City Council Receives Water Survey Report From Engineer

The city council, meeting in regular session Monday night, received formal report from Joe J. Rady & Company, Engineers, on the water survey and study with recommendations and proposals for providing Goldthwaite with an adequate water supply.

The report, representing approximately 50 pages along with a number of maps and charts, was presented to the council by Mr. Rady and Bob King, who have been working on the project for the past two months.

Sources of water supply considered in the report are the following:

(a) Purchase of water from the Brown County Water Improvement District.

(b) Utilization of Lake Merritt.

(c) A reservoir to be constructed on Browns Creek.

(d) Additional well supply.

(e) The Colorado River.

These were selected as a result of general study of all possible sources of water supply for Goldthwaite and are deemed worthy of detailed investigation.

Formal report covers detailed studies of six possible supply sources with two on the Colorado River at different locations.

Along with these different supply sources the engineering firm also made recommendations and cost estimates for certain improvements in the city distribution system and new enclosed storage reservoir which would meet State Health Department standards.

The six supply sources with estimated cost for developing each are as follows:

1—Obtaining treated water from Brownwood—$1,277,000.

2—Utilizing Lake Merritt — $215,000. (Lake Merritt is not considered as a permanent or adequate water supply source.)

3—Water Supply from new dam and reservoir on Browns Creek—$760,000.

4—Combination of reservoir on Browns Creek and use of Lake Merritt until Browns Creek Reservoir is completed—$803,000.

5—Water Supply from Colorado River, Daniels location — $608,000.

6—Water Supply from Colorado River, Sikes location — $550,000.

Engineers also reported on the possibility of having the Soil Conservation Service cooperate in constructing the Browns Creek reservoir. It was estimated that even with the assistance from the SCS on this project the cost would still be more than the Colorado River projects.

Conclusions and recommendations of the report state: "Based on the data and information submitted in this report it is concluded that the City of Goldthwaite must find an additional or new source of water supply and that the distribution system needs certain improvements.

"Realizing the necessity for providing an adequate and permanent supply of water and also the necessity of keeping the project costs within the financial abilities of the city the following recommendations are made.

"That the City of Goldthwaite construct the necessary facilities to obtain water supply from the Colorado River at the Sikes location as outlined—and make improvements to the City's water distribution system."

Estimated cost of the program recommended by the engineer is $650,000. This would include distribution system improvements, legal and fiscal costs, interest during construction and miscellaneous and contingency fund.

The report was received by the council and is now under study.

A number of extra copies will be made available for interested citizens to study.

Ways and means of financing the project were also discussed and the City's fiscal agent is to present additional details on this subject. It would be necessary to create a water district to assist in financing the program.

From all information presented it was estimated that to finance a project as recommended it will cost residents of the city from two and one-half to three times the amount paid for taxes and water in the past. This is based on past water consumption and on overall averages.

Council Ups Water Rates

Members of the City Council voted unanimously Monday night to increase rates for city water users.

The matter has been under consideration for some time and has been discussed off and on for years.

This move should be no surprise to water users—if they realize that the same rates have been in effect since 1917.

In fact, Goldthwaite residents have been enjoying the lowest water rate of any city in Texas, and, after the new rates go into effect it will still be below the state average for cities the size of Goldthwaite.

The minimum rate will be increased from $1.25 to $2 per month for 2,500 gallons. The rate per thousand gallons over the minimum will be 65¢.

This is an increase from 50¢ per thousand for residential users and from 35¢ per thousand for industrial users.

Charges for new service connections will be increased to cover costs involved. These are as follows: Three-quarter inch line, $50; One inch line, $75; One and one-half inch line, $150; and Two inch line, $200. This charge includes installing meter and running line to the property, or 100 feet, whichever is closer.

Service connection charges have been $15 for all except the two inch lines which have been on a cost basis.

New service connection charges will just about cover actual cost.

The council instructed Utilities Manager W. C. Barnett to have the necessary ordinance prepared covering the new water rates and it is to be presented to the council for adoption at the next regular meeting.

The new rates will be effective with the meter reading as of February 20, or March first billing.

1960 Highway Department Projects In Mills County To Cost $130,000.

The Texas State Highway Department will spend $130,000 on Mills County projects during 1960. Robert J. Milligan, District 23 Engineer, has announced.

