ENTER THE HERO

In Paramount's "You Belong to Me," which comes Saturday to the Lyric Theatre, Lee Tracy plays the role of a genial and sympathetic second-rate vaudeville comic, but as you can see from the looks in the eyes of Helen Mack and six-year-old David Holt in the photo above, he's something of a hero to these people who love him for his true worth. Helen Morgan, Lynne Overman and Arthur Pierson appear in the supporting cast of "You Belong to Me" which was directed by Alfred Werker, director of "House of Rothschild."

BRING BING TO YOU

When Bing Crosby and Kitty Carlisle lifted their voices in melody for this scene of Paramount's "She Loves Me Not," coming Monday to the Lyric Theatre, the scene was aswarm with 23 studio workers. They were all there to assure the perfect recording of "Love in Bloom," the Ringer-Robin hit, and the two Gordon and Revel songs which are featured in this picture.

Cases to be Submitted Friday, Sept. 28.—C. Birk et al. vs. S. E. fare director, Davis S. Ingalls, was Jackson, Wichita; W. E. Cornutt vs. Clay County, Texas, Clay; L. M. Lindsey vs. Silas W. Ferguson et al., Young; N. M. Bassmer vs. F. M. Kotulek, Wichita.

INGALLS DEDICATES AIRPORT
CLEVELAND, O.—It isn't every city that has a public official who can officially christen a fly-field. But Cleveland's city welfare director, Davis S. Ingalls, was a World War ace before he was assistant secretary of navy in charge of aerobatics. From his suburban home, he flew his own plane to the city's new lake front auxiliary airport, shook hands with Mayor Harry L. Davis in the early morning mist and the port stood officially "dedicated."

Rep. Calvert Will Run For Speaker

AUSTIN, Sept. 25.—Representative Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro today began an active campaign to be elected speaker of the 44th Texas Legislature, which convenes in January.

Calvert's campaign was launched on a campaign against re-election of Speaker Coke Stevenson of Junction.

City Dads Mourned When Oil Was Struck In Water Well, But Later Rejoiced In a Paying Industry

DALLAS, Tex. — Seventy-five years since oil was found at Titusville in Pennsylvania where oilmen met last month to celebrate the industry's Diamond Jubilee. Thirty-seven years later while drilling a water well oil was struck at Corsicana, Texas. The city dads were disappointed when their water well was spoiled, for the drillers of the Southwest's first producing oil well did not dream that some day petroleum would supplant cotton as Texas' most valuable product.

Another thirty-seven years, all in the life of a middle-aged man, and that first showing of oil at Corsicana has spread out to change the destiny of a Nation. Oil is King—the Southwest leads, and in recognition of this fact the oil capital of the world moves to Texas in November for the fifteenth annual convention of the American Petroleum Institute. Five thousand oilmen from every corner of North America will gather in Dallas November 12-15. They will disperse to all parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico to visit and inspect the cities and oil fields which they know by reputation.

Today the Southwest is the greatest oil producing region in the world, giving annually over 500,000,000 barrels of its stored treasure to the people scattered over the globe. The oil alone is valued at over $400,000,000 each year, and when production costs, refining, transportation, and marketing are added to the list, the value of the states increases several times. Populations depend upon the industry for their livelihoods, for in Texas alone it is estimated that over a half million people are directly supported by it. An annual payroll in the Southwest of over $400,000,000 keeps these people with a sustained buying power. No industry, no person is untouched by the benefits.

As a taxpayer the industry stands alone as the greatest contributor to public welfare. In the Southwest something like $125,000,000 are paid each year by the industry to the local and state governments. This money has gone to build schools, roads, public buildings, and in every way contribute to the development of the region. The development of the Southwest has gone hand in hand with the industry, without whose benefits a decade might have been lost.

The oil industry claims no special place in the sun, oil leaders say. The only recognition it wants is that given to any large business that develops within a given territory. It has contributed its share toward progress as has other industries, and it asks only to be understood. When it is realized that the interest of the industry and the public is a common one the steps toward future progress become ones of mutual confidence and mutual helpfulness.

Snake Bite Not So Fatal Doctor Finds in Survey

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Snakes in the United States kill only about 10 per cent of the persons they bite, says Dr. John A. Stanfield, Fort Worth, in a recent issue of the magazine, Sports Field.

In the first place there are only four varieties of poisonous snakes in the United States, he said; the rattler, copperhead, cotton-mouth moccasin and coral snake.

The greater percentage of those persons dying of snake bite succumb because of inadequate or delayed treatment, he continued. With adequate treatment probably not more than two per cent would die.

