WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

Evidently, the area has matured in regard to the pheasant hunting sport.

The men have been separated from the boys, it seems to us. Those dedicated hunters, who have learned how to find the birds, are doing so, according to our unofficial reports, and the more amateurish-type hunters have abandoned participation in the sport in favor of drinking coffee, playing dominoes and/or visiting with the good hunters about the pheasant season.

We don't hear the complaints this season from the people who are hunting the birds that we did earlier in the development period of the pheasant population here.

The pheasants could be more plentiful instead of the hunters being smarter, though.

It's difficult for us to get an accurate survey of the pheasant situation from our inside-the-city-limits view, of course, and anything we know about it has to be pieced together from conversations with the aforementioned hunters, some of whom might or might stretch the truth about their abilities as hunters.

We haven't talked with all the hunters we know, of course, since the present season started. However, Jimmie Clements is one of the few who admits to have a hard time locating the birds.

Jimmie has had good luck heretofore.

Rev. Charles Gates, the Methodist preacher, had a reputation of being a good pheasant hunter and a good shot with a shotgun before the first day of the season was half over. This is his first year here and he hadn't had any experience in hunting Parmer County pheasants. He said, though, that it wasn't a lot different than hunting quail down off the caprock and he didn't understand why we thought pheasant hunting might be a hard task.

He was modest enough, but we got the impression from him that pheasant hunting is like some more things ---- it's not difficult if you know how.

And who can argue with success. The preacher mentioned in the conversation that he'd had a pheasant dinner lately. That's enough success to impress us.

Cold weather is a big help to the aforementioned dedicated hunter, we're guessing. Reason for that is that it keeps the faint-hearted hunters close to the fires and out of the fields. This helps in that the birds aren't stirred up as much as they would otherwise be.

Seems from here, too, that there has been a noticeable absence of out-of-area hunters. In other words, we haven't seen any strangers carrying shotguns, but it's possible that we haven't looked in the right places.

Until we have a more systematic way of saying who can hunt where, however, we won't be able to encourage many outsiders to hunt here.

There are disadvantages to leasing hunting rights on farms and up to now, anyway, most people don't figure leasing is practical.

Under the present non-leasing set-up, a stranger is under a great handicap. In the first place, he doesn't know where the birds are and in the second place, he doesn't know where or who to ask for permission to hunt.

A local person for a guide is almost a necessity, we'd guess. And that might still be a bad deal because said guide might put himself in the position to get the best shots.

We don't make mention of those things to discourage non-local hunters, we're just pointing out what we think are obvious drawbacks for them.

Texas Tech football fans get the frosting for their successful season's cake Saturday in the Sun Bowl in El Paso when the Red Raiders take on their counterparts from the Deep South, the Rambling Wrecks from Georgia Tech.

The best kind of Tech fans should be on hand for the game, of course, but for the rest of us, television will have to suffice.

The Raiders have hopes of improving their images as a Bowl team.
We'll see.

SNOW TOO EARLY FOR CHRISTMAS --- Richard Sudderth, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Sudderth, enjoys an early White Christmas in the front yard of his home. The snow fell early Friday morning, but warm sunshine melted almost all of it by mid-morning. The snow brought a trace of needed moisture to area farmland, Young Sudderth indicated he thought the snow was too "cold" to play with much ---- even while he had his picture made.

Ends Sunday --

'70 Pheasant Season At Midway Point

Pheasant hunting season 1970 is at the midway point here. The season, which started last Saturday, continues through Sunday, Dec. 20, making for a total of nine hunting days.

Whether this season is a "good" one depends on which hunter is reporting. Some say the birds are more plentiful and easier to find than usual while others are of the opinion that the opposite is true.

Entries are light in the annual longest tailfeather contest conducted here, Johnnie Horn at Bovina Gin Co., tailfeather contest headquarters, says that only three feathers had been entered at mid-week. However, several hunters had called to see if they had a "chance" to win one of the three cash prizes, Horn says.

One of the three entries already submitted is considered long enough to win most contests. However, Horn emphasizes that second and third places can still be anybody's and he encourages hunters to bring their feathers in and get them in the contest.

A total of $30 in cash prizes will be awarded --- $15 for first, $10 for second and $5 for third. The prizes will be paid by Hartzog Seed Farms, Bovina Blade and Kerby Welding Service, respectively. Similar contests are also being held.

