The consolidation plans would effect the war department, commerce department, coast guard, national guard, the advisory committee for aeronautics and part of the Marine flying corps.

Resumption of army air mail operation faced further delay today and Gen. Benjamin Foulois, chief of the air corps, started a tour of air mail routes in the eastern half of the country.

After Years of Controversy Negroes Appear To Have The Right To Vote In Primaries

DALLAS.—The last bar to unreserved exercise of the franchise by negro voters has, at least in theory, been thrown down in Texas.

A recent ruling by a federal judge at El Paso, following U. S. supreme court rulings on the same subject, gives negroes the entree to Democratic primary elections, and the consensus today among political observers was that next July 28 will see unprecedented numbers of colored voters taking advantage of their newly declared rights.

Not since adoption of the 15th amendment to the federal constitution has the negro legally been kept from the polls at general elections. But since "the tragic era" of reconstruction following the Civil War the white majority in Texas has found means to abridge the negro's franchise to considerable extent.

In the days of "carpet baggers" and "Radical Republicans," who sought to exploit the negro vote to their own ends, the means was not a particularly subtle one. Clubs and gangs in the hands of Knights of the Ku Klux Klan kept terrified former slaves in their cotton patches on election day.

Gradually, however, less direct action was taken. In East Texas in the '70s, after a white Republican, E. J. Davis, had been raised to the governor's chair on a wave of negro votes and a few negroes had been elected to the legislature, a novel technicality was effectively invoked.

When federal and state elections came simultaneously two ballot boxes were used in each polling place. Negroes were permitted to cast federal ballots but were denied state ballots. Thus the election of state officials was reserved to the whites without attracting the unfavorable notice of the federal government.

In 1902 the state adopted a constitutional amendment intended further to curb the negro who would vote. The amendment provided that before a citizen was qualified to vote in any election held in the state he must have paid by Feb. 1 of each year a poll tax of $1.75.

The majority of negroes in Texas, it was reasoned then, would not find it feasible to pay the tax. The following year, after practical politicians seeking the negro vote found a means to circumvent the intent of the amendment, a law was passed by the legislature making it a felony for one individual to lend to any other the $1.75 with which to pay the poll tax.

Subsequently cities with home rule charters adopted poll tax ordinances and recently the state attorney general's office ruled pay-

Applications Have Been Made For a Total of 6,680 Loans

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Application for more than $2,000,000 have been received by the recently organized production credit association in Texas, E. M. Garwood, of the farm credit association, announced today.

The applications from the start of operations through March 3, total 6,680, he said. Lending operations already have started and are reported satisfactory.

The associations in Texas have just begun their work, Garwood said. "I believe their early performance indicates they will meet the production requirements of Texas farmers and stockmen promptly and effectively."

Letters Delivered After Two Years

The envelopes were taken from boxes recently bearing the stamp, "Delay and damage due to mail robbery."

Which robbery of the last two years that caused the delay was not known.

ment of municipal poll taxes also was a necessary qualification to exercise of the franchise in the state.

Prior to 1903 the question of negro participation in Democratic primaries was not an issue for the reason that there were no primaries. The state and local Democratic executive committee picked their candidates in their own conventions from which the negro was barred.

In 1903, however, Judge Alexander Watkins Terrell, a member of the state senate, and Thomas Bell Love, a young Dallas attorney serving the Texas house of representatives, drew up and pushed through the legislature the original Terrell election law, providing for primary elections.

Under the Terrell law a party was authorized to hold a primary election only when in the preceding general election it had polled 10,000 votes or more. Because of that provision the recent court ruling has little bearing on Republican politics in Texas. The only time the Republicans ever held a primary election in Texas was in 1926.

Terrell, who had served as U. S. minister to Turkey as an appointee of Grover Cleveland, and Love, who later became assistant secretary of the treasury in Woodrow Wilson's administration, were the pioneers in Texas election law making. Love, at 64 an active member of the Dallas bar, is con-

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bargsley Celebrate Golden Wedding

Thursday, March 15 Mr. and Mrs. J. C. (Jim) Bargsley, who reside at their farm home on Ranger Route 3, near Lacasa, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with all their children, a number of grandchildren and a large host of friends present.

