

WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

For the boys' baseball program here, 1967 seems to be as good a year as any and better than some.

Rain and a wet field have marred the continuity of play, we'll admit, but most managers and teams are doing a good job of getting cancelled games made up at the earliest opportunities.

We don't mean to knock anything as nice as rain in this country, and aren't.

As a matter of fact, it's the field itself which is the cause of most of the cancelled games. The infield is lower than the outfield and is also some few inches lower than the areas surrounding it. This causes, as you can imagine, the water to stay in the infield after a rain.

There's no way for the water to drain.

It either has to be taken away artificially or it must be soaked into the already wet ground. That simply takes too long for the leagues to be kept operating smoothly.

With a proper drainage set-up in the infield it would be possible to be playing a game within an hour or so after a half-inch rain.

The infield is lower because the soil is made loose by all the activity which takes place on the area, allowing the wind to blow it from the field. This might be hard to control, we're thinking. A few times in the past, the infield has been built up to drainable height by hauling in dirt. But the wind continues to blow it out over a period of time.

Some would-be groundskeepers have suggested that grass would keep down the blowing. Could be. But we can't visualize a grass infield when some four different sizes of diamonds are used for that many different sizes of players. Grass on the sides of the field would help, though.

The problem is not a great one, community-wide, we'll admit, but it has undergone considerable discussion by leaders of the baseball program. Plans were being made to build up the field prior to the beginning of play this season. However, it was decided that dirt would be easy to get during the city's forthcoming paving project.

Therefore, those involved agreed to wait until the opportune time. That was a mistake as it turned out. Barring a lot more rain, the schedules are going to be completed for this year in spite of the cancellations and inconveniences before a blade-full of dirt is moved by the paving project.

Baseball can be, and has been, played on a muddy field. But standing water in the basepaths, huge puddles of it, is too much of an obstacle to overcome, even by devoted ballplayers.

Up at Stratford, where our old Texas A&M friend Dave McReynolds publishes The Star, they've been having the same rained-out trouble with their ballgames. Dave has publicly suggested that they start the ball season in March or April so the farmers could get more moisture to plant on.

They may or may not accept his suggestion.

Back to our original statement about this being a good baseball year here:

We have what is probably the best Pony League-age team in the history of the community.

Good Pony League players should come from good Little League teams, which we've had for the past several years. However, the Pony League has been like a stepchild to the program here for some reason or other. Because of this, there's been less interest on the part of the boys to participate in the advanced league.

This year's good team may do much to change that way of thinking.

The boys need a better deal to look forward to when they're graduated from the 10 to 12-year-old Little League division and maybe now we have it!

A good program such as is operating now can feed some good athletes into the high school sports system, including baseball, too!

Public Hearing Saturday Night

Citizens, Council To Talk

A public hearing on Bovina's proposed paving project is scheduled for Saturday at 7 p.m.

Site of the meeting has been changed from the city hall to the Community Room of First State Bank, Mayor Bedford Caldwell announced this week.

The site of the meeting was switched in order to have a larger meeting place. The council is anticipating that several people may attend the hearing.

Representing the city at the session will be members of the council, Ralph Douglas of Muleshoe, city engineer, and possibly John Aldridge of Farwell, who is handling the legal end of the project.

The hearing is for all property owners involved in the proposed project. Those who are not interested in having their property included in the project are invited to make their wishes known at the hearing.

Some 31 blocks of paving are presently included in the program. Some of these will, however, be eliminated following the Saturday night hearing, Mayor Caldwell indicated this week.

Signing of contracts between individual property owners and the city began last week and are available at the city hall.

Cost to the property owners will be $4.30 per foot for the paving, curbs and gutters. Jack Diel of Muleshoe is the contractor for the project.

Voters in the City voted $20,000 in bonds to pay the cost of the city portion of the project early last year. This includes alleys, intersections, city-owned property, etc.

The streets which are being considered in the project and the property owners involved are listed in a legal notice which appears in this week's issue of The Blade. The notice also lists the amount which will be assessed each property owner.