"In addition to Elaine Glasscock at the piano and Julie Ann Moody at the organ, we have Larry Webb and Don Spring, guitarists; Sheryl Moore, bass; Ronald Steele, drums; and Jana Barrett, autoharp," Mrs. Hawkins continued.

Soloists will be Grady Sorley, Billy J. Charles, Harriette Lou Glasscock, Carissa Englant and Dorothy Sorley. Shepherds will be portrayed by Ronnie Nuttall, Donnie Grissom, Bobby Englant, Deborah Sorley and Sheryl Morrison.

Everyone is invited to attend and enjoy a different Christmas Cantata, says Mrs. Hawkins.

A large crowd of children is expected to greet Santa Claus on his arrival.

BOVINA OIL DRILLING --- An oil drilling rig is a semi-rare sight in Parmer County. Here, the rig of Cactus Drilling of Hobbs, N.M. is shown on location at the Grady Sorley Farm three miles south of Bovina. Drilling work began the first of the week and is scheduled to be completed "in a few days." The well is being drilled on a Mobil Oil lease. Unofficial reports said had the well in excess of 3,000 feet at mid-week. Original plans called for drilling between 4,000 and 4,500 feet.

Hudson Rites Held Recently In Lazbuddie

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Dec. 7, for Alva J. Hudson, 49, of Bryan, formerly of Lazbuddie and Bovina. Services were conducted at First Baptist Church, Lazbuddie, and burial was in Lazbuddie Cemetery.

Hudson, a well-known contractor in this area, died Dec. 5 of an apparent heart attack.

Survivors include a son, Jimmy Lynn Hudson of Alamogordo, N.M.; a daughter, Mrs. Joyce McGehee of Lazbuddie, and six grandchildren.

Deadline Set For Letters To Santa

This Friday is the deadline for receiving letters to Santa Claus for publication in The Blade's Christmas issue.

Children are assured that letters sent to The Blade will be forwarded to the North Pole in time for Christmas. There is a possibility that Santa Claus will take delivery of the letters in person during his visit to Bovina Tuesday afternoon.

$50 In Prizes --

Home Decorations Judging This Week

Judging of Bovina's home Christmas decoration contest is scheduled for the latter part of this week.

The contest is sponsored by Bovina Lions Club and $50 in cash prizes will be awarded to the top three winners. The prize money total will be broken down into $25 for first, $15 for second and $10 for third.

The judging will be done by an anonymous group Thursday, Friday or Saturday nights.

Deadline for entering the contest is tomorrow (Thursday).

Those entering the contest are asked to leave their decorative lights on until 10 p.m. each of the three judging nights.

Winners of the contest will be announced in next week's issue of The Blade --- the Christmas edition.

Purpose of the contest is to encourage more decorating in the area at Christmas-time. Residents are asked to drive around the community and view the decorations.

A half dozen or more entries are expected in the contest by deadline time. There are, however, many more area homes that decorated and would be eligible for the contest if they were entered.

Sunday Afternoon --

The Junior High band will present arrangements of "Jingle Bells," "First Noel," "We Wish You A Merry Christmas," and "Joy To The World."

The Mustang High School band will present "Christmas Rhapsody," "White Christmas," "Carnival of the Snow Maiden," and "The Christmas Suite."

A spring band concert has been planned for March, just prior to the annual band contest, according to Harris.

Also, in the planning stage is a pops concert for late in the school term. "This will be something new for Bovina High School and we are looking forward to a difficult concert," said Harris.

There will be no admission charge for the Christmas Concert and everyone is urged to attend.

To participate in the project, Bovina area people deposit the amount of money spent for Christmas cards and postage to their neighbors here in a special account at First State Bank of Bovina.

The money collected will be used for a community project, according to Bovina Woman's Study Club members, sponsors of the Christmas Card Fund.

Names of contributors to the fund will be published in a half-page ad in the Christmas issue of The Blade. Those making contributions are asked to put on the deposit slip the exact way they wish to have their names published in the community Christmas greeting.

