The Blunt Edge

By LELAND BOYD

Hitching one's wagon to a star as urged by a poet isn't simple—neither is shooting a rocket to the moon. This was demonstrated thoroughly by the recent shot at the moon by the U. S. Air Force.

As were many observers we have talked with, we were disappointed. The moon target was missed, and the U. S. missed a timely accomplishment to have as a harping point in the propaganda battle with the forces of communism.

But we were more interested in success of the venture for information purposes than for use as a brag. It would have perhaps satisfactorily answered the question, "What is on the other side of the moon?"

What the other side of the moon is like doesn't make a lot of difference unless you get to thinking about it. After you think about it awhile, it gets to bothering you. As the curiosity swells, a body would almost give almost a thousand dollars to know what the unseen portion of the moon is.

It would be worth the $1,000 or more, just to know what the hidden part of the moon contains. What a tremendous feeling of success it would be to say to the next person who asks what-do-you-know, "I know what is on the other side of the moon."

A figure much more significant than $1,000 has been spent trying to find out what is on the other side, and the amount will probably be multiplied by itself before scientists discover the secret to getting to the moon.

The struggle to reach outer space is proving costly, but it should in the future be a highly profitable project.

I was talking with Roy Whisler a few days ago about space exploring. Whisler allows that he cannot understand the viewpoint held by a few people that space travel and exploration was not meant for man. Neither can I understand that.

You can hear some people express the idea that God didn't intend for man to explore space, nor learn of its secrets. Maybe he didn't, but if it is that way, man will never succeed.

I imagine this idea is a repetition of Columbus' time with people saying God didn't intend for man to find out what is on the other side of the water.

When Columbus got over here, he found the continents, and people were living on them.

It is similar to this with space travel?

Will other human life occupy the various planets? Scientists don't have any idea that life could exist elsewhere than earth, but nevertheless, it hasn't been proved otherwise.

If they do what are their characteristics?

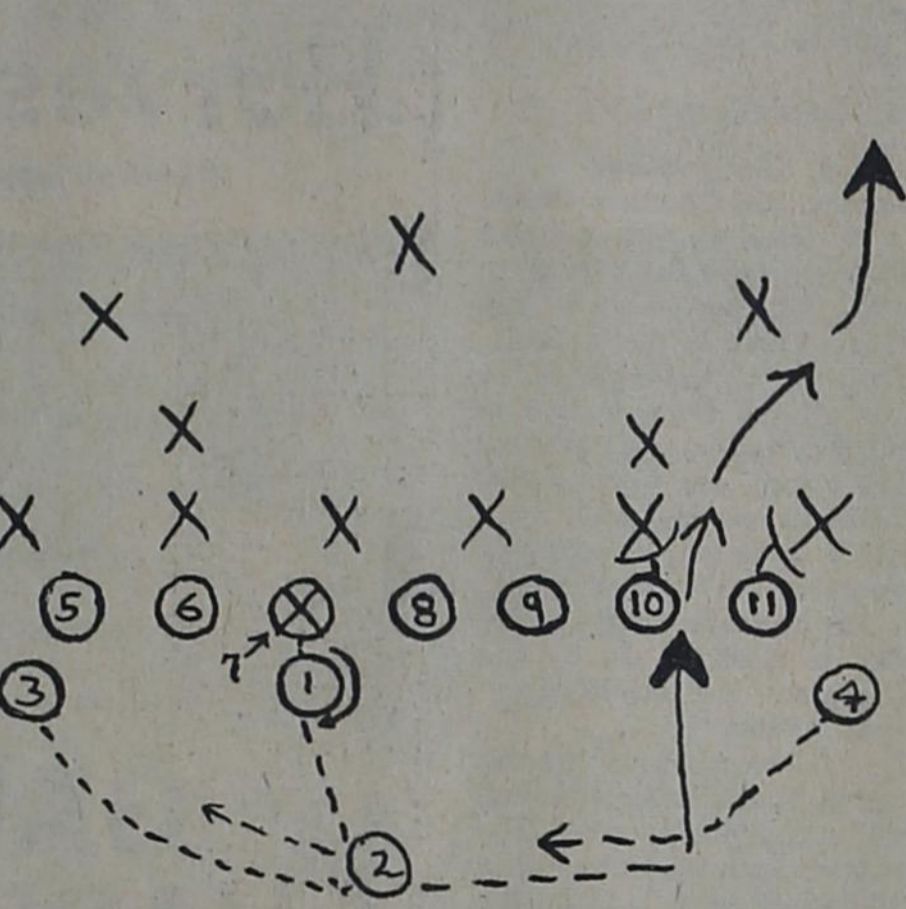

Through media of Buck Rogers comic books, science fiction magazines, and science fiction motion pictures, most everybody has the idea that life on other planets would be superior to humanity as it is known today on earth. This is not necessarily so.

Maybe we could teach them a few tricks, show them how to live better, and foul up their hunting grounds like the white man did for the Indians living wild in the New World. Maybe we could show them that it is best to live in a hurry to go somewhere and do nothing, in constant fear of world war, under ever increasing taxes, making payments on merchandise not really needed but purchased because it was a bargain, and saving more and more books of trading stamps.

This week, Oct. 12-18, is Oil Progress Week. Ever think about how much oil products and derivatives mean to modern living?

Mustangs Maul Pirates 30-22

A TOUCHDOWN PLAY--The diagram shows the play that netted the second touchdown for the Mustangs, the first time it was used this season. Billy Burnam (3) lines up at left wing back, Don Caldwell (1) takes the ball, gives to James Lawlis (2) who hands off to Burnam. Arrows show routes. Four is Don Bandy, Jerry Strawn 5, John Lorenz 6, Kent Glasscock 7, Jack Clayton 8, Furman Kelso 9, Ronnie Isham 10, and Ramey Brandon 11.

The Mustangs of Bovina clobbered the Cooper Pirates 30-22 Friday night of last week for their second win of the season.

A combination of sparking running and blocking, and a hard hitting offensive play handed the Mustangs for the first time last week by Coach Bobby Willis was the deciding element that gave the Mustangs the edge over the Pirates on the opponents' homecoming night.

