THE CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

Each year, as the Christmas season approaches, the National Tuberculosis Association carries on its annual Christmas Seal campaign. And it would be hard indeed to find a cause more worthy of public interest and support.

Great strides have been made in fighting tuberculosis—due in no small part to the work of the Association, and to the financial success past sales have achieved. But a great deal more remains to be done and must be done. The latest estimates indicate that 250,000 Americans have active TB, 100,000 of them unknown to health authorities. In addition, there are 1,750,000 people with inactive TB, and 550,000 of them are still in need of medical supervision or public health follow-up. And an estimated 55,000,000 Americans—a third of the population—are infected with the germs that cause TB. Some 2,700,000 of this huge group will develop TB in their lifetimes, if the present rate of development of disease from infection continues.

Early diagnosis and immediate treatment are essential in the control of TB. Education of the public and continued research are other vital weapons in this war. The Christmas Seal Sale supports the work of the 3,000 voluntary tuberculosis associations in this country and its possessions. Significantly, of the money raised each year in local communities, 94 per cent remains within the state.

The campaign begins November 15 and will continue through December. Do your part by buying seals.

PARKINSON'S LAW

A distinguished British historian, C. Northcote Parkinson, has published a book of essays entitled "Parkinson's Law." It is a gently humorous and ironic work, dealing largely with human foibles. And, it tells certain truths in a highly unusual way.

For instance, according to Parkinson's Law, bureaucracy grows in mathematical proportion to the reduction of the duties it performs. In other words, the less work there is to do, the more people it takes to do it.

That, you may say, is absurd. But you'd be wrong. The Wall Street Journal, in a little editorial on Parkinson's Law, observes: "It is hard to imagine a better application of this ancient principal than the case of the International Cooperation, the bureau which dispenses foreign aid. Its spending has been cut almost fifty per cent since 1953, during which time the number of its employees has almost doubled."

The ICA, of course, is not the only offender. Washington abounds in bureaus whose usefulness has largely come to an end—but which keep right on doing business at the same old stand with the same number or a larger number of happy, tax-supported bureaucrats. The same thing is true of state capitals. And here is one important reason why government costs us all so much, and needlessly so.

A HEALTHY SHOCK

Americans have lived like children in Paradise for a long time. They have been surrounded by the "good life." Still not satisfied they have besieged government in massive pressure groups for special benefits and privileges. Inflation has been destroying the only common measure for material value we have—the dollar. In one case Federal military authority is being used over the opposition of state and local agencies, to enforce federal court orders by sheer might. Our people, by their abuses and lack of restraint, are threatening this republic.

They needed a healthy shock, and they have it in the Russian "Moon" which circled the earth at 18,000 miles an hour.

Senator Bridges, in commenting on the Russian rocket achievement, aptly calls for "an immediate revision of National psychology."

"The time has clearly come to be less concerned with the depth of the pile on the new broadloom rug or the height of the tail fin on the new car and to be more prepared to shed blood, sweat and tears if this country and the free world are to survive."

YOUR $2,400 TAX BILL

Are you interested in startling facts? Here's one produced by recent study: Last year taxes—levied by the federal, state and local government—took an average of $2,400 from each of America's 42 million families. Part of this was paid directly and part of it indirectly. Either way, it came out of our pockets and left us poorer.

MARCH OF EVENTS
Soviet Satellite Reveals Scarcity of U. S. Scientists | Legislation to Be Spun To Train More Engineers

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Russia's successful launching of an earth satellite next year for legislation to encourage training of American scientists and engineers.

Central Intelligence Director Allen Dulles, other administration officials and members of Congress repeatedly have warned that U. S. production of scientists was falling far behind the Soviet Union's.

"These warnings have fallen on deaf ears. However, now, with Sputnik I in space, legislators are concerned about the Russian advance can be expected to act.

One result may be the approval at the session of Congress of a long-pending bill Senator George Smathers (D), Florida, to provide scholarships in scientific and engineering schools for sons of American war veterans.

Smathers' bill would provide that $100 million of the $256 million in impounded Japanese German assets would be invested in government bonds with the interest to pay for the scholarships.

WILSON AND COWS—Charles E. Wilson, who served as secretary of defense, longer than any other man, has returned to private life. However, the energetic former secretary will not be without a job.

Wilson is deep in details of the dairy and beef cattle business which he is conducting from his big farm at Baton Rouge, La. He has thrown himself into the endeavor with as much enthusiasm as he once did into the business of General Motors subsequently, the top Pentagon post.