This includes $50,000 for capital betterment or perpetuation in the farm-to-market and ranch-to-market road system and $80,000 for traffic safety improvement. These amounts are in addition to the regular construction and maintenance program.

Traffic safety project for Mills County is the U. S. 84, intersection of State 16 and U. S. 183 near North City Limits of Goldthwaite, a distance of approximately 0.5 mile at an estimated cost of $80,000.

The capital betterment, or farm-to-market project for the county is F. M. Road 2005 from U. S. Highway 84 East of Goldthwaite Northeast to F. M. Road 75, a distance of approximately 4.7 miles, at an estimated cost of $50,000.

Under the capital betterment program the State Highway Department approved the appropriation to improve existing highways in this county, and there will be additional right of way requirements, Milligan stated. At the November meeting of the highway commission $27,400 was allotted to the nine counties of highways in district 23 for road improvements during 1960. The amount will be spent on inadequate drainage structures, inadequate flexible base—both in width and thickness, and for additional surfaces.

The traffic safety project was approved at the December meeting of the State Highway Commission when $540,000 was appropriated exclusively for safety improvements designed to give Texans safer traveling on high traffic volume roads. The new program was formed from an engineering study of accident rates. Those spots that had high accident rates were set up for work under this program. One hundred sixteen and nine-tenths (116.9) miles of state and U. S. Highways in district 23 will be improved under this program. Narrow pavements will be widened and shoulders improved. Dangerous intersections will be cannalized and slick uneven surfaces leveled up and non-skid surfaces applied.

"We expect to get all work underway on the traffic safety and new capital betterment programs during the calendar year of 1960," Milligan stated.

Glynn R. Petty Announces For Sheriff-Tax Assessor, Collector

Glynn R. Petty this week authorized the Eagle to announce his candidacy for the office of Mills County Sheriff-Tax Assessor and Collector, subject to the Democratic primary election on May 7.

Mr. Petty has lived in Mills County for the past 14 years. He was born at Zephyr and lived at the Mills-Brown counties line before moving to Goldthwaite.

He has followed carpenter and construction work in the Mills County area for the past 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Petty live on Hannah Valley Road. They have three children, a son, Mike, 12, and two daughters, Jana, 8, and Tammie, 7 months.

This is the first time for Petty to seek public or elective office.

In making his announcement Mr. Petty issued the following statement: "I have received much encouragement from friends and citizens over the county to run for the office of Sheriff-Tax assessor and collector and after giving the matter considerable thought and study I have decided to enter the race. I plan to make an active campaign and plan to see all voters in the county before the election. I feel I am qualified to take care of the job and will do my best to serve the people of the county and do a good job for them. I will appreciate the vote and influence of everyone in the county."

Goldthwaite FFA To Sponsor Rabies Vaccination Saturday, January 9

The Goldthwaite FFA Chapter is sponsoring a rabies vaccination campaign to inoculate dogs against this disease as a community service and an aid to public health. This program is necessary because of the prevalence of rabies in nearby areas and the abundance of varmints that might spread the disease.

John Burdette as president of the Chapter, and Charlie Wilkins as community service chairman, have jointly announced a dog vaccination program to be held on Saturday, January 9, 1960, at the old Ag Building on the High School grounds from 9:00 a. m. until 2:00 p. m. Vaccine will be available at $1.00 per dog and FFA boys will be present to inoculate the dogs and issue receipts and rabies tags for the dogs' collars.

Everyone is urged to bring their dogs and join in this campaign to prevent rabies. You are to have your dog on a leash when you bring him in, according to announcement by Charles Sherwood, reporter, and Thurman Head, Chapter Advisor.

Need For Local River Authority Discussed At Lions Club Meeting

The need for a Colorado River Authority including Mills, Brown, McCulloch, Lampasas and Concho Counties was discussed further at the Lions Club meeting Tuesday night.

"Every county must lay long range plans for an adequate water supply if it expects to grow," said Levi Old, Brownwood, who was the guest speaker.

Mr. Old told the group that the five counties comprise a void at this time with respect to a voice to be heard before the State Board of Water Engineers, the Corps of Army Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation.

A River Authority permits the people of that area to be included and to be heard in the master plan for the State. "Small county voices should be heard in the master water plan of the State," Old said.

Persons interested in creating a Middle Colorado River Authority contend that water should be impounded where it falls to provide for future growth and development of that area.

