

City Water Problem Presented At Lions Club Tuesday

problems facing citizens with respect to an adequate water supply for present and future was presented at the club meeting Tuesday.

Part of the program was given by C. Barnett, city utility manager, Mayor Y. B. Johnson, Jr., W. P. Duren and Lee Roy Campbell. Lee Roy was program chairman.

He made introductory remarks tracing the history of water and the city water from their beginning.

The town was settled in 1883 when a group of farmers and ranchers from Williams Ranch moved here to be on the railroad. The town was incorporated in 1906 and became known as the "town of windmills." Everyone had his own well for water supply.

In 1917 the first water bonds were voted and a city water system was organized and reservoir was constructed. This reservoir is still in use, a little out of date or inadequate, but still in use.

Things rocked along without development or expansion until 1945 with the city serving about 300 water customers. In 1945 citizens voted $35,000 water bonds to put in more wells and take on more customers.

By 1949 it was necessary to vote more water bonds and drill more wells and take on more customers. That year $25,000 water bonds were voted and new wells were put into production and things were looking better—but not better for long. The city water supply had been increased several times but so had consumption and there was more demand than the city could supply during the peak season.

In 1956 the city drilled another well but one that failed to have the anticipated production. During that period of years there were also some dry holes.

From 1956 to 1960 wells have been pumped at capacity without being able to supply the demand for several months during the year. Wells have been cleaned and acidized without too much improvement and with production dropping. The static level in the Trinity sand dropping continually for a 10 year period.

In 1945 the city wells had a static water level of 105 feet and today this water level has dropped to 31 feet.

Realizing the seriousness of the situation the city council took action last fall and employed an engineering firm to make a thorough study and survey to explore possibilities for an adequate water supply.

This survey was completed and report with recommendations presented to the council. The survey covered getting water from Brownwood, Lake Merritt, lake on Browns Creek and the Colorado River.

The engineers' report recommended going to the Colorado River for an adequate water supply. It is apparent that water is not available from underground for an adequate supply and it must be developed from above ground sources.

These facts based on engineering are being presented to the people for study and it will be up to Goldthwaite citizens to decide what to do to have water.

It was pointed out that it is a tragic situation, the city being so far from the Colorado River on a mountain with water running off in all directions. And it is also a tragic situation with the possibility that the city may run out of water.

Mayor Johnson commented on the problem and what has been done during the past eight months by the city government. Members of the water advisory committee, Gilliam, Duren and Campbell, spoke of the need to do something to solve the problem. A number of others at the meeting expressed themselves on the subject.

It was pointed out that residents of Goldthwaite have done without a lot of things in the past and can do without many things in the future, but they can't live here without water.

It's a matter of residents getting together and determine the most feasible thing to do to provide an adequate water supply.

Record Year Reported To Bank Stockholders At Annual Meeting

A record business year for 1959 was reported to stockholders of Mills County State Bank at their annual meeting last Tuesday night by W. P. Duren, president of the bank.

The annual stockholders meeting was held at the bank when annual report was presented and directors and officers were elected for the new year. Howard Hoover, long time Goldthwaite businessman, was elected a vice president and joined the bank staff starting this week.

The annual report showed record earnings for the institution with the highest gross earnings in the history of the bank. Net earnings per share of capital stock were $6.42. Par value of stock is $20.

Stockholders were paid a dividend of $3. per share which amounts to approximately 15 per cent.

Deposits at the close of 1959 were the highest year-end deposits ever reported. Deposits on December 31, 1959 were $3,915,563. At the close of 1949, ten years ago, deposits were $2,304,089.

Capital structure of the institution has increased 33 per cent from 1952 to 1959 since the bank has been under present ownership and management.

In 1952 Capital, Surplus and undivided profits accounts totaled $203,665., while at the end of 1959 the capital accounts totaled $317,119.

Total resources in 1949 were $2,453,401., and at the close of 1959 total resources had climbed to $4,266,460.

In announcing the association of Howard Hoover with the bank Mr. Duren stated that officials are happy to have Mr. Hoover become associated with the firm as vice-president. "This appointment is another move on the part of the bank in a program of expansion to serve the banking needs of this area as we look forward to a growing economy," Duren stated.

Hoover came to Goldthwaite at the age of nine. He attended school here and has been in business here for a number of years. For some time he operated service station and tire business then for 10 years he was Magnolia wholesale distributor and later he was in the automobile business as franchised dealer for Oldsmobile cars and GMC trucks. For the past three years he has been operating the Hoover Laundromat, which he still owns.

Park Board And Garden Club Committee Discuss Park Plans

The club owes a balance of $100 on the plans.

Members of the Park Board will undertake the responsibility of raising money through the $1 per month membership to finance the expense of hiring a park supervisor for maintenance.

The following committee was named for this drive: Ray Duren, chairman, Mrs. W. P. Duren, and Mrs. Jim Weatherby.

A special effort will be made to contact everyone interested in the park development program and enlist their support.

The $1 membership campaign had good response last year although there was not enough support to do the job right all year. The committee is hopeful that this year the support from throughout the county will come through so that the caretaker can be employed for the entire growing season.

Members of the Park Board present for the meeting were: Ray Duren, W. P. Duren, Lewis Hudson, Harold Yarborough, Charles Conrad, Howard Campbell and W. C. Barnett. Representing the Garden Club park committee were: Mrs. R. Glynn Raley, Mrs. Malcolm Jernigan, Mrs. Vance Cornelius, Mrs. T. C. Graves, Mrs. W. P. Duren, Mrs. Jim Weatherby and Mrs. Jack Elms.

The city is expected to undertake some improvements on the park grounds as soon as wet weather conditions permit. A new entrance to the swimming pool is to be built and other changes in keeping with the landscape plans.

Members of the American Legion Post will undertake to make some improvements on their grounds on the Southeast corner of the park which will be in keeping with the overall landscape plans.

