Large Group Tours Bennet Creek Watershed

Congressman Fisher Joins Party; Addresses Lions And Guests Tuesday

Congressman O. C. Fisher joined with a number of Soil Conservation officials, businessmen, ranchers and other interested parties Tuesday afternoon for a tour of Bennet Creek Watershed and spoke to members of the Goldthwaite Lions Club and a number of guests at a dinner meeting Tuesday night.

The tour was sponsored jointly by the Soil Conservation Service work unit in Mills County and officials of the Mills County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1. It was made to further acquaint those interested in the project with the general area of the district, to see first hand examples of flood damage of the past and soil and water conservation practices in progress in the district.

Starting at Goldthwaite the group toured the upper part of the watershed before making a stop at Center City where they were served refreshments, compliments of Mills County State Bank, at the Methodist Youth Fellowship Center. At this point Hubert Berry, member of the local Soil Conservation Service work unit, outlined to the group the work unit program for the year, goals set and percentage of goals achieved to date.

The next stop was in the general area where North Bennett and Middle Bennett Creeks join forces south of Center City and cause heavy flood damage when rainfall comes. Arnold Head, a resident of this area and member of WCID No. 1, explained to the group some of the flood damage that has occurred and losses experienced by farmers and ranchers operating there.

The next stop was on the Willis Horton ranch where the group saw first hand what can and has been done with respect to soil and water conservation, flood prevention through upper watershed detention dams and terraces and range management. Mr. Horton showed visitors what many termed a perfect example of an up-stream flood prevention project in miniature form.

LIONS MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

Introduced by E. B. Gilliam, Jr., Congressman Fisher spoke to members of the Lions Club and guests at their regular dinner meeting Tuesday night at McLean Cafe.

He told of some of the accomplishments during the last session of congress and of the problems that will be facing the congress when it convenes in January.

Also he gave some of the important points of the Flood Prevention programs as covered by legislation and the interest that is shown from local citizens throughout the states for the projects. He said: "This is one program that adds to the economic base of any community and it is a program that local citizens need and want before federal funds are allocated for it."

He also spoke about the wool and mohair program and its operation with respect to support prices.

PROSPECTS FOR BENNETT CREEK

Carl Spencer, executive secretary of the State Soil Conservation Service board, explained to the group that Bennett Creek project is one of 26 that have local financial arrangements completed and are subject to approval by the state board. The 26 having their local financing arranged for are out of 76 that have been surveyed and reported as feasible watershed projects.

On present basis of operation the State Board can approve five projects for construction per year. Mr. Spencer stated that the higher percentage of land treatment practices applied in a given watershed the better are the chances for getting it approved. In that respect Bennett Creek is making real progress.

Through this service it is hoped that the people of Mills County will take time to show forth thankfulness to God for His goodness.

Music for the service will be under the direction of S. L. Tate, Jr., Music Director of First Baptist Church. Special music will be brought by a quartet from the First Methodist Church, Goldthwaite. The scripture and prayer will be brought by some of the ministers from the county.

The message will be by Rev. George McCrary, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Goldthwaite. Rev. McCrary has been the pastor of the local Methodist church since last June.

BILLY BOB DELDIS

Billy Bob Dellis, a Junior of Mullin High School, was recently elected as FHA Beau for the school term of 1958-59.

Billy Bob served as FFA vice-president last year. He was also elected Hallowe'en King of the Junior Class, and is a half-back on the Mullin Bulldog team.

Eagle To Come Out Early Next Week

The Eagle goes to press one day early next week due to the Thanksgiving holiday which will be observed Thursday, November 27. The paper will go into the mail on Wednesday morning instead of the usual Thursday morning mail.

The Eagle staff will appreciate it very much if the correspondents, reporters and advertisers can get their copy in as early as possible. This will give the members of the staff an opportunity to enjoy the holiday along with the rest of the folk.

Since this is one of the legal holidays to be observed by the business places in Goldthwaite during the year, all stores and other places of business will be closed for the one day holiday.

Mrs. Bess Wright of Dallas spent the weekend with her mother and brother, Mrs. T. J. Shipp and Lewis.

