Petition Filed For Bennett Creek Project

Hearing By Commissioner's Court Scheduled Thursday, December 19

A petition requesting the commissioners' court to create Mills County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1, was filed with County Clerk Walter A. Bryant last Friday. The petition requiring signatures of 50 property owners of the area involved had 103 signatures.

After the petition was filed with the clerk, County Judge John L. Patterson issued an order setting December 19 for special hearing of the matter by the commissioners' court. The hearing will be in the commissioners' courtroom starting at 10 a.m.

The County Clerk was instructed to issue official notice for the hearing. Notice to be posted and published for two weeks. The notice appears in this issue.

Boundaries of the district, should it be created, are co-extensive with Mills County commissioners' precinct No. 2.

Any land owner in the proposed district may appear before the court at the hearing and all land owners are invited.

If the petition is granted the commissioners' court will then appoint five temporary directors who will serve until their successors are duly elected and qualified for office.

After appointment of the temporary board members they will organize the board, file bonds and have them approved and take the oath of office and be qualified.

The board then will, within 30 days, call for an election within the proposed district to confirm or reject action of the commissioners' court. If the matter is confirmed the control and improvement district will be duly organized.

To vote in the election one must be a qualified voter and a resident property owner of precinct two.

The next step will be for a work plan to be prepared by the Soil Conservation Service. After this work plan is completed the matter will go before the U. S. Congress for approval.

If the project is approved by Congress then all actual construction costs will be paid for from Federal funds.

The district would be empowered to issue tax bonds for preliminary expenses, easements, letting of contracts and maintenance of the district.

Preliminary work regarding this Bennett Creek watershed project has been going on for some time. It was started by a number of residents of that area who are interested in flood prevention measures.

A temporary committee was appointed by the Soil Conservation District Supervisors some time ago to check into the matter of organizing the district. Serving on this temporary committee were: Jim Soules, chairman, Homer McCasland, Hollis Blackwell, Arnold Head and Dr. T. C. Graves.

It was after a number of meetings by property owners in the district that petitions were prepared and signed requesting creation of the water control and improvement district.

GHS Homecoming Saturday, Nov. 30

Plans are complete and arrangements made for the Ex-Students and Ex-Teachers Homecoming on Saturday afternoon and night, November 30. The reception committee will be on hand to open the festivities at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Barbecue dinner, to be served by the Lions Club in the school lunchroom, will take place at 6:30. The program will begin at the high school auditorium at 7:30 with Fannin Wilson of Houston as speaker. There will also be several other short numbers on the program. These are being cut short in order for individual classes to hold reunions if they so desire. Tickets for the dinner are on sale at the following places: San Saba Production Office, Yarborough and Duren, Little's, Steens Hardware, McLean's Cafe and at both school buildings. Tickets will be on sale at McLean's Cafe until noon of Thanksgiving Day in order for those friends from out of town who did not receive an invitation to purchase their tickets.

The success of this Homecoming depends greatly on the cooperation of all local "exes" who should consider themselves hosts for all the out of town friends and teachers who are expected.

All college students home for the holidays are invited to the Malcolm Jernigan home after the Homecoming program.

Ex-Students of Classes 1933, 34, and 35 will meet in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church. Anyone else wishing to hold class reunions, please contact Mrs. Jesse Moreland and a place will be arranged.

MARCH OF EVENTS

Russia Outspending U. S. | Atomic Age Theme At Brussels World's Fair

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—While Russia's space-flying satellite around the earth sowing propaganda for its maker

United States continues its plans to participate with 46 other nations in the 1958 World's Fair at Brussels.

Justified qualms are already felt in this country over the fact the Soviet Union's initial appropriation for its role in the Brussels fair was $50 million, compared to the U. S. States budget of only $11,800,000 plus $4 million for taxes.

Belgium is planning a world's fair grand the atomic age. The theme centerpiece of the fair's 500-acre area in Brussels' Heysel park will be the 360-foot-high Atomium. Being built in the form of a much-enlarged elementary cell of metal, the Atomium will be one of the unusual structures ever to contain display restaurants, elevators, escalators and moving carpets.

This "crystal's" nine atoms are represented by steel spheres, each 99 feet in diameter. The passages connect these spheres. Elevators whisk visitors from the base sphere to the Atomium's top sphere in 20 seconds. Through the diagonal "rods" will be by escalators and moving carpets.

Scientific exhibits stressing peacetime uses of atomic energy will be displayed in lower spheres. The Atomium's higher spheres provide panoramic outlooks over the whole fair and surrounding areas of Brussels. The topmost sphere will contain a restaurant. The Atomium will be insulated and air-conditioned.

