

Local Bicentennial 'Happenings'

If all of the activities that are being planned come off, it will be next to impossible to forget this Bicentennial Year. Although many of the local denizens have had the "spirit of '76" for quite some time, it seems like many more have been bitten by the bug.

All of you LEG-MEN be sure and WATCH for the style show to be held in Mullin on March 12. . . you are sure to get a good view, considering some of the "ladies" involved. There is to be a $1.00 admission, skits and entertainment, and refreshments available. Well worth the price for a stylish evening.

Another type of style show will be held on July 2 by some of our more established (in years) residents. The Heritage Nursing Home is planning a period style show that is sure to bring back some memories for some, and be enlightening to others.

The report on the Mexican Supper held on February 28 was that the crowd was huge and hungry. We hope to see more on the Mexican heritage at the Fiddlers' Festival, and bring on the tortillas!

The Bicentennial Logo Medallions are selling like hotcakes, and it looks very probable that another order may have to be sent in if the demand keeps up. If you haven't seen the illustration of it, you have missed something, and as these will be in a limited minting, you will really miss something if you don't get one for yourself.

Our School Program, scheduled for April 9, is "all systems go", and we may have to call out the Hollywood talent scouts for this review.

If you don't think there is anything for YOU to do for the Bicentennial, try joining one of the groups of people planning floats for the PARADES. You will not be turned down. Mullin will have their big "Americana" Celebration on June 19, complete with parade, and all the works. There will also be one in Goldthwaite on Saturday, July 3. So there is plenty of opportunity to "do your thing".

The Museum is coming along great, but let's please don't forget that all donations are needed now so that the building can be paid for. Every little bit is greatly appreciated. . . Watch for a new addition to the building coming soon, too.

Don't forget Old Settlers Day on May 29, along with all of the festivities. We need to honor our past as well as plan for the future.

We received one-half inch of rain Sunday night. O. L. reported the same amount. We have a little damp weather at this writing and it is foggy and dark.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Runnels and children were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Pearl Shipman.

Pearl and George Crawford visited D. K. Crawford Friday. It seems like the folks at Hillview are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Stevens visited Mrs. Ollie Manuel recently. She was doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Whately didn't report much rain out their way.

Warren Harris visited his parents Sunday and gave them a helping hand with their work.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cook of Star were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nowell.

Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford and Letricia attended church at Priddy Sunday.

Leonia Crawford spent Sunday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crawford.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Whately attended the Earnest White funeral services at Adamsville Friday.

The Whites visited the Whatleys often. They were old friends and neighbors. We express our sorrow to his loved ones.

We are sorry of Mr. Shipman's sickness. They are former residents of this neighborhood.

We wish all the sick folks a speedy recovery.

We don't have much garden and farm work. Most all are kept busy with feeding livestock and most all the dirt tanks are dry.

Douglas Humphries and Don Jr. were by and reported farming was almost at a standstill. He was wondering if we have much of a grain crop left.

Our news from Mrs. Lucy Schindler is that her crippled arm is doing nicely.

We hope Mrs. Joie Faught's crippled arm will soon get well.

Early Mills County History —

B. F. Gholson Ex Ranger And Solider

The subject of this sketch is B. F. Gholson, native born Texan, ex-ranger and Confederate soldier, second son of Albert G. Gholson, born in Falls County, Texas, (then known as Robertson's Colony) Nov. 17, 1842, under the flag of the Republic of Texas. My mother died in September 1843. My father, my older brother and I moved to McClennan Co. in 1852 and father established a ranch ten miles north of where Waco now stands in what is known as Gholson's Valley. In June 1855 we moved to the Blue Water Hole on Sim's Creek, which is now in Mills County - this being the first ranch established on this creek.

In March of 1857 the Comanche and the Kiowa Indians began their depredations on the frontier of Texas - continuously degrading until 1874.

On October 2, 1858, Captain John Williams organized a Ranger Company of one hundred men near San Saba, a very small village on the San Saba River. He went from there up the river to Bowser's Bend and established a supply camp, this being headquarters. The Company was divided into four detachments, covering as much territory as possible.

