Gull Delivered Fish to Fishermen

TAPT, Ore.—This is the year's best fish story: John Marple, while fishing in Siletz bay, noticed two seagulls fighting over a 15-pound blueback salmon. Finally one of them conquered the other and flew away with his catch. The fish was so heavy the bird could not carry it. As it flew low over Marple's head he reached up and plucked the salmon out of the seagull's beak. That's Marple's story. What's yours? At the Blackwell sanitarium for about four years and he is owner of Shelley's variety store. Out of town guests at the wedding were: Mmes. Tally, A. C. Schuman of DeLeon, W. M. ## Lion President McGlamery In Report on Meet

Bert McGlamery presided for the first time in his new office Tuesday as president of the Lions club, which met for luncheon in the lower assembly rooms of the Methodist church. The program committee presented no other attraction than McGlamery, himself, in an exhaustive and complete report of the International Lions club of the world convention held in St. Louis. Representatives there were from United States, Canada, Old Mexico, Cuba, but not China, indicated only by the flag of that country. All other representatives were in an impressive ceremony bringing flags of various nations, to the speaker's platform, during the thunderous rolling of drums. Two thousand delegates were in attendance and a countless host of women their wives. McGlamery added that one of the most magnificent things he and his wife enjoyed was the opera, "The Student Prince," by the St. Louis Municipal Opera company, given in an auditorium that seated an audience of 10,000 people. The club decided to vote definitely at their next meeting on their permanent luncheon place. There was no other business at this time. Lions songs were enjoyed with Faye Crossley at the piano with George M. Harper leading. Frank Crowell and Ira L. Hanna were appointed program chairman for next meeting. Twenty Lions were present and one guest, Mr. LaFon, of the Connelley hotel management. President McGlamery stated he had called a director's meeting for Thursday night of F. M. Kenney, J. J. Coffman, George M. Harper and Horace Conley and ex-officio members J. C. Patterson, Ernest Jones, L. J. Lambert, W. B. Pickens, W. O. ## Prohibition Has Been An Issue In Eastland County Since 1880

Records in the county clerk's office disclose the fact that the prohibition question has been an issue in Eastland county since as far back as 1880. The first election on record was held in precinct No. 1 on Sept. 4, 1880, and lost by 65 votes, the vote being 33 for and 98 against prohibition. The first county-wide election was held on Sept. 12, 1885, and lost by 96 votes, the count being 533 for and 629 against. It was not until March 23, 1895, that prohibition carried in the county and then by only 17 votes, the result being 681 for and 664 against. April 27, 1897, or two years later, another election was ordered and prohibition lost by 214 votes, the count this time being 835 for and 1,049 against. On Oct. 15, 1901, liquor was again voted out and the county has been legally dry from that time until now. It is claimed by those who are in a position to know that, if the 18th amendment to the constitution should be repealed, Texas would still be a dry state with the Dean law applying and that, if the Dean law should be repealed, Eastland county would still be dry with the results of the local option election of July 22, 1911, holding until an election could be called by the commissioners' court to determine what the will of the people of the county might be. Below is given a summary of the history of the prohibition issue for the county, including places held, date held, and vote for and against: Precinct No. 1, Sept. 4, 1880, 33 for, 98 against. Precinct No. 1, March 7, 1881, 64 for, 78 against. Eastland, March 17, 1894, 37 for, 82 against. Precinct No. 2, Sept. 6, 1881, 29 for, 15 against. Precinct No. 2, Dec. 11, 1882, 27 for, 28 against.

It brought Reyes $50 to $75 in premiums.

Friends of the family are extending sympathy in this hour of trial.

Upon presentation of the petition containing the names of 500 voters, it is mandatory that the commission call the election. The petitions being circulated for signatures read: "To the Hon. Commissioner's Court, Eastland County, Texas: We, the undersigned citizens of Eastland County, Texas, hereby petition your honorable body to order a special local option election in Eastland county for August 26, 1933, in order to give the voters of this county an opportunity to vote upon the question of whether light wine and beer may be legally sold in Eastland county, provided the voters of the state as a whole legalize the sale of said products. ## Laundry Lessons

MAGIC CARE FOR RAYONS

FABRICS made entirely or in part of rayon should be washed carefully as these fibers are delicate, particularly when wet, and are likely to break under any unusual strain or pressure.

