EASTLAND

By JOE THOMAS COOK

P. B. Bittle, superintendent of the Eastland public school, says that there has been a rumor in town that the school term for this year will be shortened and that several courses are being dropped from the curricula of the schools. There is no reason for such an opinion, he says, except that someone might have inferred it because the schools will be operated with four teachers less than they had last year.

The reduction was made in the number of teachers because the school board estimated that the enrollment for this year would be somewhat less than in previous years. He wishes the people to know that the public schools will be open for a nine-months term to the day and that no courses are being dropped in any of the schools.

The Eastlander made a trip up to the high school this week to reconnoitre around and to get a news story from Superintendent Bittle and Principal Palm on the opening of school. And we came near giving the trip up before we got there. The roads leading up to the high school building are almost impassable for automobiles and difficult even to walk over. The frequent rains during this summer have washed the roads out and left them in a terrible condition. Since only three weeks remain until the opening of school, it is none too early for work to be started in getting these roads in shape for use.

In our story on the City Commission meeting two weeks ago we mentioned the fact that the commission approved a five-year water contract with the Arab Gasoline Corporation, cutting the minimum from $300 a month to $200. We included this primarily to give a complete coverage of the meeting and did not intend to explain the details of the contract. Some citizens of the town, however, have asked the commissioners why they reduced the minimum for a large company and cannot reduce the minimum for individual consumers. The original minimum of $300 was based on the number of plants and booster stations operated by the company, on the basis of $50 for each one. Since the last contract was signed the company has suspended operation of three of the booster stations and on this basis should have really had a reduction of $150 instead of $100.

Donald Kinnaird asked us this week not to mention his name in our column. It has been our experience that the persons who are always telling newspapermen that they don't like publicity are the ones who like it most. So that's the reason for our mentioning Donald, the little man with the big voice and the minority leader of the Lions Club.

Galveston was jubilant this week after it passed through a storm, in which more than thirty people were killed, unharmed except for a slight wind damage along the beach. The wall which was built following the disastrous storm of 1900 again protected the city from the high breakers of the Gulf and proved to the city that it was reasonably safe against any storm that might strike it.

School Board Will Consider Budget

A meeting of the board of directors of the Eastland Independent School District has been called for Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the office on the fourth floor of the Texas State Bank Building, K. B. Tanner, chairman of the board, announced this week.

Tentative Budget For 1933 Approved By City Commission in Meeting Monday

The tentative budget for the City of Eastland for 1933 was approved by the City Commission in its semi-monthly meeting Monday of this week. This estimated budget was prepared by City Manager W. C. Marlow after the revised tax rolls of the city had been finished by the board of equalization, which completed its work week before last.

Since a few more revisions and adjustments will necessarily be made in the tax roll, the exact figures will not be available for the budget until sometime next month and the fixed budget for 1933 will not be ready for approval by the commission before September 15.

In accordance with the new law passed by the 42nd Texas Legislature relating to budgets, a public meeting was called Monday to discuss the tentative budget, but no one appeared and no complaints were filed, Mr. Marlow said.

This tentative budget, which was approved by the commission for the fiscal year from October 1, 1932 to September 30, 1933, is given as follows:

Estimated valuation—$2,141,713.
Tax rate—$2.50 on $100 valuation.
Tax levy—$53,542.80.
Appropriation to Funds
General fund	$19,917.81
Fire department	9,851.82
Street, bridge and park departments	5,996.76
Cemetery department	1,713.36
Tax levy of $1.75	$37,479.75
Interest and sinking fund, tax levy of 75c	16,063.05
Total tax levy	$53,542.80

The appropriation to the general fund will provide revenue for the general administration of city government, for police department, sanitation department, tax department, and includes a $1200 appropriation to the Chamber of Commerce.

Of the $9,851.82 allotted to the fire department $4100 of this will be spent on new equipment and for payments on old equipment. The remainder of the sum will pay salaries of firemen

About 200,000 leaflets, 50,000 post cards and several thousand letters have been mailed from the Hickman headquarters office during the past two weeks, Mrs. Tina Moore, secretary in the office, said this week.

People of Eastland who have friends and relatives in other parts of the State to whom they want to send literature on Judge Hickman are requested to come to the office and leave their list of names, R. E. Sikes, chairman of the Eastland division of the county-wide organization for Hickman said this week.

Texas Election Law Will Be Enforced In Second Primary

Because of the voting irregularities discovered in 132 Texas counties after the first primary, the voters of Eastland County will be required to adhere to the strict letter of the law in casting their ballots in the second primary, Ed. T. Cox, county Democratic chairman, announced this week.

