Apple Growing Near Eastland Proves Opportunity Example

RELIEF PROJECT FILED BY COLLIE

New Mexico, California or Colorado from a nearby standpoint have nothing on the Eastland community when it comes to cultivating apples. Within a radius of 15 miles in any direction of Eastland the trees are loaded to the ground and most all varieties are represented. The fruit this year is smaller than usual due to the long dry spell, but nevertheless promising for an unusual crop. From information gathered it takes about four years before a tree will begin to bear. A visit to the farm of G. W. Fisher, four miles north of Eastland in the Morton Valley community is an eye-opener as to what can really be done and expected from the result of planting apple trees. Mr. Fisher stated that he had two trees that were fruiting for the first time. They were loaded. All trees are in good healthy and hardy condition. His orchard also is represented by practically all varieties of peaches and other fruit.

This section has been for several years known to have possibilities for fruit growing. The soil and usually the climate is well adapted. The main thing involved is to have a ready market when the season opens. This is a job of course for the citizenship with the leadership of the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations to solve. There are wonderful opportunities in this field. People who live in this community can well spare the time to visit the different fruit orchards in this section and study the methods used in cultivation. Every grower will be glad to show people what has and can be done.

Eastland National Bank—More Dividends and How to Make Them Possible!

(An Editorial)

Through the efforts of the Committee representing the depositors of the Texas State Bank now in liquidation, acting with the full cooperation of the commissioner of banking of this state, Mr. E. C. Brand, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Eastland can assure for itself a new National Bank which should be able to commence business not later than October 1, 1934.

The Comptroller of the Currency has already approved an application to organize the bank.

In connection with such organization and as a part of the plan, the Commissioner of Banking has applied for a loan upon the remaining assets of the Texas State Bank and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has agreed to make such a loan. The proceeds of this loan as well as cash on hand will be distributed to depositors when the plan is finally made effective.

In addition the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has agreed to purchase preferred stock in the new bank to the extent of $25,000.00.

The willingness of the Community as well as outsiders interested in the community to support a new bank, is reflected in the number of Powers' of Attorney given by the depositors to the committee, Messrs P. L. Parker, J. A. Beard and Jess Williams.

Due to circumstances over which the committee had no control the proceeds of the loan by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation could not be made available by Sept. 1st. As the Powers of Attorney expire on the above date the Commissioner of Banking is without authority to pay the Committee dividends of depositors ORIGINALLY executing such powers.

The commitment of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is such as will give depositors sufficient time to extend the powers originally given. In addition the Commissioner of Banking has granted an extension to the committee.

As a result it can be definitely stated that if depositors who signed the original powers of attorney will extend the authority therein granted to the committee for an additional 60 days, Eastland can be assured that within that time and in all probability not later than October 1, it can again enjoy the banking facilities to which it is entitled.

The Committee has requested that full publicity be given that all depositors originally executing Powers of Attorney to immediately call by the Texas State Bank building and endorse an extension on the Powers of Attorney hereto given, it is urgent and important to save them. The terms of this extension will be as follows: "The Powers herein conferred are extended 60 days from September 1st, 1934" followed by signatures exactly as on original Powers of Attorney.

With the full cooperation of depositors as originally given the committee feels that the bank should be an assured fact. Otherwise plans for a new bank have failed as well as the additional dividend that will have been received.

Not a single depositor should fail to fully cooperate in this instance and should do it without any delay. Nothing has been left undone by the Committee and now that they have placed a bank in our lap through their efforts as well as an extra dividend none should fail them nor their community. Had the Powers of Attorney read October 1st instead of September 1st, all this extra effort and work on their part would be unnecessary. But now that the big thing has to be done, the thing to do is get behind it and have your extension endorsement properly and LET'S GO!

John Garrison, elected captain of the Eastland Mavericks this week, will lead Eastland Mavericks in their game with San Angelo, their first game, Saturday night, Sept. 22.

The Bobcats were defeated time and time again by the Mavericks before the district was split up and Maverick forces are working their utmost to bring the team up in shape for their first engagement.

Bus transportation will be used by the Mavericks in journeying to Angelo, P. B. Bittle has announced.

The squad as a whole will be a light outfit, and should be shifty. D. Tully tips the scales at 176, one of the heavier of the group.

Team managers Marshall Coleman, Wendell Siebert and R. L. Perkins, Jr., declare that the squad will be run through defensive training to the nth degree by Petty.

Passers of the Mavericks who are the more skillful are John Garrison and Tully. Tully is claimed as an ace at passing, accuracy his chief virtue in the art.

