NOTE FROM BULL—After publishing the recent article which was submitted to the Eagle by Charles Ed Bull, about the early days of Big Valley School I received a letter from Mr. Bull which reads in part:

"Glad you were able to use the 'Pistle to the Postle Paul'. I was of the opinion that OLD TIME Mills County residents would enjoy reading it, and I hoped they would 'get a laugh' from it. I have found by experience that a good laugh is worth more than a pill.

"I shall be writing other boyhood experiences for you from time to time. I should be pleased to hear from any of your readers, more particularly old friends of the Bulls. What these may be able to tell me may result in resurrecting old memories which I may relate in story form."

Mr. Bull's mail address is 5234 East Beverly, Blvd., Los Angeles, 22, California.

SIGN ON CITY HALL—At the last meeting of the city council a sketch for proposed sign on the city hall was presented to the council for their inspection.

The sketch had been made up by a Neon company representative and left with City Utilities manager W. C. Barnett in the hope that it might help city officials if and when they get ready to consider having a nice electric sign placed on the city hall.

City government has been in the new home now for several years. Moving all city governmental functions into the remodeled and redecored building that is owned by the city was a good move and is a credit to the community.

The building is attractive and is a sign of an active and progressive city government. It is well lighted inside at night and presents a warm glow of welcome to travelers that pass through during the otherwise dark and quiet hours of night.

The city hall would look even better and would stand out a lot more if it had a nice electric sign on it to identify it to strangers as they come through town. Let them know it's the home of City Utilities in Goldthwaite.

A YO-YO FOR BESSIE—Now I've seen it all. Miss Bessie Crews, owner and operator of Tots-to-Teens Shop has taken up a new activity—that of the Yo-Yo.

On second thought, tho, that might just be a pretty good idea on her part, considering the business she is in. Little boys and girls like to Yo-Yo.

I walked into her shop the other day and she was trying her luck in working a nice bright colored red and blue Yo-Yo.

She says that it was a Valentine's Day gift sent to her by her friend in business around the corner on Fisher Street, a Mr. Raymond Little, owner and operator of Little's Dry Goods.

Bet she will master the thing, too, and you know it will go over with the little ones who come to Bessie's shop with their moms.

THE GOOD BOOK SAYS—Betty Carol Berry, who was five years old a few days ago was having quite a time of it the other day, but she proved her point.

You know how it is with these mothers. Always having to interfere with boys and girls of that age. Sometimes they just have to be shown what's what.

Betty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Berry, was going about her activities—barefoot. Her mother had called to her several times to get her shoes and stockings on. Then Betty made her move.

She got the family Bible, placed it on her lap, opened it and said to her mother: "It says right here in 6th chapter of the Book of the Testimonies that Jesus went barefoot."

10 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle Files of February 18, 1949)

Arthur E. Gromtzky, Priddy farmer and rancher, in last Tuesday's special election, was elected as Representative from the 104th Texas District, Mills and Comanche Counties, having polled 394 more votes than his nearest opponent, W. E. Heatley of De Leon, Comanche County.

L. B. (Lit) Burnham Sr., 84, died at his home in this county last Sunday, February 13, 1949.

Miss Syble Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Woods of Goldthwaite, became the bride of Tom W. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom J. Moore of San Saba, Saturday morning, January 22, at Goldthwaite.— San Saba News.

Evelyn Kathleen made her arrival February 11. She weighed eight pounds and six ounces. She is going to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bynum at Wichita, Kansas. She has a little sister age three. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bynum, Indian Gap. Great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Northcutt and great-grandmother, Mrs. M. E. (Grandmother) Carver, all of Goldthwaite.

The architect's drawing of the proposed new First Baptist Church is now on display, in the north show window of Little's Department Store.

Gene Trotter, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Trotter, who recently graduated from A&M College, College Station, Texas, left last Saturday for Uvalde to resume his work as Assistant County Agent, beginning Monday, February 14, 1949.

Miss Carlene Featherston, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Featherston of Brownwood, who is a freshman in Daniel Baker, was initiated into Coggin Society of Daniel Baker College February 8, 1949.

Mr. and Mrs. Worth Johnson of Tyler visited Saturday and Sunday with his mother, Mrs. H. B. Johnson.

