EASTLAND

By JOE THOMAS COOK

Eyes are turned toward Eastland and rightfully so—our town is showing progress, our business section makes an excellent appearance, and there is a feeling that Eastland is responding to the general upward trend of business throughout the country.

Within the last week or so visitors who are interested in opening a bank have shown much enthusiasm over conditions here and did not hesitate to state that "someone will open a bank here before long—the possibilities are too good to be passed unnoticed."

There may be a few who do not realize that the old home town is in excellent condition compared with many others, but the general opinion is that Eastland has many advantages and that a swift comeback is in sight.

Bootleggers of this county have been furnishing some of the equipment for the canning program that has been so widespread this summer. Throughout the summer the bottles, caps, and bottle cappers seized by Sheriff Virge Foster and his deputies have been given to Miss Ruth Ramey, home demonstration agent, for use by her home demonstration club members in preserving food. Three bottle cappers have been furnished three clubs which have club houses and the equipment is in constant use. Small kegs and large crockery jars have also been supplied by the sheriff for pickle making.

At their luncheon meeting Tuesday the Lions Club challenged the Rotary Club to a jackass polo match to be played during the Eastland County Fair. Of course the Rotarians will be good sports and accept this challenge and the people of Eastland County may look forward to a hilarious evening of entertainment at the expense of some of the dignified business men of the town. Most of us have the pleasant memories of such a match two years ago, in which such outstanding polo stars as John Mouser, Frank Crowell, and J. E. Lewis participated. If the success of the county fair depends upon this polo match, then the Eastlander thinks it is assured.

The Arab Gasoline Corporation's test well on the I. N. Hart farm suffered a setback this week when an explosion of gas destroyed the rig and delayed the drilling for at least two weeks. The Arab Gasoline is the only company active in drilling wells in this territory at the present time. Sam Butler still has faith in Eastland County as an oil producing area, and his company is doing a great deal of experimenting and drilling. The burning of the rig did not discourage him especially, but rather gave him an incentive to continue drilling. The gas was struck at a depth of 2040 feet, and geologists of the company are optimistic over the prospects for the well.

We are printing each week in the Record an article pertaining to some phase of education. This week on page 3 there appears an article, "School Education, the Birthright of Childhood," prepared by the State Educational Committee. This article traces America's fight for free public school education and on the whole is an interesting article, well worth reading.

As we are going to press evidence is being presented in the famous Cisco football case, which is being tried before Judge George L. Davenport in the 91st district court. The Cisco Independent School District is bringing suit against members of the district executive committee petitioning for reinstatement into participation in the Interscholastic League. The Courtroom is always crowded with people from all over the district, and it seems as though dozens of lawyers are representing the parties in the suit.

Here's an interesting piece of news for football enthusiasts of the Oil Belt. The district executive committee of the Interscholastic League voted to reduce the admission to football games of the Oil Belt for adults from 75c to 50c. Each game will have a section for reserved seats for which

Armstrong, Candidate For Governor, Speaks In Eastland; Platform Given

Advocating a state monetary system by which Texas would issue state money and establish its own credit system, George W. Armstrong, candidate for governor of Texas representing the Good Government Party, spoke to a large audience in the 88th district courtroom Monday afternoon.

The candidate is recognized as an authority on monetary and financial problems and he explained to his audience how a state monetary system could be set up that would help eliminate the causes which brought on the present depression.

Mr. Armstrong first entered the race for the Democratic nomination but withdrew before the first primary in July and started the organization of the Good Government Party. Mr. Armstrong was practicing attorney for several years and is now head of a steel company in Fort Worth.

The platform of the Good Government Party follows:

We do hereby adopt and proclaim the following platform:

National Policies

I. We demand that the national congress abolish the Federal Reserve Board and Advisory Council, and cause to be returned to the national banks their capital contributions to the Federal Reserve System, and that the system be operated for the benefit of institutions upon its surplus as capital, and that each of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks be independent of the other and be under the exclusive control and management of their respective directorates.

II. We demand the repeal of the 10 per cent tax imposed against state bank notes.

III. We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ancient ratio of 16 to 1.

IV. We demand the payment of adjusted compensation to the veterans of the World War, in irredeemable treasury certificates tenderable for debt and taxes.