That many snake bites do not prove fatal, he said, is due to diminished venom when the snake is feeding, miscalculation of striking distance, interposition of clothing, bites in fatty areas where there are few blood vessels, and bites in areas having little connective tissue, such as toes and fingers.

working at the gin about 10 days ago. Mrs. Clarence Jones and son, Edgar, drove over to Gorman on business Monday. W. C. Bedford drove up to Ranger on business Monday. Mrs. Rollie Acrea and little son, Randolph, who are now living near Alexander, visited Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Acrea on Sunday of last week. Mrs. I. N. Williams and Mrs. Roy Ashburn returned Saturday evening from an auto trip of two weeks during which they visited Mrs. William David, sister of Mrs. Ashburn, at Tulsa, Okla., and also a friend of Mrs. Williams there. At Palestine, Ill., they visited Mrs. Williams' parents, and at Robinson, Ill., they visited other relatives of hers. They spent a few days at the World's Fair at Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Acrea visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pritchett, at Ranger, Sunday. A special birthday dinner for Mrs. Acrea was served.

Activities of the H. Demonstration Clubs of County

Mrs. Eugenie Ford, clothing co-operator of the Romney home demonstration club adds to her wardrobe by making hats for the different dresses. These hats are made of corn shucks, the natural color and colors to match the dresses. The shucks take dye as well as material. To make the hats, she soaks the shucks in water until they are soft and pliable, cuts in strips and braids. The braids are then sewed together, fitted over a hat crown or mold to fit the head and the brim added. Large or small braids can be made, the strips cut for the small or large according to what the individual wants. When the hats are completed, hands are added or other trimming. Mrs. Ford recommends the corn shuck hats for long wear and says they are light and cool. She has made fifteen hats and sold all but three for an average of seventy-five cents each. It takes approximately twelve hours time for making a hat, this time is that she has nothing else to see to and does this work as much for recreation as for work. She has made one man's hat.

Rid Dried Fruit of Moths and Worms

Home dried fruits can be kept free of worms if the following method is followed, states Mrs. H. A. Bowers of the North Star home demonstration club. After the fruit has dried, place it in the sun, better to cover with glass, and keep for one hour or more. Experiments have shown that the heat will be as much as one hundred and ninety four degrees F. at times and it takes temperature of between 120 and 130 degrees F. to kill the insects or the eggs. Mr. R. R. Reppert, Extension Entomologist sends the following information on storing the fruit after heating the hour or more in the sun. "Immediately after the fruit may be placed in some tight wrapper of cellophane would do if all seams were carefully sealed or folded to prevent adult insects from gaining access."

Peanut Products

The Carbon Home Demonstration club exhibit at the county fair shows what can be done with peanuts. The peanuts were shown on the vine, peanut candy, peanut butter, peanut salad dressing, peanut pies (peanuts substituted for pecans) and peanut butter. The different steps in peanut butter making were shown. Mrs. Lon Medford, farm-food supply demonstrator of the Carbon club gives the following information on making and canning peanut butter. This recipe was given through the club work and tried out by the members. 2 quarts Spanish peanuts, 4 quarts Virginia peanuts, 2 ounces salt. Roast the peanuts uniformly brown. Cool, remove the red skins and tiny hearts or germs (if the germs are not removed they may impart a bitter flavor). Grind, add the salt and grind twice more so as to have the salt well distributed throughout. A good type of meat grinder is satisfactory for grinding peanuts provided the burrs are not worn. The finest burrs should be used and the machine should be set to grind the meat as fine as possible. If the butter is not fine enough, after grinding it through the machine once, it should be passed through again. Pack into small jars. It is important to fill the jars as full as possible, pressing the butter in on the bottom first and filling so as to remove air bubbles as the packing is done. Care should be taken not to leave any air space between the top of the peanut butter in the jar and the lid. The airtight or vacuum sealing process is considered the best method of sealing nuts or nut butters, in either glass or tin containers. In case a vacuum sealing device is not at hand, heat should be used in the process of sealing the jars to drive out any air which might be in the product, and to seal it so no air can enter. Sterilize twelve ounce containers for one hour at one hundred and eighty degrees F. (simmering)

Mountain Girl Mother at 11; Child's Father Only 14

A mother at 11, this mountain girl lies in Jefferson City, Tenn., hospital, with her 7 1-2 pound daughter beside her, play days and school days over. Father of the baby is a 14-year-old boy. When the mother leaves the hospital, she will return to her cabin home in the Great Smoky mountains, near Kodak, Tenn., where the grandmother says the infant will receive the best care they can give it.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PICTURES OF SILVER By BEULAH K. HICKS

