BOVINA, TEXAS

VOLUME I, NUMBER 42

Whittlin'

By Dolph Moten

Blks north of here seemed to get excited about the "black dust" that rolled in Sunday afternoon. It was just bad enough here to cause any excitement at all. However, I feel sure that the "storm" was worse further north. Actually, it wasn't the worst I've seen and I've only been watching such goings-on for less than a year.

The wind that blew from the southwest earlier in the afternoon definitely wasn't conducive to the baseball practice that Manager Dale Malcom and his Bovina Bulls tried to have. All balls that were batted or thrown into the air had a tendency to go northeast no matter which way they were supposed to go.

Have heard the story many times about the stranger who asked the native of these wind-blown High Plains, "Does the wind always blow this way?" The native replied, "Now, sometimes it blows from another direction." And that was exactly the case Sunday afternoon. Sand and wind stories similar to the one above are plentiful, but then why shouldn't they be.

One of the things I've tried to keep from doing since I've been big enough to know better is complain about the weather. However, I've almost weakened a time or two when big tears have started rolling out of Jeanie's eyes because there was so much sand in the house and she had to clean it out just minutes after she had "cleaned house."

It is, to say the least, discouraging, but most anything can be discouraging if you'll let it.

Vacuum cleaners and brooms are fine for cleaning houses. However, when and if I take a house cleaning job, I want a shovel.

Thanks to the Bovina Women's Study Club, the houses in Bovina are numbered. The study club, if you'll remember, is the same one that backed the street marking project.

Mrs. J. P. Macon says to call M. C. Troy Fuller if you want to know what your house number is. Mrs. Fuller's phone number is 2592.

Santa Fe Magazine says a Seattle undertaker signs all his mail with "Eventually yours."

I won't tell you who told this one but... This young boy, who had been well coached on what not to say, said his father if it was all right to say "Rotterdam." The father told him, "Sure, it's all right, that's the name of a town."

The boy answered with, "Well, Sister ate all of my candy and I hope it Rotterdam teeth out." Maybe not. I thought it was funny.

Interest in getting a lighted baseball field for Bovina is increasing. So part about that is that at least part of the season will pass without lights here even if work was started now.

However, some deadhead will probably throw water on all the interest and good ideas that come up about the lighted ball field and we can go through another season hitting the Little-Leaguers play in the daytime when nobody can watch them or not at all.

The argument against lighting a ball field in Bovina is that everybody isn't interested in baseball in any shape, form, or fashion. At least, that is the argument that some individuals use against lighting a field.

And I'll agree with them. Everybody isn't interested in baseball. Some people may even dislike it.

But if these non-progressives can show me any community project that all the people are interested in, I'll eat this column for three weeks in a row. No salt or pepper.

High school baseball gets underway this week—Friday.

Coach Bob Wills' team will meet the Farwell Steers in a district game. Seems a shame that they have to start off the too-short season playing a district game. However, it should be as fair to one team as it is to the other.

The team will have much to live up to since it will be defending the bi-district title that has been held by Bovina for two straight years.

From the looks of the material that Wills has this year, this winning streak may be extended to three straight years.

This high school team, like all other Bovina baseball teams will be handicapped as far as a crowd is concerned by having to play in the daytime.

High school baseball is accused, and rightly so, of "not paying for itself." However, has it ever been given an equal chance to compete

UP, UP AND OVER—Neil Smith, star Bovina Mustang pole vaulter, set a new record in this event at the District 3-B track meet that was held in Bovina Saturday. He vaulted 11' 8" to beat the old record of 11' 0" which he set last year. Smith will participate in the regional meet in Lubbock April 21. He is a junior in Bovina High school and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith.

FARWELL WINS—

Mustangs 2nd In District Track

Four district records were broken—two of them by Bovina tracksters—in the high school division of the District 3-B meet held in Bovina Saturday.

Farwell, with nine first places in the 14 events, was the meet winner. Bovina was second with 40 and one-half points. Vega, with 13 and one-half points, was third and Lazbuddie finished fourth with 13 points. Adrian, the other member in the district, did not participate.