Washing Suggestions

1. Prepare tepid or cool suds, using mild, pure, white soap or flakes. (Never use home-made soap.) A little borax will soften very hard water.
2. Wash by gently squeezing suds through fabric. Do not rub. If fabric is badly soiled, soak in suds for some time before washing or put through several fresh suds until clean.
3. Squeeze suds out gently by hand and rinse several times in clear lukewarm water. Squeeze dry as possible without twisting or wringing.

Drying Suggestions

1. Dresses may be rolled in a towel to remove excess moisture. Larger articles such as bedspreads, should be hung with weight evenly divided on both sides of line.
2. Knitted garments (sweaters, particularly) should be laid out flat on clean cloth, stretched or pushed to fit measurements made before washing. Undergarments may be hung evenly over line.

BLANKS SENT COUNTIES BY DEPARTMENT

Eastland County Has Signed Up 780 Contracts Covering 8,087 Acres.

COLLEGE STATION, July 19.—Prospects that Texas cotton farmers would be permitted by the latter part of the week to begin destruction of part of their cotton crop were seen here today.

crop reduction plan, probably will reach county agents by Friday.

The announcement followed one by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace yesterday that farmers would not have to await notice of formal acceptance of their retirement contracts by the government before going into the fields with their plows.

It was stressed, however, that farmers must obtain destruction permits from county agents, such as those farmers whose retirement contracts have been approved by county committees and agents.

J. C. Patterson, county agent, announced today that he was expecting the emergency permit blanks, which would permit the cotton farmers to plow up a portion of their cotton, by Friday. If received Friday these blanks will be mailed to the farmers Saturday, Mr. Patterson said.

A total of 780 contracts were approved by the local committees and the county committee and forwarded to the agricultural department at Washington. The 780 contracts represent 8,087 acres averaging 122 pounds of lint cotton to the acre.

Wooden Money Mint Receives New Orders

ABERDEEN, Wash. — Orders from Klamath Falls, Ore., for 10,000 more coins furnished the latest increase in business at Bob Bryan's "wooden money mint" here. Bryan, besides the Klamath Falls order, has turned out 12,000 coins for Aberdeen and 10,000 for Bremerton, Wash.

In anticipation of further orders, a big storage of dogwood, tough, durable and long-lasting, has been stocked.

Klamath Falls planned to use the coins in connection with the American Legion state convention in Oregon.

Gold Ply Is Major Research Triumph

Maintaining a research division of several hundred employees, The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co., in Akron, Ohio, constantly seeks to develop improvements in the quality of its rubber products.

This division, whose watchword was advanced by Dr. B. F. Goodrich, founder of the company, that "Goodrich must build goods destined for service," has contributed many outstanding developments to the rubber industry in its 62 years' history, according to C. T. Lucas, Goodrich tire dealer, located at 300 East Main street.

"The Goodrich company made the first pneumatic Automobile tire in America," Mr. Lucas says. "It was designed for Alexander Winton in 1898, a single tube tire 34 by 4 inches. By 1900 Goodrich manufactured sufficient automobile tires to warrant issue of price lists.

"In 1904 the first appeared, another Goodrich. At that time as large as five inches in diameter until 1907 when bead type was introduced.

"In 1912 Goodrich developed the first 'safety' tire having a skid tread. Three years later Goodrich developed a radical departure from the conventional white or gray rubber compounds have advanced in tire construction, and have given the motorist economies and added safety.

"The most recent development, Mr. Lucas says, is the 'Life-Saver Golden Ply' rubber compound that tread and ply separation, which under today's driving conditions is a major hazard.

Sunday School Lesson

PICTURES OF SILVER

Isaiah 5:8-12, 18-24.

