

Museum Open House Draws Enthusiastic Crowd

by Kay Campbell, Museum Chairman

More than 235 enthusiastic visitors gathered at the Mills County Museum Grand Opening on Sunday, September 4, 1977.

Highlights of interest on display were three of Susie Kirbo Stewart's paintings - a large mural entitled,
"Mills County - Past, Present, and Future", which portrays a typical Mills Countryside. Another painting features a pioneer man, in a field, with a cattle head and entitled,
"Young Woman Hoeing".
The other shows a man giving thanks to God for the rain and named,
"Blessed Rain". Susie Stewart's untiring efforts, vision and talent are highly appreciated by the people of Mills County. Mr.
Mrs. Stewart and their daughters live in Mullin.

Presently, the paintings of Woodrow Boykin of Mills County are being shown in the museum's display. It is with pleasure that the museum displays such talent from Mrs. Boykin. Other artists' work will be shown in the museum's display each month.

Another interesting aspect of the museum are three display cases. These cases are viewed with interest - holding interesting possessions of Dr. and Mrs. J.
Campbell. Dr. Campbell, a physician in Mills County Goldthwaite for over 40 years, is remembered with respect and love by the people of this county. His physician's bag, instruments and other personal possessions, as well as early family pictures and household items of the Campbells are to be seen. The other changing display holds family heirlooms of the family of Anderson Gilliam, including the christening dress of the late E. B. Gilliam and some of the family pictures of Mr. and Mrs. E.
Anderson. Mrs. Gilliam's pictures, Mr. Anderson was an early lawyer in Goldthwaite and Mills County for many years. Persons interested in showing needlework, antiques, family heirlooms, hobbies, collections and paintings are urged to contact Hartal Blackwell or Kay Campbell to arrange for display. As with the changing artists' display, the display cases will have new family, or personal, collections each month.

Other cases in the Museum show the history of the county as viewers follow the territory plan. Displays of antiquities, barbed wire, nails, telephone instruments and bricks from the Santa Fe depot in Goldthwaite depict the presence of the early Indians, the coming of early settlers, the opening of the land, the coming of early day homes and the coming of the railroad to the county.

The old wagon, surrounded by barn boards which are painted with early county brands painted on the above the barn boards, the highlight of the display and ranching sections. Rocks from an old rock built many years ago and a planter featuring a red armadillo.
The early day kitchen, complete with wood stove, jars of old jars, jugs, kitchen pots, an old flour and bin, an old time kitchen stove, a coal oil lamp and a type telephone bring many memories.

The old fashioned bedroom features an old bed, a corn stitch crocheted spread and an early day stand from the recently closed Depot Hotel. Other interesting items in the rooms are an old cotton sewing wheel, a sewing kit and an old full length oval mirror used in a local dry shop for over half a century.

An old drug store bar, going back to the 1880's, attracted many visitors. It came from the early drug stores and grocery stores in Center City. Many other items of interest from early businesses of the county may be seen - a collection of bone surgeon's instruments once belonging to Dr. Herrington of Mullin, a small child's ice cream table that once graced the back of Clements' Drug Store, one of the early permanent wave machines, an old Santa Fe Railroad desk and a standing desk.

A church bench from Big Valley, a school desk from Priddy and cases containing mementoes from schools and materials from churches of the county are to be seen.
There is an 1864 painting of George Washington, officially registered on that date.

The back of the building features many hundreds of pictures of Mills County families, businesses, school classes and church groups. A mounted buffalo head, as well as war items, are on display in this room also.

Refreshments were served to the guests on a table covered with an old pieced quilt top. Lemonade was served with a dipper from an old crock and tea cakes were served from tin Coca Cola and catsup trays. The centerpiece for the table featured old fashioned flowers

Mills County - Past, Present, Future

The above contemporary mural was painted for the Mills County Museum by Susie Kirbo Stewart of Mullin. It portrays much of the history of the county from its beginning.

San Saba Peak, seen in the background, is a landmark over 60 million years old used by early American Indians and Spanish explorers. The country road depicts the old Fort Phantom Hill trail that passed close to the base of the Peak in the early 1850s. The small white cottage is a symbol of all the brave pioneer families who came to this county and established homes against great odds. The cattle, the cowboy and his horses represent the coming of the cattle industry to the county.
The plowed field and the old plow depict the beginning of farming. The windmill represents dependence of the early settlers on the soil for sustenance.