Farmers Should Bale Everything Experts Declare

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. — That farmers would find it profitable to meet the shortage of feed stuffs this fall by "baling everything that won't choke the baler" and "covering Texas with winter grazing crops," was the opinion expressed by representatives of the Texas A&M College teaching staff, Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Extension Service in conference here this week. The conference was called to consider ways in which these agencies can best serve the state in the present drought-made feed emergency.

The desire to see fifteen million acres of Texas land planted to grazing crops as soon as rain falls was expressed by H. H. Williamson, vice director and state agent of the Extension Service. He also spoke of wild hay going to waste in bottom lands and coastal prairies, and the possibility of enlisting relief agencies to make that a relief project.

A committee appointed to outline a plan of immediate activity on the feed shortage problem, allocated the work as follows: Conservation, utilization and evaluation of existing fields, and feeds standing in the fields, C. N. Shepherd, head of the college dairy husbandry department; the use of cotton plants, and cotton burs with supplement, Dr. G. S. Fraps.

Rug Made By Great, Great Grandmother

A knitted rug is not news when its made by a young or a middle-aged woman, but it should break into headlines when it is completed by a woman who now is in her 102nd year.

Such a rug was yesterday given to little Marion Faye Crossley, year and a half old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Crossley of Ranger, who on her mother's side of the family, is the great-great-granddaughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Curry of Weatherford.

Mrs. Curry on Aug. 19, at Buffalo Gap, celebrated her 101st birthday, which celebration was attended by a large number of her descendants.

The rug, as large as a good-sized throw rug, was knitted after Mrs. Curry was 100 years old. The colors are all perfectly blended and the handiwork shows the craftsmanship of one who early in life was taught to sew a fine seam, and whose fingers have not forgotten their cunning.

Mrs. Curry lived for over a half century in Stephens county.

'Two-Papa Son' Lost by Mother

Farm Properties Benefit By Act

Benefits of the National Housing Act with respect to property improvement, apply to both farm and rural properties and city homes and buildings, it is pointed out by James A. Moffett, Federal Housing Administrator.

Success of the Modernization Program is believed by Mr. Moffett to depend fully as much upon the response and cooperation of the farmer and citizen of the small community as upon those who live in metropolitan areas.

Farmers Need Repairs
At least, the need on the farm for repairs, alterations and improvements is as great as in the city, as indicated by a current Farm Housing Survey of the Department of Agriculture.

Preliminary figures of this survey indicate that out of every 100 farm houses, probably 50 are under the minimum standard of livability; that 15 out of each hundred houses need new foundations, 15 to 20 need new roofs, 10 to 15 need new floors, 10 need new walls and a large number lack bath facilities.

Through the Modernization Program of the Federal Housing Administration, now getting under way, the United States Government offers the farmer as well as the city dweller the means of bringing his home up to modern American living standards, and also of improving his barns and other buildings, through the regular banks and other lending agencies of his community.

In the drought-stricken States many farmers will be helped in deepening wells or digging new wells.

No Money Given Away
No money is given away and the borrower does not deal directly with the Federal Housing Administration. But the money is made available as "character loans" through regular established lending agencies. The Federal Housing Administration insures the lending institution against 100 percent of all loss, provided the total of such loss does not exceed 20 percent of the total volume of such credits advanced.

Property owners who receive an income in form of proceeds from the sale of agricultural crops or live-stock may pay the installments corresponding to the dates on which they receive their income, provided they make payments at least once a year to meet the interest and reduce the principal.

Any approved bank, trust company, building and loan association, farm credit institution or other lending agency has all the necessary information for the person seeking a Modernization Loan.

Rock Pile For Booze Spenders

AUSTIN, Sept. 4.—State Relief Director Adam R. Johnson today recommended the sledge hammer and rock pile for men on relief rolls who spend money given them by the Texas relief commission for liquor instead of providing food and clothing for their families.

"We have received complaints from all of the larger cities that a large percentage of the drunks picked up from the streets are relief roll clients," Johnson said.

"I don't believe these men have a right to spend their money that way when they have families at home who are in need of food and clothing. Besides, they owe a debt to society for having provided them with means of sustenance."

"Cities and counties could stop many such cases by establishing a bull pen, handing sledge hammers to these lawbreakers and letting them work out their fines at 50 cents a day on short rations."

These conditions are prevalent in the larger cities, which have had no alternative but to let arrested relief clients go free, Johnson said he favored checking the police blotters against the relief rolls every day and forcing relief client offenders to pay their fines in hard labor.

"We have every sympathy for families of these offenders," Johnson said, "and we will continue to take care of them if the cities and counties will take care of the drunks."

N. Y. Store Gives Up Profits for One Year

NEW YORK.—The Hearn Department Store in Fourteenth St. will operate on the basis of no dividend or salary to its owner-management for the next year, it was announced by Maurice Levin, president of the company.

