Court Holds City of Cisco Must Pay Its Bondholders

ABILENE, April 18.—The city of Cisco absorbed a major blow, in Federal Court here Tuesday, in its protracted struggle over municipal debts but kept the litigation alive by filing motion of appeal to the Fifth Circuit Court at New Orleans.

Ruling opposite to former judgments in the noted case, Judge William H. Atwell held for the plaintiffs, Charles F. Bullard and others of New York City, who for three years have been appealing from adverse judgments rendered both in the court here and in the New Orleans circuit court. Judge Atwell's decision ordered payment and interest on defaulted bonds amounting to $775,000 to the plaintiffs and payments of approximately $75,000 to intervenors, a total of $848,000.

Original judgment in the suit, entered here in November, 1931, and later sustained in part and reversed in part by the Fifth Circuit of Appeals, was reversed last Nov. 15 by the United States Supreme Court and the suit remanded back to trial here.

Disarmament Is Still In Deadlock

LONDON, April 19.—Statesmen looked with dismay today on the wreckage of six months disarmament negotiations and a complete belligerence deadlock between Germany and France.

Germany demanded the right to re-arm.

France, with perhaps the strongest cabinet in the republic's history, accused Germany of violation of pledges.

Great Britain despairing of efforts to effect a compromise, resorted last night to the ominous diplomatic instruments of a foreign office "white paper" to make the situation public.

This paper, of the sort used to explain the most critical situations only, disclosed one that brought to many a picture of great gravity.

White Seal Sale Decided Success

The sale of the White Cross seals in Eastland met with instantaneous success, they having been sold out in rapid order.

BLANTON

(Wichita Daily Times, March 25)

A political writer thinks that Congressman Blanton of the Abilene district is in danger of defeat this year. In that respect, things are running true to form. Always in March and April and May and June of election years, Blanton is headed straight for the discard.

The trouble is, from the viewpoint of those who would like to see him beaten, that July never supports the hopes that have bloomed in the spring, tra-la-la. Always we are told in March that Blanton's sun is setting; always the end of July finds it shining brightly as ever.

There are a great many people who would like to see Blanton defeated. There are many such in Texas, quite a few outside of Texas. But they don't vote in Blanton's district. The voters in that part of West Texas keep sending him back, usually by thumping majorities. We have a hunch that despite the intensity of the opposition to him and the strength it seems to be developing now, the primary vote will tell the same old story.

His courage cannot be questioned. Perhaps that is the chief reason why his district keeps on electing him.

G. W. Castleberry, 78, Died Thursday; Funeral Saturday

G. W. Castleberry, pioneer Eastland county citizen, died at 8:08 o'clock Thursday afternoon at his home eight miles northwest of Eastland.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Eastland Church of Christ at 3:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Castleberry was born March 14, 1856, in Many Springs, Mo. He lived in Missouri until about one year of age, then moved to Arkansas. He stayed there until the Civil War. His family, with several neighboring families were guarded by a detachment of Federal troops into Illinois until hostilities ceased, as Missouri was then torn between two factions.

The family remained in Illinois until the close of the war, then moved back to the old home to find the farm devastated. They removed to Myrtle, Mo., where he engaged in the mercantile business for several years. They lived there until Sept. 6, 1896 when they moved to Staff, Eastland County, Texas.

He was appointed postmaster at Staff at the beginning of William McKinley's administration and served four years. He also owned a general store at Staff. He moved the beginning of the small village to its present site on this farm, and gave the lot for the Methodist church which still stands.

He thought he would again like to live in Missouri or North Arkansas and went back, but returned in a few months and located in Eastland and went into the mercantile business with Walter Harmon, in the building which is now occupied by the Club Cafe. He later was with Tom Downtain in a general store where the Eastland Drug Co., is now located. From there he moved to the farm and has lived the past 26 years on his farm eight miles north-west of Eastland.

Surviving him are his wife and three sons and three daughters, Ed and Frank Castleberry, Mrs. Lula Jones, Mrs. Althea Carter of Eastland, John Castleberry of Seymour, and Mrs. Viola St. John of San Antonio. All of the children were with him when he died. Three sisters in Missouri, Mrs. Peter Taylor and Mrs. Bill Jefferson of Thayer, Mo., Mrs. Dora Brewer of Myrtle, Mo. His half-brother, the Rev. D. D. Rose of Brownwood died the 20th of last September. Surviving him also are 19 grand children and five great grand children, and a host of friends.

