Jaycee Skeet Shoot Scheduled August 31

Want one last chance to prove to yourself that you're ready for dove season? Try your luck with the clay pigeons that the Jaycees will be lofting at their annual skeet shoot. This year the shoot will be held at the old dump ground, now owned by Kellis Landrum and Lynn Elliot.

Maybe you have real shooting prowess, but don't like turkey. Surprise! The Jaycees aren't giving away turkeys to the winners of each round this year. Instead, they're giving away 2 boxes of 12 or 20 gauge shells to each winner. In addition, the champion of the whole shoot wins a new shell reloader.

Say you're not too good a shot and wouldn't want to get in a round with some of the real hot-shots who might be there? A little organization - bring some of your not so hot-shot friends and fill a round with them and yourself.

Or, watch the proceedings a while and when you see an easy group - jump right in.

The proceedings begin at 2:00 p. m. and will last till 6:00 p. m. when the championship round begins.

Bring ole Betsy and try your luck - you'll have a lot of fun and you'll help support Jaycee civic projects while you're at it.

The portable bleachers built by the Jaycees and used at the Little League Park will be used so spectators will have ample seating.

Don't forget, 2:00 p. m., August 31st AT THE OLD DUMP GROUND.

Nice Catch

Aubrey "Biggie" Spears of San Saba is shown here with a couple of fish he caught out of the Colorado River. The fish on the left weighed 12 pounds while the fish on the right tipped the scales at 27 pounds.

Mullin Community News

BY: Lorene Holland

Funeral services were conducted last Sunday afternoon from Wilkins Funeral Chapel in Goldthwaite for Mr. Walter Keating with Rev. Ernest Roper conducting the services.

Mr. Keating had been critically ill for three weeks. He passed away late Friday afternoon in the hospital at Goldthwaite. Mr. Keating was 92 years old.

Interment was at Oak View Cemetery in Mullin.

I had a note recently from June Cooksey telling me about some of their trips during Jack's vacation. First, they had their grandson, Bart Cooksey, of Laredo, who spent a week with them. Enroute back to Laredo with Bart, they stopped in Odessa and attended the wedding of Candace Cooksey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cooksey. On to Laredo where they visited with their son Bill Mac and family. While there, they spent some time in Old Mexico.

On their return home, they visited with W. T. and Pat Roberts and family at Beeville. They also visited at Jourdanton with an uncle and aunt, the Jack Rutherford. They also visited at San Saba with Tom Jr. and his family.

After they returned home, Mr.

and Mrs. Billie Hobbs of Brownwood visited with them and June had a birthday celebration with friends and the Hobbs at Indian Harbor Country Club at Granbury. Jack and June live at Palo Pinto now.

She also stated in her note that Mrs. Grace Cooksey had an extended visit with her sister Mrs. Edwin Wheeler and two brothers, Jack and Dub Rutherford at Jourdanton. These are all Mullin people; although they do not live here now, they are still a part of Mullin.

Mrs. Don Woods (Aubra Jones), her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Clarence Frazer and Aubra Frazer, all of Ft. Worth, visited with E. A. Kemp and Jewell Baskin in Mullin on Saturday, August 17th.

Aubra Woods will be leaving the 9th of September with her brother, Vernon Jones, for a three week tour of South America and Mexico.

They will visit Peru, Columbia, spend several days on the Amazon River, and see Inca, Mayan, and Aztec ruins, temples and pyramids.

Mrs. Jesse Green of Houston visited here last week with Reta Gayle Spinks. Jesse Green was an ag teacher here a few years back.

Mrs. Katie Pyburn and Adeline Masters of Greenville spent the weekend here visiting with Vesta McCormick. Also, Bobby McCormick of Houston visited here over the weekend with his mother.

Bobby has just returned home from a tour of Russia, Finland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark. He made lots of pictures, and Saturday night about 25 gathered in Artie Mosier's big living room and he showed slides of the different places he visited.

There were lots of pretty flowers, lakes, parks and many other things to see on this sort of trip. The group spent four days in Moscow and Leningrad.

