The Johnsons did extensive remodeling and redecorating of the building and are planning more in the weeks to come.

The front part of the building housing the Launderette was partitioned off from the rest of the building and re-done. It is air-conditioned and all newly painted with new tile floor. The entire building was plastered and painted inside and out.

Future plans call for installing some wringer type washers in another section of the building. And consideration is also being given to the possibility of installing a small steam laundry division if the need appears evident.

Major Flood On Bennett Creek June 26th Causes Heavy Damage

Heavy rains fell on Bennett Creek watershed in the early morning hours on June 26 causing considerable damage. Damage was probably heaviest to roads and fences; however considerable losses of soil were reported on cropland. A number of livestock were reported drowned during the peak of the flood which lasted only about four hours.

Up to seven inches fell in the Caradan area and up to six inches in the South Bennett area. The bulk of this fell in a four hour period from four to eight a. m. on June 26.

It is estimated that 50 miles of fence was washed out with much of it unreparable. Short strips of pavement on farm to market roads were completely washed away. Highway workers worked for many hours shaking loose drift and debris to save the bridge between Star and Moline.

Records show that major floods occur on Bennett Creek on the average of once every three years; however there have been three during the past four years.

Good reports are coming in all over the country as to the flood protection furnished by upstream flood detention dams. Reports from Lampasas are that much damage was prevented to the city by a few completed dams on Sulphur Creek last month.

Bennett Creek is still on the waiting list pending readiness of local people and conservation treatment on the land.

WHAT ABOUT THIS THING CALLED FISHING?—There has been a lot of it going on during recent weeks with various degrees of success being reported to this corner.

Some like to fish down on the Gulf Coast while others swear by the Colorado River—a few swear at it, too. Then there are those who like to do their fishing from Mills County tanks while some members of the Mills County Hunting and Fishing Club feel that Lake Merritt is a good place. Then there are those who like to fish down Mexico way along with Falcon Dam or down at Buchannon Lake. But fishing of some kind, or other, is being worked at by some members of a great many families, I say, worked at, because brother that is exactly what some people make of fishing.

Not being an ardent fisherman I couldn't tell you too much about the sport—or recreational activities—as it may better be called today.

I used to do a bit of fishing tho, in the years gone by.

Always sorta liked the type of fishing that some folks call "NIGGER" fishin', with just plain cane pole, line and a good sized cork bobber. You know, there always was something about this type of fishing that certainly was relaxing.

You could sit and watch the bobber for an hour and not mind it too much because there was always the expectation that any moment you would get that nibble and your chance to try your luck at a nice fresh water creek catfish, a perch, or even a carp. Carp can give you a real nice battle and it is plenty of sport to catch one.

There was one little item that nearly always brought you sure results. Hardly ever did you fail to get a bite when you would lay down your cane pole and take time out to roll a cigarette. Sure, I used to smoke.

In those days most men and a good many boys rolled their own, you know I'm talking about country folks. Of course a few smoked a pipe, or "taller mades," as they were called.

Also in those days most fishing was done after it rained and you couldn't do farm work for a few days.

So you wonder sometimes just how much difference there might be in the various types of fishing.

SAME DIFFERENCE—Take the case of Floyd Spradley's fishing experience. He and his family took off a few days not long ago and went down to the Gulf. Floyd said they were going to do some fishing. They planned to be gone a week, but were back in about four days.

When they left though, Floyd said they might be back in a shorter time depending on how long the greenbacks lasted.

When they got back he quickly explained that from all indications fishing to him was just about the same everywhere. He related that they caught about 30 fish. Only major difference in fishing in Mills County and the Gulf, according to Spradley, is you are fishing in a bigger tank. "As for me," Floyd said, "Fish are the same size."

NO MORE SCALES—Then there was Arnold Kelly. He does a bit of fishing right along with his work all through the season. But come vacation time and that calls for a little extra time for fishing.

Kelly was gone from work a week and spent four out of the seven days on the river fishing. That was, as he called it, a pretty good batting average.