Mullin Baptist Church Named Rural Baptist Church Of Year

The selection of the Mullin church was a part of the Church Achievement program in Texas. The program is geared to the three points of a better church, a better community, and a better world.

In each of the 125 associations in Texas a winner was named. A district winner was selected in the 17 different districts in Texas. From these district winners the church at Mullin was selected for this high honor.

Judging is based upon a scrapbook which is prepared by the churches, and the scrapbook tells the story through pictures and writing of what the church has done in the past year.

This is the highest honor that can come to a rural church in the Baptist Convention of Texas. It represents much work on the part of the people and the pastor.

Members of the church at Mullin and their pastor, Alvis Bell, are being congratulated for the fine work that made this honor possible.

SOLILOQUY

A CARBON COPY

Every once in a while you come across a "case history" so to speak where a person takes advantage of the carbon copy when writing to members of the family or friends. It works pretty well, so it seems.

The latest one that I have come into contact with is the letter that was written by Robert Ross, Gordon, Nebraska. Robert is a cousin of R. L. "Bob" Steen and he recently wrote a letter to Bob and made a carbon copy which was sent to John Dennis of Brady. It was a most interesting letter for more than one reason.

When Bob and John and their wives made a trip a little more than a year ago they stopped to see Ross and his family. Bob relates that he had never seen this cousin before. Well, they had a good time and having things in common, since all like livestock, they recently got this letter from Ross telling about some stock inspection trip he made up to Kadoka, South Dakota.

It seems that he had received a report from someone that some Texan had moved to this town and was in the livestock business. When they got there he found that TEXAN was none other than Walter Dennis formerly of Goldthwaite. He is the son of Frank Dennis and brother of Mrs. Jesse Moreland. Mrs. Dennis is Carl Letbetter's sister.

That made the trip doubly interesting for Ross and he just had to write and tell Bob and John about it.

Steen tells about how royally they were entertained at the Ross home by Ross's mother who makes her home with them. She was 96 years young at the time of their visit there and from all reports she "was the life of the party," taking the lead in preparing for the picnic and all other activities.

"There was never a dull moment with Aunt Bessie around," said Steen in reporting of their activities.

Aunt Bessie suffered a broken hip when she was 92. When you stop to think of it, that in itself isn't so strange. When a person gets to be 92, it doesn't take much of a fall to break a hip. But, the incident leading to the fall is the clincher in this case. Aunt Bessie put one foot up into the sink to wash her foot and this is what caused her to fall. She recovered though and several years later was still going strong.

Robert Ross operates a transfer business in Gordon and when he wrote to the boys in Texas he enclosed with his letter a card which he is distributing with compliments of his firm. I want to pass along to our readers what is printed on the card.

THE WORLD IS MINE

Today, upon a bus, I saw a lovely girl with golden hair; I envied her—she seemed so gay—and wished I were as fair. When suddenly she arose to leave, I saw her hobble down the aisle; She had one foot and used a crutch, but as she passed gave me a smile.

Oh, God forgive me when I whine
I have two feet — the world is mine!

And then I stopped to buy some sweets. The lad who sold them had such charm.

I talked with him — he said to me:
"It's nice to talk with folk like you.
You see," he said, "I'm blind."

Oh, God forgive me when I whine
I have two eyes — the world is mine!

Walking down the street, I saw a child with eyes of blue.
He stood and watched the others play;
It seemed he knew not what to do.
I stopped a moment, then I said:
"Why don't you join the others, dear?"
He looked ahead without a word, and then
I knew, he could not hear.

Oh, God forgive me when I whine
I have two ears — the world is mine!

With feet to take me where I'd go,
With eyes to see the sunset's glow,
With ears to hear what I would know,
Oh, God forgive me when I whine
I'm blessed, indeed! The world is mine!

Farmers in all parts of the county report cotton picking over. There are only a few bales yet to be ginned in the county.

The pecan crop is turning out better than was expected and the price is satisfactory.

The census report of cotton ginned in Mills County for the season up to October 18 is the same as the previous report, which shows there was no ginning in the county for the two weeks prior to that date. The amount ginned up to October 18 this year was 6,116 bales as compared with 3,661 up to the same date last year.