For New Classrooms --

Open Building Bids Thursday

Bids from contractors on Bovina's proposed new elementary classroom building are slated to be opened tomorrow (Thursday) at 4 p.m.

Some six bids are expected to be submitted, according to Superintendent Otis Spears.

The new building will have six classrooms plus a kitchen, assembly area, library, and offices. Estimated cost is $212,000. A bond election was passed by voters of the school district to provide funds for the structure in February.

The structure will be in two parts, joined at the corners. The classroom portion will be hexagon-shaped including a general purpose area to be used as a dining area, a play area and an assembly room. The second portion of the building will be four-sided and will

New Shop Open Here

B and B Welders is a new business in Bovina. It is located in the shop on Highway 60 formerly occupied by Bill Goldsmith's Bovina Welding Works.

The new firm is owned by Bill Woodard of Muleshoe and is operated by Robert Murray, who was formerly with Kerby Welding Service here. Murray has operated a shop in Muleshoe for Woodard for the past year.

The new business opened last week. Complete welding and blacksmithing services are being offered. An advertisement announcing the new firm appears in this issue of The Blade.

City To Consider Gas Price Raise

Bovina's city council is scheduled to consider a request for a price increase from Pioneer Natural Gas Co. at its regular monthly meeting next week, Mayor Bedford Caldwell announces.

The increase being requested is the same in all 55 towns in the West Texas distribution system of Pioneer, according to information furnished by the gas company.

The company has no plans to change the rates for irrigation or industrial use.

The requested rate would result in an increase of 11.5 per cent. According to information from the company, "operating and maintenance expenses and general taxes per customer have increased in the last five years from $34.28 in '61 to $40.15 in '66--an increase of $5.87 per customer of 17.1 per cent."

The last rate increase by the company was in 1961.

Lower Rate Set For Weak Water

The valuation of good irrigated farmland in Bovina Independent School District has been raised. The action was taken by the school district equalization board at a meeting last week.

At the same time the valuation was raised on farmland with good water, a decrease was authorized for land with "depleted" water. A new valuation was established for land in weak water districts. Previously, no distinction was made between irrigated land with good water and that with weak water.

The board defines "depleted irrigated land," the new classifications, as being "that land that will not sustain or produce more than a three-inch pump in any one well."

On the land which has better water than that, the valuation was increased $5 per acre "across the board." Under the present set-up, No. 1 irrigated land south of Frio Draw is now valued at $65 per acre for school district taxing purposes. The former valuation was $60.

No. 1 irrigated land north of Frio Draw is now valued at $56.

This, too, is a $5 increase per acre.

The valuations of farmland slide from the high of $65 per acre to $55 for No. 2 and $50 for No. 3 south of the draw. The valuation rate north of the draw is $47.50 for No. 2 land and $43.25 for No. 3.

The rate for No. 1 depleted water land north of the draw is $42.50 for No. 1 and $40. for No. 2 depleted.

South of the draw the depleted rate was set at $50 per acre for No. 1 and $45. for No. 2.

No change was made in the valuation of dryland farms or grassland. No. 1 land in these categories is $50 south of the draw and $42.50 north of it.

The equalization board also authorized a new classification for six-row tractors. Tractors of this size, which have previously been lumped into the four-row category, will be valued at $2400 for taxing purposes. This ruling will not go into effect until next year, however, since taxes for this year have already been rendered.

The board will convene again Tuesday, July 11, in an all-day session. Land owners who have been affected by the new ruling will be notified and are invited to meet with the board.

The equalization board has five members, J. D. Kirkpatrick, Christian Drager, Tom Caldwell, Wendol Christian and Durward Bell.

Purpose of the change in the valuations was not to increase overall tax total for the school district, a member of the board explained, but to make some concession for the farmland which has weak water and has heretofore been taxed the same as land with good water.

The tax rate, which has been $1.65 per $100 valuation, will be set when the results of the reclassification are determined.

A tax raise of approximately 10 per cent of the gross was being planned due to a bond election authorizing construction of a grade school building which is expected to cost in excess of $200,000. The changes in valuations, however, have no connection with the already-scheduled 10 per cent tax increase.

