Marine Corps Will Recruit 1,000 Men

NEW ORLEANS.—Col. William C. Harlee in charge of replacement activities of the U. S. Marine Corps in the Southern states, on his return to the Marine Corps Headquarters in New Orleans from a trip to Washington, announces that the Marine Corps has allocated to the Southern area under his charge 600 of the 1000 Marine Corps vacancies recently created by Congress.

The Marine Corps District of New Orleans, with office and examining rooms at the City Hall Annex, has been assigned 200 of these vacancies for Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Mississippi.

The remaining vacancies are assigned to the Marine Corps Districts of Macon, Ga., which includes Alabama, Tennessee, and Georgia and to the District of Savannah, Ga., which includes Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, and part of Georgia.

Most of the vacancies will be filled from waiting lists of qualified applicants.

Applicants must be graduates of high schools or have equivalent or superior education, must be over 18 years old and over 66 inches tall. Evidence of educational and physical qualifications and also of character and standing in home community must be submitted by mail before applicants are admitted to the examining offices.

Until the recent act of Congress furnishing funds to maintain the Marine Corps at its normal strength only a small part of the qualified applicants on the waiting lists could be accepted.

The South has been favored in the allocation of men to be accepted in the Marine Corps because of economy in their transportation to the training station at Parris Island, S. C., where all men accepted east of the Rocky Mountains are sent for first training. Heretofore the vacancies were evenly distributed throughout the country according to the population of the states giving the South only a meager share of the few vacancies.

PWA Planning To Put Millions Into Circulation

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The Public Works Administration, already credited with re-employment of 2,000,000 workers planned to put additional millions in circulation today in a new drive for national recovery.

Diminished by allotment which exhausted the original $3,300,000,000 of PWA purse was expected to be replenished to the extent of $500,000,000,000 as a result of congressional approval of the deficiency bill.

Such a fund, if authorized by President Roosevelt, would permit grants to political sub-divisions for public works amounting to about $350,000,000. The measure allows the RFC to hold $250,000,000 of bonds offered to PWA as securities for previous loans.

Another Pioneer Of Strawn Dies

Mrs. John Gibson, aged 90 years and eight months, died Friday night in Strawn. Dr. L. B. Gray, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ranger, will conduct the funeral of Mrs. Gibson this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Presbyterian church in Strawn. Burial will be in the Davidson cemetery. Dr. Gray conducted the funeral of Mr. John Gibson about 17 years ago. Mrs. Gibson had been a life-long member of the Presbyterian church. She leaves a large family and a host of relatives and friends. For some years her only son, William Gibson, has resided in her home, and has given her filial care. He is a well known oil man.

Troop 8 on Hike
Scouts of Troop 8, Brownwood, with Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Lewis Winebrenner, hiked to Boy Scout Camp Tuesday afternoon for an all-night camp. The boys hiked back to town Wednesday morning. All reported having had an enjoyable time.

Eagle Badges Received
Eagle badges for Scouts Rex Lanford, Troop 35, Blanket; J. Herbert Ragdale, Troop 1, Brownwood, and Howard Adams, Troop 32, Olden, are now in the scout office and will be presented at next court of honor held at these places.

Safety First
This is the swimming season. Last week a scout received a severe head injury from diving into water that he had been misinformed about. He asked another boy how deep the water was, instead of investigating the water himself. Why not practice the safety rule, and never dive into unknown water? Investigate it yourself and not run the risk of someone being mistaken about the information they are imparting.

Another thing: This is a good time to be on the lookout for accidents that might come your way. The scout motto is "Be Prepared." Just the other day, near Dallas, three boys rescued a young lady from being drowned. She had gone under the third time when they made the rescue. After applying artificial respiration the patient was revived. Up to the present time the boys' names are unknown. We do not know whether they are scouts or not, but they were prepared and knew what to do when the emergency came. They evidently gained their knowledge by attending some life-saving instruction school or camp. Every boy, whether he is a scout or not, should learn how to make a rescue in water.

On to Camp Billy Gibbons
Camp slogan, "Every Scout a Swimmer." If you do not swim well, attend Camp Billy Gibbons and receive instructions under expert teachers. The aim of the camp this year is to see that every scout who registers for the camp will know how to swim before going back home.

THE 'NEW DEAL' CONGRESS IS ON WAY HOME

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The 73rd congress which enacted the framework of President Roosevelt's new deal went home today. The end came undramatically at 11:45 last night to the congress which had vested the president with powers greater than any ever held by a peace-time executive.

Today congressmen and senators, most of them seeking re-election, were trekking homeward, anxious to learn what the country had to say about the new course which they have charted for the nation.

And the nation, with congress out of the way, was at liberty to start the business recovery which so many have said would begin as soon as it was known just when the law-making would cease.

It was believed President Roosevelt would veto the farm bill, which would grant a virtual moratorium on the indebtedness of insolvent farmers.

Three of congress' acts will furnish the keynote for an intensive summer drive toward business recovery. They are the tariff bill, permitting the president to negotiate reciprocal agreements, the housing act, designed to stimulate the construction industry, and the bill granting federal loans to the smaller industries.

National Labor Board Is One of NRA's Busiest Children

WASHINGTON.—On Aug. 5, 1933—six weeks after the recovery act was passed guaranteeing freedom of collective bargaining to labor—the National Labor Board was created to "pass promptly on any case of hardship that may arise from interpretation, or application, of the President's re-employment agreement."

President Roosevelt appointed Sen. Robert F. Wagner, Democrat, New York, chairman of the board. On Dec. 16, 1933, the President extended the powers of the board to "adjust all conflicts threatening the industrial peace of the country." The president again extended the powers of the board on Feb. 1, 1934; this time to enable the board to supervise elections held for the purpose of allowing employees to select representatives of their own choosing for collective bargaining with employers.

At the same time the board was empowered to make "appropriate" recommendations to the Justice Department against violators of the collective bargaining clause of the recovery act.

Preliminary figures show that to date the National Labor Board and 19 regional boards have taken jurisdiction of approximately

The board estimates that 1,300 strike cases have been taken under consideration, involving 874,000 workers. Approximately 1,000 of these strikes have been settled and 685,000 workers returned to work. Approximately 525 strikes have been averted.

So far this year the board has not been very successful in arbitrating the larger strike cases. They unsuccessfully tried to bring about settlement in the Detroit automobile strike early this year and it was taken out of their hands and finally settled by the President. The board was unable to reach a satisfactory agreement in the Weirton steel case and was forced to take legal action, the first round of which recently was decided in favor of the Weirton Company.