V. We stand for cheap money and high prices and wages. We demand that a sufficient volume of money be placed in circulation to re-establish the price and wage level that prevailed in April, 1920; and that import tariff duties be levied sufficiently

DR. BOOTH IMPROVING

Word received here this week from Dr. Cullom H. Booth, presiding elder of the Methodist Cisco District, indicates that his health is improving and that he expects to return to his home in Cisco about September 20. Dr. Booth has been in Los Angeles, Calif., the past several weeks convalescing from a severe illness.

Mrs. W. E. Coleman has as her guest this week her daughter, Mrs. O. B. Stover of Waco.

Miss Thelma Brewer spent the week-end with relatives in Abilene.

Rabbit Show Being Planned For Fair

A rabbit show will be held in connection with the annual Eastland County Fair, which is scheduled for September 21-24. H. L. Owen, president of the Eastland County Rabbit Club, announced this week. This is the third annual show that has been held during the county fair.

Fifty-three special merchandise prizes have been arranged to be awarded to rabbit breeders who enter their rabbits in the show. These merchandise prizes, which will be given primarily for the best individual animal exhibited, are being donated by the merchants of Eastland, Ranger, and Cisco, Mr. Owen said.

Cash prizes will be awarded to first, second, and third place winners in eight classifications of the show.

A meeting of the Eastland County Rabbit Club was held last night and plans were discussed for conducting the show. Another meeting of the club has been set for next Thursday night, September 15. All rabbit breeders and owners, whether they are members of the club or not, are invited to enter their animals in the show, Mr. Owen explained.

Members of the club have estimated that there are about 500 rabbit breeders in the county and approximately 8,000 rabbits. A better show is anticipated this year than ever before because the interest in rabbit breeding has been increasing rapidly.

The rules for the show as adopted by the club are as follows:

1. This show is to be held under the rules of the American Rabbit and Cavy Breeders, Inc.
2. No animal showing symptoms of disease of any kind will be allowed admittance to the show room.
3. All stock must positively bear permanent ear marks.
4. Entries will close at 6 p. m. September 17. Letters postmarked that date will be accepted. All stock must be in place September 21 at 9 p. m.
5. Ship stock to Eastland County Fair, Rabbit Department, Eastland, Texas. Stock must be sent prepaid and entry fees must accompany entry blanks. Mail entries to Eugene Witt, secretary of the show.
6. Entry fees: singles, 50c; does and litters, $1.

Eudaly Speaks On Feeding of Cattle

"Care and Feeding of Dairy Cattle" was the title of a speech made to a group of farmers Tuesday night by E. R. Eudaly, dairy cattle specialist from A. and M. College, in the county courtroom.

Mr. Eudaly stressed the fact that most feeding now is deficient in lime and phosphorus and he pointed out that this deficiency can be eliminated by the use of bone meal and ground limestone in the rations for the cattle.

Mrs. Jimmie Little, who has been suffering from a severe illness, was reported slightly improved Thursday.

Eastland Has High Water; 3.5 Inches Of Rain Falls Here

Negro And Mexican Districts Are Threatened By Rising North Fork Of Leon River

Eastland experienced heavy rains, swollen rivers, and overflowing lakes along with the rest of Texas the early part of this week. The greatest stress came Tuesday night after approximately 3.5 inches of rain had fallen within two or three days. City manager W. C. Marlow and members of the city police department remained up most of the night supervising work in the negro and Mexican districts when this section was threatened by the rising waters of the north fork of the Leon River.

At one time Tuesday night water from the north fork stood 18 inches on the Eastland-Ranger highway near the Green Filling Station and about 6 inches on the Breckenridge highway just north of the T. & P. station. Lake Eastland, fed by the Cisco water shed, was filled and 2 1/2 feet of water was flowing over the spillways of the lake at one time.

Rail transportation was halted for several hours Tuesday, when bridges were washed out on the main line of the T. & P. between Eastland and Cisco and between Baird and Abilene. At one time during the day 53 trains were tied up between Cisco and Baird. The Southland Greyhound Bus Company's schedule was disrupted between Abilene and Sweetwater because of high water. The buses were held up from Tuesday morning until Wednesday night at 11 o'clock, officials said this week.

1,100 Cans of Food Stored at C. of C.

Two hundred fifty-four cans of food products canned in one day is the record of Mrs. Jack Meredith and her assistants at the Eastland community cannery located in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The record was set Tuesday of last week.

More than 1,100 cans have been stored at the cannery since its opening about July 1. This is only a small percentage of the products canned, since much of the work has been done on a cash or share basis. No special days are set for operation of the cannery, the work being done as the products are brought in. Several days each week are usually required to fill orders.

