Telephone Company Announces Improvements

Expansion and improvement programs of The Southwestern Telephone Company will continue during 1960, with a total of $7 million being budgeted for various projects under the program.

T. Strickland, vice-president and general manager for the company, announced that $880,000 has been budgeted for improvement of the company's facilities in its operating area in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas. The company serves over 140,000 telephone lines through 153 exchanges. The company's expansion program in its West Texas division during 1960 will amount to $1,393,030. Some of the projects to be expended for are: new central office equipment at Blanco, Brownwood, Jicksburg, Junction, Kingsland, Marble Falls, and Spring Springs.

MILLS COUNTY
 In favor of circuits will be placed in Goldthwaite to exchanges in Star, Big Valley and in the Central Texas Telephone Co-op., requiring an expenditure of about $8,660.

J. Williams attended to services for his sister, Mrs. W. C. Wilson, in North, Tuesday. Mrs. Williams is the sister of Jack Morf Goldthwaite.

DOMINOE GAME IS THURSDAY NIGHT

The dominoe games for the benefit of the March of Dimes will be held on Thursday night, February 4, at the Recreation Parlor, according to announcement by E. D. Hamilton, Chairman.

Missionaries To Speak At Local Methodist Church

Next Sunday night, at 7:00, the Rev. Jesse Long, former pastor of the Star Methodist Circuit, will speak to the Goldthwaite Methodist Church on Protestant Missions in Mexico. With the aid of films which he took, he will be reporting on a tour he made last summer with the help of directions from the General Board of Missions.

On Thursday evening, February 4, Miss Ann Ruth Jones, a Methodist missionary to Africa, will report on her work and general conditions, missionary and otherwise, in Africa. For this meeting the Goldthwaite Church will have a covered dish supper in the fellowship hall at 7:00 p. m., with the program following. For this same meeting all members of the Scout Committee and the Explorer Committee are asked to be present. The new charters for 1960 will be presented at the beginning of this program, just after the supper.

The public is cordially invited to attend both of these meetings. We especially urge that all those who have been in any of the mission studies during January hear Miss Jones. That includes the Juniors, Intermediates, Young People, Woman's Society and the Wednesday night Mission Study group. Rev. McCrary, pastor, says, "Come, bring the whole family and friends,—and covered dishes accordingly. It will be very, very interesting."

Charles Haenisch of Eden was transacting business and visiting friends in Goldthwaite Friday.

This week Saturday is a most important date to remember for all who wish to take part in whatever elections come this year by going to the polls and voting for their favorite candidate.

Saturday is the last day to pay your poll tax or get your exemption certificate.

Poll tax payments in Mills County have "perked up" considerably during the past week, but, there are still a good many citizens who have not paid their poll tax.

Everyone except those who are exempt must pay their poll tax if they expect to be qualified to vote.

Elections coming up this year will be the city and school trustee elections in April, the first primary election in May and the run-off election in June and then the general election in November. There is also the possibility that some special elections will be called during the year.

Those exempt from paying poll taxes are: A citizen who became 21 years of age or who moved into Texas after January 1, 1959, may obtain an exemption certificate from the County Tax Collector. A citizen who became 60 years of age before January 1, 1959, is exempt from the poll tax. If he lives in a city of 10,000 or more inhabitants, he must obtain an exemption certificate each year. In smaller cities he may sign an affidavit when he votes.

The new 1960 tags for cars, trucks and trailers will go on sale in Mills County starting Monday morning, February 1. It was announced this week by C. F. Stubblefield, tax assessor-collector.

Stubblefield also announced that under the new law all trailers over 4,000 pounds will have to have a certificate of title for the first time. Titles can be obtained now while there is still time to meet certain requirements regarding proof of ownership and serial number.

Car owners should bring their certificate of title and license receipt from last year when coming in to purchase their new tags. This will save time in getting new licenses issued.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Duren, Harold Yarborough and Azalee Leinweber spent Sunday in Dallas attending Market.

New officers will be installed on February 19, according to announcement by L. B. Porter.

Cen-Tex Registered Goat Breeders Have Annual Meeting, Elect Officers

The fourth annual meeting of the Central Texas Registered Angora Goat Raisers Association was held in Goldthwaite on the night of January 22, 1960.

Purpose of this meeting was to elect officers and committees for 1960 and to establish the sale date for this year's sale.

There were 22 members of this association present. The association is composed of Registered Angora Goat Breeders in San Saba, Lampasas, Hamilton, Mills, Brown, Comanche and Coryell counties with approximately 47 members.

The association re-elected V. Z. Cornelius president; Bob Kerby vice-president and Dr. T. C. Graves, secretary.

The directors of the association for 1960 are: Mills County—David Watters, Glenn Nickols and Floyd Daniel. Comanche County—E. L. Luckie.

Brown County—Bob Stone. Lampasas County—Johnny Martin.

San Saba County—Forrest McGregor. Coryell County—Mr. Dickerson and Mr. Medart. Hamilton County—D. Barnett.

The following committees were elected: Sales Committee—Bob Kerby, Chairman; David Watters and Glenn Nickols. Rules Committee—R. E. Casbeer, Chairman; Mr. Dickerson and Floyd Daniel. Refreshment Committee—T. C. Chaney. Building Committee—F. L. Terrell, Chairman; W. C. Whitteburg and Luther Jernigan. Membership Committee—V. Z. Cornelius.

The dates selected for the 1960 Sale are August 26 and 27. This association is planning to present, for this sale, a group of goats that will be the best ever offered in this annual Goat sale. The sale goats will be selected by a competent goat judge and these goats will be of a very high standard, officials announced.

Next Monday Is Deadline For Candidates To File

Jr. High Football Boys Receive Letters

GENE AULDRIDGE
 Goldthwaite Jr. High men of the 1959 football were issued their letters Sunday, January 25, 1960, by Coach Jackie Williams. They are as follows: Gene Aldridge and Steve Gage; RT, Charles Edmond; Phil Duren; RG, Gene and Butch Howard; C, Bill and Bill Miller; LG, Riley and Steve Oliver; tonnie Joe Allison and Gage; LE, Clyde Cock; Joe Armandarez; LHB, Wiedebusch and Jimmy Fullback, Lynn Elliott; DeWayne McCasland and y Hammond. Ed Wrinkle, manager, also ed his letter.

Eagle Field Will Have New Electric Scoreboard

Supt. J. T. Jones announced Tuesday that contributions and pledges from interested citizens have assured a new all-electric football scoreboard for Eagle Field.

Approximately $1,800 had been paid or pledged Tuesday and those working on the project are now certain that the drive will go over the top.

At a called meeting last Friday morning at McLean Cafe a committee of donors met with representatives from the company to select the type of scoreboard wanted. The committee picked out a porcelain faced board and ordered it installed on a "turn key" job including warranty of one year with ten years on the face of the board.

This modern scoreboard will be an added attraction to Eagle Field as the football season gets underway next fall.