Isaiah, of royal birth and a friend and associate of kings, was above all a prophet of God. His knowledge of world affairs, his faith and nearness to God, so that he could interpret God's purpose, made him a valuable counselor during these dark days.

The first seven verses in this chapter are a parable of the vineyard where he describes in words of beauty and strength, God's dealings with his chosen people.

He tries to get the attention of the people who have gone into drunkenness, which is the leader of "nearly all sin, until, "They heed not the evident hand of Jehovah."

Isaiah's heart was heavy as he looked upon the national life of the people who outwardly were religious, offered sacrifices, brought great offerings; prayed much, yet their daily life was so evil that he called it the wild grape, which is an offensive and stinking fruit in that country.

Isaiah, then in words of strength, pictures the downfall of these people. Because of war, taxes, so great a burden had been laid on the people that the rich had gathered all the land into estates making the humbler class slaves to the nobles and grandees.

Isaiah said, "In mine ears said the Lord of Hosts, of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair without inhabitant." He then vividly describes the woe that shall come upon them that follow strong drink and tells them that, verse 14:

Therefore he hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure; and their glory and their multitude, and their pomp and he that rejoiceth, shall descend into it. Then surely he must have seen many modern men of today as he describes minutely others who would descend into this enlarged hell.

He who "draws iniquity with cords of vanity; that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, that put bitter for sweet; wise in their own eyes, which justify the wicked for reward; and they who are mighty to drink wine their end shall be," therefore as the fire devoureth the stubble and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness and their blossom shall go up as dust.

Isaiah's cry from the fourth verse in the parable should ring through out our fair land today: "What could have been done more to my vineyard that I have not done in it? When I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes."

What more could God have given the inhabitants of this fair land? The great inventions, riches, honor, beauty, freedom, and are all here. Are they producing the beautiful grapes for enlarging God's vineyard where we can claim his promise?

Then I will give you rains in their season, and the land shall yield its increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit. Leviticus 26:4.

Are they on the other hand producing the stinking wild grape in this vineyard where Isaiah pictures God as saying, "I will take away the hedge thereof and it shall be eaten up; and break down the wall thereof and it shall be trodden down." Picture the world without the hedge of God's protection.

Cat Mothers Rabbit Given Her By Dog

LA PORTE CITY, Ia.—Fluffy, a Persian cat belonging to Dorothy Langford, a small girl here, is mothering two tiny cottontail rabbits in addition to two of her own progeny.

And the strange thing about the addition to her family is that the cottontails were donated by Buddy, Dorothy's 10-year-old Spitz dog.

He returned from one of his hunting trips carrying the baby rabbits, and dumped them unceremoniously in the basket with Fluffy and her two kittens.

The rabbits are thriving on a diet of salmon, peas and eggs. Although they are allowed freedom of the yard, they refuse to nibble grass and clover, as Dorothy claims all good bunnies are supposed to do.

Collecting Wood Is Doctor's Hobby

TOPEKA, Kan.—Dr. S. T. Millard has a unique hobby, that of collecting different varieties of wood. In his collection, which contains 700 various pieces of wood from all parts of the world, he has the lightest and the heaviest of wood.

There is a piece of balsa wood from South America, the softest and the lightest wood known; the lignum vitae from the West Indies is the heaviest.

The large assortment of wood are small slabs, usually about two and one-half by five inches. An index file is with the collection, giving all the data ever known about the material.

"Work Begins on World's Largest Bridge"—headline. The new one that the dentist gave us the other day feels just like that.

TOY LIBRARY New Unit in Educational Playthings Launched by Social Service Workers

NEW YORK.—A free lending library for toys and games has been opened by the New York Community Center.

This "toyery" is the first unit in a national drive to give underprivileged children the benefits of educational playthings at home as insurance against delinquency, just as public libraries give them the opportunity of books.