One Killed --

16 Accidents During Nov.

Texas Highway Patrol investigated 16 accidents on rural highways in Parmer County during the month of November, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.
 These crashes resulted in one person killed, 12 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $13,440.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first 11 months of 1970 shows a total of 133 accidents resulting in four persons killed, 73 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $122,375.00.
 Trafficwise, the month of December has proven to be the most destructive month to the life of mankind, the sergeant warns. In order to help reduce the traffic accidents and make this a happy holiday season, the patrol supervisor lists these safe holiday driving rules:

1. Check your car; be sure it is in safe driving condition.
2. Use seat belts to safeguard your family and yourself.
3. Be alert to road, weather, and traffic hazards.
4. Do not overdrive for the existing conditions.
5. Allow plenty of time for your travel.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT TOY
 "How do I choose the right toy?"
 As Christmas draws closer, I'm asked that question more and more by confused parents, grandparents, uncles and aunts. While there is no pat answer, there are several basic rules to apply to any prospective purchase.

 The toy must get the child involved immediately. Our space-age children want to participate, not watch. Now that man has walked on the moon, youngsters want to simulate astronaut activity--not read about it. That's one reason for the tremendous popularity this year of Ideal Toy's S.T.A.R. TEAM space equipment.
 Be certain the toy you buy is appropriate for the child's mental age. Be objective about this. Never mind an item the boy or girl can "grow into." If they can't enjoy it now, they probably won't come back to it later. Many toy makers indicate an appropriate age range for each product. It's not a rule -- just a helpful hint. You know the abilities and interests of your child better than anyone.
 The most popular items this year are those which reflect what is happening in the adult world. They include computerized products such as Computer Car which can be programmed to follow a variety of courses, and Mr. Rembrandt which can draw an infinite variety of artistic designs according to an inserted cam, with your child's creativity determining colors and precise patterns.

 Dolls that do more than look pretty -- such as Crissy and Velvet, the "hair-growing

Need State Approval --

School Processing Lunch Applications

Applications for free or reduced price lunches for students in Bovina Schools are now being processed by school officials, Supt. L. F. Jacobs says. Elsewhere in this issue of The Blade is a schedule showing the amount a family's income and the number of children in school to qualify for the program.
 The special lunch price program is expected to be put into effect here when state approval is granted, probably sometime after the Christmas-New Year's vacation period, Jacobs says.

 School board members authorized the requisition of a new 48-passenger school bus to be put into use next year. The school system normally purchases one new bus each year.

 The board agreed to have three additional street lights installed in the area west of the main school building as an aid in discouraging vandalism.
 A textbook committee of teachers was approved. The committee will select new textbooks for the 1971-'72 school year.

 Named to the textbook committee were Mrs. Sue Moten, Mrs. Phyllis Steelman, Mrs. Dorothy Donaldson, Mrs. Juanita Kidd, Robert Kidd, Dalton Morrison, Mrs. Janie Potts, Gib Hough, Mrs. Margaret Durben, Mrs. Frances Willard, Mrs. Terry McFarland, Miss Greta Paul, Mrs. Judy Ezell, Mike Potts and Wilson Duffa.

Relative of famous Boston Brown Bread, though lighter in color and texture, Steamed Corn Bread is a delightful addition to cold weather menus. Spread slices of Steamed Corn Bread generously with butter and serve with baked beans, assorted vegetable relishes, glasses of milk, and for dessert -- apple crisp or spicy baked apples.

 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1 1/2 cups enriched corn meal
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon soda
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 2 cups milk
 1 egg, beaten
 1/2 cup vegetable oil
 3/4 cup molasses
 Sift together flour, corn meal, salt, soda and baking powder. Add remaining ingredients, stirring just until dry ingredients are moistened. Pour into 3 empty greased 1 lb. 2 oz. cans or a greased 1 1/2 qt. mold. Cover tightly; steam 3 hours. Uncover; bake in preheated hot oven (450°F.) 5 minutes. Unmold. Serve warm.

SAMPLE RECEIPTS DECLINE AT AREA CLASSING OFFICES
Cotton sample receipts began a gradual decline at the four area USDA Cotton classing offices during the past week, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the U.S.D.A. classing office in Lubbock.

The four area classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland received samples from approximately 18,000 bales on Friday, Dec. 11. During the peak of the harvest, the four area classing offices were receiving approximately 50,000 samples per day.

The four offices classed 220,000 samples during the week, bringing the total classed this season to 1,338,000. There were 174,000 unclassified samples on hand on Friday. This brought the total classed and received this season to 1,512,000.