WAR VETERANS BUILD UP ENVIABLE CREDIT RECORD

Defaults on GI Loans Less Than One Per Cent

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict have built up an enviable record of repayment on the billions of dollars of mortgages guaranteed by the government during 14 years of the GI home loan program.

Less than one per cent of the more than five million loans have been defaulted. About 25 per cent of the total number of loans, on the other hand, have been marked "paid in full."

These statistics have been a source of gratification to officials of the Veterans Administration. They are particularly proud because they recall that, back in the days when necessary legislation was being debated in Congress, most opposition stemmed from those who believed the government would be assuming grave financial risks because of the heavy credit responsibility of the young men coming out of the armed forces.

A detailed study of the statistics is more heartening than even the over-all figures. For instance, it was found that most of the defaults occurred during the early life of the loans—usually between 1½ and 3½ years. Defaults on loans outstanding for 10 years or more, however, were at the microscopic rate of only two one-thousandths of one per cent.

And, of the over-all default rate of somewhat less than one per cent, some of these were not defaulted by the original home-buying GI's, but were made by non-military personnel who had purchased the home from the veterans.

SPORTSMANSHIP—It is refreshing to witness good humor among Republican and Democratic rivals in the heat of a political campaign when tempers grow short and exaggerated statements are the order of the day.

Recently, Democratic National Committee Chairman Paul M. Butler addressed the National Press club. As he developed the political theme of his speech he observed that not all the members of any political party would be expected to agree with its chairman on all issues.

He then remarked that perhaps not all of the persons in the audience would agree with him, and noted the presence of one "Ab" Herman in the room. A. B. Herman is executive director of the Republican National committee, who attended the luncheon to hear how the other half talked.

At another point in his address, in discussing the gubernatorial race of the millionaires in New York, Butler referred to Nelson Rockefeller's great wealth, and called his Democratic rival, Averell Harriman, a "small businessman." He brought down the house when he added, "after all, what's $100 million compared with $200?"

FADING RECESSION—Additional reports showing national economic recovery from the recession continue to be made available in Washington.

The latest concerns an index known as the "gross national product." This includes the estimated rate of production of all goods and payments for all services in the United States.

In the first three months this year, now generally recognized as the low point of the recession, the estimated annual GNP rate dropped to $425 billion. By contrast the third quarter rate this year is estimated to be $440 billion. This figure equals the rate for the entire 1947 year.

In simple words this index indicates a recovery of some 75 per cent from the recession low-point. And nearly all economists believe the trend is up.

COUNTY AWARD MEDALS AND COMPLETION CERTIFICATES GIVEN 4-H MEMBERS

About forty 4-H members, families and friends attended the covered dish supper at the Youth Center Saturday night in observance of National 4-H Achievement Day, which was November 15.

After a most enjoyable supper, certificates of completion and county award medals were given out. Those present who received the county award medals were:

- Clothing Medals: Mildred Spinn, Priddy 4-H; Sandra Arnold, Goldthwaite 4-H; Ann Trullitt, Mullin 4-H;
Dress Revue Medal: Karen Summy, Goldthwaite 4-H.
Food Preparation Medal: Judy Tubbs, Goldthwaite 4-H.
Leadership Medal: Barbara Stegemoller, Priddy 4-H.
Achievement Medal: Jerry Duren, Goldthwaite.

Those present who received completion certificates were Ann Trullitt and Peggy Green, Mullin 4-H; Mildred Spinn and Bonnie Spinn, Priddy 4-H; Sandra Arnold, Sue Childress, Karen Summy, Judy Tubbs and Janice Faye Watters, Goldthwaite 4-H.

It was regrettable that Star Homecoming was held at the same time. Had we known in time, the covered dish supper and presentation of awards would have been held at another time. Many of the awards were won by members of the Star 4-H Club.

Kayvon Coffman was to receive a Dress Revue Medal; Hilda Mae Frank was to receive a Food Preparation Medal and Wanda Kelly, Betty Louise Kincheloe and Vireta Nell Alexander were to receive Recreation Medals for their 3rd place skit in the district "Share-the-Fun" contest. Kayvon was also a member of the skit, but since she had the highest score and this was the one to receive a Dress Revue Medal she could not receive a recreation medal too.