The regulations relating to voting in Texas are given in Article 3004 of the Civil Statutes of Texas as follows:

"No citizen shall be permitted to vote, unless he first presents to the judge of election his poll tax receipt or certificate of exemption issued to him before the first day of February of the year in which he offers to vote, except as otherwise permitted in this title, unless the same has been lost, or mislaid, or left at home, in which event he shall make an affidavit of that fact, which shall be left with the judges and sent by them with the returns of the election; provided, that, if since he obtained his receipt or certificate, he removes from the precinct or county of his residence, he may vote on complying with other provisions of this title."

All judges of the election will follow the statute and all voters are requested to have their poll tax receipts in their possession when they go to the polls in order to save time in preparing affidavits as to loss or misplacement of the poll tax receipt, Mr. Cox said.

The part of Article 3004 pertaining to exemptions does not apply to Eastland County since it is effective only in cities of more than ten thousand population.

He had served pastorates at Carbon, Olden, and was well known in Eastland, having lived here with his daughter, Mrs. Simmons.

Aviation Discussed at Lions Meeting

Aviation and plans for an aviation club in Eastland were discussed by Mrs. Agnes Harwood Doyle at the luncheon of the Lions Club Tuesday noon on the roof of the Connelle Hotel.

Mrs. Doyle told the club that her interest in aviation resulted from an automobile accident several years ago and that since that time she has been convinced that the airplane is safer than the automobile for transportation. She cited instances of aviation clubs that have been successful in smaller towns than Eastland.

The problem facing the aviation enthusiasts of Eastland at the present is that of finding a location for a suitable landing field. The government landing field north of town cannot be used for private planes.

The matter of repairing the fence enclosing the high school football field was presented to the club by Sid Pitzer, chairman of the athletics committee of the Chamber of Commerce. After the meeting a collection was taken to help pay for this repair work on the field. Mr. Pitzer reported that the field had been sodded and would be in excellent condition for the football season, which starts next month.

Lion B. E. McGlamery reported on the plans for the annual Eastland County Fair which will be held the latter part of September. Lion G. S. Stire told the club of the trip made last Thursday to Brownwood at which about sixteen Lions clubs were represented.

Invitation Shoot To Be Held Sunday

Home Demonstration Council Meeting

By Miss Ruth Ramey, County Home Demonstration Agent

Ten clubs were represented at the Eastland County home demonstration council meeting held in regular session Saturday at 2 p. m. in 91st district courtroom. Forty-five women were present.

In absence of the chairman Mrs. Lee Burkhead, Rising Star, Mrs. Louis Pitcock, vice-chairman, was in the chair. Minutes were read and approved, roll called and old and new business disposed of, prefaced the program of reports of delegates, who attended the short course at College Station from July 25-29 inclusive. Those unable to attend council meeting this month will give reports at a later meeting.

Reports were given by Mrs. Louis Pitcock, Mrs. Lillian Neal Eastland, Ranger Club; Mrs. D. D. Stinebaugh, Grapevine Club; Miss Ruby Mae Barbin, Miller Club and Mrs. Ed Bills, Flatwood Club. Mrs. Pitcock gave a detailed report, giving two outstanding points of the short course, the first "Value of Cooperation of Agencies," to help the rural women, based on cooperation individually and through organizations; second a statement given by Miss Mildred Horton, state home demonstration agent at the short course, that "the keynote of the short course," is "Human Relationship."

Mrs. Pitcock stated that club meetings are valuable not only for demonstration work, but as recreation, which some of the women would not have otherwise. All club women should find time to attend the club meetings twice a month and take part and make the most of such meetings. We get out of anything just what we put into it.

Mrs. Lillian Neal Eastland, gave a report on the garden work, including the 4-H pantry. The Eastland county women have been working in the 4-H Pantry and budget canning for the last two years and still continue with this in connection with the garden. Mrs. D. D. Stinebaugh gave a detailed report on the improvement made in her bedroom. As bedroom demonstrator for her club she made a most attractive bedroom out of a storage space in the attic. This room was cleared, the walls and floors cleaned and painted, the articles of furniture painted and a table, desk, wash stand made. Two rugs were made for the floor, curtains added and a chair reupholstered. Following this Mrs. Stinebaugh gave a report on "Better beds and bedding."

He favors lower taxes and a general reduction of the expenditures of State government, according to his formal announcement carried in the Record several months ago.

