BARNETT WINS GOLF TOURNEY

S. J. Barnett defeated George Meredith 6 and 5 to cop the championship of the Eastland Golf and Country Club in the 11th annual Fourth of July tournament. These two players have been setting the pace for Eastland golfers and taking high places in the invitation tournaments all over West Texas since their early teens. Barnett was the 1929 champion and Meredith held the 1930 title so it is little wonder that a large crowd disregarded the blazing sun to follow them in their superb battle for this year's title.

Barnett won his way to the semi-finals in a close contest with James Smith of Ranger, winning one up on the eighteenth, while Meredith came through to the finals with an easy win over Vaughn of Ranger.

The card for the final match was as follows:

Barnett	534	343	443
Meredith	445	353	555
In—
Barnett	4	4	5
Meredith	5	4	5

The winners in the other flights were:

J. S. Brimberry of Ranger took the second flight when he nosed out Ray Trammel, also of Ranger, one up on 20 holes.

Douglas Jones, Eastland caddy, defeated Ray Morris, also of Eastland, and once a caddy, 4-3, to win the third flight.

The four consolation flights were won by Tommie Joe Barnett, Eastland; Gib Faircloth, Ranger; J. J. Russell, Ranger, and Dr. Logsdon, Ranger.

The funeral services were held at Long-creek cemetery about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon.

EASTLAND MADE GASOLINE NOW ON THE MARKET HERE

The Arab Gasoline Corporation was among the first to see the possibilities of making natural gasoline from the casing head gas in Eastland county. It built its first plant in 1922. Natural gasoline is used by the refiners to blend with naphtha or straight run gasoline to make a more perfect motor fuel. It gives to the blend quick starting, anti-knock qualities which can only be duplicated by lead compounds or benzol. Having no gums it reduces the given content of the blend.

The Arab Gasoline Corporation has been experimenting for several years, looking toward a perfect motor fuel and now feel that the gasoline that they sell is as near perfect as any made at the present time. It is easy to start, has all the power and pep of airplane gasoline, is free from sulphur and gums and will give as much mileage as the best. Its anti-knock qualities will not quite equal the lead compound gasoline, but in most cars it will not knock. The company is very proud of its product because its sales have been made entirely on quality. The citizens of Eastland have recognized the high quality of this home product as evidenced by the increased consumption and the host of friends it has made. The company is taking advantage of its location by offering this gasoline locally at a reduced price, due to the saving of freight. There is absolutely nothing in this gasoline that can in any way injure an engine. The company has tested it for seven years in their own cars and trucks before offering it to the public.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Springer of Harlingen, Texas, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Springer Saturday and Sunday. The two families then went to Aspermont for a family reunion.

MEETING OF COUNTY BOARD

The County Board of Trustees met Monday to discuss the consolidation of several schools, but no consolidations were made. The board of Trustees includes these men: Mr. W. R. Usery of Carbon, J. A. Beard of Eastland, H. S. Stubblefield of Cisco, W. P. Roach and E. M. Howard of Rising Star.

Mr. W. E. Coleman, son Marshall, Billy Carter of Graham, Mr. Ray Hardwick, and Mr. Bond spent the 4th fishing on the Liano.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Francis, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Geraldine Francis, and Mr. Weldon Stansell, of Eastland spent the week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stansell of Pittsburgh.

City Officials Regular Meet

At a regular meeting of the City Commission of Eastland, on last Monday afternoon, M. McCullough, Chairman, offered for consideration an ordinance fixing gas rates to the users of gas in Eastland at 25 cents per thousand cubic feet, for the first 20,000 feet used. The scale is lower for larger amounts used. Along with the proposed ordinance a resolution was offered to give the gas company notice that the commission will finally pass upon the ordinance at the next meeting to be held on July 20th. This notice to the gas company is given because the original franchise with the gas company provides that it have reasonable notice of any proposed changes in gas rates. Commissioner Harrell was absent but all other commission members were present and voted unanimously for the resolution.