The old Santa Fe box car, used as a hay shed in the mural, is a reminder of the coming of the railroad to the county and the important part it played in its history.
The bucket in the foreground and the milk cans seen beside the box car are symbols of milking and churning done by early families and of the dairy industry in the county. The smokehouse depicts the struggles endured by early settlers to secure food in a harsh and untamed land. The abandoned Model T car represents the coming of the automotive age.

The goat and sheep-dog portray the industry of wool and mohair and its importance to the county's economy. The two men in the foreground symbolize harmony between the residents of Mills County and with all the earth's peoples. The child is representative of Mills County's future generations and their dependence upon the present generation to see that this county is one they will be proud to inherit - a county with a sound belief in God, the only basis for a promising heritage.

of taking children to the fields. The cottage in the background depicts the early homesteads and the importance of all the members of the family to work to pay for the pre-empted land. The landscape shows a typical Mills County countryside with rolling hills and a few peaks.

Eagles Drop Opener, 30-14 To San Saba Armadillos

The Goldthwaite Eagles won't go undefeated this year ... they lost the season opener to San Saba 30-14.

The San Saba eleven hadn't tasted sweet victory since it played the Eagles in 1975, losing 19 in a row before last Friday night.

The Eagles, according to head coach Smokey Brister, made a lot of mistakes in the contest, missing tackles and losing five fumbles to the Armadillos. Brister pointed out, however, that they are the kind of mistakes that are correctable, with a lot of work and dedication.

San Saba took advantage of an "over-the-head" punt snap early in the first quarter, and following a pass interference call in the end zone, scored against the Eagles. A lost fumble following the kickoff gave San Saba the ball again on the Eagles 20 yard line. On the second play from scrimmage, Dillo signal caller Moses Cisneroz scampered in for the touchdown, the point after was missed.

Three successive pass completions by the arm of Eagle quarterback Mike Lee and end Eddy Welch netted the locals their first tally of the 1977 season. The first covered 10 yards, the second for the score covered 58 yards, and then the third, was for the point after.

This combination was the only real bright spot for the Eagles during the evening, as the duo combined for 10 completions and 215 yards in offense, a lot more than the San Saba team did as a whole.

The Dillos scored again before the intermission, following another fumble by the Eagles. Cisneroz rambled for 44 yards for the score, having been hit, but not stopped by at least 7 Eagles, and some of these twice. The conversion was good, making the score 24-8 at the half.

The third quarter was just a continuation of the half for the two teams, as they jostled and tried to get

Mills County — The Way It Was

The Great Depression

By Hartal Blackwell
(No. 6 in a series)

As the Depression intensified over the entire nation, people lost their jobs and their homes. They drifted into shanty towns - set up camps around city dumps and built small shelters from old pieces of tin and cardboard; families kept house in rusted worn-out car bodies on vacant lots, in old car dumps, or any place they found available. They made makeshift hovels from anything that could be found; they improvised tents from scraps of ducking and cloth. The camps were never far from a dump where food could be pulled from the stinking rubble of cities.

The new communities were called "Hooverilles"; other names became common such as "Hoover Hogs" referring to jackrabbits people often ate to keep from being hungry; and there were the "Hoover Blankets", referring to newspapers thousands of men used to cover themselves at night as they slept on park benches. It soon became evident that President Hoover and his administration were blamed for the condition of the country, guilty or not.

In Mills County, many families starved for hunger with squirrel dumplings and vinegar cobbles. It was almost impossible for Mills County boys between the ages of 16 and 25 to find work and if it was found, wages were low, so they took to the highways and hitchhiked to wheat fields in Kansas and Oklahoma to work in the harvest. They were paid $4 per day - a phenomenal wage. Others hitchhiked to the Texas Valley to work in the citrus crops.

One summer a truckload of Mills County boys left Goldthwaite headed for Corpus Christi to pick cotton; they rode a flat bottomed Model T truck bed with their legs dangling off the sides. It took two days to make the trip over dusty dirt roads. Lyle Geeslin, Hollis Blackwell, Chester Head, Marvin Yeager, Aubrey Head, Red Jones, Oran Cook, J. W. Roe, Shorty Jones, Bob Sparkman and Clarence Elder were part of the group. Everywhere they went they found hungry, homeless families searching for shelter and work.