Two of our men, Frank Tankersley and George McRumels, while going to headquarters camp, struck an Indian trail going east. They reported same at headquarters at night. Captain John Williams took thirty men (I being one of the number) early next morning, struck the trail and following same until we came to where they had massacred the Jackson family two days before. The Indians carried off two children, a girl and a boy. We, having no tools with which to dig graves to bury the dead, our Captain began calling for any of us who knew of any ranches where tools could be gotten and preparation made for burial. At this time we did not know the dead family, nor did we know that two of the children had been taken captive. There were several ranches visited that night by our men; then it was that we learned that it was the Jackson family, and two children missing.

I went to the Kirkpatrick Ranch some distance below on the Colorado River for help. We buried the dead next morning, then following the trail we learned that the Indians had divided into two bunches - a few Indians on foot, carrying only one horse with them, which we afterwards learned had the children on this horse. Going east about 18 miles and on top of a round mountain known as Lookout Mountain, now in Mills County, these children were left with one warrior and two squaws at this point.

But, we followed the trail of the large bunch of Indians going a southern course into the settlements. We learned that there had been some horses stolen there and that we were three days behind them. Capt. Williams then held a war council with some old ranchmen. They decided to go back and patrol the country from the Colorado River to the Leon River with our men so divided that we could scout the country every day with a view to intercepting the Indians as they passed back going west, which we did on Nov. 6th. The same Indians who left the children on Lookout Mountain with the other three Indians came by and got the children and three Indians, mounted them, as they had a herd of horses they had stolen going west, having passed our patrol ground in the night. We struck their trail early in the morning. After following it a short distance we decided that they had the children as we could see on the bushes bits of torn cloth from the girl's clothing.

Second Lieutenant Gideon Cowan, being the only Commissioned officer in the squad of eight men on this trail, sent two men towards the Leon River to meet our men in that direction; and one man, Rome Vaughn, went towards the Colorado River to meet the patrol in that direction. Cowan's orders were for these men to come on as fast as possible, and that he with the four other men (I being one of that number) would follow the trail.

In the afternoon Rome Vaughn, with two of the patrol he met, caught up with us. Soon after six citizens who had followed the trail from Lampasas County caught up with us. We stopped late in the evening, ate our supper and grazed our horses a while, then followed the direction by a star in the west, which was a guide to keep us near this trail. Sometime after midnight we stopped again, layed down to rest a while and also to rest our horses. Then we arose, continuing our journey, and following the direction of our star. When daylight came, we formed a V-shape, spreading out in order to strike the trail which we soon located. The front man on the north side gave sign to his next man the direction the trail was going, the same sign having been passed around the line of men to the last one, then following the trail until about eleven o'clock, we halted and cooked something to eat, and grazed our horses for an hour or more. Then continuing on the trail, our horses having been very badly jaded by this time, we had to travel accordingly. Late in the evening we came to where the Indians had camped. There we halted again until dark. Then, taking the course of our guiding star again, making only one more stop during the night. When daylight came we found that we were riding right on top of the trail going due west with a long range of mountains laying south of us, running due east and west.

Lieut. Cowan told Tom Potts and I to take the trail. To our right stood a round mountain, the trail passing between it and this long range on the south. We had not gone a half mile until we discovered a man which proved to be an Indian spy on this round mountain. After being told this by Tom and I the Lieutenant told us to strike a gallop on the trail, saying, "That is the rear spy. They are not far ahead." The other men galloped in close order behind us and we came in sight of the Indians some two miles ahead of us.

When the Indians saw us they rounded their horses together in a close herd and began roping out fresh ones. Before we reached them we saw two persons leave then on foot. Supposing them to be two Indians, Lieutenant led part of the men between the two on foot and the horse herd, sending the other men between them and the mountain in front of them, saying, "We will cut them off and kill them first."

They had gotten something over a hundred yards from the herd and saw us coming and dropped themselves down in the grass to hide. When we ran up to them, to our surprise it was the children for whom we were looking. From some of the men the question was asked, "Are you the Jackson children?" The boy said "Yes. Did the Indians kill my mother?" and the Lieut. answered, "Yes." The boy had seen three of the family killed, but when he was taken away his mother was kneeling under a tree praying and was still unshut. Some of the men dismounted from their horses and shook hands with the boy.