Miss Marjorie Spencer left this week for Weatherford Junior College to begin her second year as a student there.

Registration Is Held Today at High School Term Opens Monday

Registration for the 1932-33 school term will continue this morning at the high school, while students of the junior high school and the ward schools will report Monday morning and be enrolled. P. B. Bittle, superintendent of Eastland public schools, announced this week.

Price of Admission To Football Games Reduced 25 Cents

The price of admission to high school football games in the Oil Belt district this fall for adults has been reduced from 75c to 50c by the district executive committee in a meeting called for 2 o'clock last Monday afternoon at the Connellee Hotel. The committee voted to be stricter in the granting of passes to the games, and several changes in the schedule for this district were approved.

The committee agreed that a reserved seat section could be arranged at each one of the games and that 25c extra would be charged for a seat in this section. The size of this section will be determined by the officials of the contending team and will vary with the drawing power of the teams and the importance of the games.

No passes will be issued except to players, coaches, and officials, the committee ruled. Policemen will be admitted on their uniform or on proof that they are policemen. Press passes will be issued by the officials whose team the respective sports writers are representing and the charges will be deducted in the settlement following the game. The coaches will furnish the gatekeeper with a list of players eligible for free admission to the game, in which they themselves are not participating.

The schedule for the fall was altered somewhat by the committee. Brownwood will play Breckenridge October 21 at Breckenridge and will play Abilene at Brownwood October 28. These changes were requested by Brownwood to avoid conflict with college games being played in Brownwood. This change will also affect the schedule of the Eastland Mavericks. Eastland will play Breckenridge on October 28 instead of October 21.

Lions Club Plans Activities in Fair

Speeches by guests and planning of their part in the Eastland County Fair occupied the time of the Lions Club at their luncheon Tuesday noon on the roof of the Connellee Hotel.

G. W. Barnes of the Federal Farm Board from Fort Worth related his experiences in making loans to cattlemen on cattle feeding. He said that of the $2,125,000 loaned farmers and ranchers for cattle feeding a loss of only $254 has been sustained.

E. R. Eudaly, a specialist on dairy cattle from A. and M. College, made a humorous speech to the club. Ed Jay of Breckenridge was also a guest, and H. C. Davis was a visitor.

Davis and J. C. Patterson reported on the progress of the county fair. Horace Conley, who is chairman of the midway of the fair, reported on his work in this connection. Lions Donald Kinnaird, John A. Burke, and J. J. Coffman were appointed to have charge of the Lions Club concessions during the fair.

The Lions voted to challenge the Rotary Club to a jackass polo game during the fair. A similar match was held in connection with the fair two years ago, and it is expected to be one of the entertainment features of the fair. Lion P. B. Bittle was named captain of the Lions team.

SCHOOL EDUCATION, THE BIRTHRIGHT OF CHILDHOOD

Prepared by the State Educational Committee.

Everyone is well acquainted with the famous expression of the great Southerner, Robert E. Lee. The lessons learned by this noble American impressed upon him the fact that education is indeed the birthright of childhood, a "Debt owed by present to future generations." The great student of human relations, Dr. H. A. L. Fisher, Minister of Education in England during the darkest period of the World War, voiced this universal verdict when he said that "education is debt eternal of maturity to childhood and youth."

Because the child passes this way but once, no moratorium can be declared upon this debt without fatal consequences to the nation. School education is the rightful heritage of childhood, which can be assimilated at but one time in the life of an individual. Dr. John Finley, editor of the New York Times, recognized the binding nature of this obligation when he said, "In times like these when sacrifices must be made and economies must be practiced, nothing should be allowed to interfere with the payment of the state's full debt to the children and youth of the land."

Over one thousand social, educational, and economic leaders of the country assembled at President Hoover's White House Conference on Child Welfare, after careful study and scientific investigation, worked out the nineteen provisions of the Children's Charter, which at once is an "emanipation proclamation," of childhood and a declaration of rights for American youth.

In years past, most educational measures have been prompted by parental ambitions. Every worthy parent has been willing to sacrifice that his own child might become well versed in the lore of the race and be given a position of advantage in the struggle for a living. The state recognizes that all children, under whatever conditions of life they may have been brought into the world, should share equally in the rich inheritance of their fathers.