Wanda Soules and Ella Ruth Clary were to receive Poultry Medals and Barbara Sheldon was to receive the Swine Medal. Other 4-H members who were designated to win county award medals but were not present to receive them were:

- Achievement: Eugene Duren, Mullin; Margaret Reese, Goldthwaite; Alvin Glen Tiemann, Priddy; Gold Star Boy: Alvin G. Tiemann, Priddy.
Clothing: Jan Yeager, Goldthwaite.
Food Preparation: Sherrie Cooksey, Mullin.
Sue Childress, Anita and Beverly Rhoades, Ann Trullitt and Peggy Green got the Youth

Center ready for the meeting. Sue, Anita and Beverly also were in charge of part of the recreation. They directed several games and then with the help of Sandra Arnold gave a skit entitled "How Much Is That Doggie In The Window?"

Mildred Spinn of Priddy 4-H led the group in singing "Do Your Ears Hang Low?"

We want to say "Thanks" to the mothers who furnished the food and cleaned up so well after the party.

CARE OF UNCOOKED AND COOKED TURKEY

Refrigerators will soon be bulging with the extra supplies of turkey and all the trimmings for Thanksgiving Dinner. Sanitary handling and proper storage are of utmost importance to the safety, appetite appeal and flavor of meat.

Uncooked turkey should be loosely wrapped in aluminum foil or waxed paper and stored in the refrigerator at 36 to 38 degrees F. Whole birds may be kept this way for three days; cut up turkey for two days.

Whole cooked birds without stuffing, such as barbecued turkeys, should be refrigerated at 36 to 38 degrees F. Wrapped loosely in foil or waxed paper, they may be kept up to three days.

Proper care of left over stuffed roast turkey is especially important. Removal of all stuffing from the bird is recommended. Wrap meat and stuffing separately in waxed paper and store at 36 to 38 degrees F. Use stuffing and gravy within one or two days and heat thoroughly before serving.

Questions are often asked on freezing uncooked stuffed birds. This is definitely not recommended by food specialists. This is a solid, thick mass which may spoil before it is frozen through.

It is best to thaw a frozen bird before roasting it. To do so, loosen the wrapping but leave it on, and place turkey in the refrigerator to thaw. This may take two days or more depending on the size of the turkey.

Mrs. Blackburn Gives Book Review At Self Culture Club

Of the eighty who died of yellow fever, at Brownsville, between the 7th and 26th ult., we notice there were a very large number of the Mexican population. CITY WEEK

AGRICULTURE'S CONTRIBUTION TO MODERN LIVING
Farm-City Week is observed in Texas during November. Cooperation in program will be the keynote.

As the state's population shifts from rural to urban, agriculture "goes" for every advance in science. There has been an increase in agriculture and agricultural products essential to the citizen.

Development of new products and farm commodities contribute to make life more comfortable.

Such development has begun when science concentrated during World War II.

laying groundwork for the commercial production of the frozen concentrated juices now accepted as standard food items.

More recently, processes for converting fruit and vegetable juices into stable, well-flavored and handy-to-use powders have been developed—another step toward "instantizing" and placing more convenience in the kitchen.

Agriculture has also kept pace with the consumer's changing needs by developing the type of product desired. The full-breasted broiler, the smaller turkey and the leaner-type pork found in today's markets are all products of careful breeding and cultivation to meet the consumer's desires.

For consumer protection, other farm products have been safe-guarded by grading services to insure quality and wholesomeness. On such food items as meat, poultry and eggs, dairy products and fruits and vegetables of a specified quality, consumers know they can trust their food supply.

The farm and city have always been dependent one on the other for comfortable existence. The farm has been the source of supply for essential food and fiber products, and

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: I will reach age 65 in March 1961. The booklet, "Your Social Security," shows that I will need 20 calendar quarters of coverage to be eligible for social security payments. I am not working under social security now, but I have 14 quarters which I earned during the war. Do I lose these quarters?

Answer: You never lose any quarters of coverage. If you earn 6 more quarters any time in the future, you will be eligible for retirement benefits. When you retire from your present non-covered work, you can easily earn the 6 additional quarters. But even if you do not, you were fully insured for survivors benefits until July 1958. This means that for a few dollars paid in the war years, you had a considerable amount of life insurance for about 14 years.