B. F. Gholson and wife, Adeline

The little girl was still on her knees and elbows on the ground. Rome Vaughn stepped up to her and took her by the hands, raising her up, saying, "Sissy, take courage and stand up if you are able. We are your friends and you are safe now."

About this time Jack Brown sent up a shout, praising God for endowing our Lieutenant with the skill and ability to achieve such a victory as this. Gabe Choate called out, saying, "What, Jack, are we going to have a revival right here in the wilderness?" And Jack answered, saying that God deserved praise in the wilderness under such circumstances as this, as much as in the church house.

Someone asked where were the Indians, and the boy answered, "Right with that horse herd." But there was not an Indian in sight. We started to the herd in haste. The boy said to the Lieutenant, "There are eight Indians more behind." The Lieut. called out to us, saying, "Don't all of you go, boys, and don't run them too far, for this boy says there are eight Indians behind and maybe we can get them." So, eight of us ran on. The Indians had left the herd and, on their fresh horses, had gone out of sight. When we ran on their trail about one-and-a-half miles to the top of the ridge we could see them, something like a half mile, running full speed, strung out one behind another. We counted them, eighteen in number, and our horses being so completely broken down, we gave up the chase. We stood there and watched them go out of sight and then returned to the herd, finding them going back the trail to the nearest water.

Our men had camped. Two men guarded the horse herd while others prepared something to eat. The little girl was very weak and feeble, having eaten nothing scarcely during the fourteen days which the Indians had her in their possession. We made her a good pallet out of our blankets. When something was ready for her to eat, she failed and refused the food. But she was persuaded by the Lieutenant and Gabe Choate - they being the two oldest men in the squad who realized that she must eat in order to be saved.

We remained at this camp for two nights and a day-and-a-half on account of the condition of the little girl. When we traveled we would double a pair of blankets and carry her time about. And when she seemed too weak and complained too much, we would stop the whole outfit and rest her. We traveled altogether according to her condition.

We came to Camp Colorado - used as a government fort and occupied by two companies of United States soldiers and a few citizens around the fort. The ladies of the fort got goods from the settlers' store and

Dear Friend:

We are sending you this letter because we know that you are interested in the cemetery.

In the last few years, as you know, there has been a concerted effort for the upkeep and improvement of the cemetery and we think its appearance speaks for the success of the project.

We need your financial support for the continuation of this worthy project. The next six months is our expensive season and we will therefore need every dollar we can get. Not a single one will be wasted, we can assure you.

We appreciate the response from interested people to our letters and we are open to any suggestions and recommendations you might offer. To those who do not live here we urge you to visit "Your" cemetery and see the accomplishments.

Those who are actively engaged in this work and members of the committee feel like you will want a part in the keeping of the cemetery of which we can all be proud.

This is a deductible item. Please give as generously as you can. Make your check to the Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery.

Mail or give your contribution to the Secretary and please remember the need is now.

Extension Highlights By Judy Beavers

Fashionable shirts and dresses are hanging unworn in many closets simply because they're too short for today's styles.

But many of these can be "recycled" at little expense to become useful and enjoyable additions to a wearable wardrobe.

Spend a few minutes visualizing possibilities on the too short clothes. Would the hem allowance add enough needed length? If so, check to see if the old hemline would show.

If it does, consider whether or not rows of trim or narrow tucks could be used for camouflage and still look as though they were planned as part of an original garment.

Once the hem allowance is successfully let down, think through ways the hem edge could be finished. Is it best to add a facing, bind the raw edge, or turn up a narrow width and topstitch?

Here are some other possibilities if letting down the hem allowance doesn't provide enough needed length.

Is the garment design and fabric design suitable for adding a contrasting ruffle or band at the hemline?

To avoid looking "tacked on," contrasting fabric or trim added at the hemline often needs to be positioned higher on the garment; for example as pockets, belts, cuffs, trim or applique.

For straight or gathered skirts, cut without A-line seams, one or more rows of fabric bands or trim inserted above the hemline may work.