Several Mills County boys took to the trains and rode freight cars; they wandered as far away as California hoping to find work of any kind. A few were picked up by the law and charged with vagrancy because they slept on park benches and had no money in their pockets; for the first and only time in their lives, they spent a night in jail. The next day they were taken to the edge of the city and told to be on their way; and so it was with Mills County's young men. Most of them returned home soon, but some found permanent employment elsewhere.

No one knows exactly how many people were out of work during the depression. A complete count was never taken, but estimates ran between 12 and 16 million. The sight of good men waiting forlornly in bread lines or clustered around a smelly garbage heap digging for food with their hands was appalling to American people. It was a period of bleak despair.

After a year or two of drifting and honestly looking for work that could not be found, men from cities and over the nation gave up hope and became Hoboes. They gathered in groups and slept on the slum street of cities. Sanitation was a very real problem, so the homeless vagabonds were rousted from their huddles and put on the roads. Eighty-five percent of the hoboes were of Caucasian race.

They rode the trains from town to town and begged for food from house to house - thousands and thousands of them. They wore old clothes, either found in a dump, or given to them from a man's worn-out wardrobe. They let their hair grow long; their beards grew because they had no razors; they became dirty and degraded - they were a hopeless, helpless mass of suffering humanity.

All Mills County residents who were around in those days will remember the Hoboes, sometimes called tramps. They rode through Goldthwaite on freight trains clinging to box cars; at times they covered the entire tops of cars. They rode inside empty freight cars if possible, but if not they clung to any available space.

At first railroad officials made an effort to keep the hoboes off their trains. In 1932 Southern Pacific ejected 683,000 trespassers seeking shelter inside their freight cars. Finally, almost all railroads gave up and added extra cars to accommodate them.

In Goldthwaite the Hoboes built a crude shelter south of town near the tracks; it was made of tin, old boards and road signs. As the trains slowed to enter the city limits, several tramps jumped off each day at their little shed. Later they came into town, knocked at back doors and begged for food. A few were willing to do odd jobs to pay for a meal.

Most housewives were terrified of tramps and slammed back doors in their faces, but a few gave them food. This fact soon became known among the Hoboes and the houses were marked as an easy touch for meals on a map of Goldthwaite homes drawn on the shanty wall; following tramps knew where to go for food.

Most hoboes were hungry, roaming men seeking nothing more than food by day and warmth by night; but among them were shoplifters and undesirable characters. Often farmers found where tramps had spent nights in their barns.

Citizens of the county complained to Sheriff Hern Harris; however, there was little he could do but send them on their way. The cost of jailing all the tramps, even for a night, would have been prohibitive. Much of Sheriff Harris' time was spent answering calls from frightened housewives complaining that tramps were at their doors.

Sr. Center Busy Labor Day With Telethon

Labor Day was a busy day at the Mills County Senior Citizen Center, for the fact that calls were being taken there for the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy. The telethon was broadcast on Channel 10, Waco.

There was a good response with a total of $442 in pledges from our area. The pledge center was manned by Star High School students, Natalie and Kelly Whitlock; Texas Womens University student, Grace Whitlock; local volunteer Rhoda Humphries; and Senior Center employee, Gerry Whitlock. Thanks to these people.

PECAN TREES

The pecan weevil is one of the most damaging insect pests of pecans. Chemical control procedures are designed to reduce emerging adult numbers before feeding and egg deposition occurs. Once the pecan has been punctured or eggs have been deposited, the nut is destroyed. Proper timing of insecticide applications and retreatment schedules are of prime importance in achieving nut protection.

Each year in early fall, pecan weevil adults emerge from the soil and move into pecan trees to mate and deposit their eggs. After an egg has been deposited, the larva will develop inside the pecan, cut a hole in the shell about 1/8 inch in diameter and emerge from the pecan as a fully grown larva in late October or December. Larvae will tunnel into the soil 4 to 12 inches. Much of the pecan weevil's 2 to 3 year life cycle is spent as a larva in the soil. Larvae that enter the soil this fall will emerge as adults.

Larvae that enter the soil this fall will emerge in August of 1979 with the exception of about 10 % of these larvae which will emerge as adults during the fall of 1980.

When pecan weevil infestations are heavy, this pest can destroy a large portion of the pecan crop. Early maturing varieties are usually more susceptible to weevil attack. Feeding of adult weevils causes the nuts in the water stage to drop. Chemical control during the water stage may be required to protect the fruit load on the tree. After the kernel begins to reach the dough stage, the nut is susceptible to egg laying. A single female may deposit up to 60 eggs over a month period. Adult weevil populations will vary greatly from year to year but in heavily infested orchards pecan weevil populations will probably be present in most years.

