Coons' Lose Out Hunting Trio

Who would wonder what happens to the pecan crop when you see the coons appearing from the trees? The hunting trio went out some night with a flashlight and inspected your yard and you may find the answer. Odell Hopper who had a most successful hunting trip Sunday.

All started as the trio went to Hopper's ranch on the creek for a jack rabbit. Two of them got out of the pickup and started up the trees while the third drove the truck to certain location.

They enjoyed jack rabbit hunting until they came to two pecan trees, and their sport ended and perked up, so to speak.

Fifteen Acre Exemption No Longer In Effect

The 15-acre marketing quota exemption for wheat production is no longer in effect. E. L. Burkett, Chairman, Mills County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, underscored this statement this week.

"Many farmers still ask us about this at the ASCS office," Chairman Burkett said, "and I want to emphasize this change in the law."

Under the 1962 wheat stabilization program, there is no exemption for a farm which has no 1962 wheat allotment and which did not have wheat for harvest in any one of the 3 years 1959, 1960, and 1961. On such a farm, the entire harvested wheat acreage would be subject to marketing quota penalty, Chairman Burkett said. Under previous programs, farms that produced no more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest were not subject to marketing quotas even though they had allotments of less than 15 acres.

For 1962, the marketing quota exemption for a farm is the smaller of: (1) 13.5 acres, or (2) the highest acreage the farm had for harvest in the 3 year period 1959, 1960, and 1961. The marketing quota exemption is not an allotment. If the acreage harvested is within the farm allotment, all of the wheat produced on the farm may be marketed free of the marketing quota penalty. If, however, the wheat acreage on the farm exceeds the allotment or the exemption, whichever is higher, the penalty will be computed on the acreage in excess of the allotment.

J. D. Benningfield was the lucky guy and was awarded the 20 gauge automatic shotgun by the Quarterback Club after the football game last Friday night.

H. G. Brooks and J. Y. Tullos are the first two candidates to announce for office in the forthcoming primary election in May 1962.

Brooks and Tullos this week authorized the Eagle to announce their candidacies for the offices of county commissioner, precinct four, and justice of the peace, respectively, subject to the Democratic primary election.

Brooks is serving his first four year term as commissioner of precinct four and is seeking re-election to that office.

He is asking the support of voters in the precinct on his record of carrying out the duties of the office. He stated he appreciates the cooperation and help extended to him by citizens as he has tried to serve their interests in his precinct and worked with other commissioners of the county. He said the precinct is in good and sound financial condition and it is on the past performance that he is asking voters' support.

Mr. Tullos formerly served as county commissioner for a number of years before being elected to the office of justice of the peace.

He issued the following statement:

"To the people of precinct 1 and of Mills County:

"I am announcing my candidacy for Justice of the Peace again. I will appreciate your vote and influence. I am sure I have made mistakes in judgment but I have done my best to be fair to all who have had business with my office, regardless if they lived here or elsewhere. I am serving my second term as Justice of the Peace and have no ill feelings toward anyone. I appreciate your support and friendship through the years and hope it will always be that way as long as I live. Sincerely your friend."—J. Y. Tullos.

HEADS LEGION POST—S. E. Thornton was elected Commander of Harry F. Edmondson Post, American Legion, Goldthwaite, at their annual election of officers.

Other officers elected to serve with Thornton are: Roddy Duren, Adjutant; Truett Auldridge, 1st vice-commander; Bruce Archer, 2nd vice-commander; Harry Oglesby, historian; M. Y. Stokes, Jr., chaplain and L. B. Porter, service officer.

THE LIGHTER SIDE—"I don't feel good, mama," said the little boy.
"I'm sorry. Where do you feel worst, dear?"
"In school, mama."

FROM THE MAIL BAG—"I am indebted to you for a copy of your paper in which was published my inquiry for the address of either of the Misses Cobb, Ruby or Stella.

"You will be interested to know that a reader of your paper telephoned us from Arlington last Saturday to give the name of a person in Brady, Texas, who could supply the addresses desired. Through those two sources, we have now determined that Miss Ruby Cobb is Mrs. Jesse Andes of San Antonio, and Miss Stella Cobb is Mrs. W. S. Leslie of San Angelo, Texas.

"Thank you again for your courtesy. Yours very truly,"—E. S. Key, 3416 Yucca Street, Fort Worth, Texas.

Ruby Cobb (Mrs. Jesse) Andes, 221 Cliff Avenue, San Antonio, writes as follows:

"We want to say thank you to you and others who had a part in helping the Andes and Key families get in touch with each other again.

"It is always a pleasure to renew acquaintances and learn the whereabouts of former friends and classmates.

"Again, our sincere thanks and appreciation."

APPRECIATION—"We of the Mills County Farm Bureau, would like to take this means of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation for your assistance and cooperation during the past year.