"During the year coming," Mr. Levin said, "Hearn's will call off all dividends on its presently profitable business and turn back profits into lower prices. It is felt that the plan will enable people to buy more of the things they need, stimulate trade, and provide more employment."

Mr. Levin added that the plan had been presented to Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA Administrator; former Gov. Alfred E. Smith; and Mayor LaGuardia, and had received their endorsement.

"When I was in Washington, I called upon General Johnson and branched the plan to him. I recalled to him that he had previously requested in an address before the retailers of the country: 'For God's sake, keep prices down.' He approved the plan enthusiastically and declared he was wholeheartedly with us."

"I have discussed the plan with a number of other public leaders. I have found them pretty unanimously of the opinion that it would be a good thing for American industry to forget about dividends for a year and turn its efforts to building business instead."

Fokker Sees Little Good In Air Race

AMSTERDAM. — Commercial aviation and the aircraft industry in general derive no real benefits from such contests as the London-Melbourne air race scheduled for October, according to Anthony Fokker, the Dutch airplane designer and manufacturer.

In an interview Fokker said: "It is true that such flights as those of Charles A. Lindbergh or Admiral Richard E. Byrd, have acted as a kind of eye-opener and by their sensational nature have helped to make the public 'air-conscious.' Apart from this, these exploits are of very little direct interest. Their advertising value is not in proportion to the expense and risk involved."

Uninterested in Race
Fokker declared that he was not particularly interested in the London-Melbourne race from the point of view of an airplane manufacturer.

"I am quite certain," he said, "that many other manufacturers share my opinion in this respect."

Two of Fokker's machines, a 32-seater Fokker passenger plane and a Douglas machine, have been entered for the air marathon by the Royal Dutch Air Lines. He expressed some doubt as to whether the machines entered by the Royal Dutch Air Lines actually would compete.

Part of Regular Route
"The Royal Dutch Air Lines' regular route covers a large part of the London-Melbourne race," he continued, "and from this point of view they may be in a specially favorable position owing to the experience of their personnel. But I am not convinced that any of their machines actually will start."

"It is the mileage flown by machines on regular air routes year in and year out which builds up a lasting reputation for them. The reputation of air lines is founded on safety and on their economic results."

The textile strike had little influence on the market. It seemed to be suffering from the lack of important buyers.

Consumption Of Lumber Was Low In Year 1932

WASHINGTON—The estimated consumption of lumber in the United States in 1932 decreased to a new low point unprecedented since 1869, the forest service, U. S. department of agriculture, reports.

"There is reason to believe, however," it was stated, "that this low point marked the bottom of the depression curve in the lumber industry, as the preliminary figures for 1933 show an increase in production of approximately 30 per cent over 1932."

The forest service's latest biennial study of lumber distribution and consumption, just completed with the co-operation of the U. S. census bureau and the dominion bureau of statistics of Canada, showed an apparent U. S. consumption of lumber for 1932 totaling 11,677,624 M feet, board measure. This compares with a total consumption of 23,342,708 M feet for 1930 and of 35,380,901 M feet for 1928. Of the total lumber accounted for more than nine billion feet, and hardwoods for a little less than two billion.

Per capita consumption in 1932 dropped to 94 board feet, as compared with 190 feet in 1930 and 295 in 1928.

The forest service analysis showed that 30 states had to depend on outside sources for the greater part of their lumber. Many of these states, however, have considerable areas of forest lands capable of producing a larger share of the local timber requirements under an adequate program for rehabilitation and protection of the areas.

Among the forested states which obtained the greater part of their lumber requirements from outside their own borders were Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Virginia, and Wisconsin. Several of these states were at one time leading lumber producing states of the country. New York cut more than a billion feet at its peak and Michigan cut more than five billion.

California showed the largest total consumption, 1,457,010 M board feet, followed by New York with 1,047,748 M feet. Highest per capita consumption rates were in Oregon and Washington, with

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

Do you know how to get a good dinner in thirty minutes? If you don't, now is the moment to learn. Ordinarily, dishes that can be cooked on top of the stove or broiled in the broiler are the quickest to prepare. However, any concoction that can be made while the oven is heating and baked in individual molds demands less attention than foods cooked over a hot fire.

At first thought, chops and steaks seem to be the only quick cooking meats, but a little concentration on the meat question reveals a fairly wide variety. Liver, duck sausages, pork tenderloin, beef tenderloin, broiled hamsteak, thinly sliced veal and the smoked pork products that can be broiled all can be quickly prepared.

Fish Also Available

The way fish is packed and shipped nowadays makes it possible to cook it with practically no preliminary preparations. Oysters are a standby for last-minute dinners. In stew, scalloped, creamed on toast, en brochette, baked with bread and mushrooms, or done in oysters in blankets—oysters are delicious and with the exception of the macaroni mixture may be prepared and cooked in thirty minutes or less.

