

EAGLES SMASH MAVS FOR 32 TO 7 VICTORY

Ahlene High School Eagles came to Eastland and left with a 32 to 7 victory over the Mavericks Friday afternoon.

The Eagles scored once each in the first three quarters and twice in the final period. Eastland made their score in the third period.

Eastland's sparkling plays were intermittent. Yardage of small consequence was not to be gained by ground plays and aerial plays with a few exceptions were of no avail.

Despite reports of an injured leg, Moser, backfield ace of the Eagles, played the entire game.

Eastland threatened in the first quarter when Sikes carried the Ahlens kick-off from approximately the Mavericks' 10 yard line to the Ahlens 21-yard stripe.

The Eagles defense bottled up the Mavericks and Ahlens, after an exchange of punts had the ball on their 35-yard-line. Couch made a series of first downs and went to the Eastland 22. Nearing the goal and in a position to score, Moser, took the ball, and with Harris on the next play, went to the Eastland 15-yard line. Harris went through center for the Ahlensians' first score and Herman made the extra tally.

The visitors scored again in the final portion of the second as Moser carried the ball over after gains of Couch and Harris. Herman failed to convert.

In the early part of the third quarter, Couch carried the ball from Eastland's 20-yard line. A sneak run from the 15-yard line through right tackle by Couch brought the visitors third touchdown. Herman failed to convert.

Designation of the area as a metropolitan park instead of a state park is preferable, Congressman Blanton advised.

Control of the state park would be in the hands of state officials, the speaker explained.

Blanton praised work of the CCC, interpreted appropriation of the recent work funds instead of "dole" money as heartening, indicated business was on an upturn and invited solicitation for aid he might render for his constituents.

John Cox, president of the Booster Club, advised.

From Eastland attending was a group including Chamber of Commerce Secretary H. C. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Jones.

Stars of Yesteryear Charity Grid Game Planned by Eastland, Ranger

Plans for a charity football game to be played either in Ranger or Eastland or possibly both, with ex-high school or college stars as players, are being promulgated by Earl Conner, Jr., of Eastland.

Tentative date of the charity game has been set as Dec. 8, Conner stated.

Endorsed by the Civic League, the fire department and other organizations, the plan is meeting with response by similar groups in Ranger, Conner stated.

Plans call for Eastland's share of receipts to be used for a community-wide Christmas tree, with fruits, toys for all children.

If Ranger organizations approve of the plan, its share of the proceeds would go for charity, plans indicate.

Johnny Kitchen, Eastland mentor, would be coach of the Eastland group and also see action as a player.

"There are many people who would give a dollar to see Buster Mills play again," Conner declared as indicative of drawing interest ex-stars in Eastland and Ranger have for fans.

SMU Has Won Only One TCU Game In Past Seven Years

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26.—Only once since 1927 have the Southern Methodist Mustangs succeeded in defeating the Texas Christian Horned Frogs. That victory came last year and was a smashing one for the Methodists—19 to 0.

The last seven games have produced four Frog victories, two ties, and one Mustang win.

The two schools have met on the gridiron 17 times, the series beginning back in 1915 with S. M. U.'s first eleven. The competition began with the Christians, with some 18 years of football behind them, holding a strong upper hand for the first few years.

Then S. M. U. began to turn out winning teams, and the Ponies carried along for several years with a series of victories. The last several years have favored the Frogs.

The summary shows 17 games played, eight victories for T. C. U., six victories for S. M. U., and three ties. The all-time score is: T. C. U. 215, S. M. U. 130.

The record by years: 1915—T. C. U. 42, S. M. U. 0. 1916—T. C. U. 43, S. M. U. 3. 1917—T. C. U. 21, S. M. U. 0. 1918—T. C. U. 0, S. M. U. 1 (forfeit).

Pensions Bring Up Some Novel Ideas

AUSTIN.—Old age pension discussion, particularly the talk of what to do with men placed on the shelf, has led to the intriguing suggestion that the state constitution be changed to raise the age requirement for governor and members of the legislature. The suggestion is to require that they be men or women who have acquired the wisdom and experience of 65 years. Now the governor may be only 30; a legislator is qualified as to age at 21.

LOYALISTS OF ARGENTINA ON COUNTER MOVE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 26.—A merciless attack by infantry, artillery and bombing airplanes against rebels in Pernambuco and Natal was believed imminent today.