Mrs. Annie Armstrong returned home Saturday from a three weeks' visit with her son, Captain Glenn Armstrong, Mrs. Armstrong and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Felton Wilson of San Angelo and Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Taylor and family of Austin were weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Owen.

Johnson For President Club To Be Organized

According to the announcement all interested citizens of the county are invited to attend this special meeting at 10:30 a. m., Saturday, February 6.

A chairman is to be selected for the county club and the club is expected to take an active part with other county groups and the state organization in boosting Senator Lyndon B. Johnson for president.

Central Texas Telephone Co-op Buys Priddy Telephone Company

Central Texas Telephone Co-operative, Inc., has purchased the Priddy Telephone Company, according to announcement by R. C. Summy, manager.

The Priddy exchange serves approximately 95 customers and will continue to be operated by the company until new exchange can be constructed and equipment installed for new dial system, Summy stated.

Central Texas Telephone Co-operative, Inc., now operates 16 exchanges in Mills, San Saba, McCulloch and Concho Counties serving approximately 1,400 subscribers with dial phone service.

New modern dial phone system was put into operation by the company in late 1954 after approximately two years of construction and installation work.

When the dial system was put into operation the company served approximately 600 subscribers.

Largest increase in new subscribers has been during the past two years when approximately 300 new connections have been added each year.

VIC'S . . . SOLILOQUY

GIVE THEM A HAND—County stock show activities are now pretty well behind us for this year and plans are well underway for next year.

That may sound rather strange since local club boys and girls are still in full swing with respect to exhibiting in some of the big shows of the state.

Nevertheless, leaders in 4-H and FFA club work are now busy getting the right kind of stock lined up for their next year's projects. That is getting to be a pretty big job too.

It takes a lot of traveling to pick out calves for the fat steer feeders and County Agent George Reese informs us that the price is getting a little higher all the time.

The number of fat steers entered in Mills County Show last month attests to the fact that a good many dropped out during the past two or three years due to the high price of calves and the high cost of feeding and caring for the club calves for a year before the next shows.

Sometimes the general public fails to realize the tremendous amount of work that goes into the 4-H and FFA projects. We go to the stock show and enjoy seeing the show animals that are exhibited and enjoy it and as a good many other aspects of life just sort of take things for granted.

It would be well for more of us to give a pat on the back, or a word of encouragement, to the club members for their efforts. Then it would also be well for us to express our appreciation to the county agent and the Vocational Agriculture teachers for the hours they spent on supervising the boys and girls. Then last but by no means the least, let's think about the parents of the boys and girls. They are the ones who, in a good many cases, really carry the ball and burn the midnight oil by helping their sons and daughters to carry out the projects during the year. GIVE THEM A HAND.

LATE AGAIN—"Herrington," barked the boss, "you're late again! Don't you know what time we start work here?" "No, sir," replied the tardy hired hand. "They're always at work when I get here."

ABOUT THE PARK—This is the first week in February and it's time to start thinking about our municipal park. The further development and improvement of the park and also proper maintenance of the park during the summer growing months or season.

In this issue there is a story telling about a special meeting of the park board and the park committee of the Garden Club where the matter was discussed and plans mapped out for furthering the program.

Much progress was made last year on the park. But, there is still much to be done in the way of improvements as well as up-keep.

A number of interested citizens contributed last year to a fund for a caretaker during the summer months. This helped a great deal and results of this work last summer can be seen at the park now.

We need to realize that this county wide project and the park and swimming pool are here for all residents of the county to use and enjoy.

And we also need to realize that it will cost some money to develop the park and complete the landscape program that has been started and to employ a caretaker to keep the park in order as a park should be kept. The more that will take part in this project the less it will cost each one and the easier the job will be.

We'll be hearing more about this subject during the weeks ahead and I'm sure the park board and other groups and committees working on the project will appreciate all the help and encouragement they can get.

WASHINGTON OFFICIALDOM ADMIRAL AND EX-ADMIRAL TANGLE OVER HOUSE

ALL AGOG OVER LAW SUIT

By HENRY CATHCART

Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Capital officialdom and society is agog over a suit now in process in the local courts. The suit is being fought by two outstanding officials who, incidentally, are friends for many years, and until recently shared the office space.

The principals are Ex-Ambassador Myron T. Cowen vs. chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Adm. Arthur W. Radford. It involves a decision by Radford to purchase a home and grounds for some $75,000 at the subsequent change of mind about the purchase. Cowen, acting for Radford, he claims, an agreement to purchase. Radford, however, recently denied Cowen the authority to act in this matter and attempted to withdraw the offer. The owners of the real estate, a law suit to force the admiral to go through with the purchase.

Radford, thereupon, apparently in anger, filed a counter-suit against Cowen failing to work the matter out with the ers so that a lawsuit and publicity would be avoided.

That's the way matters now stand, and that the owners have reportedly received an offer on the part of a wealthy New Yorker. Acceptance, of course, would mean the end of the matter.

Some Washingtonians are speculating over the identity of the New Yorker involved, and are willing to believe it's a friend of the admiral who is prepared to spend the money to get him out of an extremely uncomfortable position.

● WOMEN POSTMEN—More women are working in offices throughout the nation than ever before, and some men don't like it.

They claim that the women, particularly if they're cute and attractive, get the best jobs that formerly went to men who accumulated sufficient seniority to rate easier jobs at the end of the day.

Despite these complaints, postmasters generally are of the opinion that women are doing an excellent job for the service. They want to hire more of them, and probably more time goes by.

They are particularly adept at sorting mail by hand and operating the machines that cancel and sort mail. Other operations for women include jobs at postal windows, dispatching and finance and claims work.

You're not apt to see them handling heavy parcels or working a delivery route. And that is the basis of the postmen's complaint. There are only so many better jobs, and with women considered unable to meet the physical rigors of the postmen they get more of the better ones.