Next Monday, February 1, is the last day for prospective candidates to file with the county chairman and have their name placed on the official ballot for the first primary election on May 7, it was announced this week by Mrs. Raymond Cockrum, chairman of the Mills County Democratic Executive Committee.

Mrs. Cockrum informed the Eagle this week that a number of candidates seeking nomination in the primary election have already signed their application to have their names placed on the ballot. However, those who have not signed their application are reminded of the February 1, deadline.

According to the election laws, "Request by candidate to have name placed on ballot shall be filed not later than the first Monday in February preceding such primary."

The executive committee will meet on Monday, February 8, to apportion costs of primary among candidates.

Dale Reid Announces For County Sheriff, Tax Assessor-Collector

Dale E. Reid this week authorized the Eagle to announce his candidacy for the office of Mills County Sheriff, Tax Assessor-Collector subject to the democratic primary election on May 7.

In making his announcement Reid issued the following statement:

"I was born in Mills County and have lived here all of my life, with the exception of fifteen months, during which I served in the 2nd World War as Shore Patrol in the U. S. Navy. I was discharged in 1946.

"I am married and have three children. At present I am employed at Loy Long's Grocery in Goldthwaite. I have carefully considered the duties of this office of Sheriff, Tax Assessor-Collector and believe that I am qualified to fill the position. If elected I shall endeavor to serve the people of Mills County humbly and honestly. Although I will continue with my job for

HOLDING THE LINE—Washington Report, a publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, observes that it will be easier to hold the line on costs and prices this year "if Congress lays aside the perennial minimum wage bills."

It reasons: "It's not so much the cost of raising the wages of the least skilled and least productive workers at the bottom of the scale that disturbs the economy. It's the cumulative effect of having to pay higher wages all the way up the line as each wage group, in turn, strives to maintain its differential, and as these increases in the affected businesses spread out and disturb prevailing wage rates in whole communities."

Moreover, current proposals would do more than increase the minimum wage. They would extend coverage to many millions of workers, notably in retailing, who have been exempt ever since the wage-hour law was first passed, back in the 30's. The exemptions which have been approved over and over again by Congress, are based on the plain and inescapable fact that retail trade and the other service enterprises concerned are entirely local in nature and so, if laws are needed, they should be applied at the local level by local government. It is obvious that a wage law, for instance, which would be suitable in New York City would be completely disruptive and out of place in a small Southern town.

We can have higher wages without disruptive higher prices only when worker productivity holds its own with the payroll. Arbitrary federal laws do not and cannot recognize that truism.

HAVE YOU PAID YOUR POLL TAX?

FAITH OF THE CHILD—Mrs. W. R. Bynum reports this item about a boy which brings it right to the point.

It became necessary for a small boy to remain with his grandparents while his father and mother attended his aunt's funeral in a different state several hundred miles away.

One morning during his stay he failed to get up in time to have breakfast with the family, but he made the best of the situation and sat down to breakfast alone. He asked the blessing in his usual manner and finished by asking the Lord to take care of daddy and mommie.

The grandmother said "now the Good Lord will take care of daddy and mommie because you asked Him to." He bowed his head again and said: "Please Lord take care of them when they come back and don't let them have a flat, and if they do, and if you have some tires up there throw one down!"

PAY YOUR POLL TAX AND BE QUALIFIED TO VOTE.

VOTE — DON'T JUST TALK—Commenting editorially the Ontario, Oregon, Argus-Observer, said in part, "Louise Humphrey, Portland tax expert, hit the nail on the head in her speech before the Oregon Farm Bureau Federation when she blamed the taxpayer apathy as one of the big reasons for ever-increasing expenditures, some necessary, some unnecessary.

"Everyone gripes, but only a small handful care enough to try to do something. Major decisions involving large expenditures of money or just policy, are passed every day without a lift of an eyebrow or comment from the average citizen.

"Too often the comment is 'What can I do? How I feel doesn't make any difference'. How wrong is this attitude. Each and every one of us has a weapon—our vote. If only we could be bothered to take the time to mark a ballot when it is presented to us, we could do something. Too often, only a few take the time to vote—exposing us not to the rule by majority, but to rule by minority . . ."

Mrs. Humphrey told the Farm Bureau convention that expenditures should be challenged as to necessity and, that elimination of items would not necessarily "unlock jail doors and close school doors."

MARCH OF EVENTS

HE SEKS WAYS TO EASE CHORES OF HIS SUCCESSOR | SUGGESTIONS MAY INVOLVE A NEW DEPUTY PRESIDENT

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is not the first executive to express concern about the burdens of presidency, and there are indications that he may be preparing to do something about it.

As Mr. Eisenhower enters his last year in the White House he seems to be approaching his job with a combination of increased activity and philosophical detachment.

On the one hand, he is undoubtedly taking a more active part in government affairs than at any previous time in his tenure. On the other, he seems to have come to some conclusions about the role of a President and is preparing to set up a more workable administrative organization for his successor.

Over the last few days, news has been leaked out that Mr. Eisenhower is in favor of a major reorganization of the executive branch of government. He appears to favor appointment of a first secretary kind of deputy President with broad powers to negotiate with other governments, coordinate government policies and act as a substitute for the President when so assigned.

Mr. Eisenhower also favors creation of a sort of top administrative officer for the federal government who would be above Cabinet level and would co-ordinate many of the federal programs which now overlap into several different departments and agencies.

The President's ideas are an obvious outgrowth of his experiences in the White House, particularly during the period of his illnesses when the ceremonial and administrative duties of his office came into the spotlight.

OTHER CHANGES—While the White House seeks to decentralize some authority because of mounting administrative burdens, some experts want to consolidate Defense department activities to obtain increased efficiency and control.

A proposal to supplant the joint chiefs of staff set-up by World War II Germany—is being pushed again in some quarters. The idea here is that the head of each military service has a great tendency to fight for his own branch at the expense of agreement on overall needs. In these days of $40 billion military budgets, advocates of economy claim this is the best way to achieve sizable savings in government outlays.

These advocates have a powerful group of supporters on Capitol Hill and the proposal could well become a principal issue of the military and economy fields during the next session of Congress.

Opponents of the single chief of staff argue that this system was, in part, responsible for the defeat of Germany in World War II.

ART THEEVES—The Corcoran Art gallery, one of Washington's oldest and most famous, has been plagued by a series of thefts and attempted thefts.

A minor bit of statuary was stolen first; then a small but valuable ($15,000) painting by Rousseau. Next, it was discovered that a thief had tried to cut a Rembrandt out of its frame.

The Rembrandt, valued at $100,000 or more, was painted on wood, however, and the thief needed a rather than a pen-knife.

The gallery, now in the midst of a fund-raising drive, is concerned because its five guards may have to be increased to adequately police its establishment, something not previously required.

PORK AND ORANGES HEAD PLENTIFUL FOODS FOR FEBRUARY

Abundant supplies of pork, oranges and orange products are in prospect for February.

Also plentiful in February will be broiler-fryers, lamb, lard, eggs, and peanuts and peanut products.