Mr. Russell has been in Eastland often, both before and since beginning his campaign. He is a native of Callahan County and is associated with his father in the law and abstract business in Baird.

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF EASTLAND

PROMOTERS USE OLD TRICK TO SELL "FAT REDUCERS"

Promoters of so-called obesity remedies and fat reducers are using an old trick, with a modern slant, to deceive fat people into spending money for worthless and dangerous preparations, according to Dr. F. J. Cullen, of the Federal Food and Drug Administration. The advertisements appeal to the vanity of people and also to the fear that they may become so stout they can no longer be efficient in business.

"Surplus flesh," says Cullen, "may be due to two general causes. First, it may be constitutional, or due to endocrine metabolism or digestive processes, abnormal, but natural to the particular individual. Second, it may be due to eating too much rich or fat-building foods and to a lack of healthful exercise. Reducing might not be a difficult matter in the second case, with correct dieting and exercise. But a person who carries excess weight due to abnormal digestive processes should be extremely cautious about reducing and should do so only under the care of a physician. In either case, one should not trust to indiscriminate use of so-called obesity cures."

Cullen points out that the majority of so-called fat reducers offered for sale contain either thyroid extract or laxative drugs. Thyroid extract is dangerous, and should be used only under the direction of a physician. Unwise and long continued dosing with fat reducers, while it may reduce weight, has a tendency to cause irritation in the stomach and intestines and this may finally bring about permanent harm to the user.

Selling MORE Top Line, Quality Tires Than All Other Companies In Texas Combined

leads in sales of the best tires... the BEST being white sidewall tires... attested by the 10% extra charge made by all other tire companies and mail order houses for their white sidewall product.

PRICED BELOW ALL COMPETITION

While our low price, the LOWEST, bar none, has given us tremendous volume in all three lines of Star tires, the bulk of the tires we sell are white sidewalls (our finest tire).

The Hicks Rubber Company and its associate STAR tire merchants sell more top-line white sidewall tires than all the other companies in Texas combined.

This greater volume enables us to sell white sidewall STARS at prices other cannot touch. The same holds true in all classifications... tire for tire type for type, size for size, STAR is priced lowest.

When buying tires, avoid the pitfalls of price juggling. Remember, BEST tire in any brand is the white sidewall type. They cost you 10% more than advertised prices, BUT NOT HERE. Star balloon prices quoted in this advertisement are white sidewall prices. We have the black wall Star for those who prefer it.

Our prices being lowest, if STAR were no better than other standard brands, STAR would be a better buy for you. But considering the many more miles built into Star tires, according to the USERS who know, your saving on STAR is greater than the lower price reflects.

Special Offers, Inflated Trade-Ins, Discounts, Etc., Fail to Meet Our Low Prices.

A CRISIS IN TEXAS EDUCATION

In this time when the sentiment of the country is turning determinedly against the large expenditures for government, much apprehension is being felt by many people for cause of public education.

Texas ranks low in the United States in the standards of public education at the present time and it cannot afford to fall lower than it is at the present time.

The value of education is clearly shown in a survey made recently in a Midwestern city. Of 1,000 unemployed surveyed none had attended a college, seven-eighths of one per cent were high school graduates, and 90 per cent had less than an eighth grade education.

Editorial printed in the Texas Outlook for this month under caption "Scholastic Apportionment $11 per Capita for 1933-34" as follows:

400 to Graduate at University of Texas

Austin, Texas, Aug. 18.—Commencement exercises honoring approximately four hundred graduates will be held by the University of Texas Monday evening, Aug. 29, in Gregory Gymnasium according to announcement of registrar E. J. Mathews.

Because of the extremely large number of candidates for degrees, aggregating between 600 and 700 in June and 350 and 400 in August, several hours are required at each commencement for them to cross the platform and receive their certificates of graduation.

The baccalaureate services will be held on Sunday evening, August 28, with Dr. Frank L. Jewett of the Texas Bible Chair preaching the sermon.

Fruit, Vegetable Shipments Decline

Austin, Texas, August 18.—Car-lot shipments of fruits and vegetables from Texas totaled only 2,235 cars during July, the smallest total for any July since the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas started compiling reports on the daily shipment records of the United States Department of Agriculture in 1926.

"A drop of almost 1,000 cars in watermelon loadings accounted for most of the decline in shipments as compared with last year, although the movement of cantaloupes, peaches, potatoes, and tomatoes has been considerably short of that during last year.

"Only 280 carloads of tomatoes were shipped during July, compared with 345 cars during the same month last year. Fifty cars of pears were loaded during the month, an increase of 5 cars as compared with July a year ago, and 151 cars of onions as against only 99 a year ago."