Shining aluminum will cover the outside of the spheres and at night searchlights playing over them will give the illusion of constant movement.

Atomic-age humanism is the fair's keynote. One official says Brussels fair "seeks to break new ground by facing up to all difficulties of life in this modern age and by refusing to gloss over the exacting demands made by the search for truth."

Belgium, which has been planning this fair since 1948, expects between 30 and 50 million visitors. It will be the first world's fair since New York's in 1939. Thirty world fairs have been held since the first one at London in 1851, and the host to 12 of these has been Belgium.

The Brussels fair is organized under terms of the 1928 Paris Convention. This provides a minimum of six years between world fairs. No one nation, under these terms, may be host more often than every 15 years.

Baron Moens de Fernig, long prominent in Belgian government affairs, is commissioner general of the Brussels fair.

Main exhibition areas will include Belgian, Belgian African, Belgian and International Exhibition sections. The foreign sections contain national pavilions of participating nations. These will stress national life and culture rather than commercial aspects. The United States pavilion will stand between those of the Soviet Union and the Holy See.

International exhibitions will emphasize science and the arts as common heritages of all races and nations. Seven international organizations will also participate. They include the Benelux Customs union, Council of Customs Co-operation, Council of Europe, European Coal and Steel community, International Red Cross, Organization for European Economic Co-operation and the United Nations.

Visitors will see such highlights as the International Garden with some two million plants from all over the world. A World center will contain original masterpieces from many nations.

An aerial bridge 49 feet above ground and one-quarter mile in length will span the area of the fair's foreign pavilions, speeding travel and affording excellent views.

The $400 millions or more of this international exposition can be achieved by a declaration of faith in man's ability to meet the atomic age to the ultimate advantage of all nations and people.

NOTICE OF HEARING OF A PETITION FOR THE FORMATION OF MILLS COUNTY WATER CONTROL AND IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 1 THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF MILLS

TO ALL PERSONS WHOSE LAND IS INCLUDED IN OR WOULD BE AFFECTED BY THE CREATION OF MILLS COUNTY WATER CONTROL AND IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 1:—
Pursuant to an order of the County Judge of Mills County, Texas, dated the 25th day of November, A.D. 1957, Notice is hereby given that a hearing will be held by the Mills County Commissioners' Court on the 19th day of December, A.D. 1957, at ten o'clock A.M. at the Mills County Commissioners' Court room in the Court House at Goldthwaite, Mills County, Texas, upon a petition filed with the County Clerk of Mills County, Texas, on the 22nd day of November, A.D. 1957, for the organization, formation and creation of MILLS COUNTY WATER CONTROL AND IM-PROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 1; at which time and place any person whose land is included in or would be affected by the creation of such district may appear and contest the creation thereof and may offer testimony to show that such District is or is not necessary, would or would not be a public utility and would or would not be feasible or practicable.

That the nature and purpose of the creation of such district is for the better distribution, control, storing and preservation of the storm or flood waters of Bennett Creek, a tributary of the Lampasas River. The general nature of the work to be done will be the construction of a series of eight to fifteen flood detention dams on the head waters of Bennett Creek; such detention dams will have a series of drawn down tubes which will allow the additional flow of water within Bennett Creek for a period of fifteen to thirty days after a substantial amount of rain fall, thus materially reducing the damages to crop and range lands and impounding water for irrigation purposes.

Said district to be composed of an area of approximately 141 square miles all in Mills County, Texas, and described by metes and bounds as follows:—

Magazine Has Picture Story Of Deer Fight

White-tailed deer fights are seldom seen by man, and even more rarely captured on film. One such movie sequence, made by the Texas Game and Fish Commission in its film, "Hill Country," is described in the November issue of TEXAS GAME AND FISH, the official magazine of the Commission.

The movie has been shown to more than 63,000 Texans since its release. The story of the fight and filming is told in "60 Seconds of Fury," by Theron D. Carroll, biologist, with accompanying pictures from the movie sequence by Lon Fitzgerald, official photographer.

The two men had waited three days in the Hill Country for something unusual they could record in their movie. The movie cameras had been focused for a turkey scene to be taken in the late afternoon, but a six-point buck challenged an eight-pointer on the wildlife stage just as the turkeys came by. The entire fight took less than a minute.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

VERN SANFORD
Four deer on opening day. All four were bucks. All weighed over 100 pounds before dressed.
The warden stood by and as I leveled down the four fine bucks. And the evidence to prove I had them with a camera. I recommend it for the Texas who like to hunt in the open and don't care to afford to buy a license, or who don't want to hunt with three other hunters. We went to the Wildlife Management Area 30 miles southwest of Kerrville. There were 30 hunters there, with guns. They had been the lucky ones whose names were drawn for public hunt this year. The Game & Fish Commission authorized the insurance of some 590 of these permits. More than 7,000 persons applied for them. Which means that more than 6,000 were disappointed not to get in on the free hunt.