The couple was married on March 15, 1884 about two and a half miles from the farm on which they are now living by Rev. C. H. Ray, who is now living in Weatherford.

In 1875 Mrs. Bargsley, with her former husband, Mr. Hefley, came to Texas from Illinois and settled on the site of the present Bargsley home. Her husband was killed and Jim Bargsley, who lived with his father on the adjoining 160 acres, rented the Hefley farm and operated it for a time. The farm prospered and the young widow and Bargsley were married and settled down on the 160-acre farm on which they have made their home for the past 50 years, never having lived at any other place since their wedding day.

Jim Bargsley was born in Travis County, Texas, in November, 1856, being just 11 days older than his wife with whom he has lived for half a century, and the couple has raised six children, two by the former marriage and four by the latter, all of whom were present for the celebration of their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

These children, now grown and married, include Mrs. Lelia Maude Wimberly of Plainview; Chester L. Hefley of Crosbyton; A. L. Bargsley of Eastland; Mrs. Nannie Carroway, who lives 10 miles north of Hereford; Mrs. Valley Jones of Abernathy and Frank Bargsley, who lives on the Bargsley farm and has been managing and operating it for the past four years.

Though 78 years of age Mr. and Mrs. Bargsley are both in good health, though Mr. Bargsley is not quite as strong and active as her husband. He takes care of nine cows, a flock of chickens, some pigs and a garden from which the family gets much of its food supply.

Four years ago the pioneer farmer became afflicted with herpes, commonly known as the "shingles," and the irritation caused him to become less active in his farming operations and he turned the farm over to his son, Frank, to operate. Several months ago the irritation left and he has been in much better health, though his active farming has not been resumed.

In the 50 years the couple has lived on the present homestead together, and before that when they were neighbors in one of the best farming sections in this part of the state, they have acquired a host of friends in both Eastland and Stephens counties, who were present for the celebration.

When interviewed at his farm home Wednesday afternoon Mr. Bargsley modestly admitted that he "probably had a large number of friends" in Ranger, Caddo, Breckenridge and other towns in this immediate vicinity, many of whom had been invited and had accepted the invitation, to partake of a big dinner at noon.

"Well," he said, "I don't know just how big an affair it is going to be, but we are arranging to feed everyone who comes out as long as the food lasts and all of our friends are welcome. We are making plans for quite a crowd and we hope that we will have enough to go around. We would like to have you join us, too."

Mr. Bargsley spoke lightly of the 50 years he had been married, as though it was a common occurrence. Mrs. Bargsley was busy preparing for the big day Thursday and was not disturbed in order to get her views on the eve of another big event in her active life.

The scene for the big anniversary celebration was ideal. A large, two-story, neatly-painted farm home, just off the Ranger-Caddo highway, which can be seen from the yards and porches, sits on a slope slightly higher than the road and the adjoining fields, now green with a sprouting grain crop on which peacefully grazed the cows which the owner tends. Large trees and green shrubbery set off the house so that it presents the appearance of a well tended city home. An ideal March day, with its spring sunshine, also added to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Scores of friends from Breckenridge, Caddo, Strawn, Eastland, and other towns within a radius of 35 to 50 miles gathered during the day to pay their respects to this grand old couple which has lived together these many years and who still preserve their youth to the extent that they are in good health, happy and contented with their lot in life.

Japanese naval authorities today reported that 70 bodies had been recovered in the search for survivors and victims of the wrecked gunboat Tomozoro, which capsized during maneuvers.

COUNTY RELIEF PLANS BEING WORKED OUT

AUSTIN, March 15.—County relief administrators today set to work on the first step in the inauguration of a new relief program for Texas to replace CWA on April 1.

County administrators were instructed to classify types of labor now available among relief subjects in their districts, by state relief director Charles Braun.

The new program is to be established on a budget basis, but details of the plan were not available. It will be dependent on the type of labor for proposed projects, Braun said. He warned the 254 county administrators that each will be held responsible for work relief subjects complying with employment eligibility requirements.