Question: When I come in to file for my retirement benefits, must I bring a statement of my wages? If so, how far back?

Answer: Yes, it will speed up the processing of your claim if you can bring in your W-2, Withholding Tax Statement, for the past calendar year. You should also bring in a list of the names and addresses of your employers and the approximate amount of your wages during the current year.

AIDS AFFLICTED—Actress Rhonda Fleming, volunteer leader for the United Cerebral Palsy Association, was host to a group of afflicted youngsters at her Bel Air home in Hollywood. Here she helps Donnie Spray, 3, enjoy the outing.

Most thrilling climax to any successful goose hunt is when your choicest bird appears on the dining table, brown and succulent, ready to be enjoyed by the whole family.

That is your reward for not only good marksmanship, but for your care in preparing your bird in the field and the careful attention you give it once it has reached the kitchen.

Uncountable thousands of wild geese, ducks and other game birds never get as far as the table, but are thrown away by careless sportsmen because of spoilage. Other thousands, even though properly cared for in the field, are ruined in the cooking.

The purpose of today's column is to offer suggestions on the proper care of freshly-killed birds, and to list a few popular recipes, in an effort to lessen this wanton waste of good meat.

The question of whether or not to hang game birds before preparing them for the oven is one that finds a difference of opinion. It all depends on whether you like game birds with a "high" flavor, or not, and in what degree.

It is pretty well agreed, however, that all game should hang at a temperature just above freezing for a period of at least 48 hours before cooking. (Game birds, such as geese and ducks, can be suspended from neck or feet, but must be kept separated to cool.)

Some claim that only a bird kept five to fourteen days is fit to eat. Take your choice.

Until you turn your bird over to the cook here are some suggestions that might help.

Do not pluck, unless you intend to cook the goose at once. Leave the feathers on, draw and hang, as soon as you return to camp.

Do not wash the cavity. Unless the weather is freezing, water will start deterioration and spoil the flavor. Swab out the cavity with a rag dampened with vinegar. If the bird has been shot in the intestines, immediate drawing in the field is necessary, followed by the vinegar wipe as soon as practical.

If you run into a spell of warm weather in camp, flies may become a problem. If your camp is unscreened, take a tip from experienced hunters and throw a rope over a tree limb, or pole, 15 or 20 feet off the ground, and hoist your birds up high. Flies seldom get that distance up from earth.

Once you reach home with your birds, and the family has admired them sufficiently, your wife will no doubt hand you a pan or bag and tell you to go outdoors and pick them.

Don't groan, for it will be a cinch to pick these geese if you douse them with melted paraffin. Allow to cool, and when you peel off the wax most of the feathers will come off, too.

There are many good game recipes applying to geese. A good one for pot roast goose is offered by the Remington Arms people through their public relations man Henry P. Davis.

"Clean the cavity thoroughly," says Mr. Davis, "wiping out with a rag wrung out in vinegar. Season the inside with a teaspoonful of salt and a half teaspoonful of pepper. Stuff with fruit and vegetable consisting of two peeled and sliced apples, a sliced carrot, a whole onion, and three or four celery stalks. Or you may prefer to fill the cavity with your own favorite dressing. Sew the opening together with stout thread and tie the wings and legs to body. Rub the outside of the goose with butter, seasoned with salt and pepper. Brown in melted butter in a heavy skillet. When the goose is evenly browned on all sides, add two cups of water, cover and cook slowly until tender—about two hours at 375 degrees."

Another recipe for roast stuffed goose, this one straight from an old Mammy down Louisiana way, should perk up any man's appetite.

First, wash and clean your goose as Mr. Davis has suggested. Then prepare a tasty cooked dressing to go inside the roasting bird. Mix bread crumbs to your liking, with the usual condiments—pepper, salt, fine-rubbed sage, parsley; a good-sized chunk of butter and a little water. Chop up and add a half dozen fresh raw oysters, if you like oysters, then stir the mixture over a slow fire until smooth and well-mixed. Tie goose's legs and wings close to body, then stuff with the dressing when it has cooled. Put the stuffed bird in the oven and cook for three or four hours, depending on size of goose, at temperature of 375 degrees Fahrenheit. Baste often and thoroughly while cooking.