For example, Wilson knows such details about his dairy that the number of hairs per square inch on their bodies. Meaning information? Not at all. Wilson says it is related to the ability of the cows to perspire and stand heat. Louisiana pastures, he expects pretty hot in the summer.

Wilson expects to process 200 dairy cows a day on his Louisiana farm. The farm is equipped with automatic milking machines can handle 40 cows at one time. Five runs a day will handle 200 cows.

Milk from the cows go through the machines into motor trucks for hauling to a nationally known milk canner.

FRANCE'S PROBLEM—United States officials are disturbed by the latest fall of the French government but they concede the problem is likely to exist so long as the Algerian issue remains.

France has refrained from any public statement on the French situation because the change of government is an internal French issue.

However, it is of concern to the U. S. that one of its staunchest allies is unable to maintain a stable government for more than a few months. Sooner or later it is felt, the French national assembly will have to face up to the Algerian problem and find some solution if France intends to save its prestige in Africa.

The fall of Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunory's government especially regretted in Washington because it came amid attempts to solve France's pressing economic troubles.

Miss Burrus, Program
Leader For HD Club
BY MRS. OSCAR BURNS

The Goldthwaite HD Club met in the home of Mrs. A. L. Reese on Tuesday afternoon, October 22. Mrs. Harvey Hale, vice-president, presided during the short business session. Roll call was answered with the "Kinds of Clothes Lines I've Used."

Our agent, Miss Burrus, passed worksheets to each member and they were urged to be sure and fill them out and return them at the next meeting. This needs to be done in order for her to make out her yearly report. Miss Burrus was in charge of the program for the meeting. "Convenient Work Areas" was the theme of the program, this includes screening of plants, clothes lines and trash burners. We were happy to have Mrs. F. D. Spradley join the club. During the social hour, the hostess served refreshments to 19 members.

Self Culture Club Hears Book Review
By Mrs. W. R. Hester

The Self Culture Club met Saturday afternoon, October 26, in the home of Mrs. E. R. Bruce with Mrs. J. C. Evans as co-hostess.

Mrs. Walter Summy was program leader and Mrs. E. B. Anderson gave the invocation. Mrs. Summy introduced Mrs. Walters Hester of Fort Worth, who in her charming manner gave a very interesting book review, "The Believers" by Giles. The book deals with the Shakers, a religious sect. It was interesting due to the fact that very few knew there was a religion of this kind. The club enjoyed hearing the review by Mrs. Hester, a former home town girl.

TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

Cotton Producers advised to save good Planting Seed—Good cotton planting seed with high germination may be scarce next spring. Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, said the situation which developed is due to late plantings last spring and the wet weather which has hit all sections of the cotton belt during the harvest season. The situation, he added, is even worse in the eastern part of the cotton belt and seed of certain varieties are almost certain to be in short supply.

Elliott advises cotton growers to save and carefully store any good quality seed of known varieties. This, he said, is one of those seasons when planting seed even with low moisture content can't be placed in storage and forgotten until next spring. A continuous check on stored seed is suggested.

Here are Elliott's suggestions for handling seed. Check closely for damage before storing and store those with high germination (80% is very good) and low free fatty acid content. Seed saved for bulk storage, he said, should contain less than 12 percent moisture unless good drying and cooling facilities are available. Small quantities of seed should be turned and sacked.

Large quantities of bulk stored seed, he said, should be cured by aeration to maintain quality. A portable fan and duct system can be used to draw air through the seed. A moisture content of 13.6 percent is the critical point beyond which storage may quickly become disastrous. Every effort should be made to bring the moisture content down to 10 or 11 percent on seed storage. A germination test should be run on the seed before planting as an aid in determining how much to plant. No germination test should be made until the seed have been in storage for at least 30 days which is the normal rest period of freshly ginned seed.

Hints on Managing Winter Pastures—Proper management of winter pasture will pay big dividends to the operator. But first, the pasture must be established. Winter pastures can still be planted this fall. Late planting means less grazing, but this is still better than none at all. Oats, wheat, barley, rye, ryegrass and rescuegrass are some of the more important winter pasture crops. They may be planted alone or with a legume.

E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, advises that grazing of small grains and annual clovers be delayed until they have a good root system to prevent their being pulled up. Upright type plants such as Alamo oats and Gollad barley should be eight inches high before being grazed. Prostrate types like Mustang oats may be grazed when they are four to six inches high and have established Forest G. Hill has been named the Melvin H. Baker Associate Professor of American Enterprise at the University of Buffalo, New York.