Dolls, doll carriages, playhouses, velocipedes, kiddie cars, wagons, push and pull toys, trains, picture books, building blocks, sewing and weaving materials are among the play essentials for every age group which will be distributed. Toy autos, airplanes, bicycles, miniature workable models of house-keeping implements, steel and wood construction sets, boats to sail, blackboards, carpentry tools, typewriters, etc., are being collected to direct the energy of older children to wholesome educational play. A disinfecting system has been perfected to insure cleanliness. Old toys, contributed by more fortunate children, will be reconditioned by the unemployed.

"We want every child to have his home life brightened by constructive play which develops character and ability and is the most effective insurance against delinquency," said Dr. H. Harold Axworthy, director of the New York University Bureau of Community Service and Research which is sponsoring the free playthings lending library.

This new departure in social service was originated by Mrs. Ida Cash, a probation officer, who was distressed by the large number of children arrested for stealing toys.

Sheriff Captures Still at Scarnton

Sheriff Virge Foster and his department brought in a still of about 30 gallons capacity which they found on the Fred Tarver place, two or three miles west of Scarnton, Sunday. They also brought in a 10-gallon keg almost filled with whisky which they found at the same place.

No one was taken into custody at the time for the operation of the still. One man escaped and Mr. Foster said that a complaint would be filed against another for the possession and operation of the still.

A MESSAGE FROM THE MEN'S SHOP
Probably at no time in the memory of this generation has such a great money-saving opportunity been staged. Realize that right on the eve of rising costs due to inflation there comes a broad-gauged event that not only enables you to anticipate rising prices but also offers you deep reductions from pre-inflation prices. Costs on nearly all commodities will shortly advance from 10 to 20 per cent yet these offerings are at 15 to 25 per cent reductions from current price levels. The thrifty will invest to full capacity of their needs and ability to buy.

Men's Suits

We could make considerably more on these suits by carrying them over to next season and then repricing them on inflation value figures. But our inflexible policy says Clearance at real reductions. The advantage is all yours.

HOW YOU CAN HELP PUT OVER INDUSTRIAL ACT Gen. Hugh S. Johnson Urges Every Citizen To Put His Shoulder to the Wheel in the National Push for Prosperity

EDITOR'S NOTE: The National Industrial Recovery Act, now commonly called the NIRA, from its initials, is perhaps the most far-reaching measure ever passed by Congress in peace time. Enacted by the last Congress as part of President Roosevelt's "new deal" program, it literally puts the government in partnership with business. It aims at putting men back to work, increasing their pay, and shortening their hours by eliminating cut-throat competition within each industry by mutual agreement of producers (with government sanction) on hours, minimum pay and trade practices. It also gives the government a measure of control over production, and insures the right of labor to organize and negotiate collectively. Codes of industries are now being submitted for government approval, and the whole complicated machinery set under way by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, an army officer with a splendid record of service, notably in administering the draft in 1917-18. General Johnson here tells YOU what YOU can do to help put over the measure and bring the recovery desired.

By GEN. HUGH JOHNSON
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.

The national recovery administration is to operate publicly, as far as that is humanly practicable. That means something to the man in the street of cities far from Washington. It means a duty, a part in this administration, that is up to him, and that seems to me worth explaining.

Here we are holding hearings on the first of the codes to be submitted, which are to become a body of industrial law for the different industries. It's all being in a gold-fish bowl. Not because we are fond of being gazed at, but so that the action and method of code making and administration can be seen from far off.

We want it seen so plainly that everybody everywhere can understand, and by studying can pick out his home town part in recovery. There's no time to write each person a letter about it. But neither is it a time to jump in, head first.

Use your head, first—we ask every citizen; study sharply the broad aims and objectives of this recovery law, then the codes and rulings as they develop in regard to your own business, and then you will be picking out exactly the wheel to put your should to, for the national push. Study first what I call the bible, issued as Bulletin No. 1 and Bulletin No. 2 by the administration.

PASTE the bible in your hat. Keep the bulletins on your desk. They are no ballyhoo; they are the beginnings of law and practice in a new business regime.

They mark a turn in the tide of American industry that may prove as vital as was the onset of the industrial revolution abroad a hundred years ago or the start of the companies of Merchant Venturers in the 17th century.