A wireless appeal for surrender was broadcast to the rebels. The government has ordered Gov. Manuel Rebelles in supreme command of loyal forces, to suppress the revolt and government information from the disaffected area was that rebels was ready to attack.

Two cruisers steamed north to aid the loyalist forces. Navy and army planes, infantry and police proceeded them as re-enforcements for loyalists. Messages said rebels in Natal and Pernambuco still were in a defiant mood. There had been hand-to-hand fighting in other towns.

Blow Is Dealt to Processing Tax By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The United States supreme court dealt a severe blow to the New Deal farm and fiscal programs today by granting the plea of Louisiana rice millers for an injunction against processing taxes under the AAA amendment.

The returning head of the House of Glücksburg, the first deposed monarch to recover a throne since the World War, had taken his first step on Greek soil a few hours earlier at Phaleron, four miles from Athens.

When he left the cruiser which brought him from Italy to Greece he was greeted by Prince Paul, his uncle; Gen. George Kondylis, who has been acting as regent since the Nov. 3 plebiscite restored the monarchy, and a large group of national officials.

CLASHES ARE FEARED OVER NORTH CHINA

SHANGHAI, China, Nov. 25.—Serious fighting between Chinese and Japanese troops seemed certain today if the government sends additional troops to Hopei province to suppress autonomists.

The foreign office statement issued at Nanking to the effect the government would not tolerate the new autonomous government in the demilitarized zone, added that counter-measures were contemplated.

It was not explained, however, whether they would be of a military character. The Japanese have declared that dispatch of Chinese troops is violation of an agreement reached following the crisis last June.

POLITICAL WRITER FINDS MAINE AGAINST NEW DEAL

Editor's Note: Lyle Wilson, ace political reporter of the United Press, is touring the country recording present times. His first trip was into the Maine potato country, which is vitally interested in the potato control act. In the following dispatch, the first of a series Wilson reports reaction to this pivotal political reaction.

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1935, United Press)
ROULTON, Maine.—Maine is a hot potato these days—too hot for the New Deal to handle.

Old Dennis Sheehan told me they'd live on a crust of bread around here before they'd vote democratic. Dennis is about 80 and an old-time Democratic leader in Arrostook county.

He teetered back in his rocker in "The Handy Store"—D. Sheehan, Prop." as he discussed the current political situation in Maine.

Sheehan sells a strictly cheap and unostentatious stock of all-day jackets, bulk candy and canned goods.

He thinks the nation will go for Roosevelt next year, but that Maine will vote for the Republican nominee for president—any Republican nominee. A few drills up and down toward the railroad yards where the potato warehouses stand row on row indicates that old Dennis is not far wrong on Maine. This north country likes Col. Frank Knox or Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas for President after next November.

Tammy Again Slips In the Back Way

When the gent over at the corner table gets too noisy and starts spilling his beer, it is a simple matter to take him by the neck and throw him out. Unfortunately, it often is much more of a job to keep him from sneaking back in again a little later.

All this is brought to mind by a study of the recent city elections in New York. These indicate that Tammany Hall, with its derby tilted down over its left eye in the good old tradition, is on the verge of making a comeback—at the expense, as usual, of the good citizens of the town.

Tammany succeeded in capturing 14 aldermanic seats in this last election. That in itself may not mean so much—Fiorello LaGuardia never did have the solid two-thirds majority that he needed on the board of oldermen—but it seems to indicate that history, with the help of the boys in the back room, is about to repeat itself.

For Tammany, which has been the horrible example for American reformers ever since the days of mustache cups and high-wheeled bicycles, always does come back. The indignant customers have tossed the tiger out of the joint about once every 20 years for generations, and he always has come back for more.

Like the Salvation Army's pet clients, he may be down, but he is never out.

Now all this is a pretty sad commentary on the fate of reform movements in American city politics, but there is nothing in the least mysterious about it. A writer of holy scripture some 20 centuries ago called the turn when he remarked that the sons of this world are frequently wiser than the children of light. That is as true in modern America as it was in ancient Judea.

The secret of the whole thing is that Tammany, or any other political machine, keeps working. Politics is not a sanctified and emotional game, to the machine; it is a job which has to be worked at, day in and day out.

