

Bull Town Bulletins

By Bill Ellis

THE SAGA OF the Rev. Jesse Jackson, Demo Presidential candidate, Peace Guru and Upholder of All Things Holy, continues without letup.

The latest chapter in the life and times of the by now somewhat predictable Jackson has been reeled off this week in Central America, where he has offered not only platitudes for peace but perhaps created more problems than he has solved.

After his arrival in Panama, where he chastised the U.S. for building the Panama Canal, which he called "A badge of disgrace," to stopovers in El Salvador, Cuba and Nicaragua, the Rev. Jackson was big on words but little on real accomplishment.

Back home, one has to wonder not only what President Reagan and Demo leader Walter Mondale must be thinking, but what a majority of Jackson's fellow Americans think about being held up to ridicule.

It is one thing to be an ambassador for peace and goodwill, and we find no fault in individuals acting in that context as long as it is understood they are doing so as private citizens, but it is another to involve high level policy in such efforts.

Jackson has repeatedly done this, whether it was in his highly publicized journey to Syria where he obtained the release of a U.S. airman, or the present trip to Cuba, where Premier Fidel Castro made a token gesture of goodwill by releasing some political prisoners.

It should be obvious, even to the most rabid among Jackson followers, that he is being blatantly used, or at best, tolerated by those who host him.

Premier Castro, El Salvador's President Duarte, the Panamanians and Nicaraguans know Jackson does not make U.S. foreign policy, nor for that matter really influence it.

What they do know, however, is that the man spouting peace slogans mixed with a moral overtone has a wide appeal among many in the world, including those of his own race and others who never stop to take a realistic look at the world.

While upbraiding the U.S. and American citizens at every opportunity, the Rev. Jackson conveniently ignores the role of Cuban-Soviet Marxism in Central America or terrorism in the Midwest.

In all his "preacher" moralizing, he never gets around to talking about what those prisoners were doing in jail in Cuba in the first place, about the wrongs of the rebels, about the innocent people who die at the hands of terrorists.

Jackson may tread where diplomats don't dare. But "taking the show on the road" and being a hit at the box office--that is, solving anything--are two different things. And that precisely is the point. It may be good show, but what else? It is a question the Democratic Party and American voters also must answer sooner or later.

Trade Days Are Set Here

Bovina's first "Trade Days" will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 17, 18 and 19.

This will be held at the FFA Show Barn, at the end of North Street.

Spaces for booths for vendors will be free of charge and electricity will be available, if needed, for a fee.

The Trade Days, a flea market, is planned for the third Friday of each month and will be sponsored by the Bovina Chamber of Commerce.

Anyone interested in having a booth for the flea market is asked to call Joe Jones, 238-1175, after 6 p.m.

The Chamber will have a called meeting Monday, July 9 at 8 a.m. at the Community Room of First State Bank.

SOUVENIRS.... Coolie caps are among the popular items of clothing worn by the Chinese people and among souvenirs brought back by Gene and Ginny Ezells on their recent tour to China's five principle cities. Before returning to the states, they spent three weeks in Japan with daughter Joany and Dick Horn.

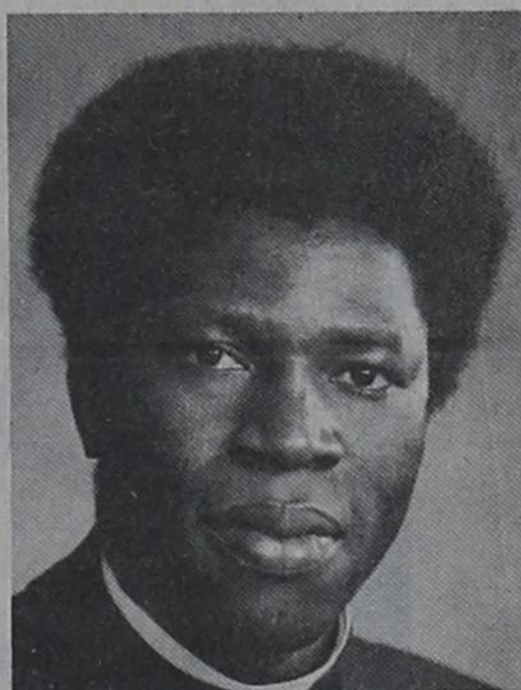

Father Afunugo To Be Installed Here July 15

Father Emmanuel Afunugo is the new priest for St. Ann's Church in Bovina and St. Teresa's in Friona. Installation will be at St. Ann's Church on Friday, July 15 at St. Ann's Parish Hall in Bovina. Bishop L.T. Matthiesen will officially install Father Emmanuel.