Small fish, fish steaks and fillets of fish may be baked, pan fried or deep-fat fried, pan-broiled or broiled in a broiler in the minimum of time.

First courses for quick dinners are easy. Soups need only reheating and seasoning. Vegetable juice cocktails come in bottles ready to be served. Only remember to put the bottle in the refrigerator in the morning to insure a well-chilled cocktail. Halves of grapefruit and fruit cups make good appetizers, too, and take little time. Chill the fruit all day in the icebox, though, to save frantic last minute efforts.

What to Avoid

Easy-to-prepare vegetables are essential for the quick dinner—or you may use canned ones. Cauliflower, brussels sprouts and broccoli, which must be soaked in salt water for thirty minutes before cooking, do not lend themselves to hurry-up meals, but celery, tomatoes and carrots that can be used without cooking are a boon to the business woman who cooks.

Salads are not difficult, although their choice is rather limited for last minute preparation. Lettuce, endive (both French and curly), romaine, Chinese cabbage and plain cabbage can be used alone with a variety of dressings or as the base for fruit and vegetable salads.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Cubed fresh pineapple, cereal, cream, crisp broiled bacon, raisin muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Tomato bouillon, salad of fresh fruits in halves of cantaloupe, rolled cheese sandwiches, toasted milk, tea.

DINNER: Veal birds with brown sauce, scalloped macaroni and tomatoes, baked corn, celery hearts and carrot sticks with home-made relishes, grape bavarian cream, milk, coffee.

Cattle Shipments Will Be Largest In Nation's History

WASHINGTON.—Shipments of cattle and calves from the 17 States in the western cattle area extending from North Dakota to Texas and westward during the five month August to December, will be 100 percent larger this year than last, and will be the largest ever made during those months, according to the report issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. This estimated movement this year in addition to shipments made through regular marketing channels, also covers cattle bought by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as a part of the drought relief activities of the Federal Government and shipped to commercial establishments for slaughter or to other states for feed, but does not cover cattle bought, condemned and killed or cattle turned over to small local plants for processing for local relief.

It is impossible at this time to forecast with much certainty the number of cattle and calves that will be shipped from these states by the Federal Relief Agency, partly because the total that will be bought is not yet definitely determined and partly because the proportion of those bought that will have to be condemned and killed cannot now be foreseen. On the basis of present feed conditions in the different drought states and the number and character of the cattle purchased to the middle of August and the disposition of these, it seems probable that between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 cattle and calves will be shipped by the relief agency. In addition to this number, probably between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 head will be shipped through regular channels, making a total of about 8,500,000 head, compared with about 4,200,000 head shipped during the last five months of 1931 and a five-year average shipments of about 4,500,000 head.

The feed situation in the 17 States covered by the report is the most serious ever known. With the exception of the Pacific Coast States, all or nearly all the counties in all the states have been designated as emergency drought counties, in which purchases of

Carrots and Turnips as the French Cook Them

By Ann Pryor

CARROTS and turnips, like spinach, are excellent foods, but many children and grownups, too, seem to find them hard to take. Here are two simple recipes, in the French manner, which will interest those who wish to impart new and appealing flavor to these two vegetables.

Sweetened Turnips—Scrape small turnips, or divide large ones into halves or quarters. Heat them in a saucepan with butter for about 20 minutes. When they become light brown sprinkle with one or two teaspoonsful of sugar and moisten with about two tablespoonfuls of meat stock of gravy. Cover and let them simmer for about one hour.

Creamed Carrots—Scrape small carrots and place them in boiling salted water to which three lumps of sugar have been added. Cook for about 45 minutes. Small carrots may be left whole; larger ones should be cut into round slices.

Prepare a white sauce with a lump of butter the size of a walnut, two heaping teaspoonfuls of flour and a cup of the water in which the carrots have been cooked. Drain carrots and place them in sauce. Just before serving add four table spoonfuls of cream.

If weather during the next two months should be exceptionally favorable for the production of late feed crops and improvement of winter pastures and ranges, the sales to the government agency might be smaller than now seems probable, especially in the states in the southern half of the area; on the other hand if no improvement in feed prospects occurs and if early winter is severe, purchases and shipments of cattle by the Government may 549 and 477 feet of lumber per capita consumed, respectively. A part of this high per capita consumption, however, was represented by local conversion of lumber into other products, such as cash, millwork, and boxes much of which were shipped out-of-state. Lowest rate of consumption was in Alabama and Oklahoma, both states showing a per capita consumption of only 34 board feet.