That is a tremendous difference, it is true, but right now the state simply does not own enough land to provide free hunts for everyone. For that matter it never will. Such procedure would be entirely impractical.

State operated areas were not bought for hunting anyway. They were purchased to study management practices. Well trained and efficient biologists put in long hours studying what deer eat, their breeding practices, the ratio of bucks to does, and how they get along with livestock.

On this game management area they have small pastures with fences 10 feet high. In these pastures they run a certain number of deer, sheep, goats and cattle. They make a constant check on how much they eat, what they eat, and their other habits.

Thus the biologists are able to determine exactly what the reproduction is and how the young survive.

In Hunting Blinds
Of course those who hunted did not get to shoot behind one of these big enclosures. Instead, they were placed on stands in open pastures. Each hunter had his own stand in known deer runs. Some of the hunters never had shot deer before. Several were old timers. But each was just as happy with the buck he brought in.

We also were impressed with the size and condition of the bucks. They were from two to five years old and every one in perfect condition.

Similar experimental ranges are operated in other parts of the state. For instance there is the Engelling Wildlife Management Area in Anderson county, near Palestine; and the Black Gap Management Area in Brewster county, adjoining Big Bend National Park.

The work being done on these places will be the deciding factor in our game supply for many years. The practices used on these areas also can be used successfully on other ranches, which will have a great deal to do with future deer crops.

Not too many Texans hunt rabbits any more. This is the time of the year however, when rabbit hunting is at its best.

There was a time when the cotton tail was recognized as a very delectable bit of meat. It still is in many states. However, rabbits always have been so plentiful in Texas that we take them as a matter of course.

Rabbit meat, fried like chicken, is a strong rival for taste and food value.

There is a big crop of rabbits this year. In fact the crop is so big that a tremendous rabbit hunt now is being planned for the Panhandle area, for sometime about mid-January. We'll have more about that later.

Most of us remember rabbit killing as boys, when we used 22 caliber rifles. The 22 still is an ideal for shooting rabbits, where there is plenty of room to shoot and care is used.

With the present-day automatics and rifles equipped with scopes this type of rabbit shooting is lots of fun.

However, when hunting with such equipment all the rabbits should be shot through the left eye. Any good rabbit hunter would count a body shot the same as a miss.

Of course, back in the early days there wasn't much fear of tularemia, or rabbit fever. By using care in handling a rabbit, however, there is no danger. Also, if a rabbit has the energy to run it isn't a sick rabbit.

Those Little Bass

Have you been out to a lake to see how fast the young bass are growing?

For several months we've been watching these little fellows. They come in close to docks and chase the little minnows and forage for other feed.

The little rascals, spawned this spring, already have reached legal size. This applies both to black and white bass. In about two more months most of them will be from 10 to 12 inches long.

All of which means that you'd better have your equipment

Just Being A Veteran Does Not Guarantee Anyone Hospitalization

Just being a veteran does not guarantee anyone hospitalization by Veterans Administration.

Dr. George T. McMahan, Manager of the VA Center at Waco, Texas, said VA first takes care of all eligible veterans who need hospitalization for service-connected diseases and disabilities.

The second group includes veterans discharged for disability incurred in line of duty or receiving compensation from VA for disability who need hospitalization for nonservice-connected conditions. They may be admitted to VA hospitals when beds are available, Dr. McMahan said.

ready for next spring's fishing. It's bound to be good.

Old English Lures

One of the most ingenious fellows we've run across lately is Doug English at Corpus Christi. For several years Doug has been making Old English lures, which have been very fine for coastal fishing.

Then he started out with other ideas, also in the plastic line. Now he turns out beautiful and efficient fish stringers, life preservers, and even ornaments of earrings, all from his plastic material. In addition he makes those plug shaped tie clasps which men wear with cowboy shirts.

Incidentally, it's reported that his plugs are just as good for fresh water fishing as for salt water fishing.

The third group includes war veterans without service-connected conditions who may, under the law, be admitted to VA hospitals if three conditions are met.

First, they must need medical care of a type or extent for which hospitalization is required.

Second, they must certify under oath they are unable to pay for the needed hospitalization elsewhere.

Third, a hospital must have a bed available.

Dr. McMahan said peacetime veterans are eligible for care in a VA hospital only if they were discharged under other than dishonorable conditions for disability incurred in line of duty, or are receiving VA compensation for service-connected disability.

