STATE CAPITAL

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Next summer's campaigners are tuning up to play from a familiar score—the conservative vs. liberal melody Texas voters have been hearing for years.

But, like the rock 'n' roll version of a Stephen Foster song, it may sound different. Campaign pitches will have to keep time to the fast beat of 1958's new issues. Such as "curing the recession" and "catching up in education."

On the federal level, talk is of cutting taxes to give the people more money to spend. Here in Texas, it's raising taxes to give the state more money to spend.

In a situation like this, a voter can get confused. For each issue, there'll be several choruses—more or less drowning each other out. Some will chant of searing away recession with large-scale government spending. Others will say the only way is to give business a break.

For schools, some are calling for a nationwide program to require more work from students, provide better teachers at better pay, more lab equipment, scholarships for promising students, etc. But many Texans say "never" to any scheme that would eat away at local control over schools.

On how to get money to bail out the state treasury, there are already a number of tunes being struck up—sales taxes, income taxes, corporation taxes, more economy in government—but no prospect of close harmony.

Cowboy Hat In Ring—One morning, in between pouring his coffee and finishing his bacon, William A. Blakely decided to run for the U. S. Senate.

Blakely served as junior U. S. senator for four months last year as the appointee of former Gov. Allan Shivers. He was not a candidate in the special election when Ralph Yarborough was named to succeed him.

Son of Oklahoma homesteaders who had to "work out" for other farmers, Blakely parlayed a little grit into a lot of money—in law, banking, real estate, ranching, oil, gas, insurance and an air line.

He'll not be troubled by most candidates' sorest problem—raising campaign funds.

Incumbent Yarborough has made statements leaving the door open for either of two courses—running for another Senate term or a fourth try at the governorship.

Purse-Watcher Needed—Texas' governor should have some power to keep a hand on state purse strings after the Legislature leaves.

So says Vernon McGee, director of the Legislative Budget Board. McGee heads the board with responsibility for studying the fiscal needs of all state departments and making recommendations to the Legislature.

Under present system, McGee pointed out, after the Legislature makes its appropriations, only the individual department heads are responsible for how the money is spent. Many administrators are admirably "tight-fisted," McGee said, but others will spend money, that could be saved for later needs, just because they have it.

McGee's recommendation: give the governor authority to ask for periodic reports from departments and to cut from their budgets items no longer necessary.

Most other states have this system, said McGee.

Still Too Much Oil—Despite severe cuts in production, Texas is still producing more oil than anyone wants to buy. It could mean even deeper cuts and more idle drilling rigs next month.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson noted an increase of 1,208,000 barrels in stocks of crude oil. It shows, he said, that April's lowest-in-history, 8-day production pattern was needed.

He suggested that new wells coming in may make an even lower pattern necessary for May.

Set To Go—Texas Highway Department is poised for a $36,000,000 speed-up in road building if a new stepped-up federal aid bill becomes law.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said the bill, sent to the President by Congress, would enable Texas to avoid a summer lull in highway construction. Texas has already planned the projects in anticipation of the money, said Greer.

Designed as an anti-recession measure, the bill specifies the extra money must be spent within 12 months.

It won't put all the unemployed people to work, said Greer, but it will stimulate the economy. And, he added, it's not a "leaf-raking job."

Scientists Must Eat—With all the emphasis on scientific education, importance of training farmers and ranchers should not be neglected, said Gov. Price Daniel.

Speaking to a Future Farmers group, the governor said food is as necessary to the nation's defense as development of better weapons.

Texas' farm population, he noted, has declined by more than one-half since 1933.

Pinch On Small Schools—Small schools are going to have to have help to meet higher state standards in math and science, says Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro.

Beginning with the 1959-60 term, high schools are to be required to teach four years of science and four years of math. Sen. Martin said he doubted smaller districts had or could get, without assistance, the necessary staff and equipment to meet the new standard.

"Most have gymnasiums," he observed, "but a lot lack laboratories."

BONDS OF PEACE

In the twentieth century evolution of patriotic citizens' investment in their government, came our Liberty Bonds. We maintained our liberty. And we had our War Bonds. We won our war. And our Defense Bonds financed a Free World Arsenal. This has been a continuing, crescendo voicing of national confidence and a source of both national and international strength. In an era when the nation faces more and swifter changes in an inconsistent world, the need now is to maintain Peace Power—the money and the strong economy to pay the costs of peace. What once were Liberty Bonds—or War Bonds—or Defense Bonds may rightly be dubbed "Peace Bonds."

Yet through this evolution, there has been one constant factor. All the bonds have been Savings Bonds, providing for the individual an opportunity to lay aside some money in regular amounts, however small; for his money to earn interest; for the average citizen to make secure investments which, at the same time, build security for himself and for his country.