It was James Lawlis and Bill Burnam's charging that sparked the Mustang's backfield, and helped the Bovina team to chalk up 341 yards offensively as compared to the Cooper Pirates' 219 total.

The second win of the season for the Mustangs heralded ed a new look for the entire Mustang team. The Mustangs stuck to a running attack and stingy defensive action to deny the Pirates.

Lawlis opened the scoring for the Mustangs with a 25-yard dash over right end and tackle. Burnam carried for the two pointer after Lawlis' TD.

The score remained in Bovina's favor only five plays, and a Cooper scoring drive from the 49 yard line was successful. The Pirates then kicked to Ramey Brandon who was tackled on the Mustang 32 yard line.

Burnam brought the Bovina score to 14 points on the next offensive play, on a 68-yard counter during which he shook off two Cooper defenders.

Lawlis scored for the Mustangs next on another 25-yard scamper through a truck-sized hole. Burnam carried for two more points, and Bovina led in scoring 22-8.

Burnam carried again for paydirt after one exchange of the ball between the teams. Brandon captured a Pirate pass on the Bovina 34-yard stripe to give the Mustangs possession.

The Mustangs moved to the Pirates' 37 yard line before Burnam again bumped off two Coopers in a TD jaunt. Burnam harvested the two point after on his TD that finished the Bovina scoring.

Roger Ezell, back in action and going strong after being out of the Mustang lineup for three games of the season, captured two Cooper fumbles, and was a mote in the Pirates' backfield.

Brandon snared two of the Pirates' passes to thwart the Cooper offensive attack.

Lions Told Of Aircraft

Jet air ships and other workings of the U. S. Air Force was the topic of a special speaker at the Thursday night meeting of the Bovina Lions Club.

Capt. Bobby Meads of Cannon Air Base of Clovis was the speaker.

The airman presented a film on Tactical Air Command showing a routine mission of three light jet bombers. The bombers began the mission at an air base in Texas, flew to Newfoundland, and across the Atlantic Ocean to allied bases. To make the trip, in-air refueling was used, which was presented in the film.

Questions of the club members were asked for, and Carl Rea, who farms south of Bovina, asked, "What kind of planes are those that nearly knock farmers off our tractors every day or two?"

The embarrassed captain replied that there should not be any planes almost knocking him off a tractor. If Rea would get the identification of the plane, a stop would be put to the practice of "buzzing" farmers on tractors.

Capt. Meads demonstrated a high-altitude flying suit for flights over low-temperature water, complete with helmet, water tight clothes, etc.

Guests at the meeting were Duane Lucas of Friona, and Tom Perry of Bovina.

In Combine

Farmer Bungles Hand

Jimmy Charles did not lose his hand. But a scrape with a sickle belt on a running combine Saturday of last week left him leery of machinery, especially in the way he respects it.

He managed to pull his hand away from the combine with the most serious damage being flesh cut off from the end of one finger, and scratches and bruises over his left hand.

Charles described the accident like this: "I wanted to tighten the belt to the sickle, so I grabbed it to pull. If there hadn't been a guard on the pulley the belt ran on, my hand would have gotten caught in the pulley."

He farms about three miles northeast of Bovina.

The Marine Corps Institute was established in 1920 as the first "service" correspondence school.

Church Has Record Budget

The First Baptist Church of Bovina adopted a $72,000 plus budget for their 1959 fiscal year, a figure that exceeds by three times the budget the church operated under in 1958.

Figured into the budget is a sizeable figure for a building fund. The church plans in the future to start on construction of a modern-design building that would almost triple the seating capacity of their auditorium.

The church is presently in a program to increase the level of individual giving, known as the forward program of church finance.

A locally sponsored program, the plan calls for emphasis on stewardship for the month of October. A supper is planned for next week for the entire church membership.

Jack Jeter, pastor of the church, says the forward program is for showing individual members the need for closer attention to stewardship.

Along with the budget was an increase in the church's contribution to missions. The figure for missions this year is 37 per cent as compared to 35 per cent for 1958.

The local church ranked highest in percentage going to missions among the other churches of its denomination for their entire district in 1958.

SCHOOL

NEWSPAPER

Bovina School will have its first edition of a newspaper-appearing publications Monday of next week.

Roy Whisler, high school principal, says the paper is being sponsored by the high school's student council. Copies of the paper will be sold to students and patrons of the school, with the price to be 10 cents a copy.

The paper will be a tabloid offset publication. A name for the publication has not yet been selected, and a contest for students will determine the name.

Publication frequency will be at two-week intervals.

The production of the paper will be by the same method that the Bovina Blade is now produced, with the page size to be approximately one-half of the Blade's page size.

A SURE SIGN--Milo being stored in the open is a sure sign of progress of the 1958 harvest. This view is at Bovina Wheat Growers.

WARREN MORTON TO AUSTIN MEETING

Warren Morton, superintendent of Bovina Public Schools, was in Austin for several days recently. There he attended the annual state Superintendent's Convention. He, accompanied by Dillie Kelley, superintendent of Friona Schools, left Friday evening and returned Tuesday afternoon.

In World War I there were approximately 250 "Marinettes" or Women Marines.

County Organizations

Backing Crop

"We are offering a chance for Parmer County residents to help feed and clothe the destitute in other countries by donating grain to the fall CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) Campaign," announces Raymond Euler, county chairman.

CROP is a community appeal of Church World Service, a division of the United Nations, for food and fiber to be used in relief programs around the world, Euler points out.

Food and fiber collected is distributed overseas through the Church World Service. The World Council of Churches' Division of Inter-Church Aid and Service to Refugees coordinates distribution in consultation with missionaries and other relief agencies.

In Parmer County all the elevators and gins have been supplied with the proper forms and papers needed to fill out in the event a farmer desires to donate part of his produce to CROP.

Members of the County CROP organization met in Bovina last month and selected a group of persons to represent the organization in all of the communities within the county.

Farmers who desire to give are asked to contact the person within their community who is one of the county committee, if he, or she, has any questions concerning this program.