Records fell in the 440-yard dash, shot put, discus, and the pole vault events.

Neil Smith, star vaulter for the Mustangs, beat his own record of 11 feet, which was set last year, by eight inches to make the new district record 11 feet, eight inches.

Darrel Read, throwing the discus for Bovina, set a new mark in this event with a toss of 128 feet, seven inches. The exact distance of the old record is unknown by school officials.

Tolbert of Vega set a new shot put record at 41 feet, four and one-half inches. Farwell's Truitt Hardage romped a 52.2 record-breaking 440-yard dash.

Aside from Tolbert's shot put victory, Bovina and Farwell were first place winners in all events.

The 120-yard high hurdles were won by Hardage of Farwell. The time was 17.5. Bovina's Billy Richards was third with a time of 17.9.

The winning time in the 100-yard dash was 10.3 and was run by Hardage of Farwell.

In the 180-yard low hurdles, Farwell's Pike was the winner in 22.3. Richards was third at 22.5.

Farwell took the 440-yard relay with a time of 46.8.

Hardage of Farwell slipped past Junius Williams in the 880-yard run.

Sherrill Meets With Commission For First Time

J. E. Sherrill, Jr., who was elected mayor of Bovina in an April 3 election, met with the commission for the first time Monday night in the city hall.

Sherrill was sworn in by O. W. Rhinehart, outgoing mayor.

Action on a Rhinehart-suggested increase in the mayor's pay was postponed until more information concerning the matter can be obtained.

The commission discussed piping water to the Bovina Cemetery and installing two-way radios on the city pickup and the city fire truck.

However, no action was taken on these projects.

Commissioner Emmett Tabor reported that Charlie Jefferson, county commissioner, would grade Bovina streets if the city would water the streets first. The possibilities concerning watering the streets are being studied.

The commission briefly discussed the six projects made by the city planning board some weeks ago. However, no definite action was taken on them.

run in the last few yards to capture still another first place five points for his team. The winning time in this event was 2:13.8.

Hillock of Farwell won the 220-yard dash in 23.5.

Farwell runners finished in the top three places in the mile run. Norton was the winner with a time of 5:17.5.

Larry Ezell of Bovina was second to Smith in the pole vault. His mark was 10 feet.

Read and Marvin Young tied for first place in the high jump event at 5 feet, eight inches.

Neil Smith and Bert Williams of Farwell tied for third and fourth.

Read, Mike Barraza, and Lynn Isham of Bovina finished in that order behind Tolbert in the shot put event.

Vega's Dowd was the broad jump winner.

Ezell was second to Read in the discus throw. His toss was good for 114 feet, one and one-half inches.

The top three places in each event will be eligible to compete in the regional meet that will be held in Lubbock April 21.

MUSTANGS TO AMARILLO

Bovina Coach Bob Wills will take four of his track men to compete in the Amarillo relays Saturday, April 14.

Wills says some 50 schools are entered and the competition will, to say the least, be "rough."

Neil Smith will pole vault. Darrel Read will throw the discus. Marvin Young will high jump and Junius will enter the 880-yard run.

Fire Department Answers Call Saturday

A small house on Floyd Dunavant's farm six miles north and one mile west of Bovina caught fire on the inside early Saturday afternoon. The Bovina Volunteer Fire Department answered the call to the fire. However, the flames had been smothered when the department arrived.

Damage to the unoccupied house consisted of "scorching" the woodwork, burning the paper on the walls, and smoke-darkening the entire inside.

Martin Green, who was working for Dunavant, was inside the house when the fire started. The origin of the fire is unknown. Dunavant said the house was equipped with gas but no fires were burning.

Dunavant smothered the flames by closing all the windows and doors.

Bovina Senior Play Was March 30

The Senior Class of Bovina High School presented the annual senior class play in the Bovina School auditorium Friday night, March 30, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Aubra Ellison and Mrs. Frank Truitt.