Other fruits and vegetables on the list are cabbage, carrots, sweet potatoes, onions, grapefruit, cranberry products and raisins.

This is the season when many fresh fruits and vegetables are being harvested in Texas orchards and gardens.

Menu planners will find it to their advantage to serve these foods often because plentiful and in-season items usually provide greater economy and more choice for quality.

CHECK YOUR FAMILY MILK REQUIREMENTS

With a good supply of milk in this country, all of us should get enough. . . Yet more American diets are deficient in calcium than in any other nutrient.

Whatever age groups you have in your family—babies, teenagers, or adults—they all need milk daily.

Children need 4 cups or 1 quart daily to meet minimum calcium requirements. Adults need a pint of milk to supply the needed calcium. Recent studies show older people need a pint of milk—it's just as important for them as for children. They need the calcium and phosphorus found in milk to keep their bones from becoming fragile.

Goldthwaite Garden Club Elects Officers At January 20 Meeting

The Goldthwaite Garden Club elected Mrs. Jack Elms president for the 1960-61 club year at the meeting Wednesday afternoon, January 20, at the Jennie Trent Dew Library.

The slate of officers were recommended by the nominating committee, headed by Mrs. T. C. Graves, were unanimously elected by acclamation. Elected to serve under the direction of Mrs. Elms are Mrs. G. C. Head, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Jim Weatherby, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Lee Roy Stacy, 3rd vice-president; Mrs. Alton Keeler, recording secretary; Mrs. Marvin Hodges, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. A. Bryant, treasurer; Miss Abbie Ervin, reporter; Miss Ruth Ervin, associate reporter; and Mrs. R. Glynn Raley, parliamentarian.

New officers will be installed at the May meeting. Mrs. Warren P. Duren, Flower Show Chairman, announced that the Flower Show scheduled for December and postponed because of the early freeze, would be held in April. Place to be announced later.

Plans were discussed for the club's annual pilgrimage and April 29 was selected for the trip to an Iris Garden in Brownwood.

Mrs. Malcolm Jernigan requested that all members who had not received their Lone Star Gardener could obtain same by calling at the Library.

Mrs. Jim Weatherby, Civic Chairman, reported that a tree which was to have been planted at the park Arbor Day, would be planted later. A discussion was also held regarding the beautification of the park.

The resignation of Mrs. Robert Burdette and Mrs. Ercher McCasland was accepted with regret.

Mrs. Robert Butler announced that Mrs. Warren Duren's yard was judged the "Yard of the Month" and she was awarded a shrub from the garden of Mrs. Malcolm Jernigan and the Yard of the Month Marker placed in her yard.

Mrs. Keeler was leader for the program, "Beauty Is Where You Find It" and "Civic Beautification" was given by Mrs. Jim Weatherby, in the absence of Mrs. Collier. Mrs. Weatherby also demonstrated and explained a Horizontal Arrangement.

"Vertical Arrangement—Exhibited and Explained," was by Mrs. Lee Tabor.

The hostesses, Mmes. Lee Roy Stacy, Rachel B. Cunningham and Jack Elms, served delicious refreshments at the conclusion of the program.

Tom Pruitt Of Waco, Guest Speaker At Annual Football Banquet Jan. 14

The annual Football Banquet, given by the Pep Squad, was held at the American Legion Hall last Thursday night, January 14, with more than 100 persons attending.

The banquet honored the athletic teams, coaches, band members and director and the high school teachers. This banquet is one of the highlights of the school year.

Setting for the occasion was carried out on an arranged football field in colors of black and gold. Each letterman had his playing number attached to the field in attractive gold numbers and the departing seniors' numbers were framed in gold.

Highlight of the meeting was the awarding of letters to 20 players, two managers and two coaches, another highlight was the address of Tom Pruitt, guest speaker, Mr. Pruitt, a member of the Baylor coaching staff, gained state renown in his high school coaching career at McKinney, Gainesville and Corpus Christi.

His main points to be a successful player were: one must have a desire to play; be willing to sacrifice time and efforts; be willing to cooperate and take words and plans of coaches and be willing to study and prepare for life after school.

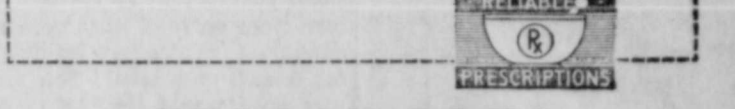

The jackets which were presented that night have been very appropriate since as the weather turned cold and the boys are all sporting their new football jackets.

Football players receiving jackets were: 4-year man, Tom Cody Graves; Charlie Wilkins and Gerry Head, 3-year men. The following boys have played two years and received two bars on their jackets: Billy Blackburn, Wayne Reynolds, Jimmy Wigley, Bobby Laughlin, Charles Sherwood, Jimmy Smith, Robert McKenzie, Alfred Starks and John Burdette.

Those boys who have only played one year and received their letters were: Charles Parker, Jackie Burns, Jerry Stanford, John Pat Rudd, Jack Edington, Roger Horton and Phillip Carr. Bobby Morgan and Billy Jones received their manager's jackets and the coaches, Max Blansit and Jackie Williams, each received their jacket.

The privilege of displaying the Reliable Prescriptions emblem is earned by selected pharmacies who maintain high ethical standards, employ skilled professional personnel and price their products according to an accurate record of costs.

Miss Petsick Guest Speaker At Art & Civic Club Meeting, Jan. 12

The Art and Civic Club met Tuesday afternoon, January 12, in the lovely country home of Mrs. Milton Schwartz, with seven members and three guests present. Upon arrival guests were served a refreshment plate of orange cake, nuts and coffee.

An arrangement of white carnations in the living room highlighted the coffee table.

Mrs. W. G. Saylor introduced Miss Annie Laurie Petsick, guest speaker. Her subject, "Our American Heritage," was both timely and interesting.

Miss Petsick stated "we do not talk enough about this wonderful heritage of ours and we all tend to take it too much for granted."

Those privileged to hear Miss Petsick speak will not soon forget the two Rocking Boats that the club will donate to the City Park are almost completed and will be on display at the next meeting.

Mrs. Stacy also stated that the Girl Scouts had elected to place the $5.00 given them by the club in the building fund for the Little House.

LETTER FROM BROWNSVILLE

Capt. Little reports that Cortinas is reorganizing his desperadoes and was camped across the river from Boston (25 miles north of Brownsville) with 150 men. Capt. L. (cq) sent two of his men to the river bank to watch his movements and upon their being seen by Cortinas' force, some 15 or more of Cortinas' men ran up to the edge of the river on the opposite bank, but did not fire as two scouts took to the chaparral. Capt. L. (cq) and his men were anxious to cross the river and give Cortinas another battle, but refrained from the gratification, for the want of authority to do so.

Cortinas has been seen on this side of the river lately with small parties and as he and his men were on foot, they were no doubt on a stealing excursion for horses and cattle. You may rely on it: this trouble is far from its finale.