In a discussion that followed there was general agreement that the counties involved should belong to a River Authority, either a new one or by joining an existing one.

The Lions Club voted to endorse the move by ordering a resolution prepared to present to the group representing the five counties before their next meeting on January 19.

Mr. Old was introduced by E. B. Gilliam Jr., who was a guest.

Other guests were Joe Keith, N. E. Trostle, Charley Trigg and

W. H. Pruitt of Brownwood; Lucius M. Stephens, Lometa, and L. B. Burnham, Goldthwaite.

W. C. Barnett and Rev. George McCrary had charge of the program.

The program as presented Tuesday night was planned to further acquaint and explain to a representative group of Mills County citizens the work that is being done with respect to creating a Colorado River Authority for this area.

Representatives from Brown, Mills and McCulloch counties met in Brownwood on December 22 when the matter was discussed.

The problem will be discussed and further plans will be made at a meeting this week Friday in San Saba and on Tuesday, January 19 in Brownwood.

VIC'S . . .

SOLILOQUY

THERE'S GOOD NEWS—speaking in terms of payroll and industrial investment—for the smaller communities of this country. U. S. News & World Report tells the story in its issue of December 21.

"U. S. industry is turning more and more to small towns and even the open countryside—as a place to build new plants.

"As a result, job opportunities in many small communities across the country are on the increase.

"In some rural areas, new industries are giving employment to people who used to make their living from farming. In other places, payrolls from the new plants are boosting retail trade and lifting the standard of living of local residents."

The U. S. News piece is based on an official study made by a division of the Department of Commerce. This is the first such government study of its kind, so no exact comparisons can be made with past times. However, Commerce says that the movement of industry into the smaller communities has steadily increased in recent years. And one plant-location specialist reports that more than 90 per cent of all the new factories built since World War II ended have gone into communities in the under-50,000 population bracket. While this has been happening, he adds, " . . . the large traditional manufacturing cities of the U. S. have lost ground rapidly."

The magazine gives a number of specific examples of the trend, based on checks of business executives and industrial authorities. In Kentucky, for instance, 478 out of 649 new plants built or planned in the 48-59 period were located in the under-50,000 communities. This year's biggest Florida development—a $13.5 million paperboard plant—went to a town of 6,000. And in Vermont, whose largest city contains only 35,000 people, national companies entering or expanding operations in the state have added $8 million to the annual payroll in five years.

What brings industry into the small towns, the suburbs and the countryside? A large part of the answer can be given in one word—"Costs." An expert says, "More and more industries are finding that their costs—for labor, transportation, fringe benefits, plant overhead and utilities—are often lower in smaller communities than in big cities." On top of that, smaller communities often offer pleasanter living conditions, for both work and recreation, and provide special advantages for company and worker alike.

This does not mean that the big city is due to wither on the vine industrially. Numerous types of business—printing and publishing, rubber products, machine tools, paints and so on down a lengthy list—favor the urban location. "Even so," says U. S. News in conclusion, "there is evidence that smalltown locations are appealing increasingly to many business concerns. The prospect for the years ahead is that the nation's rural areas will get a still larger number of business concerns of many kinds."

TIME TO RECOGNIZE FACTS—Speaking at the convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Senator John L. McClellan of Arkansas stressed two matters of peak national importance.

A determined effort will be made to knockout the moderate Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill passed during the last session of Congress. In the Senator's words, "The forces that oppose labor reform legislation are still active and militant. They want it repealed or modified or rendered impotent." And there's a chance that will happen—unless the people who favor reasonable and fair labor reform make their views effectively known.

The Senator then urged that labor and management work together to solve our production cost problem. He pointed out that jobs are being exported overseas—that "we're being priced out of the world market." In more and more lines, American manufacturers are finding it increasingly difficult to meet lower-cost foreign competition. More American companies are establishing plants abroad, because of the cost differential.

The handwriting is on the wall—for management, labor and the public at large to read. And that reading had better be done soon.

INTERNATIONAL FINANCING WORRIES ADMINISTRATION U. S. GOES DEEPER IN RED, OTHER COUNTRIES PROSPER

By HENRY CATHCART Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—A renewed concern over the state of financial operations can be detected in the federal government, reaching right up to the White House.

It primarily involves the continued worsening position of America's international financial dealings, which are running into the red by billions each year. But behind this fact is the threat of a new kind of inflation which is the real concern of the administration.