"May we continue working together for the betterment of our community. Sincerely,"—W. G. Bishop, president, Mills County Farm Bureau.

From Odessa, Texas, Mrs. Kyle Green sent this note: "Enclosed is check for renewal of our subscription to the Eagle for another year.

"I was indeed happy to see the Star News in print again after an absence of several weeks.

"I enjoy all the community news but the Star news is my favorite, as that is my old home."

MAKING A LOAN—The man strode into the bank and asked to borrow $25,000.00.

"We'll be glad to oblige you," said the president of the bank. "Can you give us a statement?"

"A statement?" said the borrower. "Certainly—I'm optimistic."

ONLY ONE GRAND CHAMPION—There can be only one grand champion, and some have to come in second place, or less. That's the way the ball rolls.

In 1960 Mills County took top honors when Linda Cook exhibited the grand champion steer of the Junior Show at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas.

This year our club members didn't come away from the fair with the top honor, but they made a good showing and brought home some encouraging awards.

Now they are making plans for some of the other major shows of the state and also the Mills County stock show, which is scheduled in January.

Mills County 4-H and FFA Club members have exhibited many champions at the Junior Livestock Shows of the state in the past 16 to 15 years. Boys and girls have carried on these projects, and their supervisors and leaders, as well as their parents, are to be congratulated for the record they have established.

USDA Reinstates Curb On Added
Moisture In Hams-Pork Products

Standards for federally inspected smoked hams that were in effect prior to December 30, 1960, have been reinstated, the USDA announced recently.

These standards require that smoked hams and certain other smoked products shall not weigh more when sold at retail than their uncured weight. This means there can be no added moisture in smoked pork products marketed as hams under federal inspection.

The order for reinstatement of the former regulations appeared in the Federal Register on October 18. Meat packers have a period of 30 days to adjust their operations to meet the new requirement. This action was taken in order to provide increased consumer protection.

USDA officials also announced that other measures will be taken to make meat inspection more effective and to help consumers take advantage of this protective service. Plans include a stepped-up education program, which will provide consumers with more information about meat inspection and meat processing.

In addition, the USDA is considering legislation that would broaden the coverage of federal meat inspection. The Meat Inspection Act of 1906 provides for USDA authority over establishments where meat and products are processed for interstate shipment. Additional legislation would require animals moved from one state to another and meat from the animals, to be processed under federal meat inspection.

In the interest of uniform standards for state and federal inspection of meats sold to consumers in all parts of the country, USDA is consulting with meat inspection officials in various states on inspection requirements and enforcement procedures.

and is to give possession of the premises on November 15. Mr. Littlepage is a brother-in-law of H. D. Gardner of Shaw Bend and will be a valuable citizen.

Louis F. Stroh, who was a volunteer soldier in the United States Army in the Philippines and was injured so badly that he was forced to retire from the service has been here this week bidding his friends good bye preparatory to leaving for Leavenworth, Kansas, where he will enter the soldier's home.

J. C. Peck, of Big Valley, one of the nicest old gentlemen we know, was in town this week.

Mrs. I. W. Arnold of Beeville arrived on Tuesday night's train to spend a few days with her mother, Mrs. Martin in Mullin and her sister, Mrs. J. J. Cox in this city.

Duren News

Those of you that missed the Fifth Sunday Meeting and Sunday School Rally at the Duren church house Sunday certainly missed a great blessing. Most of the churches from the district and some out of the district were present with a program from their church. The house was full and just loads of dinner and everyone seemed to have a wonderful time. Brother W. R. Ross brought a wonderful message at 11 o'clock and in the afternoon we had a good spiritual program. Also Saturday night was our singing night with a large crowd and some of the best singing I think we have had at Duren. Our singing will be each 4th Saturday night, so mark your calendar and you be present next time. We miss you very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Tobe Cox from Penwell and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Hicks from Odessa spent the weekend with their sister and family, Mrs. August Wasserman. They also visited Mrs. Hicks' and Mrs. Cox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warren, at Brownwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Smith and son, Mark, visited his parents over the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Green and children visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Green at Goldthwaite Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Daniel and granddaughter, Donna Cox, and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Brown attended the Congregational Methodist Church at Brownwood Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Pruitt visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Duren, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Daniel and children from Fort Worth visited Mrs. W. C. Cox and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Daniel Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Duren visited in the Ralph Duren home Saturday.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the loved ones of Mr. Bill Baskin; also to all of you that have sorrow, may the Lord richly bless you.

Netting Result Show Redfish, Croakers Doing Well In Pecos

The redfish and croaker planted in the Imperial Reservoir on the Pecos River on the Texas Gulf Coast, have shown repeated growth, according to a report of T. D. Carroll, coordinator of information and education of the Game and Fish Commission.