The individual grasped this opportunity. January sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds were the best of any for the preceding 24 months. The combined sales of $510 million were 10 per cent above those for January of 1957.

February sales were 13 per cent above those of a year ago, and the first month since July of 1956, sales exceeded redemptions. But yesterday's money does not preserve tomorrow's peace power.

Savings Bonds now accumulated for that dream home or a child's college education will never fulfill their purpose if an atomic bomb should leave a gaping hole where a home stands, or if hydrogen warfare turns colleges into rubble.

PEACE COSTS MONEY to maintain. Peace and the preservation of national and individual liberty, more important than mere physical security, cost money.

This is now the thesis of a national Savings Bond campaign. Purchase of more Savings Bonds—more "Peace Bonds"—can provide for the individual's future — and provide assurance that he, and all the rest of us, will have a future.

HOW TO INVITE DEPRESSION

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers. But he sold good hot dogs. He put up signs on the highway telling how good they were. He stood by the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, mister."

And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He got his son home from college to help him. But then something happened . . .

His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? There's a depression on. The European situation is terrible. The Domestic situation is worse." Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to college. He reads the papers and he listens to the radio, and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, Took down his advertising signs, And no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell hot dogs.

And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight. "You're right son," the father said to the boy, "We're certainly in the middle of a great depression."

WHAT KIND OF TAX REDUCTION?

More and more people are coming to believe that federal tax reduction is almost inevitable within the near future.

If that view proves correct, the problem before Congress and the Administration will be to blueprint a tax reduction program that will produce maximum results.

So far, most of the discussion has been concerned with cuts in the individual income tax, and there is no doubt that this will be a major item in any program that has a hope of acceptance. However, it will be a woeful mistake if the government stops there.

In the long run, spending and capital investment by business will decide how many jobs will be available in this country and how good those jobs are. The present 52 per cent corporation tax is a big and obvious barrier to investment. A cut in that rate would provide a real and lasting shot in the arm to the whole economy.

Congress May Cut Foreign Aid Figure to $3 Billion | See No Substantial In Cost-of-Living

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Congressional leaders doubt that President Eisenhower will be able to get more than three-fourths of $4 billion foreign aid figure he is requesting from Congress. Despite the recent bi-partisan drive launched by the White House to "sell" the program, Capitol Hill sources say there is still opposition to it among legislators.

In fact, they say that a $3 billion program about the limit that Congress will back might even cut the measure down to $2 billion. However, any reduction in Congress will only after a stiff fight from the administration which already is lining up its supporters for a last-ditch battle.

This was made clear when President Eisenhower set up the recent foreign aid committee which included prominent appeals by President Harry S. Truman and Adlai Stevenson. Eisenhower would never have invited the support of these Democratic critics of his administration if he had not felt that their aid program was essential.

COST-OF-LIVING—Government experts don't look for a substantial change in the cost-of-living, now at an all-time high, the remainder of this year. There had been hopes that costs might start to go down this spring but rising food prices off by weather damage to the fresh fruit and vegetable crops killed this possibility.

Now, the best government officials can promise is that the cost of living will "remain relatively stable" for the rest of the year. This statement, they don't mean there won't be any change. They expect some ups and downs in prices but overall to remain just about where they are now.

It also means that living costs may figure sharply in the congressional election campaigns in which the current slump already looms as the big political issue.

WORKS LONGER THAN DAD—High school students found a vigorous defender in the person of Dr. William C. executive secretary of the National Education association.

Dr. Carr told Congress that it simply isn't true that the pick the easiest courses and shun work. He contended that average high school student preparing to go on to college a 48-hour week on school work and commuted activity probably more time than his father spends at the office factory.

Dr. Carr said that enrollment in sciences among high school students has risen from 436,000 in 1900 to 2,926,000 in 1957. He protested that schools were being "scapegoated" for the U. S. failure to beat the Soviets in an artificial moon.

GOOD NEIGHBOR RELATIONS—State department worried over increasing lukewarm relations with Latin American nations, are beginning a quiet but far-reaching reappraisal of policy in the area.

The reappraisal is being forced by a growing liberal sentiment among Latin American governments. Dictators have fallen, to be replaced by governments no longer content with the status quo, in such important countries as Argentina, Colombia and Venezuela.

United States policy since the Truman administration has been based on the status quo, particularly in the field, but this policy is being found inadequate to deal with governments. So, in the next few months the State department likely to abandon several rigid economic views and come up with a bigger economic aid program for the hemisphere.

Six Goldthwaite Girl Scouts Chosen To Attend Encampment At Grapevine

Thirty girls and adults participated in the training under the direction of Mrs. Lena Mae Holland, District Director for the Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council, and Miss Elwana Hawthorne of Brownwood. A special feature of the training was the construction of a unit home where the girls cleared the site, lashed a table, set up cupboards, dishwashing facilities, practiced pitching tents, prepared meals, and other things needed in this activity.