25 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle Files of February 16, 1934)

There will probably be a few days suspension of CWA work in the county, although this is not definitely known. Yesterday was the last day the work was authorized until further appropriations is made. When this will be made can not definitely be stated, as it must come from Washington.

Little Miss Ruth Rowntree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rowntree, has received notification of her election to membership in the Writers Guild and the publication of her poem "Spring" in the organization's magazine in Kansas City.

A report from John Tarleton College gives the names of Misses Cleo Black, Morine and Mordine Brown, Veona Platt, of Goldthwaite, on two honor rolls.

Mrs. Roy Rowntree and two daughters went to Fort Worth Tuesday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Stewart, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Yarborough spent the first of the week in Dallas buying goods for their dry goods stores. Mrs. J. C. Evans accompanied them on the trip and spent the time visiting relatives in Dallas.

C. L. Mashburn and W. J. Philen of Ebony looked after business in this city Saturday. These two gentlemen belong to two of the old and honored families of the county. Mmes. M. Y. Stokes and W. B. McGee of Lampasas were visitors in this city a short time Monday. They were en route home from a visit with friends in Ballinger.

Good progress is being made in the health campaign and sanitary improvement throughout the county. R. G. Tullock, county sanitary engineer, has accomplished quite a lot in the way of sanitation in the schools and various communities, while Miss Gertrude Kauh, county health nurse, has been busy with school children and administering immunization.

55 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle Files of February 20, 1904)

An item that was missed by the Eagle reporter last week was the marriage in this city of Mr. J. M. Walden and Miss Susie Woods.

Lightning struck and splintered seven Western Union Telegraph poles Thursday morning about two and one-half miles west of town.

Dr. F. B. Gould and wife arrived in this city yesterday for a visit to E. B. Anderson and family. Mrs. Gould was Miss Maud Anderson and was married to Dr. Gould on February 14. They were en route home from Brady, where they went to attend the marriage of Dr. J. S. Anderson to Miss Myrtle Campbell.

The County Clerk has issued marriage license to D. R. Neel and Miss Bessie E. Blackman since last report.

Henry Martin has bought the Whittaker residence on North Parker Street from Mrs. J. W. Godwin of Ballinger, and will make it his home. Mr. Oliver and family, who now occupy the house, will move to Mr. Martin's residence near the gin. Mr. J. Boler died at his residence in Mullin Wednesday afternoon about 5 o'clock, after a short illness. J. A. Godwin was here from Long Cove the first of the week to get some little material to finish the nice residence building on his ranch, prospering and has bought another good farm Antelope Gap, paying $500 for it. J. W. Butz and L. R. visited Brownwood the week.

INSIDE WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Forty-Ninth State to Play Big Role in Future of U.S.

Rich Alaska Bound to Vital Part in World Map

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Formal admission of Alaska to the Union as the 49th state on January 3 was almost crowded off the front pages by other world events of more immediate interest. Alaska's contribution to the nation and to world peace will be much more lasting significance than the events of the day overshadowed it.

49th State

It is the first state that will remain not contiguous to the other 48; it is by far the largest, the most northerly and the richest in natural resources and potential mineral and timber wealth.

In years to come it will probably become a new gateway to Japan and the Orient. It brings the United States only a figurative stone's throw from Russian territory.

Actually, Alaska has been a state in everything but name for some years. Its importance grew rapidly in the early days of World War and its strategic location has caused huge Army and Air Force bases to be established there permanently.

Now, as a waystop for trans-polar flights from the West Coast to Europe, it is becoming a commercial and travel center of significant proportions.

In the current restless state of world affairs the accent has been placed on the defense importance of the newest state of the union, but in years to come this probably will be replaced by its growth contribution to commerce, trade and industry.

TOURISM IN WASHINGTON—The principal business of the nation's capital always has been government, and it probably always will be. However, the beauties of the capital city, plus the many points of interest, are making Washington a tourists' mecca.

In 1958 more than 6.5 million people visited the capital and spent a record $325 million. An additional $42 million was spent by convention delegates, as the capital has become an increasingly popular city for this type of meeting.

Spring and autumn are the traditional tourist seasons in Washington—spring to see the Japanese cherry blossoms, and autumn because of the mild, sunny climate.

The forecast is for new records to be established in this and the succeeding years. Convention bookings and early hotel reservations bear this out.

