Highway Department Requests City To Adopt Parallel Parking Here

The Texas State Highway department has requested the city council to adopt parallel parking on all U. S. State and Farm-to-Market highways within the city limits of Goldthwaite.

Presented to the city council in special session on Tuesday August 13, the request was made by District Engineer Robert J. Milligan, Brownwood.

The request to put parallel parking into effect is part of a proposed new highway maintenance agreement which was presented to the council for adoption. The new agreement would supercede present agreement which the city has with the department whereby the U. S. State and Farm-to-Market highways within the city limits are maintained by the State Highway Department.

Action on the matter was deferred at the special meeting and is to be taken up again at the next meeting of the council on Monday night September 9. The September 9, meeting will take the place of the regular meeting on September 1, which is Labor Day holiday.

Mr. Milligan informed city officials that if the agreement is not entered into by the city and highway department on or before the September 9 meeting the highway department will withdraw all maintenance work within the city limits within 30 days.

Highways effected by the move are Loop U. S. 84, U. S. 183, State 16, F. M. 572, F. M. 574 and Loop 15.

Part of the new agreement will provide for parallel parking on all U. S. State and F. M. highways in the city, except upon written approval from the State Highway Department, after engineering surveys have been made.

The matter is now under consideration by city officials and is being discussed by local business and civic leaders who realize that members of the council will have to take action on the matter.

Maintenance of U. S. State and F. M. highways within the city is a sizable item from the standpoint of costs if the city were to undertake the job.

If the city and highway department should fail to get together on this new maintenance agreement the city would have to assume maintenance costs of highways within the city limits.

Also there is the possibility of some highways being re-routed in the future.

Farmers And Ranchers Are Urged To Grow Grass For Increased Profits

BY HUBERT L. BERRY

Over the years livestock men have looked hopefully for a high producing dual purpose grass. A grass that will produce an abundance of lush green growth grazing and make a good quality hay crop when not needed for grazing. Hobert Priddy and his son Ewell, of Priddy, think they have found the answer in blue panic grass.

According to Mr. Priddy, an ex-Soil Conservation District Supervisor, "We haven't found anything that will beat it." He has used his grass primarily for seed harvest, but said he grazed it during the summer of 1956 and had green grazing when everything else was dead. Two thousand and twelve pounds of clean seed have been harvested this year from 7.8 acres for an average of 258 pounds to the acre. While looking over the crop for the possibility of another seed harvest this fall, Ewell kicked his toe into the soil emphasizing the mulch and soil conditions present.

Numerous introduced grasses have gained wide acceptance in certain localities, but in far too many instances they have failed to prove themselves superior to native range plants. Johnson grass, bermuda, and King Ranch bluestem, to name a few, have done well in spots in Central Texas. Under dry land conditions, however, blue panic grass has been impressive in its ability to withstand long dry spells, to produce a lot of green growth and condition hard crusty soils. The extensive root system of this plant will add a great deal of organic matter to the soil with proper management, when allowed to stay from two to five years.

As a livestock feed, blue panic ranks with the best. According to Bulletin F-245, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, blue panic has one of the highest protein and phosphoric acid contents found in warm season grasses grown in Texas. Tests taken at various stations over the state show blue panic higher in protein than either rhodes, coastal bermuda, johnson grass or buffel grass. Also over a three year period at Iowa Park, Texas, it produced more tonnage per acre, under irrigation, than coastal bermuda or johnson grass.

From a recent article in Soil and Water Magazine, Clint Harbers, who has twenty-nine acres of blue panic near West Point, Texas, was quoted as saying "grass sure looks better than cotton as long as you have acreage allotments, insects, droughts, storms and falling prices. A cotton farmer just sells cotton but a grass farmer can sell seed, hay, or beef, according to what brings the most money." According to Clint, "To make money raising cotton you have to manage the soil just right but if you manage grass it will take care of the soil management and do a better job than you can do."

Clint Harbers first gained attention because of his outstanding success in growing cotton. The past few years people have come near and far to see the "Harbers method" of producing cotton.

On August 6, The Abilene Reporter News held their annual soils day program on the Comer Haynes farm. Haynes was one of the original Supervisors of the Middle Clear Fork Soil Conservation District and is widely recognized as one of the outstanding conservation farmers in that District. He has forty acres of blue panic which he established in 1955. The question was asked during the tour of his farm as to what he thought of blue panic. He immediately stated that it was the best thing he had run across in all his farming experience.