Farmers Plan Trip To Spur Aug. 24

A trip to the Spur state agricultural experiment station is being planned for the farmers of Eastland county by the county agent and vocational teachers of Ranger, Cisco and Rising Star. The trip will be made Wednesday, August 24, with E. H. Varnell, vocational teacher of Cisco in charge.

Soil and moisture conservation and livestock feeding tests will be the objects of study for the group going to Spur. These are the two projects that this particular experiment station is working on at the present time.

All the farmers of the county are invited to make the trip and inspect the experiment station. They will assemble in Cisco at 6 o'clock on August 24 and make the trip to Spur together.

WORMS IN POULTRY EXPENSIVE

College Station — Intestinal worms in poultry cut production 25 per cent and take 28 per cent of the profits in flocks harboring these parasites, it is indicated in a study of poultry flock demonstration records made by E. N. Holmgren, poultryman husbandman in the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

Sanitation of houses and grounds is the best safeguard against worms, says Mr. Holmgren, but occasional worm treatments are usually necessary. The treatment used by most demonstrators consists in giving each hen a capsule containing nicotine and kamala, obtainable under various brand names anywhere in Texas.

Eastland Golfers to Play Thurber

The Eastland golf team will go to Thurber Sunday for a match with that team, which is the last match of the schedule started March 20 by the Oil Belt Golf Association.

The proposed match between Eastland and Phil-Pe-Co set for last Sunday was rained out and it will probably be played later this season.

Union Services Resumed Sunday

The union worship services will be held at the open air tabernacle Sunday night at 8 o'clock. Special music has been arranged, and George W. Shearer, Methodist pastor, is scheduled to preach.

Music will be under the direction of A. E. Herring. He will lead the song service and will be assisted by an orchestra of several instruments. A male quartet will sing.

Last Sunday's service was prevented by rain. A good attendance is urged for Sunday night.

Preparation Key To Fall Gardens

College Station — Pointing out that fall gardens should furnish fresh vegetables from the middle of September anywhere in Texas, J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist in the Extension Service at Texas A. and M. College emphasizes the importance of thorough preparation as the biggest single factor in success.

"Most fall gardens that fail do so because they were plowed and disced only once, leaving big clods," he says. "The ground should be plowed shallow, disced several times, and allowed to settle. Weeds should be not be plowed under but cut and raked away. Fertilization is more important in fall gardening than in the main spring garden.

"Slower maturing vegetables suitable for planting from August 10 to September 1 are cucumbers, cream peas, pinto beans, Irish potatoes and winter squash. If not planted during that period these vegetables should not be planted at all. For September plantings are suggested cabbage, radish, cauliflower, carrots, beans, onion sets, beets and Swiss Chard."

"Those interested in fall gardening will find by inquiry at least one demonstration garden near at hand from which they may get pointers, or information and help may be had from county farm and home demonstration agents. The Extension Service has available C-59 "Fall Gardens," obtainable from these agents or direct from the Extension Service at College Station.

MEAT STAMP IS HARMLESS

Inquiries have come to the United States Department of Agriculture concerning the practice of butchers in trimming the familiar purple Federal inspection stamp from fresh meat at the time of sale. This is entirely unnecessary, department specialists explain, as the fluid used in marking meat is made according to a Government formula from harmless ingredients—as harmless as fruit juices.

Formerly labels were attached to the meat that had been federally inspected and passed, but this proved expensive and otherwise unsatisfactory. The purple stamp provides a safe, clear, and permanent mark of inspection for the benefit of the meat buyer. Its presence signifies that the meat came from an animal that passed a thorough inspection by trained men.

PUT UP MILLION CANS

Denton — More than a million cans of home-grown food stuffs will be put up in Denton county this year by the estimate of Mrs. Edna W. Trigg, county home demonstration agent. She states that local dealers report sales of more than half a million tin cans and glass jars, and more than 100,000 can lids and jar tops.

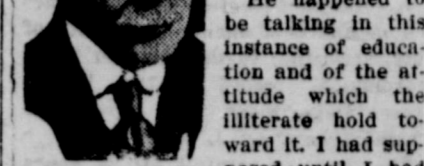

W. L. Daugherty of Weatherford was a visitor here Sunday in the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. T. Huffman. Billy and Kenneth Huffman, young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Huffman, returned with their grandfather after a two weeks visit in Weatherford.

Hugh Dunlap of Houston, who graduated in law at the University of Texas this June, spent the week-end visiting Allan Key, his team mate on the University of Texas tennis squad.