The play, "Gangway for Ghosts," was a mystery comedy in three acts by Jay Tobias. The story was set in an old mansion, "Storm Heights," on a high cliff overlooking the Hudson River on a stormy night in November.

The characters were Minnie Brill, played by Dorothy Rogers, the housekeeper who was murdered; Darrel Read was the appalling butler, Peters; Sally King, a girl who aspired to be a detective was played by Donna Jean Hobby; and String Beane, her frightened boy friend was played by Billy Johnson.

Janie Alverson was Miss Hester Storm who owned Storm Heights. Sue Hoffer was Gayla Grande, her niece and a successful actress. Irene Ezell portrayed Posy May Purdy, the colored maid. Crazy Nell, a loony character who roamed the hills, was played by Lois Terry. Hal Charteris, a playwright engaged to Gayla Grande and Sally King's half brother, was portrayed by Larry Ezell. The sheriff, Eli Gandy, was Billy Richards. Ned Jorlan, an ex-convict, was played by Jerry Loflin and Pauline Lloyd was the woman of mystery, the real Miss Hester Storm.

After the appearance of a headless gypsy ghost, a bodiless ghost, and the ghost of Ethan Storm, the murder of the housekeeper, and the discovery of two disguised criminals wanted for murder, who leaped over the cliff and committed suicide, Hal explained to his sister and her boy friend that the whole thing was a plot of his new play to frighten away her detective notion.

Betty Hawkins and Dal Hartzell, accompanied by Mrs. Doris Wilson, entertained between acts. The seniors gave their sponsors, Mrs. Ellison and Mrs. Truitt, gifts to express appreciation for their help.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

WORKING FOR YOU

Our congratulations to the fellows who thought enough of Bovina and the surrounding area to form the Bovina Volunteer Fire Department.

These men are giving up two of their evenings each month to learn more about how to fight fires and so they will know more about how to protect their own property as well as that of their neighbors from fire.

If you're not a member of the department, don't forget to be appreciative of the work these fellows are doing for the community.

IN A YEAR?

Wonder how far we'd be sticking our neck out if we predicted that Bovina would have some property-owner-paid-for paving within the next year?

Interest in paving is continuing to grow, believe it or not.

We are firmly convinced that it's just a matter of time before Bovina will have some paving just like some nearby towns of Bovina's size.

We encourage you to talk to your neighbor about paving. If you're for it and he's against it, find out why he doesn't want it.

We'd like to know why anybody would be against improving the place he lives.

the Snapshot Guild

A picture album can be just as interesting as you want to make it. There's no need to mount your snapshots in rows and have them all the same size. Variety is the spice that makes the album interesting to do, fun to look at.

Original Snapshot Albums—Fun to Make

Pictures, album, paste pot and a little imagination—these are the only ingredients necessary for creating a photo album that's fun to make and a delight to own.

As for what kind of album to use, that's purely a matter of personal choice. You can start from scratch and make simple sturdy covers out of cardboard, wood, leather, or heavy acetate sheets. The pages between the covers can be made of art paper cut to size, or you can buy ready-made album leaves of suitable dimensions.

Of course, if you don't feel ambitious enough to tackle a complete "do-it-yourself" job, there's a wide variety of albums and scrapbooks already on the market to choose from. One that we like has transparent envelopes for pages. It's rather similar to a wedding album—very professional-looking and designed to give maximum protection to your prints.

Or you might want several of the smaller albums—the kind that have pages entitled "My Children" and "My Grandchildren"—which are just right for carrying in pocket or purse.

In mounting your snapshots, don't limit yourself to a row-upon-row arrangement. Experiment with various layouts—and don't be afraid of borrowing a bit of technique from your favorite picture magazines.

Some of your more interesting shots can be given added importance through enlargement. The resulting contrast in size lends extra eye-appeal to the page. And for "special effects," you may even want to try cutting some of your pictures into various shapes or combining two or three prints to simulate a panoramic scene.

By the way, we discovered only the other day that art corners now come in eleven different colors—gold and silver, pink and blue, ivory, sepia, red, green, blue, gray and white—as well as the more usual black. So you can add a little dash of color to your mounts, too, if it strikes your fancy.