The proposed ordinance, omitting the caption, is as follows:

Be it ordained by the City of Eastland, Texas:

Section 1. That any person or company furnishing, distributing, and selling natural gas to the people of Eastland, shall do so only on the basis of eight ounce pressure above an atmospheric pressure of 14.4 pounds absolute, computed on a mean temperature of 60 degrees Fahrenheit, and the rates charged per thousand feet for such gas shall be computed in correct proportion to such pressure and temperature.

Section 2. That a schedule of rates for the use of natural gas to be lawful by charged to any person in Eastland, Texas, by any and all persons or company, so furnishing, distributing, and selling natural gas, for domestic purposes, shall be as follows:

For the first 30,000 cubic feet of gas used in any one month, 35 cents net, per thousand feet;

For the second 30,000 cubic feet of gas used in any one month, 30 cents net, per thousand feet;

For the next 60,000 cubic feet of gas used in any one month, 25 cents net, per thousand feet; and

For all gas over 120,000 cubic feet

For the second 30,000 cubic ft. of gas used in any one month, 20 cents net, per thousand feet;

Section 3. That the schedule of rates for the use of natural gas to be charged to the people of Eastland, Texas, by any person or company furnishing, distributing or selling natural gas, for industrial purposes, shall be as follows:

For the first 50,000 cubic feet of gas used in any one month, 20 cents net, per thousand feet;

For the next 200,000 cubic feet of gas user in any one month, 17 cents net, per thousand feet;

And for all gas used over 250,000 cubic feet in any one month, 15 cents net, per thousand cubic feet.

Section 4. That all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with

Chief Hennessee Asks Cooperation

Fire Chief Hennessee has made a further request that the citizens of Eastland who wish to have the weeds and grass burned from their premises call on the local fire department rather than attempt the work themselves.

The boys will be glad to assist in the work and will see that no damage is done by the fire and that it will not get beyond control. All that they request is that the grass be cut away from the walls of buildings otherwise the paint will be scorched when it is burned.

Because of the extremely wet spring the grass has grown unusually large and the dry weather of the past month has put it in shape to burn readily and it is becoming a real hazard on some premises.

"Mama," said little Dorothy, "sister don't tell the truth."

What 4-H Club Work in Texas Means to Me

The following article was prepared by James Potts, a Lubbock county 4-H club boy, and is furnished the readers of the Weekly Record through the courtesy of the local chamber of commerce:

We have in Texas approximately 30,000 4-H club members of whom 18,699 are boys. Each of these boys conducts a field crop or livestock demonstration which will demonstrate some practical agricultural activity.

My 4-H club work started ten years ago in a pig club with a grade pig. The next year I purchased a registered gilt on which I was given first award at the local fair. With the award money I bought a jersey heifer. At the present time I have 9 head of jerseys, 3 of which are registered. These cows have practically paid my way through high school and two years of college.

My major demonstrations, however, have been grain sorghums. My net profit on all the grain sorghum has averaged $28.51 per acre, or a total of $1,482.50. I have averaged 17 1-3 acres per year for the last 3 years.

Grain sorghums make a higher yield than corn in our state and a careful analysis shows that they have over 90 per cent of the feeding value of corn. The improvement of the varieties has been very rapid. Today practically all the farmers in my community plant only pure seed. This was no doubt, brought about by the 4-H demonstrations.

For the past 7 years I have been improving my seed by selection and the planting of pure line seed, from the experiment station. At the state fair last year the kaffir and feterita exhibited placed first, and milo placed 3rd.

I have urged the use of forage and grain sorghums along with cotton seed meal to feed out 2 Hereford calves which made a profit of $150. In addition to my demonstrations, I have been a local leader for 4 years, president of Lubbock county 4-H club council 2 years, and president of our Canyon community 4-H boys' club 2 years.

My other demonstrations were cotton, dairy cattle and beef cattle. My total profits for the last three years were $2,489.55 or an average income of $829.85 per year.