He also reported pretty good luck for the four days catching a nice number of catfish.

There is one thing though he did that he says will not be repeated.

In reporting his catch he told of that one nice big one in the bunch. He was very proud of it and told his wife: "I'll bet that fish weighs 10 pounds." They got some scales and weighed the cat and the scales tipped just exactly 6½ pounds.

Says Kelly: "That's the last time I'll weigh a nice big catfish."

THE LAST STRAW—Of course, you can always do what Mr. and Mrs. Jack Long did when they decided to go down to their farm on the Colorado and get in a little fishing.

Make plans, as they did, to spend the night and notice after you get down to the river that you left your bait at home.

Naturally there may be someone in the group that, WANTS TO FISH, as the old saying goes, but, as Mrs. Long put it: "It was sure nice swimming."

Rockefeller Working On GOP Nomination

Rivalry With Nixon Is Fascinating Topic

By HENRY CATHCART

Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—The rivalry between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for the GOP presidential nomination in 1960 is the most fascinating topic of political discussion across the nation.

Whenever the subject of presidential politics arises, the question of which one will win the nomination is inevitable. Countless polls are being taken to determine public preference in the race. Republican political leaders seem more interested in sounding out their colleagues on the matter than on any other question.

Nixon has done everything but publicly announce his own candidacy. He is building his own organization, speaking privately to influential individuals and groups in his party, and seizing every opportunity his position offers to keep his name before the public as a presidential possibility.

Rockefeller, on the other hand, is playing "cool." Outwardly, he professes New York state administration as his only present concern. Behind the scenes he is working just as hard as Nixon. He has his own men working with GOP state and local leaders, and has taken care to talk to the "right" national columnists and reporters.

Both men have one big concern—the position that President Eisenhower might take at the Republican nominating convention. By all rights, Eisenhower could be expected to support Nixon actively. However, the President, with his high sense of principle might adopt a "hands off, let the best man win" policy. If he does, Nixon's chances will lessen materially.

THE MAFIA—When 60-odd swarthy, obviously wealthy men were caught at a meeting on an estate outside the little New York hamlet of Apalachin in 1957, it set off a chain of events which may prove the undoing of the notorious Sicilian crime society, the Mafia.

The audacity of the meeting, its drama and mystery caught the nation's headlines and galvanized federal and state law enforcement agencies into action.

None of the group would talk and its leaders have been charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice. A conviction would break the back of the narcotics traffic in the United States, where the Mafia is held responsible for 85 per cent of the $350 million-a-year racket.

It is worthwhile to note that while the Mafia's first principle is "omertà," or silence, most of the facts which will be used in the prosecution came from members and associates who turned to spenders after being treated poorly by the organization.

SPENDER BENSON—Ezra Taft Benson, who as secretary of Agriculture has fought harder than anyone else for reduced farm subsidies, will go down in history as the "spendingest" man in the history of that Cabinet post.

Benson doesn't like it, but the law makes him carry out farm price support programs costing the government billions of dollars annually.

Since Benson took over in 1953, his department's appropriations and support programs have cost a stupendous $31 billion. From 1932 to 1953—the 20 years of Democratic control—expenditures for the department totaled $25.2 billion.

From the beginning of the department's history in 1862 to 1951, the department spent $2.4 billion.

In other words, not only has Benson spent more in far less time than his Democratic predecessors, he has spent more than in the entire previous history of his department.

Linda Reports From Colorado Springs

By LINDA YARBOROUGH
July 7—1,700 girls left the 1959 Girl Scout Roundup site for a tour. There were 43 special buses.

As the bus left the Roundup site we were on Burgess Road, named for an old-time Colorado gentleman who owned this property in the 1880's. He has reported to historians that the Willow Springs Stage Station was on the Roundup site. The bus turned north on the main highway and followed a few miles along the old Cherokee Trail. This trail was built in 1848 by Lt. Buford to help trappers en route to the Rockies. It hooks up with the Santa Fe Trail to the west and was used by both Cherokees from Northeast Arkansas and Whites on their way to the California gold fields.