Early this month, in a netting sample, 19 redfish were caught that weighed in excess of 7 pounds each. They were 28 1/4 inches long.

Also in the nets with the 19 reds, was a 19 inch flounder, weighing 4 pounds 3 ounces, and 5 golden croakers weighing 3/4 pound each.

In April, 1960, 500 redfish, 25 flounder, 50 speckled trout, and 500 golden croaker fingerlings were released in the reservoir near Imperial, in far west Texas. This is a part of the experiment being carried on by the aquatic biologists of the Game and Fish Commission, to introduce the coastal fish into the Pecos River, which has an extremely high chloride content. The netting sample was made by biologists of the Commission, to study the progress of the fish. It is not known as yet if any of the species will be able to reproduce in this water.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

This is Saturday. I don't know how it is in the rest of the county this evening, but in El Paso we are having a terrible dust storm. Usually after one of El Paso's bad dust storms the next day will be pretty. I hope it will be that way tomorrow.

But it is not all dust storms out here by any means. We have been having lovely days. And now the chrysanthemums bloom. Bronze and white and yellow and pink and lavender.

This is the time of year when nearby Cloudcroft revels in the beauty of autumn, and El Pasoans turn a longing eye that way. We went last Sunday. Got to Alamogordo in time for church. Met our friends, Bernice and Warren Clendenen and their boys, there. Bernice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert White of San Angelo. The Whites used to be Ebonyites. The Clendenens went with us. We spread our dinner at the foot of one of Cloudcroft's beautiful mountains where the tall, slim trees of fir and spruce and pine seems to pierce the sky. We were a week too late to see the beauty of the aspens. Most of their leaves had fallen, but in a few places their golden beauty still mingled with the other colors of the autumn. Just to see the forests is recompense enough for me.

Warren took us to the Burgett Nursery not far from Cloudcroft. It is immense, and the flowers were gorgeous. We bought some special chrysanthemum plants.

Recently we had a letter from Carol Jean from Sao Paulo, Brazil. She said they were very happy in their new country. It is spring there now, but she says there really isn't much difference in the seasons there. The weather is seemingly very pleasant all year 'round. They will have a rainy season which may begin the last of this month. The city really needs rain right now, she says. The water supply is getting low. Their house was without water nearly all last week. The maid had to take their wash to a nearby stream. It is so nice to have a shiny, clean house most of the time and to have a babysitter when she needs one.

She says they have nearly all the comforts that they had in Texas, and a few more besides. They have a TV set and see many U. S. programs. They eat about the same type of food, except more steak since it is cheaper there. "Of course," she says, "our main problem right now is trying to master this new language. All our group are studying privately and in classes. The men expect to be able to deliver a full length sermon by the first of January."

"Danny (one in July)," she says, "is into everything and thinks he is as big as Larry much to Larry's distress. Right now Larry is watching his Daddy paint and is singing Happy Birthday in Portuguese. He is really picking up the language quickly."

We had a short letter from Edna Beth just a few days ago. She and her husband, Harold Everett, and their three little girls had to leave their home at Abilene and move to Texarkana. She loves the trees. Edna Beth said her Mother and Daddy might come from Victoria this weekend. She is anxious for them to see that country.

By MRS. JOHNNIE HOLLAND

Funeral services were conducted from the First Baptist Church in Mullin last Monday afternoon at two o'clock for Mr. W. H. Baskin, Rev. E. E. Epps officiating, assisted by Rev. George Henry.

Mr. Baskin passed away last Friday night in a Brownwood hospital. Mr. Baskin spent the early part of his life in the Prairie community near Mullin. He had lived away from Mullin a number of years, but returned here about a year and a half ago to make his home when he and Mrs. Jewell Ivy were married. He was a highly respected citizen; he loved his church and his fellowman. He was especially interested in young people. He had been a Sunday School Superintendent in his church for a number of years, and he just recently retired from this work due to ill health. We extend our sympathy to his loved ones in their loss.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Collier were: Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Collier and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cooper and Mrs. Victor Kelley of Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ellis and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Collier of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Johnston of Galveston, and Johnnie Johnston of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Locke of Tyler, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Spinks and Richard of Mullin.

Little Miss Teresa Gavin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Gavin of Midland, is here this week visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Calder and family.

M. S. Savoy of Fort Worth was a weekend visitor here with his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Savoy.

Bobby, Ann and Sandra McCormick and Mrs. Katie Pyburn all of Fort Worth were weekend visitors here with Mrs. Vesta McCormick.

We lost our football game to Gustine last Thursday night. It was a good game, and a very large crowd attended. Our next game will be with Star at Star.

Thank you, Texas Newspapers!

For 20 years, Texas newspapers have been giving the government free space in which to advertise U. S. Savings Bonds.