The $5 per acre valuation increase, figured at the tax rate of $1.65, would up the tax of a quarter section of No. 1 farm-

"The Voice of God Is Calling" is theme for Youth Activity Week slated to begin July 16 at Bovina Methodist Church.

During the business session of the Parmer County Home Demonstration Club Council Monday afternoon, plans were made for the countywide luncheon to be held in September.

The period from July 23-29 has been designated as National Farm Safety Week by a proclamation released by President Kennedy.

In a special directors' meeting last week, a Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture committee was appointed to continue work on getting a doctor for this community.

Price of barber services are scheduled to increase by approximately 25 per cent in Bovina next month.

Play Night Set Friday

Friday night will be play night for members of Bovina Roping Club.

The monthly session was postponed from last week until this because of wheat harvest. Families attending are asked to bring a freezer of ice cream or a cake, announces Bill Lookingbill, club activities chairman.

Drying Peaches, Apricots, And Nectarines

By Cricket B. Taylor Farmer Co, Ext. Agent

After you've canned, frozen, eaten and given away all of the peaches, nectarines and apricots you can from your backyard tree -- and there's still some left -- try drying these fruits.

According to food specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, dried fruits will keep a year or so when stored in a cool, dry, dark place.

Here's how to dry these fruits -- in your own oven:

Select about 6 pounds fresh, ripe, firm fruit. Wash and drain. Peel if you wish, then cut in halves and remove pits.

To prevent discoloration, soak fruit 15 minutes in a solution of 3 1/2 tablespoons sodium sulfite to 1 gallon of water. A druggist can supply sodium sulfite. Two other, but less effective, treatments are: (1) To dip fruit in a salt-water bath domestic bill is $74,64, according to Pioneer's figure. The average bill after the requested rate increase would be $83.25. This is a yearly increase of $8.61 or an increase of 72 cents per month.

Pioneer's present rate of return on its investment is now 2.35 per cent. After the increase, the return rate would be upped to 4.90 per cent.

"Even after the increase, the net operating income of the West Texas distribution system would result in a rate of return lower than the 6.5 per cent allowed Pioneer in 1963 in a proceeding before the Railroad Commission of Texas," Pioneer says.

"The city council is interested in knowing the feelings of citizens in regard to the requested rate increase from the gas company," Caldwell says.

land south of the draw by a total of $13,20. Under the old formula, the annual tax would have been $158,40. With the valuation increase, the total will now be $171.60.

On the other hand, the total tax on a quarter of No. 1 land in the depleted water area will be dropped from the $158,40 total to $132.

The tax rate of $1.65 per $100 valuation is used here only for illustrative purposes and will probably not be the figure used for determining the total amount of 1967 taxes.

The school district's board of trustees has the authority to set the tax rate.

Know The Truth

By Lavern Stewart

We must have authority in all areas of life, and especially in religion. The chief priests and elders recognized the need for authority and therefore asked Jesus what His authority was for His teaching and cleansing of the temple, Matt. 21:23. If there was no standard of authority in world affairs, just think what confusion would result: for instance, suppose we had no fixed standard of distance, time, measure, money, or morals, how could we lead orderly lives? If authority in the form of a fixed standard is needed in material matters, surely controlling authority is necessary in spiritual areas.

In answer to the chief priests and elders, Jesus not only agreed that we must have authority for all that we do religiously but showed also that our authority must come from heaven, Matt. 21:24, 25, "And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things. The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why then did ye not believe him?"

The holy men of old spoke as they were inspired of God and thus gave us the Bible which is the sole authority in matters religious. In Heb. 12, we read that God speaks to us by His Son, Jesus Christ. If God speaks through Christ, then He does not speak through the "church" or any man that claims to be the representative of Christ in the world. No man or set of men have the right either to bind or loose for God, James 4:12, "There is one law giver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgeth another?" Jesus said (Matt. 28:18) that He had all authority in heaven and on earth. Where is the passage that says He gave it to any other? Jesus inspired the apostles to bind and loose on earth what had already been bound and loosed in heaven, Matt. 16:19. He gave to no man--that includes Peter--the right to make laws.

of 4 to 6 tablespoons salt to 1 gallon of water for about 10 minutes, or (2) precook fruit in steam or boiling water until tender but firm. Arrange fruit on trays and place in 150 degree F. oven with the bottom tray 3 inches from the oven floor. Do not use top unit in electric oven. Prop open the door of an electric oven 1/2 inches; a gas oven door, 8 inches. (This helps control heat and lets out moist air.) Alternate trays every 1 or 2 hours.