● JOHN L. LEWIS—The announcement of the retirement of the United Mine Workers Union of John L. Lewis remains a titan from the labor scene. For many years, particularly in the 1930s and 1940s he was the dominant figure and most feared person in the entire American labor movement.

Stories about him are legion. This reporter remembers being assigned as a cub to cover him at a vital meeting of his policy committee. The story was one and accuracy was essential.

It proved to be an easy story to cover. Lewis spoke in a loud, husky voice with great emphasis and many gestures. He also spoke so slowly that notes of the meeting actually a complete transcript—in longhand.

TIME TO PLAN SPRING WARDROBE

Check family clothing needs for spring and summer now. An attractive wardrobe is within reach of everyone. It's not necessary to spend a lot of money in order to be well dressed. The important thing is to plan well and choose wisely.

Check the clothes you have on hand; include your accessories. Decide which ones you will continue to use. Make necessary alterations, bringing garments up to date or putting them in first class condition. This will extend your clothing budget.

Other ideas for cutting clothing costs are given in the bulletin, "Wardrobe Dollars And Sense." Ask for a copy at my office.

Team Yams With Ham

By ALICE DENHOFF

WERE right smack in the Louisiana yam season now, which gives us a good thought for some pleasing supper suggestions, recipes that are a little different, also delicious.

The first brings together yams, ham and kumquats.

To serve 4, have 1 ham steak of about 3/4 in. thickness.

Prepare Yams
Cook, peel and quarter 4 medium-sized yams, or use 1 (1 lb.) can yams, drained.

Arrange ham and yams with 1 c. reserved kumquats in greased, shallow baking dish.

Combine 1/4 c. firmly-packed, brown sugar, 2 tsp. softened butter and 1/4 tsp. cinnamon. Spread over yams.

Bake at 350° F., 45 min.

From Louisiana comes an interesting dish that combines yams and mince-meat.

Arrange In Casserole
To serve 4, arrange 2 c. diced, cooked ham in greased, shallow casserole.

Combine 1 1/2 c. mashed, cooked yams or 1 (1 lb.) can yams (drained and mashed) and 1/2 c. apple sauce; blend.

Arrange yam mixture and 1 c. prepared mince-meat over ham.

Bake, covered, at 375° F., 30 min.

To prepare another swell supper suggestion, combine 2 c. ground, cooked ham, 2 beaten eggs, 1 (8 3/4 oz.) can crushed pineapple, 1/2 c. chopped chives and 1/4 tsp. cloves; mix well.

Spread in greased 1 1/2 qt. casserole.

Combine 1 1/2 c. mashed, cooked yams, 1/2 c. commercial sour cream, 2 tbsp. melted butter and 1/4 tsp. salt. Spread over the ham mixture in the casserole dish.

Cover and bake at 350° F., 30 min.

Serves 4.

Yam Puff
To prepare 6 servings of Yam Puff, peel 4 large yams; boil until soft.

Mash; add 1/2 c. butter or margarine, 2 well-beaten eggs, 1/3 c. sugar, 2 tsp. baking powder and 1/4 tsp. salt. Beat well; transfer to buttered casserole. Dot with additional butter.

Bake at 350° F., 30-40 min., or until brown.

For a variation, omit eggs and baking powder and use 1/4 c. molasses in place of the 1/3 c. sugar.

heard it often, and we gain, the first rule of s: Don't hurry! ng and worrying is a man gets ulcers. To m, the doctor prescribes less work and more fishing. But if he goes about his fishing the way he goes about his work, it's no ulcer cure.

Second rule is to have the proper equipment.

So sit back, relax, and think about it for awhile. For exam- ple, --- don't rush down to the tackle store and say, "Gimme a rod and reel and a bunch of lures and whatever I need for a fishing trip."

In the first place, if you went about it like that, the tackle shop operator would think, with reason, that you were off your rocker. So think about it for awhile.

What kind of fishing are you going to do?

If you want to keep it simple, a cane pole is satisfactory. With such a time-honored rig, you not only can catch bream, but also most other fish, even up to the monster category.

Fact is, I know of a woman who hauled in an eight-pound largemouth bass with a cane pole.

Chances are, though, that you are going to want a rod and reel, because this kind of rig is more flexible. With such a rig you can drop your bait into places you can't touch with your cane pole. Furthermore, with rod and reel, you can use artificial lures. That cane pole is strictly for live bait.

Now you've decided to buy a rod and reel. There are hun- dreds of them, but they all fall into three categories: bait-cast- ing, spin, and fly. The kind you want depends on the sort of fishing you intend to do. Let's suppose that the largemouth bass is your quarry.

I'd suggest a bait-casting rig for this purpose; a fairly short rod about 5½ feet long, rather stiff, but with a flexible tip; and the best reel you can buy in a weight that will balance with your rod. Don't get a rod taller than you are.

There are those who will ar- gue with me, and I will concede some points to them. Prime ob- jection to the bait-casting rig is that it is more difficult to master than a spinning outfit. True.

But . . . in seeking the large- mouth bass you want something that will turn him back when he heads for the weeds, brush, stumps, and rocks where he re- sides. The largemouth is full of savvy about ways and means of fouling your line so that he can work the hook out of his mouth at his leisure.

Sure, the spin-cast reel is the easiest to learn. But ordi- narily you don't use it with anything heavier than eight- pound test line. I know that such a line will stand a lot of pressure, but you can put much more line on a bait-casting reel, and there are going to be times when you will wish you had it.

So, let's start this beginner out right. He's going to buy some spinning stuff later on anyway.

Okay, he's at the tackle shop.

RESCUED FROM FLOOD—A volunteer worker brings a stranded flood victim to dry land as officials worked in 10-degree weather to clear Smith's Island, Illinois, caught in the path of flood waters from the Rock River south of Rock Island. Ice jams have backed up the water to three feet in some areas.