He became a member of Church of Christ in 1891, of which he has remained a consistent and active member.

Eastland Office Postal Receipts Show Good Gain

Postal receipts the first quarter of the current year totaled $5,388.85, an increase over the corresponding period last year by $800.

Postal officials expressed the opinion that the showing was excellent.

As a barometer of business conditions the increase in the postal receipts assumes the role of being a harbinger of impending better conditions which also have manifested themselves currently.

Messenger Boy Inherits Fortune; Stays On the Job

SAN ANTONIO, April 19.—Howard Robison, 19, of San Antonio, plans to keep right on working at his job as a Western Union messenger, despite the fact that he inherited $75,000.

Robison, who has attended high school three years, pedaled his bicycle back to his office and was informed yesterday that his uncle, P. L. Chapman, Shreveport, La., willed him the money from an estate.

The inheritance, however, will be kept in trust for Robison until he becomes 20 years old.

"It's a lot of money," he said, "and I wouldn't know what to do with it now, anyway."

Sheriff Is Armed With Machine Gun

HOUSTON.—Machine gun desperadoes will be met by some of their own tactics if they ever encounter Sheriff T. A. Binford of Harris county.

Targets, punctured with holes shot from Binford's sub-machine gun at 125 yards, adorn the wall of the sheriff's office. He and his chief deputy, Norfleet Hill, keep in practice with the weapon which was given Binford by his deputies.

Two more machine guns have been asked for his department by the sheriff. With the three guns he believes he will have strong enough opposition for any desperado.

Cotton Farmers Due to Receive a Huge Federal Fund

By THOMAS O. HURST
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS.—Texas cotton farmers knocked out by the depression, are due to receive more than $32,500,000 from the federal government for their co-operation in the 1934 cotton acreage reduction campaign, a United Press survey disclosed today.

In addition to this amount, cotton farmers throughout the state also will receive a very substantial sum through sale of their 1934 crop.

The depression "bugaboo," which caused marketing prices for King Cotton to collapse to a figure that actually made production of the commodity cost more than was profitable, has practically disappeared, H. H. Williams, state agent for the Texas A. & M. college extension service, said.

The disappearance of this depression nemesis has brought an upward trend in the market price of the cotton. This upward trend, coupled with the reduction acreage contracts signed by Texas cotton farmer a rental payment of 3 1/2 cents a pound on the average yield for the five-year base period of the acreage retired. This figure totaled approximately $25,400,000, according to the survey.

More than half of this figure is scheduled to be paid to Texas cotton farmers in the late spring. The remainder will be paid sometime in August and September.

In addition to the 3 1/2-cent price per pound on the average yield, the government has offered a parity payment of one cent a pound, or 5 1/2 a bale, on 40 per cent of the five-year average production reported on contracts. This figure, the survey showed, totaled more than $7,100,000.

The parity payments are scheduled to be made early in December of this year.

The United Press survey showed that approximately 5,400,000 acres have been contracted to be retired from the 1934 production by Texas cotton farmers. The figure represents complete returns from 215 counties, and involves 221,992 contracts. Incomplete reports from 11 counties also are represented.

The above counties from which the figures were compiled represent officially the cotton producing counties of the state.

Definite figures were unavailable for the survey due to the rapid changes taking place as more cotton farmers sign the reduced acreage contracts.

Average individual retirement from cotton production under each of the 221,992 contracts amounts to approximately 24 acres, the survey revealed.

The five-year plan for Texas, from 1928 through 1932, the base period, was slightly in excess of 16,000,000 acres.

A 40 per cent retirement, the survey showed, would mean a reduction of cotton acreage in Texas by 6,500,000 acres during the year 1934. Under the government reduction program it is hoped such an acreage reduction will materialize.

By the time a final check is made, it is believed the total retirement for Texas will reach or exceed 5,600,000 acres, which is 35 per cent of the five-year average and the minimum per cent for retirement specified in the contracts signed.

Splendid Services At the Methodist Church, Sunday

Splendid services were held Sunday at the Methodist church. The pastor, Rev. Rosemond Stanford, preached at the morning hour on "Supporting the Church." In the Jewish Church the title supported the church. Paul said, "Upon the first day of the week as God has prospered you lay by." Again "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver." Jesus said, "Freely ye have received freely give."

There are at least three ways in which we should support the church.

First, by our prayer. The church needs the prayers of its members.

Second, by our presence at the services. We need the services of the church and the church needs us. Some people pay but do not attend very often.