I appreciate the opportunity of attending the National 4-H club camp and the inspiration received. I want to carry the inspiration back to the club boys and girls of Texas in return for the great privilege of attending the National 4-H club camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ball, accompanied by Miss Lillian Robinson and Miss Alice Pangburn, of Eastland, returned to their homes Friday, from a tour to Longview and Fort Worth.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT SHOULD IMPROVE WEST COMMERCE STREET

Last week when we saw the highway department men filling in the dips on West Commerce Street we were hoping that they would do some badly needed grading on the shoulders and gutters.

The section from the City Hall west to the city limit is badly in need of attention and, as we understand it, the highway department several years back assumed the responsibility for the upkeep of this part of Highway No. 1 through Eastland.

The right of way for this road through Eastland county is in fine shape except the strip mentioned. Can't we start a movement looking to the improvement of West Commerce. The state should first widen the paving and then grade the shoulders similar to the work done on the balance of this road in the county. Let's insist on this improvement being made in 1931.

STRAW STACKS

Not a very imposing sight, but to Eastland County folk a rather unusual sight, at any rate for the past several years, to see so many of them over the county. In their homely way they signify production that can be depended upon from year to year on down through the ages. Straw stacks are not as imposing as the towering derricks that marked Eastland County as one of the greatest oil fields only a few years ago. They do not signify the great riches quickly produced as do the oil derricks, but neither do they stand out as a ghostly reminder of fortune soon vanquished. They do remind us however that even though our oil development may be on the wane or possibly over for all time, yet we have a source from which we may continue to draw each year without fear of complete exhaustion. They remind us that we have around us the opportunity to continue producing and building up our county, making it the home of a happy and prosperous citizenship, enjoying life as much or possibly more than any other section. For where you see straw stacks, be assured that you can produce practically every other necessary food and feed element, and that is what the world must have.

WHEN THE DEPRESSION WILL END

The most common question being asked today is "when will the depression be over?"

Frankly we do not know. One guess is as good as another. We think the nearest absolutely correct answer we have heard given to the question was one given last week by a real old philosopher who probably does not know the meaning of the word philosophy and neither was he attempting to be witty. He said "the depression will be over when times get better." Taking his answer as a basis we can say that it is ending now.

President Hoover's dramatic proposal that payment of all international debts be suspended for one year by all principal nations completely changes the atmosphere. World business, so long stagnant has been electrified into activity.

A years postponement of Four Hundred Millions of dollars cannot of itself alter the world economic situation. The secret of the stimulating effect of the President's proposal on public confidence is simply that it signals the end of the forced deflation process that has been in progress for over two years.

We have reached a time when debts can no longer be validated by continuous liquidation without a corresponding production that will justify further extensions so that new assets may be created.

The ultimate effect of this is to expand purchasing power, raise commodity prices, lower the debt burden and restore confidence generally in the business structure of the world.

In every locality there is idle capital today ready to be put into action as soon as the investing public can be made to feel that we are out of the deflation period and that a reasonable chance for profitable employment of capital exists. Labor can be employed, consumption of products will be increased and there will be no further talk of over supply.

Stability of commodity prices, even though on a lower basis, is essential to the establishment of confidence on the part of the investor. There is no question but that we will continue for an indefinite time on the basis of lower prices for all commodities, but that is not different from what we have had in the past when everybody made money and was happy.

We are coming out of the depression now.

STICKING TO BUSINESS

One of the lessons which business men have learned as a result of the experiences of the past two years is that no business will run itself. We think Henry Ford was about right when he said the other day that one of the principle causes of the business slump was that two many business men made speculating their business and left the management of their real business to their employees.

We have never seen a business yet that would run on for any considerable length of time without the personal attention of the man or men whose money is invested in it. The boss can take a vacation for a while, when things are running smoothly, and his business will go ahead on momentum till competition gets too strong, or collections begin to fall off. But whether it is a big automobile business like Henry Ford's, or an ordinary country store, the only person who can make the decisions that have to be made in a crisis is the boss himself. If he leaves that function to others he is heading for trouble.

