Highways Will Be Beautified For Centennial

DALLAS, Tex.—A blanket of beauty, expressed by the blossoming of countless acres of flowers and shrubs to be planted over the State in preparation for the Texas Centennial celebration in 1936, will result from work of the State Highway Beautification Committee.

In the section around Dallas, a comprehensive program in seven counties is due to be launched soon through co-operation of city and county governments. As soon as first choice has been determined for the flower or shrub in this section, every highway leading into Dallas will be planted.

Similar work is due to be carried on in every section of the State so that thoroughfares leading to historic shrines in such cities as San Antonio, Houston, Galia, Brenham, Nacogdoches, Huntsville and other cities, where Centennial celebrations are to be staged, will be similarly beautified.

Corsicana has led this section of the State in selecting the flower that will be used to decorate the highways in her community. The red rose will be used on rights-of-way in that vicinity. Houston has chosen the crepe myrtle, while Galveston long has been identified with the oleander. Since the rose-bud and bluebonnet have been chosen for the entire State, other shrubs and flowers will be chosen by the individual communities.

The highway work calls for the securing of a number of wayside parks and parkways along the major highways so that the entire State will be covered by a systematic program of beautification.

$8,000 FOR COUNTY RELIEF FUND REDUCED BY COMMISSION

COUNTY RELIEF FUND REDUCED BY COMMISSION

H. E. Driscoll, county administrator or relief, announced today that the $42,327 requested for Eastland county for the relief work in Eastland county for the month of October had been cut to $8,000 by the state relief commission.

In sending out the allotment, which must run Eastland county until Nov. 1, the relief heads at Austin pointed out that many counties had cut their case loads considerably and it was up to all other county administrators to do likewise, and to make the allotment last throughout the month.

Mr. Driscoll announced today that beginning tomorrow a drastic cut in the relief work would be made, and the reduced appropriation would mean cutting down on all direct relief and curtailment, possible cancellation of all work relief projects in the county.

The commission in Austin pointed out that the reduction was through sheer necessity because of lack of funds to provide more relief in the county and stated that all relief allotments to other counties were being cut in proportion.

"Lumberjacks" to Have a Part In Tyler Rose Festival

TYLER.—The famous "Lumberjacks' Band" from the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College at Nacogdoches will have a prominent place in the mammoth floral parade of the East Texas Rose Festival here next month, it was announced today.

The parade, which festival association officials say will be "the most spectacular event of its kind ever staged in 'East Texas'" will be on the morning of Oct. 12, second day of the festival.

The "Lumberjacks' Band," made up of more than 40 musicians from the college, has built up an enviable reputation throughout the state through numerous appearances at conventions and public gatherings. Garbed in attractive uniforms, the band presents a striking appearance and invariably proves a strong drawing card on any program.

The city of Nacogdoches also expects to send a delegation of rose lovers and civic leaders to the festival. The party will be headed by Robert Hall, manager of the Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce.

GOVERNMENT MAY PROVE GIANT SWINDLE

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Losses of $100,000,000 to Insull investors was due to a "simple conspiracy to swindle, cheat and defraud," U. S. Attorney Dwight H. Green charged today in his opening statement at the mail fraud trial of Samuel Insull and 16 other defendants.

The attorney outlined the case against the men who rose to fame as directors of a $2,000,000,000 utility empire and saw it crash under the weight of the depression.

"The government will prove each defendant had some part in the scheme whereby thousands were induced to invest millions in the stock of this company by means of false representation," Green said.

MAVS TO PLAY OLNEY FRIDAY EVENING AT 8

Eastland Mavericks Friday journey to Olney for their engagement, with that team which will mark their third of the season. The game will start at 8 p. m.

Mavericks have improved since the encounter with Stephenville, reports from the squad state. When the team played Stephenville many were bruised and battered from the previous engagement with San Angelo. Possibly the only two Mavericks who were bruised and shaken up enough to keep from playing Friday are Albert Martin and Bob Sikes. Martin may be able to get in the game but Sikes has been advised not to play.

Olney has indicated from scores aggregated by that team against other Class B's, that opposition arduity will be afforded Mavericks. Last week they took Graham for a trimming.

To date the Mavericks have played under mazda illumination and their first debut into sunlight playing will come when they meet Breckenridge, Friday, Oct. 12.

Aerial play of the Mavericks, which didn't function last week, as well as forethought, has been brushed upon this week, one of the managers of the Mavericks stated. The boys were given tough workouts the first portion of the week and gradually given less stringent workouts.

The starting line-up more than likely will be: Tully and Taylor, ends; Bagley and Brown, tackles; Frost and Shoopman, guards; Butler, center; Hart and Upton, halves and Mackall, full and Garrison, quarter.

Principal W. P. Palm of the high school today announced that the following admission charges would prevail at the Olney-Eastland game Friday night: Adults, 50c; students 25c, pep squad 10c, and band members free.

Textile Strikers Patrolling Streets After One Killed

BRIDGEPORT, Pa., Oct. 4.—Scattered groups of textile strikers patrolled the streets today as 44 state police guarded approaches to the James Lee and Sons woolen mills, near which one man was killed and scores injured in last night's rioting.

James Lindsay McMurray was born Sept. 24, 1897, at McAlester, Indian Territory. Shortly after the United States entered the World war he joined the navy and served until his honorable discharge on Feb. 4, 1919.

In that year he went to Ranger, which was in the throes of the oil boom period, where he was employed with the Oil Well Supply company until he formed a partnership with F. W. Stone. The partnership, known as Stone & McMurray, did contract drilling and drilled and produced in its own right.