The government matched each dollar's worth of food and fiber which was donated in 1957 with $66 worth of surplus commodities from the nation's stockpiles.

"We have been told that the ratio of the government gift to what is raised within the county will be at least 30-1," Euler says.

"In addition to helping those destitute millions who never know what it means to have a full stomach our farmers should be reminded that the government reduces our stockpiles of surplus commodities each year by their gifts to CROP."

In addition, gifts to CROP are income tax deductible.

Local chairmen within the county, in addition to Euler, include Wilbur Charles, Bovina; Herb Potts, Farwell; Rev. Hugh Blaylock, Friona and Black; T. I. Bursleson, Hub; Joe Jesko, Lazbuddie; and Don and Troy Christian, Oklahoma Lane.

Organizational officials say they hope that each farmer in the county will contribute to this year's campaign.

Board Okays

'59 Tax Roll

The Bovina Independent School Board Monday night okayed the 1959 school tax roll, paid their monthly bills, and granted expenses of Principal Roy Whisler to a convention of high school principals.

The principal's convention is to be from Sunday to Tuesday of next week in Houston.

Superintendent Warren Morton was absent from the meeting attending a similar convention for school administrators in Austin. Morton was to return about the midpoint of the week.

Board members present were A. D. Cumpston, Ovid Lawlis, Wendol Christian, Earl Stevenson, Jack Clayton, and J. D. Kirkpatrick.

Last Game

Colts Whip Vega

The Bovina grade school Colts whipped the Vega grade schoolers 42-6 for their wrap-up of the regular season Tuesday night.

A powerful Colt offensive grounded out all of the touchdowns and half of the tries for points after.

Joe Jones sparked the Colt backfield on carries for three TDs, followed by Jimmy Wright for two TDs. Don Cumpston scored one of the six Colt touchdowns.

Points after were scored by Rocky Barber, Ronnie Suddeth and Mack Glasscock.

C.R. Elliott

In Hospital

C. R. Elliott is in improved condition in Clovis Memorial Hospital, reports his wife.

He was hospitalized last week after an attack of cold, and flu, which developed into a blood clot on the lower part of a leg.

Elliott will probably be in the hospital until the latter part of this week, Mrs. Elliott says.

Three Attend

WSCS Meeting

Three local women went to Floydada Thursday, October 2, to attend a district Women's Society of Christian Service meeting that was held in the Methodist Church there.

The theme of the meeting was "Thy Will Be Done," and Mrs. E. T. Pittard of Anson was the main speaker for the occasion. Her talk was titled "What Doest Thou Here." A total of 110 women from the district registered and sack lunches were eaten at noon. The hostess church provided pie and soft drinks.

Attending from Bovina were Mrs. Warren Morton, Mrs. Earl Richards and Mrs. Billie Suddeth.

NIMRODS LEAVE

FOR COLORADO

A number of local women are temporary "grass widows" this week, as their husbands left for tall timber the latter part of last week. Among the men who left for the annual deer hunting season are Reagan Looney, Perry Looney, Aubrey Brock and Robert Lee Hopingardner. They were accompanied by Glenn Dunn of Muleshoe.

The men are reported to have made plans to fish a few days prior to the trek into the hills.

Three Way Chemical

Bovina Firm Getting Quarters

Bovina's boundaries business-wise have again extended. This time it is to the northeast as a firm organized only this year is erecting a building for warehouse and office space.

The firm is Three Way Chemical Co., an Ed Hutto, J. W. Harris and Cecil Osborne enterprise.

Their new quarters have been in the offing for about two months, and began to be a reality Saturday of last week when a crew of workers for Estex Steel Buildings of America, Pecos, arrived with a load of material.

By Monday the frame was up and a large portion of the sheet iron was in place on the walls. By Tuesday the roof was almost on.

Ray Hawthorne, job superintendent, says the building should be completed by Saturday.

The building is a steel pipe and sheet iron structure covering 5,000 square feet, 50 feet wide and 100 long. An office of 1,500 square feet and warehouse space will be on the inside.

Present plans of the company are to move from a 10x14 office into the new quarters in another week.

Cecil Osborne, a spokesman for the firm, says that part of the front will be used for a farm supply store, which will be stocked later.

The building heralds further extension of the Bovina business area, being located near the outer edge of the city limits on northeast Highway 60. Other recent extensions of Bovina's appearance have been erection of two warehouses on the western side of Bovina by Western Warehouse Company.

BUILDING FOR THREE WAY CHEMICAL CO.--Nearly complete from the outside is this steel building being constructed on northeast highway 60 for Three Way Chemical Co. The building occupies 5,000 square feet.

Jack Jeter Speaks At Circle Meeting

Jack Jeter, pastor of the Bovina First Baptist Church, was guest speaker Wednesday evening at the regular, weekly meeting of the Rea Buster Circle of the local Woman's Missionary Union. The meeting was held in the annex of the church and his subject was "Soul Winning Made Easy."

The emphasis on visitation, to the sick and to the non-members of the church, was stressed by Rev. Jeter. He gave a number of ways in which the members could, by visiting others, win people to Christianity. Mrs. Bobby Englant, chairman of the circle, was in charge of the meeting.

At a brief business meeting, a number of officers for the coming year were selected. Among them were Mrs. A. L. Glasscock, community missions chairman; Mrs. Travis Lloyd, program chairman; Mrs. Wallace Rogers, mission chairman and Mrs. H. D. Bradshaw, stewardship chairman.

Other officers had been elected in former meetings. Those attending were Mesdames Englant, Glasscock, Lloyd, Bradshaw, Rogers, Vernon Ward, Ovid Lawlis, Hodge Rigdon and Rev. Jeter.

Christmas Party Is Planned

Mrs. Ovid Lawlis reports that final plans have been completed for a "Christmas in October" party to be held in her home Thursday evening, 7:30. Refreshments, games and exchange of gifts will be held by members of the Gleaner's Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church.

Because of the recent division of classes in the church, many who had participated in a secret pal gift exchange throughout the year will be in different classes this Christmas season. Therefore, it was decided that their Christmas party would be at this time.