Regional labor boards have negotiated settlements in the Boot and Shoe industry in New England; the truckmen's strike in Minneapolis; and the automobile accessories strike in Toledo; Pacific Coast boards worked for weeks on an agreement between longshoremen and the shipping industry.

3,755 cases involving over 2,000,000 workers. Eighty per cent of the cases have been settled.

Applications For Cotton Tags Still To Be Received

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration announced today that applications for identification tags for cotton ginned prior to June 1, 1934, which is exempt from the tax provisions of the Bankhead control act, will be received after June 15.

In a previous announcement, holders of old cotton were asked to make these applications prior to June 15. Applications may be made by letter or on the government form, through the county agent.

County agents are being instructed to hold all applications received by them and deliver them to taggers as they go into the field to tag the old cotton. Old cotton under a special regulation of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is permitted to move untagged in the channels of the trade through the month of June.

These instructions are issued as a result of numerous inquiries by telegraph and telephone in order to assure persons interested in the cotton business that all old cotton will be tagged as soon as it is physically possible to accomplish the task and that taggers will act on applications even though the applications are filed after June 15 and are not on government forms.

In making application, holders of old cotton should state the number of bales ginned prior to June 1 and their location.

SEVEN NAMED IN CHARGES BY GRAND JURY

AUSTIN, June 19.—Twenty indictments naming seven defendants, have been returned as a result of an investigation of cigar stamp tax counterfeiting, officials said today.

They announced that D. H. Willard, an officer of the wholesale tobacco jobbers association was charged in seven indictments.

Willard's name was announced following approval of seven bonds of $1,500 each furnished on the charges against him. Identity of others indicted was withheld pending arrests or bonds.

Willard was charged with advising, commanding and encouraging the issuance and circulation of 310,000 counterfeit stamps. The stamps are for a three cent tax on a package of 20 cigarettes.

In one indictment 100,000 stamps are listed. Three other indictments list 50,000 each; one 10,000 and two 10,000.

Former Attorney General Claud Pollard, attorney for the wholesale jobbers, who himself announced he had been indicted "unjustly and outrageously," was under bond. State Comptroller George Heppard, whom Pollard had called upon to "do the right thing" and ask dismissal of the charge against him, said the matter is entirely in the hands of prosecuting authorities.

District Attorney J. P. Hart said he will seek trials before the summer term of court opens. He expected a hearing about July 15.

DALLAS, June 19.—Four Dallas men were at liberty under bond today and four others were en route to Austin in custody of officers as results of cigar stamp tax counterfeiting indictments returned by a Travis county grand jury.

Director of a closed Cleveland bank couldn't remember any details about a $3,000,000 loan he made from the bank. It was such a trifle, you know.

V. Cooper Announces Candidacy For Commissioner Precinct No. 1

V. Cooper of Ranger, former commissioner from Precinct 1, has announced his candidacy for that precinct, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries of July 1.

Cooper served as commissioner from the precinct during the period when there was more activity in the county in building and other permanent improvements that were voted and carried out by the commissioner's office.

When he first went into office $40,000 had just been spent on the roads in Eastland county, including the building of Highway 1 through the county.

When he went into office he found in a completed state and in warrants were issued by the commissioners court to take this road work in order to have it taken over by the state highway department.

When he went into office he found the oil boom the rural roads had been neglected until they were in bad condition. When he went into office he found them back on their proper feet, reshaped and rebuilt, giving the precinct a good road of rural roads.

When he went into office he found the bridge over Colony Creek at Eastland, a concrete span that cost $45,000, was constructed under his administration. He personally supervised and constructed an 80-foot span over Lake Eastland, a project that was completed at a cost of $3,500 and a bridge of the type over Colony Creek at Eastland, which cost the same amount.

In addition to this road work he had 550 small bridges and culverts installed along the rural state roads that were completed under his administration, a total of approximately 300 miles of roads being relocated and reconstructed labor being used and wages being paid for the labor.

The former commissioner has stood for a reasonable wage for labor and has always maintained the construction and maintenance of the roads of the county.

In addition to building and maintaining the rural roads, he has had that every schoolhouse in the precinct was on either a higher or a lateral road, and at least each year the county grader and tractor crews were instructed to grade the grounds of these schools as they were working in the vicinity, thereby aiding rural schools in maintaining Galveston faces vegetable shortage. Galveston county and fruit crops and pastures have been hard hit by the drought, leading to farmers here and a shortage of most products raised.

Galveston Island watermelons, cantaloupes, due to reach the market around June 20, will be a total loss unless rain is received within the next few days. Only farmers who have escaped the effects of the drought are those who have their own irrigation systems.

The gulf coast fig crop is now in critical condition, it was reported and unless the drought is broken it is expected that production will be limited to about 1,000,000 pounds instead of the 3,000,000,000 expected.

Intensive heat and dry weather has brought the local strawberry season to a close earlier than usual. Young berries are now being raised but the crop will be short if weather continues, farmers' other fruits also are suffering for lack of moisture.

Bank Deposits Bill Is Signed

WASHINGTON. — President Roosevelt Saturday signed a bill providing for a one year extension of temporary insurance of bank deposits and raising the amount guaranteed in full from $2,500 to $5,000.

The permanent law would guarantee deposits up to $10,000 and partially insure bigger accounts. Under a compromise between the House and Senate on bank "payoff" legislation, the law will authorize the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to lend more liberally on the assets of closed banks, or purchase them.

Jesse Jones, RFC chairman, estimated to congressional conferees the corporation had a fund of $1,000,000,000 available for this purpose, but indicated it would be used cautiously.

Other provisions of the law will: Authorize the RFC to lend $250,000,000 to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation on demand of the latter. Give banks until July 1, 1937, instead of July 1, 1936, to become members of the Federal Reserve System in order to remain in the Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Extend the deposit insurance to Hawaii and Alaska.

Olden H. D. Club Met Last Friday

Olden Home Demonstration club met Friday, June 15, with eleven members present. Miss Ruth Ramey was present and helped some more of the ladies to get their foundation patterns.

Cakes were brought to the meeting and judged. Mrs. Josie Gullett having the best. The cakes were then served with an iced drink. Meeting was brought to a close at 4:15, everyone saying they had had a nice time.

Bill Cummings Plans Active Race Season

Fresh from his victory in "the 500" at the Indianapolis speedway, Bill Cummings is already busy with plans for carrying out a strenuous program of racing for the balance of the season at the various tracks. For nothing dims the ardor of this youthful veteran for the motor racing game!

