GOD AND COUNTRY SCOUT AWARDS MADE—Four Goldthwaite Boy Scouts were presented God and Country awards at the First Methodist Church Sunday morning. They are pictured here, in uniform, from left, Clyde Cockrum, Jr., Steven Ryan Oliver, Cecil Clark Campbell and Jerry Lynn Duren. Pictured with the boys are their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cockrum, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Oliver, Mrs. Howard Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Duren. Their pastor, Rev. George B. McCrary, is standing in back of the group.

The awards were made at the morning worship service in the observance of National Boy Scout Sunday, with Cubs, Scouts and Explorers and their adult leaders attending in body. The four boys completed requirements during a twelve month course of study and active church work under the guidance of their pastor. They were given this award in recognition of their active churchmanship. The medals were presented by Rev. McCrary to their mothers who in turn pinned them on their sons.

The pastor reported that he is beginning a new class this week on request of the five following scouts: James Childress, Wesley Krueger, Philip Nickols, Michael Pope and Owen Yarborough.

Senator Johnson Boosted Here For Presidential Nomination

At a meeting last Saturday of the Mills County Lyndon B. Johnson for President Club, considerable enthusiasm was expressed at the reception of this cause by the people of the various sections of the county.

Y. B. Johnson, Jr., Chairman of the Mills County Johnson for President Club, was pledged full support of the County Democratic Executive Committee by Mrs. Claudia Cockrum, Chairman.

Results of the Johnson for President movement were reported as most gratifying and all workers and members of the club were complimented by the Chairman for their efforts.

All persons interested in promoting the Johnson for President movement may find petitions for their signatures in stores in Goldthwaite, at the City Hall, Courthouse and through the nineteen county voting precinct chairmen.

"Texas, through Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, has an opportunity to serve the nation, and we call on all citizens in Mills County to pledge their support of Senator Johnson for the Democratic nomination for President," said Chairman Y. B. Johnson.

Other officers of the Mills County Club are: W. P. Duren, vice-chairman and Bess Chapin, secretary-treasurer.

The Middle Colorado River Authority Organization Committee meeting last Friday morning authorized its chairman, Levie Old, to name a committee to draw up a bill for the proposed creation of Middle Colorado River Authority.

This bill is to be presented to the Texas Legislature at the next session.

E. B. Gilliam, Jr., Goldthwaite, vice-chairman, presided at the meeting in the absence of chairman Old. The meeting was held in the commissioners courtroom of Brown County Courthouse.

Other Goldthwaite representatives attending were: Ray Duren, W. C. Barnett and W. P. Duren.

The organization committee set its next meeting date for March 11 at which time it will hear a report from the bill committee. The meeting will be at 10 a. m. in the Brown County Courthouse.

Representatives from Mills, Brown, Lampasas and McCulloch counties attended the meeting last Friday.

Delegates from two other counties, Runnels and Concho, were invited to attend the meeting and join in planning the authority, but were unable to attend. They telephoned to report on activities in their respective counties.

No river authorities exist in Lampasas, Mills, Brown and McCulloch counties. The four counties definitely favor being included in the proposed authority.

Authorities are already existing in four other counties that are considering membership in the proposed authority, and the present authorities would have to be dissolved before these counties could join the planned Middle Colorado River Authority.

These counties are Runnels, Concho, Tom Green and Coke. Runnels' authority is the Runnels County Water Improvement District. Concho is in the Lower Concho River Authority, and Tom Green and Coke counties are in the Upper Colorado River Authority.

The Middle Colorado River Authority Organization Committee was organized Jan. 19 to promote the creation of a river authority for this area.

State Senator Louis Crump attended the January meeting. A previous meeting of interested persons from the counties in the middle Colorado area was held Dec. 22.

River authority boosters explain that there is no authority for this area and it therefore has no voice in the master plan of water development for the State of Texas.

BOY SCOUT ANNIVERSARY—This year marks the Golden Anniversary of Boy Scouts of America.

It will be celebrated with many activities and special efforts on behalf of boy scouting and what it has done and what it means to many in America.

Members of the boy scout troops in the county take part in a number of worthwhile projects during each year and they should be commended for their interest.

And the leaders who take time to work with the boys as scout masters, assistant scout masters, troop committeemen and all who are a part of the scouting organization on an area or council wide basis are due a big pat on the back for the part they play in the move.

So here's congratulations to all the scouts and their leaders on this fiftieth anniversary.

Joe: "I went to a doctor today and told him about my lapse of memory."
John: "What did he do?"
Joe: "He made me pay in advance."

TEN DOLLAR PRIZE—There is a ten dollar prize waiting for someone who will submit the best suggestion for naming the park in Goldthwaite.

Announcement of the contest along with rules was published in the Eagle last week and the committee hopes to have a lot of entries.

Everyone interested in Mills County should get in on the act and submit his or her entry along with, "Why they feel it should be named according to his or her suggestion."

If you don't remember what the rules are, just look back in last week's Eagle for complete details and write down your name suggestion now and mail it to Box X, Goldthwaite. You might be the lucky one to get that $10.00 bill.

Committee members are Howard Campbell, Mrs. V. Z. Cornelius and Charles Conradt.

GOOD CAUSE—A well-known speaker lectured to the members of a literary society, and at the end of his address the secretary approached him with a check. This he politely refused, saying that it might be devoted to some charitable purpose.

"Would you mind," said the secretary, "if we add it to our special fund?"
"Not at all," said the speaker. "What is the special fund for?"
"To enable us to get better lecturers next year," was the reply.