We cannot be sure of success, except through national co-operation. Certainly I see no doing it by czarism.

Industrial self-government is the underlying idea of the president and of the Recovery Act. We are not trying to goose-step the country. There are teeth in the act, if certain situations arise, its provisions are mandatory and I shall not hesitate to execute the law as written. But the first line of reliance for enforcement is on public opinion.

For me that reliance is based on recollection of a concrete personal experience. I had the task, after drafting the selective service law, of administering it in 1917-18. "You've put yourself in a fine hole," I was warned, "there never was in history a draft enforced without bayonets."

Well, we made history without bayonets. Public opinion did it, policing every community with knowledge gained from studying the law and seeing that it was carried out, fairly, at home.

This is a vastly bigger thing—this new democratic industrial self-government—and it will take a more deeply informed public opinion to make a go of it. It is terrifically complicated, and moreover it will change, as each industry codifies its ideas. It is not enough that each industry and each man should watch his step, lest "the government should get him," but it is time for men in each community to contribute something positive, something positive, something harder than shelling out a quarter and calling it a day.

IT MEANS thinking, maybe with a pad and pencil, thinking out how to translate the purposes of the recovery administration into terms of things to be done, or refrained from, in your own business, job, or town.

Maybe it is true that the best, certainly the oldest thinking on industrial self-government in the past has come from the labor side. Maybe the most comprehensive planning now is coming from industrialists.

It makes no difference and most certainly the whole thing is a challenge to the thinking of both sides and all of us. Very soon the lessons of hard practice of the Recovery Act will be all-important, they'll be the law of the land were the prophets.

First text in Bulletin No. 1 is this: Business is to split up the work there is so as to put more men back on the pay rolls and raise wages for the shorter work-shift so that no worker gets less than a decent living wage. Increase of consumption power has the right of way. Runaway prices would eat up consumption power while it is a-borning; we will not tolerate them. Nor will below-cost selling do any good.

SMALL profit never made poor merchant, is an old adage, which we must modernize to fit our present problem by saying that get-rich-quick prices, with production on the loose, and neither with any relation to wages, together make the misery we see all around.

Sound prosperity is in watching over distribution of income, to see that each worker gets back a sufficient share of what he himself produced to enable him to buy a reasonable share of his necessities produced by the rest of the workers.

Simple, yet it is a stiff job to work out these aims in terms of pay roll figures and price levels in each industry in each town.

To make a start, and to put some sort of bottom under the whole effort, I have made as a general suggestion, without commitment, and especially to help the widely scattered smaller businesses in their thinking, the average figure of 32 hours for the work week at not less than 45 cents an hour for the lowest paid class of workers, as a general basis to start the recovery effort. That's thrown out as something concrete for our new industrial self-government to chew on, as an appetizer.

IT CAN be translated into fact in every community, step by step, as fast as local leaders go to it with confidence, public spirit and guts. This whole recovery administration is a challenge to the self-governing capacity of management and labor everywhere.

Truck Cattle Rustlers Offer New Problem

POCATELLO, Idaho.—The machine age has brought another problem into curtailment of cattle rustling in Idaho.

So rapidly are the cattle loaded into trucks and shipped off, that no trace of the rustling is often found, B. W. Henderson, Arimo county brand inspector declared. As one means of checking brands, he authorized each cattleman the full right to stop trucks loaded with cattle for inspection of brands.

Garden Plant Is Poison Ivy Rival

WASHINGTON.—It may look like the effect of poison ivy contact, but it may be caused by snow-on-the-mountain, the Agriculture Department warns.

The common garden plant, snow-on-the-mountain, the department has explained, is as poisonous as poison ivy and results in the same sort of rash.

Poisoning from the plant is treated the same as that contracted from the ivy.

Lives of Twins Follow Same Course

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—Mrs. Mary Margaret White of Springfield and Mrs. Letha Jane Etter, Nacoma, Texas, are twins, 91 years old. However, the similarity extends beyond birth dates.