To further stimulate the tourist and convention business, a group of Washington hotelmen and storekeepers is pushing a program to make the city even more attractive and better equipped to handle the influx. They are advocating construction of a huge civic auditorium and are intensifying an advertising program to attract vacationers with the advantages of a sojourn in the capital city.

HAWAII NEXT—With Alaskan statehood an accomplished fact the logical next step in the minds of many in the administration and in the Congress is to make Hawaii the 50th state.

This could occur sooner than most people think. Official Washington was pleasantly surprised at the near unanimity that greeted the Alaskan statehood movement. It was carried through virtually unopposed by any significant congressional bloc, or by any element reflecting responsible public views.

This has given Hawaii statehood adherents heart to make plans to press their own movement to a speedy conclusion. Responsible sources in Washington are now predicting that Hawaii will become a state by action of the present 86th Congress, during its two years of life.

Republicans have favored Hawaii for statehood in the belief that it would send two Republican senators and a Republican representative to the Congress.

The top-heavy Democratic majorities in both Houses of Congress will serve to make Hawaii statehood easier of accomplishment. There is no question of a shift of political control over the next few years as a result of such a move, and Democratic opposition, therefore, will not block the move to establish the 50th state in the Pacific waters.

A Tasty Veal Goulash For Thrifty Main Dish

By ALICE DENHOFF

BUSY days, these, with the homemaker working overtime courses for the family dinner. Main dishes that are on the thrifty side, too.

Veal Goulash
As an alternative to the usual beef stew, how about treating the family to a delicious veal goulash, a sturdy concoction with a continental flavor?

To serve 6-8, cut 3 lbs. boneless veal into 1" cubes.

Brown in 2 to 3 tbsp. hot shortening in a heavy saucepan or Dutch oven. Add 1 bay leaf, 1 tsp. whole caraway seeds, tsp. whole dill seeds and tsp. salt.

Tie 1/2 tsp. black peppercorns in a cheesecloth bag and add along with 2 c. hot water. Cover and cook slowly 1 1/2 hours or until meat is tender.

Add 3 c. onion rings about 30 min. before cooking time is up. Blend 1/4 c. flour with 1/2 c. water and stir into mixture. Cook until thickened. Stir in 1/2 tsp. paprika and 1 c. sour cream. Cook only until hot.

Beef and Kidney Dish
A cold, blustery day it may have been, but all will be well when the brood sits down to a Beef Steak and Kidney Casserole.

To serve 4-5, sauté 2 tsp. instant minced onion in tbsp. butter for 2 minutes in a large skillet or saucepan.

Combine 2 tbsp. flour with 1/2 tsp. ground thyme and 1/4 tsp. ground sage.

Cut 1/2 lb. rump or chuck steak and 1/2 lb. lamb or beef kidney in 1" pieces. Roll meat in flour mixture. Brown in the butter, adding 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. dried parsley flakes and 1/4 tsp. black pepper. Cover with hot water.

Place in greased casserole. Cover and bake at 350° F. about 1 hour or until meat is tender. Remove cover and spoon cooked rice around the edge of the casserole. Garnish with sprinkles of paprika.

Chicken Stew

From the great Southwest comes an interesting recipe for a chicken stew.

To serve 6, wash a 4 to 5 lb. fricassee chicken; pat dry and disjoint. Dust with 1/2 c. flour mixed with 4 tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. black pepper, saving about 2 tsp. for later use.

Brown chicken pieces in 1/4 c. hot shortening. Remove pieces from pan. Add 2 c. sliced green pepper and 2 c. sliced onions; sauté until onion is limp.

Olive Garnish

Drain off most of the fat. Add the 2 tsp. reserved flour mixture, 2 tsp. chili powder and 1/4 tsp. ground cloves. Mix well.

Stir in 2 1/2 c. tomatoes (No. 2 can) and simmer 5 min. Add chicken, cover and simmer 1 hour or until chicken is tender. Sprinkle with 1/2 c. sliced olives just before serving.

It's never too soon to put Faith in their future

KID STUFF... OR ROUGH STUFF?

Don't worry about these boys. A little roughhousing is good for them. They're growing up. Pushing. Shoving. Relaxing in that strange, exhausting way boys relax. Pile-On. King-of-the-Mountain. Crack-the-Whip. But half a block away may be a sullen little street-corner group where this kind of clowning is scorned as "kid stuff." Crack-the-whip through these guys and switch blades flash . . . razor-sharp belt buckles swing in a mutilating arc. Then the street is empty except for a crumpled form on the sidewalk. What makes the difference between these two groups? A friendly cop can. A family can. A little Faith can. Faith can begin when a family plays together, works together, worships together.

