Paul Lee Receives 30-Year Award Moline "Pick-Ups"

By LEMON SQUEEZER

Mr. Paul Lee of Moline, Texas, a volunteer weather observer since 1942, was presented a 30-year length-of-service award for this outstanding service. Mr. Lee began taking rainfall observations at Moline on February 19, 1942.

Mr. Lee has an 8-inch standard non-recording rain gage and a 12-inch recording rain gage, located near his store and Post Office at Moline. Mr. Lee reports directly via telephone to the National Weather Service Office in Waco whenever one-half inch or more precipitation falls in his gages within 24-hours. Follow-up reports are telephoned as needed. Hourly precipitation data from Moline are published monthly in Hourly Precipitation Data-Texas, which is distributed nationwide.

Presentation of the length-of-service award was made by Robert Orton, Climatologist for Texas, Austin, at 10:30 a.m., Wednesday, March 1st, at Mr. Lee's store at Moline.

Mr. Lee received a congratulatory letter from L. R. Mahar, Director of the National Weather Service, Southern Region Headquarters, Fort Worth.

"Mr. Lee is one of more than 900 Cooperative Weather Observers currently active in Texas. The success of our climatological program is due in great measure to these conscientious citizens, for without the records they have made available, our knowledge of the climate of Texas (and the United States) would be meager indeed. With all the advances of modern technology, including satellites and automatic stations for observing the weather, the services of the volunteer observers are more valuable than ever. The data these men and women have gathered is vital to agriculture, industry, and commerce although such enterprises may be located considerable distance from their weather stations, and their timely weather reports help reduce loss of life and damage caused by tornadoes, floods, hurricanes and other weather hazards.

Very truly your,
Robert Orton,
Climatologist for Texas."

SCREWWORM ALERT

As of March 14, 27 screwworm cases have been confirmed in Texas since January 1. Seven cases popped up March 13-14. Unless livestock owners take certain precautions, 1972 could be a rough year, say Screwworm Eradication Program officials. All animal wounds should be treated as soon as possible and all worm samples should be sent to Screwworm Eradication Laboratory at Mission. Containers for mailing are available at the county Extension offices.

SIGNS CHANGING

Watch for changes in traffic control devices, signs, signals & markings along Texas highways.

Texas Highway Commission approved them in the manual on uniform control devices, based on recommendations of the American Association of State Highway Officials and Federal Highway Administration.

Changeover will be from words to symbols and pictures as part of an international move toward greater uniformity and clarity in road signs. The change will be gradual, with signs going up initially on a replacement basis.

Doings by DANIEL

BY LARRY DANIEL
COUNTY AGENT

The business of controlling mesquite in Texas got a real "shot in the arm" on February 9 when the Environmental Protection Agency approved the use of the herbicide, Tordan 225 Mixture. The herbicide has been tested for mesquite control for several years and has proved twice as effective as previous chemical brush killers.

Use of Tordan 225 Mixture will be policed closely by the Dow Chemical Company which manufactures the herbicide. Only operators who have had special training and approved will be permitted to apply the herbicide. Range sites must also be pre-examined by Dow Chemical personnel.

Tordan 225 Mixture may be applied only under prescribed wind, weather, and growth conditions and on specific kinds of brush. The herbicide can be an important weapon for land owners in the battle to control the state's number 1 brush problem to produce forage and restore natural range conditions. Thus, its proper use cannot be over-emphasized if it is to perform safely and effectively.

The approximately base cost per acre using Tordan 225 Mixture including chemicals, emulsifier, diesel oil, and water to make 4-5 gallons solution per acre are $8.50 per acre for two quarts per acre, or $3.35 per acre for one quart per acre. The latter figure would probably apply to our area.

Time of application of Tordan 225 Mixture is 40-90 days after first green growth appears at the bud in the Spring. All types of water should not be contaminated with this chemical.

Information about specific use can be obtained by calling Dow Chemical office in Lubbock, 806-747-1811; San Antonio, 512-655-4309; or Houston, 713-623-3170. Some information is available at my office.

Many homeowners are busy getting their lawns in shape. Much care is required to have a beautiful lawn and there are several diseases and insects that are always after a pretty lawn.

Two diseases which are prevalent on St. Augustine grass is Brown patch and Fading-out. Brown Patch is caused by a fungus and is characterized by circular patterns of dead grass blades in the turf. Blades and sheaths are pulled easily from the stolons because of deterioration of the attachment area. Terrachlor is used for control of Brown Patch.

