During the past year, it has been a year of 'ups and downs' for the economy, and area banks have felt the 'up and down' syndrome as well. With the latest financial statements issued by the eight area banks, deposits are shown to be up by more than four and a half million, while loans decreased by more than six and a half million.

Statements indicate that the deposits in the eight area banks checked have increased overall during the past year, with total deposits at the end of June this year showing $232,537,008, up by $4,603,850 over the $227,933,158 shown on deposit closing out June 1986.

However, loans for the same banks show a decrease during the past year of some $6,547,072. Loans were $107,381,924 closing out on June 30 this year, compared to the $113,928,996 on loan at the same time a year ago.

Combined deposits for Muleshoe State Bank and First Bank in Muleshoe show to be $66,617,000 on June 30, 1987, compared to the $65,832,000 on deposit at the same time last year. This is an increase of $785,000 for the two banks.

Loans at the two Muleshoe banks show a sharp decrease for the same period. The loans closing out June 1986 were $39,008,000, compared to

Study Commission Formed Nuclear Waste Dump

Parmer County will participate in a three-county commission formed to study potential impacts of a proposed nuclear waste dump on rural agricultural communities outside a projected host site in Deaf Smith County.

Dubbed the Castro-Parmer-Swisher Counties Repository Assessment Commission (RAC), the group is made up of the county judge and commissioners courts from each of the three member counties. An executive council of RAC is made up of two county commissioners from each of the counties.

Dale Winders, Castro County Precinct 2 Commissioner from Dimmitt, is chairman of the commission. A.G. House of Tulia, Swisher County Precinct 2 commissioner, is vice-chairman.

Parmer County members include Judge Porter Roberts; Precinct 1 Commissioner Ernest Anthony of Friona; Precinct 2 Commissioner Thomas Ware of Bovina; Precinct 3 Commissioner Robert White of Farwell; and Precinct 4 Commissioner Raymond McGehee of Muleshoe.

Other Castro County members of the commission include Judge Polly Simpson of Dimmitt; Precinct 1 Commissioner Curtis Sittker of Hart; Precinct 3 Commissioner Jeff Robertson of Dimmitt; and Precinct 4 Commissioner Vincent Gugemos of Nazareth.

Additional Swisher County members include Judge Joy Johnson; Precinct 1 Commissioner F.L. McGavock of Happy; Precinct 3 Commissioner Roma Boggs of Kress; and Precinct 4 Commissioner W.C. "Buzz" Weathered, also of Kress.

Executive Council members, in addition to Winders and House, include Robertson, Weathered, White and Ware.

The U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) wants to characterize and possibly locate a high-level nuclear waste dump on 15 square miles of prime farmland in Deaf Smith County, between Hereford and Vega. DOE would bury up to 70,000 tons of highly radioactive spent fuel from commercial nuclear power plants and solidified high-level military waste. This waste must be isolated from the environment for 10,000 years, due to its deadly nature.

The dump DOE wants to characterize and possibly locate in Texas would be a huge mine nearly a half-mile below ground, in bedded salt. DOE must drill through both the Ogallala and Santa Rosa aquifers before it reaches the salt bed it wants to characterize for dumping waste in. The Ogallala aquifer is a critical source of fresh water for a huge area of the Panhandle and seven other states, and could be endangered with contamination.

During characterization, mined salt would be piled atop what's currently productive farm and ranch land in Deaf Smith County.

Opponents of this waste dump claim DOE plans would ruin prime farmland in Deaf Smith County and jeopardize the productivity of numerous surrounding counties.

"Negative impacts of DOE's waste dump wouldn't extend just to the Deaf Smith County line, but beyond, into the whole region," says Winders.

RAC is gearing up for action now, having opened bids for office equipment, etc. last week.

RAC is funded through the Governor's Nuclear Waste Programs Office, and is already funded through September, according to Winders.

An initial RAC priority will be a study on direct effects on tax base in the three counties from potential impacts on land prices, food production and the beef cattle industry.