The operator of this place is in business for a profit, but at the same time he wants the neophyte to become a success- ful fisherman. This newly-bit- ten angler will get the disease in its more violent form if he is successful in bringing home a few of the sealy ones. So you can rest assured that the tackle shop man will give the best advice he can offer.

Naturally he will advise our neophyte to get the best — not necessarily the fanciest.

You can pay any amount of money for rods and reels. You can even have a rod custom- made for you, if you like, with a lot of gimmicks, stylish wrap- pings, and whatnot. Frankly, the fish don't know the differ- ence. They are not supposed to see the rod anyway — until caught.

Have the tackle dealer fill the reel with 15-pound nylon line, and you've got the rig for black bass fishing. Wait a min- ute, though. You're not hur- rying this thing, remember?

You're not ready to head for the river or lake, yet. First, you've got to learn how to use this new rig of yours.

So, the third rule of success- ful fishing is accurate casting. The back yard is the best place to work on it.

Put a practice plug on your rig. Fix up a target — a bucket or an old tire will do. If you use a bucket, lay it on the grass, open end toward you. Now back off about 40 feet. Here's the technique.

Hold your rod so that the reel handle is up. Put your thumb down firmly on the line that is coiled up on the spool. Your thumb is going to act as the brake in this operation; it's going to keep the spool slowed down just enough so that too much line won't come off too fast and cause a backlash.

The backlash is the bane of bait casters. But if you will master the thumb-brake prin- ciple, you will have a minimum of tangles.

Now you're ready to cast. You're not going to do this the way you throw a baseball. This is mostly elbow and wrist ac- tion.

First, aim the rod at your target. Then bring it back, slowly and smoothly, until it is behind you at about three o'clock. Come forward sharply to twelve o'clock, then simult- aneously snap your wrist for- ward and release your thumb enough so that the plug can fly at the target.

Keep thumb pressure on lightly and watch your plug. If the plug is going to over- shoot the target, apply more thumb pressure. Do this smoothly, trying to make the plug drop easily and softly into the bucket or tire.

When you hit the target regu- larly, you're ready to go fish- ing for black bass.

Get the quiet proof of Chevrolet's superior performance on the road—No other car in the low-priced three can match the borne-on-the-wind sensation you get from a ride in the 1960 Chevrolet. But that's not surprising when you consider to what lengths Chevy has gone to provide for your comfort at no extra cost to you. As you drive, count the ways Chevrolet has been thoughtful:

- Supple Full Coil suspension—Coil springs at all four wheels melt bumps as no other suspension can. Taking the punch out of rough roads is their only function—they don't have to anchor the rear axle.
- Butyl rubber body mounts—Thicker, newly designed body mounts further insulate you from the road.
- Body by Fisher—Only Chevy in its field offers the polish and crafts- manship of Body by Fisher.
- Foam cushioned seats—Chevy offers foam cushioned seats in both front and rear in all series but one.
- Safety-Girder frame—X-built and not merely X-braced, the Safety-Girder frame affords greater rigidity to minimize twisting and squeaks.
- Hydraulic valve lifters—Oil hushed hydraulic valve lifters reduce engine noise to a whisper.
- Cushioned steering shaft—A universal joint and cushioned coupling keep those annoying road tremors from the steering wheel.
- Precision balanced wheels and tires—Here again Chevy has shown concern for your comfort by elimi- nating vibration in this vital area— tire life is longer, too.
- Easy steering ratio—Chevy's high ratio Ball Race steering takes the work out of steering for you.
- Superior weight distribution—Chevy rides better, handles better and stops better because the car's weight is more equally divided between the front and rear wheels.
- Wide choice of power teams—Choose from 24 different power com- binations to satisfy the itchiest driving foot—more than any other car.

Predatory Animal Control Club Reports On Work Of Past Year

The Mills County Area Predatory Animal Control Club reported Wednesday results of the past eleven months work.

Last March a group of Mills County ranchers and farmers met in the District Court Room and organized the Mills County Area Predatory Animal Control Club.

The club was formed for the purpose of obtaining State and Federal aid to support a government trapper. The club's share of the trapper's salary is $175.00 per month. This amount is matched by the State and Federal Government, plus mileage for the trapper's car. Traps, cyanide gas and poison are also furnished by the government.

Alfred Brown was sent to a trappers' school for the purpose of obtaining the latest techniques and methods of trapping to qualify for the job. After taking this job Mr. Brown has been credited by the Department of Interior for the following predators: 11 wolves, 40 Red fox, 1 bob cat and numerous gray fox and coons. Due to the nature of his work and operations it is impossible to account for the total number of predatory animals killed in the past eleven months.

This work has been made possible by sixty-nine members. Each member pays five cents per head on sheep and goats per year.

To insure this continued service the club feels they are doing, they would like to urge every sheep and goat owner in the Mills County area to join this club.

This service becomes available to all who pay membership fees to Al T. Langford, Secretary and Treasurer.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Probably one of the wierdest decisions in its history was handed down by Federal Trade Commission in case against Shell, Texaco and Atlantic Refining Company and Goodyear, Goodrich, and Firestone.

The three oil companies were ordered to stop coercing their dealers to handle only certain brands of tires, batteries and other accessories.

The testimony was C. W. Harder quite strong that these major oil companies used very vigorous methods in forcing their dealers, or service station operators leasing their stations, to handle only items approved by the major oil firms.

In addition, the testimony further developed that in a typical year of 1955, the major oil companies were paid commissions ranging from 7 to 10%. For example Shell received $3.4 million from two tire firms, Texaco $4.8 million.

Now comes the strange part of the FTC findings. Although the oil companies were ordered to stop coercing the service station operators, the FTC could find nothing wrong with the conduct of the major rubber companies in giving these special discounts to the oil firms.