Strict Low Middling Light Spotted was the predominant grade at Lubbock last week with 29 per cent; Middling Light Spotted, 18 per cent; Low Middling Light Spotted six per cent; and all Spots and Tinges, 17 per cent. Nine per cent was reduced in grade because of bark.

Staple length continued to average approximately 31/32. Twenty-nine per cent of all cotton classed at Lubbock last week was 15/16, 33 per cent 31/32, 19 per cent 1-inch, and 12 per cent staples 1-1/32 and longer.

Fifty-seven per cent of the cotton "miked" in the Lubbock office was in the 3/5 and better micronaire category, 12 per cent "miked" 3.3 and 3.4, 19 per cent was 3.0 through 3.2, 9 per cent was 2.7 through 2.9 and 3 per cent was 2.6 and below.

Prices were $2.50 to $5.00 per bale higher during the week on all qualities except Middling and higher grades. Prices ranged from the low or near the low on high grade, long staple cotton up to $40.00 per bale over the low on low grade, low micronaire cotton. Most lots sold at 18.75 to 20.75 cents, regardless of quality. All cotton in the Lubbock market is selling on a physical price basis with little or no regard for the loan. Demand continued very strong for low grade, low micronaire cotton and this caused the extremely narrow price range. Below grade cotton was selling at 17 to 18 cents.

Prices quoted by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire range were: Strict Low middling 15/16 - 19.95, Strict Low Middling 31/32 - 20.05, Strict Low Middling 1-Inch - 20.55, Middling Light Spotted 15/16 - 20.05, Middling Light Spotted 31/32 - 20.25, Middling Light Spotted 1-Inch - 20.65, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 15/16 - 19.80, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 31/32 - 19.95 and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 1-Inch 20.10.

Cottonseed prices were steady and ranged from $56.00 to $62.00 per ton to the farmer.

Of Interest To THE WOMEN

Cook's Corner

MRS. REAGAN LOONEY

Mrs. Reagan (Joe) Looney can remember riding horses into Bovina from their farm two and one-half miles west of Bovina and not seeing a fence or road anywhere around. They not only rode horses into Bovina, they also walked into Bovina to school many times.

Mrs. Looney moved to Bovina in 1920 from Wilbarger County. Looney had moved here a few years earlier, in 1916, from Lubbock. The Looneys were married in 1923 and shortly thereafter bought the D. C. Vasey's (her father) home place. They lived there until they built their home in 1965, just a short distance from their original place.

The Looneys have three children, Howard of Bovina; D. C., who died in 1960; and June McMeans, also of Bovina. They have 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Looney's favorite hobbies are painting, crocheting and antique hunting and refinishing. "I've found a lot of my things in chicken houses, barns, basements, and yards of my friends," said Mrs. Looney. Some of the valued pieces are family heirlooms. The Reagan home, which manages to blend the old and the new in a successful manner, is testimony to Joe's talents. There are many of her paintings and crocheted afghans decorating the various rooms. She has also been making Christmas gifts for the daughter, daughters-in-law, and granddaughters.

People who cook with pride cook with GAS. Mrs. Viola Jordan does.

Some of the world's best cooks are found in the kitchens of America, and they give themselves every cooking advantage, like gas range cooking. Good cooks like Mrs. Jordan and nine out of 10 professional cooks agree that precise temperature control makes the difference in good cooking, and with gas you get exactly that. Gas also gives immediate response and constant temperature, so important in oven cooking.

So, give yourself every advantage and cook with gas. Remember, people who cook with pride cook with gas.