You've seen the ads: you save more than money with U. S. Savings Bonds. Those ads have sold an impressive number of bonds in Texas, bonds that have helped, and are helping, your government defend freedom at a precarious moment in history, when freedom is in desperate need of defending.

When you buy these bonds you serve well the cause of liberty. You enable your country to build up her own defenses without doing damage to her economy. You insure the future for this and succeeding generations.

The space occupied by the ads that sold those bonds was donated to your government — and that means to you — by the newspapers of Texas.

We thought you'd like to know.

"The public-spirited newspapers of Texas have made an important contribution to the well-being of this country," says Ed Gossett, Co-Chairman of the Texas State Savings Bond Committee.

"We are happy to salute the generous newspapers of this State. They have done their part, and more, in giving the public an understanding of the importance of Savings Bonds — to individual buyers, and to the cause of freedom. And they have certainly made this Committee's job easier."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEXAS — Aware of the fact that more money soon may be available for trunk-highway construction, 15 delegations of civic leaders descended on Austin.

They asked the Texas Highway Commission for a record number of dollars for highway work. Specifically, $171,056,000.

Houston and Harris County, presenting a plan of freeway development designed to carry Houston's traffic in 1980, asked for approval of an $89,400,000 program. That was the big one. But all of the 14 other projects were equally as pressing to the homefolks, even though less money was involved.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer feels that 22,000 of the 25,000 miles in the trunk-highway system are inadequate. He says that less attention has been paid to these "town-to-city" roads during the years in which urban freeways and farm-to-market roads have taken top priority.

Gov. Price Daniel brought the issue of highway financing to a head when he vetoed the $15,000,000 Colson-Briscoe farm-to-market road appropriation. Legislators had appropriated it for the year starting next September 1.

Governor Daniel will ask the Legislature, at its special session this winter, to cut down on farm-to-market road construction, and step up the money available for trunk-highway work.

Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association has endorsed the change.

Governor Daniel will go in person to the Texas Farm Bureau convention in Galveston November 12-15 to try to get that powerful rural group to accept the plan.

BUSINESS COMING BACK

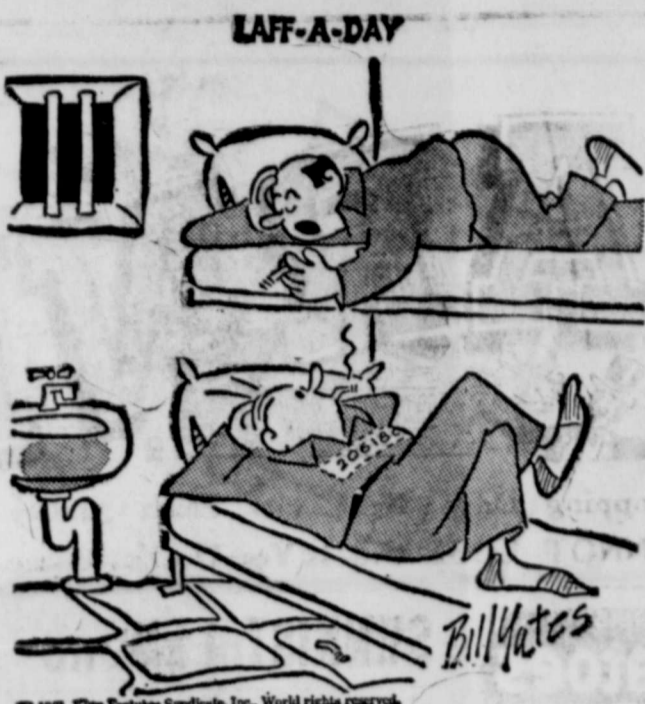

A steady growth in Texas retail trade in 1961 is reported by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas.

Despite a Gulf Coast slowdown in September, due to Hurricane Carla, retail sales for the first nine months of 1961 pulled to within one per cent of the sales for the same period of 1960. First six months of 1961 were three per cent behind 1960.

September sales were off, largely because people bought heavily in August to avoid the sales tax. But the nine-month figures indicate to the Bureau's economists that things are looking better.

A big gain in construction in 1961 has helped the business picture. Not even Carla's September blow could head off a new nine-month record in the construction field in Texas. The UT Bureau found $1,047,825,000 in construction authorized the first nine months of 1961, five per cent above 1960's first three quarters.

Recovery of the home building business was the major factor. Third quarter saw $169,127,000 worth of one-family homes authorized. This was 23 per cent above the same quarter of 1960. Apartment construction is nearly double the rate of the previous year.

MORE TAXES?

James W. McGrew, research director of the Texas Research League, told the group's annual meeting that additional state spending of about $50,000,000 a year is in sight for the two years starting Sept. 1, 1963.

New sales tax will provide part of the money, McGrew predicted. Other taxes will just about produce the extra money. But it will require some economizing to make ends meet in the 1963 session of the Legislature, in spite of the huge new tax.