FOR GOLDTHWAITE RESIDENTS ONLY—This little message is primarily for residents living in the city limits of Goldthwaite.

It brings out something of a little lighter side of the current water problems facing Goldthwaite citizens—though it points out a dark possibility, also.

Lewis Hudson commented on the situation at the Lions Club the other evening when the subject was being discussed in an open forum sort of way.

He happens to live up on the hill and for the past several years has seen many days during the summer months when they had no water at all, except maybe after 10 or 11 o'clock at night and before six in the morning. Everyone else up on the hill has of course had something of the same problem.

Lewis commented something like this: "I've been told in a joking way that I should have known better than to build up on the hill. But we are up there and it's our home and we like."

"We have been a little slow in getting our landscaping program in order and during the past summer we happened to have a pretty good weed patch on part of our large lot.

"Well, when the water got so low the past summer for two or three days we were not able to flush a commode, you'd be surprised how handy the weed patch came in, with four children."

He continued: "But the point I would like to make is this. When we residents up on the hill are out of water, those living below the hill are only a step behind us. And, if the water supply gets just a little lower than it has been during the past two summers residents living downtown will be in the same boat that we are in. And there may not be enough weed patch."

PARENT PROBLEM

Permissive Feeding Has Many Drawbacks

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.
SOME years ago when the practice of permissiveness with young children was launched on the advice of a few pediatricians, many mothers welcomed it as a grand and glorious way. Just take up baby when he cries, feed him when you think he's hungry, no more worries, many mothers supposed. This was then called "demand feeding".

But in recent years, many of these mothers have become disillusioned. They have no time they can call their own. Some of their infants, turning days to nights, are demanding food many times around the clock, 24 hours a day; and a lot of these youngsters don't choose a schedule on their own account for months or years.

New Term
So the prophets of "demand feeding", wishing to remove the onus of this term, have invented a more acceptable one—"permissive feeding".

Gradually they have come to advise "permissive feeding" during the infant's first few weeks, with the assurance that he will, with a little assistance by the mother, gradually adapt himself to a somewhat flexible schedule soon thereafter; and this plan seems to make some sense. But mothers also have been led to suppose that if the infant hasn't helped to derive a schedule by the time he is several months of age or older, there is nothing to worry about.

False Advice
Along with the delightful release of the mother from worry over schedules for the child before he is 18 months or two years of age, has arisen another assurance: Don't worry if he doesn't choose to eat a balanced diet. Just keep offering him what he should eat and, if he doesn't want some of it, give him something else he will like. If he doesn't want any meat, give him substitutes in fish, cheese and the like to provide the necessary proteins. It doesn't care for carrots, lettuce, string beans, etc., substitute some other food of assumption that in the long he will choose a balanced diet.

What Assurance?
What assurance have we when he is getting a balanced diet from substitutes? Isn't it reasonable to suppose that children, two to five or six, are not getting an adequate amount of food? Isn't it reasonable to suppose that children, two to five or six, are not getting an adequate amount of food? Isn't it reasonable to suppose that children, two to five or six, are not getting an adequate amount of food?

Study Needed
Much in need now is a study of a large number of children two to five, to ascertain many are choosing to eat fatty foods, especially vegetables. Might many pediatricians kidding themselves about problem?

More on this tomorrow. (My bulletins, "Eating Problems: Their Prevention Solution" (I & II), may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to care of this newspaper.)

Answering Parents' Questions
Q. Suppose your daughter, ten, were invited to a relative's home for celebration of his religious holiday which family doesn't observe? A. I would encourage her to go in order to learn and to share.

Nell Langford, Clarence Miller Repeat Wedding Vows, February 6

Miss Nell Langford became the bride of Clarence Miller, Saturday evening, February 6, 1960, at 7 o'clock, in the Chapel of the First Baptist Church of Goldthwaite, with Rev. Presnell H. Wood, pastor, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. NaVerne Griest of Goldthwaite and Mr. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Miller, also of Goldthwaite.

Vows were repeated before an arch entwined with greenery and red and white carnations, flanked by tall white tapers. White pew bows with red carnations marked the aisles.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Glenn Delapp, who accompanied Lee Birdsong as he sang "I Love Thee" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Mrs. Carl Smith of Fort Worth was her sister's only attendant. She wore a red velvet sheath dress with shoes and hat to match and carried a nosegay of red and white carnations.

Carl Smith of Fort Worth served as best man. Gerry Head, cousin of the bride, and Louis Miller, brother of the groom, ushered and lighted the candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her maternal grandfather, Robert E. Lee of Austin, was radiant in a waltz length gown of white lace and taffeta. The bodice featured a scoop neckline and three quarter length sleeves. Her elbow length veil was attached to a tiara of sequins and pearls. Matching mitts complemented her gown. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Griest wore a silver green sheath dress with bone and gold accessories and a white gardenia corsage. Mrs. Miller, mother of the groom, wore a navy suit with black and white accessories. She also wore a gardenia corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the banquet room of the church. The bride's table was laid with a white taffeta cloth and overlaid with a red net flounced cloth, centered with a four tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

For traveling the bride wore a beige tailored embossed satin dress with black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are both graduates of Goldthwaite High School and he is presently employed by the Santa Fe Railroad.