RAC members have already consulted professors at Texas Tech University concerning proposed impact study. Winders says the commission is hopeful Tech will be aboard to perform studies for RAC by September.

"Proposed studies should be pertinent to all three counties to one extent or another. They'll include land values, impact on prices of area food products, usage, possible contamination and value of underground water supplies, transportation concerns, health and emergency service, effects of stress and psychology of fear of an accident, and potential effects of radiation releases or accidents on humans, crops and livestock. We hope these studies will be underway by September 1," says Winders.

"These studies would undergird a governor's veto of the site, could be of future benefit to the respective counties in working with incoming industry, and should help, if the DOE prevails, in requests to the federal government for impact damages, says Delbert Devin of Tulia, president of the Nuclear Waste Task Force (NWF).

Devin says the Task Force, a consortium of groups opposing the Deaf Smith waste dump, welcomes creation of RAC, and says recent developments in Washington add encouragement. "The House and Senate now have legislation of the type we've been seeking in the hopper. That legislation would halt the nuclear waste disposal program for two years, while a blue-ribbon commission reviews work to date. DOE's handling of the entire nuclear dump selection process is in question in Washington. Introduction of the moratorium legislation is about the most important thing to happen in Congress in the last four years regarding our efforts to halt the waste program," says Devin.

"If we get the legislation we're after, we'll have gained two years. The blue-ribbon commission will then have to be provided with data to substantiate effects we feel locating a dump in the Panhandle will have. That's where the work of the Castro-Parmer-Swisher RAC should play a lead role," says Delvin.

"If the kind of information RAC is planning to go after can substantiate claims made about potential negative impacts, it may help to keep this dump from ever coming about in the Panhandle."

RAC is similar to the Waste Deposit Impact Committee (WDIC) formed in Deaf Smith County about a year ago, ostensibly to study potential impacts of the dump and mitigate them within the Hereford and Deaf Smith County area.

Extensive studies of the economic impacts the waste dump could have on agriculture have yet to be addressed by WDIC.

"There's more production of irrigated crops like corn and sugar beets, and 1.1 million head of beef cattle fed in the three counties which have formed RAC, which exceeds Deaf Smith County's production."

"Effects of the dump will extend far beyond a single county. We want to have information available to help each of our counties plan, and which will allow us to defend the economic well-being of our counties, just as soon as we can get it," says Winders.

Plans are for RAC to be headquartered in office facilities in Dimmitt.

Grain Sorghum Groups Supporting Fair-Trade

"Fair trade"--not "free trade"--will allow U.S. farmers to maintain their vital share of the world market. That was the consensus of the executive committees of the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association and the Grain Sorghum Promotion Federation when they met in joint session in Dallas July 7-8, to review National GSPA policies on international trade.

The fair trade policy supported by National GSPA allows the use of government export enhancement programs, agricultural price supports, and bilateral or multilateral trade agreements to maintain the U.S. share of world agricultural sales. To balance world grain supplies, international fair trade policies should require all grain exporting countries to cut back on grain production.

The executive committees of both sorghum groups rejected President Reagan's recent proposal to eliminate worldwide agricultural subsidies over the next ten years. This proposal would remove all agricultural price supports and export enhancement programs.

Elbert Harp, Executive director of the National GSPA, said that the president's proposal is aimed at moving grain producers into a total free-trade world market situation and is unworkable. Because other countries need to earn foreign currency and are determined to be self-sufficient, it is highly unlikely that many countries would support free trade.

"American farmers cannot economically survive a free-trade policy. Free trade can't work unless grain producing countries such as Argentina, Brazil, Mexico, and China are willing to raise their standard of living or the U.S. is willing to lower its standard of living. Free trade will only work if all countries are on the same economic and political level," said Harp.

"A free-trade concept will give a larger share of the world's grain market to other countries. Such a program will give many of our competitors an unfair advantage over U.S. producers," said Harp. "U.S. producers cannot compete with producers from countries that do not have cost factors such as OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Administration), EPA (Environmental Protection Agency), minimum wage, workers' compensation, and land taxes."