Stone & McMurray was credited with opening up the Pioneer field as a major producing sector by bringing in the famous Eakin No. 1 for flush production of 900 barrels daily in 1934. Later the partnership sold its holdings, including the Eakin well, and dissolved and McMurray associated himself with R. F. (Bob) Gilman of Cisco in a partnership, Gilman & McMurray, that existed until his death. The two operators were active and successful in developing their own properties which now include extensive production and lease holdings principally in Brown and Shackelford counties.

Mr. McMurray was a member of a number of Masonic bodies, including the Shrine, and the Elks lodge and the American Legion. He came to Cisco from Ranger about 1921, shortly after forming his partnership with Mr. Stone.

Besides his wife, who was Miss Gladys Hughes and whom he married on Nov. 27, 1922, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. F. McMurray of McAlester, now residing in San Juan Puerto Rico; two sisters, Mrs. Eugene Alessandre of Norman, Okla., and Mrs. Woodfin L. Butte, of San Juan, P. R., whose husband is the son of Dr. George Butte, formerly governor-general of Puerto Rico; and three brothers, Jack McMurray of Norman, Okla.; Tom McMurray of Oklahoma City, and Douglas McMurray, also of Oklahoma City, and who was here at the time of his death.

At McAlester, Mr. McMurray will be buried beside his father, who died about four years ago.

TRUNK REVEALS A NEW CLUE IN KIDNAP CASE

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A trunk owned by Bruno Hauptmann today yielded what authorities considered one of the most important pieces of evidence in the Lindbergh case, road maps of the Sourland mountain district from which Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., was kidnaped.

District Attorney Samuel Foley announced the discovery and said Hauptmann had a minute knowledge of the area from which the child was kidnaped and was later found slain.

In the prisoner's arrest, efforts to place Hauptmann at the scene of the crime or to link him directly with the kidnaping have been one of the outstanding and most difficult problems.

Foley said Hauptmann was so well acquainted with the district that he could reproduce from memory small roads of certain areas near Hopewell, N. J.

In addition, Foley said, a German American dictionary was found.

This, he contended, tended to support a theory the writer of the ransom notes referred to a dictionary. This was suspected because the small ordinary words were misspelled, while the longer words were almost always correctly spelled.

$1,647,000 TO BE GRANTED TO TEXAS RELIEF

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Texas will receive $2,339,000 from federal funds in October, the FERA announced today.

Of this amount, $1,647,000 will be for drought relief and $500,000 for rural rehabilitation. Transients will be aided to the extent of $135,000 and students, $57,000.

AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—Texas relief rolls were scrutinized today for undeserving persons, while Chairman Claude D. Teer of the State Board of Control said to speed to Washington to confer with Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator.

"We must drop from the rolls every case not clearly entitled to relief before winter comes," Texas Director Adam J. Johnson told county administrators.

Particularly, Johnson would like to know if farmers had difficulty in obtaining cotton pickers. Protestants have reached Washington clients will not leave the relief rolls to toil in the cotton patch.

"If that is true we must remedy it," Johnson said.

"Our relief program was not intended for people who have opportunities to make a living and we don't stand for individuals attaching themselves to the rolls and chiseling their way into the funds intended for honest unfortunates."

Control of Power

Big league pitchers know that power is not enough. The important thing is to control that power—particularly in tight situations where you've got to bear down to win.

The Ford V-8 gives you all the power you need—and some to spare. But that's only half the story. It performs superbly because it gives you sure, effective control of that power.

Speed that takes you over the pathways of the world and brings you safely home, as fast as you want to go. Stability on curves and a feeling of confidence in every tight situation. A quick change of pace that saves you minutes in traffic.

The Ford V-8 shortens distance, not so much by its potential top speed, but by the swiftness with which it resumes running speed after the inevitable stops and pauses.

It's a seasoned campaigner—this Ford V-8—and it has proved it can take it in many severe tests. It has scored important victories in road races at Elgin, Jacksonville, Los Angeles and Targio Florio. On Labor Day, three Ford V-8 cars broke all previous stock car records for climbing Pike's Peak. The Fords in this climb were equipped with high-compression cylinder heads, optional equipment for altitude driving. The V-type engine holds every major speed record on land, on water and in the air.

Every day—on every road—in the hands of hundreds of thousands of motorists—the Ford V-8 is proving its leadership both by outstanding performance—and by low cost of operation. Drive it yourself and see what a tremendous difference the V-8 engine makes.

Quanah Will Seek A Gigantic Lake Project of the U.S.

JUANAH, Tex.—Citizens of Northwest Texas, determined to dam Sandy Pease river and create one of the largest bodies of water in the state, will carry their plans to Washington in an effort to get the project listed under the P. W. A.

Two representatives of the Pease River Development association, formed recently to promote the project, will accompany Rep. W. D. McFarlane of Graham as the nation's capital and appeal directly to federal authorities.

It is estimated that the combined dam and irrigation project, forming a lake 20 miles long and a mile and a half wide, would cost $7,700,000. The concrete dam, more than a mile long itself, would cost $2,000,000.

As a recreation site the lake would be available to large areas of Northwest Texas, the Panhandle, and Southwest Oklahoma. Four counties — Wichita, Wilbarger, Hardeman, and Foard — would benefit by irrigation.

The men who will make the trip to Washington are E. A. Brown of Electra, president of the development association, and J. H. Allison of Wichita Falls.

The dam would be constructed across Pease river south of Quanah. Its construction, supporters of the project say, would greatly relieve unemployment in the counties affected and at the same time provide a permanent asset for the territory.