Letter from Brownsville: The late treaty between the United States government and Mexico is extremely distasteful to nearly all the Mexicans, even those of the Liberal party. This will have the effect of soon making the church party dominant in Mexico unless the United States government sends troops to the assistance of the liberal parties. If this government does assist the liberal party with troops, it will be war and it will take some time to put down and make peace and quietness in unfortunate Mexico.

THE LABOR OF MAKING HOOPS

A correspondent of the Hartford Times gives the following curious facts about the manufacture of steel hoops for ladies' skirts.

Mr. Henry S. Washburn, owner of a steel mill, makes some of the finest hoops in the world. He showed us a specimen of No. 62 iron wire finer than a hair. It weighed only seven ounces and was 68,000 feet, or 13 miles, 15 rods, 12 feet and 6 inches in length. It was drawn cold from a piece of iron one-fourth of an inch in diameter.

Mr. Washburn manufactures 20,000 yards a day of steel crinoline or flat wire which is covered already for the ladies' skirts. He estimates that 5,000 tons of steel and iron are used annually in this way for the ladies of the United States, South America and Mexico. If

Marching Mothers to Collect Facts, Funds

"If you can answer no to the questions inside, be thankful! If you must answer yes, take hope!"

American mothers will carry this message to over 30 million homes this month. The mothers, volunteers in the annual Mothers' March for the New March of Dimes, will be seeking information and support for The National Foundation's fight against birth defects, arthritis and polio. These cripples, initial targets in The National Foundation's campaign to prevent crippling disease, affect the lives of one of every four American families.

Two Million in March

An estimated two million women will join the nationwide mothers' appeal for facts and funds. In most communities the mothers will march Thursday evening, Jan. 28, bringing to a climax the New March of Dimes January campaign.

The mothers will present each household with a copy of "Door Count," a concise fact-finding folder in which a family may indicate if any of its members has a birth defect, arthritis or polio and how many have had three or more Salk vaccine shots. Each family record will be confidential.

Salk Shot Reminder

The Mothers' March door count will focus family and community attention on the majority of Americans still without Salk shot protection against paralytic polio. It will remind the unvaccinated to start shots in time for summer polio protection and it will help communities plan local programs to further encourage 10 million of females wear out an average of three skirts a year, the cost is seven and a half millions of dollars.

For the want of room, several interesting communications are postponed till our next weekly edition.

EXCITING SCENE IN THE HOUSE

Washington:— In the House, democrats and others endeavored to obtain the withdrawal of the resolution of Mr. Clark of Missouri relative to the Helper book and a Heiperite Speaker, and to substitute one of a less harsh expression. Mr. Clark refused to withdraw his resolution.

An exciting debate followed during which a pistol fell from the pocket of Mr. Haskins of New York who was speaking energetically at the time. A furious scene followed and a collision was feared, some believing that an assault was intended on Mr. Clark. The Sergeant-at-Arms restored quiet and explanations followed.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17:— Com. Vanderbilt and other members of a committee from New York who came to Washington, D. C., to attempt to promote an organization of the House of Representatives, have failed entirely in their efforts.

the widespread use of Salk vaccine.

Although the house-to-house poll is in no way planned as a statistically valid survey, the sum of information taken in the door count will provide a working estimate of the number of persons suffering from arthritis, the number born with birth defects and the number who have been victims of paralytic polio. This tabulation will help guide National Foundation county chapters in formulating local programs to aid the disabled.

Mothers making the house-to-house door count will also seek contributions to the New March of Dimes for its attack on birth defects, arthritis and polio. The New March of Dimes is combating these disabling disorders with the same effective weapons used to conquer paralytic polio: medical scientific research to find causes, cures, preventives; patient aid for medical care; and training for medical workers needed to treat the sick and disabled.

1960 Census District Office Has Been Opened In San Angelo

office for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing at the Welfare Building, San Angelo, was announced today by Director James W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's regional office at Dallas, Texas.

William G. Stacy will be supervisor of the district office. He will direct a force of 15 crew leaders and 230 census takers in the following counties: Bandera, Brown, Coke, Coleman, Concho, Edwards, Uvalde, Val Verde, Gillespie, Irion, Kendall, Kerr, Kimble, Kinney, Lampasas, Llano, McCulloch, Mason, Menard, Mills, Runnels, San Saba, Schleicher, Sterling, and Tom Green.

Takings the 1960 Census nationally will require the services of 160,000 enumerators, 10,000 crew leaders, and 400 district supervisors, all temporary workers. The district supervisors, working under the general direction of the permanent regional field directors, are responsible for all phases of the census in their districts. Duties of the district supervisor include the recruiting of the crew leaders, obtaining space for crew leader training, recruiting and training a small office staff, reviewing the completed questionnaires, and direct supervision of the field canvass which begins on April 1.

Prior to the start of the census, all households will receive in the mail an Advance Census Report Form, a new census-taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form, which contains the basic population and housing questions, gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit.

They are told to get permission from the landowner before going through a fence with a 22 rifle.

They are told that guns can be useful, or they can be dangerous, depending upon their handling.

They are warned not to take more than their legal limits of game or fish.

They are taught to observe shooting hours, and not to shoot from highways.

When young people are taught these things by their parents they are not likely to grow up with a desire to "telephone" for fish, shoot fawns at night by the side of the road, or kill more than their limit of birds and try to hide them behind their hub caps.

Wardens also are helping to teach this lesson. One warden said recently that when he spent as many as three nights a week working with young people he felt that he was doing much more good than when he spent three nights a week patrolling some dark road to keep down violations. Violators make the patrolling necessary—valuable hours he could have spent helping build better young men.

There will be violators for a long time—perhaps as long as we have fish and game. But there is no reason why the number cannot be decreased every year.

You can help by reporting game-law violators the same as you would an escaped convict or a bank robber.

would work and had gone along just for the ride. Anyway, they paid $42 each in fines, and now they know how the device works. Also they know that it's illegal.

Several years ago a fisherman walked into a stream with a charge of dynamite. He had stripped off his clothes and had planned to plant the charge in a deep hole under a big rock, where he knew some fish made their homes.

Something slipped. The charge went off. He was blown to bits by the explosion.

Only recently, a warden, working at night, caught a man and his wife and two boys. The man was jacklighting deer. When arrested he pleaded with the warden that he had a responsible position; he was a leader in one of the boy's groups in his church. He tried to talk the warden out of giving him a ticket.

But the warden also was a leader in a boy's group and active in his church, and he too had a good job.

This violator paid his fine. What the boys of his group think of him now is another question.

Another man, his wife and a friend, were patrolling a dark country lane at 2 o'clock in the morning. They had shot two fawns that weighed 14 pounds each.

When the warden arrived they tried to speed away. But they failed to make a sharp turn.

By the time the warden reached them their car was on fire, and all four wheels were spinning in the air. One man had been thrown out of the car. The man and his wife were pinned beneath the burning wreckage. Luckily the warden had a fire extinguisher and a radio.