Growth of Texas is the reason for the added spending. Growth means more children, more schools, more patients in mental hospitals, more college students, more cars and more highways to hold them.

Railroad Commissioner Ben Ramsey, main speaker at the League's luncheon, said Texans should be commended for their willingness to accept the added tax burdens need to finance education and other essential services.

Ramsey provided some startling figures. While he was lieutenant governor, presiding over the Texas Senate, state spending increased nearly two and a half times, from $20,000,000 to $1,200,000,000 a year from 1950 to 1961.

In defense of the Legislature, he said it wasn't "free spending." Spending was necessary for essential programs like education, highways, welfare, hospitals and the like, Ramsey explained.

Rep. Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe has some tax cutting in mind. In a letter to Governor Daniel he proposed that the State ad valorem tax be abolished, and the sales tax revenue be used to make up the gap.

So far, sales tax revenues have only begun to trickle in to the State Treasury. So the state's main checking account is still $86,850,569 in the red. If good business conditions continue and income is up, it will still be more than a year before the deficit is erased.

CATTLE RULES

New rules invoked by the Texas Animal Health Commission are designed to protect areas where brucellosis control programs are underway.

Under the new brucellosis control law, 78 counties, mainly in West and South Texas, have set up programs for testing herds. Purpose is to see if they have brucellosis, and to dispose of cows having the disease.

So the commission has notified truckers, livestock auctions and commission merchants that movements of cows into the certified areas is restricted. They must have been tested and shown free of brucellosis before they can be moved from Restrictions do not apply to steers, spayed heifers, calves under eight months of age, and calves under 30 months which have been officially vaccinated against brucellosis.

TEXAS MONUMENT

A delegation of Texans headed by Governor Daniel will journey to Vicksburg, Mississippi, on November 4, to dedicate a $100,000 monument to 35 Texans who played heroic roles in the defense of Vicksburg.

Ceremony will be a part of the Texas Civil War Centennial observance.

Monument was authorized by the voters of Texas in the 1953 constitutional amendment which switched revenue from the Confederate pension tax to a state building program.

Movement to build such a monument was started by Confederate veterans and was carried on for more than 50 years by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

TB CAMPAIGN

Story of how one county has just whipped tuberculosis was told at the Texas Tuberculosis Association meeting.

Bell County set up a chest clinic in 1954. Persons who had contacts with known TB patients were asked to come in for free check-ups. But if they did not come, warrants were issued to bring them in.

After 3,162 clinic visits, the program has located 64 new cases of TB over the years. But it has worked so well at checking spread of the disease that last year only one case was found when tuberculin tests were given extensively.

Dr. Howard Smith, head of the TB division of the State Health Department, said it took a lot of hard work by Bell County people, but it has paid off.

LOAN STUDY

A committee of the Texas Legislative Council went to work with its staff to bring study on loans and lenders to date.

Acting Lieut. Gov. Bruce Bryan named Rep. Criss Colson of Houston to head the committee. He was author of the constitutional amendment which gave the Legislature power to allow interest rates to exceed 10 per cent.

Other members of the study committee are Sen. Nevel Colson of Navasota, Sen. Preston Smith of Lubbock, Rep. Cannon of Mexia and Rep. Murray Watson of Mart.

Governor Daniel asked the study so he can have ready as the number one topic when he calls the Legislature into special session.

Richard D. Collier of Midland is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Collier.

NOVEMBER GRATITUDE FOR PLENTIFUL FOODS

Grateful hearts have just reason to give thanks for the abundance of American agriculture this November, as throughout the year, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Huge supplies of any number of tasty, nutritious food items are available. What's more, at least 10 important foods are in supply that exceeds normal demand. They're called Plentiful Foods by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Capt. Pat Obenhaus Liaison Officer For Air Force Academy

Captain Pat Obenhaus, U. S. Air Force Reserve, has been appointed Liaison Officer for the U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

In this capacity Captain Obenhaus will be available to counsel with individual young men concerning admittance to the Academy, and to appear before civic and school groups in Mills County.

Young men between the ages of 17 and 21 who are interested in a career as an officer in the Air Force are urged to write to Captain Obenhaus at P. O. Box 3960, Killeen Base, Texas, or call Killeen Base, extension 4264.

berries—head the list of November plentifuls, in Texas. Turkey marketings this month will be about 25 per cent more than a year ago, and the 1961 cranberry crop is estimated at 15 per cent above average.

Eight other highly menuable foods also will be plentiful all month. They are apples, potatoes, cabbage, pecans, almonds, pork, vegetable fats and oils, and dry beans, the Service advised.

Careful menu planners can take advantage of this abundance by serving these items often. Producers and the food industry often conduct special promotion activities on plentiful foods, in efforts to give consumers the advantage in price and quality, the Service said.