THREE TRIALS TO BE HEARD IN NOVEMBER

Motions to sever were granted Monday morning by the 88th district court to attorneys of Elmer Van Cleve and Miss Mary Lou Howell, who will be tried in November for alleged connection in the death of L. F. Threest, rancher near Cisco, who was found fatally wounded in his pasture, Aug. 15. Veniremen and witnesses were dismissed.

Motion to continue or put off the trial of Clifford Doggett, also charged in the case with murder, was granted by the court in that Attorney Frank Sparks said material witnesses were absent.

The state, represented by Criminal District Attorney Grady Owen announced he was ready for all three cases.

Three other special venires will be called for the cases in the November term of the court, when Doggett will be tried first.

All three persons, Mary Lou Howell, Elmer Van Cleve and Clifford Doggett were at ease during the court hours Monday morning. Miss Howell at various intervals chatted with a relative and when greeted by District Attorney

Excused from Jury Service Since Was 2 County Resident

Alvin Mayhall, summoned Monday to appear as venireman in the 88th district court, wondered if he was eligible for jury service so he said something similar to: "Judge, I'm willing to serve as a juror but wonder about something."

"What is it Mayhall?" asked Judge B. W. Patterson, presiding judge in the 88th district court.

"Well I pay my land taxes in Eastland county and poll taxes in Erath county," said Mayhall. "I live on the Eastland-Erath county line."

Judge Patterson said since of the unusual situation, Mayhall perhaps was to be excused provided defense attorneys for the case in which he might sit would agree. Attorneys agreed. Mayhall was thanked for his cooperation and patriotism.

CATTLEMEN OF PANHANDLE IN NEED OF RELIEF

AMARILLO, Texas, Oct. 3.—Death by starvation of nearly 1,000,000 cattle or virtual bankruptcy of a great number of stockmen was the outlook today of the cattle and sheep industry in the Texas Panhandle and eastern New Mexico, unless the government lends a hand this winter.

A United Press survey indicated continuance of the government stock buying program was essential if the industry is to survive the winter.

Statistics gathered from ranchers revealed 901,000 head of cattle must be wintered in the Texas Panhandle and eastern New Mexico with about 46,000 tons of locally forage crops available.

Four million sheep face the same problem in New Mexico that cattle do in the Panhandle, Dr. H. L. Kent, president of the New Mexico A. & M. college, pointed out.

Sidelights on Legislators Is Given By An Austin Correspondent

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Tex.—Rep. Bob Long, Wichita Falls, had the recent special session of the Texas Legislature under his thumb.

Long came to Austin early with a relief bill already drafted. He slipped it into the House bill hopper the moment he arrived and it became House Bill No. 1.

The session dragged through the usual 30 days of time-killing. In the last week the rush began to get bills through. Long's No. 1 bill had right of way. It was also the all-important bill of the session. Legislators had to act on it before they went home.

Among the other bills for which Long fought was the new "hot oil" bill. That, too, was Long's "baby." As author of the relief bill, he had the upper hand. All he had to do (and he did it) was to keep the relief bill back until members consented to act on the oil bill.

Whether it was all thought out in advance, or Long was just smart enough to see the opportunity as it developed, the result was the most clever maneuvering seen at a legislature in Texas for many a year.

Glenn Motley Trial Set for October 11

Thursday, Oct. 11, in the 88th district court has been set for the trial of Glenn "Buddie" Motley, who is alleged to be connected with the fatal stabbing of Clarence D. Herring, CCC member from Flatwood, who was in Eastland at the time of his accident.

Motley, a youth, was caught in Slaton by Eastland county officers recently. The youth, it is said, formerly lived in Albany. He is at liberty under $6,500 bond. Frank Sparks will represent Motley.

District Rally of Methodist Church Planned In Ranger

Tuesday night, Oct. 9, a district rally of the Cisco district of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held at the First Methodist church of Ranger, at which a large attendance is expected.

A dinner will be served by the ladies of the church, and a price of 25 cents per plate will be charged.

A number of short talks by prominent Methodists of this district will be on the varied program that is being outlined for the rally.

The highlight of the program will be a contest between male quartets from Dublin, De Leon, Cisco and Ranger, it was stated today, with the judges stationed in the audience. These judges will not be announced and their identity will be kept secret until after the decision is rendered in the contest.

This unusual feature of the rally is expected to be both unique and entertaining.

Tarleton to Play Hill Billies Friday

STEPHENVILLE, Sept. 29.—Daniel Baker Hill Billies will play the Tarleton Plowboys here in the Plowboys' third game of the season Friday night. The game will begin at 8 o'clock.

The Hill Billy-Plowboy contest is generally expected to be a hot one. Last year the two teams did not meet. In 1932 the Hill Billies scored 10 to the Plowboys' 9 in an exciting contest at Brownwood; the year before the Tarletonites won by 13 to 7 at Stephenville. If skipping a year's play has not upset the teams' equilibrium, the Plowboys are slated to win the 1934 game on their home field.

Coach W. J. Wisdom today refused to offer opinions about the outcome.

Victoria Will Hold A District Fair

VICTORIA, Texas.—Victoria's annual district fair will be held Oct. 17-20, according to George Hofman, fair association president.

Horse racing will be held each day of the fair. Pari-mutuel betting will be state-supervised. Six races will be run daily.

The queen of the fair will be crowned the opening night of the fair, Hofman said.

Mattress Factory at Eastland Begins Work

Cotton to be used in the manufacture reached Eastland several weeks ago. It is expected the output of the plant will be between 20 and 25 mattresses a week.