One of the men went to jail when he couldn't pay his fine. The other man and the woman spent several days in the hospital. The two fawns were even too small to provide meat for a charitable institution and had to be destroyed.

Violators will attempt to hide over-limits of birds in their hub

lts white tail as it moved through the brush.

Both men were illegally hunting—out of season and trespassing. The landowner said that these men and other had practically cleaned out his pasture of deer and turkey on illegal forays.

A few months ago a game warden was sitting on a hill overlooking one of the Highland Lakes. He was glassing the area for illegal deer hunters.

He saw three men in a car trailing a boat down a little used road to the lake. Occasionally he turned his glasses to watch them put their boat into the water.

Then to his astonishment, instead of taking fishing tackle from their car, they brought out "telephone" equipment. He watched them go out in their boat, drop the copper wires overboard and then gather up fish that had been shocked when they turned the magneto handle.

The warden used his radio to call another warden nearby and when the fake fishermen docked, the wardens were on hand to greet them. Two of the men said that they hadn't believed the "telephone" system

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: My wife and I are receiving a combined check of $99 as our social security benefits. Due to medical expense, this does not cover our living expenses. Can our benefits be increased to include the cost of our medicine?

Answer: Your benefit is based on a certain percentage of your past earnings. The percentage is set by law, and we may not increase it. If your income does not meet all your needs, you may wish to discuss your situation with a field worker of the State Department of Public Welfare at the County Courthouse.

Question: I am planning to file for disability benefits. I have worked under social security as a farmer for 5 years, including 1959. How disabled must I be to be eligible?

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas — With the filing deadline (Feb. 1) drawing near, the political ring is filling with hats—most of them familiar to Texas voters.

Since there's to be no wholesale re-shuffling among top state offices, liveliest interest is focused on legislative campaigns.

Texas Legislative Service's compilation on legislative races indicates about six of the senators running for re-election have opposition or prospects of opposition. Usually the opponents include a representative from the senator's district.

New faces have entered the races in more than 50 of the House districts. In 19 of these the present representative is not a candidate for re-election. Besides the usual preponderance of lawyers, there are a number of school teachers and former school teachers among the newcomers.

Campaign platforms rest mainly on these issues:

(1) Betterment of schools and improvement of teachers' salaries.

(2) Revamping or doing away with the new merit plan auto insurance rates.

(3) Providing medical payments for persons on the welfare rolls and raising old age pensions.

(4) Enacting stiffer highway safety laws.

(5) Developing a comprehensive statewide water program.

(6) Solving the state's fiscal problems. This is generally covered in some broad, fairly vague statement, such as "modernizing the state tax system," "eliminating un-necessary expenditures" or "finding an equitable method of taxation."

Enough's Enough—Presidents of Texas' tax-supported colleges and universities have come out against adding any more schools to the state's higher education system.

Their reasons: (1) we've got enough already and (2) there isn't enough state money to go around.

University of Houston is seeking admission. Its case will be heard by the Commission on Higher Education in April. Commission will report to the Legislature, which makes final decision, in 1961.

Del Mar College of Corpus Christi, a municipally-supported junior college, would like to follow the course of Arlington College and become a state-supported four-year college.

CHEER UP!—Jo Ahton, 2, a visitor at the 50th annual Dog Show in San Francisco, plants a kiss on the head of a basset hound, "Tray," in an attempt to remove the worry lines from the unhappy-looking pooch. It didn't really help a bit, though.

idents joined unanimously in a statement that to add more schools to the state system now or in the near future would be "a grave mistake."

Texas, said the Council, supports more colleges and universities, and contributes to the support of more junior colleges (32) than any state except California.

Ninety-five per cent of our people live within 100 miles of a state college now, the Council advises.

Children's Aid Reform Urged—Texas' aid to dependent children program seems to be creating more of the same social ills it was supposed to alleviate.

This is the verdict of the Texas Research League after a two-year study made at the request of the State Welfare Department.

It seems that these abandoned children—those whom the parents refuse to support, or can't—often grow up to have children they too won't or can't support.

Welfare workers are seeing more and more second and third generation cases, said the League.

League recommends re-shaping the whole program to put the emphasis on rehabilitation. At present, says the League, the program does little or nothing to help families help themselves or to get at the problems that caused them to be in need in the first place.

ADC payments go to about 105,000 persons in Texas—80,000 children and 25,000 parents. Cost: $21,000,000 a year, of which 80 per cent is federal money.

Legislative Expense Ruling—Legislators who carry out between-sessions committee assignments are entitled to $8 a day and 8 cents a mile for travel, according to an attorney general's ruling.

A special law covers the expenses of members of the Legislative Council and Legislative Budget Board. They may be reimbursed for the actual cost of meals, rooms and other expenses incidental to this work.

Regular pay for state employees traveling on state business is $9 per day and 8 cents a mile.

Big Business—Texas General Land Office, sometimes described as "the biggest real estate agency in Texas," did a land office business during 1959.

Land Office, which is the management and collection agency for the state's public lands, took in $60,583,603 in the past year. This came from oil and gas royalties, bonuses, grazing rentals, etc.

Main beneficiaries were the public school permanent fund and the University permanent fund. In addition, 18 other funds received deposits.

Land Commissioner Bill Allcorn said 384 veterans paid off their land loans, bringing in $2,352,767 that can be used for more veterans' loans.

Segregation Suit Sidestepped—Dallas is in a bid between a federal court order to desegregate its schools and a state law prohibiting desegregation without a local option election.

State Supreme Court has refused to overturn a lower court ruling that Dallas was not entitled to a court order freeing it from the effects of the state's anti-integration law. A law passed in 1957 says that a school district that integrates without a local option election shall lose its state aid. For Dallas this would be some $2,600,000 a year.

A federal court ordered Dallas schools in 1955 to integrate "with all deliberate speed."

Mullin Group Selects Name For Organization

By MRS. J. B. HARPER

The Mullin Community Improvement Organization met at the school Monday night for their second meeting. During the business meeting a name for the organization was discussed and several appropriate names were suggested.

The Mullin Community Improvement Organization was decided on as a name for the group. Several projects were discussed in connection with our clean-up campaign.

Committee chairmen were elected as follows: Argie Whisenant, Name Plates for Rural Roads; Edgar Burkett, Street Improvement; Barney Welch, Vacant Lot Clean-Up; Alvis Bell, Street Lights.

Different civic organizations, clubs, and churches were asked to decide on some particular project to put over. The next meeting will be February 18, at 7:30 p. m., at the Mullin School. Everyone in the community is urged to come and help in this work, according to a announcement by Mr. president.

A Trio of 4-H State Victors

Miss Pysatt Miss Campbell Miss Lammert

Texas team winners of the 4-H dairy foods demonstration for 1959 were two 16-year-old members of the Lone 4-H Club of Juniors in Tulla High school, they are Nancy Pysatt and Campbell.

Subject of their demonstration was "what America needs for a cent breakfast." Both are junior leaders in their 4-H Club and in Swisher county 4-H work.