Goldthwaite Senior Girl Scouts Attend Conference At Abilene

Goldthwaite Senior Girl Scout Troop I attended the West Texas Girl Scout Conference held at Abilene on January 30, at the Windsor Hotel. Those attending were: Judinell Benningfield, Shirley and Lucille Humphries, Danna Thorne and Judy Gotcher, and their leaders, Mrs. Jerry McClement and Mrs. Earline Benningfield.

On arrival at the hotel, 246 Girl Scouts and their leaders registered for the conference.

Opening session was held in the Capri Room with the Roscoe Senior Troop in charge of the Flag Ceremony. Lila Jordan of Abilene's Hostess Troops introduced Mayor George Minter, who gave the welcome.

Miss Pat Twiss of Dallas, professional Girl Scout Worker, was the main speaker and her subject was "Why," which was the theme of the conference and was the highlight of the day.

The Scouts were divided into discussion groups on "Service Projects" and "National and International Projects." Judinell Benningfield of Goldthwaite and Sherry Berry of Weatherford were the discussion leaders for "Service Projects."

At luncheon Dr. Johnson gave the invocation and Larson Loyd of Abilene was guest speaker. Immediately after lunch, two more discussion groups were held on: "Community Support—How We Get It," and "After Senior Scouting—How It Helps." Afterwards there was free time and a Coke break, followed by the Evaluation of the Discussion Groups and Senior Conference.

The Roscoe Senior Troop had charge of the retiring of the colors and Lila Jordan closed the program with most of the girls and leaders leaving for their homes. The Goldthwaite troop remained for the night.

Sunday morning the Goldthwaite Senior Troop attended church at College Church of Christ at A. C. C., and then visited Miss Benna Von Reid, a student there. After lunch the girls and leaders returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Baird spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baird and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Miller.

TODAY'S Menu

Interesting New Ways to Make Lamb Special

LAMB CHOPS are an old favorite, practical for a family dinner. Two or eight. Loin chops are the luxurious side and so select for that special dinner.

Turn into greased, shallow baking dish. Top with 4 rib lamb chops, about 1/2 in. thick. Bake at 350° 30 min. or until chops are done.

Lamb Paprika
And here's a wonderful recipe for Lamb Paprika. Trim all skin and as much fat as possible from 2 lbs. lean shoulder of lamb and cut meat into bite-size morsels. Heat 2 tbsp. butter in heavy kettle. Mince 2 onions and brown lightly in butter. Add meat and brown it well.

Add Tomato Pulp
Add 1 1/2 c. tomato pulp (fresh or canned), 1/2 c. chopped parsley, salt and paprika to taste. Cover and simmer gently 1 1/2 hrs., or until meat is tender. If necessary, add a little hot water or stock, as required. Taste for seasonings, add 1 c. sour cream, then reheat to just boiling point.

Serve at once with an accompanying dish of noodles. A fine winter number, this one!

here is an interesting and recent loin chop recipe to try.

1/2 c. salt and pepper to taste on 4 loin lamb chops 1/2 in. thick.

Chops
oil chops 3-4 in. from ribs, heat 5-7 min. Turn broil 5 min.

Meanwhile, combine 1/3 c. oil, 1/2 c. each chili sauce, firmly-packed brown sugar; well.

Brush each chop with a slice of onion and ketchup mixture. Broil 2-3 min. or to desired degree of doneness.

Remove and Lamb Chop Bake is good and is very hearty. To serve 4, combine 3 c. rice, 1 (1 1/2 oz.) pkg. grated mushroom soup mix and 1/2 c. chopped, medium-sized onion, mixing well.

BRIEFS FOR FOOD SHOPPERS

As you shop this week you will find citrus fruits are still good values on fruit counters. Supplies of grapefruit, oranges and lemons are abundant and prices have shown little change lately. The high vitamin C content of citrus fruits makes them ideal choices during this season of the year when colds are so prevalent.

Adverse weather conditions in some growing areas have limited supplies of fresh vegetables. However, root vegetables are moderate to low in price in most markets. Dry onions, rutabagas, sweet potatoes, carrots and red potatoes are economically priced. Celery and cabbage carry attractive price tags, too. Greens and turnips are available—a good team-mate with pork.

This is the season for peak egg production. Eggs are nutritious as well as economical food buys. Select the large size eggs for best value. Fryers continue in good supply, at reasonable prices.

Don't pass up the dairy counter—milk-made dishes should have a place in daily menus. From breakfast cereal cooked in milk, to dinner desserts, milk makes meals appetizing and nourishing. Remember adults need 2 or more cups daily while children should have 3 or 4 cups.

Regency News

By MRS. J. A. JONES

The sun is shining today and I hope we will have some pretty weather. We received one and a half inches of rain Thursday night, which was really fine. Now if it will just clear up everyone will feel better. There sure is lots of folks with colds in the community.

Willard Edington was in the local hospital from Sunday until late Wednesday afternoon. Friday (Dell) Mrs. Edington had to see the doctor.

Alton Jones and George Garner of Goldthwaite went to Cherokee Tuesday to get a load of posts and Wednesday they went to San Saba and got wire. They have hired Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones to build a fence on two sides of the cemetery. The other two sides have netting that Alton and I put up several years ago.

Jim McFarlin visited in the Willard Edington home several days this week and he and Mrs. Edington worked on their income tax.

Mr. and Mrs. Denver Shaw and son, Dwyne of Lometa visited us Wednesday night.

Robert visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Whitley and Bonnie Friday night.

Mrs. Cecil Egger has returned to work at Brownwood. She has been out of work six months on account of her mother being sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Phillips and boys of San Saba visited us Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Egger have been sick with flu.