Another highlight of the training session was the Camp-crafter's Tournament held the last morning of camp. Teams from each patrol were entered in this contest. The girls had a chance to test their skills in juggling, knot-tying and fire building.

From the girls attending this training, two patrols of eight girls each will be chosen to attend the 1958 Patrol Encampment. These patrols were designated A and B.

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

BY GEORGE G. REESE

One of the biggest problems faced by the farmer and rancher in Mills County is that of brush and weed control. More production loss is caused by brush and weeds in Texas each year than is caused by soil erosion or by all types of insects.

It has been found that even under drouth conditions, areas in which brush has been controlled have produced twice as much grass as in areas where the brush was uncontrolled. In terms of cattle production, this means that more pounds of meat will be produced per acre.

A perennial weed that was introduced into Texas is Horehound, this weed is found in dense growths in some of our pastures. Horehound can be controlled with chemicals. On tender growth, use one pound of 2, 4-D ester in 15 to 25 gallons of water per acre plus one-half cup of liquid laundry detergent with broadcast treatment.

If spraying is done with a cattle sprayer, use one pound of 2, 4-D ester in 50 gallons of water with detergent and for Center City called at the Paul Kincheloe home Friday night. I see he is driving a pretty new car.

Black spot and powdery mildew are the most common leaf diseases of roses in Texas, says Extension Plant Pathologist Harlan Smith. He advises the use of control measures, dusting or spraying, as soon as the first new shoots begin to develop.

Black spot is the disease which causes the large roundish, black spots with irregular or frayed margins on the soft twigs and leaves. It will soon be making its appearance. One of the best preventive treatments is the use of a sulfur-copper dust mixture, 90 parts of sulfur and 10 parts of copper, applied weekly except during hot, dry weather. Applications made during such weather may cause burning.

During wet weather, the rose plants should be thoroughly dusted or sprayed. If the disease becomes established, Smith recommends a weekly spraying with captan, man eb or zineb. Both sides of the leaves should be coated with the spray material. Spraying will give better results than dusting. Powdery mildew causes a white powdery coating on the leaves, buds and young stems of the rose plant. The sulphur-copper mixture is recommended for early control and as a preventative treatment because it is cheaper than other chemicals. However, Smith warns, if powdery mildew becomes established, then weekly spraying with karathane or mildex are suggested.

If both diseases become established, a combination of chemicals may be used. In general, Smith points out that the yellow and white varieties are more susceptible to the diseases. Radiance and Red Radiance varieties are resistant to both.

PRICES, PROGRESS AND PROBLEMS IN TEXAS FARMING

The "between - crops" period in farming is always a time for weighing prospects both on the farm, at the market place and in the country. Probably even more people have been set to wondering what's in store for them this year, considering unusual weather, uncertain legislation, and nervous economic conditions of which much has been said and little done. Following are a few brief sketches concerning late happenings in agriculture, dealing variously with commodities, weather, economy, and new developments in farm progress:

Wet Weather has blessed many and burdened many others. Plains-West Texas wheat prospects look generally good, having already attained enough moisture to carry the crop well into spring. This is good news to Texas farmers if not to surplus-minded government chiefs who have been having some trouble marketing their goods abroad already. Farther south, in the Rio Grande Valley, farmers are less happy with the weather. Onion harvesting has been seriously delayed, by as much as a month in some cases. During the delay, old-crop onion prices climbed higher in commercial trade.

The Recession, along with better supply prospects, is expected to help lower beef prices somewhat from the present healthy level. Some livestock men say prices probably have reached their peak and will gradually drop by as much as 20 per cent by early summer.

Texas Poultry Processors are keeping an eye on the California state legislature which is considering bills to discourage imported chickens. Although California produces only a fraction of the broilers needed to satisfy the brisk local demand, home growers are fighting hard to keep out Southland competition, not a small part of which is Texas competition. A sample proposed bill would require retailed chickens to bear a "date killed" stamp, hinting that shipped-in products become stale in transit.

Hybrid Cottons—Crosses between older strains which offer higher yields and better quality—are becoming feasible on a larger scale. Researchers say spraying cotton with chemicals produces a no-pollen plant which can be then fertilized with pollen from another variety, resulting in a true hybrid. Hybrid cottons up to now have been possible only through tedious hand-pollination.

The Ladies Club at Center Point met with Mrs. John Walton Wednesday to quilt. After a pleasant afternoon of quilting and visiting delicious refreshments were served to eight ladies.

Weekend visitors in the Walter Hamilton home were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Spinks and Randy, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Simpson Jr. and Dianne, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Young, Ann and Barbara, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hamilton, Linda and Alvin, Roscoe; Connie Simpson, Odessa; and Mr. Henry Simpson, Mullin.

Mr. Lewis Petrosky of Georgetown visited Mr. L. V. French Saturday evening.