Discussing his victory after the race, Cummings said, "thirty-three drivers started the Indianapolis classic this year... scorching the bricks over that 2 1/2-mile track. For 200 grueling laps... nearly five hours of it... we kept up the blistering race. I had to average 104.863 miles an hour, the new world's record for 'the 500'... sometimes hitting it up to over two miles a minute... to win. Four hours and 46 minutes of this wrings the vitality out of a man and you can bet that I felt pretty well played out at the end of the race."

Cummings' first request after the race was for a Camel. "Any time I'm 'all in'," he explained, "Camels give me a 'lift' in energy. I smoke them steadily."

In view of the known preference for Camels of champions in various fields of sports, such as Cummings, Ellsworth Vines Jr., Bill Horn, winner of the Gold Cup Speedboat event, Miss Helene Madison, Olympic champion swimmer and holder of many world swimming records, and others whose endurance and energy is constantly tested to the limit, Camel advertising now stresses the "energizing effect" in Camels which has been experienced by millions of smokers, and recently confirmed by scientific studies carried out in a famous New York research laboratory.

Oil Price Cut Is Feared As Well In Cherokee Comes In

HOUSTON.—Will the discovery well in southern Cherokee county bring into production another vast East Texas field that will further reduce the price of oil, which at present is held up shakily by extreme proration measures? And how big is the new Rusk oil pool?

These are two questions that are causing worry to the oil industry and considerable expense to oil operators since Dick Young and T. J. Wood brought in a wildcat well near Rusk recently.

The oil men are sure of one thing. That is that another field anywhere near the size of the East Texas field would be a serious blow to the oil business.

Another field of that size would transform the petroleum industry into a highly competitive, low-profit business that would demand more stringent supervision than that offered by the state railroad commission or the proposed, but now tabled, federal oil control bill, operators agreed.

Geologists, paleontologists, petroleum engineers and old-style "well men" who believe drilling is the only solution to the oil problem, hesitate when asked to forecast the type of field struck by the Houston operators.

They reluctantly admit, however, the only answer to these questions is some 5,000 feet under ground in Cherokee county. Very little is known of the Wood-Young well. And very little oil has been produced from the well. But that which has been produced tested 40 degree gravity and is the same greenish, foul-odored oil that comes from the Woodbine sand of the East Texas field, where nearly one-fourth of the nation's daily oil supply is produced.

The experts said the field could be of any size, since only two directions are limited—the south and the west. The Cranfill & Reynolds company drilled a dry hole to 5,170 feet five miles west of the discovery well.

The Mustang Oil company drilled five miles south of the discovery, found the Woodbine at 5,178 feet, but reported the well dry. Recent surveys made by geologists shows the trend to be north and northeast. Operators said the Young-Wood well conceivably could be the southwest corner and the field could exceed the size of the East Texas pool, the largest yet discovered.

County School Superintendent Applies For Aid

Application for state aid for Eastland county schools which had among their pupils during the 1933-34 term pupils who had been transferred from other schools, has been made by the county school superintendent.

The amount of tuition due from the state is $4,121. Laws of the state education system have it that schools that are able shall pay tuition of students transferred to other districts, but if their financial status makes the matter impossible then the state pays. The only schools in the county that were able to pay tuition for their students transferred were Reagan, New Hope, Long Branch and Grapevine.

When warrants for the money has been issued by the state Cisco will receive $754; Ranger $482; Eastland $243; Rising Star $472; Carbon $477; Gorman $236; Pioneer $731; Morton Valley $281; Alameda $150; Okra $84, and Union, in Calahan county, will receive $126.

12,000 In Ft. Worth Have No Bath Tubs

FORT WORTH.—There are some 12,000 persons in Fort Worth who can not enjoy singing in a bathtub. Reason: They have no bathtub.

Secretary Luther Meacham of the Fort Worth Real Estate board estimated 3,000 of the city's 40,000 "domicile units" have no bathing facilities. An average of four persons to the family makes 12,000 without plumbing equipment.

These multiple births have brought out the record of a woman in Poland who gave birth to 36 children at one time. Nothing is said about the father, probably because the children must have mobbed him.

Breck Man Owns Old Powder Horn

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas.—A 175-year-old powder horn, made from a cow horn in the Revolutionary war days, has been put on display here by Albert F. Goff. The horn has been handed down through the generations to the eldest son of each family. On it is written: "Made at Fort Edward, North Carolina, Nov. 5, 1857, by Jacob Gay."

Aged Man Takes A Daily Swim Over Two Miles

FORT WORTH.—Sixty-four-year-old Ben Harris takes a two-mile swim in Lake Worth daily "just for exercise."

Some days, when he "feels the urge," he stretches his exercise to six miles. He is employed at the Lake Worth Casino and the Lake is convenient, he explained. "Nothing to it," he said. "I've been swimming for 55 years."

Harris once held the world's record for the 15 mile swim, he said. His time was four hours, forty-seven and one-half minutes. Before coming here in 1917, he was a Red Cross life saver at Galveston, where he also dived for oysters in 100 feet of water "on the side."

Harris is the only Red Cross life saver here who is exempt from taking a yearly examination. He also was the first swimmer to pass the Red Cross examination in Tarrant county.

TO THE PROPERTY OWNERS AND TAX PAYERS OF EASTLAND COUNTY

PAY NOW--and SAVE

It being our desire to relieve you of as much of your tax burden as possible, we wish to call your attention to the fact that the special law providing for omission and reduction of penalties, interests and tax costs on delinquent taxes expires June 30, 1934.