The Conference on Child Welfare decided "The state must guarantee for every child: First, a school safe from hazards, sanitary, properly equipped, lighted, and ventilated, and for younger children nursery schools and kindergartens to supplement home care. Second, an education which, through the discovery and development of his individual abilities, prepares him for life; and through training and vocational guidance prepares him for a living which will give him the maximum of satisfaction. Third, such training and teaching as will prepare him for successful parenthood, home-making, and the rights of citizenship. The nation owes every child these rights regardless of race or color or situation, wherever he might live under the protection of the American flag."

Since the dawn of civilization, man has come to realize that when children are brought into the world they inherit the riches, the privileges, and the experiences of the race, the administration of which is intrusted to both the parent and the state. Since the dark ages of the past when chivalry blomed into the flower of knighthood, the cause of the weak and helpless has been championed by the best and the highest passion of man. From the daring exploits of the English Knights to the sinking of the Titanic the cry, "women and children first," has rung out in every great calamity. Men have been willing to risk their lives and sacrifice their fortunes on the altar of the defenseless. Certain rights of childhood have been fearlessly and chivalrously defended by all noble men.

Not the least of these struggles and sacrifices have been made in the name of education and schools. The Pilgrims left the fertile fields of Holland for the bleak coast of New England that they might preserve for their children the heritage of Anglo-Saxon ideals.

Washington, Jefferson, and Adams realized the rights of childhood when they wrote into the Preamble of our Constitution the immortal words, "To secure the blessings of liberty to our selves and our posterity do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

One of the prime motives which led the intrepid pioneers of Texas to rebel against Mexico was the lack of public school education for their children. When at last victory smiled on our arms at San Jacinto, and the fathers of the state met to consider for the independent state of Texas, provisions for a free school education for the children of the commonwealth were written into our first code of law.

Our forefathers did not conquer the wilderness for their own selfish pleasure, but ever carried before them the banner of childhood. In the name of their children they fought for freedom and bequeathed to posterity the priceless inheritance of liberty and justice.

Children must be first, because in the words of J. E. Moore, editor of the National Educational Association Journal, "They are the torch-bearers of civilization. We can put children first and keep them first, knowing that it is they who must carry the torch tomorrow if civilization is to march forward." The real spirit of America is that of honesty and willingness to fulfill every trust given into the care of man. America must recognize the right of the child, pay the interest on her baby bonds owned by childhood, and keep the schools at their best. Because children are our greatest national treasure we must keep them first.

Farm Sirup Making Being Encouraged

COLLEGE STATION—"Texas farmers make 'sorgo sirup' and not 'sorghum molasses', farm sirup makers in scattered counties in East, West and South Texas were recently told by C. F. Walton, of the United States Bureau of Chemistry and Soils on a trip to the State for the purpose of aiding county agents in a program of extending and improving farm sirup making. "Molasses is a by-product of sugar making, whereas sorgo sirup contains all the plant's sugars", he said.

"The manufacture of sorgo sirup in the United States equals that of cane sirup. Sorgo is more widely grown than sugar cane or sugar beets, gives large returns to the acre, is easy to cultivate, and contains enough sugar to afford a big yield of sirup, usually at a satisfactory profit. The greatest cleanliness and care are required to produce fine sirup. Farmers will do better to offer their surplus sirup to the public in smaller containers attractively labeled. There is need of working out standard grades and of teaching the public to discriminate between good and bad sirup". Mr. Walton said.

In the sorgo sirup schools held, discussions and demonstrations centered on varieties of desirable sorgo cane, soils, fertilizers, culture, equipment, evaporating, canning, prevention of crystallization, and taste preferences. County agents are working to extend farm sirup making for home use by encouraging established sirup makers to work on a share basis, and helping sirup makers in new areas. They are also aiding makers in standardizing their product for sale.

Farmers Urged To Purchase Good Seed

COLLEGE STATION—Citing the Biblical command "Thou shalt not sow thy fields with mingled (mixed) seed", E. A. Miller, agronomist in the Texas A and M College Extension Service, warns farmers at the start of the fall planting season to beware of buying seed from irresponsible parties. "The only seed that a farmer can afford to buy is good seed of high quality", he says. "Be sure that the seed is pure and at least carries a tag showing the per cent of germination, per cent of weed seeds, etc. There is always a risk in buying seed from any trucker or peddler who happens along and who has no business reputation to uphold.

"In these days of low prices big yields are more important than ever, and they can only be obtained by planting seed of high yielding strains. The handicap of inferior seed cannot be overcome by good soil, good rainfall and good cultural methods, although these factors are very important. Seed that look good may have a very poor pedigree or none at all, and may be full of weed seeds or disease germs. Germination alone does not give a true idea of the value of seed, for it often happens that poor seed look good and germinate well. The safest way is to buy only tagged seed or seed of known origin."