Dresses without waistline seams can be successfully lengthened by adding for a mock belted look or as a midriff to be worn either belted or unbelted.

Long and closed vests, tunics or overblouses are excellent lengthening accessories. Adding a yoke or lightweight fabric to the underneath section of the skirt or dress easily lengthens the hemline.

McCasland Receives Masters Degree

Charles McCasland, a graduate of Goldthwaite High School, was one of two teachers to receive a master's degree from Texas Woman's University through the Waxahachie Independent School District residential program.

Mr. McCasland teaches fifth grade at the Marvin Elementary School. He was awarded his bachelor's degree from the University of Texas, Austin. He has been employed by the WISD for three years. His master's deals with supervision as his major concern and special education as his minor. The title for his professional paper is "Team Teaching: A Potential Source For Professional Development".

The academic program offered to McCasland and the other Waxahachie teachers afforded them the opportunity to extend their educational training with a minimum of expense and travel since most of the work was done at Waxahachie.

McCasland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer McCasland of Goldthwaite. He is married to the former Jeannie Brown of Houston.

Monday morning and everybody is happy about all this good rain we have had over the weekend, as it has been so dry the past few months.

My son called me this morning at 5:30 from Stamford. It is always nice to hear from the kids. He said it was raining there.

Visitors with Boots and Hulda Boykin over the weekend were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Capps, Lisa, Joe and Allen of New Gulf, Texas and Gary Boykin and sons John and Jason of Dallas.

Craig and Mitzi spent the night with us and visited the Baptist Church here.

I visited a while Sunday afternoon with Alvin and Jocie Kemp. Jocie and I visited with Hazel Waddell a short while. Hazel is sporting a new color TV her daughter brought from Dallas the week before.

The road work here is slow now, as it will be April when the top can be poured. It will be nice when it is finished.

This has been a dreary day. It has been a fine mist all day. Although it will help out some, sure hope it comes a good rain before it stops.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillips and Junior of Goldthwaite had supper with us Sunday night.

A. R. Rowlett had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edington and children Wednesday night.

Ross Rowlett and his daughter Amy of Brownwood visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Rowlett, Sunday and checked on the stock as some of them have been bogging down in the tank.

J. D. Phillips of Odessa visited us Saturday and Sunday.

Diane Parrish and her boyfriend of San Angelo had dinner with us Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claxton Phillips and children of Ft. Worth spent the weekend with us.

Willie Edmondson of Spring Creek visited us Saturday afternoon.

There has been flu and colds around here, as well as other places. I had a letter from the daughter-in-law in Abilene who said the hospitals there were full. One of their little girls had a sore throat but the others had missed it so far.

Florence Sheldon is visiting in Vernon with Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Channell, Cindy and Bobbie. Mrs. Huntis Black and Chance visited last week with Florence.

Rev. and Mrs. Harvin Tewes came by this morning for coffee on their way to Kerrville on church business I'm sure.

The Star Senior Citizens have a friendship quilt up at Jocie Kemp's house now. I'm sure they will enjoy visiting and working on that. Florence and I have not put up a quilt in a long time. We are supposed to do two for her sister Lottie but we are all too busy for our own good.

I'll try to do more on news next time. I can't find anyone at home today. I'm sure I will get some phone calls by next week - hope so.

Dr. Bruce Satin of Howard Payne filled the pulpit Sunday in the absence of Pastor Terry Cosby.

Ranger -

made the little girl two suits of clothing. We stayed there two nights and when we were ready to start she came out newly dressed and looking much improved.

The second evening after leaving the fort, we reached our headquarters camp - now known as Bowser's Bend, on the Colorado River. Mrs. Williams, wife of the Captain, had taken advantage of a guard coming up to the camp in a buggy and was still there at headquarters when we arrived with the children and the horse herd. When she found the children were there, she came out and said to the Lieutenant, "With your permission, I will take charge of the children while they stay here." She led the little girl away to her tent but the boy refused to go, wanting to stay with the men who brought him in.

In a few days Mrs. Williams started home when a scout was going in her direction. The children were taken to the nearest ranch that had any womenfolk and were left there until an older brother, John Jackson, came and got them and returned to Lampasas, Capt. Williams sending a guard of men with him for their protection.