Third, by our pay. The business of the church is to teach religion. It deserves adequate support. There is evidence that more people are turning to the church and to God than a few years ago, the pastor said.

Three members were received into the church.

The quarterly conference will be held at the Methodist church on Tuesday night, Dr. C. Q. Smith will preside. All are invited.

Mrs. Douglas ran around the car to his aid and a Killingsworth, Cox ambulance was rushed to the scene, but the man was dead when he arrived at the hospital.

Claims of one of these fires for the damage rendered have been paid and the other will be paid.

The last fire of any importance was in the middle of January. Last year, the fire losses totaled $11,000, the major portion of which was caused by the conflagrations of several residences on North Halibryan street with losses estimated at $7,000.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED Ken Lund, director for Premier Film Studios, is forced to start a search for a Swedish actress to fill the shoes of Selma Forsell, temperamental Swedish actress, who has quit. He fails and is desperate. Gerry Marsh, his fiancée, takes him to a circus for diversion. He meets Jean, a beautiful ticket seller, whom he believes the right girl for the part. He places her with a Swedish family to learn the language and customs. Only Gerry knows of his plan to introduce Jean to Hollywood as a great Swedish actress. Jean gives her name as Sigrid Lund. He tells Hopper he has finally found the right girl to take a screen test and she is Scandinavian, and she doesn't want to go in pictures. Hopper finally persuades Sigrid to take a screen test and she is successful here, an office boy. So Sigrid was signed up. Max yelled, "I'm dancing around laughed heartily, pinched her cheek, and the girl turned to the director. "You must say for me something very nice, too, for congratulations. You are happy?" Ken took her hand in his to congratulate her. As he looked into her eyes he suddenly became serious, and for the first time, conscious of her. "I'm very happy and very proud. I think you are the loveliest thing I've ever seen."

She was so stunned by this unexpected sentiment that she couldn't find words to answer. A lump rose in her throat. She turned away in order not to show her feelings.

And so Sigrid Lund became a name that everyone in Hollywood was talking about. Publicity campaigns spread her name broadcast.

Gerry disliked hearing so much about the girl of whom she was jealous. She felt that she was sharing Ken with the girl.

"Ken, where did you meet her?" the girl asked. "I told you right here in Hollywood."

"I wish I knew where I had seen her. It's got on my nerves."

At Max's party, given in the honor of Sigrid, Gerry went under protest and proceeded to get filled up on champagne. Turning to the director, she exclaimed, "Oh, Ken, is it all right for Sigrid to have a glass of champagne?"

"Yes—I like some," said Jean, upon whom the sarcasm was lost. "Sure. It's all right. Ken was a little nettled. There's no harm in the first two or three quarts."

"Meaning what?" Gerry asked. "Meaning I think you've had enough champagne."

"You're right, darling," said Gerry, and turning to the waiter added, "Bring me some brandy."

After Sigrid had left, Gerry joined her friend Linda and clutching her by the arm said, "Linda, remember the little sideshow at the circus where the girls got tossed out of bed?"

"Yes, Why?" "Do you remember the girl with the French accent?" Linda nodded, and Gerry continued, "Take a good look at Sigrid. It's the same girl, isn't it?"

"I couldn't be sure. I don't remember her."

"Well, my dear," said Gerry, sarcastically, "wait until you hear her voice. It's too divine. She studied at the conservatory as a singer."

As Sigrid commenced to sing, the drunken girl became like a panther ready to spring. All her jealous ire was ready to burst, and she leaped into the middle of the room exclaiming, "Stop it!"

Ken jumped up in alarm. "Gerry!" "I can't watch it any longer!" the girl yelled. "Would you like us all to go outside and leave you two alone?"

Weekly Sunday School Lesson OUR ALL FOR THE KINGDOM

Text: Matt., 19:1-30 The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for April 22.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance

THE story of the rich young man who came to Jesus seeking the way of eternal life has made a profound impression upon human interest, though it does not seem to have had an equal effect upon spiritual attitudes and decisions of the will.

Wealth, though it need not necessarily be a barrier between man and God, and though it may in fact bless, still constitutes a barrier that keeps men from the Kingdom of Heaven and from appropriating the reality of eternal life.

It is as true today as it was in the days when Jesus was on earth that where man's treasure is there will his heart be also. The Kingdom of Heaven must be the first and supreme thing in a man's life; it cannot be there at all, just as in a modern world a man cannot be a citizen of one country and at the same time give his chief allegiance to another country.