Another hint we'd like to pass along concerns vacation albums. Why not include all those maps and travel pamphlets you've saved from your trips? You might use the left-hand pages for these items and mount your pictures opposite on the right-hand side.

Time's a-wasting—so start pasting.

pudding With Cake Texture Has Fragrant Molasses Touch

Reminiscent of gingerbread in flavor, yet with a more moist texture, is wonderful old-fashioned molasses pudding. This early-American dessert, championed by every generation tasting it, continues to be a specialty at many fine restaurants featuring American recipe classics.

Superb of flavor, it's truly simple to make. The dry ingredients (flour, sugar and spices) have the butter "cut in" as for a crumb-type topping. As step two, combine delicate unsulphured molasses, water and soda. Alternate layers of the crumb mixture and the liquid in a square pan, and the pudding is ready for baking. The dessert can be cut into squares or spooned into serving dishes, and you'll have a moist gingerbread cake marbled with spicy crumb mixture. Serve hot or cold with a favorite fruit sauce.

| 2 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour | 1/2 cup butter or margarine |
| 3/4 cup sugar | 1 cup unsulphured molasses |
| 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg | 1 cup water |
| 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon | 1 teaspoon baking soda |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt | 2 3-ounce packages cream cheese |
| | 2 tablespoons milk |

Sift together flour, sugar, nutmeg, cinnamon and salt. Add butter; cut with two knives or pastry blender to resemble coarse meal. Combine unsulphured molasses, water and soda. Alternate crumbs and liquid in a greased 8 x 8 x 2 inch square pan, beginning and ending with crumbs. Stir gently only 2 or 3 times with a fork. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour. When ready to serve, blend together cream cheese and milk. Cut cake into squares; place spoonful cream cheese on top of each square. Top each serving with *Orange Sauce.

YIELD: 9 servings.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

We would like to make a clarifying statement concerning Farm Bureau and Blue Cross that has been made before, as far as it was applicable, in this column. Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospitalization and medical care were made available to employed groups of five or more persons or families many years ago.

Until 1947 or 1948, no one, except these employed groups was eligible for participation. At that time, Farm Bureau officials in Texas, in an effort to meet the requests of members, entered into a contract with Group Hospital Service, making Blue Cross-Blue Shield available to Farm Bureau Members when as many as 25 applications were approved in a county.

It was in 1949 that the Parmer County Farm Bureau group was begun, with 35 members. Today, there are 143 family members in this group. Blue Cross-Blue Shield has within the last year made its services available to individual applicants without group affiliation. Parmer County Community Hospital is now assisting by advertising this new individual service.

Families who are Farm Bureau members may still avail themselves of the service at $10 per year less than the individual plan rate. Farm Bureau has never held a franchise on Blue Cross services in Parmer County. It has been the only group through which farm families could participate in the service until recently. Further questions are welcomed.

Rhea Farm Bureau had another of their usual well attended and interesting regular monthly meetings last Friday night. Franklin Bauer is president of the local out there. The ladies always provide plenty of refreshments to complete the program. Bruce Parr showed some interesting pictures of national park attractions. Jack Patterson reported on the county directors' meeting. Parr reported on the weed committee organization. Gilbert Kaltwasser reported on other Farm Bureau Activities.

Consider this: For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? Matthew 16:26.

Sad Sacks Of Season Disclosed

The sordid side of the recent hunting season, including four persons fined for selling deer, was revealed in the latest arrest report announced by the Director of Law Enforcement for the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

The new compilation showed 462 arrests during December with all but 57 of those charged paying fines ranging from $5 for trespassing to $200 for possession of game bird before the legal season opened and the same fine for shooting deer from an automobile. Fines paid totaled $14,222.90 plus $826.33 in court costs.

The deer selling prosecutions involved cases at Caddo, $150 fines; Eldorado and Ft. McKavett, $100 and Llano, $64.