Under the National GSPA trade policies, the U.S. would work through the General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs (GATT) to assure access to the world market.

The National GSPA policies also call for increased funding for Foreign Agricultural Service market development cooperator programs; the implementation of laws such as Section 22 of the Agricultural Act of 1933 which would limit the import of agricultural products; and the passage of the Foreign Agricultural Investment Reform Act (FAIR) which would prohibit the use of U.S. tax dollars for development of agricultural commodities in competing foreign countries.

MICROWAVE COOKING

An oven cleaning tip: There will be times when foods will spatter inside the microwave oven. To keep your oven operating at peak efficiency, these will need to be cleaned from the inside surfaces.

Most will wipe right off if you clean the oven when you take the food out. If you are prevented from immediate cleaning by the presence of company or any other reason, put a small bowl of water in the oven. Heat it until the water boils. The steam should soften the food splatters and speed up the cleaning process.

In the same light, some recipes will call for a cover on food while cooking. The reasons for this include giving the food a steamed flavor; to hold in the heat and steam speeding the cooking time; to prevent splattering.

If a recipe does not specify covering the food, it is unnecessary to do so.

Seven Three Way School Personnel At Conference

Educators from across the state gathered in Austin for the annual summer workshop sponsored by the Texas Association of Community Schools, the Texas Education Agency, the University of Texas and Concordia Lutheran College.

Attending from Three Way ISD were seven school members, including Don W. Parker, Anita Chunn, Sabra A. Watson, Freida Lowe, Darence Tyson, Mary Furgerson and Dorenda Sowder.

Commissioner of Education Dr. William Kirby delivered an address updating conference attendants on actions of the 70th Legislature which affect education.

Interest groups and buzz sessions allowed teachers, administrators and aides to learn more about a variety of subjects ranging from "Funding Drug-Free Schools" to individual learning styles.

Other major topics covered during the three day session included the State Board of Education's long-range plan for community schools, effective schools, gifted education, special education, teacher appraisal, dropout prevention and school finance.

Superintendents gathered in small groups to share ideas on how to prepare for the opening of school in a climate of uncertainty brought on by the inability of the legislature and Gov. Bill Clements to agree on a new state budget.

TACS Executive Director Joe Seale said, "Our superintendents are worried to the bone. I have been in Texas public schools for 37 years and I have never seen anything like this." He added that the 866 small districts which make up his organization are extremely concerned, since most of them get the bulk of their funding from the state.

By contrast, large districts get about half their funding from local property taxes and many have lines of credit with local banks to help them through periods when revenues are down.

Despite funding woes, outgoing TACS president T. D. Scott, Panhandle ISD, said that Texas educators will continue to do their best for school children throughout the state.

Attention: Executive Director
Gentlemen:

As a participant in the recent Great American Race, I would like you to know how much we all appreciated your hospitality and civic enthusiasm. For each team's support crew, navigator and driver, the Great Race represents eleven days of intense competition and concentration through all kinds of weather and terrain. It is a tremendously exhilarating feeling for all of us who bring back the nostalgia of automobiles from the earlier part of this century to be greeted with such warm enthusiasm and outstanding hospitality. It takes away some of the intenseness and makes it a truly fun event.

We hope you enjoyed seeing us and our cars as much as we enjoyed our brief stay in your community. We hope we will be seeing you again next year.

Very truly yours,

Dear Editor:

We have just finished the Portales Open Tennis Tournament. It was successful and enjoyable, in part due to the attendance of a number of your Muleshoe residents. Several of your young men and women participated and we found them to be fine young people. They were prompt, courteous, dependable and extremely cooperative.

Their parents and their town should be proud of them. They conducted themselves in a manner which brought credit to your town.

Touch Of History

Catholic Church Grows And Grows

By (r.) Clifton J. Corcoran

Sunday, March 18, 1957, was the dedication and blessing day for the Immaculate Conception of Mary Catholic Church in Muleshoe. A large number of Catholic Church men and other people were witnesses of this important day for the Catholics of this area.

