a Japanese representative gave Dr. Shuck the golden pheasant (this is the highest award in Japan).

The Jubilee Contingent is the only boys still camped at Valley Forge. This contingent leaves Sunday, July 21, for Quebec and sail for England on Monday. When we were told about our ship and heard this from a man who has been on the ship, we nearly fainted. It has a swimming pool and has just been redone. We must break camp and I hear a dear Scout Master calling for me to get to work.

Tom Cody Graves.

His foxhole faith stayed with him...

It's been told many times how there were no atheists in the foxholes.

Faith under fire was quick, complete, uncomplicated and unquestioned. Fortunately, many who found faith under these conditions kept it—even after the firing stopped and the last troopship docked back home.

Like much of the hard wisdom learned in war, the faith developed in battle has been put to wider, wiser use in the years that have followed.

It has spread outward now... to the family, giving them the strength needed to weather the long, hard pulls and the short, sharp adversities.

That strong family faith and stronger richer life it brings are never built better than now... are never built surer than when you worship together regularly—every week. Remember! It's your faith... your family!

Build a stronger, richer life... worship together this week

Hannah, Who Kept Her Promise ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—1 Samuel 1; 2:1-11, 18-21.

A man named Elkanah had two wives, Peninnah and Hannah. Peninnah had children, but Hannah was childless. Peninnah taunted Hannah, which made her so unhappy that she wept and would not eat.

Hannah prayed earnestly for a son, promising that she would dedicate him to God's service. A son was born to her and she named him Samuel, saying she had asked the Lord for him.

True to her promise, when Samuel was a small child, she took him to Eli, the priest, saying that God had granted her prayer and she had brought her son to serve the Lord all his life.

Each year Hannah went to visit her son, and she made him a little coat each year, which she brought to him when she came to offer sacrifices to the Lord.

MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 66:13, 14.

CITY AGRICULTURAL AGENT
& M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

County produced 1,033,000 lbs of shorn wool in 1957 sold for $659,251.77. The incentive pay—average net prices including incentive was plus 63 cents.

Sheep and Goat Raisers Association.

"The plan of operation is simple and doesn't cost anything," says Jim Gray, Extension animal husbandman who devotes most of his time to sheep and goat problems.

All sheep in the flocks are divided into two or more groups according to quality. For convenience they are marked in blue, red, or green, designating quality in that order from high to low. Sheep falling into the lowest quality group and marked green are sold off as soon as the economic conditions of the individual ranchman will permit. The other two groups are kept on the ranch and the best rams are mated with the best ewes.

When Awbrey Kothmann, sheep and goat raiser and chairman of the Kimble county sheep and goat committee, first began selection, about 20 percent of the wool from his sheep graded as coarse. He now reports that all of his wool grades as fine wool, 75 percent is 3-inch or better staple. "A minimum goal should be a quarter of an inch growth of wool a month which will give a clip of 3 inches a year," he urges. "Goal for goats should be an inch growth of mohair, or a 6-inch clip twice each year. For those growers who are in the program, better prices mean from 50 cents to a dollar a head extra, at no extra cost to the ranchman.

Tail, unpalatable, weeds in our pastures are not good feed for lambs, and large needle grass seriously reduces gains.

But we can increase the gains and weights of the lambs by creep feeding. Creep feeding lambs is done to either develop or fatten lambs. If developing is the objective, oats is an excellent feed or a combination of oats, other grain and cottonseed meal. When fattening is the objective corn or maize should make up the entire or bulk of the ration. Corn or maize, other grain and cottonseed meal can be blended into an excellent creep ration. Always locate creep where lambs congregate, near water or shading up places.

FUNDS AVAILABLE

According to Mr. A. C. Henderson, office manager of the local ASC office, there is $32,000.00 available for the farmers and ranchers of Mills county.