Individual state winner was Lois Nell Lammert, 15, of Me She demonstrated how to make applesauce refrigerator cake. A junior leader in the Clifton 4-H Club, she is also camp chair of the Bosque County 4-H Club.

Each girl received a 19-jewel wrist watch from the Carnation according to the Cooperative Extension Service.

Alumni of Texas 4-H Activities Honored

Four former Texas 4-H Club members have been named state winners in the 4-H alumni recognition program for outstanding "post graduate" work in applying the principles and ideals of 4-H in their adult lives.

They are Roy B. Davis, 1901 29th st. Lubbock; Mrs. Woodrow Chervenka, Rt. 2, Rogers; A. W. Schaffner, Rt. 4, Cuero, and Mrs. Aaron McKinzie, Rt. 1, Dike.

Each received a burnished copper plaque donated by the Plant Food Division of the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. The program is conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Davis, manager of the Plains Co-op Mill in Lubbock, became a 4-H member in 1918 when his family had a 160-acre farm near Lamesa in Dawson county.

He continued his interest and activity in 4-H work when he became a county agricultural agent in 1927—serving successively in Gaines, Terry and Hale counties. Davis is still active in 4-H and other youth activity work and contributes considerable time and effort to further the various programs.

Mrs. Chervenka, wife of a farmer and mother of three children, was a 4-H member for three years as a girl. She is now adult leader of the East Bell County 4-H Club and is active in other community and civic affairs.

For her services she was named outstanding volunteer 4-H leader in the county in 1958. She is also a life member of the Rogers P-TA.

Schaffner, operator of a mobile feed service in the Cuero area, became a 4-H member in 1923 as a farm boy in DeWitt county. After service in the Marine Corps in World War II, he returned to Cuero and entered the feed business.

He aids young 4-H members by extending credit on feed for the animals they raise as club projects. He also advises them on the best feeding practices.

Mrs. McKinzie has been a volunteer leader of the Dike 4-H Club for four years and devotes many hours each week to club activities. She provides advice, encouragement and occasionally transportation.

A housewife and mother of two children, Mrs. McKinzie is also active in P-TA and church work.

SINGING AT CENTER CITY SUNDAY AFTERNOON, JAN. 31

There will be a "Singing" at Center City Sunday afternoon, January 31, at 2:00 p. m. Everyone has a cordial invitation to come out and enjoy this singing.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Massey and boys, Ronnie and Bruce, of Del Rio and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Jones and daughters, Vicki and Donna, of Georgetown, were guests of their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Robinson, the past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Linn and Greg of San Antonio spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Westerman.

Household Hint

You can remove the odor of onions from knives and cooking utensils by rubbing them with a damp cloth, then rubbing thoroughly with salt and washing well in hot, soapy water.

"Checking out, Mr. Stanley?"

OLD DOBBIN TAKES OVER—Horse-drawn sleighs may have almost disappeared from the modern scene, but they still come in handy. Above is an example. Howard Benjamin, his wife, Marjorie and his son, Benny, have no trouble loading their groceries in the snow at a Kansas City, Mo., store. The man, on the right, shows what happened to a modern car driver who ventured into the drifts.

Margaret Jackson, Bride-Elect, Complimented With Bridal Shower

Margaret Jackson, bride-elect of Ray Stevens, was complimented with a bridal shower Tuesday afternoon, January 26, in the home of Mrs. Jas. Jones, Trent and Peach streets, from 3 until 5 o'clock. Seated at the table were Mrs. J. E. Ince, V. D. Ables, Warlick, Victor Williams, M. F. Horton. Serving guests were Mrs. J. E. Ince, the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Leon Jackson. The tea table was laid with a white lace cloth over pink and red with a beautiful arrangement of pink roses. Guests served cookies and punch. Mrs. Ables and Mrs. Williams, Miss Jeanette Heath regaled the guests. Mrs. Warlick and Mrs. Ince in charge of the gift room.

in which a large number of beautiful and useful gifts were displayed.

Wedding Bells

County Clerk, Walter A. Bryant, has issued marriage licenses to the following since last report: Jessie Pearl Strackbein and Willie White Campbell; Neal Eugene Conner and Georgia Laverne Brown; Thomas Leslie Phaup and Helen Loraine Phaup; Byron George Gibson and Nina Virginia Thomason; Jesse Winfred Barrett and Vera Bell Cox; Kavanaugh W. Smith and Ruth Estelle Gerloff; Harry Lagsdon Warren and Bessie Mae Knott; Ernest B. McGary and Joe Ann Webster; Guy Allen McPaul and Dennie Maude Brooks; James Granville Huckabee and Susian Frances Drue Cline.

New Regulations On Marriage Licenses

According to the latest report from the County Clerk's office the following laws must be observed in order for marriage licenses to be issued. Both parties must appear in person at the County Clerk's office and sign an application and they must also bring proof of their age, regardless of whether they are 16 or 60.

If either or both of the parties are minors, they must make application three days prior to the wedding day, in other words three days from the date of the application, that day not being included. Also parents or guardians of a minor or minors must be present and sign a certificate or state orally that their consent is given.

Center City To Host Star Methodist Church Circuit Sun.

By MRS. HOMER McCASLAND

The school of missions for the Star Methodist Church Circuit will meet at Center City Sunday night, January 31. Starting with refreshments by the host church at 6:15 p. m.

From 8 until 9 p. m., Mr. Gene Allison, who lives at Lometa and teaches school at Marble Falls, will speak and show slides of his trip down the Congo. His program has been recommended by those who have heard him and have seen the pictures as being very interesting and informative, according to Rev. Welmer.

Eighty people of the Circuit enjoyed the warm hospitality shown them at Pleasant Grove Church last Sunday night. The good hot soup (fitting for the weather) and the wonderful fellowship were enjoyed very much.

Seventy adults, thirty youth and fifteen children have registered for the school during the past three sessions. It is hoped that there will be more to register during the next three sessions.

Star News

Mrs. Fred Wall and Mrs. Hazel Waddell sent Saturday and Sunday at Fort Worth.

Mrs. John Soules went to Clyde Saturday to spend a few days in the Weldon Edwards home.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Boykin and children of Arlington spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. Z. Cox and Mrs. Bertha Boykin.

Paul Stubbs and Paul Holcomb of Abilene were weekend guests of Mrs. Lant Adams. We were very sorry to hear that Pete (Leroy) Harper's barn burned Friday night. Pete lost a lot of feed and quite a few goats.

Mrs. Fred Shave moved to Evant Saturday. We regret having Mrs. Shave move out of our community but hope she enjoys her new home.

Mr. Floyd Rickel of Decatur visited Mr. Will Rickel during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barrett attended church at Evant Sunday morning and in the afternoon they visited Mrs. Ellen White and in the Care Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Channell of Snyder visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Sheldon, and Bettie, during the weekend.

PARENT PROBLEMS

Should A Preschooler Be Prompted To Read?