Veterans Administration Office at Brownwood is located at 207 Brown Street.

Quail Season Opens Dec. 1

Quail hunters will find the best crop of birds in years when the season opens in Texas as Dec. 1, according to the Director of Law Enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. He says reports from wardens throughout the state indicate not only a heavy hatch, but an unusually large survival. This applies to practically every section of the state. There was an ample food crop during the summer and fall months, affording plenty of seed for the birds.

More than 28,000 bobwhites and 8,500 coturnix quail were released by the State Hatchery at Tyler this year, through clubs in different parts of the state. These, with the heavy hatch of native birds, are responsible for the big crop.

The bag limit is 12 in one day or not more than 36 in one week or in possession.

Well it has been so long since I have written that I thought I had better write and let everyone know what the Smiths were doing.

I have been sick for over a month and just did not write and do not know any news now.

I spent some time in Houston where I went to see the Dr. It has hailed, rained and we are still going strong.

While I was away Dutch went down in the basement and killed one of my pets, a rattle snake with 13 rattlers. I just hope there isn't a nest of them.

Dutch and I visited in the home of Lora and Glynn Nickols and mama Ashton Sunday. We always enjoy visiting with them so much.

Tuesday Mrs. Morrey and I visited some dear friends of mine in Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sims and Mrs. Georgia Kuykendall hasn't been feeling so well and she misses all her friends in the Scallorn neighborhood. How about a card and letter shower for her. I know she would enjoy it so much. Her address is 1901 Vincent Street, Brownwood.

Mrs. Loyd King has been attending the Garden Club Flower Show School in Goldthwaite, she came by my house Wednesday evening and honked. I had just started to fry Dutch a steak for his supper and I pushed the pan of grease over and I guess I turned the burner on. When I came in the blaze was going to the top of the house and the smoke was so thick I could not see anything. I opened the door and threw the pan into the yard. It smoked my house something terrible but I am glad it was no worse.

Dutch and I visited in the Carl Brown home Saturday. They have been in Houston where Mrs. Brown was a patient in Anderson Hospital.

We visited my dad who is still ill. My oldest brother was also visiting them.

Mrs. Bill Hightower visited Mrs. Bea Harris Saturday evening.

By PEARL CRAWFORD

We were surprised to find the ground covered with from three to five inches of snow Sunday morning. I can remember when folks surely were glad to see a snow. We would get a glass of milk, a little sugar and cinnamon and mix it with snow and have the best ice cream ever, a dish fit for a king. Of course that was before the days of electric refrigerators.

The Priddy school children are having a time recovering from the flu. They had to dismiss school again Friday because of flu and bad roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Shipman, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Brown and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Stone Shipman and daughters Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Fisher and children of Alice spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Fisher.

It was nice seeing Mrs. K. P. Caraway. She reported Mr. Caraway much improved after being on the sick list a few weeks.

Rev. L. L. Hays has returned home from a visit with his children. J. S. Tullos brought him home Monday.

William Cline, who was very sick during last week was reported better.

Mrs. W. A. Elms was a recent guest of Mrs. J. H. Vaughan.

Mrs. Stone Shipman visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Karnes at Brownwood Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Creek, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Vance visited Mrs. Jackie Creek and children at Austin Thursday. They found their son and brother gone deer hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Daniel and Mark visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Vaughan and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Daniel Saturday.

Mrs. Tom McArthur had the 90th birthday of Uncle Sam Marler announced over the Brownwood radio. Mr. Marler is a long time resident of Mills County and the Center Point community. He celebrated his birthday at his home Sunday. His eye sight has failed and he is confined to his home most of the time. He enjoys visitors. We wish for him many more happy birthdays.

Our hearts were made sad when we received the news that Henry Harris, a pioneer resident of this community had passed away at a Temple hospital Friday. We wish to express our sympathy to the Harris, Adams, and Little families in the death of their loved ones.

Mrs. Noel Ledbetter and son visited Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ledbetter Monday.

Mrs. Verda Price and James Eddie spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Stevens and children.

H.D. COUNCIL TO SPONSOR CHRISTMAS PARTY, DEC. 4
 The Mills County Home Demonstration Council will be hosts for an all day Christmas Party at the Youth Center on December 4, for all the women in the county.

There will be a regular council meeting at 10:30 a.m. Also the women who have made dresses in the workshop are to bring them to the Youth Center by 10:30 so they can be checked before the revue which will be at 3:00 o'clock.

We are to share a covered dish lunch at the noon hour. The Council will furnish bread and the beverage. Others attending are to bring meats, vegetables, cakes or pies. It will not be necessary to bring plates, glasses or silverware.