Party Honors Three People

Mrs. Bob Johnston, D. C. Looney, and Clarence Gauntt were honored with a joint birthday party Saturday evening. The party was in the Gauntt home and Mrs. Gauntt prepared a meal of barbecue and all the trimmings. The birthday cake was a circular, two tiered one, with yellow rosebuds on the lower layer and a large single confection orchid on the top layer.

The message "happy birthday to Kathryn, D. C. and Clarence" was inscribed across the top.

The party was a come and go affair with guests calling all during the evening. The hostess estimated there were 40 friends visiting during the evening.

Dr. Edwin Hill of Califor is visited in Bovina last week. He was a guest in the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Williams.

What About a Fair?

We'd like to ask the question: Why doesn't Parmer County have a crop and stock show? Something on the order of a fair is what we have in mind.

Parmer County has perhaps the richest agricultural land and water on the High Plains. We grow some of the best crops, are getting to be a stronger livestock country than in the past few years, and should have as good material as anybody's fair for a small area.

Not having a county-wide fair is denying a lot of opportunity to the many FFA and 4-H Club youth to prepare, and demonstrate their projects.

We understand that in the past years, a county show died because of several factors, none of which we understand.

Friona has an annual celebration, which they acclaim to have replaced the county show, but has a long way to go before it does. Local FFA shows are good, but are not adequate.

We believe a county show would be something we could be proud of as a county.

Farm Bureau People At Lubbock

Six Parmer County Farm Bureau people attended a banquet in the Lubbock Hotel last Thursday evening, climaxing the quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors of Texas Farm Bureau, which was held in Lubbock. J.H. West, of Bishop, Texas, TFB President was the speaker of the evening. He related some of his observations while in London a few months ago, serving on the International Cotton Council, to which he was appointed early in 1958. West was emphasizing the importance of American citizens remembering the indications pointing toward socialism in this country. Even though the leaders in England think they are improving conditions for the common man, it is evident that whatever the improvements might be, they place the average citizen of that country far below the status of the average American Citizen. As an example, he stated that the Rolls Royce automobile, pride of England, sells for $24,000. $10,000 of that list price is tax. And a scrub woman, who receives a wage of about $32 per week, must pay about a third of that pay for taxes. These taxes, said West, are necessary to provide the "free" medical care available in England, under the Socialized Medicine Program. In making these observations, West expressed concern for the trend of thinking of many Americans who believe the government should give them just a little more. The capitalistic system has made America great economically, said West, and if there are those who believe socialism or communism are better, they should live in one of those countries for a while, and let us keep our America the way it is so they can come back to it if they don't like the other plan for living and doing business.

West said Texas and American Farm Bureau are big enough to do just about anything the members want to now, but unless we continue to grow, we will begin to get smaller, thus the need for recruiting new members each year. Attending the meeting from Parmer County were PB President & Mrs. Gilbert Kaltwasser, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Bruns and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Euler.

Freeze Date Nears: Cotton Still Blooms

Parmer County's first light frosts are only around the corner. At least, they are near at hand if average annual temperatures mean anything in 1958. However, area cotton doesn't seem to be aware of this, and is still trying to make more lint by blooming and setting fruit. Most of this late-season plant activity has been stimulated by the moisture of recent days, which has encouraged the plants to continue to produce as nature intended them. However, none of the balls now appearing on the plants can be expected to produce any lint for this latitude, and, in fact, most cotton farmers are trying to discourage the late spurt in growth by artificially stopping it with an application of defoliant. Until the first freezes come, airplane operators on this part of the High Plains will be very busy showering cotton fields with chemicals to stop their growth and hasten maturity. Very few farmers will admit that they are "ready" for a freeze but observers feel that in many cases where defoliants have been applied, stripping will soon begin if the weather turns fair and warm. Extension of "Indian Summer" temperatures would still be appreciated, but the presence of warm weather is not now considered essential to having a crop that could be regarded as normal.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

Making cookies is one of the most enjoyable things a homemaker can do. There is absolutely no end to the varieties, shapes, colors, and decorations that an imaginative homemaker can use in making cookies. Making cookies is also something that a mother can share with children of any age.

Any pre-school age child will enjoy assisting with cookie baking. Of course, when a child is helping the professional have to be simple but the plainest cookie makes a good addition to the contents of a cookie jar.

As most homemakers know, every home should have two cookie jars--one for crisp thin cookies and one for soft cookies. Store cooled cookies to keep top eating quality. For crisp cookies a can with a loose cover makes an ideal container. Then for the soft cookies an airtight container (preferably a covered earthen jar or a can with a tight cover) is needed. Slices of apple or orange in the jar helps mellow and moisten the cookies. The fruit should be changed often.

If your cookie recipe calls for plump seedless raisins and all you have are dry and hard, try plumping them in this manner. Wash raisins and spread out in a flat pan. Cover pan and heat slowly in moderate oven. To get full flavor, cut raisins in two with scissors after plumping.

All you have to do to give iced cookies a professional look is to place the same amount of icing on center of each. Then, with a spatula, spread the icing with circular motion in pretty swirls.

When cookie recipe calls for sour cream, use freshly soured cream for best flavor. If you don't have your own milk and cream at home, buy it from a dairy or sour it yourself. To sour sweet cream, measure 1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice into cup then fill cup with sweet cream.

The following recipes are generally well liked by children or grown-ups. They are also simple to make and keep well.

Golden Carrot Cookies
1 cup soft shortening (part butter)
3/4 cup sugar
1 cup mashed cooked carrots
2 eggs
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

These are MY eyes . . .

Don't let this tragedy strike in your family. Protect yourself and your children against accidental blindness.

Since more accident-blindness occurs in or near the home, move all acids and sharp-pointed objects out of the reach of youngsters. Be sure to shield your own eyesight while hammering nails, using a saw, or doing other work that may endanger your precious eyes.

Regular yearly vision examinations may also prevent blindness in you and your children.