The votes that elect city officials are cast by living, flesh-and-blood human beings, and the outfit that corrals the most human beings gets the most votes (barring undue shenanigans at the polling places). This is the point that Tammany never forgets.

Taxpayers Burdened By Officeholders

When Scheherazade of Arabian Nights' fame, was trying to think of enough tall tales to keep her husband from having her head cut off at the break of dawn, she told him about the Old Man of the Sea.

The Old Man of the Sea was a tenacious individual who had a way of jumping on the shoulders of perfect strangers and compelling them to give him free transportation. Once he got on, there was no getting him off; he stuck and enjoyed the ride until his human steed could go no farther.

Now Scheherazade flourished 'way back in the days of ancient Bagdad, but her story has a very modern ring, and the American taxpayer can listen to it with a sad smile of recognition; for if ever there was a person who is ridden by the Old Man of the Sea, it is this same taxpayer.

Wherever he goes, the taxpayer carries on his shoulders a flock of officeholders, and he could very profitably get rid of a great many of them if they didn't have their knees cemented firmly against his short ribs.

Forget, for the moment, about the vast horde in Washington, and the lesser hordes in each state capital, and think only of the local county seat. It probably is no exaggeration whatever to say that at least half of the county officers in this republic are completely unnecessary and would be cut off the payroll forthwith if our system of local government were even 50 per cent efficient.

For one thing, we have far too many counties. In this day of autos and paved roads, a state which contains three dozen counties could combine them into eight or ten without working any real hardship on anyone. The horse and buggy era made small counties necessary; the modern age makes them utterly useless.

It is self-evident that a slight extension of the state police idea would completely do away with the need for sheriffs, deputies, and small-town constables.

If it be objected that deputy sheriffs have such essential duties as the serving of legal papers to perform, it can only be replied that Uncle Sam's registered mail would do that job quite as efficiently and infinitely more cheaply.

We have county auditors and treasurers and assessors, each with his own staff, when one office could very well do the work of all three. We have vestigial remnants, such as coroners.

We have, to top everything, the fact that 99 per cent of these offices are grossly over-staffed, due to the requirements of party politics.

The needless officeholder is the modern Old Man of the Sea. The taxpayer patiently lugs him around and pays through the nose for the privilege.

Some day, let us hope, the taxpayer will get wise, pitch the Old Man into the nearest ditch—and discover that he can govern himself for about half of the present cost.

A hearty laugh is often as good, if not better, than a hearty meal.

Drive Starts to Revitalize The Pacific Coast Trade

SAN FRANCISCO.—Granting of charter to the United Trans-Pacific-Latin American Association under the California non-profit law marked the beginning of a vigorous American movement to revitalize Pacific export and import trade.

One of the first announced aims of the association was to throw its united influence toward an early restoration of international monetary stability.

Leaders said they also planned to seek to devise practical means of modernizing and adjusting present "obsolete" foreign credit machinery to serve adequately present day requirements.

The formation of the association was described by sponsors as the outgrowth of a nationwide non-political movement among business leaders "who believe that the revival of international trade is indispensable to permanent recovery and restored prosperity."

Others States to Aid The movement was said to be sponsored by governors of 35 states as well as by commercial, industrial and agricultural interests.

Activities of the association will be directed especially to developing sound trade relations and business friendships with Latin America, Australia, Japan, China, Russia, Canada, Mexico, and all countries bordering on the Pacific, officials said.

Gov. Frank F. Merriam, in accepting membership and honorary chairmanship of the Board of Governors, said:

"The promotion of business friendship and better understanding between America and her neighbors bordering the Pacific is in accord with my views."

Seek Tariff Revision The organization sounded a firm note in announcing its objectives. Those objectives included the "use of combined force and influence in support of governmental and other efforts to progressively readjust the international discriminatory tariffs, quotas, exchange controls and other restrictive barriers which, by paralyzing and obstructing the normal channels of foreign commerce have contributed largely to the collapse of world trade."

The association will maintain expert business commissioners in foreign countries to develop exports and imports and to initiate mutually advantageous larger transactions designed to liquidate America's surpluses.

Active negotiations for the release and liquidation of existing frozen foreign commercial important phase of the association's immediate work, it was said.

Exporters Want Backing It also will attempt to obtain government backing for foreign trade interests to aid them in competition abroad. Members of the association pointed out that support to exporters.