Fort Worth May Have Centennial Exhibit In 1936

FORT WORTH.—Efforts are being made to interest West Texas in establishing a Texas Centennial exhibit here in 1936, independent of the main event in Dallas.

The proposal calls for creation of an exhibit expressive of West Texas alone, its history, ranches, oil fields and life.

Sponsors of the movement explain, however, that they have no intention of making the proposed exhibit competitive with the chief celebration in Dallas.

Mayor Van Zandt Jarvis, president of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, and Clifford B. Jones, Spur, manager of the Swenson ranches and former regional advisor for PWA, were among those believing West Texas, especially its cattle and oil industry, would favor an independent exhibit.

"I believe there is much merit in the movement to have a West Texas exposition or celebration here," Mayor Jarvis said. "Dallas may not devote the space and exhibits necessary to telling the world all about the great development of West Texas."

"Fort Worth and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce should get together and work out a celebration either during the Stock Show or some other time."

Jones believes, he said, West Texas would desire to concentrate much effort at Ft. Worth providing it engages in a regional exhibit.

Several other prominent Fort Worth business men including William Monnig, president of the Retail Merchants association, favored such an effort.

There is considerable opposition here, however, including most of the bankers and many prominent citizens. They either doubt the successful financial outcome of such a venture or brand it as "poor play" and "unfair" to Dallas.

One opponent said he believed it would be better to forget the West Texas exhibit idea here and "help Dallas make its celebration a real all-Texas affair."

"A celebration here, in connection with the Centennial," John P. King, prominent merchant, said, "would not be a success nor fair to Dallas, which will spend millions of dollars to put the Centennial over."

Corn Stalk Has 17 Ears

SEATTLE, Wash.—A corn stalk bearing 17 ears was grown in a patch owned by Mrs. H. D. Morse. The ears had no shucks and the "silk" was tangled in such a way that it formed a basket in which the 17 ears rested. The stalk was exhibited at the Puyallup county fair.

Committee Saved State $285,770 In Cash This Year

AUSTIN, Tex.—The Senate investigating committee, created to keep a watchful eye on the state's "pork" during interim between legislative sessions, has saved the state $285,770 in cash, thousands of dollars more in future savings.

The committee made a preliminary report to the third session of the 45th Legislature just ended. It showed that the committee's investigation of oil and gas fields of the Texas Panhandle had resulted in $80,000 in additional taxes.

Correction of public school rolls saved for a savings of $205,000 more for the state.

The savings effected this year are applicable also to future years.

State Comptroller George H. Ship and said tax payments increased by $80,770 from one operator in the Panhandle field following the committee's hearing at Amarillo last April.

Shipp also said that additional tax assessments will follow the committee's investigation, "and the benefit for the state concerning future payments will far exceed our first expectations."

State aid to public schools is based on the number of pupils enrolled. For many years legislators suspected that some scholastic rolls were "padded" to increase the school's allotment of state funds.

The committee looked into the matter. When school officials submitted their new scholastic rolls this month, State School Superintendent L. A. Wood estimated there would be 7,000 fewer children's names than were on last year's scholastic rolls.

The State Department of Education joined the Senate Committee in ferreting out fictitious and invalid names on the school rolls. The work of both will mean a saving of $50,000 to the state's available school fund, Superintendent Wood has estimated.

Members of the Senate Investigating Committee serve without pay, and are reimbursed only for

Federal Hospital At Waco Is Filled With 327 Patients

WACO.—The government hospital here is filled to capacity, with 327 patients, according to Dr. Harry Rubin, medical officer in charge. Original capacity of the institution was 308, but demands for hospitalization became so great that additional space was utilized and extra beds installed, making room for more men.

A total of 250 men are now on the waiting list, having been ordered in need of hospital treatment, Dr. Rubin stated. About 10 per cent of the patients at the hospital remain away at home on trial visits.

Desert Is Found In Central Mexico

LUBBOCK, Tex.—Dr. W. I. Robinson, associate professor of geology at Texas Technological College, explored the southern shoreline of a prehistoric body of water—and found it a desert where rain had not fallen in two years.

Dr. Robinson was one of a group of five geologists who recently returned from making a study of the structure and substance of mountains in that section of Mexico. The project is part of a five year program sponsored by the Geological Society of America.

Rocks found along the ancient shoreline were entirely different from rocks of the same age in Texas, Dr. Robinson discovered. "They seemed more European than American," he said.

Three years will be required to complete mapping the project, Prof. L. B. Kellum, of the University of Michigan and head of the group, estimated.

Other institutions represented beside Texas Technological College are Rutgers College, University of Rochester, and the University of Michigan.

FELLOWSHIP WITH CHRIST

John 15;
It was in the upper room in Jerusalem in the year A. D. 30 when Christ with his apostles had gathered around the table for their last supper together.

Christ, weary and worn, with the shadow of the cross dense across his path perhaps glanced out of the window and saw a vine growing. Immediately he took the vine as it grew and made it a beautiful lesson of truth and power.

"I am the true vine and my father is the husbandman." Beautiful as was the vine and great was Christ's appreciation of the beautiful, but much more lovely was the true vine.

Sadly and almost pensively it seems, was his great yearning over these whom he loved and must leave behind to build their spiritual lives.

"Abide in me and I in you." He pictured their spiritual growth in Him "as the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, except ye abide in me."

The sap from the vine must flow into the branches or it withers and dies. The gardener will clip off the dead branches but the green ones will be pruned and kept neatly in symmetry of the growing garden so that much fruit will be borne.