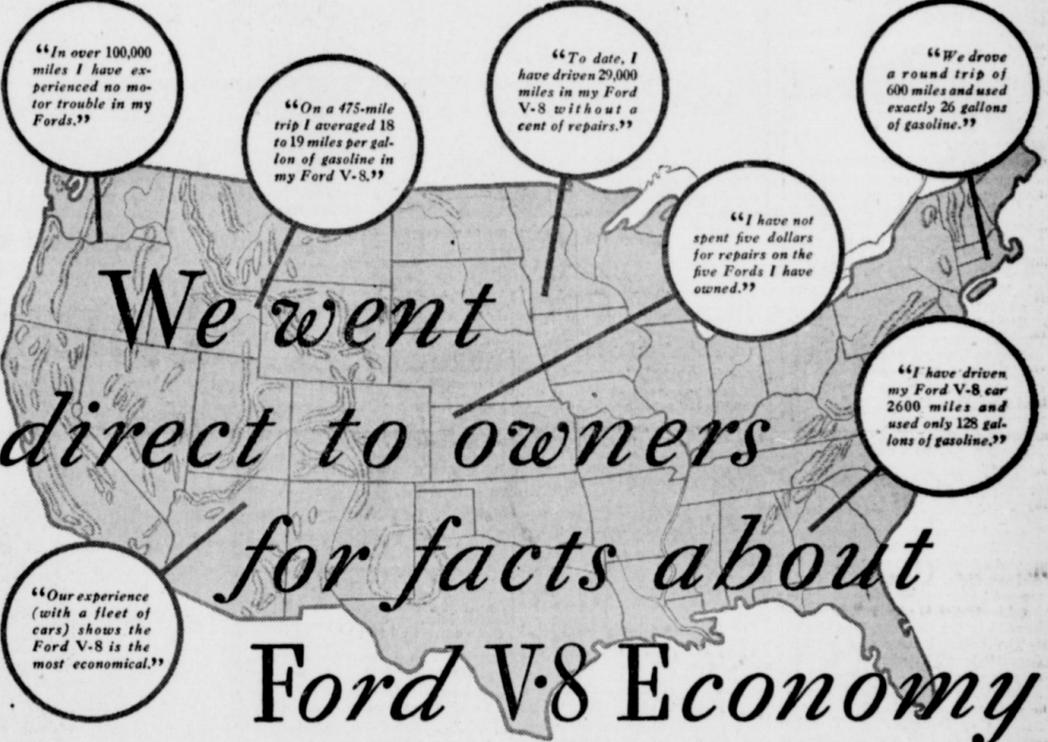

After that date we will be required to collect ten per cent penalty, six per cent interest per annum and two dollars tax cost for each year your taxes are delinquent.

Therefore, we are anxious for you to know these facts and have an opportunity to pay your taxes before the above mentioned additions are enforced, which on small amounts will be enormous on account of the two dollars per year tax cost required by law which we cannot omit without an act of the Legislature.

For example: If your delinquent taxes for 1931 were Ten Dollars, and if paid on or before June 30, 1934, only $.60 penalty will be required, making the total amount $10.60, but if paid after June 30, and on or before July 15, $1.00 penalty, $2.25 interest and $2.00 tax cost, will be added, making the total amount $15.25.

From the above illustration you will readily see that it will be a great saving to you to take care of your delinquent taxes on or before June 30th, and in doing so we will gladly render you every possible service.

T. L. COOPER, Tax Collector.

We went direct to owners for facts about Ford V-8 Economy

- "In over 100,000 miles I have experienced no motor trouble in my Fords."
- "To date, I have driven 29,000 miles in my Ford V-8 without a cent of repairs."
- "On a 475-mile trip I averaged 18 to 19 miles per gallon of gasoline in my Ford V-8."
- "We drove a round trip of 600 miles and used exactly 26 gallons of gasoline."
- "I have not spent five dollars for repairs on the five Fords I have owned."
- "I have driven my Ford V-8 car 2600 miles and used only 128 gallons of gasoline."

There's one sure way to get the facts about motor-car economy. And that's to ask the man who drives the car. He hasn't anything to sell and you can depend on him for a straight-from-the-shoulder, honest answer.

We asked Ford V-8 owners for the facts and received 53,448 letters and post-cards. They showed a total of 417,161,640 miles. 91.7 per cent reported complete satisfaction—a truly amazing percentage for any automobile.

34,954 of these Ford V-8 owners had driven their cars 272,815,970 miles without a single penny for repairs. Many of them reported twenty, thirty and sixty thousand miles without trouble or replacements of any kind.

Owners' figures on gasoline mileage are further proof of the economy of the Ford V-8. One owner in every four averaged 18, 19 or 20 miles a gallon. 18,420 averaged 15, 16 or 17 miles.

Where mileage was less than that it was usually due to continuous driving at high speeds, lack of proper care of the car, extra-heavy loads, or many miles of traveling over mountains or in crowded city traffic. Where you drive and how fast you drive has a great deal to do with gasoline mileage.

This data on gasoline mileage is for the 1933 Ford. The New Ford V-8 of 1934 does considerably better than that because of the new dual carburetion, waterline thermostats and new engine refinements. At the same time its power is even greater.

We invite you to drive the Ford V-8 and let it tell you its own story of performance, comfort, safety and economy. You save when you buy and you save every mile you drive.

Family House Party
Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Sparks are entertaining a family house party, who came Sunday for a two or three weeks visit.

Personnel, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sparks of Clovis, N. M., parents of Mr. Sparks, and their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Milburn of Hereford, and her baby, Martha; Miss Catherine Sparks of Melrose, niece of the host; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sparks and children.

Entertained in Breckenridge
Mrs. Dan Childress and Mrs. J. E. Hickman spent Wednesday in Breckenridge as the personal guests of Mrs. E. J. Benton, member of the Women's club, which stages a "42" and bridge party with noon luncheon once a month at the Breckenridge Country club, which the women of Breckenridge have taken over socially, as "The Women's Club."

Celebrates Daughter's Seventh Birthday
Talented little Julia Brown had her seventh birthday celebrated at the family home Monday afternoon by her mother, Mrs. L. C. Brown, in an informal neighborhood guest party.

Merry games on the lawn led by Mrs. Earl Bender terminated in the serving of fruited punch with the birthday cake, iced in white and chocolate.

Tops with strings were favors for the boys, and girls' favors were pretty handkerchiefs.

The small guests were Annette Bender, Catherine Collie, Amy Ruth P'Pool, Sue Bender, Patsy Sparks, Eloise Johnson, Ben Sparks, Cone Johnson, Bruce Pip-Kit, and Harold Wellman.

Matrix Circle

Mrs. James Harkrider Hostess
The Matrix Circle of the Child Conservation league was entertained by Mrs. James Harkrider at her home Tuesday afternoon, in the last program session for the summer months. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Francis M. Jones of Breckenridge, retiring vice president.

The circle voted to hold their sessions once a month, of a social nature with no study program, setting the next meeting for July 19, at home of Mrs. Veon Howard.

A lesson on "Sex" discussed from various angles, had topics presented by Mrs. H. R. Breazeale, Mrs. Guy Patterson and Mrs. L. E. Spalding.

The hostess served a dainty 5 o'clock tea plate of cream cheese sandwiches, potato flakes, iced tea, and olives, the tray presented Mrs. Jones, carrying a heaped mound of lovely gifts from the circle members, a farewell "forget-me-not" for their former vice president, who is placing her membership in the Breckenridge circle.