The overall picture is one in which some nations of the world are prospering while the United States with its huge give-away programs and military operations is falling further and further behind.

In Germany, for instance, the United States maintains large and expensive armed installations which guarantee the security of that country, but Germany does not pay for this security.

Meanwhile, German recovery from the economic shambles that accompanied her defeat in World War II has been so remarkable that she is by far the most prosperous country in Europe, enjoying a favorable balance of trade and a hard and stable currency.

The same picture in more moderate outlines can be found in many other countries.

To meet this changed situation, the Eisenhower administration is groping for a number of solutions. One is to push some of the more prosperous countries to begin their own foreign aid programs and thus relieve the United States of a portion of this continuing burden.

Another is to cause some of these countries either to strengthen their own defense forces or contribute to the support of American forces in their territories.

A third is to require that United States loans to other countries should be spent in this country wherever possible.

CIA OPEN HOUSE—The government's greatest secret agency, the Central Intelligence agency, has a new building going up, after years of planning, in the rolling Virginia countryside near Washington.

This is really quite a departure for the agency which once was so anonymous it didn't even list its telephone number in the book. When the agency is called on the phone, the operator answers with the number instead of saying CIA. When you ask for a person by name, you can't get him; you must know his extension and ask by the number.

CIA's operations are so secret that its budget is never divulged. No one not authorized knows how much it spends, how many employes it has or the full nature of its work.

The CIA's new building will have a cafeteria seating 1,000 and an auditorium for 500. It will cost $46 million to build and has its own access road. Quite a den for spies!

POLITICS—For anyone who doubts that Nelson A. Rockefeller is dead serious about seeking the 1960 GOP presidential nomination, there is another straw in the political wind.

The New York governor has acquired the services of one of the nation's top political speech writers, Hugh Morrow, a former associate editor of the Saturday Evening Post.

Morrow did the speech-writing chores for Kenneth B. Keating last year during his successful campaign for the Senate as a runningmate of Rockefeller. Keating won a reputation as an after-dinner speaker largely on Morrow's ability to turn a phrase.

'Dimes' Opens First Birth Defects Center

A birth defects study center, the first of its kind designed to combine clinical treatment with research and teaching, has just been officially opened at Columbus, Ohio. It is supported by funds from the New March of Dimes, which is now engaged in its January campaign for contributions to fight three major crippling diseases including, besides birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Parents are taught to give home care to children with birth defects at the Columbus Children's Hospital Birth Defects Study Center, supported by New March of Dimes funds. Here doctors examine Jackie Vess, 3, born with hydrocephalus, commonly known as "water on the brain," while parents get instruction.

Medical experts say that birth defects are the biggest unmet childhood medical problem in the United States today. There are more than 600 different kinds of birth defects, or "congenital malformations," as they are called by doctors. They range all the way from harelip and clubfoot to mental retardation.

Some 250,000 American babies are born each year with one or more significant birth defects; and about half of this number are doomed to a lifetime of serious illness or crippling. About 34,000 infants each year are stillborn because of these afflictions, or die within the first month of life. Medical science as yet has few clues to the causes of these disorders that occur before birth; and there are few known methods of prevention.

Born with an open spine, two-month-old Madonna Galich is examined by a physician at the Birth Defects Study Center, just officially opened in the Columbus, Ohio, Children's Hospital. New March of Dimes funds will be used to help this baby toward a normal and useful life.

Shrouded in Superstition

The study center in Columbus' famed Children's Hospital thus represents the beginning of the New March of Dimes attempt to solve a medical problem that has heretofore been largely neglected by research. It is a problem that has for centuries been shrouded in fear, superstition and shame.

By tackling this issue with a three-pronged program of research, patient aid and training of skilled medical professionals, the March of Dimes organization seeks to bring hope to the hundreds of thousands of parents whose lives have been blighted by bewildering grief and heartbreak following the birth of a malformed child.

This hope is bolstered by the past record of the March of Dimes organization in fighting baffling diseases. It was March of Dimes funds that encouraged Dr. Jonas E. Salk to become a virologist and that produced his world-celebrated vaccine against crippling polio.

Some Can Be Helped

Certain major birth defects, such as "water on the brain" (hydrocephalus) and "open spine" (spina bifida), can now sometimes be corrected by new techniques of surgery, medical experts at the March of Dimes organization report.