This was Tom Priddy's ranch on the Colorado River below headquarters. Mrs. Priddy passed away a good many years ago and the same good man, Reverend Tom Priddy, died about two years ago at Goldthwaite, Texas.

These children's names were Tobe Jackson, about 12 years of age, and Rebecca Jackson who was about 9 years of age. Tobe has been dead a good many years. Rebecca grew to womanhood and married Jack Stroud. They raised a nice family of several children, now grown. Rebecca Jackson Stroud died a little more than a year ago, near Melrose, New Mexico.

The capture of these children and horses took place in Nolan County, eight or nine miles southwest of Sweetwater, Tex., on the morning of Nov. 9, 1858. This was the first service I ever rendered as a Texas Ranger, having served two more terms under Captain J. M. Smith and Captain Sul Ross later.

The preceding article was furnished by T. R. Gholson of Lometa, Texas, a grandson of B. F. Gholson. He has also been in law enforcement for over forty years.

Take an energy conservation idea to work with you. Drinking water is refreshing enough at 50 degrees. Suggest to your maintenance department that coolers that dispense colder water be adjusted to the higher temperature.

Childress Clinic & Hospital, for donating the materials and some of the workers.

Two hundred and forty-three persons registered for and received the blood pressure test, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Dennard and directed by Mrs. W. A. Cline, who worked long on publicity and arranging for nurses to make these tests. These workers included Mrs. Edna Robertson who registered names and results for this test the entire day; Mrs. W. A. Cline, R.N.; Mrs. Mona Dennis, R.N.; Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, R.N.; Mrs. Billie Lewis, L.V.N.; and Charles Childress, lab technician.

A large percentage of these tests about one-third, showed problems. Some showed the top reading high, some the bottom, and on some both readings were dangerously high. These persons were advised to see their physician immediately.

According to definition given by Mrs. Sara Kilpatrick, R.N., the top reading, systolic, is the highest pressure reached during the contracting of the heart, while diastolic, the bottom reading, is the lowest pressure reached during the resting of the heart. She said it has been found in previous years that a higher diastolic pressure of 10 points or more is significant in heart attacks and strokes.

One hundred eighty persons registered for the urinalysis test, sponsored by Mrs. Beth Miles, C.O.G., under the direction of Charles Childress, lab technician, who assisted with the tests.

Other workers who helped were Mrs. Carol Glibbreath, lab technician assistant; Mrs. Marie Hamilton, L.V.N. and manager of Hillview Manor who worked steadily throughout the day; and Mrs. Callie Pyburn, L.V.N., of Mullin.

A large percentage of these tests were negative. Fifteen showed problems and four showed very high sugar in the urine. These were advised to see a doctor.

People responded from all parts of the county; also five from Comanche and two from Bangs.

We also appreciate the Southern Savings & Loan Assoc. allowing us the use of their building and Frank Bridges for the space in his paper.

Eaglettes Take Second In Santa Anna Meet

The Eaglettes managed 74 points in the Santa Anna Relays to capture second place out of 36 schools. Jim Ned won the meet with 77 points.

Mickey Ynostrosa began the day right when she won the high jump, setting a new meet record of 5 feet.

Ruth Ann Johnson took fifth in the triple jump with a jump of 30'2".

The sprint relay qualified for the finals with a 55.0 and bettered their time with a 54.7 in the finals which was good enough for second place.

The relay team is made up of Cindy Ynostrosa, Mickey Ynostrosa, Gwen Saylor and Mina Johnson. Mickey Ynostrosa had the second fastest open quarter.

After preliminaries with a 64.6, but she could manage no better than fourth in the finals after running the sprint relay and open quarter back to back; her time was 66.7.

Ruth Ann Johnson placed fifth in the 220-yard dash with a time of 27.6.

One of the two "sister acts" turned in 15 points when they finished first and second in the 80-yard low hurdles; Mina Johnson had a time of 12.3 and Ruth Johnson ran a 12.5.

The 850 relay team composed of Ruth Johnson, Carrie Gray, Mina Johnson and Gwyn Saylor turned in a 2:02.3 and missed the finals by two-tenths of a second; Carrie Gray fell on the first exchange yet they were still able to turn in their best time this year.