Horsehead Crossing On Pecos

Horsehead Crossing is located south of Crane, Texas, in the far western part of the state.

An historical marker pays tribute to this important early day crossing and tells of how it was used.

It reads: "Well known to frontiersmen and used by emigrants for several years preceding, this crossing was an important point on the Southern Overland Mail (Butterfield Route) which linked St. Louis and San Francisco with a semi-weekly mail and stage service, 1858-1861."

It is hard for us today, with our massive freeways and immense bridges, to visualize the importance of these old crossings. They, and the routes that crossed them, were the food from which this nation grew.

First Ice In Texas

Ten cents per pound was the cost of ice in Texas in 1875. That's the year the first ice plant was established in Texas.

Site of this first ice plant is on the present Marlon County Court House grounds in Jefferson, Texas, in the North East part of the state.

Later, this ice plant was moved to Harrisburg. Had ice plants flourished more rapidly in Texas, who knows, we might be larger than Alaska today.

How Corsicana Got Its Name

Corsicana, Texas, in Navarro County, was named by the man for whom the county was named—Jose Antonio Navarro. Navarro named the town after the Isle of his father's birth—Corsica, off the coast of Italy.

Much could be written about Navarro, but a monument in Corsicana listing some of his positions will give you an idea of just how great he must have been.

This monument says, "Jose Antonio Navarro, lover of liberty, foe of despotism, born in San Antonio, Texas, February 27, 1795 . . . died January 13, 1871 and buried there . . . member of the Legislature of Coahuila and Texas 1821 . . . Land Commissioner of De Witt's Colony 1831 and of Bexar District 1834-1835 . . . member of the Congress of the Republic of Texas 1836-1839, a commissioner of the Santa Fe Expedition 1841 . . . Member of the Constitutional Convention of 1845. Senator of the Legislature of Texas 1846-1849."

Treasure Hunters Beware

Jean LaFitte, the Creole Buccaneer, spent many wild years in free-booting on the Gulf Coast of Texas. That area abounds with legends of his many chests of gold and gems buried in the sands.

LaFitte knew the Texas Gulf Coast well, including the reefs, bays, inlets and sands. It was his knowledge that helped him escape the gunboats and continue his pirating.

It is said that the Ghost of Pirate Jean LaFitte still walks the sands to protect his buried treasures—so let treasure hunters beware.

It's hard to believe all the stories of the fabulous buried treasure but there's a treasure in pleasure to be had on the Gulf by all.

Make your next vacation a "Gulf Holiday" and enjoy fishing, swimming, boating, or just relaxing in the year 'round vacation climate.

Treasure hunting, or just playing, on the fine sand Padre Island is fun too. You may be the discoverer that at least one treasure story isn't fable.

No Freeway Travelers

One of the briefest markers in this state is at Kum, Texas in Lavaca County. This Central South Texas monument reads: "In memory of the Trall Drivers of South Texas who passed this 1867-1887."

Those early Texas travelers were a vital link in line of this early country.

If you're looking for sensibility at its Sunday best—drop in at your Chevrolet dealer's and join the celebration. It's Chevrolet's golden anniversary year, and this new Chevy II is making it a year to remember. Here's Body by Fisher comfort that makes many a full-size car wonder how it's done—room for six solid citizens, bag and baggage, in all sedans and two-seat wagons. A Moment With The Bible

"And thinkest thou this man, that judgeth them which do such things, and escapeth the judgment of God?" (Rom. 2:3).

How easy it is for most of us to see sin in other people's lives and realize that they are lost! Yet so many of us do the same things without giving a thought to our eternal welfare! Do you suppose God will ignore us? Wake up, God's goodness lead you to repentance.

BROKEN BOTTLES; "TRIPLE THREAT" ON OUR HIGHWAYS
A triple threat on the football field is fine, but a triple threat on the highway spells trouble. Broken bottles are the "triple threat" of our highways. They are accident hazards to traffic; they injure people who step on them; they start costly and dangerous roadside grass fires. The dangers of the triple threat increase during the football season. The Texas Highway Department asks Texas travelers to dispose of bottles in proper containers. Help keep the "triple threat" on the gridiron—not on the highway.

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Stop the "triple threat" this fall — not on the football field, but on the highway.

The broken bottle on Texas highways and roadsides is the dangerous "triple threat" of our highways, according to State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer. This triple hazard grows worse during the football season, due to thoughtless acts by high-spirited travelers.

These are the triple threats of broken bottles:

—They slash automobile tires, may cause a blowout and an accident

—They injure people who step on them

—They start grass fires by means of the sun's concentrated rays

Thrown carelessly from open car windows, bottles smash on the pavement or on roadside shoulders, posing a lethal hazard to highway traffic—especially on busy football weekends.