Alton Jones visited Willard Edington Friday afternoon while Mrs. Edington attended a ball game at Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones went to San Saba Thursday.

Mrs. Frank Hines, Mrs. J. W. Weathers, Mrs. L. B. Ashley and Miss Greta Sue Hines visited Mr. and Mrs. Fields Hines and son, Gregory, at Lometa Sunday afternoon. They also visited Mrs. J. H. Lockhart while there.

The Veterans Administration's direct Loan Program for veterans is scheduled to expire July 25, 1960, Ernest F. Barton, officer in charge of the Veterans Administration Office in Brownwood reminded veterans today.

The Waco Regional Office recently received $800,000 for use in making direct loans to veterans for the purchase or construction of homes or farm homes. Letter from Brownsville—

Eds. News:— The time is not far off when the Matamoros will have some of the fighting fun. Miramon himself, or some part of his forces under some of his officers, will ere long be coming to Matamoros; then we will see which are which, and who are the best fighters. In such an event, perhaps it would be well to send one or two companies of rangers over to assist the Matamorans, merely by way of cancelling the obligations we are under to them for the troops we sent to aid the citizens of Brownsville, and which troops fought Cortinas so valiantly with the blank cartridges on the memorable occasion of the first battle of the war against the citizens of the United States. I think the rangers could teach them many new things, among them to do better fighting without, than with blank cartridges.

We are requested to state that Mr. Wilson yesterday, gave permission to a sailor to go up in his balloon, but that he jumped out as the balloon was commencing to ascend, in consequence of which the balloon went up without anyone to take charge of it and it ascended some 3/4 of a mile above Schmidt's Garden, and finally descended into the Gulf, about five miles distant. Mr. Wilson requests us to say that he will pay anyone well for finding and returning his balloon. Meantime a subscription is being gotten up to enable Mr. Wilson to procure another balloon to be inflated with gas.

We have barely time to say that Mr. Wilson's balloon went up from Schmidt's Garden about 10 a. m. with Miss Myra Rosella in the car. It passed northward over the city, moving about a mile from the ground, and finally descended in the Bay, about two miles from the eastern point of the Island and five miles from the place of ascension. It was taken up by a pilot boat and is now being safely brought back. This we believe, is the first balloon ascension ever made by anyone in Texas.

Corn—Bad Prospects Ahead—
There was never a time in our knowledge when the future was more gloomy in regard to a sufficiency of food stuffs. Already from Texas to North Carolina corn is ranging from $1.25 to $2 per bushel. The wheat crop is absolutely destroyed and the chance for oats is slim.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schorn and boys of Fort Worth spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. H. P. Harris.

LOOK AT THE LOWER PRICES

List prices as much as $76.05 lower on popular models with popular equipment

- The '60 Chevrolet models most people buy, equipped the way most people want them, are actually priced lower than last year's models. This two-tone Bel Air V8 sedan, for example—with Turboglide, push-button radio and de luxe heater—lists for a whole $76.05 less! Prices are lower for all comparable V8 models throughout the line. Also for all comparable 6-cylinder models with Powerglide. Yet Chevy's loaded with more of the things that put pleasure into owning a car. (Just look at the list!) It's the greatest year yet to get into a Chevy!
- Big brakes for quicker, surer stops. Rivetless bonded linings mean they last longer, too.
- More room to relax in. Chevy sedans offer roomier seating than any car in their class. Lower, narrower transmission tunnel means more foot room.
- Only full wraparound windshield among the leading low-priced cars.
- Electric windshield wipers keep sweeping even when you speed up to pass.
- Vent windows crank open and closed. So much simpler than fighting those tricky little catches.
- Keyless locking of all doors. Quick and easy. The same key opens door, glovebox, trunk and starts the car.
- Economy Turbo-Fire V8. Or how to get up to 10% more miles per gallon of regular and still have lots of "git."
- Thriftest 6 in any full-size car. It's the '60 version of the engine that got 22.38 miles per gallon in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.
- Widest choice of power teams. 24 engine-transmission teams in all, with output up to 335 h.p.
- A trunk that's made for long trips with up to 22.5% more actual luggage space. Sill's lower for easier loading.
- Fisher Body craftsmanship. Look at the finish, the fabrics, the detail work. You'll see the difference.

This is a busy time of the year for Girl Scouts as it is just about "Cookie-Time" again. The Cookie Chairman, Mrs. Johnny Head, met with the Troop leaders in the home of Mrs. Lewis Hudson last Thursday afternoon to discuss the Cookie Sale plans for this year. The Cookie Sale is to start Friday, February 19. Coffee and Girl Scout Cookies were served, and they were as delicious as ever.

Thursday night, February 4, the Girl Scout Association met for business and installation of officers. However, due to the cold weather and illness, there were only seven members present. It was decided that a new heater was needed very badly and authority was given to Mrs. Raymond Summy and Mrs. Lewis Hudson to purchase the heater as soon as possible. We are happy to report that the heater is now installed. Many thanks for this prompt action, Mrs. Summy and Mrs. Hudson.

PARENT PROBLEMS

Youth Learns At Home But Fails In Classroom

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

MANY a mother has written of the child who spells all his words or does all his sums well at home but fails miserably on them at school.

From a Colorado mother: "My son, nine, is in the 4th grade. I have his eyesight checked and yet he reads poorly to the extent of 'the' for 'a,' 'from' for 'for' and transplants a word for a line above or below the line which he is reading.