After roasting, make a gravy from the melted goose fat and browned flour, cooked giblets (chopped) and parsley. The quality and flavor of your gravy depends a lot on how well the flour has been browned by stirring continuously in a large skillet or pan.

When you have cooked your bird and made your gravy according to either one of these recipes, make a tasty sauce to bring out the best flavor. Remington Arms experts suggest two that are hard to beat:

HOT ORANGE SAUCE: 1/4 cup butter, 1 cup flour, 1 1/3 cups of brown stock, 1/2 tea spoon salt. Sprinkle with cayenne. 2/3 cup orange juice, 2 table-spoons sherry or port. Grated rind of 1 orange. Melt butter and add flour and seasonings, stirring until well browned. Slowly add stock. Just before serving, add orange juice, wine and orange rind.

GAME SAUCE: Warm a glass of hot currant jelly in half a cup of port wine and serve hot. Well, there you are, gardeners. If you have followed these suggestions your goose is now on the table. So pull up your chairs and take a big helping and pitch in!

Four big reasons why FORD IS OUTSELLING ALL OTHER '59 CARS

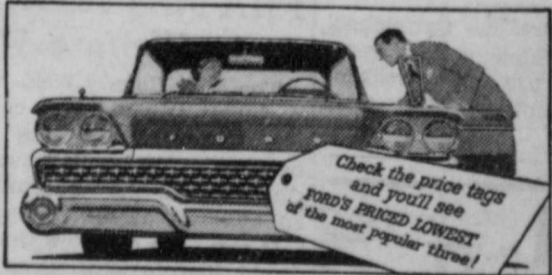

AT THE BRUSSELS WORLD'S FAIR, the '59 Fords were awarded the Gold Medal for handsome new styling elegance by the Comité Français de l'Élégance.

ANYONE CAN FIT IN A FORD: Our cars are built for people—full-size people who want space to stretch out. And all passengers ride in deep-cushion comfort.

YOU'LL BE THANKFUL EVERY TANKFUL if you buy the new Ford, for you'll save up to a dollar a tankful with new engines that run superbly on regular gas.

THE FAMOUS FORD LOW PRICES have already made a hit, because only in Fords will you find value and beauty coming together at down-to-earth prices!

The world's best-selling car is the car with Thunderbird elegance

In the greatest styling decision of the year, the American public has already shown a clear preference for the new Fords. Ford sales are way ahead of all competition. Why? One reason is the classic simplicity of their Thunderbird-inspired design—clean, crisp lines that are pure automobile! And Fords are built for people—to sit in, to drive, to ride in—with comfort.

The car in hottest demand across the land has greater roominess and comfort

Thousands of customers have bought the new Ford over all competition for another compelling reason—it's a true six-passenger car. (The only Ford passenger car we recommend is the Thunderbird!) All six Ford passengers get plenty of every kind of room, from leg and head to elbow and knee. Rear seat passengers don't feel like they're riding with their feet in a bucket.

The No. 1 car in sales saves money on gas, on oil, on maintenance bills

A new Ford will save you up to $4 a gallon on gas. That's because both standard engines—Six or Thunderbird V-8—thrive on regular gas. And Ford saves on oil, too, with a Full-Flow Oil Filter as standard equipment. Drive 4000 miles between oil changes! And you can forget about waxing your car. Ford's Diamond Lustre Finish stays gleaming bright without waxing—ever!

The most popular American car is priced as much as $102.75 lower

Ford costs you less right down the line than the competition. Compare price tags and you'll see that the manufacturer's suggested retail price of a Ford equipped with radio, heater and automatic transmission, is as much as $102.75 less than the major competition! And on an air-conditioned car, you can save up to $219.85. So compare and save on a 1959 Ford!