The often repeated question arises again, does conservation cost or does it pay?

Supt. Jones stated that the same charges of 20c in the elementary school will be charged for lunches and 25c in high school with teachers paying 30c. The school board has urged payments for lunches over a long period of time to save time of the teacher in collecting. In high school, students may save 10% by paying for a month or more at a time. Many parents have learned it is an advantage to pay by the semester, or year. Any unused monies will be refunded in case a child pays for more days than he actually uses.

TIME FOR REFORM

Suppose a new store opened in your town, selling groceries, furniture, automobiles, or anything else. And suppose this sign appeared above the door: "Owned and Operated by the United States Government".

You'd be amazed—and you'd be shocked. For it obviously isn't the government's business to go into trade—and it is equally obvious that the private citizen would have a mighty tough time trying to meet this kind of competition. Yet the fact is that there are comparable cases in existence right now.

Take, for instance, the parcel post service of the post office department. It was established primarily to supply transportation facilities in rural areas, at a time when there seemed to be a real need. But, like most governmental functions, parcel post has expanded and outgrown the original concept. It now transports a huge volume of purely commercial traffic between communities where privately operated services are more than adequate.

Then, to make a bad matter worse, it has usually operated at a deficit—and all the taxpayers, whether they ever use parcel post or not, must chip in to pay that deficit.

To quote a Hoover Commission report, "The private enterprise system is the basis of the military strength of this Nation and of its unparalleled standard of living." In the light of that it is certainly not surprising that the Hoover Commission—like other authoritative bodies—has strongly recommended sweeping reforms of the parcel post system.

CALENDAR OF FACT AND OPINION

The Postmaster General reports that more medical quackery is being promoted through the mails than ever before, at an annual money loss to the public of at least $50 million a year. Some of the common frauds are "sure cures" for cancer, arthritis, baldness and impotency.

An officer of the Sun Oil Company warns that small communities must do more long-range planning or face the prospect of having state, interstate and federal authorities and commissions take over. Problems which, in his opinion, can and should be solved at the local level include transportation, housing, labor supply, water, and adequacy of investment capital.

A Labor Department analysis says that industry's labor costs increased 61 per cent in the past 10 years as against only a 26 per cent increase in labor's average productivity. National Review points out that the difference "could be bridged only by price inflation."

Alexander R. Hammer of The New York Times says that our domestic oil and construction companies used to have trouble recruiting personnel for jobs in remote sections of the world because of primitive living conditions. But a great change is taking place. Many of the units sent into the wilds now have portable air-conditioned living quarters, mechanical washing machines and dryers, electronic ovens, huge refrigerators, and hot showers.

Dr. George Gallup, the country's leading public opinion poll taker, finds that "The evidence is overwhelming as to the basic strength of the newspaper with the American public." And he sees small chance that TV, radio or any other media can materially change this situation in the foreseeable future.

Direct investment of U. S. business in Latin America is now at an all-time high of more than $7 billion.

What attracts industry to a region? A Business Week article says this: "While a company expanding into another area will probably first scan labor, raw materials, markets and power potentials, the company—all things being equal—is apt to settle for the community where taxes are the lowest."

MARCH OF EVENTS

Fabled Northwest Passage May Finally Materialize

WASHINGTON—Will a dream of more than 400 years come true this year? Will a navigable water passage be discovered connecting the Atlantic and Pacific oceans?

Not since Christopher Columbus sought a route across the Atlantic connecting Europe and Asia has there been so much successful conclusion to the goal of centuries.

Three U. S. Coast Guard ships bearing 10 American expeditionists now in the Arctic region seeking once again the fabled Northwest Passage. Vice Admiral M. Will, commander of the Military Sea Transport Service, believes they will succeed.

There have been successful passages across the forbidding Arctic wastes, but all have been in vessels of shallow draft which were able to carry worthwhile cargoes. The present effort is aimed at discovering a route which will be used regularly during winter by Arctic vessels.

HERE'S THE ROUTE—The three Coast Guard ships are the Bramble, Storis and Albatross. Their route will take them around Point Barrow, Alaska, and across the top of Canada into the Beaufort sea. From there they will head for the strait, which preliminary explorations have indicated is the long-sought passage.

If successful the ships will sail into Baffin bay, round the north shore of Greenland through Davis strait, and enter the North Atlantic.