ARE SIX FINGERED HANDS HEREDITARY?

Yes.

COPS MAKE WEDDING FETE CLUBBY—Mrs. Edith Fisher, of East Boston, Mass., sits dejectedly in her bridal gown beside a battered wedding cake after the marriage reception got a bit out of hand. Some eight uninvited policemen restored order. The husband and four guests were taken into custody.

do have certain likes and dislikes, just as humans do, when it comes to temperature. But if he'd spend the time fishing, that he does fooling with that thermometer, he'd catch more fish.

Not me, of course. He's not good enough to fool me—not in a thousand years—but he'll catch a lot of those three and four pound youngsters.

Incidentally, there's one good fisherman who comes around here ever' once in a while. I don't trust that guy. He knows someone's living under this old stump, and he cuts his motor off way up the line and sneaks up here with a paddle. Boy, is that guy good with a paddle.

Sometimes the first clue that I get that he's in the area is when his plug hits the water. His only fault is that he's not a good caster. If he could cast real good and would sneak up like that and drop a lure real easy, right on top of me, I might hit it before I realized what I was doing. Oh, I'll tell you, I have to be careful.

Old Top Water Tom worries me. Now there's a good caster. He fishes with nothing but a chugger. Even though I know he's in the area, when he drops that black chugger right on my nose and lets it stay there motionless for a while, I really have to hold myself to keep from just smashing that thing whenever he twitches it.

I guess I know just about every kind of lure there is. If a new one comes out, I'll see it pretty soon because old Changeable Charley will be out here throwing it at me.

He almost caught me last year. Would have, too, if he hadn't been careless.

He threw a funny-shaped contraption in here early one morning and woke me up. I was in a foul mood anyway, so I just decided to smash that thing. Didn't see the monofilament line, just he had it tied directly to that lure.

Man, was I surprised when he set that hook. I made one hard run and broke his line where it was frayed a bit near the lure.

I'm sure thankful he was one of those guys who never breaks off the last foot or two of his line when he's been fishing a while. I jumped right near his boat and threw that fool thing out and I'll bet they heard him all the way to Seekatz.

These beginners furnish lots of entertainment for me, too. I'll admit it's not as bad as it used to be because most of them fish with this new spinning tackle and don't backlash like they once did.

But still, they're lots of fun. They get out here in the heat of the day when no self-respecting fish would be out. They stomp around in the boat and drink beer and throw the cans into the water, and cuss the game department for not stocking the lake. Of course, they never catch a thing, but maybe they'll learn. I'll just be careful—in case.

Excuse me, warden, there's a minnow over there that's hurt bad, so bad that he's just sinking down to the bottom. I want to catch him before some of those young nephews of mine see him. I'll be right back.

New Picnic Cooler — Weber Tackle Co., of Stevens Point,

Wis., has just developed a cooler moulded entirely of Dylite plastic. It's likely to become a sensation because it weighs only 31 ounces. Despite its light weight, the "Go-Kooler" is large enough to carry 12 bottles of cold drinks, or eight quart cartons of milk, plus sandwiches. Since it is extremely bouyant, it would double as a life preserver in an emergency. Also, since it won't absorb odors, it will serve well as a minnow bucket, or for temporary fish storage, for catches under 12 inches.

Sonar Lure — Well, here's something new in lures. It's what Heddon calls its Sonar, with AC and DC action. "AC" refers to its action control, "DC" to its depth control. It's announced as one lure for fishing "topwater to bottom bumping." Heddon makes it in 1/4, 1/2 and 1 oz. weights.

Free Fishing Calendars—Tom Bubbin of The Shakespeare Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., will send you some of Shakespeare's fishing calendars, just for the asking. They are billfold size and pretty handy little gadgets. Drop him a postcard and tell him how many you need for yourself and your fishing buddies.