It is sponsored by the Home Demonstration Council for all H. D. Club women and all other women of the county. The party is an annual affair for the purpose of having more fellowship and exchanging ideas.

The Achievement Day for the clothing workshops will be combined with the Christmas Party. The garments will be checked as to how well the principle of fitting, basic sewing techniques, and of the advanced steps of interfacing and tailored buttonholes have been followed. There will be no prizes and no places picked—only constructive criticism to help the women do a better job on other dresses they make.

Part of the time will also be spent making corsages which have been ordered and are to be sold to raise money for the Council's treasury.

There will also be an exchange of gifts. The gifts are to be valued under $1.25 and over 75 cents.

Let us urge you to come spend an enjoyable day with us, December 4.

TRY HALF TURKEY FOR THANKSGIVING

Do you feel your family is too small for a big Thanksgiving turkey? ... Try half or a quarter turkey this year. It will cut down roasting time and you won't have the problem of leftovers.

Here are directions for roasting a half or quarter turkey:
 The tail and leg of half turkey together. Place bird cut side up. Sew loose skin at neck to form a pocket. Rub body cavity with salt and then stuff. Use your favorite kind, and pile loosely inside cavity. Cut heavy paper or aluminum foil and lay over stuffing. Lace across, catching skin on each side. Or mound stuffing on heavy paper or aluminum foil on rack and place bird over stuffing. Rub skin with fat. Roast at 300 degrees in the same way as for a whole turkey except the half is not turned.

Use turkey often. Prepared in different ways, it adds variety and good nutrition.
 For recipes that are different ask for extension bulletin "LET'S EAT TURKEY" It's available at my office.

WINTERTIME USES FOR THE ELECTRIC FAN

Have you stored all the electric fans until next season? If not, plan to leave at least one around for wintertime duty with special jobs. You might use the fan for drying clothes indoors during bad weather, helping to distribute heat evenly in a room, or quickly defrosting frozen food.

To distribute heat, place the fan so that the warmed air is freely circulated with slow speed of fan. To defrost frozen food, place the food in the air-stream of your fan.

Fans will wear longer with proper care. This means an occasional cleaning and oiling. Apply one or two drops of oil to each bearing. Run the fan for a minute or so to distribute oil properly.
 If you are storing the fan, clean first, then oil the fan, and cover with a large clean paper bag. Tie in place, if necessary to keep dust out.

TAKE CARE OF HOUSEHOLD METALS

Keeping the different household metals clean and attractive is easy when you use the right method and materials. Brass, pewter, copper, silver, aluminum, stainless steel and other metals look better and last longer with right treatment.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

BY I. H. COPELAND

Approximately 6,000 acres of land in the Goldthwaite area of Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District is now in abandoned fields and needs to be seeded to grasses.
 Much of this idle land furnishes very little grazing and will continue for several years to be of little value unless the grass cover is improved. This land often has such a poor cover permanent vegetation that it is slowly eroding away, further decreasing its value. With seeded preparation and the seeding of adapted grasses this land can be converted into productive and profitable pasture land.

Over 2500 acres of cropland in this area has been seeded to permanent grasses in the past few years. The land remaining that needs to be seeded to grass, however, grows each year as land is being retired from cultivation faster than it is being seeded.

Dry weather and scarcity of good seed have hindered efforts to get land seeded back to grasses. Although moisture conditions are favorable, the scarcity and cost of native seed still remains a problem. There was no native grass seed harvested locally this year, but a small amount is available from other areas. Those planning to plant native grasses can usually get better seed and cheaper seed by buying early.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Davis and children of Commerce were guests of her sister, Mrs. Houston Duren and family and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Downey last weekend.

Thanksgiving Day will be a happier, more meaningful day...

for a "thank-you visit" to your church or synagogue

It's a story we all know and love—the first Pilgrim Thanksgiving. The excitement in their little homes must have been pretty much as it is today—the tantalizing smells of roast turkey and pumpkin pie—the bustle and rush of eager children—it must have been a wonderful day!

But before the Pilgrims sat down to their feast they observed the true meaning of Thanksgiving. They all gathered together in their meetinghouse to give thanks for the good they had received, for survival through a long year of hardship, and to pray for the strength and courage to keep their faith in this strange, new land.

This Thanksgiving, why not take your family to your house of worship. A quiet hour of prayer and thanks will make your holiday so much more meaningful.

Wherever you are . . . whatever your beliefs may be . . . take time to offer your words of thanks . . . just as the Pilgrims did more than 300 years ago.