SAVE ON SEED
GONZALES—A saving on seed cost of about $30,000 is in prospect for cotton farmers in seven Gonzales county communities where the pure seed from the one variety cotton block in Schoolland Community is to be sold. The county agent explains that under agreement with the co-operating Greenville Federal Experiment Station, Schoolland farmers are to sell their pure seed at oil mill prices wherever farmers arrange for one-variety blocks.

SHIFTS FARM SYSTEM

WOODVILLE—Like most others, Frank Weeks, Tyler county farmer, got in debt two years ago trying to pay everything out of cheap cotton. At the suggestion of County Agent B. B. Martin, he shifted his system January 1st a year ago by buying a brood sow, milk cow and a few good chickens. He has since raised all the food and feed for family and stock, sold a few chickens, eggs, and vegetables, and has obtained additional cash from an acre of tomatoes and a few acres of cotton. He has terraced his farm which he says is building up more rapidly under the new system. Mr. Weeks declares his family has more to live on now than ever before.

Mrs. T. M. Johnson and Mrs. W. F. Davenport motored to Weatherford Monday to take their daughter and sister, Miss Bernice Johnson, to Weatherford Junior College where she will begin her second year as a student this week. Miss Johnson is majoring in music.

QUIT KNOCKING AND GO TO WORK

Continual howling about reduced earnings of many corporations is doing much to prolong the depression, intimidate the individual and drive money into hiding.

Why shouldn't corporation and private earnings fall below the peaks of two or three years ago? We were then living under abnormal conditions.

When an automobile salesman without any capital could open an expensive show room and sell automobiles as fast as he could get them, we were not living in normal times. When a bond salesman without any practical experience, capital or knowledge of the intrinsic value of the securities he handled, could open an office equipped with expensive furniture and oriental rugs, and sell securities, bonds, stocks, etc., to a clamoring public, and make money faster than he ever dreamed of, ordinary caution should have warned anybody conditions were not normal. When a real estate operator could take practically worthless land and sell it at fabulous figures which no normal crop value could justify, it could have been self-evident that there was something wrong. And so on through every line of industrial, agricultural and financial activity.

During ten years of inflation, countless persons came to think that by their own ability and shrewdness they were creating wealth for themselves by speculation when, as a matter of fact, most of them were creating nothing and saving nothing while they lived in a fool's paradise which they thought would last forever.

The majority of persons have more today than they had in pre-war times but they complain about having less because they are making comparisons on a false basis. This is true of individuals and it is true of companies. Industrial concerns expanded beyond any normal requirements. They have endeavored to maintain operations on an inflated basis which cannot be done because there is no longer any artificial demand to maintain such production.

All over the nation, one-man industries and one-man farms are starting again on a deflated basis. You can drive through the country and see little "shacks" springing up on cheap land in the far-away places. The occupants of these little homes are going to produce their living and gradually make a little surplus. The big farmers who bought high-priced land on the strength of high priced crops, as well as the industries which built and equipped plants at peaked prices and built up peak overheads, are all going to have to readjust themselves to the basis of the man who is starting at the bottom today. The laboring man who enjoyed war-time wages for the past decade, is in the same boat.

The same inflation that effected industry and the individual also affected government and taxation, and government is among the last to recognize conditions and reduce its mushroom expansion accordingly. The trouble with government is that its managers (our public officials and public servants) will not reduce their own functions voluntarily. The reduction will have to be forced by a tax-weary people who, after they have adjusted their own personal and business affairs, will turn to their governmental problems which in a large measure they have permitted to expand, by their own indifference, without check during the past decade.

Emphasizing the term "hard times" has become more or less a racket indulged in by a growing army of theorists who would remedy our ills through schemes which try to create employment at

Building Permits Decline In July

Austin, Texas, Sept. 1. — Texas building, following the usual seasonal tendency, made another decline during July, the total value of building permits issued in the 37 reporting cities being only $1,277,067, according to figures compiled by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. July, ordinarily the low point of the year in building activity, found no variation from the rule this year, and dropped by 3.8 per cent from the total for the preceding month, the Bureau's report showed. Last year in July, building permits totaling $3,828,167 were issued.