For 91 years the lives of the two women have been identical. Both took the same courses at school and made almost identical grades. They both married about the same time and both have 10 children. Both are widows, their husbands dying within a few months of each other.

About eight months ago Mrs. Etter fell and fractured her left hip. Recently Mrs. White fell and suffered an identical fracture.

Both women are nearly blind from age. Both tell their friends they expect to die about the same time.

Philatelists Invite President to Meet

WASHINGTON—The American Philatelic society has invited President Roosevelt to attend the convention in Chicago next month and also to become an honorary patron. Roosevelt is a member of the society and an ardent stamp collector.

Although the president probably will not be able to attend, it is expected he will send a personal representative.

Postmaster General Farley already has accepted an invitation to become an honorary patron and invitations also have been extended to other government officials, including Secretary of the Interior Ickes and First Assistant Postmaster General O'Mahoney.

In honor of the forthcoming meeting, Farley has ordered printed Century of Progress commemorative stamps in small souvenir sheets.

The stamps will bear the following inscription:

"Printed by the bureau of engraving and printing, by authority of James A. Farley, postmaster general, at the Century of Progress exposition, in compliance to the American Philatelic society, Chicago, August, 1933."

AUTOMOBILE AGENCY TO BE OPENED HERE

H. C. "Andy" Anderson and J. L. Chance Saturday announced the formation of the Anderson-Chance Motor company, dealers in Eastland county for Dodge and Plymouth automobiles. At the same time plans were announced for the opening of agencies by the company in Eastland, Ranger and Cisco.

J. L. Chance, who has been a resident of Ranger for a number of years, where he was an employe of the Prairie Oil & Gas company and later in the wholesale oil and gasoline business, will be in charge of the Eastland agency, while Mr. Anderson will remain in Ranger and will have charge of the Ranger agency. Mr. Chance, with his family, are moving to Eastland, where they will make their home in the future.

H. C. Anderson was, until recently, in the hydraulic casing pulling business with Pete Jensen, with his headquarters in Ranger. He has sold his interest to Mr. Jensen and will, in the future, devote his entire time to the automobile agency. He is well known throughout this entire section of the country, having just completed a term as governor of the 41st district, Rotary International, which took him to every Rotary club in West Texas.

The partners in the new business announced, also, that they had been very fortunate in securing the services of C. T. Berrier as automobile salesman. Mr. Berrier was for a number of years connected with the Oilbelt Motor company, in the Ranger agency, and has been for some time with the Seaman Motor company of Mineral Wells. He has been in the automobile business for the past 11 years and is considered one of the best automobile salesmen in this part of the state. He will make his headquarters in Ranger.

The Ranger agency will be located temporarily in the J. B. Houghton garage on Pine street until more suitable quarters and salesrooms can be arranged.

A shipment of cars is now in transit and is expected to arrive any day. When the cars arrive the friends and acquaintances of the members of the agency personnel are invited to visit the agency and inspect them.

Dempsey Is Dead—Loss Is Mourned By Many Friends

Dempsey is dead! As the shadows of night gathered Wednesday evening he dropped off to sleep and never waked.

Dempsey was a little black dog, the constant companion for many years of the late John Matthews, former employe of the city of Eastland, and the friend and pet of grown-ups as well as the children of Eastland whom he greeted as he followed his master on his daily rounds in the city.

After his master died Dempsey appeared downcast and sad for awhile. He would eat but very little and would have but little to do with anyone. A member of Mr. Matthews' family, because of the dog's love for Mr. Matthews, took Dempsey and cared for him until his death. The following letter, written to Mrs. John Matthews of Eastland, the boy's mother, tells the story of Dempsey's death and why dog heaven has another visitor:

"Well, dog-heaven received another visitor yesterday when Dempsey dropped off to sleep and never waked. He had refused to eat for nearly a week and was so poor he looked bad. We talked to the doctor about him, but he said, 'old age had got him and that he could never recover. He did not seem to be suffering. We roused him from his sleep and talked to him a little. He appeared as happy as he could be, but he could not get up. I fixed a glass with cotton and chloroform in it and put it to his nose.