The Director of Law Enforcement described the peak season arrest summary as "about average." "The comparatively few who invariably do something wrong," he observed, "must be contrasted with the hundreds of thousands of those who hunt for sport and obey the law. All but a few realize wildlife is here for their own benefit and therefore deserves a fair break."

Some of the more common offenses were night hunting, 42 cases; hunting from car, 32 cases; unplugged shotgun, 28 cases; killing quail in closed season, 20 cases and killing dove in closed season, 19.

Seven persons were charged with having untagged deer; eight for shooting ducks from a motor boat; one for hunting under license of another; one for refusing to permit search; one for shooting duck with a rifle and two for failure to keep proper cold storage records.

Some of the cases involved double trouble. A Shreveport, La., man paid a $100 fine for possessing an untagged deer and the same levy for hunting at night, both plus costs. It was the same penalty for a Bessier City, La., resident and also for a Fort Worth man. A similar combination of fines was paid by a San Antonio man for possession of a buck deer in closed season and for night hunting.

Texas' 121,000 4-H club members will join with more than 2,000,000 in the nation in the observance of National 4-H Week, March 3-11. Watch for and attend the observance program in your community and county.

Inspection Deadline For Cars April 15

AUSTIN—Two million Texas auto owners were handed a word of warning recently by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The safety director pointed out that a large number of the state's registered vehicles have not yet secured safety inspections for 1956. "Some two million autos in the state," said Garrison, "have not been inspected. That represents about half of the total number of motor vehicles registered in Texas and there remains but three days in the current inspection period during which these cars must be taken to licensed inspection stations for their annual safety check."

The DPS head also cautioned that many of the more than 4,000 inspection stations are likely to experience last minute traffic jams at their doors just prior to the April 15 deadline unless car owners move without delay to secure inspections.

"Under the provisions of the law," Garrison added, "Texas patrolmen will be instructed to begin issuing tickets on April 16 to operators of vehicles which do not bear a 1956 inspection sticker."

USDA report on current developments in the farm real estate market as of July shows a continued upward trend in market prices of farm land in Texas this year. . . up 6 percent between March and July 1955.

COFFEE: A Conversation Piece

Of all the groceries in daily American use, few have as legendary and romantic a background as coffee.

One Arabian legend relates that coffee came into use when "got the goats" of a herdsman named Kaldi.

This monastic coffee ritual was the predecessor of the daily coffee break enjoyed by millions of American workers and housewives.

Today, you can find coffee houses in nearly every metropolis of Europe, many with their own history of famous patrons and epochal events.

Name your favorite phase of history and research will show where coffee has played a part. And, considering its popularity in America today—our largest imported commodity—the beverage will undoubtedly continue to be part of the backdrop for memorable world events.

It was announced that the Silver Tea planned for May 2 in the Friona American Legion Hall, will be a "come and go" affair from 2:00 p. m. until 4:00 p. m. and will be given by the Parmer County home demonstration council.

Mrs. Mabel Newberry Elected Secretary of Good Neighbor Club

Mrs. Mabel Newberry was elected secretary of the Bovina Good Neighbor Club at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. T. J. Hopingardner Friday afternoon.

During the business meeting, Mrs. John Sikes gave the group a report on the county home demonstration council meeting that was held in the Bovina Legion Hall Monday, March 26.

The bake sale, planned for this month was discussed, and it was decided to cancel it until further notice.

It was also decided that the club will meet, beginning with the May 15 meeting once a month during the busy summer season.

Games, lead by Mrs. D. C. Looney, were played by the group, and the rest of the afternoon was spent in visiting. Refreshments of cake, coffee, and hot chocolate were served to Mrs. Jack Morris, Mrs. D. C. Looney, Mrs. Mabel Newberry, Mrs. John Sikes, Mrs.

To Napoleon, coffee was something that "gives me warmth, an unusual force." To General Sherman, in his remarks on troop rations, it was "something to be carried along, even at the expense of bread."

THE PARING KNIFE

By JEANIE MOTEN

This sure has been a busy week-end! The literary meet, the tract meet, school board election—all combined made the school the focal point of interest.