I had a real nice day Sunday visiting in DeLeon with brother and sister; also with uncles and aunts left. On father's side I have two aunts and 2 uncles left, and my mother only has two sisters living. There were 11 children in each family.

Miss Corrine Henry and Betty Coburn and two boys returned to Kermit to start teaching. They usually spend most of their summer vacation in Mullin.

A number of out-of-town friends and relatives attended Mr. Keating's funeral Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Don of Long Beach, Calif., Mr. R. Carter Cox of Tye, Miss Lucy Wilson of Brownwood and Mrs. Elsie Weatherly Goldthwaite all spent Sunday visiting with their sister, John Plummer.

Can religion solve all the problems of the world?

Can religion solve any of them?

There are people who say "religion" is as out of touch with the times as the dinosaur. And about as useful.

After all, how has "religion" solved the problems of our cities, the agony of war, our racial strife, the seeming chasm between the young and the old? Indeed, what should we expect "religion" to be able to do in solving the very real problems of our time?

To take just the example of our troubled cities—churches and synagogues have not a fraction of the material resources needed to heal the wounds.

It's as simple as that.

But have they failed, if they point the moral way, provide the moral resolve, and, of course, assist materially to the limit of their resources? "Religion," indeed, cannot fail—nor, for that matter, succeed—because "religion" is merely a word.

What gives "religion" meaning and force is you. And everyone who cares enough for God to show God's love in the world. Every day. Everywhere.

For the problems that beset our world are not proof that God has failed Man.

But just the opposite.

Alcoholism .. Behavioral Breakdown

(4th in A Series)

It is often said that a problem drinker on his way to chronic alcoholism is in the same position as a man on a bus. He need not go all the way to the end of the line - death or a mental institution. He may get off and achieve recovery at any subsequent stop. It depends on at which stop he recognizes the symptoms in himself and accepts them rationally.

Once tell-tale signs are heeded and direction can be obtained at the Central Texas Institute on Alcoholism, Temple telephone 817-773-3722.

Acute alcoholism is marked by a worsening of previous symptoms and the introduction of new and more-threatening signs in behavior patterns.

Conflicting emotion within the heavy drinker creates confusion and unreasonableness, which whiplashes violently into even more confusion and painful frustration. This phase sets the stage for eventual chronic alcoholism by building severe physical and mental complication in the handling of everyday problems.

One new major change in behavior beginning with the acute stage is the loss of control in the person's drinking. Once he takes that first drink, he cannot stop until he is drunk.

The person who has not accepted this as an irrefutable fact, may choose to kill 15 minutes before an appointment by entering a bar for a drink. Certainly, he is positive, no more than two. Hours later, he staggers out with perhaps two dozen under his belt. He had not intended to get potted. He had not expected to want more than the pre-determined couple. Once his imbibing begins, everything other than ordering refills becomes more and more unimportant. Too late, he agrees with the adage: "one is too many, a thousand not enough".

When the familiar "morning after" comes, he sincerely is concerned about whether or not he has lost will power. But he flares angrily at friends who attempt to suggest as much.

Why does he keep trying for controlled drinking when he continues to fail? Actually, he honestly does not believe (and will fight against believing) that he has reached a point in the abuse of alcohol where he never will again enjoy "social drinking".

At this point, practically every alcoholic behaves alike. Concern over loss of will power sends him on a long, futile, frustrating and usually painful campaign to recapture that power of control so that he can prove to the rest of mankind that he can drink without being alcoholic.

The words of the drinker-in-trouble are predictable. "It's not my fault..." Such excuses rarely accompany the descent into intoxication but spring forth when the overwhelming sense of guilt comes with the hangover. Why does he need to look for reasons when the glow is upon him?

Later, he has a need to explain the why to family, friends and employers. The more he passes the buck, the more he is positive that he merits special privileges so that he can continue to "drink at" all those injustices.