A number of friends met in the L. V. French home Friday night and enjoyed an hour of Gospel singing. Later several games of dominoes were enjoyed. Delicious cake, punch and coffee were served to 22 guests.

Mrs. Slick Vines and Brad visited Mrs. Bertha Weathers Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vines and children of Brownwood, Misses Lauda Vines of Seagrave and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Vines visited Mr. and Mrs. Slick Vines and Brad Sunday night.

Veterans Land Sale Pick-Up Is Predicted

Austin—Further speed-ups in the already accelerated Veterans' Land Program are anticipated when money is received from the April 1 sale of $12½ million worth of Veterans' Land bonds.

So says Bill Allcorn, chairman of the Veterans' Land Board and Texas land commissioner.

The Board had already speeded up its buying program as funds became available on January 16 from $12½ million worth of bonds sold in December, 1957.

The bonds sold on April 1 went at 2.89 per cent interest, well below the three per cent limit provided in the State constitution.

The Board is now sending out application forms to 300 veterans each week. Allcorn notes that money now available is expected to carry the program through May of 1959.

Final Rites For Otis Allen, 36, Held Here April 9

Graveside services were held in Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery Wednesday afternoon, April 9, at 2 o'clock, with Rev. Presnal H. Wood, pastor of the First Baptist Church conducting the services.

Mr. Allen was born in Goldthwaite September 27, 1921, son of Mrs. Chester Ford and the late Otis Allen. He passed away in Beaumont April 7, 1958.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Otis Allen; three sons, Ronald and Donald, and Claude William Allen; his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ford of Florence; a half brother, Clyde Ford; a number of aunts, uncles and other relatives.

Wise Use Of Seasoning Improves Taste Of Fish

By ALICE DENHOFF
FISH for dinner? Don't apologize! Almost every city has not one but several fish restaurants doing a big business, but the diners aren't all ordering lobster or shrimp curry. No, the reason the restaurants are so busy is that the fish is well prepared. Blandness is masked by a judicious use of seasonings.

It does take a little more effort to make fish tasty than it does to merely broil or fry it, but it's worth it.

Barbecued Fish
For example, try this recipe for barbecued fish.

To serve 4 to 6, arrange 2 to 3 lbs. boned fish such as haddock, cod or trout, on a well-greased baking dish, skin-side down if whole fish is used. Sprinkle with salt.

Simmer together a finely-chopped onion, juice of 1/2 lemon, 2 tsp. vinegar, 1 tsp. honey, 1/4 tsp. curry powder or tumeric or tsp. Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 c. ketchup and cayenne to taste. Cook to consistency of thick sauce.

Spread thinly over fish with a pastry brush.

Broil under moderate heat, basting fish from time to time, for 15 to 20 min., until cooked through but not dry.

Improve Flavor
You can improve the flavor of broiled fish if you season it smartly.

To serve 4 to 6, arrange 2 lbs. fish filets or steaks on well-greased grill.

Melt 2 tsp. butter, juice of a lemon, dash of pepper and a choice of either 1/2 tsp. thyme, rosemary or sage, 1/4 tsp. chili or curry or paprika. Spread over fish.

Preheat broiler, then broil under moderate heat, placing fish about 2 in. below heat. Cook about 10 min.

Tart Sauce
A tart sauce will give a wonderful lift to plain broiled or baked fish.

Blend together 1/2 cup chopped pickle, 2 tsp. chopped green olives, 1/2 tsp. salt, 2 tsp. minced capers, 2 tsp. minced parsley, 1/2 tsp. tarragon vinegar and 1 1/4 c. mayonnaise.

Use a tangy mustard sauce to bring out the flavor of broiled salmon.