The entire home was prettily decorated with jonquills for the afternoon, attended by Meses, Ocie Hunt, Veon Howard, L. E. Spalding, Garner Kinard, H. R. Breazeale, Guy Patterson, L. V. Simmonds, Howard Harris, Mrs. Board of Indiana, the national organizer of the league, a special guest, who is stopping at the Connelley hotel, and Mrs. James Harkrider, hostess.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED
John Hunter Yates resigns as president of his huge corporation to enjoy the remaining years of his life. He is 49. When his wife will not join him in his planned adventures, he takes Blossom Bailey, beautiful young actress, to Europe with him. While there they meet Anthony Zukowski, a wealthy music composer and former piano teacher of the music-loving Yates. Blossom falls in love with Blossom. Blossom reciprocates the love to her heart, but will not return it because of the kindness of Yates. She will do nothing to hurt him. Because of Zukowski's presence, she asks Yates to take her back to New York, after Yates has sponsored Zukowski's symphony and made him a success.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
New York Blossom Bailey to appear in a new show as the star. John Hunter Yates, the unpublished sponsor Anthony Zukowski—to appear in a series of concerts.

Yates sat at one end of the long table. At the other end, his wife, Elinor, picked at her grapefruit. She looked up at Yates.

"John, how long is it since you and I have breakfasted together?"
"No thanks," Yates paused, then. "You've been perfectly marvelous all through this, Elinor."

"If I have, it's only to make up for being perfectly stupid for twenty years."
"We've always been honest with each other. I'm coming right to the point. I think it would be better for everybody concerned if you got a divorce."

Elinor spoke quietly. "For everybody but you and me. Do you want to marry her?"
"I've asked her. Is there any reason why I shouldn't?"

"About this, John. But even if you could bridge the gap of years."

"So please, please... don't ask me to be logical. I only want to be honest."
Posed by Elissa Landi and Joseph Schildkraut

It still wouldn't be any good. You're asking her to marry you because you think that'll hold her. It didn't hold us, did it? And, however much I've failed as a wife, John, at least I've never loved anyone else. A failure—yes. But a faithful failure.

"You're not given to making unpleasant insinuations. Elinor if you know her—"

"I do know her. I made it my business. And I like her. She's loyal and tremendously grateful. So you'll get loyalty and gratitude, even if you don't marry her. But you won't get love, John. Because there's somebody else."

"Oh, yes you do. That's why you want to marry her. Build a wall. The sad part of it is you can't eliminate your rival. He'll grow more menacing with the years."

"If there is anybody else," said Yates. "Who is it? What's his name?"

"Youth. His other name doesn't matter."
Yates stood up. His voice was harsh. "I'm not going to let you poison my mind against her with any stray piece of gossip you have. It's a pity we can't meet the issue in friendship and frankness. I'm terribly sorry. I never thought we'd face each other as enemies—but since you won't give me a divorce I shall be forced to get one."

Elinor stood also. "I'll contest it with all my strength. But whether I win or lose, I'm your wife. No court decision can ever change it. I'll always be your wife. And this is your home. John—to come back—her voice faltered—"when you have no other place to turn to."

She turned away suddenly to hide the tears that blinded her eyes.

Yates walked quickly to her. He placed his hand on her shoulder in a mute, clumsy gesture of comfort. She took his hand for a fleeting instant, then with a muffled "Good-bye," she was gone. Yates stared after her his face a mask of stark misery. He picked up his cane and hat from a near-by chair and walked slowly from the house—the house that had been his.

Broadway electric lights told a tragic story. On a theatre marquee glittered the sale "OPENS TONIGHT BLOSSOM BAILEY IN A NEW PLAY—'BOY AND GIRL'—The New York Symphony Hall's marquee read ZUKOWSKI—FAREWELL APPEARANCE."

Yates sat in the spacious living room of the apartment he had provided for Blossom. He started as the doorbell rang. The butler admitted a thick-set, squat individual. "Mr. Conroy," announced the butler.

Yates rose as the man entered. He stared expectantly almost fearfully, at the newcomer who seemed loathe to talk.

What with the Canadian quintuplets and the Iowa quadruplets, can't the AAA do something about this overproduction?"

VOTE FOR THOMAS L. BLANTON For Congressman 17th Congressional District of Texas

This advertisement paid for by friends and supporters of Tom Blanton and run without his knowledge or consent because he remained at his post of duty in Washington looking after the people's interests while his opponents were campaigning against him.

REMAINED AT POST OF DUTY

Since reaching Washington last December and until Congress adjourned, Thomas L. Blanton was actively engaged in his official duties, working long hours each day, and giving little or no thought to his approaching campaign for re-election.

Since January 1 Mr. Blanton's opponents have been actively campaigning against him, but notwithstanding this Judge Blanton remained at his post of duty, faithfully and diligently protecting the interests of his constituents and with an abiding faith that under such crucial crises as daily confronted our President, the people at the polls would take good care of the man who would support the President and stay on the job, and "Carry On" at his own personal sacrifice.

After 12 years of continuous Republican misrule, all posted persons admit that during the short period the Democrats have been in control, they have passed more constructive legislation of real benefit to the long suffering American people than has ever been passed before by any previous administration and no man has done more to accomplish this than has Thomas L. Blanton.

SENIORITY IN CONGRESS COUNTS MOST

John Garner is now vice-president because Uvalde kept him in Congress 30 years; Henry Rainey is now speaker of the House because Illinois kept him in Washington 30 years. Jo Byrns is now Democratic majority leader because Tennessee has kept him in Congress 26 years. Buchanan and Blanton now help to handle all appropriations, and Hatton Sommers controls the Judiciary committee, Sam Rayburn the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee, Fritz Lanham the Public Buildings Committee, and Marvin Jones the Committee on Agriculture, which means much to their districts and Texas, because their districts have kept them in Congress.

In Congress seniority means everything and Tom Blanton's ripe experience, his knowledge of the rules and precedents, his intimate knowledge respecting all government business, and his Appropriations Committee membership are valuable assets his district has already paid for and acquired so why throw them away by replacing him with some virtually unknown, inexperienced and untried man.

Tom Blanton is needed in Congress not only by his district and his state, but by the nation. Read the following excerpts from editorials and letters from over the country praising him for his valuable services and asking for a continuation of them.

EDITORIAL

By Crandal Mackey
Former Commonwealth Attorney of Va.
(The Chronicle, Clarendon, Va.)

OH! RARE TOM BLANTON

The recent statement of Frederick Vinson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, that Congressman Thomas L. Blanton of Texas would not be overpaid if his salary were raised to fifty thousand dollars per year, is no more than others in congress have said about that remarkable man.

Blanton during his long service in congress has blocked more bad legislation than any other member. Nothing escapes his vision.

He has put through more good legislation than any other member.

Blanton is always in his seat when congress opens and has never been known to miss a roll call. He is always the first to arrive at a committee meeting, and always knows to the greatest detail every matter that comes up for consideration.