Frequently certain trees in the orchard are more heavily infested than others. Begin checking trees now to determine in there is a need for pecan weevil control. Several methods of checking pecan weevil infestations have been developed. Jarring of limbs gives an indication of weevil presence in trees at any given time. To accomplish this, place a large sheet under a tree and jar the limbs with a padded pole. Weevils will drop to the ground and remain motionless for a short period of time. Placing emergence cages under known infested trees and periodically recording catches has been useful in determining the presence of adult weevil emergence and indicating the number of weevils present. Insecticide applications should be applied to pecans as the pecans reach the dough stage. This can be determined by cutting through the developing pecan kernel to determine if it contains water of gel.

Nut protection can be achieved with several applications of 80% Sevin. An application rate of 2 to 3 pounds of material per 100 gallons of spray may be needed to effectively control pecan weevil infestations. Reapply the insecticide if rain occurs soon after application. There should be an interval of 5-12 days between applications. When using any pesticide, read and follow the directions given on the pesticide label carefully and use the insecticide only as directed.

Ebony Cemetery Association Holds Annual Session August 28

Members and friends of the Ebony Cemetery Association met Sunday afternoon, August 28, 1977 in the community house. The meeting was called to order by the president, Martin Cawyer. Clayton Cawyer gave the opening prayer. The secretary, Charm Whittenburg read the minutes of the last annual meeting. Alvin Ketchum gave the treasurer's report. The amount of $9,556.55 is in the permanent fund drawing 4% interest. The working fund has $5,507 in it. The money for this fund comes from donations by members and interested people who are unable to come and help on certain days. Also as much interest as is needed from the permanent fund is deposited in the working fund. The other interest money is added to the permanent fund. The greater part of the spending is for mowing. Two directors, Hubert Reeves and Raymond Webb, term of office expired. Raymond Webb preferred not to serve another term due to family illness. Hubert was re-elected and Bennie Huron of Lampasas was elected for a 3-year term. The treasurer reported that Maurice Hutcheson of Dallas had sent in a check for $100 to be used on a well. There was some discussion. Charm Whittenburg was appointed to check on the cost and report to the directors. Others at the meeting contributed and some pledged to contribute if the report is favorable for a well. The association voted to change from four work days a year to two, the fourth Saturday in April and the fourth Saturday in October. It was voted to change the annual meeting date from the fourth Sunday in August to the fourth Saturday in April at 2:00 p.m., the same as one of the work days. It was also voted that a fee of $50 would be required before a plot for future burial could be reserved. The revised edition of the constitution is ready for the press and will be mailed to all members. The Board met in a short session after the annual meeting and re-elected the same slate of officers.

By Pearl Crawford

Mrs. Pearl Chambers and little girl from Brownwood were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Whatley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nowell, Mark, Mathew, Mary and Michael of Temple were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nowell. They helped them celebrate their wedding anniversary and did some hunting. They reported good luck.

Warren Harris of Goldthwaite visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Harris over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Bufe and grandsons of Houston, came by and visited a while with George and Pearl Crawford and did some hunting but didn't find much game. We had quite a few hunters but birds are scarce because it is so dry.

A. L. Crawford reported he had a lot of hunters down his way also.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Stahnke have enjoyed visitors and family reunions during the holiday weekend.

Andy Wells has been sewing grain, and reported he had finished and was ready for a rain. We received a little shower Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, Letrecia and Leona, did a little hunting and driving around. We were glad to see them.

R. J. Schindler was by to see us. We miss seeing him more often.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Ratliff have been doing some visiting. They are doing nicely.

We wish all the sick folks a speedy recovery. We send our love and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hopper. She had a long stay in the hospital.

Honoree

A birthday party, honoring C. H. Black, was given in the home of his mother, Mrs. Ora Black, recently. A delicious barbecue with all the trimmings was served to some 200 guests, some traveling from as far away as Nederland, Alice and Houston. The Klitter Klatter Band of Mills County entertained with several lively numbers. Including songs by soloist, C.H., which brought back pleasant memories. There was tap dancing by the Cecil Bradley's granddaughter from Alice.

The beautiful gifts were appreciated, and thanks to every one who helped, and came to my party. It was a very memorial occasion.

Holden Reunion Held Sunday,

Supper was served at their home on 901 South Parker to their family and their nieces and nephews arriving on Saturday.