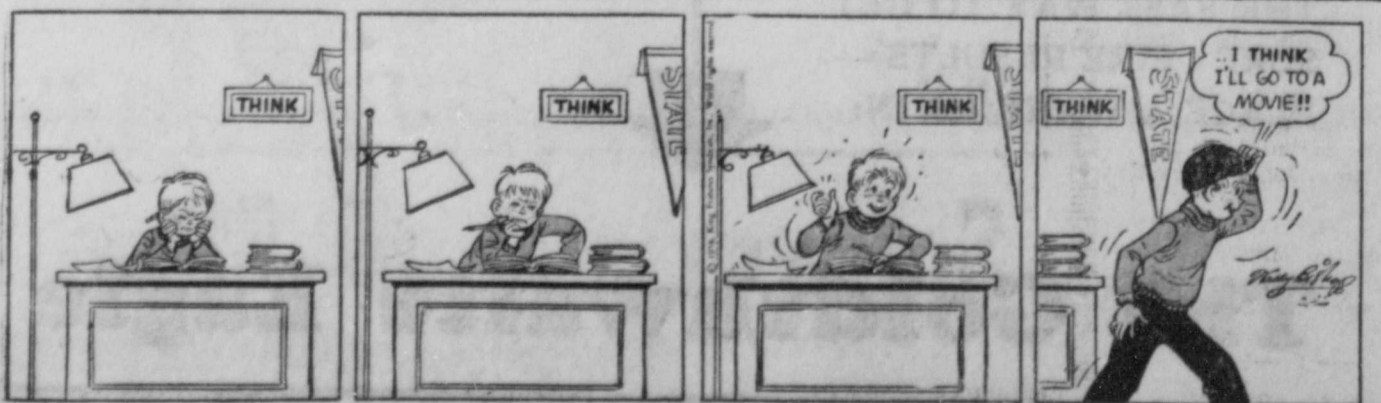

In a saucepan, melt 2 tsp. butter. Remove from fire and add 2 tsp. flour. Stir until blended. Gradually add 1 c. milk, stirring constantly, until smooth. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly.

Add 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper, 1/2 tsp. dry mustard, 2 tsp. finely chopped dill pickle or sweet pickle, 1 diced hard-cooked egg and dash of paprika.

Heat 1 or 2 min. longer, stirring gently. Makes 1/2 c. sauce.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

BY HUBERT L. BERRY

The time is here to plant all warm season grasses. Approximately 2,000 acres have been planted already in the Goldthwaite area.

All broken terraces and diversions should be plowed up; one good maintenance plowing annually is usually sufficient.

Damaged pond spillways should be either seeded or sodded to grasses for erosion protection.

Spray or control otherwise undesirable weeds such as horsehound. Also wild mustard is spreading fast. It was transported in here by seed oats from other states. Livestock will not eat this plant, making it a serious problem.

Take a look at your pasture grasses and make now for maintaining cover for maximum in producing livestock.

Observe results of lowing legumes. Nitrogen much needed element in soils of this area. When out toward San Saba look at Al Langford's Winter Peas and his lowing peas. Also notice by the river, notice L. ham's rye and hula clover. These crops were but managed also as nationing crops.

Oran Carothers, on line road, had intended up oats and Madrid order to plant millets but his clover looks is leaving it as a hay

MAPPING HIS STRATEGY—President Fulgencio Batista looks over a map of Cuba, in his Havana office, as he plots strategy against rebel forces. Batista said government troops intend to isolate the rebels and then capture them. (International)

It seems like more people worry about having a hunting or fishing accident than they do any other type of accident. Probably because more people hunt and fish.

Twice each year — during hunting and fishing season, that is—wives and mothers begin their worrying program about the accidental death of some loved one in a field or water accident.

Despite all warnings, by the time the year is over, there is some terrible vital statistics.

These statistics stand to be higher in 1958 than for any previous year. The reason is simple. We are entering a boating and fishing season with more water, more boats and more people involved than ever before. With this tremendous pressure the list of fatalities is sure to climb — unless!

Perhaps a statewide meeting to be held in Austin on May 5, will help save a few lives. At least it will be the beginning of an organized campaign to reduce gun and water accidents in Texas.

At a planning session with top-level outdoorsmen Governor Price Daniel told of his desire to bring about a safety program to cut to a minimum accidental deaths in outdoor pursuits. Governor Daniel called the meeting with the support of the Sportsmen's Club of Texas.

George Whittington of Amarillo, president of the National Rifle Association, was made chairman of the program for the May 5 meeting.

NRA has been keeping records on shooting accidents for many years and has some very interesting figures. For instance 46 per cent of the shooting accidents are caused by persons under 20 years of age. The group from 20 to 50, however, run a close second with 44 per cent. Perhaps as we grow older we learn better, because the figure after 50 drops to 10 per cent.

More than half of these shooting accidents resulted from unintentional discharges — the "empty" gun. Stumbling while carrying a gun tops the list. Triggers caught on brush are responsible for 6 per cent of these unintentional accidents.

Another interesting statistic is that 58 per cent of the cases were from shotgun shooting, at small game and land birds.

Educators present pointed to work being done in the public school systems of other states in providing training in the handling of firearms. They pointed out that some states now require persons applying for hunting licenses to pass tests, to prove their familiarity with firearms, before they can get licenses.

Safe driving now is taught in 450 public schools in Texas. It is foreseen that, within a short time, gun and water safety also may be taught in schools, perhaps through permissive education.

Representatives of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and 4-H groups, present for the Austin meeting, told of work now in progress in teaching water and gun safety.

Current stress is on water safety, because of the increase in the number of boats and the number of persons going on the water.

Boy and Girl Scouts and 4-H club members are being taught to swim, handle canoes and outboard boats. Also with the assistance of the Red Cross they are given life saving methods so they will be prepared for emergencies.