Review: God In Hebrew History From Ahijah to Isaiah Micah, a strong and courageous country boy, was caught in a great political turmoil that reads very modern. When he was bidden to speak to please the king of Israel, God's love and grace and also of His wrath on His disobedient children. All of these lessons are applicable to our present time. The promises given then can also be claimed today. Though many of the scenes are dark and stormy there is a beautiful rift of color, a scarlet thread, a promise of the coming Messiah, which runs through it all, brightening it with hope. These lessons are taken from seven books: 1 Kings; 2 Kings, 2 Chronicles, Amos, Hosea, Micah and Isaiah. We are promised that the lessons next year will be taken from Isaiah through Malachi, finishing a wonderful course in old Bible study. Ahijah was a very dramatic prophet, tearing his garment into twelve pieces to teach Jeroboam the lesson of the twelve tribes. Here God promises judgment on rebellious people, but warns Jeroboam to be patient with Solomon. He would punish Solomon, "but I will make him prince all the days of his life, for David my servant's sake, whom I chose." Azaniah the next prophet appears only one time in the scriptures, "and the spirit of God came upon Azaniah, the son of Oded; and he went out to meet Asa." He gave Asa his commission and warned him, "Jehovah is with you while ye are with Him; but if you forsake Him, He will forsake you." Asa was a good king and relied upon God, reigned for forty-one years. He led the people rightly. "And they entered into the covenant to seek Jehovah, the God of their fathers, with all their heart and all their soul." Elijah brings us beautiful lessons of God's care. God sheltered Elijah by the brook Cherith where the ravens fed him. But Elijah forgot in a measure and became discouraged. God brought the storm, the earthquake, and the fire, to teach him the great lesson of the still small voice. "And after the fire a still small voice." Micah, a strong and courageous country boy, was caught in a great political turmoil that reads very modern. When he was bidden to speak to please the king of Israel, God's love and grace and also of His wrath on His disobedient children. All of these lessons are applicable to our present time. The promises given then can also be claimed today. God brought the storm, the earthquake, and the fire, to teach him the great lesson of the still small voice. "And after the fire a still small voice." Hosea preached God's love and the keynote of his pleadings were "Return to the Lord." Micah was a champion of the oppressed. "He hath showed thee, o man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God?" Hezekiah was a great king and led his people back to God. Ahaz his father, had closed the temple and erected altars to heathen gods. Isaiah was a brilliantly educated and of royal blood prophet. His prophecies are woven richly with the scarlet thread of the coming Christ. His writings are written in many styles and are beautiful and brilliant when he contrasts true and false worship and counsels the rulers of the one God. "Thou wilt keep Him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because He trusteth in thee." How much can the Lord trust His people as a nation to care for His work, in each individual to look to Him in love for peace of heart? We learn that it depends upon us if God be with us. He will not forsake us unless sin separates us from his loving care. Through the turmoil and rush of our modern life while "Time" is the cry, we can stop in some quiet place and listen for the still small voice which is not heard in strife. This still small voice can teach us the truth, give us courage to go on at all times, to love justice for all, to gain perfect peace in our hearts and at all times to realize that— Thy Kingdom is an everlasting Kingdom.—Psalm 145:14, Golden Text.

Littlefield Postal Receipts Are Up

LITTLEFIELD, Texas. — Postal receipts in Littlefield showed an increase of 51 per cent in August over the same month of 1933. Receipts at the local office for the first eight months of 1934 were 62 per cent over those of the same period last year, according to statements of Postmaster W. D. T. Storey.

Hay Pitcher Got Injuries in Tumble

WORCESTER, Mass.— Julius Golembeskie, 47, can take it. He was helping a friend pitch hay when he fell 12 feet from a ladder to the ground. Shaken, but apparently unhurt, he went home unassisted. Next day he visited a doctor and was told he had suffered: Fractures of several ribs. Fractured right wrist. Possible fracture of right leg. Internal injuries.

Bilious Attacks

For bilious attacks due to constipation, thousands of men and women take Theford's Black-Draught because it is purely vegetable and brings prompt, refreshing relief. "I have used Black-Draught," writes Mr. T. L. Austin, of McAdenville, N. C. "There is a package of it on my mantel now. I take it for biliousness. If I did not take it, the dullness and headache would put me out of business. It is the quickest medicine to relieve me that I know." Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT Purely Vegetable Laxative "CHILDREN LIKE THE SYRUP"

A Pledge For Patriotic Texans. A hundred years of freedom and progress is to be celebrated in 1936. Our progress as a State has been phenomenal. It is a source of pride to the Nation. Texans, true and unafraid, pledge themselves to the unparalleled success of their State's hundredth anniversary. "Men of thought, be up and stirring." Put this purpose before you. Let every Texan burn the Centennial pledge into his heart: Pledge I will think—talk—write... Texas Centennial in 1936! This is to be my celebration. In its achievement I may give free play to my patriotic love for Texas' heroic past; my confidence in its glories that are to be... Texas Centennial Commission Publicity Committee. Corn-Hog Program Exceeds 78 Million

WASHINGTON—Producers cooperating in the corn-hog program were paid more than two and a quarter million dollars a day on their adjustment contracts during the last week, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration announced today.