Scholarship Trend Seen With Sporting Rewards

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

IN the acres of print recently criticizing public education in our country, we rarely see these questions: "Why do so many school systems spend so much money on stadiums and so little in comparison on school laboratories and libraries?" "Why is the salary of the athletic coach often so much higher than that of the first-grade teacher or the teacher of science or English?" "If the practice of competition in sports is acceptable to philosophers of education, why have so many of them advised against intellectual competition? A poll of 1,100 high school principals reports that 79 per cent of them believe that too much emphasis is placed on athletics, and 63 per cent believe that students are not required to read enough books.

School news came out of Asbury Park, New Jersey, recently in which a high school student may win and wear a letter for scholarship. Accordingly, high school boys or girls there who attain an average school grade of 90 per cent or above for an entire year are known as Varsity Scholars and entitled to wear Asbury High's varsity "A," the same size as the letter given for athletic distinction.

Following suit, Redbank High School of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Denison High, Texas, have adopted the same system. Perhaps these are straws in the wind indicating that scholarship is becoming the essential business of our schools.

After keenly observing the Russian people, their ways and education last summer, more widely perhaps than any western observer, Adial Stevenson stated that: "Education is a mighty serious business in the Soviet Union . . . learning is highly valued . . . scholarship commands the highest salaries . . . hunger for knowledge is great and reading and self-education are the universal pastime of Russians."

If these observations (which seem to be in line with what some professional educators say they observed) are correct, we wonder if the same might be said by a visitor to our country. Keeping our cherished freedoms, which Russians don't have, can't we still raise our level of intellectual values, endeavors and achievements?

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

FACTS ABOUT PUBLIC LAW "566"

Your local community can get federal assistance in tackling flood and other water problems under the Small Watershed Act when —

- 1.— Your watershed is smaller than 250,000 acres.
- 2.— Your local organization has legal authority from the state to carry out, operate, and maintain needed works of improvement for watershed protection and flood prevention.
- 3.— Your state approves your application for assistance.
- 4.— Benefits of the proposed project are greater than the costs.
- 5.— Your local watershed sponsoring organization and the U. S. Department of Agriculture agree on a watershed work plan.
- 6.— The plan is approved under certain conditions by committees of Congress (when project cost runs more than $250,000).

When federal construction cost does not exceed $250,000, it can be approved by the Soil Conservation Service State Conservationist.

7.— Federal funds are appropriated to provide help in accordance with the plan.

8.— Your watershed must be within the boundaries of the qualified sponsoring local organization or combination of organizations.

9.— Two or more watersheds containing less than 250,000 acres may be planned jointly if your local organization requests it in separate applications. Each of them must be a sub-watershed or sub-watershed area following natural drainage lines.

10.— Your proposed project cannot include structures having a capacity of more than 5,000 acre feet each for flood prevention or a capacity of more than 25,000 acre feet for all purposes.

Only a local organization having necessary authority under state law can sponsor or co-sponsor an application requesting federal help under the Small Watershed Act. All other kinds of groups and organizations may endorse projects.

In most states, soil conservation districts have authority to sponsor small watershed projects. But municipalities, counties, and watershed flood-control, conservancy, drainage, irrigation, or other special-purpose districts may also sponsor watershed projects.

Most small watershed projects are planned for completion within 5 years after installation funds become available.

Under P. L. 566, the federal government provides planning services, including surveys and investigations and preparation of watershed work plans.

Technical assistance is also given landowners who plan and apply soil and water conservation measures on their farms and ranches. Farmers receive this assistance from the Soil Conservation Service through soil conservation districts.

Watershed project sponsors will have the aid when required

(State News) MORE INDIAN DEPRADATIONS

After our paper was made up we received a letter from reliable gentlemen of Burnet County, saying that on the 7th inst., a party of Indians came down upon the San Fernando, and killed six horses and drove off a large number. The depredation occurred only two miles South of the county seat of Llano and 25 miles West of Burnet Court House. Thomas Right was the principal sufferer, having lost among others, three blooded colts, worth $900.

Our correspondent indulges in some severe strictures upon the Governor, says he speaks the common sentiment when he complains of his inefficiency. Well, somebody has to be cursed, and as the Governor is nearer than the President, we suppose he must take his share of cursing. Certainly the frontiersmen have suffered enough to be justified in cursing generally.—Southern Intelligencer.

We learn from the Ranger, that the Female Academy at Brenham was burnt to the ground on Thursday last. The paper says that as soon as the alarm was given, the MAIL citizens went to the rescue; but too late to extinguish the flames. Come now! That MAIL is too bad. It is even worse than that aunt poison advertised for sale in the Seguin Journal. But we do not believe the good citizens of Guadalupe intend to dispatch so summarily those anti-qualified relatives.—Southern Intelligencer.