It was Blanton who discovered that insane World War veterans were being robbed by many of those appointed their guardians. In one case a guardian for 155 insane World War veteran was charged with having gotten more out of their estates than they had gotten. Blanton got legislation through putting the matter of the estates of insane World War veterans under the Veterans Bureau and knocked out the exorbitant fees that unconscionable attorneys, acting as guardians, had been getting.

There is no man in congress more familiar with parliamentary laws, practice, and procedure, and Blanton uses this knowledge often with surprising results. Blanton knows more ways for obstructing and defeating bad legislation than any member of the House. His achievements along that line would fill a big book. He is the terror of the treasury raider.

With Blanton everything is open and above board. With him candor is the courage of the soul. To know him is to hold him in the highest esteem and respect. Few men in public life are as unselfishly working for the good of others. His example is exalting and inspiring to those who seek honesty and purity in public and private life. His influence in congress has steadily grown until he is now one of its most powerful leaders.

George Terrell is going back to Texas when Congress adjourns, and he is not coming back. He decided last night it is not worth the candle.

"At my age, I could not hope to remain in Congress long enough to reach a prominent position on any of the important committees," he told newspapermen.

"And no one can command much influence until he has been in Congress 10 years or longer and has become chairman of some important committee."

When George Terrell who has been Commissioner of Agriculture for the State of Texas, and has held other important positions after serving here two years, admits that a new member is helpless, and cannot expect to perform service of value until he has stayed here ten years, it is quite an argument against sending a new man to Congress.

Through years of hard work Blanton has already acquired his influential position on the most important committee there—the Committee on Appropriations—which frames the big supply bills of the nation.

THANKS 17th DISTRICT FOR BLANTON
Congressman Clarence Cannon, of Missouri, Chairman of the Committee handling certain appropriations, with 23 years of experience in the House of Representatives, and author of the new Revised Rules and Precedents in 12 Volumes, in his recent speech in the House on April 25, 1934 (Record, page 7792) said:

MR. CANNON: "Mr. Chairman, no reference to the personnel of this Congress would be complete without mention of the other of the two brilliant Texans to whom I have just referred. It has been my privilege to serve in various capacities on the floor of this House for 23 years this month. In that time I have observed no Member who has rendered able or more conscientious service than the gentleman from Texas, Judge Blanton. In the legislation which he has supported, in the legislation which he has opposed, and especially in the vast sums of money which he has saved the Federal Treasury, no Member of the House in the last quarter of a century has surpassed the wise and courageous and resourceful gentleman from Texas, Thomas L. Blanton. (Applause.)"

And speaking in behalf of the people of my State—and expressing, I am certain, the sentiments of those of every other State in the Union—I desire to thank the citizens of the Seventeenth District of Texas for sending Judge Blanton here and keeping him here all these years. His services to the House and to the country have been invaluable." (Applause.)

Monday, June 12, 1933
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Washington, D. C., May 26, 1933.

Hon. Thomas L. Blanton,
House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

My Dear Colleague: As I told you on the floor of the House a few days ago, I am planning to retire from Congress the 1st of next January to accept a judgeship in my own State; but at the time I told you of my contemplated plans it had not occurred to me that it would be but a few days until our active service together shall have ended.

Under these circumstances I cannot refrain from expressing to you what is in my mind and heart concerning your services in Congress as a Representative of a great constituency and to reaffirm my appreciation of your never-ceasing diligence, industry, and fearless devotion to duty at all times and under all circumstances. In my public and business career of nearly 40 years I have not known any man more faithful and devoted to the interests of his country than you have been in all these trying years of these terrible economic times in which we are living.

Often have I been amazed at not only your parliamentary skill and cool, deliberate judgment, but I have wondered at your never-failing skill and ability in overcoming the opposition. I wanted to say to you from the very depths of my heart and in all sincerity that, in my judgment, no district in the United States ever had a more faithful or honorable Representative in the Congress than the district you have so ably represented.

I do not know your plans for the future, but in parting may I say that I shall devoutly hope you may continue to represent your district here; that the masses of the common people of America may continue to have at least one great champion of their cause continue in Congress; and that the Treasury, where the people's money is deposited, may have a real watchdog.

With kind regards and best wishes, I shall continue always,
Very cordially and sincerely yours,
A. J. MAY.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Committee on Labor
Washington, D. C., May 31, 1933

Hon. M. B. Harris,
Adjutant Vernon D. Hart Post, No. 100,
The American Legion, Stamford, Tex.

Dear "Buddie": Because I am a veteran of the World War, am a member of the Veterans' Affairs Committee, am Chairman of the Committee on Labor, and am thoroughly familiar with all veterans' legislation here, your Congressman has just shown me your letter to him of May 28. You condemn him because he backed the President and voted for the economy bill, and I note your threat that you intend to fight him and the President, and unless Blanton appoints you postmaster, you will use your influence as district committeeman of the American Legion to defeat him for re-election.

Thomas L. Blanton and I have served together here for years. He has always been a loyal, staunch friend of the veterans of all wars. When he voted for the President's economy bill he was assured that the Bureau would do no injustice to any veteran. In the last Congress Blanton was the third Member to sign the petition that forced the Patman bill to be passed in the House to pay the bonus in cash to veterans.

At his own expense Blanton spent months investigating Col. Charles R. Forbes, former Director of the Bureau, whom the Department of Justice afterward indicted and sent to the penitentiary. At his own expense Blanton investigated numerous hospitals in the United States, including old Hospital No. 25 at Houston, and on one day caused about 200 tubercular patients to be transferred to Prescott, Ariz., and Fort Bayard, N. Mex. At his own expense Blanton made the Staples and McNorris investigations to insure justice to veterans. At his own expense Blanton spent his entire vacation investigating Col. Frederick A. Fenning, and he personally conducted the trial of Fenning before the Judiciary Committee, and forced Fenning to resign and make retribution to several hundred shell-shocked veterans put in insane asylums and robbed by Fenning. At his own expense Blanton spent several years investigating the inequities and injustices carried on in the Bureau by Maj. William Wolff Smith, general counsel, and conducted the trial of Major Smith before the Committee on Military Affairs, forcing Smith to resign, and to return to the Government money he had unlawfully collected.

I mention the above to show that you are in error when you say that Blanton "has had a change of heart." Thousands of veterans scattered in every part of the United States have appealed to Blanton, and he has never yet turned one of them down. Blanton is helping now a committee that is conferring with the President to remedy injustices, and he is a personal friend of mine, and of Patman, Rankin, Browning, Jeffers, Mrs. Rogers, and others here who handle veterans' affairs.

Very sincerely yours,
WILLIAM P. CONNERY

The Speaker's Rooms,
House of Representatives, United States,
Washington, D. C., April 15, 1933.