Fruit is dry when pliable and leathery, usually about 6 hours or longer. Pieces around the edges of the tray will dry first. Remove these as soon as they are dry. Cool and package at once. Pack dried fruit in glass jars, plastic, metal or heavily waxed cardboard frozen food containers. Use a tight fitting lid. Plastic bags that can be heat sealed may also be used. They should then be placed in a rigid container to prevent tearing.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capital

AUSTIN -- Exercising his veto power to cut appropriations, Gov. John Connally sliced off $3,214,121 of the one-year general appropriation bill and killed 37 bills passed by the 60th Legislature.

Nine of the vetoed bills called for total annual expenditures of $12,819,760 beginning September 1, 1968. By way of explanation of his line-item vetoes in the appropriations bill, Connally said, "I endorse the actions taken by the Legislature to provide the funds needed to meet the state's increasing services to its people. However, there are several items of expenditures for which money was appropriated that I do not consider essential or justified."

Connally deleted a $600,000 appropriation which would have allowed the New Texas Research Institute of Mental Sciences at Houston to lease and operate hospital facilities. "This item was not requested by the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation in its budget request, nor was it included in my budget recommendations or those of the Budget Board," the Governor explained.

A $300,000 appropriation for additional Phase I construction at the Corpus Christi State School also was vetoed. Connally said it was not requested by the MHMR Department or in budget recommendations submitted by the Legislative Budget Board or by Connally. He pointed out that the 1965 Legislature appropriated $2,224,000 for the proposed school. Connally slashed $800,000 off the appropriation for the University of Texas Medical School at San Antonio. "With construction of the medical school and teaching hospital and the recruitment of faculty and staff still in process, the number of students actually enrolled will be limited during the 1968 fiscal year," the Governor said.

"Even after vetoing this item," he continued, "the medical school's appropriation for the 1968 fiscal year will exceed my recommendation by $685,795 and will represent a 145 per cent increase over the amount appropriated for the current year."

Also vetoed was $325,000 earmarked to the State Department of Agriculture for expanding market outlets for Texas' agricultural commodities. Connally explained that "The appropriation of $325,000 duplicated in purpose a major portion of the $500,000 'special program' appropriation for marketing and market outlet research, quality research, statistical reporting and other programs relating to agriculture."

Other bills vetoed included those extending the curfew for alcoholic beverage drinking until 2 a.m. in the metropolitan counties, doubling retirement benefits for legislators and improvements in state employees' retirement benefits, prohibiting employment of youngsters under 21 in stores which sell beer and liquor, permitting broader powers for the State Soil & Water Conservation Board, allowing the State Comptroller to seize property for tax debts and sell it without court action, setting up special county boards to assess tax values on agricultural land near cities, and granting cities police powers on private property such as shopping center parking lots.

COSTLY OVERTIME -- Extension of the federal minimum wage act to state hospital and school employees would cost state government in Texas at least $14,000,000 a year, according to Atry. Gen. Crawford C. Martin.

Martin says he intends to keep fighting inclusion of state institutions under the act all the way to the Supreme Court.

Three federal judges in Maryland recently handed down conflicting opinions on the issue but not a final order.

Under the new appropriations bill, all State employees will get more than the required federal minimum wage. Big catch financially is that the federal act also requires time and a half payment for overtime -- or an hour and a half compensatory time off for every hour of overtime worked during the same pay period. Texas employees get compensatory time off (no cash) on an hour-for-hour basis.

CAR INSURANCE -- Careless Texas drivers will pay more for their car insurance on policies written after July 31. They will be charged more because of their accidents or traffic law violations during the nine months which ended May 1. Penalties which range from 15 to 90 per cent, depending on the number and importance of the law violation -- will add up to $6,439,362 during the year starting August 1.