A preliminary report shows that up to Sept 14, payments totaled slightly in excess of $78,500,000. This amount represents nearly 60 per cent of the total first installment of approximately $133,000,000 now being paid to farmers participating in the 1934 corn-hog adjustment program. Thus far checks have been mailed to over 800,000 contract signers in 39 states. Approximately 1,200,000 corn-hog contracts were signed by farmers.

From Sept. 8 to Sept. 14, inclusive, corn-hog adjustment payments approximated $15,867,259, the preliminary report shows. In one day, Sept. 12, checks totaling over $3,700,000 were mailed to more than 38,500 producers.

Up to Sept. 14 a total of 829,641 contracts had been received and release for payment by the rental benefit audit section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Of this total number, 129,516 were early payment contracts received from 514 counties, and 700,125 were of the regular payment type approved for payment in 1,619 counties.

The 829,641 contracts received and released for payment up to Sept. 14, represent about 70 per cent of the total of approximately 1,200,000 contracts signed by corn-hog producers in the 1934 program.

Payments up to Sept. 13 were made to producers in 39 states as follows: Alabama, $183,604.90; Arizona, $17,168.00; Arkansas, $301,156.30; California, $709,160.60; Colorado, $138,178.46; Connecticut, $2,001.75; Delaware, $12,883.85; Florida, $117,257.15; Georgia, $63,526.95; Idaho, $34,819.10; Illinois, $3,107,859.05; Indiana, $6,427,190.80; Iowa, $20,541.32; Kansas, $4,404,335.00; Maryland, $119,290.60; Massachusetts, $160,678.60; Michigan, $153,849.45; Minnesota, $5,072,151.55; Missouri, $7,771,464.03; Montana, $86,513.65; Nebraska, $7,177,712.80; Nevada, $25,079.95; New Hampshire, $1,468.00; New Mexico, $83,342.10; New York, $5,217.80; North Carolina, $26,398.60; North Dakota, $259,331.65; Ohio, $6,862,953.80; Oklahoma, $245,239.65; South Carolina, $152.50; South Dakota, $4,198,942.00; Tennessee, $151,386.80; Texas, $743,210.55; Utah, $61,801.85; Vermont, $3,698.00; Virginia, $610,132.70; Washington, $285,193.40; West Virginia, $69,816.00; Wisconsin, $2,330,863.05.

AGRICULTURAL BREVITIES

Texas farmers received $11,562,394 in 1934 AAA cotton reduction payments to Aug. 16, or approximately 33 per cent of the $38,114,245 paid out in the entire cotton belt to that date, according to official announcement by agricultural adjustment administration officials. These payments comprise the bulk of $50,000,000 first rental installment to be paid cotton growers, of which Texas farmers will receive about $14,000,000. Another payment is due to be paid co-operating producers in September, when proof of compliance with the AAA program is established, and a final parity payment of $25,000,000 to all states affected is due after Dec. 1.

The Texas cotton crop for 1934 is estimated at 48 per cent of normal, or an average indicated yield for the state of 108 pounds per acre, according to the bureau of agricultural economics. The estimated yield of approximately 2,382,000 bales will be the smallest crop since 1921. Because of the drouth, boll weevil infestation is reported to be lower than average this year.

Cotton prices continue strong in the United States despite marked restriction in domestic cotton consumption, somewhat unfavorable demand conditions in Europe, continued small domestic sales of cotton goods, and reports of increased acreage and production of cotton in foreign countries, according to the bureau of agricultural economics. The strong market is attributed to reduced cotton acreage in the United States and unfavorable weather conditions, especially in Texas and Oklahoma.

The world wool industry has dropped from the peaks of a year ago. Prices have weakened in foreign markets as a result of uncertain conditions in European consuming countries, and direct sales of Texas wool have been reported recently at 8 to 10 cents a pound (secured basis) below spot quotations on similar wool held at Boston, says the bureau of agricultural economics, reporting currently on the situation.

Sharp decrease in the Texas lamb crop was offset by larger lamb crops in the 11 far western states, according to bureau of agricultural economics reports. The drouth is blamed for the short crop in Texas, about a million less lambs being dropped in 1934 than in 1933.

Estimates set the 1934 wool clip in Texas at about 60,080,000 pounds, somewhat under the last year's clip of 74,800,000 pounds. The United States wool clip for this year is predicted to run in the neighborhood of 354,533,000 pounds, or 2 per cent less than 1933 and 1 per cent more than the five-year average from 1920 to 1933.

A new high for the season was reported in the sale of 75,000 pounds of kid mohair at a price of 60 cents per pound by a Bandera grower. Bulk of the spring mohair clip is being held by growers and warehouses for prices better than those generally prevailing, it is reported.