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Clara Malone and her mother, Mrs. Breeding, and her sister, Mrs. Malone, called on us last afternoon. They are our relatives here. They live in El Paso, which is now a part of our home town. Mrs. Malone teaches in the El Paso School and Jay is attending a law school in downtown El Paso. They all used to live in the lifetime of our mother, Mrs. Nellie Malone. Her grandson, it seems so familiar with the atmosphere of our home down there. From my sister, Mrs. Breeding, of Fort Worth, Texas, who has been at the Air Force Base in Paris, France, since August 31, writes she has had a three weeks course in psychiatry at the University in West Germany—she leaves everything about the country and the people. Her wife, Harley, was called for Paris Sept. 27. She bought her ticket and is ready to be off, when she came over on the train. She had learned her own that she could wait six months. He said she would fly her over and would wait till they had her. He said it might be December. But just last week she received her ticket from Carswell. She will leave Fort Worth Nov. 23, will fly from there to Philadelphia and from there to McGuire AFB, New Jersey. At 5 a. m., Nov. 24, she will leave for France, and thanks to the jet age—she is scheduled to arrive in Paris in just six hours.

In 1910 Otie Willson of Dulin and I went to Ochiltree to teach. There we met Nelly Fine, a young man from Brownwood. His uncle, Mr. T. S. Parker, was our school superintendent. Mr. Fine and his wife now live at Bangs. They and Otie and I have never let our friendship grow cold, but each summer we meet with one another to celebrate. This last summer we met with Otie at Dulin. Mr. and Mrs. Fine have a son, Dr. Neil Casey Fine, who has been head of the animal husbandry department in Texas Tech at Lubbock. He has been at Tech as a student and faculty member for the better part of 28 years. Since Bill is a graduate of Tech, he gets the Tehsan. The October number carries a picture of Dr. Fine and tells of his recent resignation from Tech to rejoin the U. S. International Cooperation Administration. He was an ICA livestock advisor in Iraq from 1954 through part of 1956 while on leave of absence from Tech. He expects to be stationed in El Salvador, Central America, as a livestock advisor to the ministry of agriculture. His family will accompany him.

The other night Johnny said he would like to see his name in print. I got the Eagle and showed him his name. He was so pleased he took it at once to show it to his mamma. I was once in a journalism class in the Dallas Night School, taught by Mr. John S. King, then managing editor of The Dallas News. He said, "Always mention names. Everyone likes to see his name in print."

Our chrysanthemums have been gorgeous, but most of them are fading now. However, there is one still bright with bloom. Last April while I was in the hospital, the church sent me a chrysanthemum blooming in a pot. When the blooms faded, I set it out in the bed. Now it is covered with beautiful, large, yellow flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry McCasland of Pittsburg and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shorn and boys of Fort Worth were guests of Mrs. H. P. Harris and other relatives last weekend.

NEWS from YOUR COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

BY GEORGE G. REESE

YOU CAN PLANT ROSES NOW

Anyone can grow roses, according to A. F. Dewerth, head, Department of Floriculture, Texas A&M College. They may be planted in the fall or spring. In Texas, fall planting is generally preferred.

Aim for quality and you may also get quantity. Many gardeners try to grow too many varieties or too many plants. Essentials for success with roses are: proper planting, a sunny location and well-drained soil. Start with No. 1 grade plants, and have the ground ready when plants arrive. Make sure roots are never exposed to sunlight or drying winds.

Roses are probably the most popular of all garden flowers. Through research, new methods have been developed for controlling diseases and insects. Roses attain their best growth in the full sunshine, but good results may be obtained if they are exposed to sunshine for at least 6 to 8 hours a day. If the plants are in the morning shade the foliage will remain wet with dew for a few hours longer than if in direct sunlight, and the presence of moisture on the leaves is a very favorable condition for the development of several leaf diseases.

Roses require large amounts of water, the soil should be wet to a depth of 8 to 12 inches after each irrigation. Roses are more often overfed than underfed. A judicious use of fertilizers will aid in producing superior blooms, but fertilizers will not replace good general care, including proper watering and spraying for insects and disease control.

Roses prefer a slightly acid soil. The pH values of the soil in Mills County ranges from about 7 to 8. This can be corrected for roses by adding one to two pounds of sulfur per 100 square feet. This sulfur may be mixed in the soil at time of planting or about one week before planting.

There are many diseases of roses. Fortunately, most of them are of minor importance—or appear chiefly on plants that have been weakened by unfavorable cultural conditions. Unfavorable climatic factors, insects, or some other disease. It is true, however, that black spot, powdery mildew, rust and crown gall may be considered to be of major importance. Furthermore, control measures commonly recommended for black spot or powdery mildew are effective against rust.