When this picture seemed clear to the men, Jesus gave them the promise of a haven, a place of grace, where strength may at all times be gained. The promise of answered prayer gives the Christian his strongest hope of abiding in Christ.

The love of the heavenly father for his son was the example Christ used as his love for his disciples. "If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love," Christ, of whom Isaiah wrote, "and the government shall be upon his shoulders; and his name shall be called wonderful, counsellor, the mighty of God, the everlasting father, the prince of peace," sat humbly in their midst even having washed their feet, teaching them the wonderful lesson of love and joy. He was "a man of sorrow," yet his joy in the Father was unbounded.

"No longer do I call you servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends: for all things that I heard from my father I have made known unto you."

Friends on this earth are our greatest blessings but how much greater is the friendship of Christ who holds all power in heaven and

Farm News of Interest to the Farmers of This Section

Processing Tax Rate Established On Peanut Crop

Establishment of a processing tax of one cent a pound, farmers' stock weight, on peanuts; suspension of the imposition of such tax on peanuts used in the manufacture of peanut oils, a class of low value peanut products; and termination of the floor stocks tax with respect to peanuts, were announced today by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The tax, effective October 1, 1934, is levied on the first domestic processing of peanuts, which is defined as the "cleaning, polishing, grading, shelling, crushing or other processing thereof."

Peanut Regulations, Series 1, Number 1, which established the tax, and the certificate exempting peanuts crushed into oil from the tax, were signed September 24, by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, and were approved by President Roosevelt. The President also terminated subsections (a) and (b) of Section 16 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, with respect to peanuts.

The processing tax of one cent a pound is only a little more than one-third of the full statutory processing tax on peanuts as calculated under the terms of the Agricultural Adjustment Act. The full statutory rate is 2.8 cents a pound, which is the difference between the current average farm price of 2.8 cents a pound and the fair exchange value of 5.6 cents a pound. The Secretary found, however, after investigations and public hearings, that the full statutory rate "would cause such reduction in the quantity of peanuts, or products thereof, domestically consumed, as to result in the accumulation of surplus stocks of peanuts, or products thereof, or in the depression of the farm price of peanuts" and that a rate of one cent a pound would prevent such results. Hence the establishment of the one cent rate.

From testimony presented at the same public hearings, it was ascertained the peanut oils, a class of low value, considering the quantity of peanuts used in their manufacture, that the imposition of the processing tax would prevent in whole, or in part, the use of peanuts in the manufacture of peanut oils and thereby substantially decrease consumption and increase the surplus of peanuts. It was therefore decided that such a result would be most effectively prevented by suspension of the imposition of the processing tax on peanuts and peanut products used for manufacturing peanut oils.

The regulations signed by the Secretary contain a list of conversion factors which may be obtained from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Washington, D. C., when printed copies are available.

COTTON ADJUSTMENT ASSISTANT EWING GIVES MAJOR POINTS

Ginners should take note that the law provides that Bankhead exemption certificates must be transferred from one producer to another producer, in the same county, through the county agents office, except where all parties concerned are farming on the same farm, as in the case of a landlord and tenants. (A farm as referred to here means the land covered by one contract or one application for allotment).

The public should be warned that it is a violation of the law to secure any certificate or part of a certificate by fraud or sharp, unfair practices. Certificates may be sold and transferred from one producer in the same county but it is against the law for any person who is not a producer to buy or acquire or have in his possession any certificates for the purpose or with the intention of speculating on same.

Any person who makes any statement that is untrue or in any way misrepresents the actual fact in the case for the purpose of obtaining any certificates to which he is not rightfully entitled, lays himself liable to a fine of not to exceed $1000 or not to exceed six months in jail, or both, if he is convicted of such fraud.

While it is the policy of both the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Internal Revenue Department to be as lenient as possible and to assist producers and ginners in every way possible to avoid any one's getting into trouble, still it behooves everyone to use proper care in all transactions involving exemption certificates. If it should come to the attention of the assistant in cotton adjustment that anyone has deliberately undertaken to defraud the government the case will be referred to the United States Department of Justice for investigation.

O. W. EWING, Assistant in Cotton Adjustment.

Operation of Bankhead Cotton Certificate Pool Is Explained

Cotton states whose production this year, according to official crop estimates, will exceed their Bankhead allotments will need to purchase only enough tax-exemption certificates to cover 421,223 bales of this extra production, whereas states whose production will be less than their Bankhead allotments will have for sale surplus certificates for the 1,639,474 bales difference between their production and their allotments. It was stated today by the agricultural adjustment administration.

Consequently, while every effort will be made to secure as large a return as possible for holders of excess cotton tax-exemption certificates, the agricultural adjustment administration reiterated today that it would be mathematically impossible for each certificate turned into the national surplus cotton tax-exemption certificate pool to net its owner anywhere near as much as $20 a bale.

This figure has been used by some persons in calculating the potential value of excess certificates in states which are not producing their Bankhead cotton allotment as it is the approximate selling price which has been set for certificates purchased through the pool by growers whose individual production will exceed their allotment. This price, four cents a pound, is approximately 70 per cent of the tax of 5.67 cents a pound imposed by the act on the ginning of cotton.

On the basis of the Sept. 1 cotton crop estimate, states with estimated cotton production below their Bankhead allotments and the indicated excess in one-bale certificates are: Florida, 1,683; Mississippi, 59,728; Louisiana, 89,028; Texas, 854,530; Oklahoma, 538,631; Arkansas, 241,669; Missouri, 34,205. Total, 1,639,474 certificates.