Gross farm receipts in June, 1934, totaled $440,000,000, compared with $439,000,000 in May, 1934, and $423,000,000 in June, 1933, according to bureau of agricultural economics reports. This year's June total included $411,000,000 from sales of farm products, $28,000,000 in rental and benefit payments by the AAA, and approximately $1,000,000 from government purchases of cattle in drouth areas. The bureau reports that cash income from the sale of farm products during the first six months of 1934 showed a 19 per cent increase over the same period in 1933.

Drouth conditions are not confined to America, according to reports. Conditions are reported to be especially severe in the Danube Basin and bureau representatives estimate that the Danubian wheat crop has been reduced by dry weather to 100,000,000 bushels below the 1933 harvest of 370,868,000 bushels. Such a crop would be one of the smallest on record for the basin and would allow little or no exporting.

Crops in almost all countries of the Northern Hemisphere have been damaged and parts of the Southern Hemisphere, particularly Australia and Argentina, have been affected by drouth. Rains came too late in Germany, Poland, Czech-Slovakia and Austria to offset damage to bread and feed grains. Large stocks of 1933 bread grains crops will prevent a shortage of bread but live stock feed will be short. Russia has had a severe drouth and short grain crops are indicated.

The bureau of agricultural economics reiterates earlier statements that the national food supply has not been reduced significantly and that the principal effect of the

Texas Farmers are Making Payments On Production Loans

Texas farmers are making an excellent record in paying their production credit loans when due, according to Tully C. Garner, president of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston. In spite of drouth and, in many cases, poor crops there is every indication that most of the loans made to Texas farmers will be paid when their crops are sold this fall.

For example in a report received from the Austin Production Credit Association, H. H. Onstot, secretary-treasurer, says: "At this early date, (September 15) 77 per cent of the total amount of our crop loans are paid. More than 50 per cent of our crop loan borrowers have paid their loans in full. About 35 per cent of our unpaid balances are covered with ginned cotton which will be sold within the next few days. There are only 14 of our borrowers who have made no payment and most of these have enough cotton picked but unsold to pay their loans.

"Our borrowers seem well pleased with the handling of our loans this year and with very few exceptions, they will be borrowers next year. Some of our crop loans are being paid from the sale of cotton allotment tickets where practically no crop at all was made. The morale among our borrowers is excellent and we expect to carry over into next year's crop program less than five per cent of this season's loans."

In light of the recent scientific confirmation of the "energizing effect" in Camels, note what Miss Engelhard, champion woman mountain climber, says:

"Mountain climbing is great sport, but don't try it unless you have plenty of energy. Many times up there above the timber line, within a short climb of the goal, I have thought 'I can't go another step.' Then I call a halt and smoke a Camel. A Camel lifts me up in just a few minutes and gives me the energy to push on to the mountain top!" People in every walk of life have found that Camels increase their energy. Perhaps you have observed this among your own circle of friends.

You'll like Camel's matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. Mild—but never flat or "sweetish"—never tiresome in taste. You'll feel like smoking more, so go ahead! For with Camels, you will find that steady smoking does not jangle the nerves.

STATE RELIEF IN COUNTY TO BE DELAYED

According to a letter received from Austin Monday by the Eastland county general relief board, state funds for October if granted by the legislature, would not be available for thirty days. H. E. Driscoll, county administrator in telling of the contents of the letter said the following: "Monday the Eastland county relief board received from Austin an estimate for October on which is placed the figures showing total funds required to cover the needs of the county for the month of October. We are also advised due to the fact that the legislature has not acted concerning relief measures at time the letter was written."

When the automobile came into being, Brown awaited eagerly the day he could take a ride in a gasoline-drawn wagon. Finally the day came, with Ferguson at the wheel. It was the first trip for the new wagon.

When Brown beside him, Ferguson swept up Seventh Street and heaved heavily at the wheel to turn a corner. He heaved too much, however, and the truck took out a section of an iron fence surrounding the old Elks Club.

When Brown awoke, he had been flung through the windshield and had landed on one of the fenders. He still carries scars from that ride.

So now when Chief Ferguson happens along the street and offers Brown a ride, the deputy tax collector always has an appropriate reason for refusing.

By United Press FORT WORTH, Tex.—Deputy Tax Collector D. O. Brown would no more think of riding in an automobile with Fire Chief Standifer Ferguson than he would of trying to swim the Atlantic Ocean—and back of that is a story.

As a lad Brown used to "hang around" the fire station where Ferguson would let him ride on the wagon to all fires. That was in the day of the horse-drawn fire wagon.

TWO RECEIVE 99 YEARS IN KIDNAP CASE

FORT WORTH, Sept. 24.—Joe Burleson, 26, and Homer McCoy, 30, today were each sentenced to 99 years in prison for the kidnaping and robbery last April of C. M. Kella, Jr., Southwestern Bell Telephone Company employe.