The Professorship was made possible by a perpetual grant from the National Gypsum Company.

Mr. Hill has been assistant professor at the University of California since 1951 and has published studies of railroads, grain trade and regional economic developments.

During the past year he served as a member of the Executive Committee of the Western Economic Association.

Only recently the Oklahoma University Press with the generosity and assistance of the Bureau of Business and Economic Research at the University of California published his book "Roads, Rails, & Waterways," a story of the army engineers and early transportation.

The book shows how the army engineers explored the West, surveyed the roads, canals and railroads, improved the rivers and harbors, built roads, light-houses and other public works. The book presents a full picture of their many varied crucial activities between 1815 and the Civil War.

Forest is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hill of Goldthwaite. He is a graduate of Goldthwaite High School and the University of Texas. His wife is the former Helen Shudde and they and geese are here! The hunting season opens one day before sunrise on Friday, November 1. Duck season begins on Saturday, November 2. Goose season Dec. 1. The season must end one day after sunset, daily. The real beginning of the season is notwithstanding. The honkers pass over the corner. It won't be long until the frost is on the ground.

are a novice at duck hunting there are a few fundamentals you should know. You must get your hunting license, which costs $3.15. Your Federal duck stamp costs $2, and at the time you get your license without these you are not legal. Another law is just as important. You must have your gun not larger than 10 guage, plugged to hold not more than three shots. And don't shoot from a motor boat. That's against the law. With these rules complied with you may kill five ducks and six geese a day. You can have 10 ducks, but only six geese, in your possession at one time. You also can kill 10 coot and eight Wilson's snipe in one day. Possession is one day's bag. If you are doubtful about any provisions of the shooting regulations, consult your local game warden. He'll give you all the help you need.

Despite rains and changing weather there still is a large dove population in the South Zone of Texas. Warden reports from most of the South Texas counties, indicate the doves are fat and fully feathered now. Dove hunting season in South Texas does not close until Nov. 17, except in the valley counties where there was a three-day white wing season. In those counties the season will close Nov. 14.

Year 'round Fishing
Rains of the past week have muddled most of the Texas streams. Top-water fishing has been badly affected. With deep-running plugs some big bass have been taken from the lower depths. There'll be rapid turnovers in the lakes now with the advent of cool weather. After settling there should be some excellent top-water fishing again. Meantime sandies and crappie are being taken in great numbers in most of the lakes.

Texans are lucky that they can fish throughout the year. In fact some of the best crappie and sand bass fishing is during the months of December and January. There was a big natural spawn of both this year. Speaking of spawn, the New Hampshire Game department right now is engaged in artificially producing trout. Through manipulation of artificial lights the biologists have been able to take 478,000 eggs from 369 female trout, three months in advance of the natural spawning season. These baby fish then will be used for early stocking of one trout stream in the state.

True Reporting
How well do you know the camp operator where you fish? I know all kinds. There's the fellow who always tells you fishing is great, people have been catching limit strings of all kinds, come on out, boy, don't miss a golden opportunity. A while back, Outdoor Editor George Kellam of the Fort Worth Star Telegram got suspicious of all this noise. He checked with fishermen on the camp operators' report.

One couple, who reportedly snagged 50 crappie and three nice blacks, told Kellam they fished two and a half hours and caught zero. Another pair of anglers, given credit for 30 crappie, said they were just sightseeing and didn't even douse a minnow. Still another twosome who, according to the camp operator, caught limit strings, said they fished 11 hours and didn't get a bite.

There's no law against this tale-telling, but it should come under the head of false advertising, and any camp operator who is guilty of it should be avoided. But, when you find an honest operator—and there are many of them—stick with him.

A Few Warnings
A word of warning. Be sure when you take your outboard motor off the boat now, that it is properly drained. Water left in the motor might freeze and crack the cylinder.

Also remember, it is getting dark earlier each evening and will continue to do so until mid-December. This means on your return to camp you should start early enough to get in before dark. Which reminds us that Justice has made a new lantern, especially for fishermen. It is boxed in a container, which permits its being carried in the tackle box fully protected. It is a powerful beamed spotlight... something fishermen have been needing for a long time.

Shooting Preserves
More hunters each year are taking advantage of shooting preserves to get their quail and pheasants. Texas now has several of these preserves. They are stocked with pen raised birds. The landowners permit shooting for fees. Some of them charge by the day. Others by the birds killed. In either event the total cost of a hunt with bag limit filled might be less on one of these places than you would expect.