The safety rest areas along Texas highways (Roadside Parks) also come under the danger of the triple threat. A traveler stopping in a rest area may learn of this threat the hard way when he, his wife, or their child steps on the broken glass.

Bottles are the cause of destructive grass fires. The sun's hot rays are concentrated by the glass to an intense heat that sparks fires along the roadsides, threatening property and jeopardizing the safe passage of highway traffic.

The cost of the triple threat in human lives and property damage is compounded by the cost of tax dollars needed to keep bottles cleaned from highways and roadsides, where they present not only a safety hazard but also an unsightly litter problem. To Texas Highway Department maintenance crews, bottles are the worst offenders among highway litter. They must be picked up by hand since no machine can do the job and they pose an injury danger to the men who pick them up.

The Highway Department urges motorists to take advantage of the disposal facilities offered for public use at the more than 1,000 Roadside Parks in the State: stow those bottles, don't throw them.

This fall, please help keep the "triple threat" on the gridiron—not on the highway.

Marketing Orders Recommended For Turkeys And Turkey Hatching Eggs

First national marketing order for an agricultural commodity was recommended by the National Turkey Advisory Committee when it decided to draft proposed marketing orders for turkeys and turkey hatching eggs to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman for review.

The Secretary can issue marketing orders only after public hearings, approval of a workable plan for market stabilization, and approval by a two-thirds majority of producers voting in referendum.

The Advisory Committee, appointed by the Secretary at the request of the turkey industry, met in Washington, D. C., October 12-13 and October 19-20, to study possible self-help plans to enable the industry to manage supplies, stabilize markets, and maintain prices fair to producers and consumers.

Included in drafts of the proposed marketing orders for turkeys and turkey hatching eggs are provisions for market research and development, regulation of grade, size and quality at the handler level, prohibitions on unfair trade practices, and effective supply management.

Technical drafting of the proposed orders is being done by USDA, at the request of the Committee, along guide lines established and approved by the Committee.

General supply management provisions for turkey hatching eggs would be on the basis of allocations and allotments, prorating quantity among handlers, to effect orderly marketing conditions.

General supply management provisions for volume regulation on turkeys would apply primarily to percentage set-

Next time you have a yen for some sporty varmint shooting, consider a nutria hunt.

There are plenty of nutria in the counties along and adjacent to the upper Texas coast. And when the landowners learn the identity of your target, they'll welcome you with open arms.

These huge, beaver-like rodents, imported into this country back in the 1930's, are making life miserable for the farmers.

Once considered a beneficial rodent, population explosions have made the 15 to 35 pound rodents pests. Most landowners — particularly those owning marshes, timberlands, rice and sugarcane crops — gladly will grant you access to their property for nutria plinking.

Your choice of weapons of course will be dictated by the area where you hunt and the proximity of livestock. Generally speaking most nutria plinking is done with .22 caliber weapons. Although in some places, landowners will insist that you use a shotgun instead of a rifle or pistol.

A shotgun might not sound sporting enough until you've delved into the action. Then you'll revise your thinking. A nutria bounding across the ground is much like a rabbit — although not quite as fast. Swimming in the water, they offer difficult "hide and seek" targets by popping their heads to the surface for just a second or two for air.

In marsh country you can get some dandy shooting with a .22 rifle mounted with a scope. For clean kills be sure to use hollow point bullets — long rifles or .22 magnums. Your point of aim should be the chest region of the rodent. Head shots are okay if you'll keep in mind that the rodent's fur makes the head appear larger than it actually is.

You can have a lot of sport with a handgun if you do your shooting from an outboard. Just run up and down the bayous and canals at a moderate speed. Plink the big rats as they jump off the banks and swim back and forth in front of the boat. Take along plenty of ammunition. One box won't do the job — unless you plan to limit your hunt to about an hour. That's just how plentiful the rats are.

A. C. Becker, Jr., Outdoor Editor of the Galveston Daily News, had an interesting picture-story in Sports Afield magazine last summer on nutria plinking. Becker and Ed Holder, Outdoor Editor of the Port Arthur News, and Bobbie LeBlanc of Port Arthur, bagged about 50 nutria on a hunt at the Port Arthur Hunting Club.

Becker tells me that his story resulted in him getting a great amount of mail from folks all over the nation. Seems they all want to try nutria hunting.

Nutria plinking can be a year 'round sport, although you'll have to vary your hunting a bit with the temperature. The rodents are most active in the spring and summer. They'll bed down in dens in extremely cold weather.

You can find them summer or winter, but it'll take more looking in cold weather.

Also, you can hunt nutria night or day.

Catching them in the glare of lights and popping them with handguns at night is real sport.

Most landowners, however, frown on night hunting, since the shooter never knows what's in the darkness.