"Although the seasonal drop in building permits issued in Texas was slightly more than the average decline between June and July during the past five years, the showing was better than that in the country as a whole," the report said. "According to S. W. Strauss and Company, the value of building permits issued in 559 cities and towns in the United States during July was 14 per cent under that for June and was 72 per cent smaller than in July last year.

"Dallas, with total building permits of $201,831, headed the list of cities. Longview issued building permits amounting to $166,658, and Fort Worth was third with $158,245. A new post-office building swelled the value of permits issued in Plainview to $152,000.

"Actual contracts awarded, which include public works and utilities as well as residential and non-residential building, amounted to only $6,167,800 in Texas during July, according to the F. W. Dodge Corporation. This total represents a drop of only 25 per cent from July last year, as compared with a decline of 55 per cent in the corresponding figure for the 37 Eastern states. The July total of contracts awarded in Texas was more than twice that for June. Public works made up more than three-fourths of the total volume of contracts awarded during July, an unusually high percentage.

MAKES PROFIT IN TURKEYS

KINGSVILLE—Turkeys that she boned, ground, canned and sold as standard "Texas Better 4-H Products" have brought an average profit of 98 cents per bird above present market prices to Mrs. R. R. Sullivan, home demonstration club member at Riviera in Kleberg county. Market price of the birds and cans, labels and fuel were figured as costs. She finds that chickens have brought her an average profit of 32 cents each marketed in the same way. The white meat of turkeys cans much nicer than the white meat of chickens, Mrs. Sullivan observes, but the opposite is true of the dark meat.

public expense, thereby further discouraging industry through exorbitant taxation, thus creating more unemployment. Most of our economic doctors are afraid to state in plain English that we are now on a new basis: that products of all kinds will be selling at pre-war prices; that a large part of our unemployed are going to have to make employment for themselves at wages more nearly what they received before the war. Many of the jobs they have enjoyed will never return because the conditions that produced them are gone forever unless we start another world-wide war, which would be a terrific price to pay to stimulate employment.

It may be hard medicine to take but it is a reality and the sooner we recognize the conditions and adjust ourselves to them, the sooner will we conquer the depression by merely returning to normal standards of living.

"STATIC"

By J. L. COTTINGHAM

Harrison Thomas and Little Jack Lewis spent four hours figuring out how long it would take a man to count a billion one dollar bills. Their estimate claimed in excess of eighty years. The calculation served no useful purpose other than to keep two youngsters out of mischief.

Have you seen Perry Sayles in that yellow slicker? That is worth standing on the corner an extra hour to see. There was a midnight wedding the other night—the participants did not want to have any anniversaries or wanted two a year—I forget which.

Johnny Burke very kindly suggested that this editor get off the street before he got run over. I did not know that Burke was going to be loose down town with a car or I would have stayed at home.

Sam Gamble has taken to wearing boots in the restaurant—probably to prevent himself from becoming bald-footed as well as bald-headed. Rotten. Then you can't keep pulling new ones all the time. Short of good stuff this week, so I am going to do like the good columnists and set down my thoughts (no comments) as I go round the square—looking for something new.

"There is Earl Bender turning around and looking back. Wonder if he is going to try to pick up the girl in the blue dress. She thinks he is. No—he is just looking at something in a show window. Another good story gone phooey. There is Mrs. Olden looking for Horace—that's a heart breaking job. Al Mayfield waiting patiently for a flapper to quit using the Corner telephone. Sid Pitzer—showing signs of getting old. A drunk, who has lost his hat in the window well by the old Texas State building corner, trying to persuade Frank Day to get it out for him. That hole would have to be underreamed before Frank could get down it. A girl, sitting in a green Buick putting on her rouge by the rear-view mirror—she has the left cheek too high. You tell her—I am busy. Bill Jessup sitting in the door of the Black Belt Filling Station and watching the water go by—he is getting a good rest. Neal Day stepping on the starter of the decrepit model T with a hopeful look on his face—yes—he was lucky that time. Senator Wilbourne Collie trying to look too important. Oscar Chastain passing me without a greeting—a sign that the election is over. Grady Owen, frowning while his wife buys groceries—he might as well grin. Mrs. I. Wolf in a new yellow sweater and skirt—that blue-striped dress has lasted a year anyhow. Tom Bendy getting ready to catch up with his fishing. Lee Reed trying to blow his nose and whistle at the same time Joe Cole going around to look over competitors' prices. Tobe Earnest playing the marble board—his wife bosses the store while he is gone. George Uttz walking bent forward like a chimpanzee. Earl Woody riding around with C. J. Rhodes—probably soliciting contributions for a home for orphan cats. Lowell Snyder claims he has settled to one girl now—may be true but unlikely. Jim Prattley looking hopeless as usual. George Karantonis chasing a fly. Betty and Arl Williams lying in

'Geology of Texas' Will Be Published

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 8.—Many valuable bulletins, written by members of the faculty of The University of Texas, are each year published by the University Press of that institution. These volumes are designed for general circulation among the people of Texas, and in many instances they have proved of great importance along practical and cultural lines, as has been pointed out particularly with reference to the several reports on geological subjects that have been issued from time to time.