Game wardens and in most instances the sporting goods stores, know where there is one of these preserves close to you. Check into it.

News Notes
Texas Open Championship Field Trials will be held at Camp Maxey, near Paris, from Dec. 2 through Dec. 10. This is the outstanding bird dog event of the south. Entries are from all over the United States. Information can be had from Mrs. H. B. Pittman, Box 454, Tyler, who is secretary. Earl Duffield of Abilene is president.

Texas Game Wardens soon will be wearing shoulder patches. Insignia will be black on yellow, with the Game and Fish Commission emblem and "Game Warden" printed thereon. Fish and wild-life biologists also will wear shoulder patches for identification purposes.

You who like to fish at Galveston will be pleased to note that the T-Head of the Pleasure Pier is open for free fishing Mondays through Fridays of every week until March 1. Saturday and Sunday fishing is 50c per angler. Bring your own bait, however, as the concession stands are closed.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Mrs. J. E. Bean (Clara Malone) of Van Horn called me this morning (Friday Nov. 1) to tell me that her brother, Ernest Malone, passed away yesterday at McCloskey's Veteran Hospital at Temple. Funeral will be tomorrow at Van Horn. I have been asked to announce an all day cemetery working at Regency Nov. 11. Please bring tools and lunch. El Paso continues to have rain every week. Last night Cooley School had its Halloween Carnival and the rain just poured. Consequently attendance was light. We went early.

Texas Briefs

Unnery-Go-Round

HOUSTON, Tex.—Susy Power, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Power promises to be a fine housekeeper one day. She doesn't like dirt of any kind.

The other day Susy remarked proudly to her mother that "those dirty kitties are going round and round and round."

Got out of answering the doorbell for "trick or treaters." Also got out of cooking supper and washing dishes by eating in the lunch room where they served Mexican beans, cold slaw, hot dogs, and hot tamales. Also cake and pie, coffee and cold drinks. Besides attractions in every room, we were highly entertained with two programs in the auditorium by David Mishel, expert magician.

I can't help but note the passing of Ora Welsh Jackson last week. Last summer I met her down in Brownwood. She said if she could just have a place to stay and a way to get around, at Ebony was right where she wanted to be. Long before that she had told me that she wanted to be buried at Ebony and she had been trying to get Bob Taylor to promise to take her down there for her last resting place. She wasn't old. I was shocked that she passed so soon, but I was glad when I read she was buried at Ebony.

I have been getting wonderful letters from my friends at Ebony. They all speak of the good rains and the gorgeous beauty of the autumn.

Mrs. Stanley Reeves says she doesn't think they will ever be able to sing, "When the Work's All Done this Fall," for that never happens at the Reeves Ranch. She says right now, besides looking after the cattle, sheep and the goats and his 1200 laying hens, Hubert is trying to get grain sowed, pears marketed, and pecans harvested. She says the pecans are of good quality and the pears are the best they have had in years.

Mrs. Alvin Hanna writes that they have had white frost, but it hasn't hurt her nice fall garden and her roses are still blooming beautifully. Between rains they are trying to get their fine crop of feed into their nice, new barn. In two days Alvin and Edgar Bolinger tied 3000 bundles of feed.

Mrs. Power let the remark soak in, then gasped and headed for the washing machine. Peering forlornly through the glass port were four wet and frightened kittens, who had indeed been "round and round" through the full soap cycle!

Mrs. Power hauled the animals out. "Fortunately, the machine was set for lukewarm," she said. "The kittens weren't hurt, but they were certainly clean!"

Real Realism

MIDLAND, Tex.—A Midland Community Theatre play rehearsal became a little too realistic. The cast was rehearsing the forthcoming production of "Detective Story." Hugh Broyles, a Midland school teacher, was playing the part of a prisoner handcuffed to a chair. Time came to free him. The key was missing. The wrong handcuffs had been used. Broyles was taken, chair and all, to Midland police headquarters where Officer Vernon Conn succeeded in picking the lock.

High Flyer

AMARILLO, Tex.—A high flying bantam hen became a mother, but had to call for help to round up her chickens.

Clucking madly, she ran round and around the trunk of a high spruce tree, while her chicks cheeped far above in a bird's nest. The mother hen was so excited she had forgotten the route she had taken up so many times during the hatching period.

Without the help of their owner, Mrs. G. R. Ross, the family might never have been reunited. Mrs. Ross climbed a six-foot ladder to reach the chickens, and handed them over to the mother.

Mrs. Ross said the hen had been hatching the eggs in the repossessed sparrow's nest, although there were the most modern facilities all around for more conventional hatching.