"He offered no resistance, but dropped off to sleep and soon ceased to breathe. His going easily and without a struggle demonstrated how far gone he was.

"We did everything humanly possible for him and when we could not help him more, put him out of his misery without pain and without his knowing we were doing anything to him.

"We buried him in a dog cemetery belonging to a little girl here where she already had three pets buried, and where his grave will be looked after.

"It seemed almost like losing one of the family, but he had lived a long life and I think a happy one, and his time had come.

"Charlie has cried at every meal since he died. She had always fixed his food for him, cutting up the meat in fine bits so he could eat it as he had no teeth. She also looked after him almost like he was a child. Guess we will get us another little dog now."

Veteran Officer Goes 6500 Miles To Get His Man

Traveling 6,500 miles in ten days and passing through 11 states in doing so is the record made by P. S. (Sy) Bradford, officer at Strawn, who brought Roy Cox into Eastland Monday night and filed complaints against him for burglary and theft for more than $50 values. The complaints were filed with Justice of the Peace Milton Newman.

Cox was located in Miles City, Mont., and the trip to get him and pick up four saddles that had been stolen in Eastland county took Bradford into Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, California, Arizona and New Mexico. When Bradford arrived in Montana, Cox readily signed an agreement waiving all rights that would require extradition proceeding and willingly returned to Texas with the officer.

On May 5, three saddles were stolen from the B-Bar ranch located about five miles east of Ranger and operated by Ed W. Bateman and one saddle was stolen from Walter Coleman of that same community. Nothing further was heard concerning them until about two weeks ago when a message was received from the sheriff at Miles City, Mont., stating that they were holding in custody Roy Cox, who had one of the saddles in his possession and had disposed of the others.

Mr. Bateman employed Officer Bradford to go and get Cox, together with the saddles, furnishing Bradford with a car in which to make the trip, with traveling expenses and with his ranch foreman, Bailey Woods, to drive the car. Starting last Saturday a week ago they started on the long trek. They found one of the saddles in Protection, Kan., where it had been sold, one in California, one at Miles City where Cox was and one in Oklahoma. The three belonging to the B-Bar ranch they brought back with them but the one in Oklahoma which belonged to Walter Coleman they did not get.

Mr. Bradford stated that Cox and a man who has been implicated with him were at a rodeo at Miles City when Cox and his wife had some trouble in which the wife was abused. During the time she was angry she went to the sheriff and told him about the four saddles that had been stolen in this county as well as about a dozen others at different places over the country. It seems that Cox and his partner were accustomed to making rodeos and other gatherings of that kind, taking saddles and disposing of them wherever they could. Mr. Bradford said the partner escaped into Canada and he was unable to get him. Cox's wife was sent to her mother's home in Utah.

Cox made a statement to Criminal District Attorney Grady Owen Tuesday morning in which he indicated that he wished to plead guilty to all of the charges against him go to prison, serve whatever time is given him, start life anew when he gets out and lead a straight life. Mr. Owen told him he would have the opportunity of doing this soon after the grand jury of the 91st district court is reconvened on Aug. 2.

Barbers Meet to Discuss Their Code

Barbers from Strawn, Mingus, Thurber, Breckenridge, Cisco, Eastland, Rising Star, DeLeon, Gorman, Carbon, Ranger, Olden and other towns in this section of the country met in the Colonial ballroom of the Gholson hotel, Ranger, Tuesday night to hear discussions on the code of ethics and fair competition as provided for in the national industrial recovery act.

Of the 75 barbers present and voting, all but two voted in favor of adopting the code as outlined, which covers working conditions, hours of work, hours the shops will remain open, wages and other phases of the barber business. These recommendations will be used for the national and state code, along with the recommendations of other district meetings.

Another meeting is to be held in the near future in the district courtroom at Eastland. The date for this meeting will be announced later after material is received covering the entire code. The meeting will be announced by L. E. Gray, president of the organization, F. E. Langston, secretary, and the vice presidents elected from each town in the district.