Father Emmanuel Afunugo left his home in Nigeria over ten years ago. For 25 generations his family has ruled the Ibo tribe located twelve miles from the city of Onitsha.

The youngest of four children, Fr. Emmanuel was sent to a private boarding school from the first through the twelfth grade, and was taught by British and Irish missionaries. At the age of 17, with the urging of Father Patrick Dunn, he became a professional soccer player for a few years before entering college in London, England. When he arrived at London College for Medicine, Fr. Emmanuel studied two years of pre-med before deciding to become a priest.

He received his Bachelor's Degree in Philosophy before coming to the United States. Upon his arrival in America, Fr. Emmanuel enrolled in Konrick Seminary in St. Louis.

EMMANUEL AFUNUGO

Several years later he earned his Master's in Theology.

Bishop L.T. Matthiesen invited him to come to Amarillo on a trial basis. As time went by, however, Fr. Emmanuel was asked to stay in the Diocese of Amarillo. "I've been at St. Joseph's as a seminarian, then a Deacon, and recently as Associate Pastor," said Fr. Emmanuel.

Father Sherry, Bovina's former priest, has returned to New Zealand.

QUALITY SERVICE MONTH.... The Bovina Post Office held an open house and reception on Tuesday, June 26, in observance of Quality Service Month. The reception was held in the foyer of the post office and 125 guests were served refreshments and given a tour of the post office. Pictured above are Vi Hutto, Flossie Rhinehart, with Post Master, Laura Bartlett.

China Tour Report Given By Gene Ezells

By SCOOTER RUSSELL

"China is a sleeping giant, about to awaken," is the opinion of Gene and Ginny Ezells, who returned June 13 from a tour to China's five principle cities, from the north to the southern border.

Their first taste of China was in Shanghai, where they landed and viewed the largest city in the world with over twelve million people.

China's population is one billion, a fourth of the world's population.

In Shanghai there are no privately owned automobiles, only business autos (with State's permission), trucks and bicycles. Bicycles can be seen by the thousands and are the main mode of transportation. While there it was reported that 500 bicycles cross an intersection in one minute. They cost 16 to 55 yen, (American money $8.27), which is a month's salary.

While parents work in Shanghai, their children were left at Children's Palace, where the group toured. Children here are taught opera, dancing, arts, crafts, all about musical instruments, and young boys are taught to build small airplanes and boats. Any subject is offered to fulfill the children's interests.

They visited the Buda Temple, shopping in the largest shopping center in China. They said the crowds were like American stores during the Christmas season.

The people live in large areas of small hovels. Their personalities are very different. Chinese people are not bashful or hesitant to carry on a conversation. While at the trade center, three young men came up to them and asked if they could practice their English on them. In conversation with them, the Ezells said they had purchased English books and were self taught. They spoke perfect English. The young men asked questions about Americans' freedoms and seemed very interested.

There is hardly any crime in China. If one is caught stealing, he is put to death. The tourists were told they could leave belongings or their purses on the bus or anywhere because they would not be taken.

The Chinese are very respectful of their old people and take very good care of them. When a daughter marries into a family, she leaves her family and becomes a part of her husband's. If they are divorced, she remains with his family.

The population in China is now being controlled by the state. A couple is allowed only one child. A few weeks after the couple is expecting a child, tests are run to determine the sex. Most prefer sons and if the baby is not their choice, it is aborted. If they have more than one child, the state cuts them completely off from their free benefits, such as medical, educational or any kind of help. Only the very wealthy can have more than one child. The Ezells said there were lots of little boys to be seen.

The Ezells then flew to Xi'an, a city with "only" one half million people, considered small. Its main attraction is its ancient history of Terra Cotta warriors and horses at the tomb of Qin Shi Huang. In 1974, this site was accidentally uncovered and then dug up. It was a warrior army of men and horses made of clay and buried in 210 BC, by one of Chinese dynasty. The Ezells had pictures and the sculptures were perfect and each man's face had a different facial appearance. It was said that dust had settled over the creation and eventually buried with time.