Through the combination of treatment, teaching and study at the Columbus Birth Defects Study Center and others the March of Dimes hopes to establish and support, it is believed that new knowledge will be obtained and spread so that the devastating effects of these disorders may eventually, for the most part, be prevented or controlled.

School is back in full swing again. We find it a little hard at our house to get up as early as we need to for the school bus; however, we are "getting back in the groove" so to speak. When I was a small child, about eight or nine, I walked three miles to school. My mother would remind us quite often to watch for wolves along the way. Sometimes it would be almost dark when we reached home in the afternoon.

Pastor's Column In Cooperation With the Mills County Ministers' Association

By Rodger Croker, Pastor
Trigger Mountain
Baptist Church

"Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, as new born babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby; if so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious."—1 Peter 2:11-3.

A minister once received a Christmas gift from one of his members. The gift was a very unusual one. It was a wastebasket; not just an ordinary one, but one decorated with roses and equipped with brass legs. His first thought was that this was a hint to throw away some of his sermons.

At the beginning of a new year it might be well to throw out evil habits and sins that have filled our lives the past year.

Our text is a plea to throw away some things that we may have other and better things.

Malice is the unholy spirit of ill will that seeks to injure others, to get revenge. In the West Indies there is a tree called the manchineel tree, which contains sap that is a sort of milky fluid that blisters upon touch. It is very deadly to insect life. The character of this tree finds its counterpart in the disposition of some people who delight to cause pain, whose spiteful spirit brings sadness and grief to others. Malice! Let us throw it in the wastebasket.

Guile means deceitfulness and trickery. It is just the opposite of frankness and sincerity. It is pretending to be fair when one is unfair; generous when one is not; pretending to be honest when one is dishonest. Let us throw this evil into the wastebasket.

A hypocrite is a play actor. One who plays a part, and in that sense I suppose all of us are more or less hypocrites.

Jesus's most blistering words were directed at those who pretend to be pious but would rob widows and live like the devil. Let's cast aside all hypocrisies.

To be envious means to begrudge the position or possession of another. It was envy which caused Cain to slay his brother. The only place for envy is in the wastebasket.

A large share of the trouble in our homes and churches can be traced to the sin of evil speaking. It is not just a person's nature to speak evil, but it is the very nature of the devil. Three rules should be observed before one speaks: Is it true? Is it kind? Is it necessary?

Indeed we need to clean out our lives, throwing the discarded into the wastebasket.

When tailoring a jacket or coat, pin shoulder pads in place before checking fit of sleeve. Adjust fullness until sleeves hang without a wrinkle anywhere.

RIGHT TRIM ADDS "STYLE FLARE"

The right kind of trimming adds interest and individuality to a costume. Too much can be distracting and confusing.

The secret of effectiveness in trimming lies in discriminating use. Self-covered buttons and belts, or those that blend with the garment, can be used without danger of a spotty or over-decorated effect. Self trim of this type becomes part of the design of the garment and gives more leeway in choosing other accessories.

If you plan for contrasting trim, study your figure carefully to determine where to place the emphasis. In other words, "accentuate the positive." Make certain the trim is appropriate to the garment and the occasion for which it will be worn.

Shop for ideas that are different. Study garments displayed in exclusive dress shops and adapt ideas to your own purse and personality.

A final word. When in doubt, leave that extra trim off. It's better to use too little than too much.

MAKE THE MOST OF MID-WINTER CLOTHING SALES

Many stores are now featuring sales of winter fabrics, and winter dresses, suits, and coats. The careful shopper can make the most of these special prices to fill gaps in the wardrobe, or add some needed pieces.

Here are some tips for analyzing the situation before you buy a certain fabric or clothing item on sale or otherwise:

1. Keep your total wardrobe in mind. Buy only those items that fit in with your budget, color plan, accessories and activities.
2. Consider lines, color and texture of the garment. Are they really suited to your type? Are they extreme or high fashion—likely to look wrong next season?
3. Look at the label carefully. Get as much information as possible on care and cleaning.

Other suggestions for stretching clothing dollars are given in the bulletin, "Wardrobe Dollars and Sense." Principles given in the publication apply to all family members. Ask for a copy of the bulletin at my office.

PROTEIN SUPPLEMENTS

Cattlemen have many choices available when buying protein supplements for their cattle. U. Thompson, extension animal husbandman, says they are available with varying protein content and in different forms, such as blocks, cubes, cakes, pellets, dry and liquid bulk. The form makes little to no difference in cattle performance.