Does Well At Home

"At home he knows his spelling 100%, at school he'll miss 18 out of 25. His handwriting resembles 'crows feet' more than script. At home he will do his arithmetic perfectly; at school he fails to borrow for subtraction, carry in addition and other simple basic problems. Apparently he cannot pay attention around other children."

My reply, in part: "Many children stumble over easy words and get them mixed up. It is a pretty sure sign they have not learned to read for meaning but are just pronouncing words."

Read With Him

Read his home assignments with him. Have him run a card under the line he is reading. Find some interesting reading material for him with much easier words than his school books.

When you pronounce his spelling words, don't pronounce them in the order they are on the list. He might be learning them just in the order they are on the list and then, when he has them in school, they are mixed up. Pronounce words slowly and encourage him to write them neatly.

Keep Calm

Most of all, you need to help him feel serene when he is doing his lessons. Try to keep your voice down and be calm. The moment you feel the least bit angry walk away, as you are not fit then to be in his presence.

It might be well to attract a few of his playmates to your home; read to them and have them make things, so that he can get used to working with other children.

"The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate" and my "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic and Handwriting," may be had by sending a self-addressed, U. S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Answering Parents' Questions

Q. My husband and I rarely leave our baby, three, but when we do go out and leave her with a baby sitter, there's a terrible scene I can hardly bear.

A. Having secured a dependable baby sitter your child has grown familiar with, go out more often. When you are nearly ready, announce to the youngster you are going and leave with short ceremony; don't linger or go back.

Scripture—Acts 18:22—20:12.

Paul came to Ephesus, where he found some disciples. "And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading . . . concerning the Kingdom of God."—Acts 19:8.

But when some "were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tryannus."—Acts 19:9.

Enduring Style

HORIZONTAL tucking gives a handsome dress of tobacco brown woolen an unexpected slimming line. The frock has a concealed front fastening with three black buttons at the top to match the black belt. The collar, which buttons in back, is formed by large tabs, both front and back of the neckline. This is the sort of dress one reaches for again and again, after surveying other, perhaps more recent additions to the wardrobe, since it is unobtrusively smart and wearable.

Treat Your Youngsters To Frankfurter Roast

By ALICE DENHOFF
WHEN economy, informality, exceptional flavor and a new recipe get together—well, that's our dish!
Frankfurter Roast with a delicious prune stuffing is what we've been hinting at, and here is the recipe, which serves 6-8. It takes 1 to 1½ dozen frankfurters, depending on size.
Preparing Stuffing
To prepare stuffing, pit and slice 1½ c. cooked prunes. Sauté 2 c. sliced celery and 1 c. chopped onion in ¼ c. butter to wilt but not brown. Combine with 2 tsp. sage, 2½ qts. toasted bread cubes and 2 c. soup stock or bouillon. Season to taste and blend thoroughly. Add prunes, blending lightly.
Line 2 qt. casserole or pan with wax paper. Line sides with frankfurters, placing one on top of another, lengthwise around sides of casserole, cutting some, if necessary, to fit casserole.
Press Against Franks
Press a layer of stuffing firmly against franks to hold them in place.
Bake 1 hr. at 350° F.
Remove from oven and cool slightly. Invert onto serving platter and lift dish or pan carefully to avoid disarranging frankfurter mold.
Carve crosswise to serve. You'll find that youngsters regard this as a regular party

Want to catch big bass the year around?

Want to catch them when other fellows are going home empty-handed?

Here are some tips, relayed to us by experts, that may help you fill out your stringer with whoppers.

The average black bass fisherman gets his greatest thrill out of snagging a big black on a topwater lure.

Chances are he's going to catch some good bass on those surface plugs, all right. However, it will be mostly luck, rather than skill, unless he has some kind of study of the bass and its feeding habits.

Fact of the business is, the black bass prefers deep water, and he would stay there all the time, except for two things.

One is that the bass must follow the minnows, small bream, shad and other food he eats. When the water temperature gets uncomfortable for these little fish down deep, they come to the top—so do the bass, naturally, in their search for food.

Also in relation to food, the bass will come to the surface when there is a chance for him to catch baby birds that fall out of nests, insects on top of the water, frogs, mice, and whatever else is available that suits his fancy.

Otherwise, the largemouth will seek shallow water, six to ten feet deep, only in spawning season, which might last for several weeks in the spring.

Now we've accounted for maybe five per cent of the time when the big bass are within 10 feet of the surface. The rest of the time they're deeper, and if the fisherman wants to be successful, he's got to get down where they are. How deep?

Depends on the size bass you want. Conditions vary, of course, but as a general rule, you might say that in a suitable hole, there will be a school of small ones maybe 15 feet down. At 20 feet, there should be a school of 1½ and 2 pounders. Go down to 25 feet and you'll find the three-pound fish. The lunkers are there—at 30 to 40 feet.

If a bass could select his own habitat, he would look for a place along a ledge, where the water drops off to 40 feet, and where there are tall weeds growing all the way to the bottom. He has a place to come up and feed along the bank where the minnows are, but where the minnows are, but deep down, in his green weedy home.

So he's 30 feet down, and you're fishing with surface lures, and you get nothing.

You change to a "deep diving" lure, maybe one that has a spoon bill on the front to make it dig into the water while being retrieved. Well, that lure reaches a depth of 10 or 12 feet for a brief bit of its journey, but at no time does it get anywhere close to the big ones.