The editor of the Quitman Herald has been in Hopkins County, and saw many improvements. A High School is to be established at Sulphur Springs, toward which five thousand dollars have been subscribed. There was much sickness, both measles and pneumonia, and many deaths had taken place. The wheat fields looked promising.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

When Millicent Tralle, president of District 1 Texas Woman's Press Association, wrote me that our first meeting for '59 would be a luncheon in the Candlelight room of the Officers' Club Building at Biggs Air Force Base, Feb. 7, and that we would be addressed by Col. S. E. Manzo, Air Division Commander, on Basic Concepts of SAC (Strategic Air Command), I resolved at once that I would be there if I could get there.

Most of my baby-sitting in El Paso has been for Captains and their wives. And often the occasion of their going would be some fete at the Officers' Club at Biggs Air Field. So it was quite interesting to have occasion to visit this frequented place myself.

Now Biggs Field is far on the other side of town from us, and transportation could be a problem, but it was Saturday, and Grace could go. So I took her as my guest and that solved everything in a very delightful way. The Officers' Club is a lovely place. One very large room was all set with many tables. A young woman with a sense of humor was redecorating the walls by drawing scenes with luminous chalk. She said that room was prepared for the Medical Association and their wives.

Our Candlelight Room was much smaller, but the tables and everything was lovely. A good number of members were present and our guest, Col. Manzo. White-coated waiters served us. After our excellent meal, Col. Manzo showed us slides, explaining each as it came on the screen. We learned a lot about the Air Force. How it is improving all the time. The B-36's going out. The Jet's now in, so much higher and faster. Other planes in the making flying still higher and faster. And the means of communication so intriguing. If attack should come, how quickly bases all over the world would receive command. The purpose of SAC is Peace. "Peace is Our Profession," said Col. Manzo.

This is a full week with Lincoln's 150th birthday, Valentine's Day, the Southwestern Stock Show and the World's Championship Rodeo at the Coliseum. Wednesday was Go Western Day at the Schools, when all the children dress up like cowboys and cowgirls. And did Johnny look cute in his dark cowboy shirt, red flowing tie, red cowboy hat, six shooter, and sheriff badge. Billy said he won first place in his room at Henderson Junior Hi. Donna, next door, not yet in school, but a baton pupil, and Temple, another of my baby sitting subjects, just five, also a baton pupil, marched in the Rodeo Parade down town yesterday. On baby-sitting occasions they put on their shows for me. And can they swing those batons and do those prancing acts!

And in addition to all these afore mentioned things the last B-36, after a fitting ceremony, took off from Biggs Field, yesterday (Thursday) heading for Fort Worth and the last one up where in the Amon C. Field it is to be parked in memorial. Here is its solemn "Well, I suppose I'll have to here with my memories, waiting all the jets go by, but guess that is better than to the 'junk yard.'"

Warm days are here and I have been using a clean up spray of oil and sulphurulsion, trying to get rid of seeds and fungus growth. A little February Gold daffodil blooming so beautifully at front door and another in back yard, and the stocks getting prettier every day.

Mullin Homemaking Department Experimenting In Nutrition Effects

By MRS. H. C. GALLOWAY

It is often hard for pupils to understand the real importance of food. They are told that certain foods are good for them but they don't always believe because they don't see the effects of a good diet. It is for this reason that the girls in the Mullin Homemaking department are conducting a rat feeding experiment. Experimenting with young animals such as the white (albino) rat is one way to show them living, tangible evidence of the way foods work together to promote growth and good health. They gain an understanding of the need for a selected variety of food. White rats are exceptionally good experimental animals. They are small, clean and easily handled and cared for. They respond to foods such as people do. White rats have a short life span compared to humans. The effect of food shows up relatively quick. The growth rate of rats is 30 times faster than human growth rate. Therefore a rat 8 weeks old may be compared to a child of about 6 years.

We decided to do our experimenting with the importance of milk in the diet. From previous surveys conducted in our high school we found that very few of our students drank enough milk each day.