Meantime plans are underway to do something about the water hot-rodgers who deliberately endanger lives by unsafe operation of boats. Boat dealers of Texas have expressed an interest in legislation to curb dangerous water activities.

Numerous municipally owned lakes already have passed ordinances with safety requirements.

These ordinances usually prescribe areas for skiing and make provisions for proper equipment, such as life jackets, cushions and fire extinguishers. Many of them require that jackets be worn by any child under 12 who is a boat passenger. There must be a jacket or cushion also for each additional occupant of the boat.

Launching Ramps Needed — Another problem facing outdoorsmen today, especially the boat owners, is the question of access.

It is getting harder and harder to find places where boats can be put into public waters.

In many instances they are being fenced in by private ownership. Where there is public ownership little is being done to perfect access, or to provide adequate launching ramps. Ramps that are available are overrun on weekends when the weather is favorable.

We have a traffic problem with boats and trailers today that has been completely ignored for the most part by city, county and state officials. Perhaps it is our own fault for not doing more about it.

Many of the larger impoundments of the state are under the supervision of the Corps of Engineers. Generally these lakes have fairly good access, over paved or good gravel roads, to the water's edge. Here, however, it stops, unless there is an abandoned black-top road that enters the water. In most instances boat owners have to launch over gravel or mud bottoms.

On a few municipal lakes there are some attempts at launching sites. In Austin recently the city constructed a new concrete ramp on Lake Austin, but it is inadequate to serve all the demand made by boaters.

On lakes that are controlled by river authorities most of the marginal land is in private ownership. Fees of 50 cents to $1 are charged to launch boats from gravel or muddy shores. A few camp owners permit free launching by occupants of their cabins.

The state highway department has done nothing to provide launching ramps on right-of-ways that cross lakes and streams. Boat owners who launch their boats under bridges do so with considerable difficulty. This despite the fact that boat owners pay many thousands of dollars annually into the state highway tax fund, on motor fuel tax, to which they might be exempted if they claimed the exemption.

This access problem is one that can be solved, easily and quickly, by local cooperation. Get a few boaters together and call on your Chamber of Commerce. Work out a plan and then take it to the responsible government agency. It might be your city council, the commissioner's court, or even your state highway department.

But you'll find someone sufficiently interested.

CHEVY TAMES THE TOUGHEST TRANSCONTINENTAL HIGHWAY!

'58 Chevrolet station wagon with 250-h.p. Turbo-Thrust* engine swings down to the dock at Buenos Aires, Argentina, ready for record-setting run across South America to Valparaiso, Chile, and back.

Heading for the freezing Andes, with hood sealed tight by officials of Automobile Club of Argentina, Chevy arrows across Mendoza desert in 98-degree heat. Not one drop of oil or water was added during run!

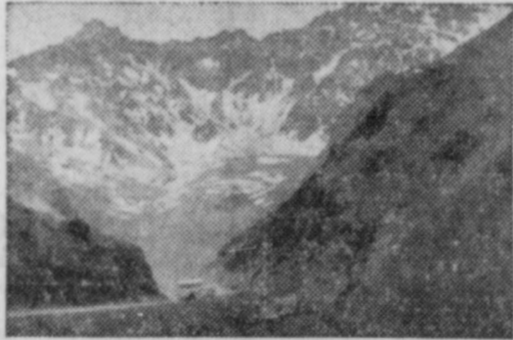

Turboglide* shows its velvet competence in fantastic foothills of Andes. Jolt-free powerflow of triple-turbine transmission was particularly important in keeping traction on hundreds of gravel turns.

Mighty Turbo-Thrust V8 seemed virtually unaware of astonishing grades up to 30 percent. Even at summit, 12,572 feet high, drivers found terrific reserves of torque from its 348-cubic-inch displacement.

Powdery dust of Argentina's tale mine country proved value of High-Level ventilation, with air intake high above road. Ultra-efficient air cleaner protected V8 from smallest abrasive particles.

Precision of Chevy's famous Ball-Race steering was a lifesaver on cliff-edge curves; its silk-smooth ease sharply reduced driver fatigue. Vital safety factor was full panoramic visibility of windshield.

Racking hairpin turns on Chilean slope of Andes tested superior torsional strength of Chevy's new Safety-Girder frame, demonstrated the better road-holding permitted by its lower center of gravity.

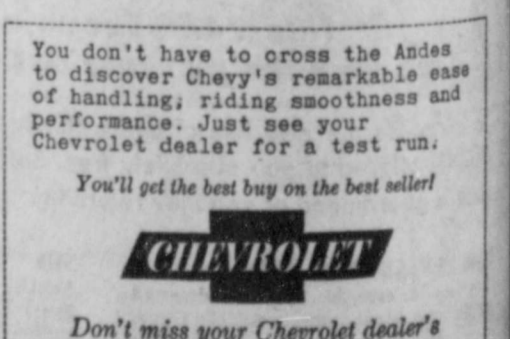

Jumbo-Drum brakes got a real workout in emergency stops for roving livestock, loose boulders, stream gullies cut across road. Drivers particularly liked Turboglide's special Grade Retarder on long hills.