CHICKEN CHOW MEIN

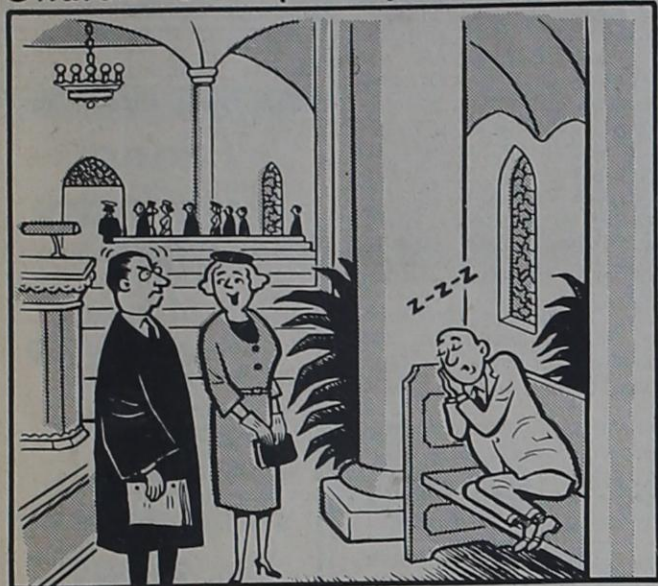

Mrs. Viola Jordan, Gray County Courthouse, Pampa

- 5 lb. chicken (I sometimes use a large, fat fryer)
- 1 medium sized onion
- 1 small can mushrooms (chopped)
- 1 small package spaghetti
- 1 no. 2 can tomatoes
- 1/2 cup ripe olives (chopped)
- 3 tbs. Worcestershire Sauce
- 1 button garlic
- 3/4 lb. grated sharp cheese

Cook chicken with one button garlic until tender. Cool and bone chicken. Cook spaghetti in plain water. Saute onions, add tomatoes with a pint (2 cups) of broth. Make a paste of 2 tablespoons of flour and cold water and add to onions and tomato mixture and simmer 30 minutes. Add chicken, mushrooms, olives, spaghetti. Sprinkle grated cheese on top of mixture and bake in a large baking dish for 30 minutes in a hot, gas oven (400 degrees). Serves 10 to 12.

PEACE ON EARTH - GOOD WILL TOWARD MAN

Jesus Christ is the only solution for national and world stability. Cliches and pretty platitudes will not save this ugly, dirty world. Lofty sermons from our ivory towers will only tend to antagonize a needy world. We must come out of our meeting houses and cast off our air of professionalism and peel off our veneer of religiosity. We must get the cross off our buildings and from around our necks and enshrine it in our hearts (Gal. 2:20). We must become immersed in the person of Christ and allow His teachings to become incarnate in our lives. The world is crying for practitioners, and not theoreticians.

We will influence nations for peace only if we light candles rather than curse darkness. In Christ we must out live - out love - our feel-out preach - and out shine the shock troops of ideologies. We cannot afford to do less. When we convey truth and peace from person to person, then will it come about. Our problem stems from the fear that we might get dirty hands. While we daintily stand aside, as spectators, the Communists are showing us how to work - sacrifice - win!

One Communist remarked, "The gospel of Jesus Christ is a much more powerful weapon for the renewal of society than is our Marxist Doctrine. But we will beat you because we will give our money and our lives. You Christians give only what is a little time and hardly any money to spread the gospel of Christ. You are afraid to soil your hands." In less than 50 years they have taken the world by a storm and are out to get the rest. Yes, there needs to be in this country - a co-ordinated, purposeful, and militant operation that will be launched on the beaches of spiritual tyranny. Only then will there be peace and good will among men.

A Deal The Year o

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Shotgunners who come up with sore shoulders after every trip afield may find some consolation in the knowledge that science is continually trying to reduce recoil.

This mule-like kick of the lightweight shotgun, plus magnum loads, has become a very unpleasant thing for all shooters. It affects some more than others. This usually is a matter of inexperience, or having a gun that doesn't fit.

Any man who knows how to shoot and has a gun that fits him will have fewer bruises than the occasional shooter, or the man who rents or borrows a shotgun for a day or two of fast and furious shooting.

Some hunters can stand up under the pounding of a 12-gauge with full load better than others with a 20-gauge. All guns have recoil. Extent of the impact depends as much or more on the shooter than on the gun and its load.

Some shooters have reduced this kick by using good quality recoil pads. Others use compensators on the muzzle end of their scatter guns. Both are slightly effective. But neither is a total solution.

Naturally this has been a great concern both to the gun and the ammunition manufacturers. They have been producing lighter guns and heavier loads, neither of which tends to reduce recoil.

Winchester has a stock which may prove to be the greatest step forward in reducing recoil bruises on the shoulder. It is designed to take the "kick" out of shotgun shooting.

This new recoil reduction system utilizes the principle of hydraulics and a powerful spring. On a 12-gauge gun it reduces the recoil approximately 78 percent. This gives an effective kick of less than half the 20-gauge load, when shooting the heavier 12.

This stock is available on two Winchester guns, the Model 1200 and the Model 1400.