These penalties, feeding that much more money into the auto insurance "kitty", will prevent rate increases for most drivers.

First Since April --

Rural Loan Funds Now Available

Farmers Home Administration has been authorized to insure an additional $148 million of rural loans.

This action, announced in Washington by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, will enable USDA's Farmer Home Administration to commit an additional $30 million in Farm Ownership loans and $118 million in Rural Housing loans to low and moderate income families.

Previous allocations of funds for Farm Ownership loans were exhausted in February. There are some 20,000 applications and unfunded loan dockets currently being held by the Farmers Home Administration. Funds for Rural Housing loans to low and moderate income families were exhausted in April. The Farmers Home Administration is now holding some 42,000 applications and unfunded loan dockets for Rural Housing loans.

Both the funds for Farm Ownership and Rural Housing loans are being made available immediately.

Farm Ownership loans are made to buy land, construct or repair buildings, improve land and refinance debts. They are repayable over 40 years and bear 5 per cent interest.

Rural Housing loans are made to farmers and other rural residents in open country and small rural communities with populations of not more than 5,500. Loans are made to construct and repair needed homes and essential farm buildings, purchase homes or buy sites on which to build homes. The maximum term is 33 years. The interest rate on loans to families with low and moderate income is 5 per cent.

The FHA office for Farmer County is located at Farwell. The county supervisor is Billy R. Baling. Office hours are from 8 to 5 every Tuesday. Baling will be glad to discuss the Farmers Home Administration loan programs with interested individuals.

FOOD IDEAS

Budgets are always good conversation pieces. If you're interested in how to get the most for your food money, these practical tips may help.

Make note of supermarket special sale ads and plan menus that take advantage of them. Plan your menus ahead as much as a week in advance. Pre-planning makes shopping easier and will help you to avoid monotony and repeated use of the same foods at mealtime.

Since a great deal of food money goes for impulse spending, jot down a grocery list and stick to it. Budget-watching doesn't mean sacrificing the convenience of meal preparation, nor serving dishes that are uninteresting. Quite the contrary!

You can serve tempting and economical main dishes and a different one each day. Following are some suggestions:

After one hearty dinner on baked canned ham, use what's left over in a pleasing main-dish salad. Combine cubes of canned ham and sharp cheese with drained canned cut green beans and some chopped green onions. Then toss the ham mixture with vinegar-sparked mayonnaise and season to taste. Serve it chilled and mounded in lettuce cups with a colorful garnish of cucumber slices and tomato wedges.

EASY-TO-FIX HOT WEATHER DISHES

These are always welcome and can be economical and can meet the daily nutritional needs too.

For a favorite warm weather salad meal, mound shredded lettuce on a platter and put chunks of drained canned salmon on it. Complete the arrangement with deviled eggs, cucumber wedges, and slices of tomatoes. Serve French dressing with this vegetable-seafood combination.

Prepare a main dish on top of the range by tender-cooking chopped onion with sliced vienna sausages in butter. Gently stir in canned pork and beans, add a little catsup, and garnish with crushed corn chips at serving time.

Precooked dry beans that cook in 20 to 30 minutes are now on the market in most states. Old fashioned navy bean soup or popular baked beans can be ready for the table in less than an hour from start to finish.

Start asking for these at your grocery—they are real time savers.

PERMANENT PRESS GARMENTS

Permanent press garments look their best when dried in a dryer and should be removed immediately at the end of the drying cycle. If they remain in the dryer and become wrinkled, simply reset it for 10 or 15 minutes longer. Remove from the dryer, place on hangers, and don't worry about ironing.

Program emphasis this month is on CLOTHING. 4-H girls and leaders are very busy this week working in groups, learning to develop skills in construction of garments, developing skill in relating fabric, size and design to fit individual needs - in other words, getting ready for the big event of the season - the COUNTY 4 - H DRESS REVUE, to be held Thursday, June 29, at 8:00 p.m. in the Oklahoma Lane Community Center.