The FTC position was that the major oil firms earned these commissions by performing certain services. These great services were such things as recommending to the service station operator that he handle tires and other accessory items as a means of getting more revenue into the station. Another great and valuable promotion aid was extended by the major oil companies in suggesting to station operators methods of displaying these items.

Another service performed was that of the oil company salesmen calling on the service stations with the favored rubber company salesmen.

Other testimony developed that the oil company salesmen often told the service station operators what tires and accessories they could handle, or else.

But for these "promotional" services, FTC found oil companies earned millions paid them by big rubber.

This decision is bound to cause some bitter debate in Congress when it convenes shortly. The Senate Small Business Committee, headed by Sen. John Sparkman, has already taken cognizance of the matter.

It will perhaps be called FTC's great Pollyanna decision.

After all, if the major oil companies are to continue to receive these huge commissions from the rubber companies, they will have to continue to send out their salesmen, to talk to station operators on behalf of the rubber firms paying commissions to the company.

Thus, the anti-coercion phase of the order is most likely to fall by the wayside.

For who, but FTC, can be so naive to believe an oil company salesman, charged with getting certain tires and batteries into service stations handling his oil and gas, will confine his activities to gentle persuasive argument... especially when he has a quota to meet?

Scriptures—Acts 20:12-21:16.

Paul went on foot from Miletus to Ephesus, where he called the elders of the church together and reminded them of his preaching, telling them to be faithful to the church of which they were overseers.—Acts 20:13-24.
Then Paul told them that he was going to Jerusalem and that they would see his face no more. Then he knelt down and prayed with them all, and they wept bitterly because he was leaving them.—Acts 20:25-35.
Paul and his companions then sailed to Caesarea, where they stayed in the home of Philip, who had four daughters who prophesied. There a seer came and warned Paul he should not go to Jerusalem.—Acts 21:8-11.
The disciples pleaded with Paul not to go to Jerusalem, where he might be harmed. Paul said he might be, but that he was willing to die for the Lord Jesus.—Acts 21:12-13.

PARENT PROBLEMS

Hard And Fast Rules To Speed Up Slowpoke

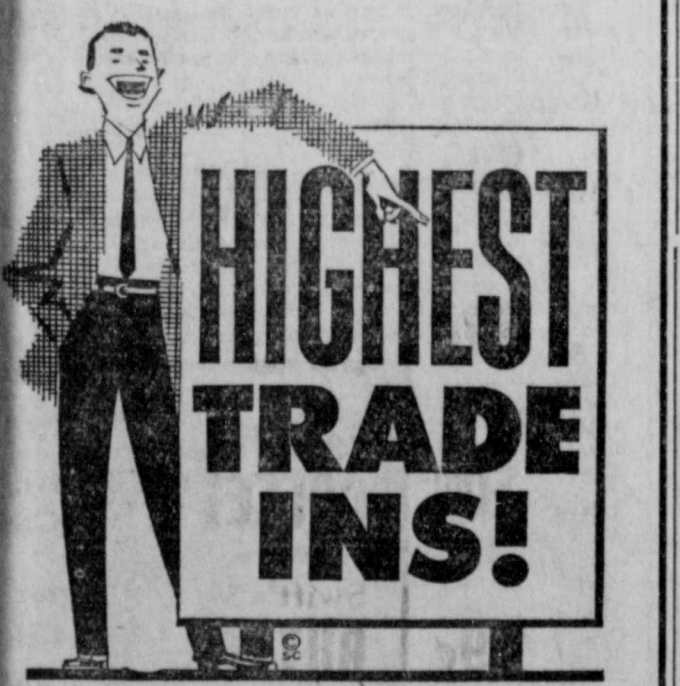

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.
TRYING to the nerves of many a mother and teacher is the child who is a slowpoke. At home the problem often begins with the child over his dressing and eating. With the school-age child it's often over his going to bed and getting ready for school or doing chores.
Problem With Son
A Texas mother writes of her son, eight:
"He is in the 3rd grade in school and is in an advanced class.
"He loves to read, reads exceptionally well, and reads material far in advance of his years. He also loves football and all other sports. He belongs to the Cub Scouts and gets along well with other children; attends Sunday School and church regularly.
Very "Poky"
"But—he is undoubtedly the 'pokiest' child I have ever seen in getting anything that he starts completed. This includes his Scout projects, his school work, his homework, his tasks we have assigned to him at home, getting dressed, taking a bath, etc.
"His teacher has now appealed to us for help, but we don't know what to do, either. All the other children finish their assigned work. We and the teacher both know that he is capable of doing the work, but he just doesn't get it done in the allotted time.
Wastes Time
"He will look out the window, look at the other children, draw pictures, 'fool around' generally, and now and then put down an answer on his paper. She has kept him after school to finish work, but this has not speeded him up any.
"At home we have tried talking to him, reasoning with him, reminding him to get busy when he is loitering at a task, punishing him, depriving him of privileges, and withholding all criticism and praising him when he does finish something in good time.
At Wits End
"What else is there to try?
"There must be something wrong somewhere."
My reply, in part:
Your son's "pokiness" is not easy to correct.
Center your attention on holding him to some strict family regulations, like going to bed at a certain time with his light out at a reasonable time and appearing properly groomed at mealtimes. These are very definite things he must do. Instead of jawing, set some penalties.
Specific Punishments
For example, if he is 20 minutes late in being in bed with his light out, require him to sit up unassisted for 10 minutes where you can see him. Be hard-hearted then. You can do the same when he arrives late at the table or comes home late for meals. Pick out a few things you can do something about easily.
Shouting at him to hurry and talking about his being slow are about the worst things you can do.
(My bulletins, "The Slowpoke" and "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate," may be had by sending a self-addressed, U. S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)
Answering Parents' Questions
Q. Our son, 13, shows great mechanical skill but can't read better than the average seven-year-old.
Why bother about his reading?
A. To further his success in any mechanical field and help him have more to think about and talk about all his life.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

A letter from Ruth Wednesday told of the passing of O. R.'s mother, Mrs. Virgie Mitchell, at the home of her son, Sam Mitchell, in Texarkana. She had been ill for a few days, but was not thought to be at all serious. She died very suddenly Tuesday morning, Jan. 19. The Mitchells left Beaumont at twelve noon Tuesday and got to Texarkana that evening. Burial was at Telephone Wednesday. The Vinzants, Don, Carol, and Larry were present for the funeral. Mrs. Mitchell is survived by three sons, Sam and James of Texarkana and O. R. of Beaumont; two daughters, Mrs. Roma Moore and Mrs. Tommy Trotter, both of Texarkana.