Total imports of lumber from foreign countries to the United States in 1932 amounted to 391,913 M board feet, of which 341,495 M feet came from Canada. The United States exported a total of 1,197,283 M board feet during the year. Of the exports, 955,481 M

NEXT FIRST FAMILY OF TEXAS SITS BACK AND READS CONGRATULATIONS

This happy family will live in the Texas governor's mansion after Jan. 1, and they're already enjoying the prospect, as James V. Allred and his wife read letters and telegrams of congratulation while Jimmy, Jr., looks on beside his father and even Baby David shows interest. Allred is certain to be elected Nov. 5, after winning the runoff for the Democratic nomination. He is only 34 and at present is attorney general of the Lone Star State, a bitter foe, incidentally, of the Pa and Ma Ferguson regime.

Sometimes, in an erreverent moment, it seems that the world up about that 9 to 1 lead he has still might wag on whether Doug rolled up. There's always that and Mary were reconciled or not. While everybody else is supposed to be benefiting by the new deal, how about the husband who has to exercise his wife's dog?

Prickly Pear to Be Made Into a Feed For Cattle

AUSTIN, Tex.—The wide cactus-covered expanses known to the Southwest Texas ranchmen as pear flats, may be invaded this winter by relief roll clients seeking sustenance for drouth stricken livestock. The prickly pear, rid of its small sharp stickers, is a choice bit of vegetation upon which ranchmen have been known to fatten their herds during winter for many years. Relief commission officials are considering a plan whereby an army of relief roll clients will go into the flats with pear burning machines, snipe the stickers from the plants, and make the pears safe for consumption by the hungry herds. Meanwhile officials are seeking thousands of acres of pasture for cattle in acute need, most of them in the extreme western part of the state. Federal Surplus Relief corporation has urged that up to 200,000 head of cattle be pastured but it is doubtful that sufficient acreage for that number can be found in the state, according to C. Z. Crain, head of the surplus commodities department, in charge of the cattle program. "I want it made clear," Crain said, "that the Relief Commission will not go into competition with the ranchmen in the matter of leasing land. If there is available sufficient pasturage at a price we know to be right, we will take it, but if owners begin to raise prices in anticipation of competition between the government and the private livestock owner also seeking pasturage, then we will get out of this program." Many counties have been reluctant to offer pasturage because they are in the emergency drouth classification and fear they will lose such designation if land is leased for grazing purposes within their borders. Crain explained that leasing for pastures will in no case have any bearing on the county's drouth classification. The leasing program also has been made difficult because of lack of grass in North and West Texas. Although there is some grass in South and West Texas, tick quarantine covering many counties will prevent movement of cattle into much of that area.

Bridge on Highway 89 Will Be Opened By First of October

With an unbroken stretch of fair weather, lasting for months, the work on the bridge over the Brazos River on Highway 89, the cut-off, has progressed rapidly and is nearing completion. All that remains are a number of small jobs, the building of approaches, etc. Another month will probably see the winding up of these odds and ends, and the bridge be open for traffic by October 1. Contracts for a great deal of work in the way of grading, bridges and drainage structures has been let on that part of the road beyond the river. It is expected that the road from Weatherford to the river will receive the topping treatment before very long, as the bed of the road has now thoroughly settled, and another year or so should see the completion of the entire road.—Weatherford Herald. PORTLAND, Me. — Summer homes in Maine seem likely to have a lighthouse motif. The government has put nine abandoned lighthouses on the market. Dwellings and land ranging from one to seven acres accompany each light. It seems silly to worry about this outbreak of talking sickness, when we know another wave of it is inevitable just before the November election.

Speech Translator Makes Sale While Salesman Listens

Interpreters fill a niche other than that of translating speech in foreign courts and fields of ambassadorship, one Eastland auto salesman found out to his advantage this week.

He was puzzled as to the proper procedure in contacting a Mexican to whom he thought a sale possible. He happened to think of a Spanish youth who was able in speaking both his native tongue and English. He picked him up, the pair going direct to the salesman's prospective customer.

The sale was opened by the Spanish youth who spoke more than he actually said, according to the salesman. Translation of the prospective customer's argument and the salesman's were made in alacrity by the interpreter.

Finally the sale was made. The interpreter later pocketed one dollar and the other eight. Each was satisfied.

Both the Federal and State Governments are now presenting this opportunity, but our Government alone cannot carry the worthy program to a successful conclusion without the unselfish help of the land owners.

The Rehabilitation Program as set up clearly illustrates that it is as beneficial to the land owners as to those who will be placed on the land. It affords the land owner an opportunity to improve and make productive, to a profitable extent, that of his property which is now a burden to himself and his government.

Through our rights as granted by our Government to accumulate without restriction, and our greed to concentrate for our own use, as much of the natural resources as possible, we have overlooked the fact that the people of this country are dependent upon one another for subsistence and at some time those who have been more fortunate than others will be called on in some way to assist those unfortunates. It now appears, that time is here.