A large number of people live in communes. They live and work together. Here, there is no running water, only dirt floors and stoves on the outside which burn charcoal.

The group visited a hospital and were able to watch as the doctors performed acupuncture. One lady in the group, who suffered with bursitis, asked if they could treat her and felt nothing as needles were inserted. During the remaining tour, she suffered no pain from her bursitis.

They then flew to Beijing, which at one time was called Peking. The names of several cities have been changed by the communists. Beijing is now the capitol. There are nine million people here and it is the center of tourist attraction in China and a very progressive city. This is where the Ezells had the feeling that "China was a sleeping giant, about to awaken." It is very modern and a city that has joint ventures with American businesses. America is in charge of management and China provides the employees.

They visited very modern hotels that were all joint ventures with West Germany and Japan. Here they are using foreign technology and knowledge. IBM is now moving 200 families to the country. This city, according to the Ezells is getting away from communism. The guide on their tour was communist and was not allowed to go into the hotel with the group.

They made a train trip of 45 miles from Beijing to see, in their opinion, the most awesome sight that was ever created by man and that was the 3,000 mile long Great Wall, which zig-zags along China's northern border. At one time it was 30,000 miles long. This is one of the sights that could be seen by our astronauts as they traveled in outer space and it resembles a giant dragon with a wagging tail. It was built to keep invaders out of China. It is presently being restored. While Reagan visited there recently, traffic was completely halted on the great wall, all 3,000 miles.

Beijing is a contrast to Shanghai. Here one can see lots of business cars, trucks and taxis, who charge very little. Gene and Ginny traveled five miles and were charged $1.50.

They visited Ming Imperial Palace and Museum, Temple of Heaven, Summer Palace and the Forbidden City, which at one time had been a ruler's home and had over one thousand rooms.

They were able to view the body of Mao here and said his remains were in perfect condition. People were lined up to see him. While in the area they were not allowed to speak or carry any items with them.

They saw the Panda bears at the zoo. This is where Nancy Reagan donated $50,000 to "save the Pandas."

They saw the great Cloisonne factory where jewelry and all types of vases are made, all so lovely.

Every evening they attended the theaters. Their meals were American breakfasts every morning and Chinese food for lunch and dinner. The Chinese food was good, then said, they had the same fourteen items for every lunch and every dinner. One of the items served was a platter of sparrows baked in sauce. Gene ate a little and Ginny only tasted. She said she could never look another sparrow in the face.

They flew to Guilin, which was very beautiful and thought to have been the ocean bottom at one time. The huge rock formations were everywhere, with very pretty vegetation and lots of rice patties on the river's edge. People here were still using water buffalo to farm with and there was no farm machinery. Rice was still being planted by hand.

They flew to Guangchow, originally Canton, and spent the night at a gorgeous hotel which was a joint venture with German businessmen.

They traveled by train three hours to Hong Kong and found it to be the most modern of all cities with many automobiles.

Free enterprise is everywhere and prices are not placed on items to be sold. One bargains for everything he purchases. The Ezells bought the famous "Members Only" jackets for $10. In the states they sell for $52.

They said when they arrived in Hong Kong, they actually ran to buy a Big Mac, and how wonderful it was to taste of American food!

The Ezells said there was no fear in traveling in China as there had been in other parts of the world.

Gene and Ginny had a wonderful time in China with lots of beautiful memories and said, "We wouldn't trade our trip or our experiences for all the tea in China."