Mrs. Breeding called me yesterday (Friday) and said her daughter, Mrs. Garland Malone, ishment and vitamins, could live in perfect health for many years in a cellar without ever seeing the sun.

who has been ill so long is going to get to come home from the hospital Sunday. Garland got into her walker Thursday morning and walked to the end of the long corridor. There she left the walker and triumphantly walked back to her room by herself.

I see from the papers that El Paso followed the lead of the rest of Texas and the nation by selecting the rose as its national flower. The national flower election was conducted by members of the Florists Telegraph Delivery Assn. An independent auditing firm reported that 1,055,629 ballots were cast at member shops. The official returns will be submitted to the appropriate Congressional Committee chairmen who can deliver recommendations on legislation for an official flower. The U. S. does not have an official flower and flower lovers hope the flower election will influence Congress to officially adopt a national flower.

Yesterday there was a rose pruning demonstration at El Paso's Municipal Rose Garden by M. M. (Doc) Thompson, an expert on all phases of pruning. As soon as I saw the announcement in the paper I felt that I must go. I called my Flower friend, Charlene Blake. She said she had a full day planned, but she would manage, for she wanted to see the demonstration herself. She would be by for me. Next day she called. Said her maid had left. Donna was home sick with the flu, and no one to leave her with. She couldn't go. Then I thought, "I'll go on the bus." But I knew nothing about what bus would get me there. I called the Transportation office. The lady said I better go to town and take the Grandview bus from there to the Rose Garden. I got John to take me to Highway 80 where I soon caught a bus straight to town. I didn't have to wait long at the Plaza till here came the Grandview bus. And after not so long there I was at the Rose garden. It was a beautiful sunny afternoon and Doc Thompson pruned rose after rose for us. And now if I can just get the tools, I know

1959 Bond Sales In Mills County Short Of Goal

Texas Savings Bonds sales in December were the greatest since March of last year according to W. P. Duren, chairman of Mills County's Bond Committee.

December Savings Bonds purchased in Texas were $13,482,290, an increase of $2 million over the previous month.

"Sales in this county totaled $208,253 during 1959. This represented 92.6% of our goal of $225,000. Sales in the state amounted to $152,937,812 or 83.8% of the state's 1959 Bond goal," Duren reported.

"This sales record may be attributed to the recent increase

I can do it myself.

We've had some nice, bright days again lately, but it is still cold nights, and today it's cold and gray again. January's gone. School is half out, and time is whizzing by.

in interest on Series E Savings Bonds and to efforts of the hundreds of volunteers serving on the state and local bond committees. Duren pointed out.

Last fall the U. S. Treasury Department raised the rate on all E and H Bonds. All Savings Bonds chased since June 1, 1959, an attractive 3-3/4% old bonds earn at least more when held to maturity.

SUNBURN AND SKIN CANCER

This may hardly be the time of year to be discussing the effects of too much sun, but an American Medical Association spokesman has again pointed out the extremely high rate of skin cancer among Texas farmers and ranchers.

Dr. Stephen Rothman of Chicago, chairman of the AMA's committee on cosmetics, told a clinical session in Dallas that Texas has six times as high a rate of skin cancer as the northern and eastern states. He attributed the situation to the direct rays of the sun in Texas and the fact that many people in the state pursue outdoor livelihoods.

This extremely high rate, he said, could be reduced to a fraction by the daily use of simple sun-protective creams. A number of products are now available. Dr. Rothman reported, which have been found to be absolutely effective in preventing skin cancer if the individual who works in the sun would apply a thin layer on his hands and face each morning.

But his suggestion to the U. S. Public Health Service for such a preventative program, the specialist said, met with a response something like this: "If you think you can get a Texas farmer to smear cream on his face every morning, then you just don't know Texas farmers."

Consensus of the clinical session in Dallas was that the sun has been highly overrated as a source of health, and that its bad effects for most individuals may considerably outweigh the good.

For the normal skin, said Dr. Rothman, "I am not sure there is anything good to be said about the sun."

Ironically, he pointed out, the confirmed sun bather, seeking a tan which has become symbolic of youth, is hastening the aging process and prematurely developing for himself an unattractive, old-looking, wrinkled skin. The full effects of sun bathing have not yet been completely assessed, because the fad has not been prevalent for a sufficient length of time to provide the required study.

But Dr. Rothman holds to the theory that modern man, provided with plenty of nour-

RECIPE AWARD OF $100 GOES TO MOTHER OF 17 FOR SAUSAGE KOLACHES

Mrs. Harry Jauer of Hobson praises 'wonderful' performance of Gladiola Hard Wheat Flour

A family recipe for a delicious yeast bread variation—golden brown kolaches with tasty pork sausage filling—has brought a special $100 award from the Gladiola Flour people to Mrs. Harry Jauer, Route 1, Hobson, Texas.

She is donating half the money to the Altar Society of St. Boniface Catholic Church in Hobson.

Mrs. Jauer's award is a prelude to regular cash prizes soon to come in Gladiola's continuing Baking-Recipe-of-the-Month contest, now open to all homemakers in this area.