The two men pleaded guilty before District Judge Geo. E. Hosey. They each received two 99 year sentences, one each in the robbery and kidnaping charges. The sentences will run concurrently.

Kella was held up April 23 by two men who leaped on the running board of his automobile as it stopped at a traffic light. The men later forced Kella to get into the turtle back of the car, where he was held for 18 hours while the men drove about East-ern Texas and Louisiana.

When the car stopped at a filling station at Mt. Pleasant, Texas, Kella beat on the walls of the car. His pounding was heard by Mrs. W. A. McKee, 78, wife of the station operator. She forced his release. Burleson and McCoy attempted to flee but were captured.

Soldiering With The Fifth Cavalry As Described By One From Eastland

Editor's note: The following is description of every day routine of soldiers in the Fifth Cavalry at Fort Clark and comments on same by Roy D. Horn who with Zack Meek represent Eastland in the camp.

By ROY D. HORN, Private 5th Cavalry, U. S. Army, Fort Clark, Texas

Perhaps the most regrettable moment of every soldier's career is when he is brought back from his dreams with the old folks at home wandering among the many familiar scenes down on the old farm, or with his best girl in the old home town, by the clear blasting notes of the bugle, "First Call for Reveille"—The lights immediately come on in the barracks squad room and while still lingering thoughts are racing back and forth through his semi-conscious mind he is finally brought back to earth by the loud gruff voice of the Sergeant in charge of quarters—"On yer feet, with full uniform, boots laced—outside for Reveille Roll Call, make it snappy!"

After Reveille and Reveille Roll Call comes "Mess Call" and that (together with "Pay Call") is one call that all good soldiers endeavor to answer—then policing quarters and tidying up of bunks. Mounted drill at 7:30 and usually last until 11:30 a. m., which consists of problems in warfare, extended and close formation drill or cross-country hikes and pistol charges. After chow the First Sergeant makes up the detail for the next 24 hours, which outlines the duties for the next 24 hours. Detailing of new guards, K. P.'s and regimental fatigue work, etc. Wednesday, Saturday evening, all holidays and pay days are off days for soldiers; however in the event that someone has violated some regulation or make some military blunder, knowingly or unknowingly, he is likely to find his name on these days detailed to extra duty.

Full pack is one of the most dreaded inspection in the Cavalry. This inspection is mounted with full pack, consisting of shelter half, rain coat and saddle bags, properly placed. The Regimental Commander and his staff inspects all the articles that compose a mounted full pack, together with personal appearance, saddle and mount, and woe be to the trooper who fails to shine his buttons, saddle, boots or various and sundry other things that are included in this inspection.

After "Retreat" at 5:00 p. m., the trooper is free to go where he may (unless on guard or extra duty), until the dreaded "First Call for Reveille" the next morning.

The Fifth Cavalry is of the old school and to date has not been modern motorized. Information from the war department is to the effect that it will be partially motorized in the near future, but it occurs to this writer, that whatever may be the progress of the motor and armored vehicles, whose use is also based on mobility and speed, cavalry keeps its whole value, because it fears neither the vexatious breakdown nor the lack of oil and gasoline.

The tendency is more and more towards the mechanization of cavalry. This does not mean that the role of cavalry as a mounted arm is diminished—far from it. It is evident that the speed and mobility of mounted troops will still play a very important role in the war operations of the future and that the cavalry must be able to displace itself on horseback fast and far.

The "Precepts of a Soldier" made familiar to the Army by that valiant officer, Major General R. P. Davis, and which are impressed upon the minds of all recruits enlisting in the 5th Cavalry, and which if adhered to by all soldiers, the Army would be one of the finest organizations in the world.

Difficult Tricks Easy for Sea Lion

"That one is easy Walter, try something hard," thinks Buddy, master performer and said to be the most intelligent sea-lion in the world, coming here with Tom Mix Wild West and Sam B. Dill's Circus combined, on Saturday, September 29th, at the Connellee race track.

Doing practically everything from counting by fives to playing musical instruments, Buddy will amaze circus lovers with his seemingly impossible feats at each performance of the big show.

"Sea-lions that are to be trained," says Walter Jennier, Buddy's trainer, "must be captured at exactly the right age. If they are taken before they have learned to swim they will die soon after being placed in captivity, and if more than six months of age they are extremely difficult to train."

Tom Mix, the acknowledged greatest of all Western Screen Stars will be featured with the big show this year, and together with his wonder horse Tony and Tony, Jr., will perform in the main show at every performance without extra charge.

Last Rites Tuesday For R. F. Lawrence

Funeral services for R. F. Lawrence, about 35, who died in Bryan Monday morning, were conducted at Luther, Howard county, Wednesday.