A special class - Spanish homemakers are also working as a group, learning some of the basic skills in construction of clothing.

MRS. RONNIE LEN GLASSCOCK

Glasscock, Kirkpatrick Vows Exchanged Here

In a candlelight ceremony at 3 p.m. Saturday, June 10, in First Baptist Church of Bovina, Miss Carol Gwyn Kirkpatrick became the bride of Ronnie Len Glasscock.

Brother Ralph Aday, pastor of the church, read the double ring vows before an arch decorated with greenery flanked on either side by white gladioli bouquets, candelabras and palms. A kneeling bench was also used.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kirkpatrick of Bovina. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Glasscock of Bovina.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of peau de sole. The scooped neckline was embroidered with seed pearls. The gown had a fitted bodice and straight skirt. The long train was attached at the shoulders.

The bride's veil of imported illusion was attached to a crown of pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis centered with a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Following tradition, the bride carried, for something old, a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother. Something new was her bridal gown and something borrowed was her mother's watch. Something blue was a garter. The bride, for luck, had a penny minted in the year of her birth in her shoe.

Miss Debra Kirkpatrick, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Charlotte Kirk of Petersburg and Miss Dianne Byrd of Kress, cousins of the bride were bridesmaids. They wore identical streech length dresses of shocking pink satin featuring an empire bodice. The wrist length fitted sleeves were of nylon chiffon which also covered the empire waistline. Satin bows adorned the back waistline and streamers extended to the hemlines. Their short veils fell from headpieces of a rose and petals of shocking pink satin. They wore matching shoes and carried a long stem rose.

Mac Glasscock, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsman were Kent Glasscock, brother of the groom and Daryl Kirkpatrick, twin brother of the bride. Ushers were Billy Minter, Donnie Dyer, Billy J. Charles, and David Anderson.

Lighting the candles were Randy Kirkpatrick, brother of the bride and Chris Byrd of Muleshoe. Ringbearer was Michael Wiseman and flower-girl was Ginger Glasscock, niece of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a deep blue lace dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a powder blue lace dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Jimmy Clements and Mrs. Mac Glasscock were organist and pianist. Soloist was Mrs. Kent Glasscock.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony.

For a trip to Colorado, the bride wore a green dress with a lace coat opened in the front and back with matching accessories. Her corsage was the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride will be a senior at Bovina High School this fall.

The bridegroom is a 1965 graduate of Bovina High School and has completed one year at Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene and one year at West Texas State University at Canyon. He will also attend West Texas State University this fall. The couple is now at home in Bovina.

Bovina Area Churches Welcome You!

Church Chuckles by CARTWRIGHT

"For years my wife's nagged me to come to church, but frankly I don't feel ONE BIT BETTER than I did an hour ago!"

EVERY MAN -- A SERVANT

"I wish that over the crossbar of every cross, on every altar of every church, there might be draped a towel," said Dr. Henry Hitt Crane in a sermon. Yes, a towel--a rough, coarse, gray linen towel hanging on the beautiful, polished, brass cross--to remind us of Christ's command that we be servants.

That towel might remind us of the challenge that Christ gave that same night to the Twelve -- gave to all Christians -- gave to us--gave to me. "I have set you an example: you are to do as I have done for you." (John 13:14)

That towel would remind us that Christian service must be given in and through love. We serve because we love people -- all people -- even as Christ loves us and them.

That towel would remind us that it costs to serve. The price to us may be money or time or pride or position. But love is not love unless it costs.

Every man can serve; every person can serve. We can all serve through supporting our churches. Would you support your church through attendance this coming Sunday?

HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT -- Highway 60 received a new seal coat of asphalt and gravel through Bovina last week. The operation was conducted quickly with only some 10 days required to do the job on 40 miles of the highway in Parmer County. Here, the crew is at work in Bovina. A flagman, who directed traffic, is at right.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By RONNY McNUTT
County Agent

COTTON INSECTS
Moderate, and in some cases heavy, infestations of thrips have been reported in the county.
In some fields of early planted cotton, thrips damage to older leaves is very noticeable. However, in many cases the new growth shows little evidence of damage. This is a good indication that thrip populations are decreasing in some areas. Producers should still continue to check late planted cotton for thrips injury.
SORGHUM MIDGE REPORT
Johnson grass head samples have been taken in several South Plains counties, according to Don Rummel, area entomologist.