THE THINGS YOU HAVEN'T

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK Late Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

"It is the things you haven't," Gore said to me, "that have value most—the things that you have missed that you see in other people and that you realize, if you had had them, would have made a difference in you."

He happened to be talking in this instance of education and of the attitude which the illiterate hold toward it. I had supposed until I had time to think the matter over that the illiterate were likely to think well of their illiteracy and somewhat to look down upon those who had given their minds and their time to education, but Gore says that it isn't true.

"Where I was superintendent of schools," he said, mentioning one of the big school systems of the country, "I soon learned that I got far less help in furthering any new project which I might have in mind, from the educated members of the board than from those who without formal education had come up from the ranks. The man who had not himself had high school advantages in his youth wanted his children to have these privileges, and other children as well."

"It was the same way in the state legislature when we were working for an additional appropriation for the colleges of the state. The man who made the most dramatic plea for increased appropriations had scarcely himself been through high school and admitted that not a single man, so far as he knew, from the backwoods district which he represented was at that time in college. What he did not himself have he valued for other people."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scruggs have returned to their home in Commerce after a visit here with Mrs. Scruggs' sister and family, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Ferguson.

American Legion Met Monday Night

Members of the local Dulin-Daniels post of the American Legion met for the first time Monday night at their new quarters in the Elks Club rooms. Attendance was good, and much favorable comment was heard concerning the new home. According to those who were present, the comfort of the temporary location intensified enthusiasm for a permanent and exclusive home for the post, plans for which have been the subject of discussion at the last several meetings.

After the business session, games and round table discussions held the interest of members for the remainder of the evening.

Members are urging all ex-service men to attend the Legion meetings, since matters of interest and importance are being brought before the post.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6 at the Elks Club.

Tennant to Vote For C. V. Terrell

Overwhelming victory is assured Railroad Commissioner C. V. Terrell, his supporters believe, with the recent announcement of Roy I. Tennant that he would cast his vote for Mr. Terrell in the run-off election.

Mr. Tennant opposed the present chairman of the railroad commission in the first primary, piling up a high vote which carried him to third place in the final count. Mr. Terrell is running for his second full term as a member of the commission. He carried over 185 counties with a total ballot that gave him an overwhelming lead over his closest opponent.

"I would like to express my sincere appreciation to Mr. Tennant for his announcement that he would vote for me in the run-off," Mr. Terrell said as soon as he read Tennant's statement.

"I want to assure Mr. Tennant and the great number of voters who supported him in the first primary that when I am re-elected, I shall continue to conduct my office with the same high purpose that I have followed in the past."

In his statement, Mr. Tennant said that he did not want to try to dictate to his friends but rather than give the impression of riding the fence, he was declaring publicly that his vote would go to Mr. Terrell.

During the latter part of the run-off campaign Mr. Terrell announced that he would make at least five speeches at strategic points over the state. More will be made if his duties at Austin permit. He will confine these addresses to outlining the functions of the railroad commission and the vital part it plays in the operation of the state government.

"STATIC"

By J. L. COTTINGHAM

Well—as Baxter down at the Dublin Radio Station always says, "I will switch you to studio number four." I haven't got any studio number four any more than he has but it sounds like a good line to me and so I had to work it in.

P. G. Russell and Dick Phillips now have offices on the back alley behind the cafe. They complain about the flies worrying them to death. I always knew there would be flies on those fellows some time or other. They should have a sign printed to hang on their backs reading, "We are alive." Then such flies as could read would leave them alone.

Mrs. Agnes Harwood Doyle is trying to get up a flying club. She has a young transport pilot who rejoices in the good Episcopalian name of Luther Thomas to instruct anyone who would like to learn. Luther is a mighty good pilot but he has no aesthetic look to attract the ladies. His figure and eyes both show that he stays at a dining table until someone runs him off with a club. However, he can pick that biplane up and put it down again without a jar.

Young Jack Lewis is going to learn to fly—that is if he finds it necessary to learn, he assured me that he was sure he would know instinctively what to do. I hope he can make the motor have the same instincts. Otis Knox is going to learn and Stoney Martin. Neal Day must have gotten over his ambition to fly when Blanton got after him. Blanton must have scared Neal pretty bad for he has kept his mouth shut ever since the campaign was over.

Mrs. Joe Weaver and Mrs. Stoney Martin took a hop together in Mrs. Doyle's ship last Friday. Mrs. Weaver had been up before but it was Mrs.