There are, however, some factors which should receive attention, points out Thompson. Labor required for feeding the supplements is an important consideration and less is needed with some of the forms available. The cost per pound of protein should be considered. Cattle do well on a single source protein, says the specialist. Their protein requirements are available in the protein from cottonseed, soybean or linseed. Consideration should be given to the cost per pound instead of how many different sources of protein are in the supplement.

The amount of supplement to feed will vary with its protein content. Under most Texas range conditions, the feeding should be based on two pounds of a 41 per cent crude protein per brood cow per day. A protein content of half this amount would mean doubling the feed in order to meet the daily protein requirement.

WINTERKILL OF SOME CROPS

Winterkill is influenced by unbalanced fertilizer use. High nitrogen levels without adequate potash will, over a period of years, increase the hazards of winterkill of Coastal Bermuda grass and small grains, says John Box, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In tests conducted by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Georgia Agricultural Experiment Station, Box says it was found that winterkill of Coastal was most severe on plots which had received combinations of high nitrogen fertilization and low potassium for the past three years.

As the amounts of nitrogen increased, winterkill caused progressively more damage, especially on plants receiving no potash. High rates of nitrogen stimulate vegetative growth with the subsequent drain of natural phosphorus and potassium even on soils which are relatively high in these nutrients.

Potash is effective in hardening the plant material, thus counteracting the effects of the nitrogen and making the crop more hardy. These Georgia tests, point up the need for keeping plant nutrients in balance. Damage ranged from 35 to 92 per cent to Coastal stands in the spring of 1958 following the severe winter in the Georgia area.

Box says that soil tests show that heavy applications of ni-

CORN BORER QUARANTINE

For the first time on record in Texas, the dreaded European corn borer showed up in a Bowie County field and prompted immediate action by the Texas Department of Agriculture to prevent its further spread in the State.

An emergency quarantine against the movement of un-screened or unfumigated corn and related grains from Bowie County or into Texas from all states having infested areas was ordered into immediate effect. The discovery of the pest in a single Bowie County field was confirmed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, marking the first time on record that the European corn borer, prevalent in many of the leading corn producing states, had penetrated into Texas.

The quarantine order required that corn and all related grains be screened through a one-half inch mesh screen before being moved out of Bowie County or brought into Texas from any other state having infested areas. The screening is required to remove debris such as parts of stalks, stems and cobs which carry the insect pest. The quarantine does not apply to movement of corn or related grains from any part of Texas except Bowie County, the related grains including such products as broomcorn, milo, sorghums, Sudan grass and the like.

The quarantine order was regarded as essential not to protect the Texas grain industry but to safeguard regular channels of trade.

The seriousness of the borer penetration into single Texas county was indicated by reports from states in the corn belt where in the nation, the European pest destroyed most 181 million bushels valued at $133,841,000, according to USDA estimates. Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Dakota and Illinois have lost from borer damage.

In addition to the quarantine the Texas Department of Agriculture has initiated other effective steps to bring the borer infiltration under immediate firm control in Bowie County.

APRICOT DOUGHNUT RECIPE EARNS $100 FOR GIDDINGS GRANDMOTHER

'BAKING HEART' OF TEXAS IS CONTEST AREA

The Baking-Recipe-of-the-Month contest is unique because it is specially designed for a unique part of America—the Home Baking Heart of Texas.

Here, where delicious yeast breads are the pride of all good cooks, this continuing monthly contest invites friendly competition, and the exchange of outstanding recipe ideas, between every homemaker and her neighbors.

There will be new cash prizes every month, new opportunities for homemakers to win deserved recognition for their baking skill.

An extra benefit—particularly for women who have never experienced it—will be the deep satisfaction of working with Gladiola Hard Wheat Flour. It's the flour made expressly for yeast breads, Texas style.

MRS. MARTIN MOERBE, Giddings, Texas

'Couldn't make them without Gladiola Hard Wheat Flour,' says Mrs. Martin Moerbe

Tender raised doughnuts with shiny glaze and luscious hearts of apricot jam, created in the busy kitchen of Mrs. Martin Moerbe, Box 546, Giddings, Tex., have earned a special $100 award from the Gladiola Flour people as the Baking Recipe of the Month.