Full Coil suspension, with a deep coil spring at each wheel, took big rocks and deep chuckholes in stride. Stability of four-link rear suspension held car true and steady on worst sections of road.

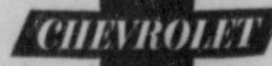

Turnaround at Valparaiso on Pacific—and car starts return leg of trip called impossible by A.C.A. experts! Engine was never stopped, oil dip-stick still said "full" at end of 1,900-mile test!

Pastor's Column
In Cooperation With the Mills County
Ministerial Alliance

By L. L. HAYS
Substitute Pastor

The Ministerial Alliance of Mills County has requested me to write an article to appear in the Goldthwaite Eagle. I appreciate both the Eagle and Alliance for their confidence in my ability to write.

Leading bodies of all faiths are accused of being over-organized. Organized activity is a blessing only where and if the person of Christ is the center of all our activities.

If the person of our Lord is not the object of worship, he will not be in any part of the matter. That is no new thought, but at times we do careless thinking and when our thinking is careless our expectations is vain. It is a calamity to satisfy the human conscience with perfunctory externals.

Something has happened to delay the manifest power on worshippers as in a few decades ago.

All older Christians tell us that we are in a Spiritual Death.

In the years gone by, we did not have numerous Church functions to keep us busy. We had time to worship God.

I am really tempted to digress a few words and no one is required to accept my views. Let us not get excited about all this hub-bub of getting a rocket to the moon. All the effort and large money spent in the effort has no practical result. If the effort succeeds or not, it makes no one better.

I wish that we might go along

Census Bureau Will Collect Employment Information In Survey

Information to be used in compiling figures on employment and unemployment will be collected locally during this week in the Current Population Survey, it was announced today by Supervisor James W. Stroud of the U. S. Census Bureau's regional office in Dallas, Texas which will participate in the survey.

The information collected from local families will be combined with that collected in 329 other areas in the country to provide the national estimates. Approximately 35,000 households are included each month in the Current Population Survey. These households are selected at random under the Census Bureau's scientific sampling program to provide a representative cross-section of all classes of the population, and of all types of areas in the country—large cities, small towns, rural areas, and so forth.

Facts on employment and unemployment collected locally are forwarded to Census Bureau headquarters in Washington to be processed by the Bureau's electronic computer, known as Univac, to provide the national estimates. The national report covering the information to be collected locally during the week of April 14 will be issued in Washington early in May.

Current Population Survey information will be collected from a number of local families by Mrs. Nella P. Casbeer of Lampasas, Texas.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: I have through the years managed to acquire three houses on which I receive a total of $255 a month rent. I plan to retire from my job at an oil company when I am 65 in July of this year. Will my income from these houses keep me from drawing my social security when I retire?

Answer: No. The money you receive from the houses is considered income from rents. It would not be included in the $1200 a beneficiary under age 72 is allowed to earn in a year without losing one or more of his benefit checks.

Question: Can a household worker check to make certain that earnings are being properly reported?

Answer: The Social Security Administration recommends that all employees check their earnings records at least once every three years. Pre-addressed cards for this purpose can be obtained by writing to or visiting the nearest social security office.

Wardens Begin Dove Banding; Big Crop Seen

Austin, (Spec.) — Mourning doves are already beginning their spring nesting, according to the director of Law Enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. Reports received by him from wardens throughout the state indicate a tremendous crop of "seed birds" this year.

"We had a big harvest of doves last September and October," the Director said. "There were many of them left, however. During the winter months literally thousands of big fine doves stayed in the mesquite thickets and river bottoms all over Texas. There was plenty of good feed for them. Now they are beginning to nest."

First nesting was reported by Warden Clarence Jones in Northeast Texas two weeks ago. Jones found the nest with two eggs on February 28.

Wardens this year will again tackle the job of banding young birds. Thousands of doves will be banded throughout the state by the wardens. When these banded birds are killed the bands should be returned to the warden or sent in to the Austin office so they can be checked. In this way, migration and age of the doves can be checked against the records.

4-H DELEGATES TO BE CHOSEN FOR DIST. CAMP

May 28, 29 and 30 is the date for the District 8 4-H Girls Camp held annually at Glen Rose.

Three 4-H girls, a leader and I will attend. The girls who go as delegates will be chosen by the 4-H and E.E.E. Committee of Home Demonstration Council.

To be eligible, the girls must have been at least 12 years of age by January 1, 1958.

Girls, if you are old enough and interested in going, write a story telling all you have done in 4-H since you have joined. List everything you have entered, any prizes or places won, any offices held, what you have done as a demonstrator (if you are), and anything else you have done as a 4-H Club member.