This money is available for Agricultural Conservation Practices in Mills county until December 31, 1957. This money is available for the following practices:

1. Controlling brush—such as oak, prickly pear and cactus, mesquite and cedar.

COTTON AND ROW CROP PROSPECTS

Texas farmers are depending on late July rains to "Put them over the top" this crop year. It is a gamble—and an important one.

Only a very few areas lacked enough moisture to start their plantings earlier this spring. The first few days in July saw much of the row crops hitting their peak stride from these initial rains. Now, more rain is a vital necessity—particularly in the western portion of the state.

Many crops that thrived from heavy downpours of April and May developed root systems close to the surface of the ground. Although sub-soil moisture is adequate, these shallow roots are not reaching it and crops in West Texas are beginning to wilt in some sections.

Hot weather has been ideal for harvesting wheat and corn, balancing hay and cultivating row crops. But cotton remains the question mark in the low rolling plains, parts of East Texas and larger areas in the West.

Most farmers are counting heavily on a good cotton crop already heavily reduced from the 10-year average by acreage allotments. Cotton in cultivation on July 1 was estimated at 6,250,000 acres. This amount is one-eighth smaller than the 7,065,000 acres at the same time last year and compares far below the 9,093,000 acres averaged from 1946 through 1955.

This puts the Texas cotton crop acreage at the lowest amount in 62 years.

The record year for plantings was in 1925 when 18,443,000 acres were standing on July 1. And as recently as 1951, acreage was double the estimate for 1957.

South and Central Texas is late. Repeated plantings were necessary because of washouts. But cotton's future is promising this year—provided those July rains materialize.

One look, one ride, and you'll find more to be proud of in a Chevrolet. No other low-priced car quite comes up to it for fine finishing touches—and sweet, smooth and sassy performance.

This one wants you to get choosy! The fussier you are, the more Chevy can show what it's got inside, outside and in performance.

Take the solid way a Chevy is built. It's the only car in its field with Body by Fisher—sturdily put together, with a look of substance other cars in its price class haven't quite captured. Everywhere you look, fine finishing touches confirm the craftsmanship that goes into a Chevrolet.

Chevrolet's response and performance are pretty special, too. There's a well-what-are-we-waiting-for spirit in the engine, especially when you show a Chevrolet a mountain. And you'll do a lot of looking to find comparable smoothness, steadiness and nimbleness on the road. If you do find them, you'll be in the high-altitude prices—for sure. AUSTIN, Tex.—A big change is forthcoming in the operation of the largest law enforcement division of the State.

In keeping with recommendations of the Texas Research League, following a two-year study, the Texas Department of Public Safety will reorganize into six commands. Each command will be responsible to the central office in Austin.

Headquarters of the six regions will be in Lubbock, Corpus Christi, Waco, Houston, Dallas and Midland. Two Highway Patrol districts will be within each command.

Col. Homer Garrison will continue in the Austin office, in over-all charge, with the rank of major.

Heading the various commands will be Capt. R. A. (Bob) Crowder (Lubbock); Chief Kent Odom (Corpus Christi); Chief W. J. Elliott (Waco); Capt. Glenn Rose (Houston); Capt. Guy

Smith (Dallas); and Capt. W. E. Speir (Midland).

In addition to the regional reorganization, the new plan calls for four central divisions in Austin. Identification and intelligence services will be in charge of Chief Joel Tisdale. Motor vehicle records and services will be handled by Chief A. F. Temple. Personnel and staff services will be directed by Chief Glen McLaughlin. And inspection and planning will be headed by Chief G. W. Busby.

Colonel Garrison said the move would result in more efficient service and greater economies. "The Texas Rangers also will come under the regional grouping," Garrison stated. "A Ranger captain will be within each region, and responsible to the regional commander."

TO DAM OR NOT TO DAM— A slice of the sort of troubles that plague Texas water development planning is shown in the current problems of the Brazos River Authority.