Okay, so they're deep, are they? You tie on a sinking lure, cast it out and give it time enough to reach the bottom. Then you begin retrieving. And nothing happens. You begin to wonder what's the trouble. You can think of lots of reasons, most likely, but the real one probably is this.

Even when you used that sinking lure, you didn't give it time enough to get really deep. It seemed like a long time, but you were a little impatient. And you thought about losing a lure along the rocky, weedy, brushy bottom, so you started reeling in too fast.

You remember what the experts told you about fishing with surface lures? Cast one over by an old stump and let it sit until all the ripples have disappeared. Then give it a very slight twitch and forget about it for awhile. Work it slow. The same principle applies in deep water, and the experts know it. You must use the right technique.

Toss a good lure—black jig, black eel, spoon with pork chunk, lead-headed plastic worm—into good bass water and leave it alone until you get slack in your line, meaning that the lure is really and truly on the bottom. Now wait a while. If the bass is nearby, he'll be looking at the thing, speculatively or angrily or hungrily.

Give him time to speculate and get madder or hungrier. Give him lots of time. Then imagine the way a shad moves when he's just ambling along the bottom. Move your lure that way—slowly, just a foot or two, and let it rest. If nothing happens, repeat the performance, at long intervals.

Now you're jigging along the bottom. You're fishing for bass,

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Despite the fact that Tuesday, Feb. 2, was the worst day we have had this winter, the sun came out long enough for the ground hog to see his shadow. Monday was a mild, pleasant day. So was Sunday. It had been forecast that fair and a little warmer weather would continue. But Ted Bender confessed Tuesday morning that the weather did not work out as forecast at all. It was cloudy with a cold wind blowing. In the afternoon it got worse and worse till it kicked up a terrible dust storm. Next morning the sun came out, but that cold wind blew all day.

A letter from Mrs. Edna Dwyer Wednesday said they were having cold weather at Victoria. She is hoping for warm days soon so she can get out and work in the yard. She thinks maybe that will keep her from being so lonesome. She had had a letter from Mrs. Effie Egger. Effie mentioned Miss Cora Posey. She says Miss Cora is getting along fine. She has rented a part of her house as an apartment to a young couple, so now she is not alone any more. We are to have our Auld Lang Syne party at Miss Cora's in June, and we are looking forward to it with great pleasure.

Elizabeth Hutchison Ellis of Cresson, daughter of the late Dr. Hutchison, wrote me Christmas that she told her brother, Bob, what a good time we had at the Auld Lang Syne party at the Luther Jernigans last June. So Bob said, "Well, I'm going to be at Miss Cora's next June."

A letter from Mrs. Clara Malone Bean of Van Horn Thursday said she took the flu January 17 and had a ten-day siege of it. She thinks the flu this year is very much like that of 1918.

Clara also said that she had had a letter from her Sister Florence — Mrs. Angus Burn — from her home in Manila written Jan. 15. She and Angus had spent their Christmas holidays at Zamboanga, where they first lived when they were married and went to the Philippines. When they got back to Manila, Florence was very ill. Angus wrote Jan. 22 that she went to the hospital Jan. 18. The doctors removed a large ulcer and part of her stomach. It was a long tedious operation, but a test showed no malignancy. Clara had had no further report.

Mrs. Breeding called me Monday to tell me that Garland really came home from the hospital Sunday. She seemed to be doing fine. We talked to each other again Wednesday. Mrs. Breeding said Garland was not doing so well. She was very weak and she wasn't eating to do any good. That had been her trouble for a long time, but before she left the hospital she was eating well. When we and if you don't catch more by using this method than you ever did any other way, you can sue 98 per cent of the experts who ever expressed an opinion on the subject.

would go to see her she would tell how hungry she would get before she got her breakfast in the morning. I talked to Mrs. Breeding again yesterday (Friday). Garland had been to the doctor for a checkup Thursday. The doctor said she was doing all right.

A card from Mrs. Burt Briley of Brownwood today said it was raining there. I noticed in the Regency News of today's Eagle that Cecil Egger is working on the road with the Bridge Gang. It all sounds good to me. We ought to have a lovely spring, and the new road seems to be coming along.

For beauty and fragrance in the winter time we used to plant bulbs in rocks and water. So the first year we were here in El Paso I planted bulbs in a bowl of rocks and water. I didn't get a bloom. I took the bulbs out and planted them in the bed along the north side of the house. Every fall the bulbs have come up in a clump. Last year they had one bloom stalk. This year the clump had ten bloom stalks. Now they're all in bloom. They're the Golden Yellow Narcissus (the Soleil d'Or). There are enough to bring some into the house. They are a joy to see, and Oh, how fragrant.

CERTIFIED SEED PROGRAM EXPANDS

Expansion of the Texas Certified Seed Program is such that it has prompted the Texas Department of Agriculture to plan a new seed laboratory for East Texas, construction of which will begin in Tyler about March 15.

Texas has now taken the lead from California as the nation's top producing state for certified seeds. Texas acreage dedicated to the production of certified seed is now in the neighborhood of 200,000 acres, while California's certified seed acreage has dropped about 16,000 acres, from 178,296 acres to 161,297 acres.

The Texas Certified Seed Program is a voluntary program. Formers or individuals apply voluntarily for inspection of their acreage and they must meet all of the requirements necessary for the Foundation Registration and Certification Classification.

MRS. VALERIA GRAY AWARDED SERVICE PIN

Mrs. Valeria S. Gray, of Goldthwaite, was one of the employees awarded a five year service pin by the Lone Star Gas Company. Mrs. Gray, a junior clerk, has served in the local office the past five years.