Blanton Would Not Be Overpaid If Salary $50,000

The following splendid endorsement of Congressman Thomas L. Blanton of this district appeared as the lead editorial in the March 2 issue of the Clarendon, Va., Chronicle, a newspaper published in Arlington county, Virginia, overlooking the Potomac river and the nation's capital:

OH! RARE TOM BLANTON

The recent statement of Frederick Vinson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, that Congressman Thomas L. Blanton of Texas would not be overpaid if his salary were raised to fifty thousand dollars per year, is no more than others in congress have said about that remarkable man.

Blanton during his long service in congress has blocked more bad legislation than any other member. Nothing escapes his vision.

He has put through more good legislation than any other member.

Blanton is always in his seat when congress opens, and has never been known to miss a roll call. He is always the first to arrive at a committee meeting, and always knows to the greatest detail every matter that comes up for consideration. He has been rightly called a locomotive in trousers for he never stops day or night until exhaustion tells him: "Something accomplished, something done, has earned a night's repose."

It was Blanton who discovered that insane World War veterans were being robbed by many of those appointed their guardians. In one case a guardian for 155 insane World War veterans was charged with having gotten more out of their estates than they had gotten. Blanton got legislation through putting the matter of the estates of insane World War veterans under the Veterans Bureau and knocked out the exorbitant fees that unconscionable attorneys, acting as guardians, had been getting.

It was Blanton who put through congress a bill whereby policemen and firemen in the District of Columbia are provided with uniforms at government expense instead of being compelled to pay for their uniforms out of their salaries. They should build a monument to his memory.

It is the same Blanton who is now putting through congress a bill to reduce taxes on real estate in the District of Columbia.

It was Blanton who forced an immoral police captain off the force and caused reforms to be made in police trial cases for the benefit of the public, as well as of policemen entitled to a fair trial.

There is no man in congress more familiar with parliamentary laws, practice, and procedure, and Blanton uses this knowledge often with surprising results. Blanton knows more ways for obstructing and defeating bad legislation than any member of the House. His achievements along that line would fill a big book. He is the terror of the treasury raider.

With Blanton everything is open and above board. With him candor is the courage of the soul. To know him is to hold him in the highest esteem and respect. Few men in public life are as unselfishly working for the good of others. His example is exalting and inspiring to those who seek honesty and purity in public and private life. His influence in congress has steadily grown until he is now one of its most powerful leaders.

YOU'LL GASP, TOO, WHEN YOU SEE THE NEW BIGGER DODGE

AGAIN all eyes are on Dodge! Eyes wide open with wonder and admiration!... For the new Dodge for 1934 is bigger, faster, sturdier and more stunning than ever... yet the price is still only a few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars!

No one ever before had a chance to buy so much motor car value for so little money. The new 1934 Dodge has advanced engineering features never before found on any car... features that even some of the highest-priced cars don't have today—and all at such surprisingly small cost!

For example, the new Dodge "7-point Ventilation"... "Floating-Cushion" Wheels that end road shock... new bigger "Airwheel" tires... and an inside baggage compartment, where suitcases, golf clubs and parcels may be stored, out of the way and out of sight.

Just look at these advanced features pictured here! Have you ever seen anything like them? And remember, in addition, Dodge gives you the vital engineering achievements that made its sensation last year. In other words, you now get everything that made Dodge the biggest buy in its field... plus the startling new features the new Dodge is introducing for 1934.

See this thrilling New 1934 Dodge at the Auto Show! Compare it with any car in its field! Ask for a "Show-Down" demonstration. And then see if any car in the field can match it, for luxurious riding comfort, for utter ease of driving, for distinguished appearance!

DODGE BROTHERS CORPORATION
Advertisement endorsed by Dept. of Engineering, Chrysler Motors

NEW DODGE "7-POINT VENTILATION"—the very latest word in air-control, with cowl ventilator, windshield opener, "butterfly" and regular pane in front window, "butterfly" in rear quarter window and regular window in rear door.

AT LAST! A simple, quick, easy way to open the windshield... just turn the crank! Adjusts to any desired opening, at a touch of your fingers. Works a new way—by means of an ingenious steel band. Holds windshield firmly... makes rattling impossible.