'100 at a Time'

With 12 of her 17 children still living at home, Mrs. Jauer has one of the busiest baking ovens in Texas. "I make these kolaches a hundred at a time," she told us, "but that might be too many for some families." The complete recipe, reduced to fit an average-size household, is printed below.

"I've had my fingers in yeast dough since as far back as I can remember," Mrs. Jauer relates, "and I've made a point of showing my daughters the difference between what I call 'strong' dough and 'weak' dough. It all depends on the flour you start with."

Baking Secret?

"Do I have a baking secret for my yeast breads? Well, certainly there's no secret about Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour. But I notice that some women—especially the younger ones—are trying to make lightbread, kolaches and coffee cake with an all-purpose flour.

"Then, when their baking doesn't turn out right, they get discouraged, and that's too bad. If they'd use Gladiola Hard Wheat Flour, they'd see a wonderful difference the first time. That's how you make 'strong' dough—smooth and springy—instead of the sticky, starchy kind that won't hold up in your oven."

GLADIOLA SPECIAL HARD WHEAT FLOUR

Likes New Ideas

Mrs. Jauer thinks Gladiola's Baking-Recipe-of-the-Month contest will be "a fine way to pass good recipes around" among women here in the Home Baking Heart of Texas. "You can bet I'm going to try every prizewinning idea as soon as it comes out."

Rules of the contest, which pays $200 in cash prizes every month, appear in other columns of Glad Times.

11 CASH PRIZES EVERY MONTH HERE ARE EASY CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone may enter Gladiola's Baking-Recipe-of-the-Month contest except employees (and their families) of Fant Milling Co., its affiliated companies and its advertising agency.
2. Write down your favorite baking recipe using Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour. List all ingredients, then explain briefly each step in the procedure.
3. Cut off the strip that says "Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour" from the folder enclosed in every bag. Send it—with your recipe, name and address—to Glad Times, Sherman, Texas.
4. You may send in as many recipes as you wish. Mail each recipe in a separate envelope, enclosing a Gladiola strip as explained in Rule No. 3.
5. Each month's recipes are judged separately, with an independent graduate home economist as the final judge. Recipes received in February will be eligible for prizes to be announced in May.
6. For the outstanding recipe received each month, Gladiola will pay $100. Half the prize money—$50—goes to the homemaker who submitted the recipe. The remaining $50 goes to the church of her choice as her special contribution.
7. Ten other recipes will be chosen each month for Honorable Mention prizes of $10 each.
8. All recipes submitted become the property of Fant Milling Company, Sherman, Texas, with full publication rights. Recipes cannot be returned.

'BAKING HEART' OF TEXAS IS CONTEST AREA

The Baking-Recipe-of-the-Month contest is unique because it is specially designed for a unique part of America—the Home Baking Heart of Texas.

Here, where delicious yeast breads are the pride of all good cooks, this continuing monthly contest invites friendly competition, and the exchange of outstanding recipe ideas, between every homemaker and her neighbors.

There will be new cash prizes every month, new opportunities for homemakers to win deserved recognition for their baking skill.

An extra benefit—particularly for women who have never experienced it—will be the deep satisfaction of working with Gladiola Hard Wheat Flour. It's the flour made expressly for yeast breads, Texas style.

| 1 1/2 teaspoons salt | |
| 1/4 cup warm water | |

Cook sausage until done, stirring to break it up; drain and cool. Scald milk, add margarine, sugar and salt and cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast and the 1 teaspoon sugar in the warm water. Add to cooled milk mixture. Stir in enough Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour to make a medium soft dough. Let rest 10 minutes, then work dough in the bowl until smooth, about 10 minutes. Cover tightly and let stand in a warm place until double in bulk.

Punch down. Cut or pinch off 15 pieces of dough about the size of an egg. Flatten each to about 3 inches in diameter. Place a rounded teaspoonful of cooked sausage in the center of each. Pinch opposite sides together to make an oblong roll. After all are formed, roll each in melted margarine and place close together in a 13 x 9 x 2 inch pan, smooth side up. Cover lightly with a cloth and allow to rise again until double in bulk.

Bake in a moderately hot oven (400°) 18 to 20 minutes. Makes about 2 1/2 dozen medium sized kolaches.

Miss Marcia Hinds To Bring Special Feature To Star Methodist Church

By MRS. HOMER McCASLAND

The fifth session of the Star Methodist Circuit will be held at the Star Methodist Church on Sunday night, February 7. The program will begin at 6:15 p. m., with a covered dish supper. Miss Marcia Hinds will bring the special feature.

According to a publication by the Board of Missions in New York, Angola is on the Atlantic side of the continent of Africa, located next to Rhodesia. Methodism in Angola is young and small—with a membership of less than 36,000 in an African population of 4,250,000. The people support 47 preachers, build their thatched roof as well as cement block and brick permanent village churches and schools, give toward home mission work, and support a pastor on St. Thomas Island. The church in America supports missionaries, a hospital and a clinic, a social center and station schools of various levels.

Miss Hinds did her work in and around Luanda, a city of 200,000, the capital of Angola. Luanda boasts the largest Woman's Society of Christian Service in Africa which carries forward a broad program of social and evangelistic work. Marcia, who attended McMurry College in Abilene, worked with the General Board of Missions in New York after returning from the A-3 work in 1958. She is doing a year's special work at Perkins School of Theology. Upon completion of work in Dallas, she will return to work under the direction of Bishop Ralph E. Dodge in Southern Rhodesia.

Last Sunday night 96 people participated in the program. Everyone is invited to attend the school during the remaining two sessions, according to announcement by Rev. Weimer, pastor.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: During 1959, I worked for two employers and paid social security tax on $5,200. I understand that I should not have paid social security tax on more than $4,800. How do I obtain a refund of the excess tax?

Answer: Each employer is required to withhold social security tax on earnings up to $4,800, which accounts for the excess tax. You may claim a refund for this or apply it against your income tax by entering it in Item 17 on the Individual Income Tax Return, Form 1040.