GIVE THEM A FAITH TO LIVE BY . . . WORSHIP WITH THEM THIS WEEK

Texans Are In For A Rough Winter, Says J. O. Musick

"If all the amateur weather prognosticators (made up of old-timers, newcomers, sinus sufferers and those who play hunches) are correct—Texans are in for a rough winter." So says J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association.

"In fact," he continues, "many expert weathermen also forecast an unusually severe winter. One thing for certain—winter will bring numerous dangerous driving days.

"And we can fortell, with certainty, that hundreds of Texans will be killed or injured unless extra safety precautions are taken."

To minimize traffic hazards, Musick listed six tips with which every motorist should concern himself.

1. Like a good Boy Scout—be prepared. Winterize your car and your driving habits at the same time.

2. In addition to a thorough mechanical winterizing, check tires, headlights and tail lights. Carry chains and a shovel for emergencies.

3. Make sure you can see. Keep windshields and windows clear. Check windshield wiper and replace if they do not do a good job. Also make sure the heater and defroster are in good working condition.

4. When starting out—get the feel of the road. If in doubt about the road's icy condition, test your brakes occasionally to learn how quickly you can stop.

5. Keep well behind the car ahead (a good rule to follow in any kind of weather) so as to give yourself plenty of stopping distance.

6. To stop quickly, pump your brakes in a series of quick applications. To slam on your brakes on icy roads, is to invite not found in many winter rations. These small grain pastures generally contain as much as 20 percent at their peak grazing stage.

In 1955 Texas produced 97 percent of the nation's mohair.

In 1930, 61 percent of all the farm operators in Texas were tenants, and in 1954 only 26 percent were tenants.

NEWS from YOUR COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

BY GEORGE G. REESE
Worthless trees and brush along fence rows rob crops of valuable moisture and soil nutrients resulting in loss of production and lower profits for the farmer, warns G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist.

Trees have wide spreading roots that may reach out 100 feet from the tree trunk, these sapping roots rob moisture from crops and during a dry year can reduce yield on a 50 to 100 foot wide band around the field. During a wet year the damage is not so great because there is usually enough moisture for all plants.

Winter is a good time to chemically treat fence row brush. Usually this is a slack season for labor, leaves are shed from the trees and weeds are dead, and it is possible to get closer to the tree, thus a better job can be done. Too, there are few susceptible broad-leaf plants growing at this time of year which might be damaged by the chemical.

An ax, a handsprayer, 2, 4, 5-T chemical and diesel oil are all the equipment and materials needed to kill fence row brush. Mix one pound of 2, 4, 5-T liquid chemical in six gallons of diesel oil and pour the chemical solution in the handsprayer. On trees less than five inches in diameter apply the solution to the lower 12 inches of the tree trunk allowing it to run down the bark channels to the crown. Chemical solution around the crown prevents resprouting.

On trees more than five inches in diameter, a frill should be made near the ground line with an ax. Apply enough solution in the frill to make it bubble out of the cuts. If the tree is cut off, apply the solution to the freshly cut stump allowing it to run down to the crown. A thorough application of the chemical solution is necessary for best results. Do not apply the solution during a high wind. The cost of killing a five inch tree is about two cents.

A topdressing of nitrogen fertilizer on fall-seeded small grain is a good way to add forage for livestock during fall and winter.

William F. Bennett, soils chemist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that nitrogen fertilizer is generally the main need for topseeding fall-seeded small grains, as there generally is ample moisture to put the nitrogen to work to produce additional plant growth.

The use of the right kind of fertilizer at the right time has provided dividends in most of Texas, he added. To determine the most efficient rate of nitrogen, or any fertilizer, soil should be tested.

On the Blackland soils of Central Texas application of 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre in January has proved beneficial, and 30 pounds per acre also is recommended in January or early February in West Texas.

Food value of the pasture will be increased in addition to increased amounts of forage for grazing if nitrogen is added. Oats, rye, barley and wheat contain scarce food nutrients

Greens Are Popular With Southern Cooks

By ALICE DENHOFF

WHEN we think of green vegetables, spinach is the first one that generally comes to mind. Other greens, not so popular, perhaps, should not be ignored. They are all high in vitamin A and vital minerals, including iron.

Spinach, kale and other greens often benefit by the addition of fresh lemon juice. It brings out the flavor.

Ham, salt pork and bacon go well with greens. Many cooks save a hambone to cook with greens for a hearty, filling main-dish meal.

Down South Dishes
In our own South, where the use of greens, such as kale and turnip greens, is popular, a favorite dish is kale cooked with ham.

Now for some recipes along this line.

For a delicious vegetable, serve spinach with horseradish dressing.