"Inside story" of the new method of recoil reduction includes a new Cycloc stock. It duplicates the warmth of walnut, but provides greater strength than wood. It resists scratches, corrosion, salt solutions, oil, alkalis and mild acids. It won't warp or crack under extreme temperatures.

Inside this stock is a set of strong springs that flank a hydraulic cylinder. When the shotshell explodes, the springs and the hydraulics cushion the impact. The two-piece stock depresses under the kick, and then returns to its original form.

Measuring the impact of recoil is not a new practice. Technically the kick is known as kinetic energy. It is created by the backthrust of the shotload as it travels along the barrel length. It is referred to in foot-pound measurement, and the results are generally known as "free recoil."

A comparison taken from available tables, shows that a 7 pound, 12-gauge shotgun, loaded with 3 dr. of powder and 1 1/4 oz. shot will give a kick of 22.4 foot pounds. In a heavier load, 3 3/4 dr. of powder and 1 1/4 oz. shot, the recoil amounts to 44 pounds.

A 6 1/2 pound 20-gauge, with a light load of 2 1/4 drs. and 7/8 oz. shot will produce 16.9 pounds of back thrust. The 2 3/4 x 1, will produce 28.4 foot pounds.

This indicates that if the new Winchester device reduces free recoil of the 12-gauge to approximately one-half of the 20-gauge load the light charge would deliver under 10 pounds of kick and the heavy load would be less than 15 pounds.

Any shooter should be able to stand up under this all day at skeet, trap or in the field.

Naturally the reduced recoil shotgun will get its first real tryout on the shooting range. Skeet and trap shooters, as a rule, have more time and money to spend. And they are constantly seeking ways to reduce recoil in sustained firing. These men also know the science of getting their gun butts to the right position against their shoulders.

No doubt similar studies are being made on big bore rifles. Here the casual hunter pays little attention to the recoil in the fever of excitement. The target shooter does. Also, it may be able to do a lot for the shooters of fully automatic weapons on the battlefield.

UNUSUAL SHRIMP SALAD IS A DIETER'S DREAM

It is not often one slim-down dish offers so much for so few calories, but it is all here—protein, vegetables, starch, great flavor, and servings so generous they can take a long, beautiful time to eat!

Shrimp and rice are at the heart of it. Shrimp, of course, are all lean and low-calorie (about 150 to the 4 1/2-ounce can), but they contribute the high quality protein needed to hold back hunger between meals. In modest quantities, rice adds only its wallop of fuel and energy. As the saying goes, it is not the starch that fattens but what is spooned over it. And a trick way of cooking the rice gives the whole salad a very satisfying but deceptively rich flavor.

This is a pretty salad—all shrimp-pink and greens—with a slightly Oriental look, particularly when vegetables are cut on the slant. It serves four but for one person single servings may be spaced by adding rice and fresh ingredients to the shrimp mixture as needed.

WAIST WATCHER SHRIMP SALAD

- 1 can (4 1/2 ounces) shrimp
- 1 can (1 pound) cut green beans
- 1 garlic clove, thinly sliced
- 1 tablespoon salad oil
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes
- 1 cup uncooked rice
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1/2 cup sliced scallions or sweet onion
- 2 cups shredded crisp lettuce
- Soy sauce (optional)

Have shrimp and beans chilled in the can. Drain both, reserving the bean liquid. Crush garlic in a large salad bowl. Add oil, mustard, sugar, vinegar, shrimp, and beans. Toss well; refrigerate. Heat bean liquid; add bouillon cubes and stir until dissolved. In a saucepan combine liquid with enough water to make 2 cups. Add rice. Bring to a boil and cook rapidly, uncovered, about 8 minutes or until rice stands above the water line. Reduce heat to lowest point; cover closely and steam 12-14 minutes. Spread rice in a shallow pan to cool, using a fork to separate the grains. Refrigerate 10 minutes or until needed. At serving time, add rice to shrimp and bean mixture; toss together with celery, onion, lettuce. Serve with soy sauce. 4 servings.

CONSUMER CORNER

INSIDE STORY ON DETERGENTS

Household detergents consist mainly of two basic ingredients, surfactants and phosphates. Surfactants help the water to penetrate the clothing. Phosphates emulsify oily soil, keep dirt particles in suspension so they don't stick to the clothing when you rinse, and contribute materially to the reduction of germ levels on clothes.