We know of many business men who thought that because they had got a business well established and earning a good income they could treat it as a gold mine, continuing to take money out without putting any effort or thought in. We know a man who tried to run a newspaper that way once. He is not in the newspaper business any more.

The only people who have a right to speculate, as we see it, are the ones upon whose intelligence and business experience nobody is dependant. A man who hasn't anything to lose can afford to take a chance. The man who has retired from business and is living on the income of his invested capital can do as he pleases with it. But the man who is responsible for running a business upon which the prosperity of his community depends has no more right to divert his energies into speculative channels than has the head of a bank to use the depositor's money to gamble with.

Eastland County Fair To Be Used as Model

Mr. E. R. Eudaly, special agent of the Extension Service Department of A. & M. College was in Eastland last week interviewing county agent, J. C. Patterson, relative to the type of community and county fairs that Mr. Patterson has been sponsoring since coming to Eastland County a few years ago.

Mr. O. B. Martin of the A. & M. Extension Service and General Director of the yearly farmer's short course that is held there each year, sent Mr. Eudaly here in order that type of fair might be stressed and demonstrated at the 1931 Short Course that will be held at College Station the last week in July.

Mr. Patterson, farm demonstration agent, and Miss Ramey, home demonstration agent, will attend the short course and will have a part in putting over the demonstration of the fair as it was held in Eastland last year. The local agents have been very successful in their handling of the community fairs and also the county fairs, and this success is the reason that they have been asked to stage their demonstrations for the benefit of the 4,000 visitors who will attend the short course.

Various communities over the state will be asked to take part in the actual putting on of the fair as it has been held in Eastland county, and part of the paraphernalia used here will be loaned for the occasion.

Patterson stated that it was impossible to state just yet who would attend the Short Course from Eastland county, but that he and his co-worker, Miss Ramey and Mr. Bert McGlamery were planning to attend and that it was hoped that there would be at least one boy and one girl from each of the ten 4-H Clubs of the county.

ing the last five and one half years to $33,848.35.

PLEASANT GROVE

Mr. Editor, I told you some time ago I would write a letter for your paper. I do not know much of interest to write from this community, and I don't know anything about the South American Oil Fields and very little about the oil proportion in East Texas, but it looks and seems to me that the oil business in Eastland county is getting down on a par with farming. I do not have any advice or remedy to suggest to the oil people of Eastland county. But I think the farmers all ought to take a vacation and go to Europe for twelve months. I guess some would object to us taking that long a vacation, but I think we could make it all right with Mr. Hoover.

You told me to write about farming. Well, I worried all last spring about a market for my produce. And now I am worrying because I have no produce to market. The hot, dry weather has dried up and ruined most of the truck in this community, as usual, and this community could consume and use all the truck we have in it at the present time. If it doesn't rain within the next few days our truck will be a very short crop. I am often asked how I manage to sell my produce. I will tell you some of my experiences in selling potatoes. I selected a few large ones and about twice as many small ones. I mixed them up well, and I was a little late in getting off to market. The merchant told me when I got to market that he would like to handle my potatoes for me if I would not try to put in so many small ones with the large ones and that he had just bought enough to run him a week. Well, I decided I was going to sell my potatoes at some price before I left town. I started the flivver and the second place I stopped they told me they did not want to buy any potatoes, but they had a friend that was always in the market for fresh vegetables and it was only about a mile over there. I liked to run the flivver over two or three automobiles. I was in such a hurry to get there. When I got over there after disturbing the whole community, I got the party located and made a small sale. When I went to leave I could not start my flivver. I knew a mighty good mechanic so I went for him. He looked the flivver over good and put in about an hour of faithful service on it. He told me to get some gasoline and put in it now, and it would be ready to go.

When you go to sell anything, select it and cull it well. It is better to sell a few at a good price than to sell a large quantity of anything at a low price.

Yours truly,
GOOBER FARMER.