So now Muleshoe, Texas, had a Catholic Church of it's own but the Catholic clergy out of Littlefield still has to come over to Muleshoe to care for the Catholic population here.

With the approval of the Catholic Bishop of Amarillo, the Most Reverend John L. Morkovsky, a permanent priest, came to Muleshoe on the first Friday in February, 1960, with the chapel in Olton as part of the Muleshoe Catholic Parish; later in May, 1961, St. Peter's Chapel in Olton was turned over to the Immaculate Conception of Mary Catholic Church in Dimmitt so that the people in Muleshoe and a new colony in Earth could get a more complete spiritual formation.

Now we have our history only to the present but there is a past that deserves our attention and thanksgiving.

As soon as the railroad got its right of way into Muleshoe, the Santa Fe Railroad officials helped the Catholic settlers with a site for a Catholic church, half-block north across from the present Mary DeShazo school. Later was sold to Johnny Johnson. Then a block of land was purchased from Leon Smith; later sold to the schools - where the Junior High School is partly on this block - Then through the help of Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Hicks, the estate of E.K. Warren gave the church land at the junction of highway 70 and Friona Road 214 - the present site of Brown Supply - the church still owns this land. Monsignor W.F. Bosen of Littlefield purchased the present site from D.L. Morrison.

Before this when the town was surveyed, the Catholic, as well as Congregational, Methodist and Baptist churches were each given six lots to be used for church purposes. These deeds were made directly from E.K. Warren to the church officials, it is reported.

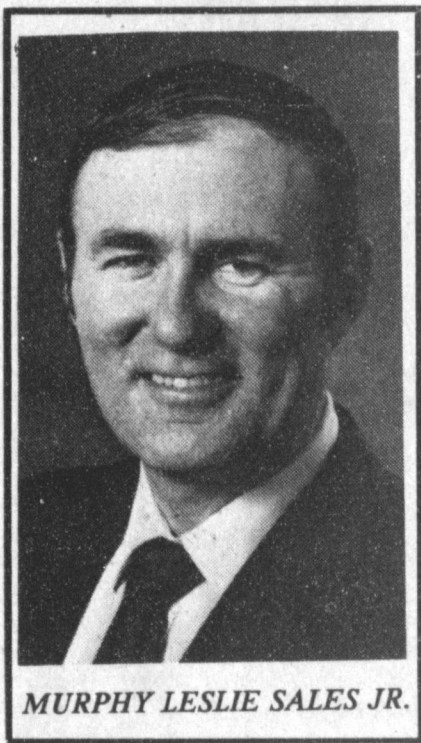

Catholic priests as far away as Slaton came into Muleshoe from time to time to have Mass for the people and to care for other spiritual needs. In those days the Catholics met in the homes of their members and the Priest offered Mass, preached and administered other Sacraments as needed. One of the first Catholic priest to come into Muleshoe was Father Michael French, then pastor of the Catholic church in Slaton. Father French was a chaplain in World War I, who died in Brooklyn, N.Y. in 1957. Some of the meeting places for Catholic services were in the homes of the late Tony and Fred Determan and in the home of Anna Moeller. Catholic services were at the most once a month in those pioneer days.

As we move into the 1920's the Catholics in Littlefield established their parish. The people around Muleshoe then went to Littlefield. After 1950 when the church in Littlefield became inadequate for the parish, the Catholics around Muleshoe went to Clovis for Mass until the summer of 1955.

Late in the year 1954 Monsignor Wilfred Bosen became YESTERDAY!! REMEMBERED!!--In 1934, this is the way Jennings Grocery looked. It was in an adobe building, which is now a part of Poynor's, and was next door to Hertha Walker's restaurant in the W.F. Moeller buildings. James Jennings said the people in the picture are from left, his late mother, Mrs. G.O. Jennings; H.A. Robb, store clerk; and his late father, G.L. Jennings, right. His father sold the store about two years after the picture was taken, according to Jennings, who remembers the store, their customers and early Muleshoe.

pastor of the Sacred Heart Church in Littlefield and definite plans were underway to reactivate Catholic living in Muleshoe. In the summer of 1955, Monsignor Bosen started celebrating Mass in the Palace Theatre on Sunday afternoons.