Other detergent ingredients include suds control agents, silicates, brighteners, perfumes, bleaches and borax.

Why do detergents differ in price? Because the cost of the ingredients differs. The most popular brands in order to protect their popularity, tend to use the most expensive ingredients. Other brands use less costly things.

Instead of phosphates, for instance, you can make a detergent with combinations of citric acid and soda ash or salt cake (sodium sulfate). These substitutes don't do nearly as good a job, but they may cost less, so manufacturers—eager to please all segments of the public—make the lower priced detergents for people who prefer them.

To make extra sales of his substitute product, at least one manufacturer spread the charge (not really true) that phosphates cause pollution—and then printed on his package that the detergent with a low-cost substitute for phosphates was "phosphate free!"

No matter what kind of detergent you buy, don't assume that the bigger the box, the less you pay per pound. It doesn't always work that way. Two smaller boxes may cost less than one big box with twice as much in it. So compare before you choose.

Research Advisory Committee --

Elect Flynn Officer Of Vegetable Group

LUBBOCK -- Chas. W. Flynn of Bovina has been named treasurer of the West Texas Vegetable Research Advisory Committee to aid Texas Tech University agricultural scientists in working toward solutions of problems facing that segment of agriculture.

Charles Schlabs of Hereford was named president. Other members from the Panhandle area include Ray Frye and Bill Reinauer of Hereford; Elvan Devaney and Ed McLeroy of Dimmitt; and Donald W. Clark of Amarillo. Nineteen persons representing vegetable growers, packers, shippers, canners and other processors, suppliers and agri-businesses and services attended the recent organizational meeting.

The advisory committee will aid Tech agricultural scientists in "identifying, defining, evaluating and assigning priority to the many problems facing the vegetable industry in the West Texas producing region.

Tech Vice President for Research Orlo E. Childs expressed appreciation for the aid such groups provide in designing and evaluating the institution's research programs which he emphasized are "problem oriented."

James Smith of Mundy was elected vice president; and Dr. John D. Downes of Tech's College of Agricultural Science, secretary.

In reporting on the scope of vegetable research, Dr. Downes told of 13 projects devoted specifically to vegetable crops involving 15 staff members and 10 graduate students and technicians in five of the eight departments in the College of Agricultural Sciences.

Unwrapping Christmas packages is lots of fun, but cleaning up afterwards is nobody's favorite job. Here are three tips for a quick and easy clean-up. First, save three Christmas shopping bags. One will be for the paper, ribbon and cards you may want to keep after the unwrapping takes place, the other for the discards. In the third shopping bag, tuck away a whisk broom and dustpan. You can give these everyday helpers a holiday look by tying a pine cone or sprig of holly on each if you like. Store your shopping bag helpers in the closet where you're hiding the Christmas presents and you'll be ready for anything including happy holidays.

A favorite recipe of mine includes fresh cranberries. This Chutney is especially good with poultry and other meats.

Cranberry Chutney
1 large can fruit cocktail, drained
Measure 1 1/4 cups of the cocktail syrup and combine in a heavy three quart saucepan with --
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup light brown sugar
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1/2 teas. ground cloves
1/4 teas. red pepper
1/2 teas. salt
Bring to a full boil, stirring often. Add two cups cranberries, 1 cup chopped unpeeled apples, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, garlic salt to taste, and 3/4 cup seedless raisins.
Cook until berries pop - 5 to 10 minutes, then stir in fruit cocktail. Simmer, stirring often until mixture thickens slightly - 15 to 20 minutes. Store in refrigerator or pour into hot, sterilized jars and seal immediately. Chutney will thicken as it cools.
Yield: about 2 1/2 pints.

The December plentiful foods list features turkey and fresh oranges. Others include pork, fresh apples, canned applesauce, apple juice, fresh cranberries, cranberry sauce, frozen concentrated orange juice, fresh grapefruit, fresh tangerines, dry onions, fresh potatoes, eggs, rice and walnuts. Plan to include these foods in your holiday meals.

Sauce It With Fresh Cranberries

Those first of the season fresh cranberries coming to your market now are at the peak of flavor and color. Make them the basis of a delicious topping for your favorite breakfast fare. This easy-to-make fresh Cranberry Lemon Sauce turns convenience foods such as frozen waffles, hot cakes and French toast, into gourmet fare.