Rain Interrupts Ideal Harvesting

Although harvest work has been interrupted by a stint of damp and dreary weather, there is a sizeable number of Parmer County farmers who aren't willing away their time to await the return of the sunshine.

Some of them are already busy with a farm chore that can be categorized as a "next year's" job--that of handling their stubble from the 1958 grain sorghum crop.

About one half to two-thirds of the Parmer County grain sorghum crop has been combined, so there's lots of work to do in the stubble fields. It is very seldom that stubble is burned. Nearly always it is either left on the land through the winter, or returned to the soil by one or more of several mechanical operations soon after harvest is completed.

Jerry Bell, an irrigation farmer of the Black community, is one farmer who's already at work returning this valuable crop residue to his land where it will pay off later.

Bell obtained a very large yield of grain sorghum this fall: 8,000 pounds of Caprock "green headed" variety, which he drilled on beds with a grain drill at a seeding rate of 12 pounds per acre.

He has a bumper crop of stubble to match his bumper grain sorghum production.

Aware of the value of stubble in reducing wind erosion and adding organic matter to the surface soil, he is making special plans for his stubble crop. He is shredding the stubble and working it into the surface with a disc.

This is a different practice from dryland farmers. The idea on dryland farms is to keep the stubble on top of the ground to protect from wind erosion, but on irrigated farms such as his, the blowing hazard is not nearly so bad and the soil can make very good use of the organic matter.

Bell is convinced that this method will provide adequate wind erosion protection for him, and at the same time will add organic matter to the topsoil where it will aid the tilth of the soil, prevent crusting, and increase the water intake and holding capacity of the soil.

THE CANE GROWS TALL in the Parmer County area, and this Red Top variety from the Garland Sharpe farm in the Oklahoma Lane area proves it. Although combine-type sorghums greatly exceed such tall crops in total acreage, Parmer County area farmers manage to produce quite a bit of seed from such fields as this. Yield is usually around 3,000 pounds, with lots of forage thrown in for an "extra."

Lettuce Perks Up In Friona

Lettuce is moving in fairly good supply from Parmer County farms this week, and in the Friona area, prices and yields are teaming up for fairly good returns to growers at this early point in the season.

John O'Haugherty, manager of Friona Growers and Shippers, reports that lettuce yields in the Friona area are running from 500 to 600 crates an acre, and that the leafy produce is commanding a price of about $2 a crate.

Vegetables have not done well on the High Plains this year, and the appearance of even one crop that shows promise of making any money for growers is welcomed by farmers, brokers, and shed operators.

The tail-end of the carrot deal is now coming in to Growers and Shippers, and the produce is moving into a weakening market. Through the season, carrots have been bringing about $20 a ton in Friona, but this week the price was notched down to $17.50.

Last year, $30 was about as cheap as carrot prices ever got, so it is plain to see that the "rabbit food" market is weak compared with 1957. Besides, a large portion of the crop is not making the grade that is selling best and tonnage is down also, running from four to nine per acre. Gateway Produce in Bovina hoped to bring 400 acres of lettuce into production this year, but no report has been made from that area on early returns of the crop. They are busy now with tomato harvest.

Farmers Union Report

Looking at the farm situation and considering the farm legislation recently passed, it is hard to tell whether the new farm bill is designed to do things "for" and "to" agriculture.

Organizations supposedly working for everybody in agriculture--and pretty much getting their own way at the present--were able to get the following for their coast-to-coast members in this year's farm bill:

Prices knocked to the 65% parity level for the three basic crops--corn, cotton and rice. The other three basic crops--wheat, peanuts and tobacco, are wondering just where they will be after 1960. Grain sorghums are left to be supported at just whatever the secretary of agriculture may determine to be fair and reasonable.

The reason given for removing all controls on feed grains production and for lowering price supports was this: So that farmers could have more freedom in making farming decisions, and so consumers would benefit from lower priced goods.

It appears that the decision the farmer will have to make is already made--that of getting along on lower income, and living only 65% as good as other people. The consumer probably won't enjoy the lower prices too much either for they will not be passed on to him if the following is

FARMERS USE STUBBLE TO IMPROVE FARMLAND

More drizzles drew the curtain on the Parmer County area grain and cotton harvest again Saturday, but not before area farmers had gotten in quite a few licks of their own.

From one-half to two-thirds of the grain crop has been cut and hauled to area elevators. The progress of the harvest varies from one area locality to another, depending on maturity of the crop and dampness prevailing.

Parmer County area grain sorghum growers stacked up a 14-million bushel crop last year, and appear certain to duplicate -- and probably exceed -- that production in 1958.

With from seven to 10 million bushels of grain already gone to market it is not surprising that elevators in Texico-Farwell, Bovina, and Friona, plus the out-of-town installations at Lariat, Pleasant Hill, Hub, and Black commu-ities are already brimming over and grain is going on the ground in large quantities.

The combines ground to a halt Saturday when a very heavy dew and unusually high relative humidity during the day raised the moisture content of the grain to an unacceptable point. Showers fell at most points Sunday afternoon and evening, and drizzles drifted in and out through Tuesday morning, preventing a return to the fields.

Sunshine cracked the overcast for a few minutes at a time Tuesday afternoon, and it appeared as though the wet spell might be breaking up and giving way to more fair weather as Farm and Home went to press.

Most farmers, although irritated by the interruption, feel this way about the 1958 harvest:

So far, nobody is really "hurt." The dampness that has come has delayed the harvest and resulted in inconvenience, but the weather has not been violent and little damage to crops has resulted. The grain is quite good when allowed to dry out, and cotton grades are holding up well also.

With this much of the crop in, most farmers already agree that they are considerably ahead of the same date last year, and that if pleasant harvest weather returns before too long they will be able to wind things up in a satisfactory fashion.

Upturn In Insured Farm Loans Noted

Local banks and other private lenders are increasing their stake in the Farmers Home Administration's program of long-term loans to qualified farmers to buy or improve family-type farms or establish good soil and water conservation practices, Billy R. Boling, FHA county supervisor, points out.

His agency is authorized to insure farm real estate loans that are made from funds advanced by banks, insurance companies, or other institutions having money to invest. Since the recent change in the money market, activity by investors has greatly increased.