There will come from the University Press about October 15 an issue of 5,000 copies of a bulletin on "The Geology of Texas," by the Bureau of Economic Geology, according to A. C. Wright, manager of that publishing department. This bulletin will contain about 800 pages. Another bulletin, "The Geology of Wise County," with an issue of 2,500 copies, is now being distributed. The Bureau of Nutrition and Health Education is having printed 2,000 copies of a bulletin, "Health Instruction Guide," which will be ready for distribution about September 15, Mr. Wright said.

There has just been published for the Interscholastic League Bureau of the University an edition of 150,000 bulletins, each of 16 pages, entitled "Words for the Spelling and Plain Writing Contest," to be used in the League's spelling and writing contests in the public schools of the State. Another bulletin for the League, "Limiting Taxes on Tangible Property," which will contain matter relating to the subject for debate, "Resolved, That at least one-half of all State and local revenues in Texas should be derived from sources other than taxes on tangible property," will be issued and ready for distribution about October 1.

There have been published recently 2,500 bulletins on "Some Texas Fusulinidae," for the Bureau of Economic Geology; 2,500 copies of "Mathematic Teachers Bulletin," edited by members of the faculty of the department of mathematics, and 1,600 copies of "English Bulletin," edited by members of the English faculty.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The lesson-sermon subject was "MAN" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 4.

"Now, O Lord, thou art our father; we are the clay, and thou art our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand," was the golden text, taken from Isaiah 64:8.

The service included the following passages from the Bible (Genesis 1: 26, 27): "And God said, Let us make man in our own image, after our likeness. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

These citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, were also included (pp. 295, 294):

"Mortals are not like immortals, created in God's own image; but infinite Spirit being all, mortal consciousness will at last yield to the scientific fact and disappear, and the real sense of being, perfect and forever intact, will appear. . . Man is neither self-made nor made by mortals. God created man."

Church of Nazarene Conducting Revival

The Church of the Nazarene revival meeting, which began Friday, September 2, and will continue through Sunday, September 18, is progressing nicely, according to members of the church, services having been held each night except Tuesday. They were discontinued that night on account of rain.

The Rev. Mr. Gray of Dallas will arrive September 12 to preach through September 17. The various pastors of Eastland churches are preaching prior to his coming. Services are being held in a tent near the church at Lamar and Sadosa streets. The Rev. L. C. Anderson, pastor, and his congregation extend an invitation to the people of Eastland to attend the old-fashioned revival services.

The ladies of the church are conducting prayer meetings in connection with the revival.

County Federation Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the County Federation of Women's Clubs has been postponed from September 17 to October 1, according to Miss Ruth Ramey, county home demonstration agent. The federation is composed of the home demonstration clubs from the rural districts and the literary and study clubs from the towns of the county.

The meeting October 1 will be held at Bass Lake near Gorman, and reports will be made by each club on the year's work. Prizes will be awarded to the rural club making the best report and to the town club offering the best report of the year's activities.

Registration At Warner Sept. 12-13

Registration at Warner Memorial College will be held Monday and Tuesday of next week. About forty students have registered up to this time, and approximately sixty or seventy-five are expected for the 1932-33 session, Dean E. O. Bailey said Thursday.

All faculty members except two had arrived Thursday afternoon, and those are expected today.

Opening exercises will be conducted Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in the college auditorium.

Football practice was begun Friday of last week, and the first game of the season is scheduled with Marshall College Saturday, September 17.

Mrs. S. E. Grady, formerly of Eastland, returned here September 1 to make her home at 504 S. Daugherty. She has lived in Coleman the past six years, and has returned here to conduct a boarding house.

Weldon Rains left Wednesday for Ranger to enroll in Ranger Junior College for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thomas Cook returned Monday night from a wedding trip to Dallas, Houston and Galveston, and are now at home at the Court Apartments on West Plummer street.