The failure to grasp this keeps men from entering the Kingdom just as it kept this young man who came to Jesus.

ONE should not in any way misunderstand the dramatic aspects of the narrative. This young man was not a mean or selfish person. There is no indication that he was in any sense a money grubber or that he was unduly attached to his wealth.

He had great possessions, and he no doubt had grown up in the psychology that these great possessions induced.

The probability is that he was unable to see quite clearly the issues involved. He turned away sorrowfully when Jesus invited him to find the Kingdom by leaving his great wealth, but the probability is that he was puzzled rather than confirmed in a wrong decision.

The power of his wealth and his environment had taken from him the capacity for clear thinking and clear seeing.

He was a moral young man. Jesus loved him because there was so much that was right and fine in his life.

WE should, no doubt, today in our modern world set such a man as an ideal for youth. Yet here is the clear record that there was one thing lacking the most essential thing of all, the thing that would have linked him to the Master and that would have given him his place in the Kingdom.

There is a tradition that the young man did ultimately come to Jesus or gave himself to the Kingdom, as he was not willing to do at this time. Tradition has associated this young man with Joseph of Arimathea, who asked for the body of Jesus, that he might bury it; but all this is tradition.

We do not know what was the young man's future, whether his rejection of Jesus and his departure in sorrow marked a final decision in his life, or whether he came later to some finer commitment.

One thing is certain that if he went away sorrowful, there was thereafter no real peace in his life. He had missed that glorious satisfaction that again and again has come to men and women who have joyfully accepted Christ's invitation, though it has meant, apparently, the sacrifice of everything—even life itself.

They discover the truth of Jesus, that he that loathes his life shall find it.

Emergency, and National Defense Councils. Being chairman of the Migratory Bird Conservation Commission probably doesn't take much time, nor his membership in the Smithsonian Institution, Puerto Rican Hurricane Relief Commission, or Chicago World's Fair Centennial Commission. But they're nominally responsibilities.

If ever a man was specially qualified and trained for a job, it is Wallace. Born on a farm, he spent his life not only at practical farming, but at the broader aspects of the farm problem, both as editor of farm papers, and student and author of books and chapters on specific farm problems.

He has developed systems of forecasting corn yields, developed highly specialized strains of corn hogs, and chickens, and taken part in many movements to reform farm life.

Wallace is rather shy in manner, with a most attractive, most boyish smile. He is only 35 years old, dresses neatly and boyishly, and though he retains runs his farm in Iowa, he lives in the capital with his family one of its largest hotels.

While Admiral Byrd keeps a lone vigil observing the weather, he might also try to figure why people talk about it when they have nothing to say.

LUCKIES are All-Ways kind to your throat so round, so firm, so fully packed—no loose ends that's why you'll find Luckies do not dry out We think you'd be impressed if you saw Luckies being made. You'd see those clean, silky center leaves—and you really wouldn't have to be a tobacco expert to know why farmers get higher prices for them. They are the mildest leaves—they taste better. You'd be impressed by Lucky Strike's famous process—"It's toasted"—designed for your throat protection. And we know that you'll be truly fascinated when you see how Luckies are rolled round and firm, and fully packed with long golden strands of choice tobaccos. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker. And you'll get the full meaning of our statement that Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat. "It's toasted" Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves They Taste Better

HURT AIDING INJURED MAN

QUINCY, Mass.—Assisting an injured man to a hospital, Harry Sullivan, 33, of Dorchester, suffered an ankle injury when the car in which he was riding was in a collision.

Superstitious? No! Says Frank Capra, Not So Very Much

They all agree that superstitions are relics of the dark ages, and that they haven't any, but—

Ed Wynn always wears the same pair of shoes on his opening nights. They are the same pair he wore at his first Broadway premiere.

Billy Gaxton always crosses himself before he steps on the stage.

Earl Carroll wears a pair of old overalls and watches his openings from back stage.

Screen directors also have superstitions. Even the best of them.

Frank Capra won't admit it is a superstition, but he always manages to include the same minor bit players in his pictures.

In "It Happened One Night," which stars Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert, and is coming to the Arcadia Theatre it will be noticed that Theodore Robinson and Frank Halliday are seen as detectives. The fact is significant, for the same two were cast as detectives in "Lady For A Day," Capra's greatest success.

Sherry Hall, the kidnapped reporter in "Lady For A Day," is also in the same scene. So is "Tiny" Jones. So is Bert Starkey, playing a drunk. They all played in "Lady For A Day."