GABBY GERTIE

"Benjamin Franklin, flying his kite, was no doubt the first to say 'Thereby hangs a tail!'"

Martin's first time to get both feet off the ground at the same time. She was trying to look pleased but she had that close-lipped smile and that tightness around the eyes that showed how she really felt. You could not help but admire her. There was no danger but she thought there was. It is this same brand of courage in women and men that is going to give America the right to rue the sky.

Mrs. Doyle has a pair of gray whipcord riding britches that she wears over a pair of high heeled shoes that leave a glimpse of net hose showing. Quite a fetching costume, but it won't be so hot if she ever has to get off and walk.

If you are tired of synthetic blondes, try looking at that Miss Gustafson in Perry Brothers. You will have to buy something while you are looking though for that girl is strictly business.

Horace Oldham has left town—temporarily. W. C. Hamon tells about a man that used a twenty-two to kill grizzlies with—I think I will figure out a story of a man who killed panthers by reading Shakespeare to them—that ought to be news. Joe Cook is going to get married—most girls these days are too wise to marry newspaper men. John Seale is still policing the square. Joe Laurent cut my hair and got most of it down my back—I am beginning to hope that the buzzards get to feast on Joe—real soon. Beskow is trying to fit me in glasses. He claims that they add greatly to your enjoyment of windy corners—I suggest he see John Knox.

Further deponent sayeth not. I thank you.

Judge Ely Praises Sterling in Speech

Praising the present administration of Governor Sterling and the platform on which he is running for re-election, Judge W. R. Ely, chairman of the Texas highway commission, spoke Tuesday afternoon in the 91st district courtroom for Governor Sterling in his campaign for re-election. Every seat in the courtroom was filled and chairs were brought into the courtroom and placed in the aisles for those who came too late to find seats.

"There is not a jibbering idiot that would believe the charges that have been advanced by Ferguson against Governor Sterling," Judge Ely said in the early part of his speech. The speaker was introduced by Forrest Wright, an attorney from Cisco, and a personal friend of the judge.

Judge Ely said that he was not campaigning for Sterling either to retain his position on the highway commission or to secure another public office but because he thought it was for the best interests of the State that Sterling be re-elected. He pointed out that he was appointed to the highway commission by Governor Moody and that his term would not expire until after 1935, after Sterling is out of office even after a second term. He told the audience that he had refused an appointment at the hands of the present governor.

The judge explained in detail each of the proposals made by Sterling in his platform and showed that they were all working for the best interests of the common man as opposed to the classes, represented by Ferguson.

He defended the work of the present highway commission and refuted the charges of Ferguson against it. He showed that the present commission is building better highways now for $1,000,000 than Ferguson built for $4,000,000 in 1925 and 1926. All the contracts for highway building are now let to the lowest bidder and when Ferguson was governor competitive bidding was not even allowed, the speaker said.

HUGE PLOW IN OPERATION

What is said to be the largest plow in the world has been operating in Orange County, Calif., and is described by A. A. Young, assistant irrigation engineer, of the United States Department of Agriculture, stationed at Santa Anna. It is the only plow of its kind and was designed and built to meet an unusual condition existing in the lower Santa Anna River Valley adjoining the seacoast.

Originally this area was fertile land but overflows from the Santa Anna River during floods deposited 1 to 2 feet of sand upon the rich soil and made it useless for crop production. Later this sand deposit was covered by a growth of Bermuda grass.

and cover general operating costs of the department.

About $1800 of the amount appropriated to the street, bridge, and park departments will be spent for new equipment, and the remainder will be spent for general operating costs.

The appropriation for the cemetery department has been increased somewhat for the next year to provide money for improvements and beautification of the cemetery, City Manager Marlow said.

City Defaults on Bonds

The $16,063.05 set aside for the retirement of the city's tax bonds is approximately one-fourth of what the city is expected to pay during this next year. The interest and sinking fund for 1932 was set by the bonding companies at $62,431, but payments on bonds this past year were defaulted entirely so that the city administration could be carried on. The first default on bonds by the city came on July 1, 1930, the city manager said.

The tax levies for the different funds are as follows: general fund, 93c; fire department, 46c; street, bridge, and park departments, 28c; cemetery department, 8c; interest and sinking fund, 75c. These levies total $2.50.

All members of the City Commission were present at the meeting Monday. They were Alex Clark, chairman, Frank Castleberry, Morris Keasler, T. M. Johnson, and Neil A. Moore.

TESTS MEASURE EFFECT OF WEATHER ON COTTON

Exposure of cotton in the field after the bolls first open rapidly lowers its grade, the United States Department of Agriculture has found after a series of color tests.