The buses then entered the North Gate of the Air Force Academy. Although we did not stop at the academy we saw athletic fields, administration buildings, the planetarium, dormitories, mess hall, school buildings and housing areas.

As we went on we saw what was once an old stage stop known as Peachants Stage Stop. It was a stage stop between Denver and Colorado Springs.

A short distance up the road we saw strange mushroom-like rock formations, formed during the Permian Sea period, formed by the erosion of water, sand, stone and winds. We were told they are known as Dutch-Bells.

As we went on we saw Mt. Saint Francis, a Catholic School and retreat.

Glen Eyrie was the next thing we saw. It was originally the home of General Williams Palmer, the founder of Colorado Springs. Glen Eyrie was built for his Eastern wife. She lived there for a comparatively short time, because of health reasons.

At the Garden of the Gods members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce acted as guides for each bus load of girls.

After spending about 45 minutes here, we boarded the bus and headed for the Flying W Ranch. There we ate lunch and were entertained. Then we went back to the Roundup site.

July 8—the Big Colorado Centennial Celebration was held. The whole encampment crowded into the big arena where the planned entertainment was about to begin.

The Grand March was done by the Westerners, a group of boys and girls, from 9 to 18 years of age, mounted on horseback.

Then a skit was given about the founding of Colorado, concluded by a Pony Express Rider taking a letter to Mrs. Charles Culmer, National Girl Scout President from the President of the United States. Then the Koshares, a group of Explorer Boy Scouts from La Junta entertained us with ceremonial Indian dances. After the Koshares, the Westerners once again took over and presented another skit.

Thursday Section 3 had the flag ceremony. There were 120 flags to be raised, out of our troop of 32 girls, 29 were in the ceremony. All of the Texas Longhorn Patrol was in it. We had 19 color guards, 9 flag bearers and one Platoon Leader. The Platoon Leader from our troop was Judy Ray of Lampasas. She was Platoon J. Leader, her Platoon was in charge of the American Flag.

The rest of the week was filled with troop and section activities. Our days are filled with swapping, meeting girls from all over the U. S. and many foreign countries and watching demonstrations. Our nights are filled with arena events, sing-songs, campfires, troop discussions and square dancing.

On Sunday morning all the religious services were held. Sunday night we had a closing campfire and a very impressive flag ceremony and 32 foreign countries were represented and each country sent a message for peace. First in their own language and then in English. West Germany had the best peace message in my estimation and in most people's. After each message was read it was burned. Then telegrams from Vice-President Richard Nixon and from Our Chalet were read.

Monday morning we tore down camp and packed and that afternoon at 1:00 o'clock we left on the train taking with us many happy memories that will last a lifetime.

Methodist Revival Friday Morning Has Record Attendance

The Methodist Church summer revival service had a record attendance for early morning worship last Friday, it was announced by Rev. George Mc-Crary, pastor.

He stated that their Evangelist, Quay Parmer, announced that their attendance of 212 for the 7 a. m. Friday service was the largest early morning attendance he has had in a revival meeting.

Rev. Parmer has been evangelist for revival meetings throughout Texas for more than 15 years. Largest attendance for early morning worship services he has had on record was 201.
 This includes some churches with more than 3,000 membership.

According to Parmer Goldthwaite set a record in this early morning attendance of worship service.

Methodists expressed appreciation to members from other churches who attended the revival meeting services at their church.

Household Hint

Tired-looking ferns can often be revived by watering with a half cup of salt water added to six pints of lukewarm water.
 Worms can usually be banished by sticking several matches into the soil, sulphur end down.

Words of the Wise

A pleasurable state of feeling is far more favorable to intellectual action than one of indifference or disgust.

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

Through a mountain stream—deep in Avintaquin Canyon.

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where piñon won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped 1/2-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas—Whatever the outcome of the summer tax battle, when the smoke has all cleared, the fire won't be out.

Like live coals banked in ashes, the tax issue will be ready to flame up again when new fuel is added.

Sources of new fuel are easily foreseeable.