And not only that. Most of these people play in every picture Capra makes, and somehow they are generally in the first scene shot. Not necessarily the first scene in the picture—but in the first scene to go into production.

Practically every other Hollywood director has some similar

Amos 'n' Andy In Person for One Day at Abilene

Amos 'n' Andy at Abilene. That's the super stage attraction the Paramount theatre offers the theatregoers and radio fans of the southwest for one day only—Saturday, April 28.

The doors of the popular Abilene showhouse will open at 10:30 a. m. in order to accommodate the tremendous attendance which is expected. The first show will start promptly at 11 a. m. with the others continuous thereafter. No seats will be reserved and at least seven complete shows will be given during the day. The prices will be adults 75 cents, including tax, and children 40 cents, both matinee and night shows.

Radio's most celebrated entertainers, the fellows who have been broadcasting constantly for five years, are brought to Abilene as another step of the Paramount theatre's policy of presenting the outstanding attractions of the nation.

Amos 'n' Andy, known in private life as Freeman F. Gosden and Charles J. Correll respectively, are known perhaps in character to more people than any other team of entertainers. Their characterizations of "Lightnin'," "The King-fer the first opportunity southwestern theatregoers have had to see them since they began their sensational record broadcasts which have extended through half a decade.

In addition to these stellar entertainers, the management has booked Pietro Gentili, heralded as the most promising of the rising baritones and Huston Ray, famed as a concert pianist and composer of note. This team of artists has arranged a program of melody that brings the classic as well as popular numbers to the stage.

The screen attraction which will be shown in conjunction with the personal appearance of Amos 'n' Andy is "Let's Fall in Love," a gay, tuneful musical romance featuring Edmund Lowe, Ann Southern, and Gregory Ratoff.

CYCLONE STRIKES IN COUNTRY EARLY SUNDAY NIGHT, DOING MUCH PROPERTY DAMAGE

A small cyclone, that did considerable damage, struck in the Cross Roads community Sunday evening just after dark, demolishing several houses. No injuries to occupants of any of the homes was reported.

J. A. Jones, farmer, who had recently moved to Cross Roads, was the heaviest loser. His home and all his personal belongings were swept entirely away in the storm, which struck suddenly.

Monday Wilson Connell visited the scene of the storm and reported Jones and his family to be in dire want because of the damage done. All their clothing, bed clothing, furniture, cooking utensils and everything they owned was reported to have been swept away.

The family took temporary refuge in a dugout, after reportedly killing a couple of snakes that occupied it, but the rain, following the brunt of the storm, soon drove them out. They went to the home of a brother-in-law nearby, and remained throughout the night, though this house, also, was badly damaged, the greater portion of the roof having been blown away.

Efforts were made in Ranger to secure some aid for the Jones family through the direct relief offices, the Red Cross and by voluntary contributions from the citizens.

W. C. Hickey contacted J. E. Spence of Cisco, county chairman of the Red Cross for Eastland county to determine the amount of Red Cross relief that could be secured for those suffering the most loss.

The home of Lee Hise was also badly damaged, every window in the house being broken and other damage sustained. The storm is also reported to have struck near Frankell without doing much damage and at Desdemona.

Blanton Flays D. C. Officials' Doubled Wages

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Disclosure that many district officials have had salary increases of more than 100 per cent within the last decade are contained in the printed hearings on the district supply bill recently reported.

Tabulations were submitted by Representative Blanton, democrat, of Texas, who sponsored the proposed tax reduction.

The district government, he said, has "too many assistants, and too many third and fourth assistants; there has been too much enlargement of little unimportant bureaus, in my judgment, and our commissioners ought to cut them down in the interest of the taxpayers."

Among the salary increases specifically cited by Blanton occurring between 1923 and 1933 were the following:

The district commissioners jumped from $4,000 to $9,000; the secretary of the board, $2,700 to $5,600; the purchasing officer, $3,000 to $5,400; the collector of taxes, $4,000 to $6,000; auditor, $4,000 to $9,000; corporation counsel, $5,500 to $9,000; the principal assistant corporation counsel, $3,000 to $7,000; municipal architect, $3,600 to $7,500 (now $6,500); superintendent of trees and parkings, $2,000 to $4,000; director of public works, $1,800 to $3,600; director of jail, $1,680 to $3,360; variety of chief clerks.

During the course of the hearings Blanton observed that "I want to see some raises. I want to see some living wage."