Sundays events were held at their cabin on Lake Merritt, where fifty people from five states gathered. Lunch was served in the picnic area, following the presentation of their anniversary cake. Visiting and picture taking were the highlights of the afternoon.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bloomer and Patricia of Dallas, and Teri of Corpus, and Harrah Ray of Tucson, and Mrs.

"You only live once!"

One answer to that one is, "But that's exactly the point."

Nobody could deny that young people have very special problems. Pressures. Drives. Impulses. Loneliness. Uncertainty. It's not hard to make a mistake. Even a disastrous one.

Yet very little maturity brings the realization that you're the You you have to live with all your life—mistakes and all.

If you're young, now's the best time to think about the moral values you'll want to live by five years from now. And ten. And twenty. The values, perhaps, you'd like your own children to share.

Look to your Faith now to help you find the way of life you really want for yourself. Then live your Faith. You may find there is much more to you than you ever dreamed.

NEW HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

If you are interested in learning how to save money, how to cook new dishes and plan meals for your family, how to refinish furniture how to decorate, how to sew by short cuts, and in general how to do things for you and your family - then you should belong to a Home Demonstration Club.

Not only would you learn but you would make new friends.

Plans now are to form new clubs during September so - If you are interested, call 648-2650 in the morning on Monday-Friday and leave you name, address and phone number. This does not mean that you are a member-just that you are interested.

Home Demonstration Club are open to all women regardless of race, color, or ethnic background and economic circumstance.

Beautiful arrangements of flowers for you summer garde. n require the same basic treatment they would receive in any florist's shop.

Some simple tips will keep the fresh and natural look in your flowers and make your patient efforts at gardening a reward for you and a delight for others.

Begin your garden arrangement by selecting flowers and foliage in the early morning or late afternoon hours when the plants retain the most moisture. Be sure to cut the stems at a slant with a sharp knife or scissors.

For an attractive arrangement, use buds or newly opened blossoms, never old flowers. Cut wilting or damaged flowers away while leaving mature flowers for outdoor beauty.

After removing any dirt and the lower one-third of foliage from the flowers store them in a cooler or refrigerator or use immediately.

The container for your arrangement should be properly cleaned before use.

Finished bouquets should be placed away from direct sun or drafts. Changing the water daily and recutting the stems will add to the flowers' life. Use warm but not hot water.

A few extra days of beauty can be added with a weak solution of lemonade, not with aspirin or copper pennies as preciously believed.

A summer sales "buying plan"--for fall and holiday shopping --can mean significant savings, starting in early July.

In planning for these sales, look ahead and determine needs for summer's end and fall--and then consider holiday gift buying.

Remember the best selection is available at the beginning of the sale, but the best prices are at the end of the sale--with possible saving of 30-50 percent of greater.

Clothing is one of the big items on sale, with bathing suits and sportswear often at big reductions.
Other budget stretchers are children's clothing, men's shirts, lingerie, summer clothes--and yard goods.

Summer sports equipment is another item to check-along with rugs and carpets.

Cattlemen Meeting September 12

The Independent Cattleman's Association of Mills County will meet in the Community Room of the Mills County State Bank at 8:30 P.M., Monday night Sept. 12th.

Bill Dyer from San Saba, State Director and John Roberts, Counselor of District 12, from Fredonia, will also be in attendance.

Many important issues that were discussed at the State Convention of ICA held in Austin in August will be explained and this should be very interesting.