The purpose is to find a navigable route for MSTs ships to travel to the Arctic each summer to deliver supplies to Arctic installations on the Distant Early Warning (DEW) radar line. A 3,000-mile system designed to warn of the approach of enemy planes will be fully operational this year.

Ninety-six MSTs ships and various Coast Guard vessels will sail the Arctic coast this summer. The ships are always in danger that a sudden shift in the polar ice will block their passage to Alaska and maroon them in the frigid wastes. A "passage" "escape route" would enable them to continue through eastern route, where the ice normally does not close in until October.

Last summer Admiral Will flew over Beloit strait and held that is the Northwest Passage that explorers have been seeking down through the years.

Aboard the three ships are nine expert cartographers and oceanographer. The nine are John H. Manken, J. Arthur DeJoseph A. Cheseman, Calvin C. Day, Peter F. Urick, Samuel Johnston, William L. Lear, Douglas J. Jones, and William E. E. The oceanographer is Russell Michel.

The 10 will be joined by Cmdr. T. K. Treadwell, the Navy's hydrographic officer, when the ships reach Beloit strait. All men are on the staff of the Navy Hydrographic Office.

THREE YEARS IN 1906—Roald Amundsen, the noted Norwegian explorer, was the first to traverse the Arctic. He did so in a His ship, a small sailing sloop, the Gjoa, took three years to pass from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The most recent ship crossing of the Arctic was in 1954 by the Canadian icebreaker, Labrador. However, the route it took can only be used by icebreakers and during mild winters.

The latest search for a Northwest Passage is taking place in "the severest ice conditions in the history of the Arctic" according to experts. However, Admiral Will predicts that by winter, the three Coast Guard vessels will sail into the Atlantic a search of 400 years will have come to an end.

Mrs. Richard Edwards Workman

Miss Sylvia Jean Jones Becomes Bride Of Richard Edwards Workman

Miss Sylvia Jean Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Farris Kenneth Jones of Goldthwaite, became the bride of Mr. Richard Edwards Workman, son of Mrs. Roy Gaskill of San Antonio and Mr. Harold B. Workman of Dubuque, Iowa, Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m., August 24, 1957, in the First Methodist Church of Goldthwaite. The impressive double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Walter Cartwright, pastor of the church.

The church was beautifully decorated with palm branches, a floral arrangement of white gladioli and mums, and candelabras with tall tapers. Traditional wedding music was presented by Lathon Jernigan, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. William G. Yarborough and Mrs. Shelby Langford, vocalists, of Goldthwaite, as they sang "Because."

Mrs. Robert Davenport was her sister's only attendant. She wore a ballerina length petal pink taffeta dress designed with a bateau neckline extending to a point in the back and carried a bouquet of pink gladioli.

A. James Harvey of Shreveport, Louisiana, was best man. William Walter Jones, brother of the bride, and Stanley H. Workman, brother of the groom, lighted the candles and ushered.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a carpet-length gown of pearl white imported Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. The neckline followed the natural scalloped of the lace and was re-embroidered with pretend pearls and finished with long tapering sleeves. The princess line of the gown was accented by a panel of the lace extending from the waistline to the floor. A pearl-covered fitted cap held the veil of illusion. She carried a Bible topped with gladioli and split carnations and wore tiny pearl earrings, gift of the groom.

The wedding will take place Saturday evening, September 7, at the First Methodist Church at Matador, Texas.

Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend the wedding.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with a beautiful overskirt of nylon net and lace over taffeta and centered with a lovely floral arrangement. Mrs. Oris Brehmer cut the cake and Miss Carlene Woods served the punch. Miss Cornelia Patterson presided at the bride's book.

When the couple left on a short trip, Mrs. Workman wore a toast colored silk and cotton suit with matching accessories and a white gladioli corsage. The couple is now at home at 940 West Mulberry, San Antonio.

The bride is a graduate of Goldthwaite High School and Draughon's Business College. The groom is a graduate of Thomas Jefferson High School of San Antonio and attended San Antonio Junior College. Both are presently employees of United Gas Pipe Line Company, San Antonio.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ramsey, T. J. Blankemeyer, Mrs. H. W. Feller, Mr. and Mrs. Oris Brehmer, Miss Josephine Mackey, Mr. and Mrs. Art Reinagel, Eddie Flake and Jack Scarborough all of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Workman, College Station; Mr. and Mrs. A. Although newspapers are common in our country today, their existence should not be taken for granted. 'WEEDY' MILK ON IT WAY OUT?
Headache of long-standing to the dairy industry may be nearing permanent relief through virtue of a new machine said to remove off-flavors from milk.
The new device, which uses steam and high temperatures to destroy and carry away grass, onion and other bad flavors, is actually an Australian flavor-removing machine which was perfected and further developed at North Carolina State College.