Although every cotton farmer knows that exposure lowers the grade of unpicked cotton, these tests indicate just how rapidly this lowering of grade takes place.

Newly opened boll swere tagged in a South Carolina cotton field. Cotton was picked from some each day for a long period and tested for change in color. During the first two weeks all samples picked graded strict good or good middling white or spotted. The last sample to grade in the white grades were picked on the eighteenth day after tagging. From that time on samples graded progressively through good middling spotted, good middling gray, strict middling spotted, strict middling blue, strict low and low middling spotted, and finally became so low in color that they could not be graded at all by the official color standards.

"Go to Church" Move Started In Eastland

The First Presbyterian Church of Eastland is sponsoring a city-wide "Go to Church" campaign. The Rev. D. P. Gillis, pastor, explains that it is purely interdenominational in both spirit and purpose, and it is believed that all churches in the city will benefit equally in increased attendance.

The campaign is conducted through the distribution of attractive "Go to Church" seals sent out by the national "Go to Church" movement and designed to be used on all outgoing letters and packages.

The campaign has just been completed in Abilene and other surrounding towns with a noticeable increase in attendance at worship in all churches, according to Mr. Gillis, who extends to all persons not regularly attending services at some church a hearty invitation to worship with his congregation.

On Texas Farms

C. L. Beason, county agent of Brazos county, tells a good one. A 4-H club boy attending the annual short course at College Station found that his one and only shirt was too dirty to stay longer, so he walked home 10 miles, had the shirt washed, and walked back again to take in the program. The boy won the right to represent his club by the excellence of his corn demonstration.

Of the 30 Wichita county farmers cooperating with the county agent in raising alfalfa by demonstration methods, Fenton Dale of Iowa Park reported the highest yield with 3500 pounds of hay per acre on 5 acres.

Soy beans continue to spread throughout the State, especially in East Texas, in the wake of demonstrations by county agents for several years. The experience of J. H. Haugse of San Augustine county is typical of many. He harvested one and a quarter tons of soy bean hay per acre from a 2-acre demonstration and finds his dairy cows relish this high protein feed.

For three weeks a canning laboratory equipped by a civic organization in Munday has been in use 24 hours daily by women who do not have canning equipment in their homes. The work is supervised by home demonstration club women.

The burner from an oil burning chicken brooder was brought into the house by J. J. New of Wharton county to furnish an additional stove for the use of his wife during the busy canning season. The idea proved good.

Canning more than 500 containers of vegetables on halves for other people has supplied Mrs. C. E. Marsh, Menard county home demonstration club member, with enough money to buy paper and lumber to finish a bedroom for her boys.

In spite of loss of a good tomato market this year, J. T. Youngblood in Upshur county declares he will stay with the crop another year because he has made more than $30 per acre from three acres with the crop half picked. The unsold surplus of the Upshur crop is going to hogs and into cans, the county agent states.

Because nine Wharton county 4-H club boys made an average of 49 bushels of corn per acre last year, compared to a county average of 29 bushels, there are 37 farm boys growing corn this year under county agent direction.

Karl Miller of San Benito got a 15 per cent increase in Irish potato yields this year from land on which legumes were turned under last season. Up to July 1 3243 acres of land to be planted to soil building legumes had been reported to the county agent.

A total of 12,529 containers of food have been canned in the community kitchen in Georgetown since its establishment a year ago by a civic organization in cooperation with the home demonstration agent. It was in constant use through June, some of the time keeping open for all night runs.

Average grocery bills of $3.77 per family are reported for May by 57 Robertson county home demonstration club women who are leading the way in demonstrations of wise living at home.

From a profit of $3.63 and 55 friers still on the yard, Betty Lee Bratcher, Dawson county 4-H club girl is paying for her music lessons. She hatched 100 chicks in April.

Fleeing to Canada

Anna M. Baldwin, daughter of the late E. J. ("Lucky") Baldwin, and said to be one of the wealthiest women in the country, who, it is reported, will expatriate herself from the United States and go to Canada because she is "lawed and taxed to death." She said crime and graft caused her decision. Mrs. Baldwin further stated her fortune had shrunk from $35,000,000 to $15,000,000 in the last four years.

FIRE IN FOREST CALLS FOR RUSH TO FIGHT IT

Dry weather, hot summer temperatures, even a moderate wind, and a spark of fire combine disastrously in the forests. Experience with forest fires makes men of the Forest Service wish it were easier to "educate" the public to prevent fires by never giving fire a chance to get started. How rapidly forest fires can spread and how rapidly it is necessary to multiply the number of fire fighters is revealed in bare statistical outline by George M. Jemison of the Forest Service, reporting the weather conditions that affected the Freeman Lake fire in Idaho last August.