California incorporators and directors include Albert D. Pearce, of Los Angeles; John MacGinnis, of Beverly Hill, and Emory E. Smith, of San Francisco.

Pacific Coast headquarters will be maintained in Los Angeles and San Francisco. Eastern offices are at 30 Broad Street, New York City.

ALIBI PROVED FOR SUSPECT IN KIDNAPING

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The past-off husband of 17-year-old Mrs. Mary Philpot established an alibi today that eliminated him from connection with the kidnaping and slaying of Leroy Smith, friend of Mrs. Philpot, who was found shot to death Thursday near her home in the Sleepy Hollow country.

Police said Luth Philpot proved beyond doubt he was in New York city at the time Young Smith was held captive and killed. The alibi left detectives without a hint of means to identify and trace the slayer.

Philpot was questioned almost 24 hours because Smith, apparent-

Longshoremen May Get Strike Settled

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Prospects for settlement of the 10,000 Gulf longshoremen appeared good, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins said today.

The conciliation board appointed Saturday by Miss Perkins met today to discuss differences which have tied up shipping at 13 Gulf ports since early October.

Police said Luth Philpot proved beyond doubt he was in New York city at the time Young Smith was held captive and killed. The alibi left detectives without a hint of means to identify and trace the slayer.

C. of C. to Move To New Quarters By December 1st

At a short meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, held in the office of the secretary Monday night, the directors voted to move to the second story of the Hodges-Neal building, in quarters to be made available by D. Joseph, owner of the building.

The move, which was approved after some discussion on the subject, is to be made about Dec. 1.

Henry Davenport, commissioner of the Ranger precinct, met with the directors and reported on several road projects in his precinct which have been approved by WPA officials and others which are expected to be approved in the very near future.

Work has started on the Lone Cedar road, with work to include permanent drainage structures, all bridges to be of concrete and the road to be given a rock base with gravel topping.

Work is expected to start soon on the Cheaney road and the connecting-road between Lone Cedar and Cheaney as well as on the road north of Olden to the Breckenridge road and on the Caddo road, Davenport reported. All these projects have not been given final approval, as yet, but are expected to be acted upon favorably by the WPA heads in a short time.

Routine business filled the remainder of the meeting time.

New Department Failed to Halt Lynching Party

By United Press
 AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas' new department of public safety failed to equal the record of the old state rangers in giving Texas a lynchingless year.
 The old-time Rangers would consider it slight excuse that the Columbus lynching was a surprise affair and accomplished before the department was notified. Former Adjutant General (Ranger Bill) Sterling hung up his clean score against lynching by out-thinking mobs.

"The time to break up a mob is before it starts," was Sterling's motto. He told his men to be on the look-out for trouble. When something occurred in a community that might cause a mob, he got Rangers there quickly and quietly. The Rangers' presence dampened the enthusiasm of those who might plan mob action.

How the Columbus lynching could have been avoided under Sterling's system is apparent. It was common knowledge that two negro youths had been taken to Houston for safe-keeping after a white girl had been attacked and murdered, and were to be returned for trial. Sterling would have notified Houston and Columbus officers to let him know when the transfer was to be made.

Demonstration of Chambers Ranges Will Be Conducted

A cooking demonstration, using the famous Chambers wonder range, is to be staged next Wednesday afternoon by the Ranger Furniture Exchange in the building formerly occupied by the Robinson Auto Supply Company.

W. F. Ehleert, representative of the Chambers company, will be in Ranger to conduct the demonstration, to which all the women in this part of the county are cordially invited to attend. No admission charge is to be made.

One of the features of the Chambers range is that one can cook in the oven with the gas turned off by retained heat. Ehleert will demonstrate this new departure in cooking at the demonstration Wednesday afternoon as well as many other advantages to be found in the Chambers stove, which has been especially designed for the woman who wants beauty and modern simplicity, but who demands a generous cooking capacity and every new feature, and occupying a small space.

This year Chevrolet has two very good reasons for saying, "Thank you, America."
 One reason is that people have bought so many Chevrolet cars that production for the year will reach 1,040,000.
 And the other reason is that they have placed a record number of orders for new 1936 Chevrolets during the first few weeks they have been on display.