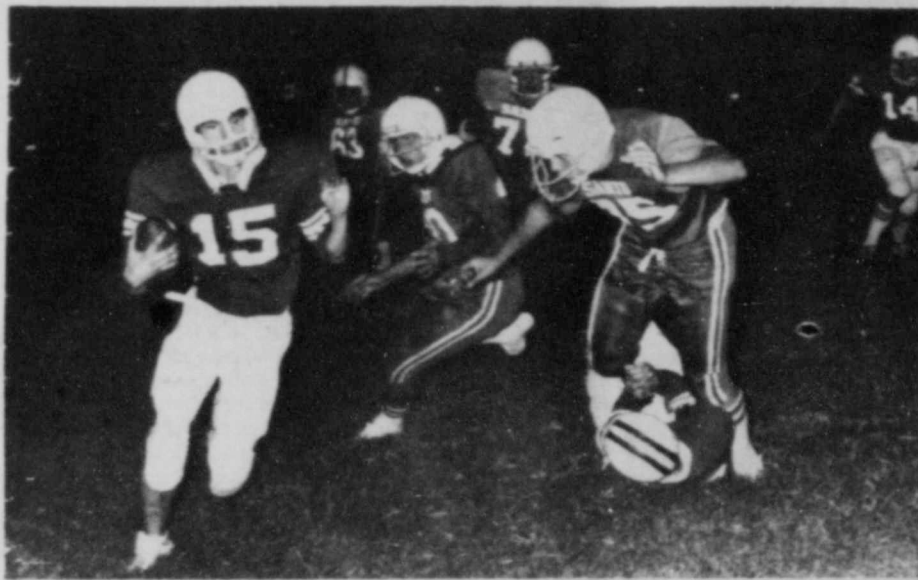

Mike Makes Stop

Mike Lee, 12, Goldthwaite safety gets low and makes the tackle against a San Saba ball carrier last Friday.

Goldthwaite registered more total offense and first downs than the Armadillos but costly mistakes costs the Eagles the victory.

Minica Scores

Ricky Minica, 15, clears the right side of the line for a 10 yard touchdown for the Mullin Bulldogs.

Mullin defeated Santo 50-0 in the game last Thursday.

Besides Minica's score, Jeff Shelton carried 6 touchdowns and Teddy Hasley recovered a fumble in the end zone for a touchdown.

Delton Whisenhunt lead the defense with 12 tackles. Coach Alan Luker commented that the team played a lot better this week than they did in the scrimmage the week before. He stated that Jerry King, Lewis Hodges, Joe Mangham, Steve Mosier and Charlie Connley played a fine game.

The Bulldogs are open this week and travel to Paint Rock Thursday, September 15, for an 8 p.m. game. Paint Rock defeated Mozelle 55-20 last week.

One That Didn't Get Away

O. L. Bohannon, who resides near the Colorado River at Regency in western Mills County, caught this 45 pound yellow catfish, Thursday, September 1. The fish was caught at his place, using perch for bait. The large fish was not alone on the trotline, an eight pounder was just two hooks down ... not bad for one drag of the line.

Baptist Assn. Meeting Sept. 12

Mills County Baptist Association will hold their monthly meeting on Sept. 12, 1977 at the Center City Baptist Church.

The program is under the direction of John Davidson, annuity chairman of the association, and will begin at 7:30 P.M.

The guest speaker will be Bill Roe, of the Annuity Department of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. Mr. Roe will present the annuity program of Southern Baptist and encourages every church to be in attendance.

The Center City church will host a fellowship hour at 6:30 P.M. at which time the associational executive board will also meet.

The longest sustained drive of the game (7 plays) netted the Eagles their next score. The tally came on a 10 yard aerial to split end Mike Connally, from the arm of Lee. This score made the figures 24-14.

Things were looking up for the Eagles, as there was over 8 minutes remaining in the fracas, but a fumble and a long run by Cisneroz quelched local hopes. The Dillos made it 30-14 with only 3 minutes to go.

The Eagles spurred again late in the game, only to have a pass intercepted on the San Saba 20 yard line to stop the drive.

Brister said, regarding individual players, that quarterback Mike Lee did a great job of leading the team, replacing the injured Jett Johnson at that position. Also, Eddy Welch handled the pass routes very well and received the ball beautifully. Welch also performed admirably on defense. "Overall", Brister said, "our primary concern is a lack of a running game."

GAME AT A GLANCE

Eagles	Dillos
14 First Downs	11
59 Rushing Yardage	98
289 Passing Yardage	56

Hamilton Game--

The Goldthwaite Eagles travel to Hamilton Friday night to do battle with the Bulldogs, beginning at 8 p.m.

Hamilton, fresh from its 21-0 win over Hico, is much improved this year, having virtually the same team as it had last year. The offense is constructed around Carl Mize, a big 190 pound fullback. The Bulldogs tied DeLeon 1-1 in a scrimmage session earlier in the year.

Eagles coach Smokey Brister says that Hamilton has a load of experience and a lot of size, making it the best team from Hamilton in several years.

JUNIOR HIGH AND JUNIOR VARSITY GAMES

Three games will be held here Thursday night, in an expanded junior high and junior varsity schedule. The new seventh grade team will precede the junior varsity game against Hamilton.

The seventh grade game will begin at 5:30 and the others will follow in succession. Some sixth graders have been added to get enough players to make two teams instead of the combined unit. It will be the season opener for the junior high teams.