Within a single day this fire burned over a tract 5 miles wide and 11 1/2 miles long. There were also scattering "spot fires," caused by burning brands carried by the wind, outside this area. This fire spread at an average rate of 1,600 acres per hour for a full day. The fire started at 10:30 in the morning on a hot August day, and with the wind blowing 12 to 13 miles an hour. The weather remained hot and the wind increased in the early afternoon to 17 or 18 miles an hour.

What these conditions demanded of the fire-fighting force appears in other figures. The fire was discovered 20 minutes after it started. A fire crew of 11 men reached it and began work 1 hour and 10 minutes after it started, but by that time it was a 20-acre fire. By 12:50, less than two hours after the start, 31 more men arrived and 50 more at 5 p. m. By midnight, 640 men were working on the fire line, and the fire was under control three days later.

FEDERAL AGENTS REMOVE MANY DRUGS FROM MARKET

On August 27, 1907, eight months after the Federal food and drugs act went into effect, a Government inspector bought a package of a medicine labeled as a cure for headaches and as a "brain food." That purchase, according to Dr. F. J. Cullen, chief of drug control, Federal Food and Drug Administration, was the beginning of action that led to the first legal battle involving a drug under the new law.

Federal experts examined the so-called "brain food" and found that it contained a large quantity of a coal-tar chemical, acetanilid. Acetanilid, in some cases, eases pain and induces sleep, but it also depresses the heart and is a poison if taken in sufficient quantities. Labeling the preparation as a "brain food" disarmed the buyer's suspicion with regard to the dangerous character of the article. It also led people to believe that the article actually was a brain food. This drug was not only harmful, but was labeled with words that were misleading and deceptive. The Government prosecuted the manufacturer and forced him to change the label.

Cullen points out that since that date Federal officials who enforce the national pure food and drug law have removed from trade thousands of so-called patent or proprietary

In the ward schools the languages, supplementary readers, and art books will be changed.

Notice to Transfers.

The superintendent called attention to the regulations of the State Department of Education relating to students transferring from unaccredited high schools. These rules are quoted as follows from the Directory of Classified and Accredited High Schools:

"On all complete units of work pupils transferring from unaccredited high schools are required to present certificates of credit from the State Department of Education or be required to pass satisfactory examinations given by the accredited school.

"The committee discourages the practice of giving pupils conditional credits from unaccredited high schools except in continuous courses which the pupils pursue in the accredited school.

"The committee directs definitely that no credit be accepted without examination from an unaccredited high school offering more than two years of high school work."

EVAPORATION EXPLAINED

AUSTIN, Aug. 18--A simple method of controlling evaporation of surface water was expounded by Dr. E. P. Schoch, professor of physical chemistry and director of the Bureau of Industrial Chemistry at The University of Texas, in a recent talk before a civic club here. Evaporation during the hot months of summer goes forward at the rate of seven inches to two feet each four weeks. Corn cobs soaked in crude oil and thrown onto surface water stores will retard evaporation sharply, according to Dr. Schoch.

"We worry about gold and black gold, but we neglect our real gold, our water--until we are caught in a jam," Dr. Schoch said.

Much is expected from this tall distance runner from Finland, in the Olympic games. In his native land he covered the 1,500 meters in 3:50.

FEDERAL PURE FOOD LAW IMPROVED BY AMENDMENT

Uncle Sam has taken another step toward making it easier for the housewife to get the most for her money when she buys canned foods.

During the last year, purchasers have seen a new wording printed in boldface type upon labels of some canned peas, peaches, pears, tomatoes, cherries, and apricots. That legend, "Below U. S. Standard, Low Quality But Not Illegal," has appeared upon the labels of the canned foods mentioned which fell below official standards of quality set up by the Secretary of Agriculture.

After August 23, there are going to be some changes in the labeling on substandard goods. The substandard legend now in effect, "Below U. S. Standard, Low Quality But Not Illegal," has not been changed so far as substandard canned vegetables are concerned. Substandard canned fruits however, will be labeled, "Below U. S. Standard, Good Food, Not High Grade."

Under the new regulations the housewife is further protected against buying slack filled cans. In case the contents fall below the standard of fill, the goods must be labeled with the statement, "Below U. S. Standard, Slack Filled." This regulation goes into effect August 23.