STORAGE SPACE—INSIDE! Handy, practical storage space behind the back seat of the new, bigger Dodge away from rain, dust and dirt. Simply raise the back of the seat.

DODGE "FLOATING-CUSHION" WHEELS—No matter how bumpy the road may be, Dodge's new front-wheel suspension assures smooth, level driving. When either front wheel of the Dodge strikes a bump, the wheel—independent of the rest of the car—rises and falls with the bump. No jar. No shock. No tilting of the car. With "Floating-Cushion" Wheels (tested over thousands of miles of rocky, furrowed country) patented Floating Power engine mountings, hydraulic shock absorbers, shock-proof cross-steering, Airwheel tires and long, 117-inch wheelbase, Dodge is the only car in its field to offer all these advantages!

Anderson-Chance Now Displaying New Dodge Line

The new Dodge line on display at the Anderson-Chance Motor company in Eastland consists of two series—one with a wheelbase of 117 inches and the other with 121 inches. Both lines feature independent springing, aero-stream bodies and a new ventilating system.

Streamlining—aero-streaming is worked out effectively. The windshields are set at a more rakish angle; sweeping fenders, aero-streamed in conformity with the ensemble, are pantalooned for gravel deflection and mud protection; roof lines are curved and backs terminate in new beaver-tail slopes.

Independent Springing—The Dodge front suspension, to which the trade name, "floating cushion" wheels has been given, is the method in use. The conventional long leaf springs are absent. Spring action is furnished by large coil springs.

The main members by which "floating-cushion" wheels are attached to the car are V-shaped, drop-forged support arms. The open branches of the "V" are attached to the frame structure, the pointed end to the lower end of the steering knuckle support. The top end of the steering knuckle support is attached to a double-acting hydraulic shock absorber bolted to the strong forward frame cross member which also serves as radiator support.

Each front wheel passes over road obstructions without communicating resulting disturbances to the opposite wheel and to the chassis and occupants of the car.

Cross-steering, while an improvement even with conventional wheel suspension, becomes of more value in independent springing in which the steering cross rod must be split to share the freedom and flexibility with which each wheel may move without affecting the other. With Dodge cross-steering the Pitman arm, which in usual construction is mounted through the chassis frame sill and moves lengthwise with the frame, is mounted directly under the steering wheel housing.

Floating Power Engine—The floating power engine mountings of the new Dodge engine place the power source low in the frame so that there is practically a straight-line drive from the rear of the transmission to the rear axle.

The engine normally develops 82 horsepower.

An X-girder type frame, described as being virtually two frames, one within the other, forms the backbone of the new Dodge chassis, with modifications to meet the requirements of independent springing.

Exhaust valve seats of heat-resisting steel alloy, introduced in last year's Dodge engines, are also used this year to make valve grinding jobs few and far between.

The engine crankshaft, formerly equipped with four counterweights, now has seven balancing units by which rotation forces are canceled out. In addition an impulse neutralizer is mounted on the forward end of the crankshaft. The pistons are of an improved steel-strut, controlled-expansion type.

Improved Automatic Clutch—The Dodge automatic clutch is vacuum operated in connection with a valve mechanism acted upon by the accelerator pedal.

Silent operation of the transmission—in all speeds, including reverse—is assured.

The body ventilation system is called a seven-point system because it offers seven ventilation features.

MELLON SAYS TAX SUIT IS JUST POLITICS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—Andrew W. Mellon today charged attorney general Homer S. Cummings with "politics of the crudest sort" in connection with Cummings' announcement that grand jury action on income tax charges would be sought against the former secretary of the treasury.

Mellon's statement was issued after Cummings had announced such action had been taken against him, James Walker, former New York mayor, Thomas L. Lamont, partner in J. P. Morgan and company and Thomas Sidlo, prominent Cleveland attorney.

Mellon pointed out that he had paid $20,000,000 in income taxes in the past 20 years and declared "I am as much in the dark as anyone as to any possible grounds for action."

Cancer Experts Praise the X-Ray

PHILADELPHIA.—An effective treatment for certain forms of cancer, recently announced from the Middlesex Hospital in London, has been used with gratifying results in the Temple University Hospital, Dr. William N. Parkinson, dean of the university medical school, said.