Mr. Lawrence was stricken with a fatal illness while in College Station a week ago which necessitated his removal to Bryan Memorial Hospital. He was representing Eastland county before the state cotton allotment board at the time of his death.

He had been administrative assistant in the county agent's office, and was in charge of the Bankhead bill work in the county. The A. & M. graduate who came to Eastland after employment as appraiser for the Federal Land Bank, worked in Eastland for four months before his departure for College Station.

J. C. Patterson, Eastland County Agent, and other former co-workers attended the funeral Tuesday.

Acquaintance of the filing system used by the Eastland county case workers and the procedure of issuing disbursing orders in the home instead of office will be made this week by Miss Ruth Nunnally, case work supervisor of Parker county, who has arrived in Eastland.

Miss Nunnally is expected to observe the system used in the county for several days.

Alleged Remover of Mortgaged Goods Returned to County

O. J. Taylor, formerly of Rising Star, who is charged at the Justice of Peace Court in Rising Star with removing mortgaged property, was returned from Palestine to the county Friday by Deputy County Officer Steele Hill.

It is said Taylor, who Saturday was in the Eastland county jail, left Rising Star some months ago taking along a car which was unpaid for.

DRAMA OF "THE MAN WITH TWO FACES" AT LYRIC THEATRE SUN.

"The Man With Two Faces," a First National melodramatic murder mystery thriller opens at the Lyric theatre Sunday with Edward G. Robinson in the stellar role. The picture is based on the stage play by George S. Kaufman and Alexander Woolcott, which was one of the hits of Broadway the past season. It is said to be one of the most baffling mysteries ever presented, with a strange and unusual denouement. The story deals with a threatrical family, the identity of which are several brilliant players. In addition to the mystery angle the picture takes the spectators behind the wings, giving them a peep into the private lives of the folks of the stage. It also carries a strong romantic angle.

The mystery evolves about the strange murder of the husband of a brilliant actress, a man of evil mind and with a hypnotic influence over his wife. There are several suspects, including the wife herself, as well as her lover, and brother.

Mr. Robinson, the star, is supported by an unusually large and talented cast. Miss Astor has the leading feminine role opposite him, while Ricardo Cortez plays the heroic role of Miss Astor's lover. Louis Calhern is the diabolical husband who comes to an untimely end while Mae Clarke has an important part as an actrix in the play which is the background for the drama.

Other important players include Arthur Byron, John Eldredge, David Landau, Emily Fitzroy, and Henry O'Neill. Archie Mayo directed the production from the screen play by Tom Reed and Niven Busch.

Work in Progress At Welch Field
Work on Welch field in form of erection of fences stands in progress, a school official said Thursday.
The field will be the scene of the first football ever played on the grounds this year. During the summer it was the home of Eastland Horned Frogs, basketball team.
Application to the Texas Education Commission for further improvement on the field has been made by the Eastland school board and advice from their headquarters awaited.
"Over the hill to the poor will be out of date, now the CCC boys are digging away hill so we can get there quickly."

There was a time
—when old-fashioned heating systems blistered your face while your back shivered.

But now...
with natural gas winter is just another pleasant season in the modern home.

A timely reminder

Days are growing shorter, nights longer, and the first cold days of winter are on the way.

Now is the practical time to check up your heating equipment while winter is still "around the corner." Don't let obsolete or inadequate heating rob you of a pleasant indoor climate. Improved gas heating equipment and your dependable gas service will give you care-free, inexpensive comfort at the touch of a match and you'll find just the type heater to fit your particular need on display at your gas company or appliance dealer's.

your dependable gas service makes this fuss and bother unnecessary. All through the summer months your gas company has been "keeping your fuel service faithful"—improving facilities so that you may have the safety and security of a dependable natural gas supply again this winter.

... If for any reason your gas meter is not connected ready for winter—call your gas company NOW and avoid the rush of that first "norther."

An ample gas supply has been provided... pipe lines and distributing lines have been checked over... compressor stations have been overhauled. In fact, every detail of your gas service has been carefully perfected to assist you in stopping Jack Frost at the threshold of your home.

If this were a gasless community, the next order of business would be laying in a supply of coal or wood. Of course,

Peak of Year 1933

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 24.—Retail trade in Texas during August made a favorable showing both in comparison with August last year and with July of the current year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

"Reports from 95 department stores and specialty shops show total sales 5.3 per cent in excess of August last year," the Bureau's report said. "This situation has added significance from the fact that a year ago in August industrial activity reached its peak for the year whereas this year it reached its low point. Moreover, inventories are believed to be relatively low compared with last year. Sales in August were 18.6 per cent greater than in July, against an average seasonal increase of only 6 per cent.