Question: Last year I applied for widow's benefits but was disallowed because I was under age 62 and had no children under age 18 in my care. My 17-year-old daughter was married.

FIGHT A GOOD FIGHT Heart of every lover of thrills to the tale of heroic little band of 182 who fought to defend the rights of Texans.
It was when Col.
Travis stood in the court that night and called his loyalty. All save one gave his life for the worthy cause.

sent to us the challenge to fight to life's trying destiny.
There is no group who so resolve in their hearts to "fight a good fight" as we who are Christians. It takes but a mere glance to realize that life is a battle. A battle for right over wrong, for success over failure, for victory over defeat.

How may we be assured of a victory? The Bible points us to Daniel. Daniel purposed in his heart. It is only when we purpose to do a thing we do it.
Many a race is lost before even a step is run for lack of purpose to win.

Purpose — how important, but this is not victory. As does the runner, we must train and prepare ourselves for the great event. We must throw off the weights of hindrance and be prepared for the jolts of temptation, jars of trial, and the jeers of opposition.

Historians contribute Napolean's defeat at Waterloo to physical fatigue. He had fought a good fight, but he failed to prepare for the situation.

COMES UP SMILING—After setting a new underwater endurance record of 100 hours, Mrs. Jane Baldasare, 24, Astoria, N. Y., housewife and photo model, smiles as she is lifted from a nine-foot tank of 90-degree water at Pensacola, Fla. Mrs. Baldasare, who broke the old record of 86 1/2 hours, collapsed as she started for her room but was quickly revived. She staged endurance test to help the March of Dimes campaign.

It takes purpose to win, preparation to fight, but perserverance to seize the victory.

The Bible records an odd story of a woman who started toward safety but looked back and lost her own life. In spite of all her opportunities Mrs.
Lot failed. She failed because of a divided heart and an undecided will. It is the decided person in life who wins.

Real and definite decisions are important, for in that direction is victory — all others defeat and failure.

Only should we rest when we can look Him in the face and say, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION
1716 SAN ANTONIO STREET AUSTIN 1, TEXAS

Austin, Texas—Completion of the Interstate Highway System, including 3,033 miles of top-standard expressways, may save as many as 300 Texans a year from traffic deaths.

State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer says that accident records show that controlled access expressways are three times safer.

Also, he said, they move three to four times as much traffic. Target year for getting Texas highways to desired standards is 1975.

By that time, said the state highway engineer, the state probably will have 70,000 miles in the state highway system compared to the present 60,000. There will be 5,500 miles of multi-lane highways compared to 2,168 today.

More Speed?—Whether speeds in excess of 60 miles per hour should be legalized for some of the state's top-notch highways will be subject of study between now and the next Legislature.

Committees of the Texas Good Roads Association are to consider this and whether gasoline taxes should be upped to gain school funds.

Governor Daniel has suggested the possibility of raising money for school improvement and teacher salaries through a higher gasoline tax. TGRA, made up of people interested in road building, has, in the past, opposed draining taxes paid by road users for non-highway purposes.

Higher speed limits have been proposed before for four-lane highways, but have failed to pass the Legislature.

Deficit Grows—Deficit in the state's general revenue fund has reached $78,647,301, an all time high, says State Treasurer Jesse James.

Things should look better after May 1, when corporation franchise taxes will be paid, he adds.

Appointees—Appointed by Governor Daniel to the Texas Commission on Educational Standards are Mrs. W. D. DeGrassi of Amarillo, Horace K. Jackson of Gatesville, Reynaldo Garza of Brownsville, Cullum Greene of Fort Worth, and Mrs. E. P. Lamberth of Dallas.

To the Educational Commission, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey names Everett Collier of Houston, Joe Anderson of Lufkin, Sens. C. T. Matthew of Yoakum, Leon Thurman of Anson and Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville, as his appointees to the Educational Commission.

New Game Heads—Frank M. Wood of Wichita Falls has been elected chairman of the Game and Fish Commission to succeed Herb Frenley of Houston.

New members of the Commission are Carl L. Dupuy of Lufkin, H. A. Walsh of El Paso, J. F. Corley of Houston and W. O. Reed of Dallas.

Bug Delays Decision—“Flu bug,” besides felling Texans by the thousands, contributed to a delay in deciding one of the state's most talked about issues, the new Safe Driving Insurance Plan.

With the two other State Insurance Board members ill, Chairman Penn Jackson said it would be at least several days before the board would announce changes, if any, in the plan.

Board Member Robert W. Strain was in bed with the flu, and Joe P. Biggs, other member, was convalescing from a heart attack.

Under the merit plan, the Board set auto insurance premiums lower for drivers with no record of accidents or traffic violations and proportionately higher for those who have accident and violation records.

Gov. Daniel has said that he hoped the Board would make “some changes” in the plan but declined to elaborate.

Some legislators declare that, unless non-accident causing violations and the three-year retroactive features are taken from the plan, it will be so unpopular the Legislature will have to change it if the Board doesn't.

But most Texas insurance men declare that, given a fair chance, the plan will grow in favor with the public. They believe there will be an over-all drop in insurance costs as the driving public learns the relationship between bad driving habits and high insurance premiums.

Anti-Narcotics Aid Promised—Governor Daniel has promised El Paso every possible help in combatting its problem of being “a major distribution point of an international narcotics ring.”

In response to a telegram in which El Paso Judge Woodrow Bean cited the city's “major” problem, the governor conferred with state and federal authorities.

Daniel said he was assured after talking with Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, that DPS men were and would continue to work with local law enforcement officials in El Paso in fighting narcotics traffic.

Also, said the governor, he has been told by the Federal Narcotics Commission that eight federal customs agents in El Paso also do anti-narcotics work.

Federal Commissioner H. J. Anslinger promised the governor to survey and consider the