Man, Wanted For Burglary, Surrenders

John Green, who is under indictment by the grand jury for burglary and theft in connection with a lumber company at Cisco on March 7 at which time a typewriter and radio were taken, went into the sheriff's office Monday morning, surrendered to the officers and was placed in jail.

Green made a statement in which he exonerated his two brothers, who were indicted at the same time as he, and implicated another man who has never been indicted.

What Is ATHLETE'S FOOT

Over 30 Million Americans Now Have It—Is This Dreaded Disease Becoming a Plague?

Athlete's Foot is a fungus germ (Tinea) which appears on the feet in the form of a little yellow blister, causing severe irritation and itching—especially between the toes. This disease is very contagious and is spreading with alarming rapidity among all classes of people.

The failure to successfully treat Athlete's Foot in the past has been due largely to the fact that these germs hibernate in the pores of the shoes. Salves and liquids applied only to the feet DO NOT PENETRATE THE PORES OF THE SHOES.

Ranger Circuit Rider Announces Meeting Dates

Kokomo, third Sunday.

Mt. Zion, to be arranged.

Rev. Mr. Conway stated that he conducted services Sunday at Kokomo and that there was a splendid attendance and much interest manifested.

WASHINGTON.—Washington was not altogether a dull place with Congress adjourned, and members of the cabinet scattered. The country as a whole has become more or less cross-eyed trying to see what has been going on in London, what General Johnson has been doing in inaugurating the industrial-recovery program, and how Skipper Roosevelt handled the Amberjack 11.

Speeding up of the naval building program indicates that economic nationalism will soon or late be a theme for wide discussion. It is hopeless to offer any comment on such subjects at this time because the pictures here and in London are kaleidoscopic. Meanwhile, let us look into certain matters whose status is clear and whose trends are definitely predictable.

James W. Baldwin who quit in March as secretary of the Federal Radio commission to take a more lucrative job with the National Association of Broadcasters is now proposing that the commission extend station licenses from six months to three years.

Baldwin contends that the stations exist virtually on a month-to-month basis and he wants to "relieve their plight"—whatever that may mean. In the past the commission has turned down such proposals so that desired changes could be more readily effected. There appears to be no reason why that policy should be changed.

The National Association of Broadcasters is maintaining a staff of high-salaried political experts and is not overlooking the influence which an ex-employe of the government is supposed to wield through old friendships. The NAB was not long in annexing Oswald Schuette to its entourage after Schuette won the fight for the independent radio manufacturers against Radio Corporation of America.

He was hired expressly to conduct NAB's private war against the Society of Authors Composers and Publishers, organized the "Radio Program Foundation," and was named its president and "copyright director."

The unsuspecting public would be led by such a high-sounding name to think that perhaps somebody had bequeathed a couple of million dollars for the purpose of fostering high-class radio programs; but the "Radio Program Foundation" was brought into being with no such altruistic aim. It has been organized to defeat the demands of authors and composers that they be paid what they consider to be a fair royalty for the use of their material by the broadcasters.

It is reported that the "Foundation" has obtained the American radio rights to the catalogue of G. Ricordi & Co., of Milan, Italy, containing more than 120,000 musical compositions, including the Puccini operas. The bulk of the catalogue is made up of the works of little known Europeans. Only a fraction of the 120,000 compositions available are by world-famous composers. As a result it is expected that the Ricordi deal will be used as a leverage against present-day American and English composers, to force them to accept the NAB terms.

NAB is now a Big Business outfit warring against Americans through the dummy organization with the high-sounding name. NAB exists only at the sufferance of the American people; for without the Federal licenses granting these private business organizations and individuals the right to use the broadcast bands, NAB would fold up and disappear.

By granting broadcasting privileges to fewer than 500 persons and organizations, the United States government is helping to build the exclusive National Association of Broadcasters into a powerful organization that is now resorting to questionable practices similar in many ways to the practices of other Big Business monopolies. By thus aiding the NAB, Uncle Sam is helping to war on American authors and composers, and to force these creative artists to accept the terms offered by the broadcasting combine.