Although very expensive as an addition to a dairy plant, the machine is believed fully justified by dairy farmers who in recent years have had to install proportionately expensive equipment such as bulk cooling tanks themselves. The flavor-saver would prevent these farmers from heavy losses due to rejections for off-flavor, which nowadays could amount to entire storage tanks of milk being wasted.
What the machine will not do is to disguise inferior milk, and for that the public can be grateful.

BAMBOO—A NEW 'SPECIALTY' CROP FOR TEXAS Bamboo can be used for something more than oriental-looking window shades and fishing poles. And as a new money crop possibility for Texas' lumber-growing regions, bamboo is a natural.

As a source for pulp fiber, bamboo has a potentially bright future because: it grows faster than soft woods and yields four to six times as much pulp per acre; it could be harvested mechanically, eliminating the saw and the ax; it would be cheaper to handle at the pulp mill; it will grow almost anywhere that the average minimum temperature doesn't go below five degrees—ready-made for East Texas' climate.

Also, bamboo fiber has proved to be better for certain specialty papers—such as facial tissue and fine writing paper—than other soft wood pulp.

Bamboo could never replace the reliable pulp-producers we have today. But in our time of crop restrictions, allotments, curbs and controls, it certainly shows promise as a possibility for idle Texas acres.

What Is Boy Scouting?

BY VALL HINKLE

So often we hear terms such as "Scouts Honor," "Be Prepared," "Do A Good Turn Daily," and others which are definitely connected with Boy Scouting. Yet how many of us know just what is behind these phrases and what they stand for? Certainly every one of us know a Boy Scout when we see him in uniform—but what does that uniform stand for? Is it the Scout Oath and Law? Is it the Cub Promise or the Explorer Citizenship Pledge? Just what is "Boy Scouting?"

Scouting is known to boys as a game and something to do to have fun. Surely Scouting is a game—a game with a purpose. That purpose may not be so noticeable to the boy—he only knows he has fun scouting. The purpose—to help men of today build men for tomorrow. In our modern day world we live at such a rapid pace that we are often unable to do the things with our boys that we would like to. Scouting gives our boys the opportunity to have the fun that we are unable to give them. Scouting directs this fun in such a way that it gives our boys citizenship training, character building, and physical development. All this is done by doing things the boy enjoys doing. Throughout the program of Scouting the boy is taught to be faithful in his religious obligations to God.

The boys in scouting are led by volunteer men who are dedicated to the job they are doing for our boys. Men whose purpose is not self-glorification, but rather the development of boys into citizens. Their reward is not monetary—rather it is in the satisfaction of seeing today's youth, who get a Scouting start, develop into the kind of citizen that America can be proud of.

important. Satin is often draped or stitched. Jersey is sometimes combined with the satin. Velvet, black or brilliant satins are the colors. Smoothed-down feathers appear by day; aigrette effect in cocktail hats. Many more fur hats than ever before appear in berets, toques, and brims.

Town bags combine softness and flexibility with slenderness by means of rounded bases and gusseted sides. There is elegance of detail in gold and silver for clasps and accents; fine grain and smooth calfskin; big fabric bags-often of upholstery tapestry. Furs are big and soft, often of reverse calf. Afternoon bags are of black cashmere, satin, silk faille, and suede. They are softly draped, shirred, or trimmed with French enamel or jewels.

Fall jewelry is extravagant with gold or silver chains in necklaces or swags of various lengths-big or small flexible links. . . . often gold and silver combined, sometimes studded with nugget stones or baroque pearls, Roman-textured gold and silver appear in feather and leaf pins. Extravagant color is important. Big pins are also very important to the fall ensemble.

Satin oblongs, imported cut velvet, printed or brocaded satin, warp-printed satin, taffeta, ribbed silk oblongs, chiffon squares and oblongs, and fur accents are all important as neckwear for a dash of jewel-deep or lighter toned harmony.

Shoes: The pointed toe, the slim tapered look, has become the accepted silhouette. It is a fashion not a fad-slender but not extreme-right with our fashions and our times.