States with estimated cotton production above their Bankhead allotments and the indicated deficit in one-bale certificates are: Virginia, 6,177; North Carolina, 127,307; South Carolina, 100,791; Georgia, 58,346; Tennessee, 17,875; Alabama, 80,625; New Mexico, 13,305; Arizona, 13,463; California, 8,795; all other minor states, 4,539. Total, 431,223 certificates.

"This means there are nearly four times as many excess certificates available as will be needed to cover all of the cotton produced by states which are going to be above their allotments," Cully A. Cobb, chief of the cotton production section, agricultural adjustment administration, said.

"The government will not purchase any of these certificates, but all of the money taken in by the pool from the sale of surplus certificates will be distributed among producers who surrender certificates to the pool, after deducting expenses, and each producer will receive his share in the proportion that the poundage surrendered by him bears to the total poundage in the national pool. The surplus certificates that are not sold will be returned, on a similar pro rata basis, to the producers participating in the pool. They may be used next year in the event the Bankhead act is continued another season.

"For example, assume that all of the 1,639,474 indicated excess certificates are turned into the pool and that each of the 431,223 above quota bales of cotton is covered by a certificate purchased from the pool. At $20 a bale, which is what the four cents a pound approximates, for the 431,223 certificates, the pool would take in a total of $8,502,155. But it would still have on hand, unsold, 1,208,251 certificates which would have to be returned to their owners. Thus, the producer who turned in excess certificates would be paid approximately $20 for each bale sold, and not $20 a bale on all certificates turned into the pool as some have assumed. As already pointed out, each producer also would be returned his share of unsold certificates.

"This is on the assumption that all of the transactions involving the purchase and sale of cotton tax-exemption certificates will be made through the pool, but this is not expected to be the case because provision is made for sales between individuals within a county, through the county office, and also for the transfer of certificates from one farm to another, regardless of where the farms are located, so long as they are operated by the owner of the certificates. In addition, the tax itself may be paid on a small amount of the cotton ginned, and doubtless there will be a large number of farmers who will prefer to hold their excess certificates for use next year in the event the Bankhead act is continued.

"To illustrate in another way: If holders of surplus certificates should surrender certificates to the pool to the amount of 1,000,000 bales, and if the pool should sell one-third of these, each grower who surrendered certificates will receive $20 per bale for one-third of the certificates surrendered by him and the remaining two-thirds of unsold certificates will be returned to him.

"In the case of purchases and grower already hard hit by the drouth, whose certificate in its sales value was a measure of crop insurance. It will fall next on the business interests of the state because the farmer would have spent his money for commodities. And in the third place it will fall proportionately on all tax payers because the hard hit man and his family will the sooner be on public relief.

The board commented also on the falling off of the cotton market due in part, according to cotton exchange reports in current newspapers, to the conference in Washington and the published statement by Senator Bankhead in relation to suspending the operation of the act. The loss on a single day amounted to $7,500,000.

Corn-Hog Program Payments Pass the 86-Million Mark

Corn and hog producers have received about two-thirds of the first installment of approximately $133,000,000 due on their adjustment contracts, Dr. A. G. Black, chief of the corn-hog section of the agricultural adjustment administration, announced today in a preliminary report.

Thus far, payments totaling more than $86,220,880 have been made to 918,962 contract signers in 39 states.

Slightly more than three-fourths of the total of 1,200,000 contracts signed by farmers in the 1934 corn-hog program now have been received and released for payment by the rental benefit audit section of the agricultural adjustment administration. Through Sept. 20, a total of 13,259 early payment contracts had been received and released for payment to farmers in 522 counties, and 779,253 regular payment contracts had been approved for payment in 1822 counties. About 2,560 of the total of 3,070 counties in the United States are listed as participating in the 1934 corn-hog program. Contracts were signed in all of the 48 states.

Cumulative payments through Sept. 18 to producers in 39 states, are as follows: Alabama, $183,900.90; Arizona, $17,167; Arkansas, $329,133.20; California, $737,708.60; Colorado, $141,244.25; Connecticut, $2,001.75; Delaware, $12,883.85; Florida, $119,976.75; Georgia, $68,689.90; Idaho, $34,819.10; Illinois, $4,007,297.20; Indiana, $7,713,894.10; Iowa, $22,753,753,704.87; Kansas, $5,140,920.45; Maryland, $150,737.55; Massachusetts, $150,678.60; Michigan,

Patterson Advises Contract Signers

Cotton acreage reduction contract signers should not overlook the privilege of storing cotton and borrowing twelve cents per pound on it, stated county agent J. C. Patterson Wednesday. This cotton must carry tax paid tag and be stored in a bonded cotton warehouse. Co-op warehouses are located in Brownwood and Abilene and also the cotton may be shipped to any bonded warehouse cotton concern. Any and all lienholders must sign the storing papers.

This storage blank carries the customary consideration of no recourse on producer if the cotton when sold brings less than the amount of loan. This loan is only available to those who have executed cotton acreage reduction contracts and have complied with the contracts and only for cotton actually produced by such contract signers.

Wheat Farmers Will Get Checks On Crop Contracts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Distribution of about $70,000,000 to wheat farmers, the first benefit installment on the 1934 crop control contracts, will begin immediately George Farrell, chief of the AAA wheat section, said today.

Payments due farmers on the remainder of the 1933 benefits and the first 1934 installments total about $98,000,000. Compliance certificates are now being received in Washington in much better condition than earlier in the season and auditing will be more than rapid from now on, Farrell said.