Through the Rehabilitation plan the land owners are given the opportunity to retain their accumulations, enhance the values, and at the same time make the second opportunity for those less fortunate to acquire, at least, an existence from sources other than charity.

Mr. Land Owner, study the Rehabilitation plan, make use of it, its to your advantage. If you own or know of a place suitable for one or more families, contact your local Rehabilitation Supervisor.

Funeral Services for Train Victim Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Clara Smith of Odessa, who was killed Saturday morning when struck by a freight train while crossing the railroad tracks in the Odessa yards, were held Monday afternoon at the First Baptist church, Ranger. Rev. G. W. Thomas, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. H. H. Stephens, pastor of the Central Baptist church, conducted the funeral services. Interment was in the family burying plot at Merriam church yard.

The decedent was a Ranger girl. She was born in Eastland county on Jan. 10, 1915, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Tankersley. She received her entire education in the public schools of Ranger, graduating in 1932.

She joined the First Baptist about two years ago and was a happy Christian character all the days of her church membership.

On July 27, this year, she was married to Earl Smith, also formerly of Ranger, and the couple had been making their home in Odessa since that time. There Mr. Smith plays in the "Lucky Lindy" night club orchestra, and at the time of the accident he was asleep in their home across the tracks. From this sleep he was awakened Saturday morning with the shocking news that his wife had met a tragic death.

Mrs. Smith, as was her habit, had gone across the T. & P. tracks to a store to do her week-end shopping, and had been away from home about an hour. She was returning home when the accident occurred.

Immediate survivors of the accident are her husband, Earl Smith; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Tankersley, and Lawton Tankersley.

Coast Farms Would Profit On Winter Vegetables

THOMAS O. HURST, Press Staff Correspondent, SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Texas gulf farmers should grow winter vegetables to cities of the north-stricken Midwest, farmers will not be able to raise them in their own gardens, J. C. McDowell, regional agent for federal rehabilitation, said here.

Vegetables have never been raised for the gulf coast farmer for shipment, he said. "There will be a market for as much of the farmer wishes to sell," he said. He based his opinion upon a recent survey of his office of the drought far north as Canada and south as the Rio Grande.

Vegetable farmers also are favored on account of adequate transportation to get their crops to market, he added.

West farmers simply will not be able to raise winter vegetables. They are looking elsewhere for a substitute and now is the chance the gulf farmer has been waiting for.

He said the gulf coast farmer as far as Harris county and eastward have enough rainfall at present to produce winter vegetables, and there is a quick move to get in as many acres of this type of crop as possible for Northern shipping.

They firmly believe the farmers will benefit from such a move," he said. "There ought to be a campaign on immediately to enable the farmers to raise vegetables."

Highways Proving Popular In Mexico

EAGLE PASS, Tex.—Finding its program of highway promotion meeting with an enthusiastic reception among Coahuila people, the recently-formed international Traffic Commission met in called session to plan enlargement of its monthly magazine, "Coahuila."

Started with 16 pages three months ago, the magazine was increased to 24 pages for the July and August issues. The September issue will contain between 28 and 36 pages, the Commission stated.

The magazine is not sold on the news stands, but is distributed to all persons who favor the Commission's purpose of constructing a paved highway from Piedras Negras to a point south of Saltillo to connect with the Pan-American Highway. The Commission is endeavoring to concentrate State and Federal funds on the extensive project so that it can be completed in 1936, the year of the Texas Centennial Celebration. The Celebration is expected to attract thousands of visitors to Texas, many of whom will go on to Mexico City over the Pan-American highway.

Already some four hundred laborers are at work along the 232-mile route, widening the right of way and laying gravel. This work will be speeded in 1935 by an appropriation of 800,000 pesos that the Federal government has promised the state of Coahuila. Additional funds from an 8 centavos gasoline tax and from a 2 per cent import tax are expected to go far toward financing the state's road-building campaign.

The International Highway Commission was organized in June of this year by the Eagle Pass and Chambers of Commerce. "A paved highway by 1936," is the slogan it is sounding in extending its organization to include six other towns along the route, besides Saltillo. They are Morelos, Alameda, Muzquiz, Monclova, Sabinas and Rosita.

The magazine published by the Commission serves to inform the towns of progress being made in Coahuila highway construction. Also, it contains articles of interest to tourists, describing the places of scenic beauty, exhibiting maps of the state, and detailing changes in hunting and fishing regulations. The Commission maintains its headquarters in the Piedras Negras Chamber of Commerce.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

Diversification Makes Farm Pay

SCHULENBERG, Tex.—Diversified farming is expected to feed a family of 10 and pay off the farm mortgage on the farm of Henry J. Petrash, two miles south of here.