Every member of this Legislature, by his voting record, expressed a tax viewpoint. Many of them will have to face opponents attacking this viewpoint in the 1960 elections. Since a new law moves primaries up by two months, campaigning will begin long before the dogwood is out... maybe while the Christmas lights are up.

Many candidates may be wary of lighting into an issue on which it's almost impossible to take an all-around popular stand. But whoever gets elected and comes to Austin in 1961 will find the old tax monster waiting, bigger and fiercer than ever.

This Legislature will likely enact just barely enough new taxes, mostly on "old favorite" sources, to cover the budget. But the 1961 budget will have to be bigger. For some time population growth and other factors have kept budgets going up by about 10 per cent every two years.

Additionally, there will be, as always, demand for new programs, new buildings, new spending. Hale-Aikin school improvement program alone would call for at least a $110,000,000 tax bill.

Only hope for avoiding an even hotter tax battle in '61 is for 1960 voters to give their elected officials clear instructions on what they want and how they're willing to pay for it.

Battle Lines—Show-down fight of the second called session came on a $90,000,000-a-year tax bill based on about three-fourths selective sales taxes, one-fourth business taxes.

It was in line with expressed sentiments of the Senate, but many House members regarded it as "another insult." All the five Senators and five House members on the conference committee that worked out the bill signed the report and recommended adoption.

It was designed to get revenue from these sources over a 2-year period:

Tobacco—Cigarettes up three cents a pack (for two years—then back to one cent) to raise $60,000,000. Other tobaccos products, except snuff, a 25 per cent tax to raise $13,500,000.

Natural Gas—Raise in the production tax from 7 to 8 per cent to bring in $12,000,000.

Corporation Franchises—Increase of 75 cents per $1,000 capital to May, 1960, 50 per cent increase thereafter, to raise $32,000,000.

Utilities—A 20 per cent increase in gross receipts tax except for telephone and telegraph, for $3,000,000.

Motor Vehicles—Increase in sales tax from 1.1 to 1.6 per cent, for $20,400,000.

Beverages—Liquor up from $1.408 to $1.68 a gallon, wine up 20 per cent, for $6,000,000.

Boats, Motors, Airplanes—A new 1.6 per cent sales tax, for $3,250,000.

Radios, Televisions, Phonographs—A 2.2 per cent sales tax, for $6,000,000.

Cameras—Temporary 10 per cent sales tax for $6,000,000. Provisions for more vigorous tax collecting would bring an estimated $4,000,000 more.

New Insurance Bill—Out of the House-Senate conflict over the State Board of Insurance came a reorganization bill aimed at getting rid of at least some present officials.

Sen. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford introduced the bill calling for organization of a new three-member, full-time Board of Insurance.

One member would be designated Commissioner at a $20,000 salary. One would be the chairman at $15,000; another, a member at $15,000. Nothing in the bill says present members could not be appointed, but all appointments would be subject to Senate confirmation.

Senators tried to oust present Commissioner William A. Harrison two years ago, were balked by Board Chairman Penn Jackson and an Attorney General's ruling that they lacked this authority.

Since then Senate hostility toward Jackson and Harrison has been open and frank. Senate appropriation bill slashed salaries to one-third time for Board members. House held out for full-time Board.

Senate's counter-offer was the reorganization bill... with a full-time Board to please the House and a chance to name new members to please the Senate.

Texas Supreme Court upheld an injunction to stop a "weather modifying" program by Southwest Weather Research, Inc.

Weather Research had been hired by a group of Fort Stockton cotton farmers to drop silver iodide pellets into clouds that threatened to bring crop-destroying hail storms.

Water-loving ranchers brought suit. They contended the cloud seeding not only chased off the hail but moisture of all kinds.

Insurance Cut Due—State Board of Insurance has ordered reductions in auto insurance rates ranging from 10 to 15 per cent in some parts of the state. Effective date is August 1.

Most of the cuts will stem from a reduction in expenses, such as agent commissions, rather than low accident rates. State-wide the cuts will amount to about $226,000,000, saving some drivers as much as $20 a year.