Late in 1955 Father Vincent Dignitis came to Littlefield to help Monsignor Bosen with his widely scattered parishioners in Amherst, Olton, Sudan, Leveland and Muleshoe. Father Vincent offered Sunday Masses in the Moeller Theatres until the present parish church was ready. He made many other between-Sunday trips here to Muleshoe for sick members or emergency baptisms. Certainly

Histories of the Church so often bypass the largest numbers in the congregation, the people. Certainly the people in pews sacrificed much to keep their Catholic faith with so many trying obstacles. Their loyalty to their ancient faith is very real and deserves Praise that God already knows and will reward even greater in the life to come. God has seen fit for the Muleshoe Catholics to have a very imposing Church and congregation. Our prayers are that we will be worthy of God's kindness and that God will continue to make us worthy of his Providence always.

This Is The Way It Was At The Earth Rodeo

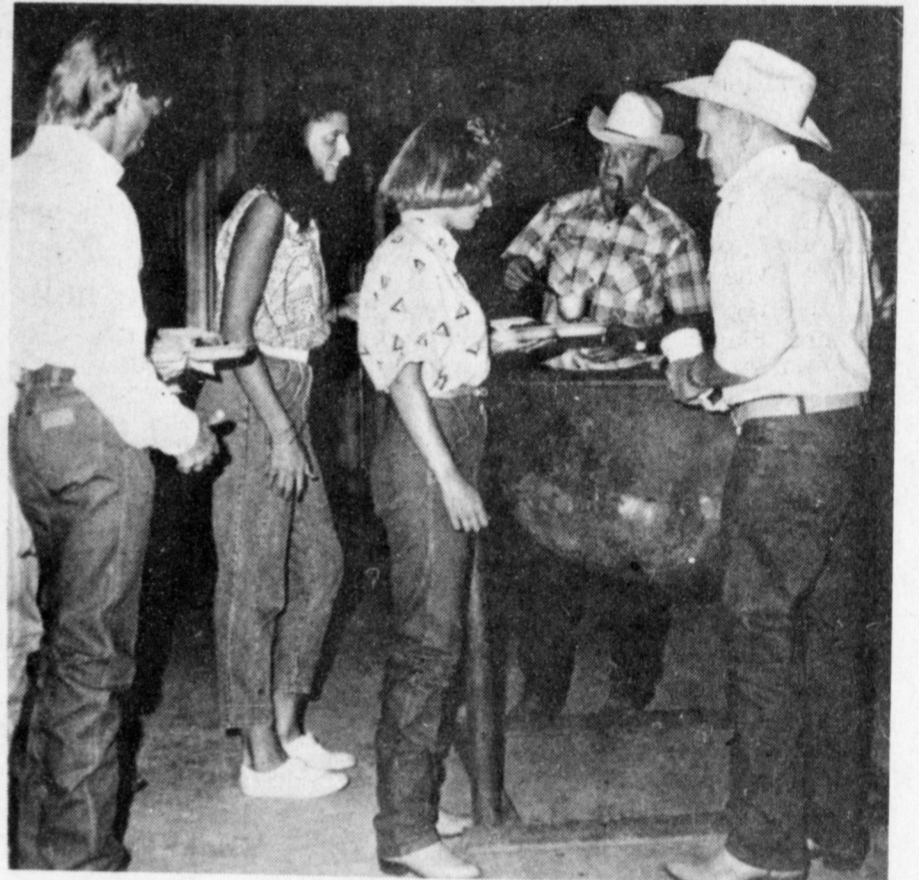

Saturday July 25, 1987

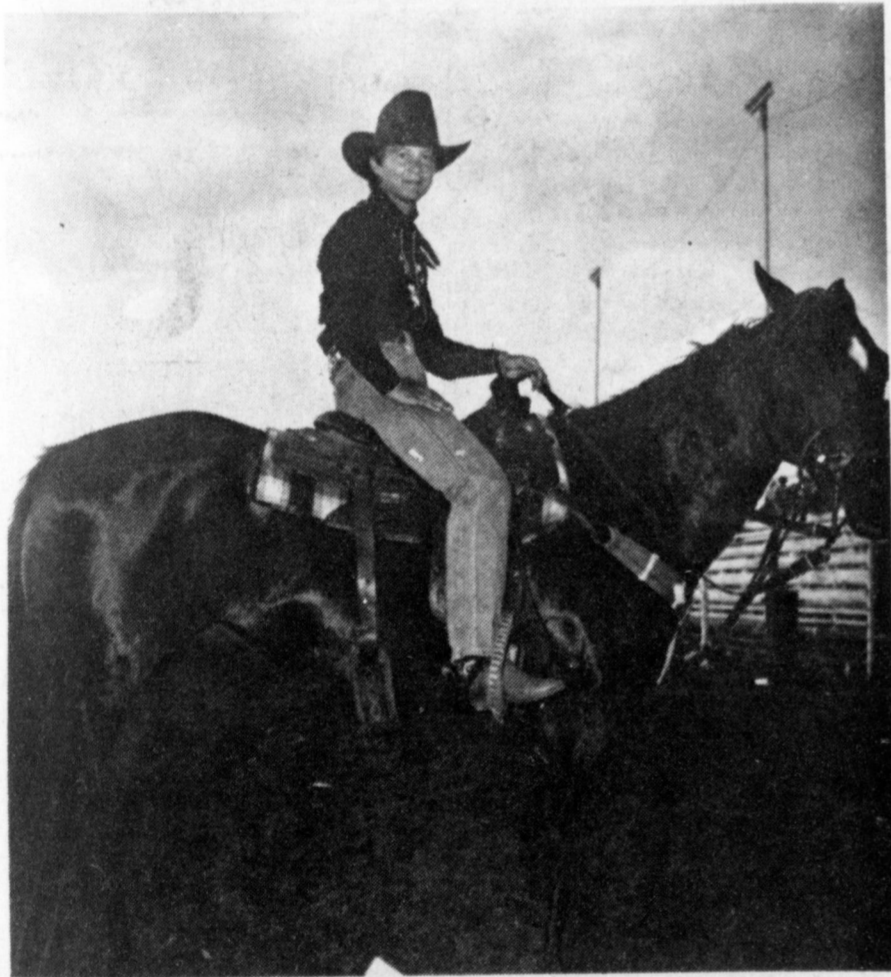

LEADING THE GRAND ENTRY--Carrying the American flag for the grand entry preceding the Saturday night performance of the Earth rodeo is carry-over Earth Rodeo Queen, Sharman Stevens. Carrying the Texas flag is LaShawn Lewis, 1986 Little Miss Cowgirl.