In Parmer County, Boling reports that lenders have advanced $83,360. Farmers have used $35,640 of the insured loans to buy or improve farms and $47,720 for soil and water conservation purposes.

During the past six months, the national monthly volume of new insured loan business has risen from approximately $1,250,000 to $4,000,000 a month.

For either a direct or insured loan the farmer pays 4 1/2 per cent interest. If the loan is insured, the lender or investor gets a clear 3 1/2 per cent and the government guarantees payment of both principal and interest.

The full guarantee and the money market change have put many local banks in position to contribute to a stronger local agriculture by helping farmers otherwise unable to buy or improve their farms, Boling says.

After a five-year period the private lender may sell the insured note to the government for the amount of principal and interest due, may arrange for later sale, or may hold until the note is fully repaid. In case of default, the government stands ready to take the notes over with no loss to the investor. The FHA takes care of all collection and servicing details.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULEE

Membership chairman, Jack Patterson wishes to express his appreciation to the people who are responding to the invitation to reinlist in Farm Bureau in the effort to reach the 1958 goal of 650 members by the last of this month. But he hopes you won't assume that your membership won't make much difference, because if you don't send it in, we might lack just one: you.

Evidence of the things that can happen without the realization of many citizens was shown at the convention last week when several present seemed surprised to know that a portion of the state permanent school fund has been spent without the general public knowing anything about it. Farm Bureau is opposing any further spending of this fund, which has always been maintained previously for the interest revenue to run our schools. Some have compared this spending from the fund to a case where a farmer would sell part of his farm to pay his harvesting expense each year. In a short while he would have no farm.

Secretary-treasurer, Roy V. Miller did an excellent job of reporting on the wheat meeting held in Amarillo prior to our county convention. President Kaltwasser and others said they felt that they got as much from Miller's report as they would have had they attended the meeting in Amarillo. C. W. Dixon and John Henderson accompanied Miller to the meeting. The wheat surplus is growing very great, and it is anticipated that some rather drastic meaasures, either in marketing price or production control, will have to be made soon.

Cotton John's report on the European tour was very interesting. It made those who listened appreciate their lot in America a great deal, we are sure. The important thing is that we keep alert and vigilant enough to avoid going into socialism, as most other countries of the world have. We feel that every farmer should appreciate the interest Cotton John takes in promoting their organizations and interests.

specialists. Collars, cuffs and pocket flaps often need interfacing to give them body and the crisp, perky look that adds style to a garment. Peplums, yokes and the lower portion of fitted jackets also are in need of some additional body for a professional look.

Skirt waistbands may need a single thickness of interfacing to prevent the waistband from stretching. It also helps to keep the waistband from rolling or wrinkling.

A new extension clothing bulletin -- "Interface It" -- gives up-to-date information on different interfacing fabrics, when to use what, etc. It is clearly illustrated to show how interfacings should be used. You may get this by calling or writing my office.

VITAMIN C NEEDED

Vitamin C, the essential vitamin needed everyday, is short in many diets. Foods and nutrition specialists report that the recent foods and nutrition survey conducted in 12 counties in Texas showed that 1/4 or more of the diets were low in vitamin C.

To make sure of enough vitamin C, know the foods which rate high in this important vitamin. Citrus fruits, oranges and grapefruit fresh, canned or frozen as fruit or juices, are rich sources. Strawberries and cantaloupes are also high in vitamin C.

Many green leafy vegetables contain large amounts of vitamin C, especially the deep green leaves, spinach, kale and collards, if properly cooked. Tomatoes, fresh or canned, potatoes and cabbage are also good sources.

Vitamin C is the most fragile of vitamins. Because it can be destroyed by exposure to air and is soluble in water, careful preparation and cooking are necessary to save it.

Here are some vitamin C saving suggestions from foods and nutrition specialists: Pare or cut vegetables just before they are to be cooked; the longer their cut surface is exposed to air, the more C is lost. Cook vegetables only until tender, using as small a quantity of water as possible. Remember that boiling potatoes in the skins saves vitamin C as well as time, and that generally each time you reheat a vegetable, more of the vitamin is lost. Whenever possible, use vegetables raw in salad or as relishes, and serve them while they're fresh and crisp. Keep vitamin C rich fruits refrigerated until ready to serve.

Bovina, Texas

Dear Sir:
I have just read your rather crude attack upon the insurance programs operated and used by members of farm organizations. It is quite doubtful that your opinion will have much effect upon these groups, but just in case it did, perhaps you should be a little better informed than you are.

In view of the fact that you are a comparatively young editor, it seems doubtful that your acquaintance with farm organizations has been long enough for you to know more about their needs than the more than two million farmers who support the organizations.

Why you should pick the farmer for your marks of criticism puzzles me, since it is certainly true that if they weren't here, neither would you be in the newspaper business. Why did you not mention the Agricultural Workers Insurance Co., with which I believe you are insured? Also, you could have mentioned Hardware Mutuals, operated by and for hardware people, lumbermen's insurance companies, and any number of others besides farmers' insurance companies.

If you are really interested in knowing why farmers operate their own companies through their organizations (Farm Bureau, Farmer's Union and Grange and possibly others) I can tell you quickly: they want to save money. Farm Bureau auto policy holders in Texas have received over eight million dollars in dividends in the past 11 years. I think their willingness to organize, finance and operate their own companies deserves applause. After all, they could have demanded that the government furnish their insurance, or provide that the purchasers of their commodities pay enough more to provide health, life and other insurance like the labor organizations do. But farmers, as yet, are willing to do a few things for themselves.

Farmers are not, as you implied, so ignorant that they will continue to support an organization they do not believe in simply to save fifty to a hundred dollars a year on their insurance premiums. You are welcome to check the records in the Parmer County Farm Bureau office to see if you are not mistaken. About as many members who have insurance stop paying their dues from time to time for various reasons regarding Farm Bureau policies as those who do not have insurance. The policies cannot be continued when a member will not pay his dues. I am sure you will find the same true of Farmer's Union, the other farm organization you mentioned.