In some areas, mostly larger cities, the drop will be smaller, and in a few counties the rate will rise.

Board Chairman Penn Jackson said that a merit rating plan, setting lower rates for accident-free drivers, will be made later.

Wheat Marketing Quota Vote Next Thursday

Place for the referendum will be held next Thursday for the wheat marketing quotas for the 1960 crop will be at the office, according to E. L. Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Those who are eligible to vote are all those who in 1960 are more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain on the farm, except those who are in the 1959 feed program. Under the feed program, farmers may have up to 30 acres of wheat on the farm where they are not subject to the wheat quota penalties.

At least two-thirds of the wheat quota referendum will be held next Thursday for the wheat marketing quotas for the 1960 crop will be at the office, according to E. L. Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

endum approve the quotas, they will remain in effect for 1960-crop wheat and price support will be available to farmers who comply with their farm wheat allotments at least 75 per cent of parity. Farmers who exceed the larger of the farm allotment or 15 acres will be subject to a marketing penalty of 45 per cent of the wheat parity price on their "excess" wheat.

If the quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting, the quotas and penalties will not be in effect, and price support will be available to farmers who comply with their farm wheat allotments at 50% of parity, as directed by law. At current parity levels, that would be about $1.18 per bushel, according to ASC officials.

Farm Ponds Offer Many Benefits; But, They Can Also Be Dangerous

MAKE EVERY WEEK FARM SAFETY WEEK

Farm ponds have many benefits, but they can also be dangerous. That was the warning sounded this week by Lee W. Tabor of the Mills County ASC Office.

"Next Sunday, July 19th, is the first day of Farm Safety Week," Mr. Tabor said. "This is a good time to urge everyone to be especially careful around ponds and other bodies of water and to make every week farm safety week."

Tabor said that precautionary measures are urged for all farmers and ranchers with farm ponds. But neighbors, people from town, and other visitors also need to be alert around open water. Ponds are especially hazardous for children, he added.

He reported that 250 farmers in Mills County have built farm ponds on their land in the past five years under the Agricultural Conservation Program. He pointed out that this figure does not cover all ponds constructed in the county, but only those which the ASC county committee approved for ACP cost-sharing assistance. Nationally the ACP has shared construction cost on about 1,600,000 storage-type ponds.

Farm ponds, built with ACP cost-sharing, are constructed for agricultural purposes, but fishing and swimming are often recreational by-products.

"Well managed farm ponds, properly built not only offer conservation benefits—such as water for livestock, irrigation, and erosion control—but they're nice to have around for fishing, swimming, and even boating," Mr. Tabor stated.

Although ACP farm ponds are built to rigid specifications, not all ponds are alike. They vary because of their conservation use, location, size, drainage, shape, reinforcement and overflow facilities.

Some characteristics of farm ponds are:

- They are usually constructed some distance from the farmhouse.
- Most ponds have some deep water.
- Ponds usually have some steep sides.
- Banks and side slopes usually are covered with grass and may be slippery.

"One simple safety aid available to every farmer is to post 'danger' signs," Mr. Tabor declared. "Keeping a boat handy, having a length of rope and an inflated inner tube or even a long pole ready for use are practical safety aids."

While emphasizing the water practice, Mr. Tabor also reminded farmers that other conservation measures such as heavy earth moving equipment, chemicals for eradicating noxious weeds and brush, may require equal safety precautions. These are good reasons for making every week Farm Safety Week on your farm.

Another woman has walked into a man's world and copped first place!

This time she is a cute little blonde with a pony tail that waves from shoulder to shoulder every time she tosses a fishing plug.

At Lake Belton on the last day of May she proved conclusively to man and bass that opening your big mouth can get you into trouble.

She hung 39 pounds of bass, on her rod and reel. But more than that, she hung defeat on a bunch of men who'd been fishing Lake Belton for weeks and bragging about how they would take the tournament.