To date no midge have emerged from these samples. Adult midge activity has not been observed on wild host plants during the survey.
Reports from Central Texas indicate that damaging midge infestations may occur in several counties in that area.
In the South Plains area, it is still too early to make an estimate as to the probability of midge infestations. However, the percentage of late planted grain sorghum is greater this year than in 1965 and 1966. If other conditions favorable for midge development exist, midge infestations may be more prevalent this season.

CYGON PROTECTS COTTON AGAINST EARLY SEASON INSECTS

Kills by both contact and systemic action

This year--getting your cotton plants off to a good start is more important than ever! By controlling insects during the critical early stages Cygon* 267 helps in promoting vigorous growth and earlier maturity, better quality in the finished crop.
Cygon's long-lasting qualities and low rates make it a most economical insecticide. Also--it requires no special precautions--no protective clothing or equipment. And--when used according to directions, there are no residue problems.

Cygon works two ways to safeguard crops: as a contact insecticide--and as a systemic protector within the plant.

This double-barreled action--provides protection from outside the plant and inside the plant. The insecticide within the plant remains on guard against insects when they attack and is also unaffected by sun or rain.

Farmers are frequently unaware of the midge until blighted or blasted heads begin to appear. Then it's too late.
The sorghum midge adults are a small orange gnat about one-twelfth of an inch long. Females deposit their eggs in the individual grain florets of young grain sorghum heads during a four to 10 day period following booting. The eggs produce larvae or maggots that feed on and consume the developing seed.
The only economical way to control midge is by destroying the females before they deposit their eggs. This requires precise timing since it must be done during the four to 10 day period following boot.

When a field starts squaring farmers should be on the lookout for fleahoppers and their damage. Fleahoppers damage the small, young squares but do not cause larger squares or bolls to shed. After plants have set more fruit than the cotton can mature under a given set of growing conditions, discontinue fleahopper control. It is recommended that treatment begin when 15 to 35 hoppers are found per 100 terminals.

HAY TESTS SUGGESTED
There is one sure way to determine the quality of hay. Have it tested. Al Novosad, extension pasture specialist, says results from the A&M Forage Testing Service show a wide range of differences in quality and feed values of forages tested. A relatively new figure is being included in the analyses--not energy. Novosad says it is a more accurate indication of the worth of a forage than crude protein or total digestible nutrients.

WHEAT HARVEST REACHING COMPLETION
Wheat harvest in the county should reach completion by around June 30. The larger portion of the wheat was harvested during the week June 19-24th. The average yields reported for this week is between 30-35 bushels per acre. A few yields of around 50 bushels have been reported, but very few.

SORGHUM AND COTTON SITUATION
Corn and milo are making good growth. Some farmers have reported sorghum showing signs of water stress prior to the weekend rains.
I saw a few squares forming in one cotton field this past week, however, cotton is not making too much growth yet.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford
Large impoundments always attract more attention from fishermen. Unfortunately for the anglers many overlook the possibilities of small farm and ranch tanks scattered over the state.
Now they are becoming so productive that fishermen who ignore them are missing a big bet.
Unless you fly occasionally you may be unaware of the great number of these impoundments. When you are in the air and look down on Texas you'll usually find in your view a half-dozen or more of these water holes.
You can thank the Soil Conservation Service for most of these tanks.
More than 193,000 farm ponds have been constructed with SCS technical assistance. Many more have been designed and built by landowners without the help of SCS.
Records also show that over 800 of these are flood control projects. This means that they are larger than the average farm or stock tank.
In addition there are some 1500 irrigation reservoirs built under SCS supervision.
Of course not all of these tanks have fishing capabilities. Not all are in areas where they can be developed for recreational purposes. But there are enough to make the whole story interesting.
Not all the impoundments will hold water.
This is particularly true of many of the flood control projects. Since they are for flood control many of them have an automatic drain-off level for maximum protection in the event of excessive flood waters.
Still other ponds are not sealed off. This means that they have heavy seepage. In addition there's the high evaporation that comes during the summer months.
Even though these impoundments are built primarily for other purposes most of them are stocked with fish from state or federal hatcheries.
In each case, landowners have control over fishermen entering these private lands. Some landowners open the ponds to the public for free fishing. Others charge a fee for this privilege. A few permit no fishing at all except by the family and close friends.
Most of these landowners are not willing to go to the expense of managing these ponds for fish. As a result the impoundments offer good fishing for a few years, then become mossy. Then the ratio of forage fish to game fish gets out of balance. Such ponds become infested with rough fish like shad, carp and bullheads. Result is poor fishing. Often the landowners will use fish toxicants such as rotenone to clean out the rough fish--then restock.
About the only impoundments receiving management for fish are those where the landowner obtains a good income from leasing fishing rights. In these cases he must provide some type of management to assure good fishing and to keep his paying customers.
However, the total number of impoundments being managed for fish production is small, probably not more than 2 percent of the total number.
Under the new recreational program landowners now can