It is an honor to get to go to Camp because it is the one way to recognize work you have done in 4-H in the county.

Write your story and send it to me at Box 804, Goldthwaite by April 25.

Expenses of the Camp will be paid by the Home Demonstration Council.

CHOOSE COLORS FOR A REASON

Thinking of doing some painting, papering, or refurnishing this summer? If so, choose colors for a reason—to get the special effects that you may want and at the same time provide a comfortable, pleasant background for everyday living.

Begin by analyzing the room. Its use, shape and exposure will determine colors best suited. Decide how you want the room to look. Will it be light and gay, restful or dramatic? Do you want it to be predominantly warm or cool?

A good color plan has few colors, usually no more than two or three—in different values and intensities. The best color schemes grow from a dark color, a light color and a bright color. Black, white and grey are not considered colors, but are often used to give a needed accent of light or dark.

Choose your favorite color if you do not need to consider the color or colors of furnishings which you must keep. Or select a picture or print which has your chosen colors and plan your scheme from that.

Good proportion of the different colors is important. This means that your color scheme will be definitely dark or light and that either warm or cool colors will predominate. Proportions of 60 per cent of area for one color, 30 per cent for a second color and 10 per cent for accent, insure good proportion.

When you place the colors in a room, choose the color for the largest areas first—floor covering, walls and large upholstered pieces. In most cases, these should be your most livable colors, or colors that are greyed in intensity. Next, choose colors for small upholstery and the window treatment. This treatment may be a blend of the room colors, or match or contrast with the walls. Lastly, choose your colors for accessories and small areas—pillows, lamps, ash trays, etc. Usually, this accent color is the brightest color.

SALADS — COLE SLAWS

Here's a way to dress up that old favorite—cottage cheese and canned cling peach salad. Add some finely chopped green onion or chives to the cottage cheese before arranging it with the peaches.

Give cole slaw a bright lift by combining it with well drained canned fruit cocktail and broken nut pieces. Toss with a dressing of sour cream, mayonnaise and a little mustard.

Pressure Canner Testing Workshop To Be Held April 25

By LUCY MAY BURRUS

The Pressure Canning Testing Workshop will be held in the Goldthwaite High School Home-making Department, Friday, April 25th.

Mr. Jones and Mrs. Johnson very graciously agreed to let us use the department for the workshop.

Those interested will please be at the homemaking department promptly at 9:30 Friday morning, April 25, with their pressure canner.

As I stated in a previous article, it would be advantageous if a representative from a club or community would come to get the training from me and then help her neighbors and friends.

I will demonstrate the testing and then the ladies will test their cookers. If there are more cookers than we can get tested, the gauge can be passed around the county.

Please come prepared to stay until about 3:30 p. m. A covered dish lunch is always enjoyable.

I will also demonstrate the method of canning recommended by the extension specialists based upon research.

PARENT PROBLEMS

Do You Realize Danger In Unsupervised TV?

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

"TELEVISION, I am persuaded, often unites the family in common interests and can be, if properly used, one of our most important educational tools."

This is the opinion of Clara Evans in an article, "Television for the Preschool Child," in the December, 1955, issue of "Elementary English."

During the summer, she had supervised and put on a daily half-hour program, using an educational channel. She studied the reaction of 40 kindergarten children and 22 nursery school children. The parents were present and discussed each program at its end with Miss Evans. It was an ideal setting.

Frequently Quoted

I've seen her study quoted without explanation of the nature of the program. The average parent, reading this quotation, must suppose it applies to practically any preschool child and TV.

Notice Miss Evans' reservation, "if properly used."

In nearly everything one reads in defense of TV programs, even those steeped in crime and violence, there is this "if."

In the December, 1957, issue of "Elementary English," for example, Stockton Helfrich, Director of Continuity Acceptance at NBC, has a more vague and liberal "if."

To quote:

"If the television user or children is given average supervision of parents, and some direction by educators, the responsible editing by broadcasters need not and should not extend farther than it presently is practiced."

Popular Programs

You and I don't have much hope of seeing the broadcasting companies greatly reduce the fields.

number of programs and crime which are with preschool children. These programs and casting companies. Then, too, with the audience ratings, we expect the average program to get lower and lower with more and more primitive instincts.

But about this "if."

How high should be "average home supervision?" How many little children are affected?

Tend To Stick

In the first place, rarely been remembered and psychologists as well as good tend to stick. On the few psychologists and artists, defending the casters, have been hearing, as might be so parents are probably lulled into blissful content.

In the second place, the alert parents who that constant exposure of crime and violence blunt a little child's sense to human weakness. He has over him that they regulate his TV viewing.

ANSWERING PARENTS

Q. Should bright boys as bright boys be exempt from science and math in high school?

A. Of course. There jobs open for them.