Perhaps there weren't a dozen persons in the tournament who had ever heard of Elaine Vickers. She and her husband Vic operate Lake Point Lodges at Buchanan where "she fishes a little every day."

To say Elaine Vickers was a dark horse and not expected to win isn't exactly true. A couple of months ago Dave Hawk, last year's state champ, and L. A. Wilke, one of my fishing buddies, were riding along the highway talking about possibilities among some of the hot-shot fishermen. They named them over one by one, discussing the strong and weak points of each.

They agreed that any one of three or four, who had been fishing the lake regularly, might cop the honors.

"Then there might be a dark horse," said Wilke.

"Dark horse!" Dave repeated. "Yep, I know a pony tail that can do it." He then said Elaine Vickers, in his opinion, possessed all the qualities of a great fisherman.

"She's better than her husband, but together they make a wonderful pair," he said. "Elaine is the best caster, Vic is a good boatman. If they enter the tournament they'll be sure to take the husband-wife trophy, and I had just about as soon bet on her winning first place."

Dave had watched Elaine fish a great deal. In fact, he had done some side-line coaching even before she had thought of entering the tournament.

Dave had met Vic and Elaine rather accidentally. He was talking with Game Warden Flannagan about a good spot to launch his boat one day when we planned a picture taking trip to the lake. The warden sent him to Lake Point Lodges and it was then that he met the woman who was not only to succeed him as top fisherman, but also was to cop the perpetual trophy he gave this year in the State Bass Tournament.

This tournament is sponsored on some Texas lake each year by the Waco Herald-Tribune.

Last year the tournament was held on the Highland Lakes and Hawk was the winner. Elaine was present during the tournament, but wasn't a contestant.

The year before, the tournament was held at Lake Whitney. Ray Creel was the winner.

Those three names — Creel, Hawk and Vickers — now appear on this perpetual trophy, which is nearly four feet high.

Vic and Elaine formerly worked in the composing room of the Abilene Reporter-News. When they were married in 1951, they honeymooned on Lake Buchanan at the very camp they now own.

"I fished with a cane pole and rowed my boat on that trip," she now recounts. Today she tosses her lures with a 5½ foot Ted Williams rod, equipped with a Shakespeare Sportcast reel. She uses a Silvertrol electric motor to move her boat around among the rocky coves of Lake Buchanan.

Incidentally, she says winning the tournament will not affect her fishing habits. She still thinks Buchanan is the best place in Texas to fish.

Elaine is a hard working fisherman. She has good eyes and has developed a strong casting arm. She has good control, so she has no trouble in using a fast reel and light lures.

Her favorite fish is the black bass, although she does like to hit the schools of whites that "infest" Buchanan at times.

She uses a lure to fit the occasation. For the last several months she's been using Extractors, Champs and jigs and plastic eels. Now she has switched over to some Hula poppers and similar top water lures.

The Vickers have a four-year-old son who plays around the lake shore all day, but isn't particularly interested in fishing. He'd rather see a good cowboy movie, or a science fiction piece on the television.

Elaine believes any woman can become a proficient fisherman if she likes fishing. She can't understand why anyone wouldn't like fishing, but she

More and more women are coming to the lake every year to fish, she says. This has come about with the family usage of boats.

"The women learn to drive the boat," she says. "With self-starters and good motors they can operate on the lake as easily as they run their cars on the highways. When they once get on the water and get used to it, then they want to fish. We have some dandies now on Lake Buchanan."

Farm Safety Week Proclamation

AUSTIN, TEXAS
GREETINGS:

The economy of the entire Nation is dependent upon the continued well-being and pro- gress of our State's agricultural population. Accidents from farm work cause needless suf- fering, distress and loss of life each year among our rural fam- ilies.

The period of July 19-25, 1959, has been designated as Farm Safety Week by the President of the United States, in coopera- tion with the National Safety Council.

A vigorous farm accident-pre- vention program will be conduc- ted during this week by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the Texas Agri- cultural Extension Service and the Texas Safety Association.