Bud Is Making Good

John (Bud) Clancy, a recruit from Jersey City, has been playing first base regularly with the Brooklyn Dodgers, and has proved his right to be considered a big leaguer. He is a south paw both in the field and at bat.

high to maintain such price and wage level.

VI. We demand a moratorium on all bonds—state, county, district, municipal, and industrial, and on all real estate mortgages until the price and wage level of April 1920 be restored.

VII. We are opposed to the League of Nations, the World Court, and any other character of foreign alliance and entanglements other than the maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine, and we are likewise opposed to the cancellation of foreign debts.

VIII. We are opposed to the repeal of the 18th amendment and to the repeal of the State Constitutional Amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, and to the repeal of the Dean law.

IX. We favor the repeal of the stamp and other excise taxes levied by the recent congress. We advocate as substitutes for these forms of taxation an increase of the national inheritance tax. The huge fortunes of America have become a public menace. We advocate the leveling of these fortunes and the relief of the people from taxation through the inheritance tax—and the rate be 100 per cent on all inheritances in excess of $500,000.

X. We demand that the national government finance three major political parties to the extent of not exceeding $3,000,000 for each party, and that all other campaign contributions be forbidden under heavy penalties.

State Policies:

1. We demand the establishment of of State Reserver Bank, to act as the depository for state funds and for state banks, the capital stock to be subscribed by state banks; said State Reserve Bank to be controlled by directors appointed by the Governor, and confirmed by the Legislature, and said Bank be empowered to issue bank notes, receivable for debts and taxes.

2. We demand that the State establish a moratorium to the extent of its legal authority on all bond and mortgage indebtedness until the values of property and service are restored to such an extent that the people can pay their debts.

3. We demand a new state constitution in order to modernize our 56-year-old constitution. We favor such changes in the constitution as will abolish the Railroad Commission, and as that will simplify, make more effective, and reduce the expense of the administration of justice.

4. We demand the abolition of the state ad valorem tax upon real estate, and the substitution in lieu thereof of graduated inheritance and income taxes.

5. We demand the building of good highways to furnish competition to the railroads in order to secure reasonable freight rates; and we demand the repeal of the 7,000 pound truck law, and other laws designed to maintain high railroad freight rates.

6. We stand for an honest, economic administration of the government, and for the abolition of all unnecessary Boards and Commissions and sinecures.

Conclusion

We declare that the international bankers and the liquor interests dominate the National Republican and Democratic Parties, and through such domination control the government; that the sinister interest that thus controls the government has brought this terrible depression upon the country designedly, and that both of said parties stand for the inflated dollar and for deflated values of property and service; that both of them stand for control of the welfare of the people of this country by the international bankers who dominate the Federal Reserve System; that neither of said parties represents in any sense the interest of the farmer and the laborer and the small banker and merchant; that the leaders of the said two parties, co-operating together under the pretense of adopting emergency measures for the relief of the people of the country, created the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in the interest of the money trust and for the purpose of further extending its power over the welfare and destiny of the people of America. We declare that there is no hope of relief from either of the two major parties and we therefore organize this, the GOOD GOVERNMENT PARTY of America. We invite the people of Texas to support it, and the people of other states to join us in creating a national party that will truly represent the interests of the American people, that will wrest our government from the rule of the plutocrats, and save our country from revolution. Adopted August 9, 1932.

GEO. W. ARMSTRONG, Chairman.
Attest: WADDY THOMPSON, Secretary.

Miss Doris Johnson left last week for Ralls, where she will teach English and Spanish in the schools the coming year.

Explosion Destroys Arab Gasoline Well

An explosion and fire destroyed the rig of the well being drilled by the Arab Gasoline Corporation on the I. N. Hart farm eight miles north of town early Wednesday morning.

The well was shut down and drillers had just finished a job of dressing tools when gas from the well became ignited and burned the rig to ashes. None of the workers were injured. The well caught fire about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning and was extinguished at 8 o'clock.

The gas was struck unexpectedly at 2040 feet at a depth where geologists had thought water would be found. Almost four million feet of gas a day has been coming from the well since the explosion. Work has already been started in rebuilding the rig and drilling will be resumed within a week or two.

Mrs. Marshall McCullough will leave Monday for Ashville, N. C. where she is art instructor in St. Genevieve-of-the-Pines, a school for girls. Mrs. McCullough spent the summer vacation here and in Austin with her husband and her son, Marshall McCullough, Jr.,