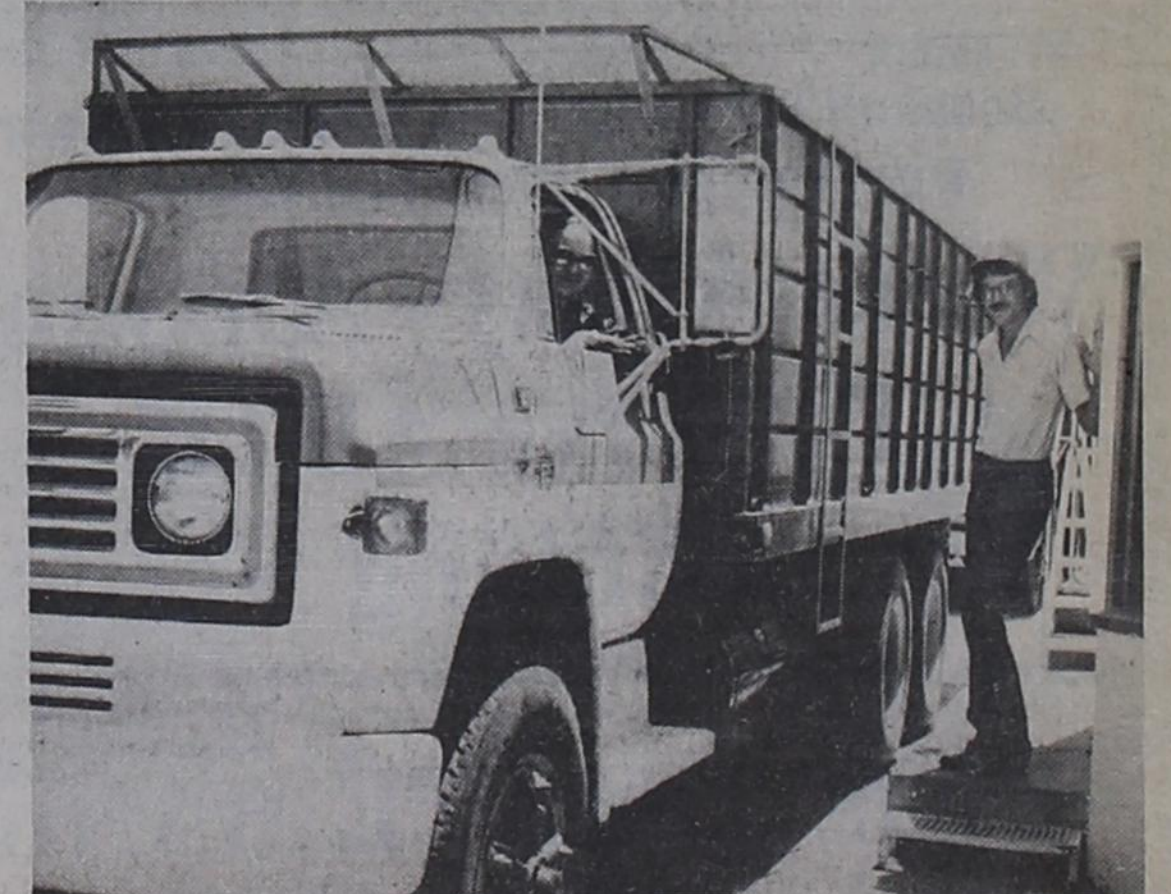

Local Residents Attend P.O. Open House

Open House was held Tuesday, June 26, at the Bovina Post Office to observe Quality Service Month and about 125 people signed the guest book. Open house was hosted by employees, Vi Hutto, Flossie Rhinehart, and Laura Bartlett.

Guests were registered in the foyer of the Post Office and refreshments of cookies, coffee and iced tea were served and prepared by the employees.

The serving table was decorated in bright colors of yellow and white. Flowers consisted of yellow and orange day lilies donated by Ola Lee Jones. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Caldwell sent an arrangement of white gladiolas, yellow carnations and yellow spider mums.

Postmaster Laura Bartlett and Flossie Rhinehart conducted guests on a tour of the Post Office and showed them the functions of the office.

A TYPICAL SCENE around the Bovina area are the female truckers, helping out during wheat and barley harvest. Shown is Leatha Treinen driving and Ronnie Ward, an employee of Sherley Grain Company.

City's First Mayor Dies At Lorenzo

Services were held at 11 a.m. Friday, June 29 at the First Baptist Church in Lorenzo for W. O'Dell Cherry, 79, with Sid Parsley, Reverend Ray Elmore and Travis Boyd officiating.

Burial was in Lorenzo Cemetery and was directed by Carter Adams Funeral Home in Ralls, New Mexico.

He died at 9:53 Monday in St. Mary's in Lubbock after a brief illness. He was born January 8, 1905 in Hood County, Texas. He married Edith Childress June 1928 in Bellevue, Texas.

He graduated from Tarleton College in Stephenville, WTSU in Canyon, and Texas Tech in Lubbock where he received his master's degree.

He taught at several schools and was superintendent at McAdoo, Bovina and Lorenzo. He was superintendent 18 years at Lorenzo and retired in 1967. He helped to incorporate Bovina and was Bovina's first mayor.