The other night while playing Scrabble over at Ruth Thornton's, Ruth found that she could make none of her letters play.

Dolph remarked that then she just couldn't play and would have to pass her turn. Ruth's young son Mike, not understanding, piped up with, "She can't play! It's her game!"

Wouldn't it be great to have someone watch over you like that?

When Rex Cumpston was looking at the proofs of his pictures taken at the Blade's office a little over a month ago, he remarked that he didn't think they were any good.

Dolph said, "Well, if they're that bad, we just won't put them in The Blade."

"Aw, go ahead and put it in The Blade," Rex quickly replied.

Now the people who first had the flu bug are coming down with it again. This is beginning to look like a pretty vicious circle!

Baseball season is practically breathing down our necks. Guess now a group of Bovina wives will become "baseball widows."

Can't decided which would be worse—to be a "baseball" or a "golf widow." Guess there really wouldn't be much difference except that a man can play golf a little longer in life than he can baseball.

There's only one complete solution to being a "baseball widow," and that's to become a "grass widow." That doesn't seem too alluring either.

Income taxes are a pain in the neck, aren't they?

To survive, little pigs must have heat. Under natural conditions they depend on each other and good weather for their heat. Little pigs piling up creates a hazard, and the weather is unpredictable; also the mother sow often rolls over or lies down on the piglets crushing out their lives. The next best bet (safe, too) is the artificial heat created by electric energy.

While most pig raisers will use electric heat lamps, Panhandle Agricultural and Mechanical College at Goodwell, Oklahoma, has been using a manufactured brooder for the last nine years.

This brooder utilizes a metal canopy, which might also be constructed of plywood, under the roof of which is mounted a 115 watt electric heating element coupled with a wafer thermostat. In addition a small lamp bulb is attached which serves to attract the little pigs to the heat source.

Professor Milton England, who raises the college's pork supply, has high praise for electric pig brooders, and he should know for he supplies the college cafeteria with about 1200 pounds of pork per week. Along with other livestock, the professor has in his care thirty-five head of brooding sows for 1956.

Baby pigs get the heat they need to survive in a safe dry corner of the pen, under the electric brooder.

At current feed prices Professor England calculated that a baby pig is worth about $10.00 at weaning time. So obviously every pig that can be saved to go to market is a ten dollar bill in the seller's pocket. Conversely, every baby pig that dies is a ten dollar loss. A few cents worth of electricity can prevent this loss.

While the professor has had good results from the pig brooders using the electric heating elements, he expresses the opinion that heat lamps would do the same job. The main thing is to give your baby pigs the warmth they need at birth continuing until they are large enough to withstand the cold. One sure thing, there's no chance of electric heat rolling over on a baby pig and crushing out its life.

Professor Milton England, Head of the Agriculture Department, Panhandle A & M College at Goodwell, Oklahoma, shows the working parts of a pig brooder used by the College Farm.

LETTERS To the Editor

Dear Editor;

I noticed in a recent issue of The State Line Tribune on a report of The Farm Problem that Mr. Kaltwasser, president of the Parmer County Farm Bureau, was quoted as saying (quote) "That it is the obligation of the members of The Local Farm Bureau to support the policies of the National Organization even tho' they may oppose them personally."

The idea of being obligated to support the flexible price support program which reduced Parmer County farm income by more than four million dollars in 1955 is more than I can comprehend.

If a ten dollar membership in an organization purported to aid the farmer but instead binds the same farmer regardless of how much it cost him and his neighbors by reducing their income is the meaning of that membership then please can you direct me to some Farm Bureau official that can tell me how to have my membership cancelled in that organization.

SIGNED
RESPECTFULLY,
Jack Smith

with other games from a financial standpoint. What I'm trying to say is that if there was a lighted field, so that games could be played at night, like football and basketball games are, a lot of people who can't attend daytime games would pay to see a good baseball game at night on a LIGHTED FIELD.

I think a lighted baseball field would improve Bovina as a town and as a community. What do you think?