For 6 servings, wash 2 lbs. fresh spinach. Cover and cook, only in water that clings to leaves after washing, until tender. Drain if necessary.

Chop cooked spinach and add 3 tblsp. butter or margarine, heavy cream, 2 tblsp. prepared horseradish, tap salt, 1/4 black pepper. Mix well and Garnish each serving with slice of hard-cooked egg and the spinach haters will go for this one!

Spinach Vinaigrette
Steamed spinach, served with a tangy vinaigrette dressing, another smart way of preparing this vegetable.

To serve 6, wash 3 lbs. fresh spinach in 3 lukewarm water baths, lifting out spin and shaking well after each washing.

Cook in covered heavy saucepan in only the water that clings to leaves after washing. Tender, from 3 to 8 min., depending on size of leaves.

Drain, chop and toss with tblsp. each salt and sugar and dressing.

To prepare dressing, sauté chopped onion in 1/4 c. butter or margarine. Add 4 tsp. fresh lemon juice, 3 tsp. cider vinegar and 1/2 tsp. each salt and black pepper.

NURSERY TRADE FACED WITH ANT QUARANTINE

One of the worst agricultural nuisances of our time—the imported fire ant—has taken such a firm hold in the South that a ten-state federal quarantine on movement of soil and plants is being seriously considered.

A public hearing soon to be held in Memphis, Tenn., will decide whether to impose trade restrictions requiring inspection and controls on nursery products in areas where fire ants are present or suspected.

The imports, detected by the mounds they build and the painful bites they inflict, are known to exist in six extreme southeastern Texas counties in an area ranging from the Louisiana border to Houston. A survey is now underway in adjoining counties to determine to what degree the ant has moved westward into the state.

Other states known to be infested include Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

The most significant quarantine proposal up for consideration at the Memphis meeting is a requirement for treatment by approved methods of all nurseries found infested in any degree. Such treatment would have to be followed by a 30-day waiting period during which no shipment could be made.

In order to avoid these possible serious business delays from the proposed quarantine action, nurserymen should act quickly on their own to check for infestation and then either spray or dust their premises so that they might be rid of both the imported fire ant and the possibility of restrictive quarantine. Nurseries treated prior to quarantine action would not come under the 30-day restrictions.

The fierce little fire ants, which first appeared in Alabama from their native South America 30 years ago, are so named because of the burn-like effect of their bite. They aggressively attack small animals in numbers and have killed new-born calves on farms.

In heavily-infested fields, it is extremely difficult for cotton pickers and other farm laborers to work. The huge, hard-crust mounds they inhabit mar lawns, damage pasture lands, and interfere with farm machine operations.

Hot Wire Stops Mountain Lion At Sheep Pen

AUSTIN, (Spec.)—A "hot wire" from a six volt battery was sufficient to change the mind of a mountain lion recently at the Black Gap Wildlife Management in Brewster County, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration of the Game and Fish Commission.

According to Tom Moore, Superintendent of the area, the workers picked up the tracks of a big lion and followed it to the 7-foot fence around the Big Horn Sheep area. Large claw marks on fence braces indicated the big cat had attempted to jump the fence and had hit the hot wire.

Hair on the wire and torn up ground were evidence that the electrified wire had paid for itself in protection of the sheep.

The sheep, three ewes and two rams, are wild broodstock transported from traps in Arizona.

The Mountain lions evidently have their taste set for sheep meat. The following morning another lion trying to find the way into the pen, was trapped. Foot measurements indicated it was not the same animal that got the shock treatment.

Early Mailing Of Christmas Cards And Gifts Insures Early Delivery

Postmaster Lucile Fairman said today, "Early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts is the biggest single factor in getting all of the mail delivered before Christmas."

The Postmaster urged special care in preparing gift packages for the mails. Make sure that all addresses are legible and complete.

"If you have any articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the Post Office before attempting to mail them," the Postmaster warns. The limits on size and weight of packages varies, depending on where you mail your package.

When wrapping gifts for mailing, it is always better to use corrugated cartons, especially where there are a number of various sized objects in the shipment. Use plenty of wadded tissue or newspaper for extra protection against shock, and securely wrap package or carton in heavy paper, and then tie it with strong cord. Be sure to include an extra label with your return address and the recipient address inside the carton or package before it is wrapped.

Another good idea is to place a piece of transparent cellophane tape over the address portion of the label on your package to prevent defacing in transit, and always make sure to include the recipient's full name, street address, city, zone and state.

"Remember these three rules," the Postmaster said, "Wrap securely, address correctly, and mail early."

Wedding Bells

County Clerk, Walter A. Bryant, has issued marriage license to the following since last report, David Rupert and Isabelle Maude Parker.