The Texas Department of Agriculture used some 55 inspectors in 1959, who inspected around 200,000 acres of 20 different field crops consisting of 190 different varieties. An average of 2 1/2 inspections was made on each field, and in 1959 the department issued more than 250,000 Foundation and Registered tags and more than 2,000,000 Certified tags.

This service is paid for by those making application for certification, without cost to the taxpayers of the State. In 1959, the department took in a total of $193,485 for services rendered to seed producers and spent $181,781 to provide these services and certifications.

A field upon which application for inspection is made must show evidence of good management. The Texas Department of Agriculture approved inspector must inspect for isolation varietal purity, other crop diseases, weed and noxious weeds. The field must meet high standards for each of these factors. Seed eligible under the Certification Program must pass high laboratory standards for purity, other crop seed, inert matter, weed seed, noxious weed seed, and germination.

cial seed samples from tagged Foundation, Registered and Certified seed for testing by the department's seed laboratories as a further means of checking to see that such seed meets with seed certification standards.

A Message To Christians.

"If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." (II Chronicles).

The great temple of worship to Jehovah had been finished, and the people had come together for a great dedication service. That evening when the great inspiring services were over, the people, glad and happy went their way thanking God for his goodness to David and Solomon and to Israel, his people.

That night after the tired king had retired, God appeared to him saying, "I want you to know that I have heard your prayers and have chosen this place to myself for an house of prayer. But if my people forsake me, I will send hard times upon them. I will not continue to bless them, if they forsake me."

Then God goes on to say in his loving mercy, "If my people which are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their sinful ways; then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land."

When we think of our own land, the United States and the many forces that are striking against it, we wonder what keeps it standing and how much longer will it stand.

Some people seem to think that Communism is the greatest threat to America and our way of life. Certainly we do not want to underestimate the power of Communism. But surely Communism is not the greatest threat to America and our way of life.

I believe that the straying away from God and drifting into sin is the greatest threat to America and to any individual. To prove this we only need to look back into the history of the world to see what sin has done to nations and to individuals.

So I believe this verse holds a message for this nation of ours and for every individual in this country of America. I believe we need to take it as the message for us and apply it on bended knees before God seeking his face and turning from our sinful ways.

I know if every Christian in the United State would do this then God would hear and answer our prayers, and bless our land.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: If my average monthly wage is $200, how much would my three children under age 18, and my wife and I receive if I become disabled?

Answer: If you were age 50, you would receive $84.00 a month and an additional $77.60 would be divided equally among your wife and children. They would each receive $19.40.

Question: I have a cleaning woman who works for me one day a week. I pay her $5 plus her carfare and also provide her lunch. Should I be reporting her wages for social security?

Answer: Yes. If she works for you every week, her cash wages over a three-month period will amount to more than $50. Any household worker who is paid $50 or more in cash wages by one employer during a calendar quarter of the year is covered by social security. The employer is required by law to file a return, reporting the amount of wages paid to the employee, and to pay the social security taxes due on those wages. If you give her cash for her carfare, it counts as part of her cash wages. Car tokens do not count, nor does the lunch you serve her.

Hillside Mission
BY LIDA BYRNE

Sometimes it is more advantageous to refrain from answering an irritating question until we take time to meditate over the matter. The Bible says: "A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger." Proverbs 15:1.

LOOK WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU BUY FROM THE...

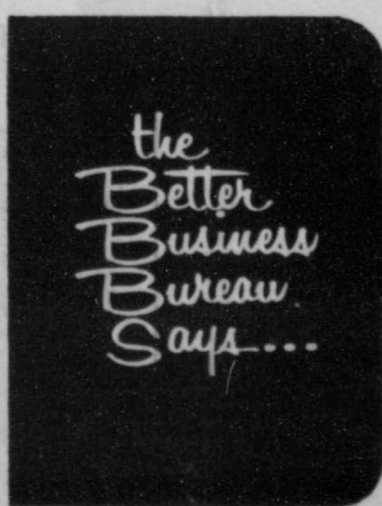

"WHOLESALE" CATALOGUE

You may pay more...

- A wholesale firm is one which sells in quantities to a retailer who intends to re-sell the merchandise to his individual customers.
- The reason the wholesaler can sell at wholesale is because he does sell in quantities — and does not have to deal directly with each individual retail customer.
- A good question to ask then is: How can a wholesaler print and distribute thousands of catalogues to individual consumers, stand the cost of each sales transaction and still sell at "wholesale" prices?

- The answer is: He can't. He is mis-using the word "wholesale."
- By actual comparison, the cost of some merchandise listed in such catalogues is even higher than that charged for comparable items by the retailer.

CAUTION - CHECK THE PRICES IN THE "Wholesale" Catalogue YOU MAY SAVE MONEY!

"There is no such thing as 'Wholesale' prices to the buying public, because..."

...no merchant can stay in business consistently selling merchandise at the same price he pays for it."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas—Here we go again!

It seems as if a segment of Texas history is repeating itself as the state and numerous gas companies go to court to decide the constitutionality of a new gas tax.

Some 80 gas companies have filed suit asking the court to declare invalid the natural gas severance beneficiary tax passed by the Legislature last summer. Six of the suits are set for trial beginning Feb. 15.

They will be tried in the same Austin district court in which the contest over the old gas gathering tax was begun. This tax law was passed by the Legislature in 1951 and eventually declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Gas companies are attacking the new severance beneficiary tax on much the same grounds they did the gathering tax. They contend it is in violation of interstate commerce laws.