The treatment, known as the fractional X-ray method, was discovered by Dr. Coutard, a French scientist.

"We have followed the method here for the past three years," Dr. Parkinson said, "and have had very satisfactory results."

"It is not applicable to all cases of cancer. In fact, there are special types in which a few large doses of X-ray will accomplish more than a so-called 'Coutard series.'"

"We have used the method in cases of cancer of the tongue, esophagus, lungs and practically every part of the body, but it will be necessary to continue the work for several years before we will be certain which methods are best suited to each type of cancer."

Employment 16.6 Above Last Year
AUSTIN.—Employment as reported by 1,165 Texas establishments for the week ended Feb. 17 showed a decrease from January, 1934, or 2.4 per cent but an increase of 16.6 per cent over February, 1933, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. The payroll for the same period increased 13.3 per cent over last year, but declined .7 per cent from last month. These figures do not include workers on the federal emergency program.

FROZEN FISH REVIVE
DEER LODGE, Mont.—Peter Hackensack set out to catch a mess of trout through the ice and came back with an aquarium. As fast as he caught them he tossed them onto the ice and they were quickly frozen. He testifies, with witnesses to back him up, that he took the fish home, put them into a tub of water while he had dinner, and an hour later found every trout alive and swimming the tub.

Outlook Bright for Local Team —L. E. Spaulding

Reverberating with enthusiasm, men were on hand at the initial meeting of the local baseball team

Lyric Now Playing

Paul Robeson and Dudley Digges in "Emperor Jones"

Monday afternoon at the rodeo grounds on North Seaman street. Probably the first time in many years men lubricated their spinal joints with elbow grease motivated by exertion of bodily members towards a mutual interest of baseball participation.

Of those in attendance at the practice, the habitat and origin of several was from "sticks" and "Crickets" to put it in street corner jargon. Others were young men who are at the present unemployed and wanted to give expression to suppressed baseball playing desires. No doubt a few had visions of playing a few games on the local team, which is in its primary stages of organization, and then being spotted by a big league "talent seeker" who would sign them up for a season or two in the big leagues.

Of the number present at the practice, quite a few were men who had just terminated a hard day's work and yet, because of their spirit and enthusiasm, wanted to aid in the formation of an admirable baseball nine which will be a local embassy of good will, sportsmanship, and publicity builder of the town.

Casual observation of the manager, L. E. Spaulding, resulted in one's conclusion that the resoundment of balls hitting bats, players making square catches in gloves was truly music to his ears. On being interrogated as to how the situation appeared to him, he responded, "It looks pretty good to me," which is the index to the outlook of Eastland having an efficient and winning team. It looks pretty good.

It would not be at all surprising if these rural boys who have walked down the furrows will, before the season ends, be such players as will command considerable attention.

For a man who always wants to get to the bottom of things, you can't beat Dr. William Beebe, the undersea naturalist. He's going to explore the ocean depths again, near Bermuda.

47 Arrested For Imperfect Brakes

DALLAS, March 13.—Forty-seven persons had been arrested here Tuesday in the state highway patrol's drive for adequate brakes on automobiles under the law requiring effective brakes on motor vehicles.

A small device made of steel, chromium and aluminum is used to test the brakes. The gadget shows how many feet it takes a car to stop when the brakes are applied at a speed of 20 miles an hour. The car must be able to stop within 45 feet when the brakes are applied at that rate of speed.

The complaints filed here were accepted by the district attorney's office. The complaints were signed by Highway Patrolmen John R. Gibbons, E. B. Wheeler, E. L. Maye and Polk Ivy.

Every motor car driven is at the mercy of his brakes. Stopping your cars instantly is more important to you than starting it easily. Let us test your brakes and treat them for safety control.

LYRIC SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Heeter were among the number of Desdemona people who spent the week-end in Fort Worth at the Fat Stock Show.

Frank Gee and family left Friday for their new home at Van, in the East Texas oil fields. Mr. and Mrs. Gee have lived here since boom days and have been interested in everything that was for the good of our town and they will be greatly missed by their large number of friends, all of whom wish them happiness in their new home.