The entire shoe is slim, whether toe is actually pointed or delicately tapered. The vamp is elongated, the sides are straight, the back is flat, and the heels are slim. Details enhance tapering with vamp inlay converging toward toe, diagonal piping, vertical draping, narrow bow.

Shoes are closed by day with the pump by far the most important silhouette. Black leads all colors in suede, calf, and polished leathers. Late day and evening shoes often keep the closed and pointed toe and show large areas of luxury leathers and fabrics.

Casual shoes adapt the slender line by modifying it to suit the purpose. Two eyelet ties, moccasin varieties, buckles-strapped pumps, little above the ankle boots. Reversed calf, plushy leathers are the most important.

If you wish to read these points, in more detail you may come to my office and borrow for a few days the "Fashion Resume" Fall 1957 prepared by the clothing Specialists of the Agricultural Extension Service by Vanette Hosley Mills.

I will be in my office all day on Mondays and each Wednesday and Friday morning unless there is a meeting I must attend out of the county.

Build a stronger, richer life...

WORSHIP TOGETHER EVERY WEEK!

You know the hymn—"How firm a Foundation?" Of course you do. But it's more than a hymn. To many it is a way of life.

The foundation is faith. Faith that gives every day a shining new quality. Faith that provides a strong shelter in time of need. Faith that sustains you in sickness and trouble. Faith that makes life a great adventure, truly worth living.

You find faith as a member of a family, as a member of a community. Worshipping together every week, with those you love, with others who believe as you do—gives you strength to carry through with hope and courage.

You can build a stronger, richer life—on a firm foundation of faith. Worship together this week . . . every week!

GEORGE G. REESE
wool and mohair industries, vital business to the ranchers of Mills report received from the state says "Wool and mohair processing plants, like other industries, can expect economic production if the wool and mohair industry is highly concentrated, and the Southwest, where milling has expanded in recent years, savings would be much larger for wool processing plants in Texas, and they probably could position as a wool and mohair producer, and the historical, physical, financial and human factors involved in previous and future attempts to establish a complete wool industry in this state. Compared with New England where the textile industry is highly concentrated, and the Southwest, where milling has expanded in recent years, savings would be much larger for wool processing plants in Texas, and they probably could produce 70 million pounds of wool and do produce about 97 percent of the nation's mohair annually. Most of the state's wool is best suited for worsted goods; and its mohair is famous as one of the strongest and best natural fibers.

At present most of the Texas raw wool and mohair is shipped to eastern markets where it is processed and manufactured into textiles which sell for a many-fold increase in price over that received by the producer.

With this in mind, the Texas Legislature provided an appropriation to the Agricultural Experiment Station for an overall study of the industry's possibilities in the state. A committee of five top researchers has been named to plan the study. Director R. D. Lewis of the Experiment Station said economic and industrial leaders from all over the state are being asked to assist in the planning. Final plans for the work will be discussed with leading wool and mohair growers, warehousemen and others interested in the sheep and goat industry.

A soil test will aid in soil building. Crops trying to grow on mineral deficient soils are like people on a strict diet—they get hungry.

Now, it may be practical for an overweight person to go on a diet to reduce, but no one wants to reduce his crop production. Yet, that is exactly what happens to crops that are grown on soil that is lacking in minerals.

But the crops are not the only things that suffer from this condition. These sick crops cause mineral hunger in livestock. This produces poor livestock, giving poor gains and poor stock products—it even tends to promote livestock disease. Mineral hungry crops and livestock produce food that may cause a deficiency in our own body. The average man has about three pounds of calcium (limestone) in his body. Our children need lime for strong bones and good teeth. These strength-providing minerals are important to the human body. So it is advisable to fertilize for more and better crops that will produce more and better livestock. A soil test should be made to determine the exact needs.

Water is the least expensive yet one of the most important supplies in poultry production. It cannot be over-emphasized in a chicken's diet.

Water constitutes about 66 percent of an egg and a bird's body contains approximately 55 percent. It is pretty obvious that a shortage of water could have an adverse effect on egg production and broiler gains.

The water should be made convenient for the birds. Have waterers level with the birds' backs and arranged so that they will not have to travel more than ten feet to the water supply, keep all waterers clean and free from litter.

This is to remind you of the Central Texas Registered Goat Sale that is to be held here in Goldthwaite on Saturday, August 31. These breeders are planning on holding one of the best goat sales in Texas this year. They will have an excellent selection to show you.