He was a member and deacon of Lorenzo's First Baptist Church, a member of the Lions Club, Senior Citizens, Lorenzo Cemetery Association and city council. He was a thirty-two degree Mason, a Shriner and a member of the Lorenzo Masonic Lodge.

He moved to Lorenzo in 1925. He is survived by his wife, Edith Cherry of Lorenzo; his mother, Annie of Lorenzo; one son, Major Cherry in the U.S. Army, stationed at Fort Irwin in Barstow, California.

Survivors also include four daughters, Mary Peckinpaugh of Roswell, Lera Logan of Ralls, New Mexico, Patricia Brown of Lorenzo, and Linda Blansitt of Austin; two brothers, Mell Cherry of Lorenzo and Herman of LaJunta, Colorado; four sisters, Inez Brian and Johnnie Eldridge, both of Crosbyton, Sarah Jane Kidwell of Lorenzo, Jessie McDougal of Locksburg, Arkansas; also fifteen grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren.

Grandsons served as pallbearers.

GOOD GARDEN.... Pictured is Alma Alverson standing in her garden at 303 Seventh Street. Good rains and warm temperatures have caused yards and gardens in Bovina to thrive. Alma gives much credit for her beautiful garden to daughter and son-in-law, Janie and Glendon Sudderth.

Scooter's Scoops

By Scooter Russell

The Blade will not be mailed on Wednesday of this week because of the July Fourth holiday being on Wednesday and when you get the paper the holiday will have passed. We hope you had a great day as we celebrated the 208th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, and the message of this document which reads, "We hold these truths to be self evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness... The value of gold and other worldly fortunes fluctuates widely, but the priceless gift of the Declaration of Independence—underwritten by the lives of those who signed it and of generations of Americans who have followed—is undiminished.

Hope your celebration was a sizzling one.

NEWS AROUND TOWN...

We received a letter from the Ralph Adays of Granby, Missouri, and former Bovinians. While living here, their fourth child, Shanon, was born and she graduated from high school this year. She was valedictorian of her class. She received several scholarships and will be attending college at East Texas Baptist College in Marshall.

The Adays' daughter, Susan, lives with her husband and two sons at Ft. Hood; their son, Paul, his wife and daughter live at Atlanta, Georgia, where he is a minister of music; and Phil is now half way through dental school and he and his wife are living in Dallas.

Anyway, it's always good to catch up on the Adays. They lived in Bovina and left here in 1967. Wanda has been working several years in their school and this year she was the elementary library aide. Brother Ralph is working with the Goodman Church Builders.

Tami and Arty Kunselman and daughters, Gina and Jamie, went last week to Mountain Home, Idaho, and visited Tami's sister Janee and her family. They came back last Friday morning to the Cimmaron Canyons where Jim and I met them at our trailer there and all spent the weekend. Tami and Arty brought Jason and Renee, our grandkids from Idaho, who will be spending about a month with us. We had a good time in the mountains. There were people everywhere! The fishing was good.

We want to congratulate Lowell and Billie Primrose on the birth of a new grandson, Michael Dean, born Friday, June 29 to their son and his wife, Joe and Prescilla Primrose of Farmington, New Mexico. The couple have two daughters, Tammy, 12 and Carol, 8.

Also congratulations to the great-grandmother, Maudie Primrose of Oklahoma Lane.

The baby was born last Friday. Lowell and Billie went down on Saturday to get acquainted with the little boy and brought his sisters home with them Sunday, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Benito Arizmendez enjoyed a good visit with their son, Stf. Sgt. Benito Jr., who is stationed at the Air Force Base in Tacoma, Washington. He left on Monday of last week after spending two and one-half weeks with his family and friends. A buddy of Benito's, Kevin Lahandeo, who is originally from Connecticut was able to come to Texas with him for a visit.

While here the young men were honored with an enchilada dinner at the Arizmendez home at 1005 Avenue D. Fifty friends and family members gathered for a meal and a great time together.

Rusty and Rebecca Smallwood were in Bovina over the weekend visiting Rebecca's parents, the Larry Hodnetts. Rusty and Rebecca have recently married and are living in Leveland.

Eloise Dixon attended the W.T. Segers family reunion in recent days at Edmond, Oklahoma. W.T. and Elizabeth Segers were Eloise's grandparents. Also at the reunion among the thirty-five attending was her sister, Elizabeth Carter of Pampa.