Our animals are of the same sex and litter and weighed the same (55 grams) at the beginning of the experiment. Each receives exactly the same diet with the exception of milk. One rat gets all the milk he can drink while the other gets none. We will conclude the experiment at the end of ten weeks. We are keeping accurate records, taking pictures, etc., so there will be a lasting illustration of what the experiment has accomplished. We are pointing out that weight and growth are not the only signs of good nutrition. They are encouraged to think of other signs such as disposition, skin, eyes, facial expression, and the general feeling of well being.

The inadequate diet for the one rat will be changed at the end of the experiment so that pupils will not feel sorry for the undernourished one.

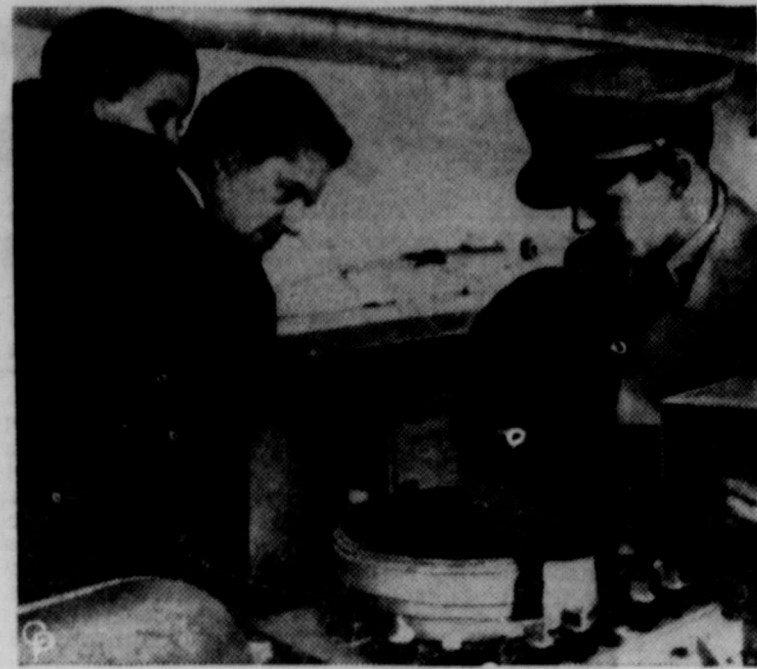

We hope that this will prove to be a real life lesson in food and health.

To insure full employment and economic growth, he called for wage and price increases; a boost in minimum pay; Federal aid to depressed areas; higher unemployment benefits; more aid to education; a big housing program and other spendings.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: I am now unemployed, age 36, and have a family to support. Can I draw social security benefits until I find a job?

Answer: No. You are probably confused with unemployment compensation, which is not paid from social security but from the Federal Unemployment Tax Fund. Business and industrial employers having 4 or more employees are required to contribute to this fund. The contributions are based on a percentage of the employees' wages, but nothing is withheld from their wages for this purpose. You should contact the nearest office of the Texas Employment Commission.

Question: My husband and I were able to adopt our orphaned granddaughter a year ago. Sometime ago I was told that the adoption would have to be in effect for three years before we could receive any social security for her. My husband has reached age 65, has retired, and will apply for social security; but I am not age 62 so I could not apply now. However, does the new law make it possible for our girl to receive benefits also?

Answer: Yes, also you can receive payments as a wife under age 62 with a minor child in your care. The 1958 Amendments to the Social Security Act removes the requirement that an adopted child of a retired person must have been adopted for three years to qualify for benefits.

Do you have reimbursed expenses paid to you by your employer on a per diem basis and on a fixed mileage basis for your car expenses?

If so, and you can qualify, as below, you do not have to report this reimbursement as income or detail the expenses on your income tax return.

An extensive study has been made of the rates of mileage allowances and per diem allowances in lieu of subsistence paid employees by a substantial number of employers, including States and municipalities, and the method of accounting for these allowances required of the employees by such employers.

On the basis of this study, it has been administratively determined that for purposes of section 1.162-17(b) of the Income Tax Regulations an employee who pays or incurs ordinary and necessary business expenses for travel (including meals and lodging) and transportation for which he is paid by his employer a fixed mileage allowance or a per diem allowance in lieu of subsistence at rates not in excess of 125 per cent of the rates authorized to be paid by the Federal Government in the locality in which the travel is performed will be deemed to have been required to account to his employer for such expenses for purposes of such regulations.