This recognition of superior baking is a forerunner of the continuing monthly recipe contest announced by Gladiola in this issue of Glad Times.

Mrs. Moerbe is donating half the money to the building fund of Immanuel Lutheran Church in Giddings.

Has 5 Grandchildren

This month's baking award winner is the mother of four grown children and has five youngsters on her lengthening list of grandchildren. Her complete recipe, one of many sweet dough variations with which she has delighted her family through the years, is printed on this page for Glad Times readers.

Mrs. Moerbe's only worry now is that some women will use an all-purpose flour when they try her recipe. "Naturally they'll be disappointed, and they'll probably blame it on me. So please tell everybody I couldn't make these doughnuts without Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour."

Dough with Character

In Mrs. Moerbe's opinion, too many home bakers these days forget that the vital ingredient in yeast breads is flour. "That's where you win or lose," she maintains, and points out that even the best cook in the world can't make good yeast bread dough with flour intended for other purposes.

"When you start with Gladiola Hard Wheat," she says, "your dough has strength and character you can see and feel. When you push it, it pushes back. It's 'bouncy'—almost as if it's alive and breathing. Smooth as silk, too, not sticky with starch. And it's a flavor-holder, not a flavor-loser."

GLADIOLA SPECIAL HARD WHEAT FLOUR

Baking a 'Joy'

Mrs. Moerbe believes Gladiola's Baking-Recipe-of-the-Month contest will stimulate new interest in yeast bread baking—especially among young wives. "It's not a mysterious art," she insists. "It's a joy, and more people ought to know about it."

Complete information about the contest, which pays $200 in cash prizes every month, appears in this issue of Glad Times.

11 CASH PRIZES EVERY MONTH Here are easy contest rules

1. Anyone may enter Gladiola's Baking-Recipe-of-the-Month contest except employees (and their families) of Fant Milling Co., its affiliated companies and its advertising agency.
2. Write down your favorite baking recipe using Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour. List all ingredients, then explain briefly each step in the procedure.
3. Cut off the strip that says "Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour" from the folder enclosed in every bag. Send it—with your recipe, name and address—to Glad Times, Sherman, Texas.
4. You may send in as many recipes as you wish. Mail each recipe in a separate envelope, enclosing a Gladiola strip as explained in Rule No. 3.
5. Each month's recipes are judged separately, with an independent graduate home economist as the final judge. Recipes received in January will be eligible for prizes to be announced in April.
6. For the outstanding recipe received each month, Gladiola will pay $100. Half the prize money—$50—goes to the homemaker who submitted the recipe. The remaining $50 goes to the church of her choice as her special contribution.
7. Ten other recipes will be chosen each month for Honorable Mention prizes of $10 each.
8. All recipes submitted become the property of Fant Milling Company, Sherman, Texas, with full publication rights. Recipes cannot be returned.

GLAZED APRICOT DOUGHNUTS

Gladiola's Baking Recipe of the Month

Mrs. Moerbe's Glazed Apricot Doughnuts

1 cup shortening	1/2 cup warm water	9 (or more) cups sifted
1 cup sugar	1 package active dry	Gladiola Special
2 teaspoons salt	yeast	Hard Wheat Flour
2 cups boiling water	2 teaspoons sugar	1/2 cup apricot jam
2 eggs, well beaten		Deep fat for frying

Place shortening, sugar and salt in large mixing bowl. Pour boiling water over and cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast and 2 teaspoons sugar in 1/2 cup water. Stir eggs and yeast into cooled mixture. Stir in enough Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour to make a soft dough. Work dough in the bowl until smooth, about 10 minutes. Cover and place in refrigerator overnight to rise.

Punch down, divide and roll on lightly floured board to a very thin sheet. Cut rounds with a large biscuit cutter. On half the rounds place a scant teaspoonful of apricot jam or preserves, top with remaining rounds and pinch edges to seal. Let stand 15 minutes.

Have ready fat heated to 370°. Drop doughnuts into hot fat, turning to brown. Drain; while still warm, coat with a thin layer of powdered sugar glaze. Dough will keep 3 or 4 days in the refrigerator. Makes 4 to 5 dozen filled doughnuts.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

This is New Year's Day, 1960. El Paso's Gala Day. The day of the Sun Carnival. The midnight whistles were blowing before we went to bed last night, so we weren't very early risers this morning. The parade was to be at ten o'clock. All cars were headed for as near Montana Street—the parade street—as they could get. We went down Wyoming bumper to bumper, four lanes deep. When at last we could go no farther, all cars parked in the street. We must walk a few blocks to reach the two-story brick apartment house on the north side of Montana Street where lives our good friend, Mrs. Crooks. Here a group of church friends watch the parade every year.