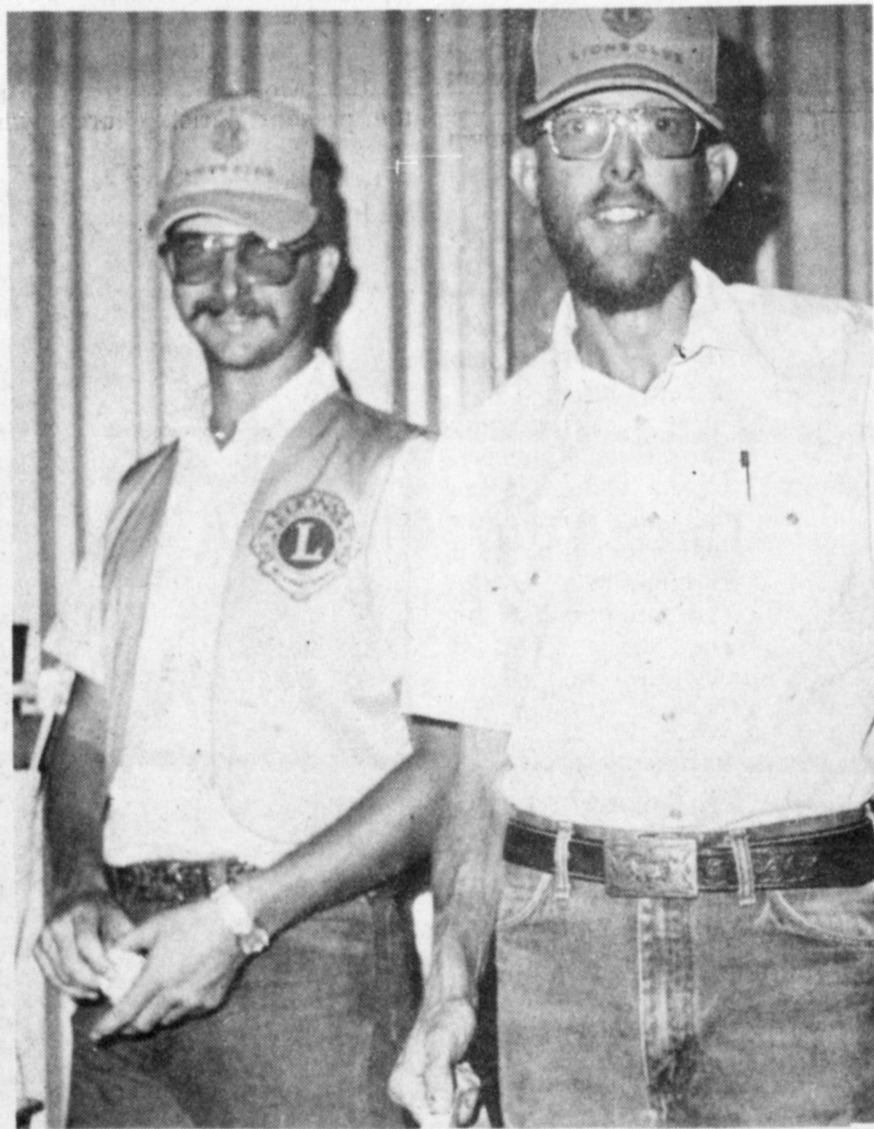

NOTHING LIKE BEING SURROUNDED--A very happy K.B. Parish is pictured surrounded by children, who co-incidentally, happen to be his six grandchildren. Three of them are from Earth and the other three are from Fort Worth. He was a very happy babysitter.

SITTING PRETTY--Mrs. Randall (Dawn) Long, sits proudly on her mount as she waits for the annual Earth Rodeo to begin its final performance for the year last Saturday night. She is also the mother of Kristi Pederson, the 1987-88 Little Miss Cowgirl.