Hon. Thomas L. Blanton,
House of Representatives.

Dear Tom: Congress has been running at a very high rate of speed. I am warned by the House physician that a number of members are overtaxing themselves.

"I have been watching you and your work. You are overworking. You are rendering a splendid service. I know of no one who works harder than you. For the next few weeks there will not be so many important measures coming up, so I suggest that toward the end of the month you take a rest. I sincerely hope that you will accept this suggestion in the spirit in which it is intended.

Very truly yours,
Henry T. Rainey,
Office of the Majority Leader,
House of Representatives, United States,
Washington, D. C., June 5, 1934.

Hon. Thomas L. Blanton,
House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

My Dear Tom: As we approach the close of the session, I do not wish to fail to express my deep appreciation for your kindness and valuable support.

In this connection, may I say that during all my long service I have never served with a Member who was more diligent in his effort to render real service to the people, not only of his district but of the entire nation, and who watched appropriations and expenditures more closely than yourself. It will never be known just how much money you have saved to the people by your watchful care, your ability, as well as your close knowledge of parliamentary procedure and governmental affairs. It has enabled you to render a real and a great service.

With best wishes, I am, sincerely yours,
JO BYRNS,
House of Representatives, United States,
Committee on Appropriations,
Washington, D. C., June 17, 1933.

Hon. Thomas L. Blanton,
House Office Building.

Dear Tom: I am familiar with the splendid record you have made in Congress and as a member of the Appropriations Committee for economy, and I wish to join with our Democratic majority leader, Hon. Jo Byrns; Democratic Chairman Cannon, of the subcommittee; and Hon. John Bovlan, of New York, in their commendation of your services.

You will recall that just before the Republican administration expired, on March 3, 1933, the District appropriation bill was pending in conference and you refused to sign the conference report because you thought the amount carried in the bill constituted too great a burden upon the taxpayers of the Nation. The night before Congress adjourned you led the fight against this bill and succeeded in defeating the approval of the conference report. Your act in that fight has been vindicated by the President and by the Democratic Congress, who reduced the Budget and this appropriation bill in accord with your contentions, thus saving over $5,000,000 in this bill alone.

I am not unmindful of the fact that you and I have never agreed upon prohibition, that you are a pro and I am an anti, but this question should be relegated to second place when it comes in conflict of the crying need of reduction and retrenchment of the enormous expenditures of our Federal Government.

I commend you for your many accomplishments and your great energy in the interest of economy.
Your friend,
JAMES P. BUCHANAN,
Chairman Committee on Appropriations.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, United States,
Committee on World War Veterans' Legislation,
Washington, D. C., June 25, 1933.

Hon. Thomas L. Blanton,
House Office Building.

Dear Tom: When you go home, I want you to tell those ex-service men for me that they will make a serious mistake if they turn against you after all you have done for them, and especially will do themselves an injury if they help to deprive themselves of the benefit of your services in the future.

Assuring you of my very kindest regards and best wishes at all times, I remain,
Sincerely your friend,
J. E. RANKIN,
Chairman of Committee.

From Postmaster General James A. Farley:
Democratic National Committee,
Washington, D. C., June 16, 1933

Hon. Thomas L. Blanton,
House Office Building.

My Dear Congressman: I want you to know that I greatly appreciate the support you gave the administration during the session just closed. I feel certain the people of the country generally realize that more beneficial legislation was passed at this session of Congress than ever before in the Nation's history.

For the part you played in these remarkable accomplishments I want you to know that I am personally grateful.
With best wishes, I am sincerely,
JAMES A. FARLEY, Chairman.

United States House of Representatives
Washington, D. C., May 27, 1934.

Hon. Thomas L. Blanton,
House of Representatives.

My Dear Mr. Blanton: I realize you hardly know me, as my first service in Congress began last December, when I succeeded Judge Crisp as Representative from the Third District of Georgia.

I have carefully considered and critically analyzed all proposed legislation and listened attentively to practically every argument and colloquy occurring in the House since my entry into Congress, and it is my candid opinion that your untiring efforts in behalf of economy during this period of our greatest distress deserves grateful recognition by the Nation and the plaudits of our people.

May you live long to continue the splendid service which so few are disposed or capable of rendering.
Very truly yours,
B. T. CASTELLOW

The Cavalryman and His Horse

By ROY D. HORN
5th Cavalry, U. S. Army
Fort Clark, Texas
The 5th Cavalry is gradually motorized. Headquarters troop will receive some 30 or more armored motor cars by the close of the fiscal year, July 1, 1934. These transports will be fully equipped with radio sending and receiving sets, machine guns and other modern motor transport fighting equipment. Each truck will be in charge of a non-commissioned officer and carry from 12 to 16 men and their equipment.

The radio sets are of the latest approved government type. They are constructed so as to enable the operator to receive and send while the vehicle is en route. The line troops will be later motorized and adjusted to the motor trucks as time will enable appropriations to be made and the trucks constructed. It is generally conceded by high army officials that the cavalry branch of the U. S. Army would be out of date and practically useless in present methods of modern warfare. Motorization to some extent has been hampered by cavalry officers, especially the officials of the old school. They couldn't conceive of the idea of giving up their horse.

The cavalry horse is doomed and will soon become obsolete. But it occurs to the writer, that there will be a vacant spot in the cavalry—an endearing part gone—only a fond memory, with the passing of the horse. No more will the cavalryman hear the bugle call 'boots and saddles,' and no more will he read on the detail, 'Pvt. Jones, stable police today—an empty stall, a never-to-be-forgotten affection, which all good cavalrymen hold for their mount.

'The best friend a cavalryman has may turn against him and become his enemy. The son or daughter whom he has reared with love and care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to him and those whom he may trust with his happiness and his good name may become traitors to his faith. The rank that he holds he may lose, it may fly away from him.

The people who are prone to fall upon his knees and do him honor when he returns from the wars and battle fields may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon his head. The one absolutely unselfish friend a cavalryman has in this selfish world, the one that never proves ungrateful or treacherous is his horse.