Final Rites For Mrs. F. Overstreet Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Frank Overstreet, who passed away in El Paso Sunday, were held in the First Baptist Church of Goldthwaite Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. Burial was in Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery.

Mrs. Overstreet was the former Bonnie Frizzelle of Goldthwaite. Mr. Overstreet and the Frizzelle family have the sympathy of all their Mills County friends in their sorrow.

Scallorn News

MRS. ORA BLACK

A severe wind from the north Saturday brought with it rain and hail. In less than thirty minutes 1½ inches of rain had fallen and the ground was covered with hail the size of partridge eggs. Total amount of precipitation through the weekend left 2½ inches in our gauge. This Monday morning grey skies and fog have cut visibility to less than one half mile.

Due to bad telephone conditions we were unable to communicate with neighbors last week and again this Monday for the latest happenings.

We visited in Brownwood last week with a sister, Mrs. S. M. Black.

Virgil Evans was a weekend guest of his father, Ed Evans and other relatives.

Mrs. Charles Wright of Mullin and grandchildren, Robert and Philip Wright of Zephyr visited in our home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Burk are recuperating from an attack of flu.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Casbeer attended the funeral of Mrs. Sam Everett last week.

CULTIVATED GRASS

Cotton and grain sorghums are major money-makers in the Texas Panhandle but a third commodity looms on the horizon whose possibilities are just now being explored.

That commodity is cultivated grass.

A few farmers have been reaping large profits from grass as a seed crop. Indian, grass grown on a farm near Morton produced 12,500 pounds of seed on 14 acres which sold for $1.25 a pound in 1955.

Two acres of Blackwell switch grass in Hockley county there shed 400 pounds of seed at $1.25 per pound, grossing $250 an acre.

These, and other trial plots, point up the fact that grasses may soon become an important part of every crop rotation. Although the price of $1.25 per pound will not hold up long with successive good crops, those few far sighted farmers gambled on grass and it has paid off handsomely.

In spite of the high prices, the growers had no trouble selling all the seed raised. From a total of around 800 acres in grass seed production in the Panhandle during 1956, the acreage is expected to increase by leaps and bounds.

Most growers agree that the price of seed will nose dive after a few more big crops. This may be a "left-handed" blessing for all concerned, however.

At present, the cost of buying and broadcasting this seed on over-grazed rangeland can run as high as $15 per acre. For many ranchers today, this cost is prohibitive. Cheaper seed of good quality will be in even greater demand than at current price levels, however.

Some growers have proved that grass will fit into money-making rotations. A farmer may grow a seed crop and get several months grazing as well. He can graze the grass in summer, pull off the livestock and make a seed crop. Or he can make a crop, water heavily and have good grazing all through the winter.

Most plots of grass were in the irrigated sections of the High Plains. The growers plant the grass seed in a small ridge,

A GOOD TIME TO PLANT DAYLILY

Now to March is the best time to transplant daylilies. Daylilies are easy to grow in many soils and have few enemies, they have been the busy women's favorite. It is a good soil conditioner because the roots will help to stop soil erosion in areas where the soil is thin.

FOR A PROFESSIONAL LOOK
"PRESS AS YOU SEW"

A good dressmaker knows that pressing is just as important as the way in which a dart or seam is stitched. In fact, the most meticulously handled dart or seam can look "home-made" if not properly pressed.

To get a really professional look, "press as you go." Begin by pressing the creases out of your fabric before cutting, and carefully press after each step. The time and effort will be well worth while.

Pressing technique is important, too. In general, specialists say, work on the wrong side of the fabric. Occasionally this is impossible and you may have to press such things as pocket welts on the right side. For this, use a press cloth. Always smooth material carefully under the iron and press on the straight grain of the fabric whenever possible.

In sewing cotton or linen, press when well dampened or use a steam iron with high heat. Press woolens with a damp cloth between iron and dry woolen, or use a steam iron. Use high heat for wool, but don't press too dry. To shrink out ease, pat with hand to hold steam in the wool fibers.

Press silk or rayon with steam iron or use a pressing cloth, dampening cloth as you work. Use medium heat and press with a light touch. Open seams with point of iron lightly before using press cloth. Be careful not to water-spot the fabric.

Press velveteen, corduroy or velvet with a turkish towel over the ironing board or stand an iron on end, cover it with a damp press cloth and draw the wrong side of fabric back and forth over the steaming cloth. Brush lightly while steaming to remove stubborn marks.