Petrash bought 108 acres at the high 1924 prices—$185 an acre—and when the cotton, peanuts, potatoes and truck is market this fall he expects to call the farm his own.

Diversification, excluding only ducks and geese which Petrash said, aren't worth their keep, is the rule on his farm.

"I believe I have a little of everything," he said. He pointed to his truck patch which four of his eight children were clearing of spring plants and vines that had ceased to produce.

Petrash has 12 milch cows, and a drove of Duroc hogs on the farm.

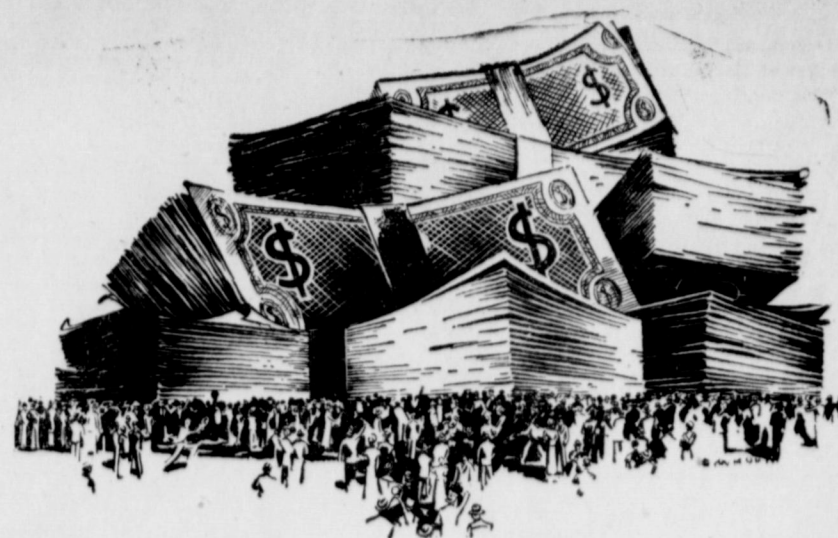

Six of his children assist in picking 24 acres of cotton. Already six bales have been ginned from the acreage.

Two acres of peanuts are growing well despite the drought. Petrash claimed that his system of changing the crops to a different acreage every year has made the crops on his farm good despite the drought. He explained he has 30 acres of corn that will give him half a crop while most corn fields have burned to the ground in the dry weather.

Petrash has 325 peach trees in his orchard but there are also pear plum apple and other fruit trees including berries.

There is not a rooster in a flock of 350 hens that supply infertile eggs to buyers from miles around for which now a three-cent premium is being paid.

A check-up of the Petrash farms showed besides the above mentioned crops 14 acres of he-gira, 15 acres in Sudan grass, nine pure-bred hogs, three acres for truck and garden, a dozen sheep, two teams of work stock, a pit silo for a dairy ensilage, a spacious home in a grove of trees and sufficient pasture for livestock.

Letter From The Stratosphere Seen

PHILADELPHIA.—A letter designated at "stratosphere mail" and carried aloft more than 60,000 feet in the gondola of the National Geographic Society Army Air Corps balloon, is on display in the physics section of the Franklin Institute Museum.

The document was sent to Dr. W. F. G. Swann, director of the Bartol Research Foundation of the Franklin Institute, who supervised the construction of instruments used in the stratosphere trip made recently from North Dakota.

It is signed by the three airmen, Major W. E. Kepner, pilot; Captain A. W. Stevens, scientific observer, and Captain O. A. Anderson, alternate pilot.

It was carried aloft by us in the airtight gondola attached to the largest free balloon ever built and upon our descent was dispatched to the post office nearest to our point of landing to be forwarded to you by air mail. The altitude attained on the flight, which will be determined officially by the National Bureau of Standards, also was attained by this cover.

Texas Plans Granite Markers for Missions

CROCKETT, Texas.—More than two centuries after the Spaniards began their attempt to Christianize the Indians of Texas, the State Historical society is preparing to erect granite markers on the sites of the first two missions established in Texas.

According to Dr. Alex Woldert, of Tyler, the missions were founded in 1690. Dr. Woldert said they were about 20 miles east of here. One of them, called San Francisco de los Tejas, is on the banks of the Neches river. The other is near Weches, Houston county.

Dedicatory services for the markers, which will be placed at the sites, will be held Sept. 21 by the Texas Historical and Landmarks society.

SENATE WOULD FIX AN EARLY ADJOURNMENT

AUSTIN, Sept. 4.—Texas representatives today voted down a proposal of the state senate to fix Saturday night as time for adjourning the special relief session of the legislature.

Before being killed, the senate proposal was ridiculed before the house. Representative Joe Great-house said "the senate is proposing to fix adjournment time when it hasn't even present a bill of relief, the purpose for which the session was called."