"Considerable variation is to be noted in the comparative showing of the different types of stores. Men's clothing stores headed the list with a gain of 23.3 per cent over August, 1932 and 45 per cent over July of the current year; dry goods and apparel stores gained 21 per cent over August last year and 4.2 per cent over July; small department stores were up 13.2 per cent from August a year ago but 2 per cent below July; large department stores were up 2.3 per cent and 19 per cent respectively; women's specialty shops declined 2.3 per cent from August last year but gained 32 per cent over July.

Distribution of Mattresses to Be Begun By Oct. 1

AUSTIN. — Distribution of mattresses to destitute families of Texas likely will be started by October 1, officials of the Texas Relief Commission said today.

Seven hundred mattresses were manufactured in Texas plants last week and production will be increased as all of the designated plants begin operations.

First to receive the benefits of this commodity distribution will be those families actually without mattresses. A survey by case workers to determine the number of such families in each county will be taken and orders will be placed with the state commission on this basis.

It will be impossible to reach all of the counties at the same time due to the slow production but we expect to reach them all before winter," C. Z. Crain, in charge of production, said.

County administrators have been instructed to see that all old mattresses do not get back into circulation. Clients will not be allowed to sell old mattresses to second hand stores and administrators were urged to burn them as a health measure.

Winter Coming, Early Geese Flights Tell

Wild geese have already started south, stepping up their usual schedules about a month, with the first flight in Texas reported in August by a Fort Worth citizen. Scientific minded gentlemen, observing this and similar occurrences in other parts of the state, have come forth with statements that early flights foretell an early and a hard winter. F. V. Williams, manager of the local gas company, explains that while he can't pose as a scientist, in his opinion gas users would do well to check over their heating equipment now. "Too many people put off looking over their gas equipment until the first norther hits," he explained.

"Now is the time to look over your heating equipment and have it set up. Wall cocks and old room heaters should be inspected and replaced if necessary. Whenever possible gas equipment should be connected with gas piping; if flexible tubing is used, it should be renewed as it is rarely good for more than one season. Additional heating equipment, if needed, should be purchased now, while gas appliance dealers have a complete selection, and installed before the last minute rush. Vented automatic heating equipment for increased comfort and more healthful conditions in the home has been adapted by manufacturers especially for the moderate sized home. A small furnace which hangs beneath the floor, circulating warm air through a grill into one or two rooms; gas steam radiators, which manufacture their heat at the wall, and warm air circulators are some of the newer popular units. Their even, circulating heat which may be automatically controlled eliminates wall sweating and overheating with its attendant colds and other winter ailments.

All of this heating equipment, as well as room heaters, if connected with gas piping, has been included in the list of home furnishings which may be purchased through National Housing Act insured loans.

COLLEGE MOVIE HOLDS TO FACTS, BUILDS COMEDY

Something new and different in motion picture history has been accomplished; a college story has been filmed without a football game, a football player, or a college musical show in the entire production.

The picture is "She Loves Me Not," produced by Paramount with Bing Crosby and Miriam Hopkins starred. It opens Monday at the Lyric Theatre.

"She Loves Me Not" is adopted from the widely-read novel which appeared in serial form in the Saturday Evening Post, and also from the Broadway play of the same name. In addition to Crosby and Miriam Hopkins, Kitty Carlisle, Edward Nugent, Henry Stephenson, Warren Hymer, Lynne Overman, Judith Allen, George Barbier, and Vince Barnett are included in the cast.

Elliott Nugent, who directed "Three-Cornered Moon," directed this film from the screen play by Benjamin Glazer.

Besides giving Crosby ample opportunity to sing several brand new, typically Crosby tunes, the film is also full of comedy and suspense. A young night-club girl sees a murder committed and, fearing to be questioned by police, she runs away, getting as far as Princeton, New Jersey.

Broke, hungry and desperate she walks boldly into the room of Crosby, a student. By a clever ruse and a little disguise, he attempts to hide her in the dormitory. She is discovered and the events that follow involve Crosby, the dean and the entire college in an uproarious series of events.

Health Meeting To Be Held Oct. 3 At Abilene Hotel

AUSTIN, Tex.—The Twelfth Annual Meeting of the Texas Public Health Association will be held at the Wooten Hotel in Abilene, October 3-5, stated Dr. T. J. McCamant, President. The meeting is open to physicians, health officers, nurses, sanitarians, and others interested in public health.

Besides the general meeting, there will be special sections for nurses, laboratory workers, and full time health officers. Among the speakers will be Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer; Dr. Lewis C. Crabbe; E. A. Baugh; Senator J. W. E. H. Beck, M. D.; and representatives of the United States Public Health Association, State Medical Association, Cultural Department, Public Health Association, State Medical Association. The program will include discussions of health, relief funds, diet, water and sewer health nursing, health and communicable diseases. Many cities and workers to this meeting may keep up with developments in their work will be especially true. Much health work is being pushed with relief funds.