By directing the attention of our rural residents to safety edu- cation, such worthwhile pro- grams can greatly reduce acci- dents.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of July 19-25, 1959, as FARM SAFETY WEEK in Texas, and urge all Texas farm families to increase their vigilance against needless acci- dents and further encourage interested organizations and in- dividuals to participate in this program.

Worth. Gloria's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Booker, came for her over the weekend.

(Seal) In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my sig- nature this 22nd day of June, 1959.

(Signed) PRICE DANIEL,
Governor of Texas.

Think of her faring on—as dear In the love of There, as the love of Here Think of her still as the same, I say She is not dead—she is just away. —James Whitcomb Riley. 7-16-1tc.

CHRIST
CAN CHANGE
THE WORLD

BY TOM MITCHELL

Some man will say, How dead raised up? and what body do they come? ...

by his vibrating membrane and so life goes on for the little insect, that takes many years to complete.

Did not Jesus say, If God so clothed the grass which is today in the field, and tomorrow is cast into the oven; How much more will he clothe you? Does He not also imply that He has a special spiritual body, that will be suited to our souls and personalities in our New Spiritual life?

He who puts 16 years into the life of a cicada will He not use Eternity to give us a chance to live, grow and serve.

Then as we behold the iris, dahlia and gladiol, with their varied colors and fragrance we need not say with what bodies do they come? But say, "Look, Behold what beautiful bodies do they come."

"In every flower that breaks the sod,

In every bush and tree, I see the handiwork of God Designed for you and me!

In sunrise glorious and bright, In sunset calm and clear, I drink the beauty of the sight and feel that God is near."

Also like David we can say, "As for me, I will behold Thy face in righteousness; I shall be satisfied when I awake with Thy likeness."

TAKEN OFF BURNING SHIP—The last 12 crew members of the burning Belgian freighter, Anvers, are towed to the Coast Guard station at Cameron, La., in the lifeboat in which they made their escape. FARM SAFETY WEEK

Farm work accidents claim about 3,500 lives each year, which is more than any other major industry. About 12,000 farm residents lose their lives each year in all types of accidents.

And a million or more farm people suffer accidental injuries and the accompanying disabilities, miseries and financial troubles each year.

Pretty grim statistics, aren't they? To make the picture more grim, the National Safety Council says many of the deaths are somebody's fault—and could be prevented.

This is the reason the President has proclaimed the week beginning July 19, as National Farm Week and requests all persons and organizations interested in the welfare of farm people to support and participate in its observance.

The National Safety Council says human failure—ignorance and carelessness—are the main causes of farm accidents each year. As individuals, rural residents can help in the battle against farm accidents by making regular inspections of their homes, buildings, fields, machinery and equipment. A little repair and extra care is about all it takes to bring safety home to the farm.

As groups, farmers can work for safety, too. Rural organizations should make accident prevention a part of their activity, a feature on their programs, a subject of their discussions.

Farm Safety Week is a good opportunity for rural residents to take a few lessons in safety, and then practice them all year long.

Many farm groups are planning special programs during Farm Safety Week and a number of rural ministers will mention the special week at church July 19.

The theme of this year's Farm Safety Week is "Safety Makes Sense."

Safety does make sense. It could save your life.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: I recently opened an appliance sales and repair shop of my own and will have two employees. How do I report their earnings and taxes?

Answer: You must first apply for an employer's identification number on a Form SS-4, which you send to your District Director of Internal Revenue. That agency will assign you an employer's number and furnish you with an Employer's Tax Guide, giving the tax tables. At the end of each calendar quarter, you will be mailed the necessary form for reporting your employees' earnings and payment of the withholding and social security taxes. Necessary forms and tax guides are available at any Social Security Office or Internal Revenue Service Office.

Question: I will be age 62 in September, and I plan to retire and apply for my social security benefits. My husband is age 65 and has not worked enough to qualify for social security benefits. Will he be eligible for benefits based on my earnings?

Answer: If you provide one half of your husband's support during the 12 months just before you apply for benefits, he can qualify as a dependent husband. The amount of his benefit would be one half of the amount of your benefit.