Heading the French committee was Andre Ropiteau, who was largely instrumental in raising sufficient funds for the monument. At its unveiling, a native Tahitian girl impersonated Rarahu, celebrated heroine of Loti's masterpiece, "The Marriage of Loti," which first appeared in 1880 under the title of "Rarahu." Loti died in 1923.

At last the perfect movie divorce has been found. Neither the husband nor the wife made the statement after the decree that they'd still be friends.

"BABY, TAKE A BOW" PRESENTS NEW STARLET

"Baby, Take a Bow," coming to the Lyric on Sunday, introduces five-year-old Shirley Temple in her first title role. After her overnight success in "Stand Up and Cheer!" little Shirley has become one of the outstanding personalities on the screen. She has an important part in the picture and is responsible for much of the comedy.

James Dunn and Claire Trevor, who have been teamed in three pictures, are together again in "Baby, Take a Bow," as Shirley's parents.

It's a sparkling comedy-drama that gets under way in the first few scenes and maintains a rapid tempo to the exciting finish. The story deals with the struggle for happiness and success of a young man just out of prison, a girl who marries him because she believes in him, and the result of their union, an adorable baby girl who is the pride and joy of their hearts.

Into the picture enters an escaped convict and the theft of some valuable pearls from the home of the boy's employer. Suspicion and the persecution by a self-styled detective cloud the happiness of the little family. The drama becomes tense as the criminal, passing the little flat, gives the baby the pearls to avoid being caught with the stolen property in his possession by pursuing officers.

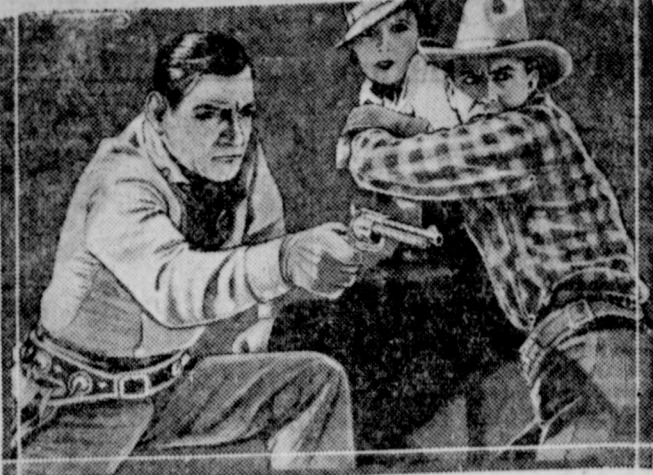

The denouement grows more exciting as the criminal returns and takes the jewels and the baby, to cover his escape.

After an exciting sequence of events, the gems are recovered, the culprit captured and Shirley is the heroine of the hour, with a goodly reward in prospect and the removal of all suspicion from her daddy.

A great deal of comedy and human interest has been injected into the scenes showing the camaraderie and affection between daddy and baby and the episode of the child's birthday party affords Shirley another opportunity to show her talents as a singing and dancing entertainer. Keen romantic interest is maintained also by James Dunn and Claire Trevor.

"THE GIRL FROM MISSOURI" VIVID PORTRAIT OF A LADY WHO WANTED MILLIONAIRE

"The Girl from Missouri," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture which opens Monday at the Lyric theatre, brings Jean Harlow back to the screen after a too-long absence in one of the most entertaining pictures to come out of Hollywood in recent months.

Miss Harlow is seen as Eadie Chapman, on the hunt for a millionaire husband, in a role that only Jean Harlow could handle.

Lionel Barrymore plays the part of T. R. Paige, a financial and political power, who tries to turn heaven and high water to prevent Eadie from marrying his son, Tom.

The son's role is taken care of by Franchot Tone, who was last seen with Miss Harlow in "Blonde Bombshell."

Lewis Stone appears briefly as Cousins, millionaire bachelor, and Hale Hamilton enacts another playboy bachelor who crosses Miss Harlow's trail.

Patsy Kelly serves admirably as a foil for Miss Harlow in her role as Kitty, Jean's showgirl pal.

The story, an original by Anita Loos and John Emerson, tells of

She first attaches herself to Cousins, but he commits suicide. She trails the elder Paige to Florida and quite by accident runs across his son, Tom. Tom is madly in love with Eadie but dodges the wedding issue.

Disillusioned, Eadie returns to New York and Tom relents and offers to marry her. But Tom's father "frames" Eadie, has her arrested—and the manner in which Eadie gets her revenge provides a series of exceedingly humorous incidents.

Jack Conway, who directed "Viva Villa!" handled the megaphone for "The Girl from Missouri" and did a noble job of it.