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. — Legislative machinery is not built for speed. This was demonstrated as Texas lawmakers moved into their third week of work on a bill designed to prevent occupation of schools by federal troops.

A multi-hour filibuster by Sen. Henry B. Gonzales bogged down proceedings in the upper chamber. House members marked time to wait for Senate action. This apparently was to allow the House committee to consider both the Senate and House proposals before reporting.

Earlier, both House and Senate committees heard a number of religious and educational leaders speak against the bill. Protestors said, in effect, that the measure would be detrimental to the school system and would encourage violence.

Legislative proponents retorted the witnesses seemed "more interested in cramming social dogma down our throats than in educating our children."

STILL AT IT—Texans are ailed about the tidelands again.

A suit filed by U. S. Atty Gen. Herbert Brownell the day before he left office seeks to establish the tidelands boundaries of Gulf Coastal states (including Texas) at three miles out.

Texas claims tidelands 10½ miles out by virtue of its 110-year-old annexation agreement with the U. S. A law passed by Congress in 1953 requires the federal government to respect the states' "historic boundaries."

Gov. Price Daniel called on the Legislature to protest to President Eisenhower concerning Brownell's action. Daniel, who co-sponsored the 1953 tidelands bill, read a letter from the President which said, in effect, that he would continue to honor Texas' claim.

House immediately passed a resolution in keeping with the governor's request.

Daniel said that Brownell

"added insult to injury" by asking in his suit that Texas be required to pay to the federal government money received from leases on tidelands beyond a three mile limit. This would amount to more than $26,000,000 which the state has salted away in the public school fund.

House also passed a resolution asking Congress to call a constitutional convention. Purpose would be to draft amendments limiting the power of the federal government where it infringes on state powers.

LAKE STUDY PROMISED—Governor Daniel promised advocates of free use of rural lakes that they will have their inning.

A number of legislators from rural areas have tried during the special sessions to change the law which limits water in small (200 acre feet or less) farm ponds to livestock and domestic use. Freedom to use the water for irrigation is sought.

Present law requires a special permit from the State Water Board to gain irrigation privileges. Farmers say getting such permits is complicated and too expensive.

But spokesmen for cities and downstream users vigorously oppose a change. They fear wholesale irrigation would dry up the streams leaving no water for them.

Governor Daniel said he would not submit this issue for the special session which "is dragging enough as it is." But he promised a study of the problem with a view, perhaps, to making permits easier to get.

INSURANCE QUIZ — Senate investigating committee continued to put Insurance Department employes on the carpet to determine how well that agency is carrying out its functions.

Asst. Comm. Paul Connor took full responsibility for a three-months delay in action on a critical report concerning Preferred Life of Dallas. It was handled as quickly as possible "under the circumstances," said Connor. He pointed out the department was in a period of reorganization at the time and that it received hundreds of such reports.

T. W. Goad, for 17 years a department examiner, testified that examiners' morale was at an all-time low. He attributed to (1) legislative cutting of examiners' per diem pay and (2) hostility from companies which feel state charges for an examination are too high.

COST OF CRIME—Board of Corrections adopted a 1958 budget of $4,045,720 to take care of the all-time-high state prison population.

However, only $1,025,829 of this comes from tax money. The rest is earned by the various farming and manufacturing enterprises operated by inmates.

Number behind bars has climbed to an average of 9,726 this year compared to 4,987 in 1947.

MORE MONEY FOR TEXAS—Texans have been getting richer faster than the average U. S. citizens in the past 21 years.

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports Texas average income increased 447 per cent from 1929-57. U. S. average increased 279 per cent.

But there's a less rosy side. Last year Texas per capita income still hadn't caught up with the national average. It was $1,686 compared to $1,940.

Also, drought and farm depression have slowed Texas' rate of increase in incomes. However, said the Bureau report, some improvement in the farm incomes is expected this year.

RURAL ROADS SUPPORTED—Governor Daniel had more words of encouragement for farmers at the Texas Farm Bureau convention.

"There'll be no let-up on the building of rural roads during this administration," he told delegates. Bureau delegates were concerned with recent suggestions that the farm-to-market system is getting a disproportionate share of road money and should be curtailed.

SHORT SNORTS — Another Travis County grand jury is underway. State Auditor C. H. Caveness was called in to brief jurors on any possible irregularity that should be investigated. . . A new law prohibiting optometrists from quoting prices in ads is invalid, says the attorney general. Opinion said the law was improperly drawn and therefore void. . . Funeral services were held in Austin for former State Supreme Court Justice John H. Sharp, 83. Judge Sharp was appointed to the court by Gov. Dan Moody in 1929. . .