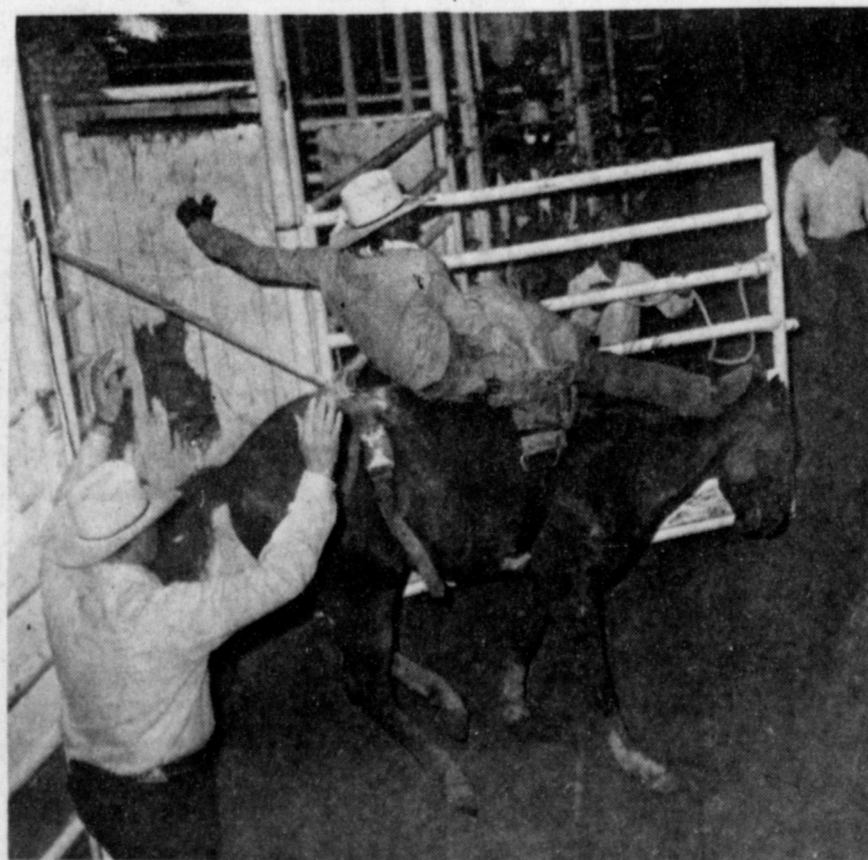

LIONS CLUB IN TRADITIONAL ROLE--Clifford Daniel, left, and Ken Box, are in a traditional role as they cut and slice the barbecue served before the Saturday night Earth Rodeo at the Earth Roping Arena. The barbecue has been a Lions Club tradition for years.

OUT AT THE BARBECUE PIT--Going straight to the source, brothers Donald and David Templeton of Earth went straight to the barbecue pit last Saturday evening, to cut their own choice barbecue preceding the final edition of the 1987 Earth Rodeo.

COME BACK, LITTLE DOGIE--Stretching way, way out is this potential calf roper, during the final 1987 performance of the Earth rodeo last Saturday night. For the most part, the elusive calves proved to be very hard to catch up with, and latch onto.

COMING OUT HARD--Just after this picture was snapped, the young cowboy trying to hold on went over his bareback bronc's head. He provided only one of the many spills endured by would-be daredevil riders during the Earth rodeo last weekend.

TWINS ENJOY PRE-RODEO BARBECUE--Thoroughly enjoying their barbecue meal last Saturday at Earth before the rodeo are Tyler and Shala Roland, 21 month old twin children of Bill and Cretia Roland. The twins were among several hundred people who enjoyed the traditional barbecue.

A Life Saver

Parents would not dream of permitting their children to venture out on the waters without some protection. Yet, only too many of these same parents do not prepare their children for the dangers of everyday life. The Bible says:

"Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand."

Begin now, to safeguard your children by taking them to church.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny. The truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

In Fashion

The simple black suit can have many faces with a bit of imagination. With an attractive white blouse, this black suit is at home in the office.

For a quick change to an after hour costume, remove the blouse, cinch the jacket with a wide gold belt, step into higher heels and with a small black bag, you're ready for a dinner engagement.

A colorful scarf can bring glamor to a suit or dress. Fasten the scarf over one shoulder with an elegant pin.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

by Edward Thorlund

The market forecaster many experts say has been the most accurate in recent years is Robert Prechter. Prechter follows the Elliot Wave theory and also cycle analysis.

His followers believe he comes closer to predicting trends than any other economic newsletter. He is probably the most often quoted. So, what is he saying about today, and the rest of the year?

His forecast is for a rise in the stock market until late July or August, a moderate correction, and then a somewhat explosive rally taking the Dow to 2700, 2800 or even higher. He sees the current bull market in its fifth leg, with some distance yet to go.

The market might reach 3,000 next year, after which the great eighties bull might end.

The best bets for profits, according to those who subscribe to and follow Prechter, are the blue chips. They have certainly done well so far in the long bull market, and many think they are still the place to be.