Nutria are most active early in the morning and late in the afternoon.

During mid-day you'll find them sunning atop banks, grass hummocks or muskrat dens.

Sometimes you won't realize how many nutria are around until you take a shot or two. They blend in well with the surroundings, but the sound of a shot will get them moving. Then all you have to do is pick a target in your scope and let go.

You'll find nutria most plentiful in the marsh country. These semi-aquatic rats have a "sweet tooth" for marsh growths — cane, quill grass, three-square rush and many natural waterfowl foods. Nutria have stripped many marshes almost bare of these growths.

Barrow Hunting Ranch, located in Chambers County, had an overabundance of nutria on its 19,000 acre ranch. Last waterfowl season they offered duck hunters a free hunt for every 10 nutria tails brought back to the ranch house. One hunter, without even half trying, brought in a total of 87 one morning.

If you don't see nutria around,

Serve Turkey Often — It's Good

Turkeys make a wonderful fall dish, and to make things even better, turkey prices have been low for the past few weeks. F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, says this low price is due to an extra large supply, and does not in any way reflect on the quality of birds offered for sale.

All sizes of birds are available, and they can be either roasted, smoked or barbecued. If a large bird is preferred, the homemaker can have the butcher saw it into halves or even quarters, depending on the family's needs.

A quarter of a turkey can be used in many different, tasty dishes. Turkey spaghetti is a wonderful dish to serve to family and friends. For those who like more highly seasoned dishes, try turkey chow mein or turkey creole. Then there's always the old standby of turkey salad sandwiches.

The specialist points out that turkey is not only a convenient item for serving large groups, it also makes the food dollar go further. Turkey also lends itself to making many combination dishes, and it is one of the highest protein foods available today.

The next time you have a crowd in for a football weekend, or just for a short visit, try serving them turkey, says Beanblossom. They will like it, and it will save you time and trouble when mealtime approaches.

look for signs — slides, droppings, and tracks. Just follow the tracks and slides and you'll soon run into some fast action.

The nutria is a natural for the varmint plinker. Nutria plinking in the south, particularly in Texas and Louisiana, is fast becoming what woodchuck hunting is to the north.

Targets are plentiful. Gaining access to lands on which to hunt is easy.

For something new and exciting, try nutria plinking. You'll find that first trip will lead to repeated hunts.

Tax Clinics Are Scheduled

A series of 3-day Tax Clinics for tax practitioners to be held during December and early January was announced by the Internal Revenue Service today.

The Internal Revenue Service has sent invitations to tax practitioners on its mailing list, according to Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director. Tax practitioners were invited to register for a session to be held at the Republic Bank Auditorium in Dallas on December 27, 28, and 29, or on December 13, 14 and 15 at Will Rogers Auditorium in Fort Worth.

A similar clinic will be held in Lubbock on January 3, 4 and 5, if there is sufficient demand and if appropriate arrangements can be made.

Last year Internal Revenue Service held a similar tax clinic. Due to limited material enrollment was limited to 100 practitioners. There were 300 applications for enrollment.

Enrollment is also open to representatives of large industrial concerns that prepare income tax returns for their employees. Those desiring to make application can obtain information and an application form from Jim Hodges, P. O. Box 594, Dallas, Texas.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

By ELGIN SMITH

Progress in Standard Soil Survey work throughout the Area can be attributed to cooperation of farmers and ranchers with the overall program of Soil Conservation Districts in making the first national land inventory. Soil Surveys were made on 400 thousand acres of land during the past 12 months within the five Soil Conservation Districts served by the Brownwood Area Office of the Soil Conservation Service, E. J. Hughes, Area Conservationist, reports.

Field survey work has been essentially completed in all of the Menard Soil Conservation District and is about one-fifth complete in Mills County of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District. The survey report of the Menard Soil Conservation District will be written in 1962 by D. R. "Dick" Coffee, Area Soil Scientist, for publication by not later than 1964, according to Audrey Baker, Work Unit Conservationist at Menard.

Soil Survey work in the Central Colorado, Concho, and San Saba-Brady Soil Conservation Districts during the past year has been on a progressive basis as needed by Soil Conservation Service technicians when assisting farmers and ranchers in developing basic soil conservation plans on their land. It is planned that Standard Soil Surveys will be completed on all of the land in the United States by 1975. Present progress in the Brownwood Area indicates an earlier completion date is possible for the approximate five million acre area.

The objective of Soil Surveys is to record pertinent information needed for planning land use and treatment for which each acre of land is best suited. Information obtained from the field surveys is recorded on aerial photographs in standard legends for future use. The National Land Inventory is a step in the direction of planning for the anticipated need of a 30% increase in agricultural products by 1975 to meet the expected increase in population by that date, as well as absorbing the annual loss of an approximate one million acres of agricultural land to urban and industrial development.