At Gov. Price Daniel's request BRA directors held a statewide conference in Austin. Purpose: to reconcile the numerous conflicting views on how best to use the waters of the 1300-mile stream. Scores of people came and spoke their minds, but reconciliation was hard to find.

BRA directors suggest a six-dam program on the Brazos. It would include raising the level of Possum Kingdom Dam and constructing six more between it and Whitney Dam. Cost is estimated at $183,000,000. BRA hopes to borrow $50,000,000 from the federal government, the rest from private bond sales. All would eventually be repaid, according to the plan, by revenue from sale of power and water.

But downstream water users and private power companies are dead set against the plan. Representatives of South Texas industrial and agricultural interests contend that paying for the dams would raise the price of water they use from $1 to $10 an acre foot. Private utility spokesmen say the dams would produce more power than anyone wants at a higher price than anyone will pay. And people living near Possum Kingdom fear that raising the dam level would flood their land.

Net result: the BRA plan, first launched 21 years ago, still has troubles.

TEMPEST AT TECH—Gusts from a political-educational storm that swirled up out of the Plains blew into the State Capitol.

In a closed session, directors of Texas Tech at Lubbock fired Professors Byron E. Abernethy and Herbert M. Greenberg and abolished the job of Dr. Per Stensland. In explanation, Board Member J. Everts Haley said Dr. Abernethy and Greenberg "did not measure up to academic standards." He called the adult education program in which Stensland was engaged "boondoggling."

But numerous observers attributed the dismissals to the professors' liberal political views as contrasted to the ultra-conservative platform on which Haley ran for governor last summer. There were protests and demands for re-consideration.

Governor Daniel made no comment on the professors, but said he thought the secret session was "a mistake." Tech President Dr. E. N. Jones predicted the board would have another session on the subject soon.

Capitol reporters compared the case with the 1944 furore that resulted when Dr. Homer Price Rainey was fired as University of Texas president.

PENNY PINCHING DUE—If the Legislature meets in special session this fall, members may have to ration every paper clip to get by financially.

State Treasury has hardly an extra nickel. There is, however, $460,000 appropriated last session for interim legislative expenses. But State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has raised a question as to whether this could legally be used for special session expenses.

If the attorney general rules it cannot, legislators will have to amend the appropriation bill in order to get at the $460,000. Even so, it may be nip and tuck to get by. Previous special sessions have cost about $500,000.

Numerous economy measures have been proposed. Sen David Ratliff suggested a swift three to six-day session with no pay. Rep. Louis Dugas proposed cutting the number of secretaries.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr is polling members as to whether they (1) favor a special session, (2) would serve without pay and (3) favor a tax to pay session costs.

STEEP GRADES AHEAD—State Highway Department is taking a long look at its ambitious roadbuilding, land-buying program and wondering if it can meet the cost.

"We have $13,500,000 in projects ready to go, but only $8,000,000 income that will be available," said State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer. He said inflation in prices of materials and labor may force a plan to build 48,000 miles of road in 13 years to be spread over 20 years instead.

One cost-cutting suggestion was to buy up right of way far in advance of construction in order to get land before it becomes developed and, hence, more expensive.

F-M CHANGE SUGGESTED—Texas' farm-to-market road system should pay its own way, suggests a Research League report.

Laws creating the F-M system earmark millions annually for construction of the roads, but none for maintenance. This has to come from regular Highway Department funds.

Eventual result, says the League report, will be more farm highways than needed and an "intolerable burden" of upkeep. It recommends the law be amended so that F-M construction funds could be used for upkeep as well.

SHORT SNORTS—Trial of Ex-Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe has been postponed until Oct. 7. Cox is charged with consenting to accept a bribe. Texas Republicans take a dim view of the 55th Legislature. GOP's official "minority" report charged the lawmakers had "failed miserably" to cope with corruption, lobby control, loan sharks, congressional restricting and fiscal problems. It blamed one-party control. Texas Highway Commission announced the highest-in-history operating budget for the coming fiscal year—$72,489,650.