I would like to suggest that you attend some of the meetings other than the annual queen and hula hoop contest of both organizations until you can see that the farmers in them have other interests than insurance. When you have learned a little more about them, maybe they will ASK you for your opinion on how they should be run.

Sincerely yours,
Raymond Euler

(The above is exactly what the "crazy" editor expected to come from a man who makes his livelihood selling the "cheap" farm organization's insurance, as Farm Bureau service agent. We appreciate the compliments expressed, as well as hearing the views of farmers, as expressed by the insurance agent. Truth does leave a dirty taste in some folk's mouth.--Editor)

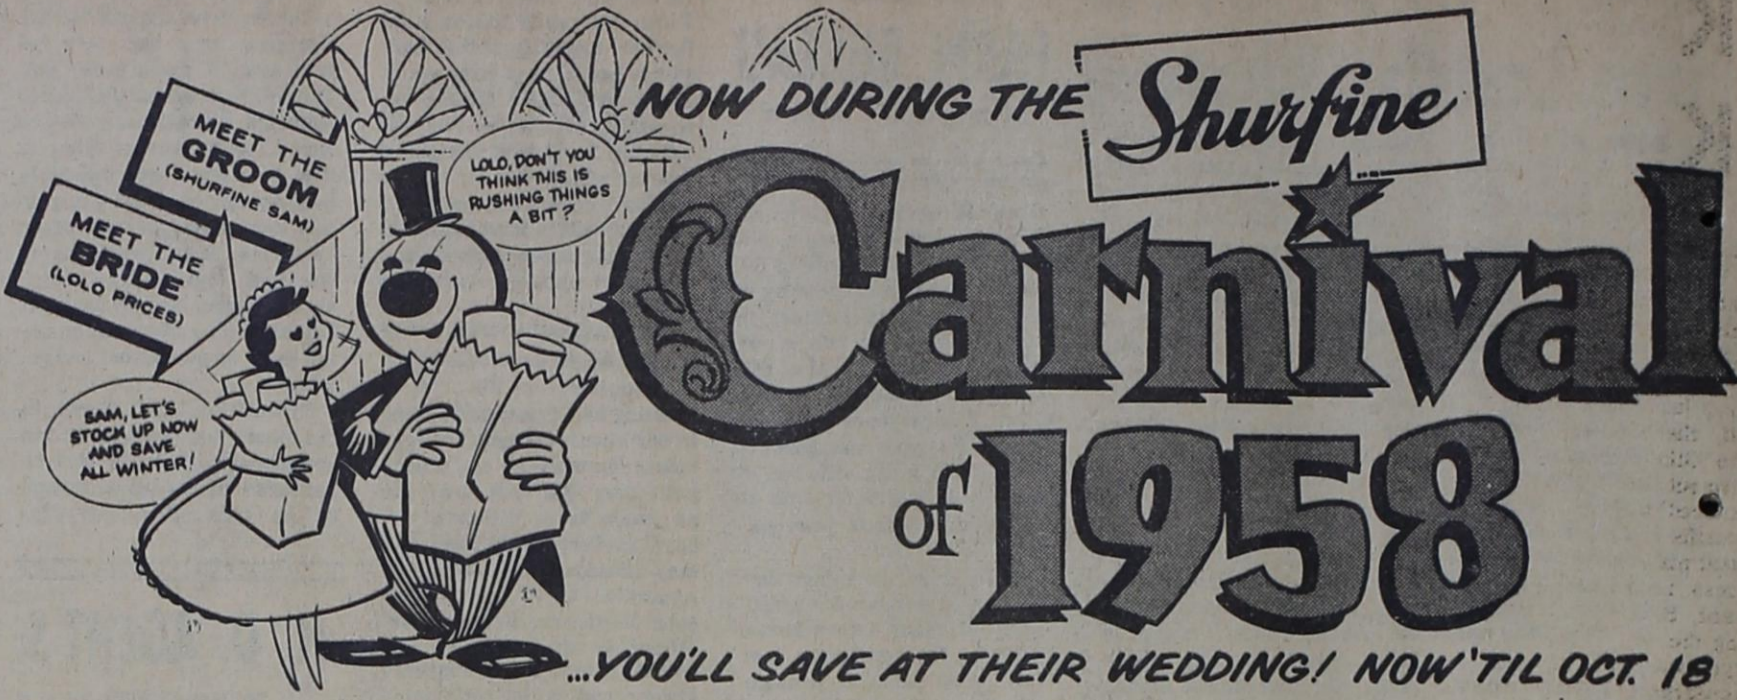

School Reports
Some Sickness

Miss Grace Paul, grade school principal, reported Monday that "quite a bit" of sickness was suffered by the students last week and the first part of this. Flu and sore throats kept about 12 students out of high school Monday and an equal amount out of the grades, through the eighth. This report, says Miss Paul, has caused a close watch to be put on for further outbreaks, as it was about this time last year that a siege of flu closed the school for a week. Last year, on a Monday morning, there were about 125 students absent because of illness.

Illness hasn't only touched the students. Two teachers, Mrs. Myrna Hammonds and Mrs. Eunice Thornton, have also been ill. Mrs. Hammonds was absent one day last week with flu and Mrs. Thornton was absent Monday of this week because of a sore throat.

Miss Paul also reported that 12 new students were enrolled Monday morning, making the grade school enrollment total to be more than 300. The children have attended Bovina Schools in former years and are members of migrant workers' families.

SUPPER PLANNED
Members of the First Baptist Church of Bovina will have a supper Thursday evening, October 23, in the high school cafeteria. The meeting will be a "Loyalty Dinner," and Roy Whisler is chairman of arrangements. Approximately 300 people are expected to attend.

Wonderful news: Puddy the cat is back. Have mentioned this Siamese cat a number of times in KAK, for a number of different reasons. Things keep happening to her. First off, she owns or is owned by, the Olin Turner family, who live out near the Hub. She first entered this column several months ago when she underwent major surgery, with Mistress Letha and a friend in need, Evelyn Crawford, helping the vet. Then, two weeks ago, word came of her disappearance and this, too, was related in this column.