Eloise's husband, John, was hospitalized in Friona for a day and a half suffering with a virus but has recuperated and is home.

Rocky and Renee Bartlett had visitors over the past few days, friends, Art and Star Hunter from Midland, Texas.

Martha Garner and her daughter and grandchildren, Donna, Kerri, Kory, Kevin and Kelli drove last Saturday to Dallas and helped Martha's mother, Joycie Blevins, celebrate her birthday. A family reunion was held at the home of Martha's brother, L.H. Blevins of Garland. The group enjoyed the swimming pool in the back yard and had a great visit together.

Donna's family that was able to be with her mother were her brother, Boyd Morrison of Garland, L.H. Blevins of Garland, and Nina Mae McSwain, also of Garland. One sister was not able to be with them.

"I was surprised how quick the variety was ready to graze."

"In fact, some of my neighbors tried to rent my pasture when they saw how much better established it was than others all around us."

Pioneer[®] variety 2157 gets off to a fast start, quickly establishing the kind of healthy, vigorous growing stand so necessary for good pasture. Its upright growth habit helps provide maximum available grazing.

And because 2157 has proven to be such a good yielder, you can count on it to deliver top-quality wheat at season's end.

If pasture is part of your wheat program, new 2157 should be, too.

New Wheat Variety 2157
Superior Yield • Excellent Standability • Outstanding Grazing

"When I pulled my combine into the field, I knew for sure this wasn't an ordinary wheat crop."

"That 2157 was standing out there good and straight. And when I moved down the rows, I could hear the cylinders running full."

Farmers who've seen this impressive new high yielding variety like its standability and tolerance to dry growing periods and severe weather. It has excellent resistance to leaf rust, stem rust, fungal leaf blights, soil borne mosaic virus and the Hessian fly.

In side-by-side comparisons, Pioneer[®] brand 2157 wheat has consistently out-yielded other popular varieties. And it has shown consistently high test weights.

summer, first to Virginia in April for a visit and on to Dallas.

June 23 and 24, she and all of her children and grandchildren attended the Cumpton family reunion in Cortez, Colorado. They are Nancy and Eric Perkins of Dallas and their children, Sharon, Russell and Jeffrey; Patsy and Bill Cumpton of Falls Church, Virginia and their children, Laura and B.J.; Don and Linda Cumpton and sons, Brent and David of Abilene; Rex and Connie Cumpton and daughter Amy of Farwell.

The family reunion consisted of Bobby's late husband, Allen's dad, W. Earl Cumpton, and members of his family. Bobby said Allen's dad, Earl, is now 86 years old and is still in good health. Five generations of the family were present for the reunion. Sixty-six people attended.

Nell Roach underwent surgery on her hip on Wednesday of last week in the High Plains Hospital in Clovis. I talked with her daughter, Frances Gober, and she said she is getting along real well and can have visitors. She is in room number 104.

Esta Lee and Edwin Lide went a couple of weeks ago to Alamogordo, New Mexico, and visited with their daughter and granddaughter, Donna Beth and April. Esta Lee said their daughter Donna Beth is working and going to school at the New Mexico State University. They had a good visit and enjoyed being with granddaughter, April.

Thank you for helping with the Scoops... appreciate your calls... Scooter.

Society Met Locally

The Guadalupe Society held their monthly meeting Sunday, July 1 at 1 p.m. at the Parish Hall.

The president, Rita Villarreal, passed out the workbooks for the new year, which started with this meeting.

The first project is a social. Each member is to bring a friend to this gathering. A salad supper will be served and those in charge are Lupe DeLeon and Dora Rejino. A date for the supper will be announced later.

Future programs were discussed and also planned.

Tickets were distributed among the members for a raffle. A drawing will be held November 8. Donations are $1.00 each. First prize is $500 and second and third prizes are $100 each. You need not be present to win.

General cleaning of the rectory will be August 7 at 8:30 a.m. All members are urged to be present.

A Hereford Deanery Board Meeting will be held Tuesday, July 3 at 7:30 p.m. in Nazareth, Texas. Business to be discussed will be the Diocesan Convention which the Hereford Deanery is hosting this year. The Guadalupe Society president is Rita Villarreal, and members of the board are Dora Rejino and Lupe Rodriguez.

The meeting adjourned with a prayer led by the president and refreshments were served by Graciela Ortiz, Isabel Leal and Elva DeLeon.