Referendum for Eastland County Farmers on 1935 Corn-Hog Plan

Corn-hog contract signers in Eastland county will be asked to vote on the 1935 plan of the corn-hog section of the AAA according to word received here by County Agent J. C. Patterson, from E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine husbandman. The referendum is to be some time in October. Information as given by Patterson was as follows:

"Regenbrecht represented the Texas Extension Service in the AAA meeting held recently in Kansas City, where farmers and representatives from state agricultural colleges from Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas met to make recommendations for the next steps in the corn-hog program. The first question discussed at Kansas City and to be voted on by corn-hog contract signers is whether or not there shall be any sort of adjustment program in this field, Regenbrecht stated.

"The second point to be decided is whether the contract shall deal with corn only or hogs only or be a joint contract as in 1934.

"The third question will ask for preference on the type of contract which they wish to follow the 1935 program. This refers to a possible unified contract for the six basic grains: wheat, corn, rye, barley, grain sorghums and flax. It would represent a shift from several single crop contracts to a broad program of developing better systems of farming through less intensive use of land, conservation of soil resources, and use of land for those crops for which it is best adapted.

"The fourth question will be voted on only by those contract signers who are grain sorghum growers for grain. It will ask if they prefer that grain sorghums be included in the 1935 contract. The exact wording of the questions will be available at the time of the referendum.

"At Kansas City the voting was that benefit payments be made on both corn and hog, that the established 1932-33 base in the 1934 program for both corn and hogs be used, with benefit payments of $3 per head on 75 per cent of the 1932-33 hogs, and of 40 cents per bushel on the appraised yield of contracted corn acres; and that the growing of hogs be permitted up to 80 per cent or 85 per cent of the base, and corn acreage increased up to 75 per cent to 90 per cent of the base, the exact percentage to be optional. "Other recommendations made by the conference were that contracted corn acreage be used without restriction for hay, pasture, soil improvement, soil erosion prevention crops, following, or for forest plantings; that grain sorghums be included in the 1935 contract on the same basis as corn as to adjustments, benefits and tax; and that the base of processing tax be broadened to include other commodities in proportion to the benefits accruing to them from this program.

"It was also recommended that the plan for warehousing corn on the farm be continued and the same principle extended to other grains, and that the 1935 corn-hog contract be made a step toward a long-time contract program to begin in 1936. It was asked that the referendum be held during the month of October; that the questions be clarified and made more specific; and that the job be taken by unpaid workers."

"It must be remembered that these were merely recommendations to the AAA and that they may or may not be followed," Regenbrecht said.

Bids Opened On Government Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3.—The federal government opened bids today for the purchase of nearly 3,000,000 bales of cotton from the government pool. Oscar Johnson, pool manager for the AAA, was in charge.

The pool was made up of 1,950,000 bales owned by the government as the result of the acreage reduction campaign in 1933 and 800,000 bales carried over from the Hoover administration as a result of its loans in 1930 and 1931.

Remember The Facts In Planting Your Fall Crops

Cabbage and lettuce seeds should be started in a small protected spot. In three weeks the plants will be enough for transplanting permanent location in the garden.

Lice are often troublesome fall gardeners but they can be easily avoided by planting chard and the Shogoin type of turnip which is immune to bug damage.

Tiny worms which attack cabbage plants can be killed by the following mixture tested by the U. S. department of agriculture: 1 1/2 pound green and 1 pound potato soap to 16 gallons of water. This spray can be applied to leafy vegetables that are feeding upon and will effect control. There is no danger in the mixture to the human body will kill the bugs.

Sprouting of Irish potatoes hastened and insured by treating them with a chemical ethylene chlorhydrin. They are cut in the ordinary way eight hours before they are planted and then are dipped in solution made by mixing 1/2 gallon of ethylene chlorhydrin in eight gallons of water. The potatoes should remain in the solution long enough to become the wet. One quart of ethylene chlorhydrin in eight gallons of water is sufficient to treat 10 bushels of Irish potatoes. As soon as potatoes are treated, they should be planted immediately.

An average family of five can get a half-acre garden.

Recalling the latest statistics, it won't be long scalpers will be selling seats to every Hollywood picture.

RAILROAD HISTORY entered a new phase as the Burlington's "Zephyr" flashed across the Great Plains from Denver to Chicago in 13 hours and 5 minutes—1015 miles in 785 minutes—to set a whole flock of new records! Jack Ford was at the throttle. Below he tells what the long, nonstop trip felt like, and what Camels meant to him after it was over.

COLLEGE STUDENT. "Camels never upset my nerves," says John Birgel. "When mental fatigue sets in, I just smoke another Camel and soon have the energy to concentrate again."

A PLEASURE that drives away fatigue and listlessness!

Jack Ford, crack Burlington engineer, says: "When the 'Zephyr' rolled to a stop at Chicago, I'd been through a lot of excitement and strain and felt pretty much used up. But a Camel quickly gave me a 'lift' and I felt O.K."

"Most railroad engineers prefer Camels. And Camels help to increase their energy when they feel worn out. I've smoked a lot of Camels in my time, and that goes for me—all the way."

Everyone is subject to strain—whether physical, mental, or emotional. So it's important to know that Camels do release your stored-up energy.

Centennial Is Facing Legislative Trouble In Future

By VERNON A. MCGEE
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—The Texas centennial commission faces some rough political weather before the state may hang up a "welcome" sign in 1936 and open the gates to its celebration of 100 years of independence.

Centennial commissioners requested a state appropriation for the celebration when legislators were in their third extraordinary session last month to provide winter relief for destitute unemployed.

The house of representatives answered by adopting a resolution calling for a popular referendum Nov. 6 on a $5,000,000 centennial appropriation.