Kaye Harris took fourth place in the 880-yard dash with a time of 2:46.6. Then the Eaglettes had a chance to win the meet with the mile relay left.

The team of Cindy Ynostrosa, Mickey Ynostrosa, Elva Corona and Karla Henry ran a 4:45.6 to win second in the mile relay. This "sister act" pulled in 16 points and gave the team the amount of points necessary to capture second place.

Coach Yarborough reported that had her 880 relay team made the finals or had Dendra Long gotten to the meet in time to throw the discus, they probably would have won the meet. Dendra Long went to Band Concert at Cisco Friday morning.

Coach Yarborough stated that the girls did a very good job considering it was the first meet of the season, and she was very proud of them.

IRS Officials Say $30 Tax Credit Causing Misunderstanding

Officials of the Internal Revenue Service's Dallas District office say that, so far in the 1976 filing season, the most common errors showing up on tax returns are those caused by a misunderstanding of the $30 tax credit for each personal exemption.

"Apparently, many taxpayers are confusing the $30 tax credit with the $750 personal exemption deduction," A. W. McCannless, district director of the IRS for North Texas, said today. "They wind up thinking each personal exemption is worth one deduction of $780."

The two are not related however. Mr. McCannless said that taxpayers should compute their tax liability in the normal manner before dealing with the $30 tax credit. When the normal tax is computed, the taxpayer is then entitled to subtract $30 from the total tax liability for each personal exemption claimed on the return. For example, a married couple with two children would claim four personal exemptions on a joint return and come up with a certain amount of tax due. They would then subtract $120, or $30 for each exemption, from the tax due.

"A deduction, such as the personal exemption, is a reduction of the income on which tax is figured," the tax official said. "A tax credit, on the other hand, is a dollar for dollar reduction of the actual amount of tax due."

He also pointed out that, while extra exemptions are allowed for blind taxpayers and those over 65, these people do not receive extra tax credits.

THE MILLS MINISTER

SUPERLATIVES OF THE GOSPEL

by
Rev. Mrs. R. L. Flowers

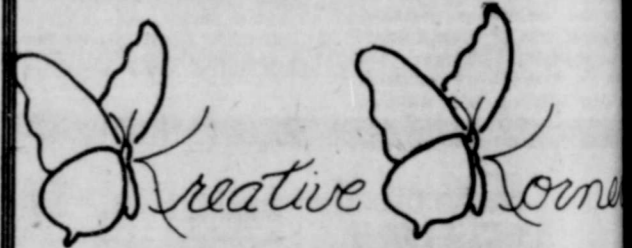

In Paul's letter to the Ephesians there is a breadth and depth and height that strains his vocabulary to the breaking point. It is a short book and can be read in a few minutes. But, like his letter to the Colossians, it deals with mysteries past our understanding. He flings out one superlative after another until the very reading of it is to experience the wonder and glory of the greatness of the gospel. A greatness that is the gift of God.

Today we talk of the biggest, the tallest, the oldest, the most expensive, the most abundant, the most sought after, or you name it. And we use superlatives freely in doing so. However, we are usually talking of the glory of man's things or achievements. Paul tells of the greatness of God's grace and that it is the gift of God.

Read the little book and the superlatives he uses set forth the idea that God's age-long hidden purpose revealed in Christ was to bring the universe - all in heaven and on earth - into a union in Christ. Note the all-inclusiveness, the immensity, the unfathomable riches, the long purpose made known, the treasures of His glory, immeasurably more than we can ask or conceive. . . . to know what is beyond knowledge, and as if to open up to us grandeur of which we have never thought Paul says it through Christ we have access to God!

Hear him as he says: "For this in mind I kneel in prayer to the Father . . . that Christ may dwell in your hearts in love. With deep roots a firm foundation may you be strong to grasp . . . what the breadth and length and height and depth of the love of Christ, and to know though it is beyond knowledge. So may you attain to the fullness of being, the fullness of God himself. Now to Him more than all we can ask or conceive, by the power which is at work among us, to be glory in the church as in Christ Jesus from generation to generation evermore. Amen."