His own unreasonable attitude leads to the familiar pattern of extravagant behavior, which will be taken up in the next article.

ing and usually painful campaign to recapture that power of control so that he can prove to the rest of mankind that he can drink without being alcoholic. This frantic search turns into an obsession that cannot fail to hasten deterioration. From this point on, his addiction is complete. No longer has he any chance of controlling his drinking.

When the problem drinker begins to excuse his excessive consumption and frequent and repeated drunks by saying he drinks "because - nagging wife, unreasonable boss, for example - it is safe to conclude he is within the acute stages of the disease of alcoholism. Rationalization is common to all alcoholics.

San Saba Peak

Mrs. Dutch Smith

We were so glad to see our son, Hill, and a friend from San Saba stopped by on their way back to school from San Saba. They will be back August 23 and will stay until Monday. They always have the regular dove and always have such a good time together.

Well, we had a very busy day yesterday. I had to be at the church to teach Sunday School at 9 o'clock and from there I went on to our church. I came home for lunch, then to the church to sing at the rest homes Sunday afternoon. We really enjoyed it.

Dutch and I visited our son, Hill, and Mrs. Forrest and Jesse, Sunday afternoon at the rest homes. Our children from Burnet were also there. Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie and Cliff. We sure enjoyed seeing them.

We attended the birthday party for C. H. Black on his birthday plus. It was real good to see so many of our neighbors and friends of long ago. And the barbecue supper was real good - I mean good!

Well, this Thursday night we'll be singing at the Hickman Home. We help us make those dear people happy. Now, I am going to say this to some of you who don't ever come to the church. Now, this is Rena Smith - I think you are just a little selfish, and I mean it, too. One day you may be there yourself and might like to have someone come to see you. I know some of you aren't able, but I'm talking about the ones who can and don't!

Dutch and I visited in the home of two of our dear friends Sunday evening before church - Mrs. and Mrs. Clyde Estep.

We'll see you all Thursday at the Men's Downtown Class Singing at the Hickman Home. You all come!

Meeting, 7:00 p.m.

Yarbrough's

--Hickman Notes--

WITH THE HELP OF - Padgett Floral and with Margarette Earles as chief advisor, we started a new project this week - an indoor flower garden. The men have agreed to build a stand for the flowers, so now everyone is involved.

With all this digging in dirt, Willie Mae Cassil who daily gives manicures for us is going to be working overtime!

WORK BEFORE PLEASURE? Not on Friday afternoon when the Resident Council met and enjoyed ice-cold watermelon before settling down to business. Our thanks to Eva Garland, LVN, for the treat.

Business of the Council included making plans for new and different activities coming up this fall.

COULD YOU RESPOND - in five minutes to a call for help?

Tommy Collier, Carrie Gray, and Kay Collier did Sunday morning; and the music they provided for our Sunday School class was so appreciated. We were glad, also, to have G. H. Cassil fill in for our regular teacher, John Davidson. Our deepest sympathy to Mr. Davidson whose brother passed away last week.

AN AMATEUR ART SHOW - by employees, families and friends fills the corner of our living room. We think it is of special interest because exhibitors have never had lessons of any kind, and to feel that we have "discovered" all this hidden talent.

WELCOME BACK - Lemke. Exercise class missed you all summer.

JUST GOSSIP - Did you Maggie Lucas has been Abilene to visit Shirley C. Foster, Otha and Jewell and Chloe Adams?

Lucy Rothwell's guest week were Ernest Eakin and Mrs. Jimmy Rothwell Olympia, Washington.

Lockie Smith, Ora H. Martha Ingram and Willie all of Brownwood, were Boyd's visitors.

There were a lot of good played while Bertha and Meadows of Seguin were in visit Walter Berry.

Eva Roush, Ada Danks, Eva Garland went to San Sunday to see Gus Roush is in the hospital there, were glad to get a good on Gus' progress.

Pearl McCasland and Waggoner enjoyed a visit day afternoon with Lottie.

One of our favorite is Pearl Hickman who was to visit everyone this week.

Would you believe Henry had thirty-seven visitors? All were relatives and he the Egger reunion.