Black spot is spread by splashing water, and infection takes place only when water remains on the leaves for several hours. To control black spot or powdery mildew, begin spraying or dusting when leaves are half-grown. Spray or dust at weekly intervals during the spring. A sulfur copper dust (90:10), or a sulfur-ferbam dust are very effective in controlling these two diseases.

LIVESTOCK SURVEY

About November 20, thirty-five thousand Texas livestock farmers, ranchmen and poultrymen will receive a December 1, 1958 Livestock Survey Card. This survey is conducted by the Post Office Department in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

Farmers have an interest in the answers this survey provides and "grass roots" reports are needed by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin to prepare estimates of livestock and poultry numbers and milk production.

Government crop and livestock reports are the farmer's opportunity to have information for planning production and marketing. Do your part by filling out this card and returning promptly to your mail box.

COTTON

Producers on December 15, by referendum, will determine whether marketing quotas will continue in operation, the kind of allotment program and the level of price support for the 1959 cotton crop. The referendum is of vital concern to every cotton grower.

Where are the nine? I think I know! We are off in ignorance of the truth. The truth that healing for our leprous souls came by the SON OF GOD and HIM alone. Eagles Lose Last Game Of Season; 22 Men Returning For '59 Season

The Goldthwaite Eagles lost to the Mason Cowpunchers on Eagle Field last Friday night in the last game of the season by a score of 28-8. It was anybody's game until the middle of the fourth quarter. The Eagles held the Cowpunchers to a 0-0 score at the end of the first quarter. Mason scored on a two yard plunge in the second quarter but try for extra point failed.

As the teams left the field at half time, the score was 6-0 in favor of Mason. The Cowpunchers took the kick-off following the half and marched for a touchdown, try for extra point was good and Mason led 13-0. The Eagles took the kick-off following the Mason TD and marched down the field for a touchdown. Del Barnett made a fine 44 yard run for the score. Tom Graves passed to Gerry Head for the two point conversion, thus making the score, Goldthwaite 8—Mason 13.

There was no further scoring until the middle of the fourth quarter when Mason's quarterback kept and went five yards around end for the TD. Mason ran over the two points conversion making the score 21-8. There was no further scoring in the ball game until the last 20 seconds of play when Mason's LH ran 20 yards for their final TD. The kick was good and the game ended 28-8 in favor of Mason.

The entire Eagle team played outstanding ball. It would be hard to single out any one or two boys as the outstanding ball players, according to Coach Blansit.

Glen Carr led a line of Alfred Starks, Charlie Wilkins, Gene Elliott, Gary Straley, Jimmy Smith, John Burdette and Joe McKenzie in playing some of the finest offensive football for the Eagles this season. Led by the hard charges of Del Barnett, the backfield of Tom Graves, Gerry Head and Mike Hoover, made repeated gains into the larger and more experienced Mason line. Many of these above named boys also played fine defensive football; they were joined by Jimmy Wigley, Earl Reynolds, Billy Blackburn, Charles Sherwood and Robert McKenzie in holding the highly touted Mason offensive in check most of the night. It is interesting to note that the Eagles played the Cowpunchers—a closer ball game than did any other team in the district, stated Coach Blansit.

The only boys who will not be back for the '59 football season are: Gene Elliott, Glen Carr, Prentiss Head, Del Barnett, and Gary Straley. Twenty-two boys who were listed on this year's roster will be returning next year.

Charles J. Hill Is Local Chairman For ACC Fund Drive

Abilene, (Spl.) — Charles J. Hill, minister of the Church of Christ and graduate of Abilene Christian College, has been named chairman of the Goldthwaite campaign among friends of ACC as part of a widespread drive to raise $500,000 for the construction of a new classroom building.

The new building will be erected as a south wing to the Hardin Administration Building and will be designated as the Citizenship Center. In appearance, the south wing will match the Bible Building, erected by friends of the College in 1955 as a north wing to the administration building.

The proposed building will serve 727 students at one time and will contain about 20 classrooms, 48 faculty offices, and a closed-circuit TV system to be used in coordinating work of the Education Department. College officials say the building is a vital need in face of record enrollments the past five years. Current enrollment is 2,456.