Mrs. P. L. McBride of San Angelo, Mrs. G. W. Troxell and her daughter, Mrs. R. V. Logan, of Cisco, visited Mrs. Betty Vestal for a short time Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Vestal went home with them, where she is spending a week with Mrs. Troxell and family, and her aunt, Mrs. D. K. Scott.

Otis Moss of Lingleville, visited friends here on Tuesday night of last week.

On Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock, fire broke out in the roof of the clubhouse of the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge club. A large number of ladies were in the building at the time enjoying the popular game. When it was discovered the fire had already burned a good part of the shingle roof and the rafters were nearly ready to fall. The ladies grabbed card tables and chairs and got out quickly, but not any too soon, as the roof soon fell. Mrs. C. B. Wood, who recently moved to Rising Star, had come back to attend the meeting and to fill her place as hostess for that afternoon. Mrs. Plummer Ashburn had Mrs. Claude Lee had kindly let Mrs. Wood use their silver spoons and forks for the party and they lost all of them. All of the chinaware belonging to the club was burned besides their pictures, curtains, etc. and there was no insurance on the building or furniture. The members have the sympathy of the community in their loss of the building and furniture. Ralph Ludwick drove up to Breckenridge Friday afternoon and met his wife and baby son, Jack, who had been visiting her mother at Burk Burnett. Their many friends are glad to welcome them back to Desdemona. They are occupying the house near the Standolind plant that is known as the Earl Lane house, but which has been occupied several months by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson.

John Arnold and family attended the Stock Show at Fort Worth Saturday and Sunday. Other Desdemona people who were there were Mr. and Mrs. Andy Huffman, Mr. and Mrs. Faris Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lee and little daughter, and Miss Betty Lawrence and Mrs. Plummer Ashburn, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parks and daughter, Gaynell.

T. H. Douglass of Fort Worth was here Monday on business for the Brooks Mays and Company, piano dealers.

The meeting of the "21" Study club on Feb. 27, was held at the home of Mrs. A. B. Henslee with Mrs. A. C. Robert assisting hostess. The president, Mrs. Roy Ashburn being absent on account of illness of her aunt who was visiting her, the first vice president, Mrs. A. B. Henslee, presided. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nabers had a letter several days ago from their son, Edwin ("Rabbit") who has been working at Gladewater the past few months, saying he had a very narrow escape when the bunkhouse of the Glade-Tex Gasoline Co. burned one night. Edwin and his room-mate waked after the room was really blazing and escaped by breaking out a window. Edwin lost a new suit of clothes, some money and a number of personal articles. His many friends are delighted to know he was not hurt.

The sympathy of the community is being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Henslee on account of the death of their first-born, a son, who was born and died early Monday morning. Funeral services were conducted at the grave by Rev. Z. L. Howell, assisted by Rev. Z. C. Chambliss. The large number of friends who attended the sad rites expressed their love and sympathy both for the young parents and the grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Style McEntire and baby visited his parents at Comanche the first of the week. A. C. Robert returned Sunday from Van, where he had carried a truck load of furniture for Frank Gee.

MEDICAL ADVICE

If you want to...
... relieve constipation gently and safely
... take the exact dose suited to your need
... avoid danger of bowel strain
—use a liquid laxative

Can constipation be safely relieved? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" declare thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not apt to cure your constipation with salts, pills and tablets, or any habit-forming cathartics. But you can safely relieve this condition just by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

Why Hospitals use a liquid laxative

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit your individual need. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will it irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement, with no discomfort at the time, or afterward.

The unwise use of strong cathartics may often do more harm than good.

In buying any laxative, read the label. If it contains a doubtful drug, don't take it. If you don't know what is in it, don't chance it. The contents of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is stated plainly on the label; fresh herbs, pure pepsin, active senna.

Its very taste tells you Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. Drug stores have it, ready for use, in big bottles.

THE TEST:

This test has proved to many men and women that their trouble was not "weak bowels," but strong cathartics!
First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the highest standing among liquid laxatives, and is the one generally used.