A cavalryman's horse stands by him in prosperity and poverty, in peace and in war, in health and sickness. He will carry him over the rough ground in sunshine or in rain, in sandstorm and blizzard; he will stand by him amid shot and shell. When all other friends desert, he remains. He is constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens. He will remain through victory or defeat and, when the last scene of all comes and death takes the cavalryman in its embrace and his body lies beneath the silent sod under the resounding blast of the final taps, the noble horse, shrouded in a raiment of black and carrying the revered boots of his beloved master, mourns with the note of sincerity only to God, cavalryman, and horse—his head high with an alert watchfulness and true even unto death.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER CHURCH
Sunday, June 24, will be the fifth Sunday after Pentecost, and the epistle read is taken from the First Epistle of St. Peter, 3:8-15, the Gospel is from St. Matthew 5:20-24. Sunday is also the Feast of St. John the Baptist, and the epistle and Gospel read in the mass of St. John is taken from chapter 49 of Isaiah and St. Luke 1:57-68. The feast day of the saints is kept on the day of their death, which is their eternal birthday. St. John is an exception. His feast is kept on the day of his birth—June 24, because there is a belief that he was sanctified in his mother's womb. Mass on Sunday will be at 9 a. m., by Rev. J. Fernandez.

Now that Father's Day is over, it will be Mother's Day the rest of the year.

LUBRICATING and WASHING EXPERT

MEN Risked their lives, STAKED THEIR FORTUNES SMASHED WORLD RECORDS FOR Your Safety!

THE NEW Firestone HIGH SPEED TIRE FOR 1934 Gives You

- WIDER TREAD OF FLATTER CONTOUR
- MORE TOUGHER RUBBER
- GUM-DIPPED HIGH STRETCH CORDS
- DEEPER NON-SKID
- MORE THAN 50% LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE

SAFEST TIRE FIRESTONE EVER BUILT

THE New Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 was built to give you the same dependable service it provided for the 33 drivers who started in the torturous 500-mile grind at Indianapolis May 30.

This new tire has a wider tread of flatter contour, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Besides being Safety Protected on the outside it is Safety Protected on the inside. Eight additional pounds of pure rubber are absorbed by every one hundred pounds of cords.

This additional rubber is so placed that it surrounds every cotton fiber inside every cord in every ply. This is accomplished by soaking the cords in liquid rubber by a Firestone patented process. This patented process, Gum-Dipping, is not used in any other tire built.

Heat caused by internal friction of cotton fibers destroys tires—causes separation and blowouts.

Gum-Dipping counteracts friction and heat—provides greater adhesion and binds the cotton and rubber together into one cohesive unit of greater strength, assuring car owners of the greatest Safety, Protection and Economy that it is possible for human ingenuity to build into a tire.

The most amazing proof of this extra strength, safety and dependability is the fact that everyone of the 33 drivers at Indianapolis chose and bought Firestone High Speed Tires. Race drivers KNOW tire construction—they will not risk their lives or chance of victory on any other than Firestone.

When the gruelling race started, motors roared, crowds cheered, speeds increased to 105 miles an hour—yes, to 150 miles on the straightaways.

At these terrific speeds the cars plunge into the treacherous turns—tires are braced against the scorching brick track—so hot the tires fairly smoke at times—they give—yield and stretch—every conceivable force works to tear the tire to pieces, yet Firestone High Speed Tires "come back" on the straightaways. Not once during the entire race did a tire fail—not one of the 132 tires on the cars gave way to endanger the lives of the drivers.

Surely this is the most amazing proof ever known of Extra Strength, SAFETY and dependability. Call on the Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store nearest you TODAY. Equip your car with New Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934.

Protect yourself and family with this Extra Safety. Choose the tires that Champions Buy!

MAKE THIS TEST YOURSELF

Note how the rubber in a Firestone Tire clings to the high stretch Gum-Dipped cords. This greater adhesion and strength is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, which saturates and insulates every fiber with live, liquid rubber.

Note how rubber pulls away from cords not Gum-Dipped. Regardless of number of cord plies in tires not built with Gum-Dipped cords, friction develops intense heat, separating plies—often causing blowouts. Firestone Tires are protected by Gum-Dipping.

Your Firestone Dealer is prepared to let you make, for yourself, the amazing test illustrated above.

Announcing Twelve Months Guarantee Against All Road Hazards

FILM FEATURES RADIO'S NITWITS AND LOMBARDO

Making his initial screen appearance in Paramount's "Many Happy Returns," Guy Lombardo, with his Royal Canadians, is featured with the famous nut comics with whom he has shared his recent radio broadcasts, George Burns and Gracie Allen. The picture comes on Sunday to the Lyric theatre.

George Barbier, Joan Marsh, Ray Milland and Franklin Pangborn appear in the supporting cast of this picture, which Norman McLeod directed.

The story opens with George Barbier's return from Europe to find a wrecking crew tearing down his great department store. His daughter, Gracie Allen, has ordered it destroyed so she can build a bird sanctuary. In despair he has her psycho-analyzed but she drives the psycho-analyst crazy. Barbier offers George Burns, radio announcer for Guy Lombardo's orchestra, money to marry her and take her away.

The couple set out for Hollywood on the same train with Gracie's young sister who is intent on entering movies. Kidnapers abduct her sister, and, in the mix-up, Burns and Allen get into the movies.

Now that the Hitler-Mussolini conference is over, perhaps the rest of the nations will be able to discover what their destiny is to be.

That wandering Japanese diplomat who nearly started another war with China fortunately was found. But there still are many diplomats loose in Europe.

SMASHES SPEEDWAY RACE RECORD!

—and then he smoked a Camel!

BILL CUMMINGS FOUGHT OFF a fast field of daring drivers for over 4 1/2 exhausting hours of nerve-racking, record-breaking speed to take the 500-mile classic at the Indianapolis Speedway. Press wires flashed: "Cummings, after stretching himself, first requested a cigarette." It was a Camel! For Bill is a Camel smoker of 12 years' standing, and knows that smoking a Camel gives you a quick "snap-back" in energy!

TRY THIS EXPERIENCE in increasing energy quickly when worn out!

If you have ever tried to clock 300 or 400 miles in one day's drive you can imagine the terrific output of energy a racing driver crowds into "the 500" at Indianapolis. As Bill Cummings said himself after the race: "For 200 grueling laps... I had to average 104.863 miles an hour, the new world's record for 'the 500'... sometimes hitting it up to over 2 miles a minute... to win. 4 hours and 46 minutes of this wrings the vitality out of a man. I felt pretty well played out at the end of the race. My mechanic and I turned to Camels for the first luxurious smoke that always chases that tired feeling away. Any time I'm 'all in' I know that Camels will give me a 'lift' in energy. I smoke them steadily, too, because I know that Camels will never jangle healthy nerves."

This "energizing effect" in Camels, long recognized by Camel smokers, has recently been studied and confirmed by a famous research laboratory in New York. It is harmless, refreshing. You'll like Camels—a matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. You can "get a lift with a Camel" as often as you wish. Camels never get on your nerves, no matter how many you smoke.

CAMEL'S Costlier Tobaccos never get on your Nerves

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand. "Get a LIFT with a Camel"