Fading-out disease is a situation where grass cuttings are allowed to remain on the turf causing organisms to build up and kill out the grass in spots.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
I just got through reading a Goldthwaite Eagle, and I just had to write. So many things have been bubbling up inside me that I just have to say them. First of all, I didn't read the "Camp Pecan Bayou Ranch" article until last, and I nearly cried. Those boys are trying so hard to be accepted, and the people still aren't quite giving them a chance. If people would treat them as equals I'm sure the results would be marvelous. You know, since I've gone to college, I've been able to look at Goldthwaite from an outsider's view point. I love Goldthwaite dearly, but it really could stand some changes. For instance, the females who use their mouth for gossip, could use it to convince someone to contribute to the March of Dimes. The men and boys who waste their free time at the coffee shop could be helping the boys at the Boy's Ranch. Is it possible? All things are! Good luck Goldthwaite. Very sincerely,
A College student who cares

Red Cross Needs Funds Relief

The following telegram was received at West Texas Red Cross headquarters from George Casey, ARC national president:
"Weekend storms and subsequent rains have created severe disasters in Maine, Massachusetts and West Virginia. A dam in West Virginia almost total inundation of houses and heavy loss of 500 families affected by floods in Maine, 3,300 in Massachusetts. In the two New England states 3,500 persons given emergency care. More than 1,000 being sheltered in West Virginia and more than 300 still being sheltered in West Virginia. Hundreds of ARC staff volunteers on duty in the states."

Please inform all Chapters of these disaster operations. Preliminary estimates indicate that combined ARC costs for these operations may reach millions of dollars. As you know, the national ARC disaster budget is depleted. We are asking all members to REQUEST, repeat, REQUEST public contributions to support these operations. Please cash donations and encourage donations of clothing and food because those supplies are already on hand. This is an urgent request for funds to replenish depleted Disaster Budget.

Elsie's request makes it imperative that all chapters immediately appeal to the public for funds to support current disaster operations. Please forward contributions to Red Cross, % Mills County Bank, Goldthwaite, Texas

Sheep And Goat Raisers Urged To Vote On PCP

AUSTIN—Commissioner John C. White reminded sheep and goat raisers in 73 West Texas counties to vote before midnight March 23 on a proposed predator control program.

Voting is by mail and is being conducted by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. Commissioner White authorized the referendum under provisions of the Texas Commodity Referendum Law. Voters will decide whether or not to allow deductions of 20 cents a head for sheep and 10 cents a head for goats to be used in the predator control program. Nine members of a board to administer the fund also will be elected.

"It is important for sheep and goat raisers to make known their wishes on whether or not to conduct a predator control program," Commissioner White said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The American dream will end when the American people fall asleep, just as other dreams end when the people wake up. Yes, America, there is a conspiracy, and the only way to defeat it is to turn the bright light of unequivocal and unwavering truth on it.

What the conspirators count on most in this whole struggle for the world is the short memory, colossal ignorance, good-natured gullibility, and incredible apathy of the American people.

We are being "played for suckers" in a gigantic confidence game in which the stakes are both our freedom and our lives. And all it will take, even now, to escape the net that is being pulled tight around us is to wake up enough people to the fact that there is a net pulled by the U. N., Red China, and Russia. America, if you want socialist dictatorship, may God have mercy on your soul. Me, I am for restoring American independence now and make that pleasant dream of America come true, get us out of the U.N.

In closing I will leave this thought with you. The only social security any man needs is a good place to work, a good place to worship, and a good home to love.

I remain, Joe B. Edwards

HIGHLIGHTS and SIDELIGHTS FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

Gov. Preston Smith left timing of a special legislative session up in the air after the Texas Supreme Court, in effect, said there has to be one.

The High Court, not unexpectedly, concluded that Secretary of State Bob Bullock could not order public financing of primary elections without prior legislative authority.

Smith conceded that apparently left him no alternative but to summon lawmakers back to work in advance of the May 6 primaries. He said he wanted to postpone the unhappy deed as long as possible and was not prepared to say when he would have to act.

Meanwhile, to help Smith with his decision, Bullock's staff compiled data on estimated costs of the May 6 and June 3 elections and when the bills would fall due.