Passage of the severance tax came after one of the hardest battles of the stormy six month session. It places a 1.5 per cent levy on the pipelines on the grounds that they benefit from the taking out of the gas.

Revenue-wise, the gas tax represents a rather modest portion of the overall tax program passed in 1959. It was estimated it would bring in about $15,000,000 of an overall $185,000,000.

Short Ballot—In the 12 races for statewide office this year, there will be only 22 candidates.

Six state officials are seeking re-election unopposed.

Some years ago, there were almost as many candidates in the governor's race alone as there are now for all the statewide offices. In those days the filing fee was only $100. Today's price is killing off the competition.

Filing fees today are 5 per cent of annual salary, which runs $1,250 for governor, $1,125 for U. S. senator, $600 for lieutenant governor, etc.

Watch That "Flu"—If you're one of those lucky Texans who hasn't yet been hit by influenza, State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy has advice for you: "Don't take any chances."

In several cities the flu has reached epidemic proportions. Dallas reported the highest flu-caused death toll since the 1918 siege.

Dr. Peavy said flu ordinarily lasts only three to five days but must be taken seriously because of the possibility of complications such as pneumonia.

He advised against self-treatment and urged victims to go to bed and call a doctor at the outset.

P-TA Endorses Session—Some 85 per cent of local P-TA leaders in Texas favor a special session to raise teachers' salaries, according to a report made to Gov. Price Daniel.

Mrs. T. W. Whaley of Kosse, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, told the governor that executive committee members of 563 local P-TA units were polled.

She said 8,155 favored a special session, 847 were undecided and 563 were against it. There were no suggestions as to how to pay the bill.

Governor Daniel has held off calling a special session pending the development of enough public and legislative support to carry it through to success.

Poll Tax Assailed—Next Texas Legislature may be called upon to vote on whether the U. S. Constitution should be amended to outlaw the poll tax.

U. S. Senate has voted out a proposed amendment to void the tax. It goes next to the House, which has passed such a measure five times before.

If the House passes it, it will then have to be ratified within seven years by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

Texas is one of five states which still have a poll tax. Others are Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas.

License Plates On Sale—Texas drivers have from now until midnight, April 1, to get new license plates for their cars.

State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer predicts that nearly 5,000,000 cars will be registered this year. This adds up to some long lines April 1 unless a lot of people buy early.

Greer emphasized the importance of each vehicle owner's registering his car or truck in his home county. When he goes to register, each owner should take his certificate of title and last year registration

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

Probably no more flagrant example of the bureaucratic trend to use Madison Avenue agency to get headlines in the hopes of getting bigger Congressional appropriations exists than in the recent activity of the Federal Trade Commission.

With a "hey nonny nonny and a hoopla" FTC is making headlines on the subject of radio disc jockeys getting what is called "payola" from record companies, yet brushes aside

C. W. Harder the fact that in state of Washington, dairy monopolists are waging a price war to drive out independent dairies.

Actually, whether or not disc jockeys on radio stations get paid to push certain records is of little importance. The custom started years ago when sheet music publishers extended favors to band leaders to push jazz tunes.

And as a matter of fact, who cares, or who can tell the difference between one "rock n' roll" tune and the next one.

But it is making headlines for FTC. But in the Spokane, Washington milk war, there are powerful, heavily financed interests involved in these predatory attacks on free enterprise, and it is possible that the FTC doesn't want to tangle with them. Besides FTC wouldn't make much in the way of national headlines preventing five local independent dairies in Spokane who between them only do 10% of the business from being ruined. But these independents are a force which prevents consumers being gouged by fixed high prices.

It is interesting to note that one of the biggest dairy combines West of the Mississippi is actively engaged in this war on the independents, offering milk to the big super markets at 61 cents per gallon, less a 5% rebate, which is below the cost of manufacturing.

The major operator among the predators has a long history of ruthless competition. As a California based concern, it has long taken advantage of price setting schedules existing in that state to buy out for exclusive distribution of their products entire grocery chains.

Obviously, profits from other states are going into the war chest but once independents are driven out, new high prices to consumers pay the war costs.

FTC has passed the buck by saying it is their understanding Justice Department contemplates looking into the matter. In the meantime, independent operators suffer.

But make no mistake about all this. While FTC blithely turns its back on the preservation of free enterprise in the market place, it is laboring hard and long to make sure there is no "cumshaw" connected with the raucous "rock n' roll" records that assail the public ears when radios are turned on. Who should care about the fate of independent dairies when FTC is busy milking an inconsequential baloney issue for all the headlines possible. This is even more absurd than the situation that would result if a police officer stopped his pursuit of a red-handed murderer to write out a tag for a car parked overtime.

City-County Study—Texas Commission on City and County Government plans to send a questionnaire to city and county officials and other interested persons on the possibility of combining some city and county functions.

Aim, according to the Commission, would not be to combine city and county governments, but to find ways to economize by eliminating duplicating services.

Seventeen Texas counties, it was pointed out, have 55 per cent of the state's population. It is in these areas that city and county problems tend to overlap.

Price Fixing Charged—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has charged a Wisconsin manufacturer of drafting equipment with fixing the prices of goods sold to the state.

Suit was filed in an Austin district court against the Hamilton Manufacturing Co. of Two Rivers, Wisconsin.

Wilson contends the company, through "suggestions" to its distributors, set the prices on more than 200 different items totaling $100,000.00