Grain Sorghum Water Needs

By Ronny F. McNutt
Parmer Co. Agricultural Agent
Sorghum has an extensive root system and will penetrate the soil profile to a depth of four to six feet when sufficient soil depth is available.
Optimum yields require approximately 24 inches of useable water during the season. This moisture need may be met from moisture stored in the soil, rainfall and supplemental irrigation. For maximum efficiency the available water should be distributed through the growing season to meet the demands of the crop at the critical stages of growth--particularly at the time of boot, bloom and early grain formation. Grain sorghum usually uses less than one-tenth inch of water per day up to the seven leaf-stage. During the boot and head states, daily use may be as high as three-tenths inches per day.
Where irrigation water is limited, proper timing of irrigation is essential for most efficient use of water in grain production. Water stress at any stage of growth reduces yields. Yields may be reduced by one-fourth if stress occurs at anytime up to the soft-dough stage.
Grain sorghum to be irrigated only one time during the growing season produces more efficiently when the application is timed at the boot stage of growth. Grain sorghum to be irrigated twice during the growing season produces most efficiently when the first application is applied at the early boot stage and the second application applied at the bloom stage of growth.

Tigers Continue To Lead League

The Rhea Tigers continue to hold onto the top spot in Little League baseball play as the season goes into the next to final week.

The league leaders were, however, upset Tuesday night of last week by Bovina Gin-Tuloma, the bottom team in the circuit. It was the first win of the summer for Bovina Gin-Tuloma. The score was 10-8.

The Tigers got back on the winning road Thursday night with an easy, 14-1, decision over Bovina Wheat Growers-Bovina Insurance.

Friday night, First State Bank-Lawlis Gin slipped into second place ahead of BWG-BI with an 8-3 verdict over Bovina Gin-Tuloma.

In peewee play, Sherrill Lumber-Bonds Oil downed Bovina Blade-Bovina Welding 11-6 and 4-1 in a doubleheader Thursday.

One of the games was a makeup of a rained out game June 1.

Sherrill-Bonds was on the losing end of Monday's peewee tilt, Big Nick's Little Machines won that contest, 9-1.

Bovina Gin-Tuloma won its second game Monday night by downing BWG-BI, 16-5.

Friday night's Pony League games at Farwell were rained out. Playing here Tuesday night of last week, Bovina's Charles Oil team whipped the Oilers of Farwell, 12-9, and the Rhea boys outran the Farwell Bankers, 14-12.

Tuesday night, July 4, has been reserved for an all-star Little League game. However, Wayne Spears, director of the program, said this week that probably that day would be used for make-up games instead of an all-star tilt. He said there would be games played July 4 including possibly an outsiders game. The action might begin as

Accidents Total 8 During May

These crashes resulted in five persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $9,-510,00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1967 shows a total of 44 accidents resulting in three persons killed, 20 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $33,739.

The vacation season is now in full swing. This means more traffic and many drivers going for long hours without sleep, Sgt. Wells says.