Most legislators faced with election campaigns hoped the session would be limited to the primary finance issue alone — or perhaps that the highway legislation is needed soon to avoid a threatened $24 million cut in federal road building funds allotted Texas.

Another special session will be needed later (unless Smith decides to lump all business into a single pre-election call) to approve a 1973 state appropriations act replacing the budget items vetoed last year by the governor.

Bitterness is expected to flare in the House of Representatives on opening day of the session whenever it is. An effort is almost certain to be made to oust Speaker Gus Mutscher who is being tried in Abilene on charges of conspiring to accept a bribe in the form of 1969 bank loans and pre-arranged insurance stock profits.

A coalition, in an effort to avert the House clash, is pushing Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi as interim speaker. The leading speakership candidate, Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine, wants a showdown vote on electing a new speaker immediately.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals held extending voting rights to 18-year-olds did not give them the right to serve on juries in this state.

New regulations allowing insurance companies to cancel auto policies only for failure of the insured to pay premiums or for license suspension or re-vacation have been adopted by the State Board of Insurance. Internal Revenue Service said a spot check of 4,579 retail stores showed 95 per cent are complying with base price posting regulations.

Cigarette smokers paid $3.5 million more in state taxes last month than in February 1972, State Treasurer Jesse James reported.

UT Bureau of Business Research says the Texas economy is off to a slow beginning this year but is "dawdling along in the right direction."

Predator Referendum Vote March 28

(SAN ANGELO, Special) — A referendum to be held later this month by sheep and goat raisers in a 73-county area of Texas to help provide a more effective predator control program in the state in generating as much public interest as the Texas political campaigns.

Special interest in the referendum started developing three weeks ago when President Nixon issued an Executive order on February 8 which prohibits the use of poisons on federal lands and by federal agencies for the purpose of controlling predators.

"It's now absolutely essential that we have additional trained predator control personnel in the sheep and goat producing areas of Texas," says Bill Sims, executive secretary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, sponsors of the referendum.

Sims said more trappers are necessary, especially since the few trappers now working can no longer use poisons. Sims said he had been advised by Milton Caroline, state supervisor of the U. S. Division of Wildlife Services at San Antonio, that all poison baits are being removed from Texas ranches in compliance with the presidential order. Deadline for removing poison baits is March 9, weather permitting.

Sims said the basic proposal in the referendum is to establish a method of financing the cost of adding some 32 or more trappers to the existing force now working on predator control in Texas. The referendum is to be conducted by mail ballot and to be valid, ballots must be postmarked no later than midnight March 28. Permission for holding the referendum was granted by the Texas Department of Agriculture at the conclusion of a public hearing held January 7 in Austin, 32 days before the President issued his executive order.

Sims said the Association decided to sponsor the referendum because of the sharp rise in sheep and goat losses in recent years which has caused a drastic reduction in lamb, wool and mohair production. The main predators, he said, are coyotes, bobcats, and red foxes. Sims said the Association started preliminary work on the referendum proposal last summer and directors voted unanimously to sponsor the referendum when they met in San Angelo in November, 1971.

have changed drastically since our constitution was written, nearly 100 years ago. We must have the ability to cope with problems of food production, water, pollution, and over 20 million people in the decades ahead.

"I have related a few of the issues that I will favor, when I am sworn in. As most everyone, I am also opposed to a number of things, I am unalterably opposed to either personal or corporate income tax. I find it much more plausible to tighten up on efficiency and the adaptation and utilization of our technical advancements.

"For the past few years I have been the principal in a company that operates a convenience store, restaurant, dry Cleaners and apartments, and having the responsibility of solving daily problems, as well as, with meeting a payroll has tempered my judgement when it comes to calling for additional taxes or spending.

STORM INSURANCE CUT

A 26 per cent reduction in windstorm insurance rates for non-beach property in 14 coastal counties was ordered last week.

The cut, directed by the State Board of Insurance, takes effect before the hurricane season for those structures at least 2,500 feet from shore, 20 feet above mean sea level or protected by a seawall.

Property owners have been paying 150 per cent above normal rates through the Texas Catastrophe Property Insurance Pool. Beachfront property will continue at three times standard rates.

The Insurance Board also raised the maximum amount of insurance available through the pool from $100,000 to $200,000 on dwellings and from $500,000 to $1 million on commercial properties including schools and public buildings.