I was carrying a pan of cup cakes. So was Grace. Johnny was carrying a blanket. Besides their cameras Bill and Billy were carrying chairs for Grace and Johnny. Grace and her family and their friends took their chairs and blankets to the curb. I went up the west side of Mrs. Crooks' high porch, and moved near the steps. Here the sun was shining and the view was perfect.

"It was the largest," said the evening paper, "most lavish parade in the Southwestern Carnival's 25-year history." Tens of thousands of cheering spectators thronged the sides of the parading route. The theme was "Holiday Around the World." There were 94 units. There were 30 big floats interpreting the theme—21 smaller princess floats, 25 bands, 8 marching units, and 10 horse, motor vehicles, and miscellaneous entries.

The floats were the longest and most beautiful ones I have ever seen. The bands the most colorful and thrilling. I was especially thrilled when two combined military bands from Fort Bliss marched majestically by. And another special thrill when an immense stirring band in handsome green uniforms swept by beating drums that said, "North Texas State College."

Briggs Air Force Float, "Disneyland," won the Sweepstakes Cup. Grand Prize for beauty was won by "Holiday in Japan" which featured beautiful Japanese wives of U. S. military personnel in authentic costumes singing authentic Japanese songs and dancing authentic Japanese dances amid the cherry blossoms.

After the parade it took Bill an hour to get the car around to Mrs. Crooks. It has been a wonderful New Year's Day, and I want to wish all my friends a Happy and Prosperous New Year!

Now I turn from this to a heartbreaking story. When my sister, the late Mrs. Nellie Malone, used to live in the Malone house near our home at Ebony, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Garland Malone of Fabens, used to come to visit her there. She was accompanied by her son, Jay Jr., her mother, Mrs. Breeding, and Mrs. Breeding's little motherless grandson, Ben Collins, known to us as Scootie. He and Ezelle Thompson used to play together. Garland lost her husband, Jay Sr., long ago. For many years she has taught in the Ysleta Schools. She and Jay are our only kinkfolks out here.

Sunday Mrs. Breeding called us and said Garland had been sick for two months. Can't even feed herself. Monday Grace and I went to see them. We were shocked to find Garland so seriously ill. Her mother is 82. But with a brave heart she was keeping house, cooking, and waiting on Garland in a fine way. Jay is studying law and working at the Y. M. C. A. Scootie is teaching fifth grade in the Ysleta school and loves it. His grandmother says he is the best of help with Garland and is so sweet about it all. Tuesday they moved Garland to an El Paso hospital. Word comes from the doctors that her trouble is glandular, and there is no cure, but as long as there is life there is hope.

4-H Leaders in Texas Enjoy Chicago Trip

Four Lone Star state winners of trips to the 38th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago were top 4-H exponents of soil conservation, frozen foods, safety and home improvement projects. All 1959 winners were chosen by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Crutsinger

Miss Feuge

Brown county 4-H gold star award winner Larry Crutsinger, 17, of Brownwood, attended the Chicago meeting because of his outstanding work in soil and water conservation. Since his 1954 enrollment in the Brownwood 4-H Club, Crutsinger has concentrated on range and grass judging.

As president and junior leader of his club, Crutsinger assists in junior judging team instruction. A senior in Brownwood Senior High school, he went to Chicago as guest of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

The Whirlpool Corporation sent Helen "Betsy" Feuge, 16, a Llano High school junior, as its frozen foods project ambassador to the Chicago congress.

Since beginning her 4-H Club work six years ago, Miss Feuge has frozen 2,169 pounds of home-grown foods. She represented Llano county at the 4-H district camp in 1957.

She has been junior leader in three 4-H Clubs—Work and Play, Castell and Prairie Mountain. A practical county-wide water survey as part of her 4-H project helped Nancy White, 17, of Greenville, to become a delegate to the Chicago congress.

During seven years of club work, Miss White has been a junior leader and former president of her County-at-Large 4-H Club.

Her Chicago trip was arranged by General Motors.

Billye Marian King, 19, as home improvement project leader, went to Chicago as guest of the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Miss King