The maximum mileage allowance on a fixed scale authorized to be paid by the Federal Government for use of a personal automobile on official travel is 10 cents per mile and the maximum per diem allowance on a fixed scale in lieu of subsistence authorized to be paid while traveling within the continental United States is $12.00 per day.

Accordingly, it is held that for purposes of section 1.162-17(b) of the Income Tax Regulations an employee will be deemed to have been required to account to his employer in cases where the rates of mileage allowance or per diem allowance in lieu of subsistence paid by the employer are not in excess of 12½ cents per mile and $15.00 per day, respectively.

Motor Vehicle Inspections Slow

"Do you have a current Inspection Sticker on your windshield? If not, why wait any longer to have your car inspected at a State approved Inspection station."

This announcement by Captain E. C. Smith, of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Services for the Texas Department of Public Safety, called attention to the April 15th deadline for obtaining the current sticker.

Each year many people wait until the last few days of the inspection period to have their vehicles inspected. By putting off what you should do now, you may be one of the many car owners that will have to stand in line as the dead line approaches.

Not only is it unsafe to operate a vehicle which may have defective equipment, but the person who drives a vehicle without a valid inspection sticker can be charged in court with a violation of the traffic law and faces the possibility of a fine.

The department report shows that as of February 1, only 728 of 2,895 Mills County registered vehicles had been inspected as required by law.

Jesus Faces the Cross

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Mark 14:12-42

On the first day of the Passover, the disciples asked Jesus where they would eat. Christ sent out two disciples, telling them to follow a man bearing a pitcher of water; he would show them the place.—Mark 14:12-15.

The two went into the city and found that man, who showed them a large upper room where they would eat the Passover. They made it ready and the evening Christ came with the 12.—Mark 14:16-17.

As they ate the Passover, Jesus said to them, "Verily, I say unto you, one of you which eateth with Me shall betray Me." Sadly each disciple asked Him, "Is it I?" Jesus said, "It is one of the 12."—Mark 14:18-20.

Jesus took bread, broke and blessed it, saying, "Take, eat; this is My body." And He took wine and gave it to them, saying, "This is My blood."—Mark 14:22-24.

MEMORY VERSE—Mark 14:36.

Prison Problems—Even more impassioned are the pleas of those concerned with appropriations for the Department of Corrections.

Texas Prison System is operated at about half the national average cost per inmate, says Supt. O. B. Ellis. For some years Board members have been warning of dangerously overcrowded conditions, and the need for more buildings.

A slash in funds and personnel, as proposed by the Legislative Budget Board, would bring sheer ruin to the bulging prisons, in Ellis' view.

Prison System has an even more immediate pinch in that it hasn't money to finish out this fiscal year. It had a crop failure last year, when floods wiped out cotton on the prison farms.

Since the Prison System is heavily dependent on its own production, it, like any hard-hit farmer, needs some "cash money"—about $500,000—to tide it over for this year.

Something's Gotta Go—We can't continue our present services and take a budget cut too, Texas A&M Extension Service officials told legislators.

Budget Board recommended a slightly lower Extension Service appropriation for 1960 than it had for 1959. Service had asked for sizeable increase to help off-set extensive loss of county agents to better-salaried jobs in industry.

Spokesmen for the Farm Bureau and numerous other rural groups appeared before the House Appropriations Committee to plead the importance of Extension Service work.

Deadline Extended—Senate General Investigating Committee, a creation of the last session, has until March 2 to complete its voluminous report.

After nearly 20 months of activity, the Committee had had 27 hearings, piled up 7,500 pages of testimony. All hearings were public, and some brought unsettling repercussions in the fields of insurance regulation and tax collecting.

Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, chairman, is recommending such work be continued by a Joint House-Senate Committee. There must be some sort of "watch dog," Herring believes, for the state's billion-dollar-a-year business.

Slow Down!—Chronic speeders would soon find themselves getting around on shoe leather under a strict new measure proposed by Rep. Ben Lewis of Dallas. Under the bill, the first speeding conviction would bring a 30-day license suspension; the second, a 60-day suspension; the third, six months; and all thereafter, one year. A record of each conviction would be carried on the driver's license. Speeding, Lewis pointed out, is regarded as a leading cause of accidents.

Anti-Hair Splitting—"Harmless errors" would no longer be grounds for reversal of a criminal