Cranberries are a snap to freeze, and will keep their bright red appearance until you are ready to use them in your favorite recipes. Simply pop some extra bags or boxes of berries, unopened, into the freezer. No need to wash. When ready to use, do not thaw berries. Just rinse quickly and use whole, chopped or ground, for any recipe calling for fresh cranberries.

CRANBERRY LEMON SAUCE
(Makes about 3 1/2 cups)

4 cups (1 pound) Ocean Spray fresh cranberries, rinsed and drained	1 lemon, seeded and finely chopped
2 cups water	1 teaspoon nutmeg
3 cups sugar	1/2 cup butter or margarine

Combine cranberries, water and sugar. Add lemon and nutmeg. Simmer until cranberries are tender, about 10 minutes after mixture starts to boil. Stir in butter until it melts. Spoon hot over pancakes, waffles or French toast.

Variations: To the above recipe add one of the following:
Nuts - 1 cup coarsely chopped almonds
Chutney - 1/2 cup chopped chutney
Pineapple - 1 cup drained crushed pineapple
Coconut - 1/3 cup flaked coconut
Peaches - 1 cup diced fresh, frozen or canned peaches
Oranges - 1 can (12 ounces) mandarin oranges, well drained
Dates - 1/2 cup chopped pitted dates

Christmas is the season to pamper your face

Midi or maxi! It doesn't really matter which fashion look a woman chooses for herself this holiday season, as long as the "look" is right for her and she is able to put her best face forward.

Toni's Deep Magic Dry Skin Conditioner is a rich, non-greasy moisturizer that is absorbed quickly and easily by the skin to leave it soft and smooth.

Now that Christmas is just around the corner, it's time to catch up on some of those household chores that were put off during the fall. And it's also a good time for a woman to put her personal beauty "house" in order.

Use upward strokes to apply the cream to the face and throat. Pay special attention to the corners of the mouth and eye areas where lines tend to develop first, particularly if they spent an exposed summer in the sun.

For unless she played Rip Van Winkle and slept away last summer and autumn in a cool, sheltered cave, her facial skin has been damaged by exposure to the sun's harsh rays, the wind and the water.

This conditioner should be used under makeup to protect the delicate facial skin during the day and again at night after a thorough cleansing.

As a result, her skin may be dry and what was once Snow White skin has turned into alligator leather -- never a very fashionable look!

To clean the skin, pour a small amount of facial cleansing lotion into the palm of the hand, then gently dab it on the face, smoothing it over the entire skin area. Tissue off to leave face effectively free of stale makeup, perspiration deposits, and grime.

The only way to really repair the damage is to take to the pots and jars containing face-saving lotions and moisturizers, products specifically designed to help women retain the skins they were born with.

Get in the habit of following this two-step cleansing and moisturizing routine nightly to help replace natural facial moisture loss through exposure to the elements.

And some of the best of these good trip products bear the Deep Magic label.

It's an easy way of following that time-honored Oriental custom called "saving face."

YOU WILL BE HEARD IF YOU TAKE ACTION TODAY!

MR. PRESIDENT

AGRI-BUSINESS, "IS YOUR BUSINESS"!

MR. PRESIDENT, Your campaign promises of 1968 stated "and let this be definitely understood, 74% of parity is intolerable in my books, farmers deserve better". Mr. President, according to latest USDA reports, agriculture now stands at 67% of parity, 5% below when you took office, and the lowest since December 1933, during the heart of the depression.

Congress has just passed a farm bill which contains most of your administration requests. The bill gives your Secretary of Agriculture more powers than any secretary has ever possessed in history. If you are sincere in your statements that farmers deserve better, you now have the power to return prosperity to American agriculture. But you also have the power to destroy American agriculture if you continue the apparent "cheap-food at all costs" policy.

The responsibility now rests entirely upon your shoulders, Mr. President. Farmers and Agri-businessmen of the nation will watch very closely your decisions for the next two years and will voice their approval or disapproval at the polls in 1972.

Rural America is demanding your campaign promises now be fulfilled.

The Agriculture Watchdog Committee is non-partisan, and dedicated to a prosperous agricultural community, and will not hesitate to use its influence to inform Rural America of any actions designed to lower agricultural prices at the producer level.

The Truth Is...