SHATTERED BITS OF RED PLANE

THE TORN WRECKAGE of a Russian airliner which crashed in Copenhagen, Denmark, harbor is taken to a nearby airport after the remains of the craft were lifted from the water. Of the 23 killed, two were young Britons returning from the World Youth Festival in Moscow. The plane was seeking to land when it hit a power plant chimney and plunged into the harbor. (International)

Americans bought more $25 and $50 U. S. Savings Bonds of the popular Series E in the first five months of 1957 than in the corresponding period of any year since 1946. In this news, Chairman Duren finds "very heartening evidence that the average American hasn't given up thrift as out of date like the kerosene lamp or the surrey with the fringe on top."

Nothing takes the place of systematic saving to provide for emergencies, to make the down payment on the really big things, such as a home; to provide for the education of children for a more useful and rewarding life, or to set aside enough for a comfortable and independent old age." Mr. Duren commented. "That is where regular saving through United States Savings Bonds, on the payroll savings plan where you work, or buying them at your bank, fits into the economic picture so perfectly for the average family and meets an essential needs."

Hillside Mission

BY LIDA BYRNE

Regarding God's judgements and as to whether anything as lowly as a bug recognizes Him or not, let's read 2nd Chronicles 7:13. "If I shut up, heaven that there be no rain, or if I command the locust to devour the land, if I send pestilence among my people; If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

Time To Dust Off The Shotgun; Dove Season Opens Sunday Noon

It's time to drag the shotgun from the corner in the closet and wipe off the lint. The 1957 shooting season will begin Sunday noon, Sept. 1, for mourning dove in the north zone, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission.

Thirty days later the season will open in the south zone.

The seasons extend: north zone, Sept. 1 to Oct. 17 inclusive; south zone, Oct. 1 to Nov. 17, inclusive.

The white wing season has been authorized for the Rio Grande Valley area for Sept. 13, 15, 17.

The dove bag limit is 10 per day, with 10 in possession.

Shooting is allowed from noon until sunset.

Under federal and state regulations all shotguns must be plugged to three-shell capacity. Shooting from vehicles or across the highway is prohibited.

The director issued warning to shooters to make arrangements with land owners for their hunts.

Three East Texas counties, Jasper, Tyler and Newton, will have no open season. In a local bill, these counties were excluded from the general laws and a special season was set up. This special season is in conflict with the federal laws.

Reports all over the state indicate the largest dove crop in years. It is estimated that some 300,000 whitewings will be available for the Valley hunt.

Mourning doves are plentiful now in every area. Unless there is a drastic change in weather conditions before Sept. 1, they are expected to remain in the local areas. Cooler weather or rains could change this condition. Water hole shooting also can be affected greatly, especially if heavy rains fill new water holes, providing too much water in various areas where food is available.

"Every safety precaution should be used," the director said. "Hunting season usually brings on several accidental deaths, due entirely to carelessness."

He also warned that all persons between the ages of 17 and 65 need licenses when hunting outside their home counties. These licenses now are available from wardens and other authorized license dealers throughout the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dennard and children of Fort Worth spent the weekend with their parents, Mrs. Maud Dennard and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Faulkner.

Among the events scheduled for the two day celebration is a special ceremony of thanks which will be held at 9 o'clock Friday morning. Mayors or appointed representatives will be honored at this time.

Also scheduled is a speech by Governor Price Daniel and three massive drawings at which $8500.00 in merchandise prizes will be given. Top prize is a 1957 air conditioned automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. White, Mary Sue of Temple and Mrs. Mae McMillon of Coleman were weekend guests of Misses Abbie and Ruth Ervin and J. P. Ervin.

Tom Cody Graves Writes From Europe

SMITS, Utrecht, Holland
August 21, 1957

Dear Editor—We are really moving around, we went all over Switzerland. We went in the Rhone glacier and through the high passes in the Alps. After we left Switzerland, we went to Germany. We spent the night at Heidelberg, Germany. We toured Heidelberg and then had about an hour of free time. Yesterday (Tuesday) we spent on a boat going down the Rhine River. We saw castles all over the place. We spent the night in Bad Godesburg Germany. We stayed in a hotel that Hitler had stayed in. We had last choice of hotels that night.

Today we came from Germany to Utrecht, Holland. Tomorrow we go to Brussels, Belgium. Then August 23, we arrive in Paris and stay there for two days, until August 25, then we go to Le Harve and board ship for home.

Sincerely,
Tom.

P.S. I hope to get one more letter in, MAYBE.