A week ago Monday, I think it was, Mrs. Leon Schillings, who is a fairly new comer to Bovina, called to say that a cat fitting her description had taken up residence at their home about half a mile north of town. So, after a couple of phone calls, the Turner family went to see about her. Sure enough, reported Evelyn Friday morning, the cat in question was Puddy and she is now at home again with her original owners. Thanks again to Mrs.

Schillings for calling us. Now we know that the KAK is good for something, anyway! Seems I've related a number of "cat stories" recently, but Stella Riley reports that her Maltese cat has returned home, too. And just in time to present the Riley family with a number of new additions. Stella gave the cat, she says, to Don and Barbara Garrett several weeks ago. Don and Barbara now live about 20 miles out of town and no thought was given that the cat wouldn't take up residence as a matter of fact. The big, blue grey mamma-to-be had other ideas, she wanted to come home and come home quick. She made it, with only a day or two to spare. But she is back in the Riley's barn and firmly intends to stay there. Frankly, Stella reports, she's tickled pink to have the cat back, and she doesn't think that she'll ever give her away again.

Have heard stories about cats and dogs traveling distances to come home, but have never heard one from a really reliable source before. Now that Stella has told me, I guess I'll really believe it.

Last Monday evening was meeting night for the Wesleyan Service Guild and I received an invitation that, I think, is well worth repeating. Here it is:

"When you read the morning paper And it leaves you feeling tense When the international situation Really doesn't make much sense When you wish you could understand it You don't need to fret and fuss Just come and join our study class And learn about the "Middle East" with us."

Besides being a very "catchy" poem, there's an awful lot of thought behind it, too. There is no better place for us when things get all balled up than in our church or in one of the church's organizations. Don't know who composed the invitation, but they did a fine job.

The Guild, by the way, is a fine organization, for business and professional women of the community, not only of the Methodist Church, but all other churches as well. New members are being sought all the time and you would be most welcome as an addition to the group. Contact a member and come and visit with us; we meet once a month and I'm sure you would enjoy it as much as we do.

Doris Lawlis had a new experience for her the other day. She was a member of a jury for the first time in her life. Doris found, she reports, that jury duty is very interesting and is now very glad that she didn't follow her first inclination.

That was to give an excuse to get off serving. She consulted husband Ovid about likely excuses (not reasons, mind you, excuses--and there is a decided difference) and he sternly told her that she had no legitimate excuse and to go on and "do her duty." She did, and now she's glad of it. She said last Friday that she learned a lot and found, in her estimation, a group of "Twelve Men: Good and True"--only some of the others were women, too.

Doris, I've noticed in the three years I've known her, has a wonderful outlook on new experiences and responsibilities. That of searching each experience for its educational and enjoyment facilities. It is certainly a healthy outlook on life and should be copied by more of us.

Well, little said, less regretted is an old saying that Mother taught me years ago. And frankly, I should have said a lot less about the Braves than I did last week. I fear I jinxed them with my assurance that they would take the World Series. Now, like all "Monday morning quarterback," I can see a lot of things that should have been handled differently. As Alton Wily said last Thursday evening, "If Haney had listened to me, we'd have won that game!" Funny, isn't it, how easy it is for us to say that we'd do such and such, when the responsibility for the decision doesn't lay completely in our own hands. We are all guilty at one time or another, abusing anyone, from President of the U. S. down to the manager of the Braves of Milwaukee.

Received a letter last week from the J. W. Whelans in their new home of Farmington, N. M. She reports that they enjoy the town, the school in which they teach, and, about the best of all, the airplanes. Seems the Whelan family live just behind the airport and for several weeks, Mike and Beverly didn't miss a take off. Lately, they have quit dropping things to make the rush out of doors when one roars off the strip, but they still enjoy them.

Mrs. Whelan also reports that they all took a tour of the country around Silverton, Colo., recently. The aspens were at their peak of changing color and were a sight to behold. Guess I'll never get to see this sight, as harvest on the High Plains comes at the same time as the aspens begin their ritual so the Whitesides will never have time to take such a tour.

Am sure you enjoyed reading Sonny's column in last week's farm section of the Blade, about beauty where you find it. I agree with him that harvest is a lovely sight, but would like to add that the same combines, busy at night, all lit up with lights is also a sight to see. Take a trip out of town one night and see for yourself. Beauty is just exactly where you look for it. And Bovina and Farmer County have some memorable sights that can be caught and enjoyed at the most unlikely times.

Two Tried In County Court
Alcoholic beverages were the cause of two cases being tried in Parmer County court Thursday of last week.
Joe Cruz, who gave his permanent address as Memphis, plead guilty to a driving while intoxicated charge in Judge A. D. Smith's court. He was fined $100 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for six months.
Cruz was arrested in Friona Thursday afternoon by Police Chief Ben Moorman.
T. J. Askew, who lives north of Bovina, was fined $150 and costs for possession of Ralph Yarborough. Being a publisher of a daily newspaper, he will likely get the backing of the major Texas newspapers, as did the conservative candidate of the primary election, Bill Blakley.

alcoholic beverages with purpose of sale.
He was arrested by Sheriff Chas. Lovelace Thursday night. This was the second time Askew had been convicted of the same charge in less than 40 days.

County Will Buy Bonds

Parmer County Commissioners court has authorized County Judge A. D. Smith to invest not less than $40,000 and not more than $45,000 in government bonds. The money will come from county's permanent school fund. The decision was made at a regular meeting of court Monday in the courthouse.
Commissioners agreed to pay interest of $200 to school fund on money borrowed from it to purchase machinery for Precinct No. 1.

Gus Schlabs, Vernon Symcox, and Raymond Schueler, members of county weed committee, and County Agent Joe Jones met with the group to discuss killing Johnson grass and bindweed along county road rights-of-way. No action was taken on this matter.
Motions were made to approve the month's bills for payment, minutes of previous meeting, and quarterly report for period of July 1 to September 30.
Also going into the minutes was a motion to pay off a note for machinery for Precinct No. 4.