The senate defeated the referendum proposal, thereby saving the centennial commission a severe rebuke, by a margin of only one vote. That vote, changed from "aye" to "no" only after considerable pleading, sufficed to indicate rough weather ahead.

Many legislators believed the referendum would have been fatal to the centennial project; that Texas voters would not approve a $5,000,000 appropriation when the state already faces a $14,000,000 deficit. Relief of hungry, destitute persons already has required all but $3,500,000 of the state-wide $20,000,000 bond issue voted last year.

Refused an immediate appropriation, and threatened with a referendum that might have meant a mandate against any appropriation at all, centennial commissioners retired in good order.

They are expected to renew their request for an immediate appropriation this month, when a fourth special session of the legislature is scheduled. Meanwhile, the centennial is courting popular sentiment to back up the request for state aid.

Governor Ferguson may not submit the topic. She herself is a centennial advocate. But the legislature did not intend for the centennial commission to return for help until January, 1935.

"It shall be the duty of the commission at the regular session of the 44th legislature to make a report in January, 1935, of all activities in progress made up to that time . . ." the legislature declared in creating the centennial commission last February.

Another section of the law directed that the central exposition be located in the city offering the largest financial inducement.

At that point also the centennial commission faces rough weather, unless public opinion comes to its aid. The central centennial exposition was awarded Dallas. Exact amount and nature of Dallas' bid has never been divulged, but has been reported at various amounts between $7,000,000 and $9,000,000.

Several legislators suspect that valuation placed on state fair buildings at Dallas were hiked to make the aggregate bid the highest of the three received by the commission. Legislators propose to examine all bids when the centennial commission reports to the regular session of the legislature.

THRILLING MYSTERY DRAMA IS COMING TO LYRIC THEATRE SUNDAY

"The Dragon Murder Case," the latest of the murder mystery dramas from the pen of the peerless author, S. S. Van Dine, to be dramatized for the screen opens at the Lyric theatre Sunday.

The picture is said to be the most bizarre as well as the most baffling of all the novels of the famous author, involving as it

Crawford and Clark Gable win new laurels for their already glistening crowns.

For "Chained" is an excellent picture, expertly mounted, directed and acted.

Clarence Brown, who gave us "Sadie McKee," Joan's last, is also responsible for the splendid direction and pace of the new picture.

As Diane, modern Manhattan miss, Joan Crawford brings a new and vivid characterization to the screen. Clark Gable holds up his end with more than sufficient skill and charm as Mike, likable young rancher in South America.

The supporting cast is equally fine, with Otto Kruger as Mr. Field, the "other man" in the case; Stuart Erwin in the role of Johnnie, wise cracking friend; Una O'Connor as the sympathetic companion, and Marjorie Gatenon in the role of Mrs. Field.

But excellent as all other phases of the production are, chief honors go to the co-stars who, brilliantly cast, turn in performances that compare well with the finest screen characterizations of the year.

George Folsey outdoes himself with the photography, and the same thing can well be said of the striking Adrian gowns, which are much in prominence.

The story was written especially for the screen by Edgar Selwyn and was adapted by John Lee Mahin.

Sunday will be the Twentieth Sunday after Pentecost. The Epistle read is taken from St. Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians V. 15-21; the Gospel is from St. John IV. 46-53. In this gospel there is an account of how Christ cured a boy in Capernaum at the request of the boy's father, who evidently believed in Christ as being honest and truthful. The miracle converted the father and the whole household. This miracle is does a series of mysterious crimes apparently committed by some prehistoric monster.

It is not until Philo Vance, in the person of Warren William, comes to the scene that the strange murders are finally solved and the slayer brought to justice. William is a new Philo Vance, though the parts of Sergt. Heath and District Attorney Markham are again carried by Eugene Palette and Robert McWade, respectively. Etienne Girardot also will be seen again in the person of the quain and querulous Dr. Doremus.

Margaret Lindsay has the leading feminine role, the fiancée of the first man murdered, and suspected of the crime because she is in love with another of her guests, a part played by Lyle Talbot, who also comes under the scrutiny of the police.

Six other persons are also suspected, including Robert Barrat, owner of the estate, his mother who advances the dragon theory, a part played by Helen Lowell, Dorothy Tree, George E. Stone, William Davidson, guests and Arthur Aylesworth who plays the role of the butler.

Centennial Brings Out High Points In Texas History

DALLAS, Tex.—Details of how the President of Texas was notified of the decisive victory, gained at San Jacinto, a battle that realized the independence of Texas, constitutes an interesting side-light in connection with the Centennial, which in 1936 will be commemorated by celebrations at San Antonio, Houston, Galia, Brenham, Nacogdoches, Huntsville, Dallas and cities associated with the early history of the State.

David G. Burnet, the first provisional President of Texas, for safety's sake had moved with several members of his Cabinet to Galveston Island, and while the battle took place April 21, 1836, the President did not learn of the victory until six days later.

News of the victory was carried by Robert J. Calder, who commanded Company K in Burleson's regiment in the battle, and Judge B. C. Franklin, accompanied by two soldiers. Their only means of transportation was a leaky skiff, which they rowed and towed sleeping a night with difficulty and having a hard time getting anything to eat.

On the fifth day, they rowed alongside the war schooner "Invincible," the commander of which fired a cannon three times to celebrate the news of victory. The messengers partook liberally of the best liquor on the ship and then were taken to the "Independence," the flagship of Commodore Hawkins, who fired a cannon thirteen times and wine and dined the messengers. He then advised them to go and tell President Burnet the news, which the executive received in his tent the sixth day after the battle. It is said that the President was "miffed" that everybody on the island knew that the victory had been won before he was informed.