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

TERMAN'S studies of gifted children revealed that many of them began to read before entering school.

A Michigan mother writes: "Our kindergartner, a boy, has been reading for nearly a year now. At first it was memory reading (we have always read to the boys a lot and they could tell when to turn the page and recite pages from memory) but for months now we find he is actually reading. He reads labels and announcements on TV.

Chooses Books
"Now he has a library card and reads the books he picks out for himself. We (he and I) started out with my reading one page and he would read the other page. But I wonder if it is wise to continue this, since he is still in kindergarten.

"Do you think he will become so bored with first-grade reading that he will be discouraged?"

Experimental Class
"Your article on 'Phonics' was just what we had been wishing for. Our oldest boy was in an experimental class and they taught by phonics. As a result, he reads everything and anything he picks up; he is also a good speller.

"Our second boy (4th grade) didn't have that start and he is a poor reader. He skips over words he doesn't know right off, and his spelling is so atrocious. It is comical."

My reply, in part:
It is amazing how your little child learned to read. I think you should go on reading. Perhaps you should read more to him and he read less to you.

More Difficult
It is possible, as you say, that he might become bored with first-grade reading. But, if he has a smart teacher, his mother will be able to persuade her to let him read from other books much harder.

At home I hope you try to help him have ample fun with other children his age, to learn to take care of himself and to have some small responsibilities. (My bulletins, "Why read to Baby and Young Child" and "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading," may be had by sending a self-addressed, U. S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

Answering Parents' Questions
Q. When considering the kind of person he would like to marry, wouldn't a youth do well to consider also how good a mate he might be himself?

A. Yes; an objective generally overlooked.

Except for every other Sunday...

Father shows best—the way to Faith.

He's the Father of the Year

He's the kind of young man who stands well ahead of the competition. Bronze Star and Purple Heart in Korea. Dean's List at the University. The senior most likely to succeed... And he did. Today he's assistant to the president of his company. Chairman of the Community Aid Fund. Father of the Year at P.S. #12. And every other Sunday (or whenever nothing too fascinating is going on elsewhere) you'll see him leading his family into church.

A pretty good attendance record? Not for a man of his quality! He does nothing else "halfway." And his family is not slow to imitate his casual approach to religion.

Yet the strong religious training of his own childhood has helped him in life more than he can ever know. Why shouldn't his children have the same advantage? And why shouldn't yours?

Find the strength for your life—Worship together this week

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

I had wondered what had become of El Paso's pigeon extermination program which was going on when we left here last spring. Wednesday's paper's front page gave an account of a new effort at pigeon eradication in El Paso. It is called "Operation Snooze." Here is how it works. For a week in advance grain is placed at the pigeons' meeting spot. Then Parks Director, Bryce Lammert, comes around and feeds them grain treated with a liquid anesthetic which puts them to sleep. Then he bags them and takes them to the Humane Society where they die without pain in a vacum chamber. He bagged 30 at the El Paso Electric Co. building Wednesday.

Mr. Lammert says this treated grain is the answer to El Paso's pigeon problem. He says it is 100 per cent effective and provides a humane way of killing pigeons. The Park Director said he got his idea from Burbank, California. And that is where he got the drug. He has been asked to keep its name a secret. The company that makes it doesn't want to be flooded by calls from pigeon exterminators.

When we were home in the summer I noticed plenty of pigeons in Brownwood. I suppose they take up residence in most every town.

The first year we came to El Paso I raised sweet peas. And though I plant them every year, I haven't been able to raise any since. Last fall Mrs. Gore, the nursery lady, said to me, "I think the sparrows have been eating up your sweet peas. They love them." Now I had been putting out bread and water in our back yard to feed the birds and the sparrows just flocked there. I decided I would have to quit that, and it wasn't hard to do when I saw how they had eaten up our pyracantha berries.

I planted my sweet peas November 11, Christmas Eve they were up, but not to a good stand. The afternoon was warm. I went out and transplanted plants that were too thick to thin places, and made a pretty good stand all around. I had been keeping them covered with chrysanthemum stalks. Some of them just looked real pretty. Since I wasn't feeding sparrows any more, I decided I would leave the mum stalks off for awhile. The next day was Christmas and I didn't get back to see them until afternoon. And what did I see! The sparrows had eaten off every leaf. I was heartsick. I have kept the stalks on them ever since and have given them the best of care, hoping they will come out again. The weather has been so cold and bad, nothing could grow, but I'm still hoping they will grow. If they don't I'll plant them over in February.

A letter from Mrs. Edna Dwyer from Victoria complains of bad weather and of having to stay in the house. But she was happy that the sun was shining the day she wrote. She said they had heads of lettuce in their garden as nice as those we get out of the grocery store. They also have turnips and carrots.

A letter from my sister, Mrs. Grace Bateman, today (Thursday) is full of happiness over their wonderful granddaughter. She enclosed a copy of their first letter from the baby's mother. She said, "I really hate to brag but Brette is absolutely beautiful. You should see John with her. He worships her. He is convinced that she is a super child. I left Brette twice and each time I was so nervous I decided it would be best for me to stay at home for awhile. But the funny thing is I don't mind it at all. She's more fun than anybody. I never thought I would be one of those nervous mothers, but whatever kind I am, it's wonderful."

Sunday after church, Jan. 17, we all went to the International Air Port to see Bill off to the Western Auto Managers' meeting at Wichita, Kansas. The wind was blowing a gale and it was so cold we could hardly stand to get out in it. The Air Port had been greatly improved since we saw him off last March. It really is thrilling to see those big Jet planes come in.

Sunday afternoon Grace and I went to Hotel Dieu to see Garland Malone. She is still improving. She now has a wonderful doctor who understands her case. And he has called in a Specialist of Rare Diseases. Hers is a very rare disease. It seems that the two of them are going to bring her back to normalcy. I talked with her mother tonight. She says they have put her in a walker this week, and in that she has been able to walk some.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

By H. L. BERRY

Grass seeding time is almost at hand. We are starting the new year with more soil moisture than we have had in many years. It looks like it will be a good year to get some of those old fields established in grass.

An estimated 10,000 acres in Mills County have been turned out and are growing weeds, annual grasses and mesquites when they could be growing more productive grasses. The Supervisors of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District urge you to examine the grasses in those old fields. Are you getting the production from them that you should be getting? It normally takes 20 to 30 years for a field that has been turned out to become established in the most desirable native grasses if left Production during the is very limited. If it and properly managed be as productive as a part of the range.

Some thought should be given to the kind of you want to plant. Attention should be given to quality and adaptability. Generally, it is not recommended that a grass be more than 150 miles from Most grass seed is sold per pound of live seed rather than by the bushel. Good quality seeds are the best buy.

The ASC Committee range seeding practice program whereby you receive assistance in grass seed. It usually to about 70% of the seed.

For further information technical assistance the Soil Conservation Districts in the Courthouse

LOTS GROWING

Day may not be far off nearly all of the heavy hatched, finished and in Texas—which is a reversal of a condition prevailed generally in t.

Recent years practically the heavy beef consumed as, the nation's No. 1 producing state, has on feed lots in the mid-corn belt. Texas cattle as feeders to be ship- the corn belt for fat- and processing, then back at fancy prices form of U. S. Good, U. S.

Choice and U. S. Prime beef. But the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research now reports a tremendous growth in Texas feeding operations during the past four years. On Jan. 1, 1955, there were only 61 listed commercial operations in Texas with a feeding capacity of 1,000 head or more each, carrying an aggregate capacity of 160,000 head. On Jan. 1, 1959, there were 94 such feed lots on record, with an aggregate capacity of 240,000 head, developing an increase of 50 per cent in capacity in the four years.

This growth is still going on. An example is the Luck T. Cattle Co. which operates just west of San Antonio on the Edwards Plateau, now expanding its capacity from around 8,000 head to 13,000 head, including a completely automatic feed mill capable of turning out from 250 to 300 tons of feed a day. Another is provided by Lewter, Inc., of Lubbock, which has expanded its feed lots to take care of 25,000 cattle at a time, along with a million-dollar beef slaughtering and processing plant. Construction is scheduled in 1960 in Houston of a $2 million livestock feeding plant to supply the new Armour and Co. beef processing plant there with from 400 to 1,000 cattle weekly.

In addition to the larger feeding operations, there are now hundreds of smaller pens which handle between 100 to 999 head each, and many more such feed lots with capacities of less than 100 each.

This means, the Bureau of Business Research finds, that increased interest in feeding among farmers and ranchers plus the rapidly growing investment in feed lot facilities is evidence that Texas is becoming a major cattle feeding state.

Hillside Mission
BY LIDA BYRNE

Are we in trouble? Do we think we are going to be in trouble? Are we honest with God and ourselves? Are we honest with others among us? Here is a good promise to those of us who are eligible to receive the benefit: "Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distress." Psalm 107:6.

Eagles Defeat Llano 45-38; Eaglettes Lose District Game

The boys game with Llano was a thriller from the very start with the Eagles making a comeback after losing two District games in a row to defeat the District leading team by a score of 45-38. Gerry Head was high man for the Eagles with 13 points, followed by John Burdette with 10, Tom Graves 9, Charlie Wilkins 8, and Alfred Starks with 4. Slaughter was high for Llano with 21 points, Watkins with 8, Smith 2 and Wagner 6. This puts Goldthwaite in third position in a tie with Mason.

In the third conference game of the season, the Eaglettes lost to the Llano girls by a score of 37-28. Llano had the height advantage over the Goldthwaite team with the loss of Margaret Jackson. Margaret quit school recently and the team all regret the loss of her playing as she always played a good rebounding game as well as scoring and her dropping out of school is a loss to the team, according to Coach Williams.

The Goldthwaite girls' scoring in the game with Llano read as follows: Maria Eubank 19 points; Janell Jernigan 7; Marsha Edington 2 with co-captains, Gail Featherston, Johnnie Elliott, Kay Jackson and Judy Dalton playing a good defensive game at guards. Llano girls scored as follows: Strayhorn, 19 points; Bode 10 and Hopson 8. This Llano team has one girl, Morgan, who is 5 foot, 11 inches tall and really played a good game as guard.

DISTRICT RATING

In the girls division, Llano is leading in first place with Goldthwaite and Santa Anna tied for second, Burnet third and Mason in fourth place.

I. N. "Ike" Hickman Of Brownwood Announces For State Representative

I. N. (Ike) HICKMAN

I. N. (Ike) Hickman, partner in Hickman Brothers Feed Mill in Brownwood, and former Brownwood City Councilman, this week authorized the Eagle to announce he would be a candidate for representative of the 73rd District.

He will oppose George R. Jordan of Brownwood and Ben Barnes of De Leon for the office. Current district representative Ben Doyle Sudderth is not seeking re-election.

Hickman, a Brown County native, served one term as a member of the Brownwood City Council.

Ike Hickman was born August 20, 1919 in Williams Community, son of the late Roy (Bunk) Hickman, Brown and Mills county farmer and rancher. His mother, Mrs. Nettie H. Ellis, is a resident of Rising Star.

Hickman graduated from Williams High School in 1937 and attended Texas A&M College for five years. He graduated with a bachelor of science degree in animal husbandry.

He entered the Army in 1942 and served 47 months, 38 overseas. He was honorably discharged in June 1946 with the rank of captain.

He was married to Della Jones, June 1947 in Rising Star. The couple have two children, Beinda, 9, and Phillip, 4.

Hickman is a member of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, past member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Brown County Farm Bureau and the Brown County Youth Livestock Fair.

Women Play Key Role In 'Dimes' Research

Growing a killer virus in a laboratory test tube to see what makes it tick may not seem like an ideal pastime for women. Yet in recent years an increasing number of women have attained top-rank recognition as medical research scientists, many of them under grants supplied by The National Foundation with New March of Dimes funds.

The researches of these women have enlarged the body of new medical information and helped solve a wide variety of health problems. Not least among these was the conquest of a virus that killed and crippled its victims in wave after wave of epidemics—polio.

Pioneer in Protection

Dr. Isabel Morgan Mountain is one of the most famous of these women scientists. As a member of the Johns Hopkins research group some years ago, she won medical recognition for demonstrating that animals could be protected against polio by a vaccine. This was a giant step toward the development of the Salk vaccine for humans, which—like Dr. Mountain's work—was done under grants financed by the March of Dimes.

Dr. Mountain's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunt Morgan, were both well-known geneticists. Her father won a Nobel Prize in 1933 as the originator of the gene theory of heredity. Dr. Mountain, who is married to a prominent surgeon in New York, is included in the Polio Hall of Fame at the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

Until recently Dr. Mountain

has been collaborating with two other well-known women research scientists at Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons. They are Dr. Hattie Alexander and Dr. Katherine Sprunt, both notable for their work in contagious childhood diseases. The March of Dimes-supported grant under which Dr. Alexander and Dr. Sprunt work calls for studies in the possible control of the hereditary factors of polioviruses. The findings of this team have added new knowledge to the whole field of virus research.

At Yale University, Dr. Dorothy Horstmann has won fame for her researches in polio-virus, in epidemiology (the science of epidemic diseases) and in the newer viruses only recently discovered. She is on the research team of Dr. John Paul under a National Foundation grant.

Nin Studies Proteins

At St. Louis University, Sister Mary Celeste of the Order of the Immaculate Heart of Mary and a doctor of medicine, is involved in studying the role proteins may play in virus reproduction. Her research project, headed by Dr. Norman E. Melechen, one of the most advanced scientists in the virus field, is also financed by New March of Dimes funds.

Another woman scientist who can be found hard at work in a laboratory is Dr. Matilda Melnick, at Baylor University Medical School, Houston, Tex. She and her famous scientist was a surgical patient at San Saba Memorial Hospital. At last report he was doing as well as could be expected.