Laughton, Gable in 'Mutiny on the Bounty'

Descendants of H. M. S. Bounty Crew Dub Grapevine Mayor 'Texas Uncle'

Descendants of mutineers in one of the most famous mutinies of the seven seas have found a friend thousands of miles from their home on Pitcairn Island in the Pacific. He is Mayor B. R. Wall of Grapevine, dubbed "Texas Uncle" by the grateful natives of that tiny speck in the ocean.

Mayor Wall became interested in these people about 20 years ago when he learned about them from sailors in Charleston, S. C. The sailors told him the natives appreciated gifts of newspapers and magazines so Wall sent them some. Gradually he began corresponding with various members of the colony of brown-skinned descendants of English and Tahitian stock. Then he began acting as legal advisor to some members of the colony, which numbers 205.

"They are a hobby of mine," he declared. "They still are a primitive people, but are highly appreciative of what is done for them."

Mayor Wall's friend in Grapevine will tell you the islanders have been a rather expensive hobby for him through the years, however. The natives send woven baskets and trinkets to Mayor Wall and he somehow manages to dispose of them and send money to the makers in return. He also sends clothing and other necessities.

Travelers are surprised to find watermelons growing on this volcanic island. They would not be if they knew that Wall sent watermelon seeds to the colony, as well as okra seeds and tomato plants.

"I receive letters from all over the world concerning the Pitcairn Islanders," Wall said. "Many magazine articles also have been written, as well as books. These people are descendants of nine members of the crew of the British ship 'Bounty' which set sail from England about 150 years ago. The vessel was sent to Tahiti to obtain bread fruit trees, which were to be transferred to the West Indies.

"The Bounty was commanded by Lieut. William Bligh, an English naval officer, who was brutal in his discipline. The ship arrived safely in Tahiti despite much grumbling by the crew. After the trees were loaded, the Bounty set sail in April, 1789, for Jamaica.

"The crew mutinied several days later under leadership of Fletcher Christian, master's mate. Eighteen men who refused to join the mutiny were cast adrift in a small boat with Bligh. How these castaways finally arrived at Timor, near Java, after a 3,618-mile voyage is one of the most remarkable stories of the sea.

"The Bounty, in the meantime, went back to Tahiti. Nine mutineers, with 18 natives of Tahiti—six men and 12 women, then started in the Bounty for Pitcairn Island, which they reached in 1790. They took their valuables off the ship and burned her. The hulk of this famous vessel can be seen today in Bounty Bay and the rudder has been recovered from the sea and is on display in the colony.

"There was much strife on the island, but the community finally developed a religion of its own, later becoming adherents to the Church of England. The majority of them now, however, are Seventh Day Adventists.

"I never have visited Pitcairn Island, but I have talked with people who have and I have read much about the islanders. They are a hardy people and are gentle despite their rough appearance. Their strongest word is 'please,' a strong contrast to the language their mutineering ancestors undoubtedly employed."

"Mutiny on the Bounty," which will open an engagement Saturday at the Arcadia Theatre is based on a book of the same title by James Norman Hall and Charles Nordhoff, a best seller. Clark Gable appears in the film as Christian and Charles Laughton as Bligh.

"I understand," Mayor Wall said, "that the Pitcairn Islanders resent some of the incidents depicted in the book, just as present-day Indians might object to showing scenes of Indians scalping white men."

This reporter read several letters written by islanders to Mayor Wall and it is easy to see why they call him "Uncle Texas" and why he has made them his hobby. Maybe it is the pirate in him!

Rear Admiral Says Battleship Is Still Backbone of Fleet

HOUSTON.—The battleship, despite rapid developments of other implements of war, continues to be the backbone of a fleet, in the view of Rear Admiral E. B. Fenner, Boston, commandant of the Eighth Naval District.

Admiral Fenner, who visited Houston as representative of Secretary of Navy Claude G. Swanson to the annual meeting of the American Association of Port Authorities, said the United States must have battleship parity for adequate defense.

"I have been through three distinct periods of naval evolution," he said, "during which many said the battleship was an obsolete vessel."

AT COLUMBIA SATURDAY

William Boyd in "The Eagle's Brood," which comes to the Columbia Theatre Saturday only.

"First, there was the torpedo boat. They said a torpedo boat was better than a battleship.

"Next, it was the submarine. The statement often was made that one submarine rendered one battleship helpless.

"Now it's the airplane. But the airplane is merely an adjunct to a fleet and nothing ever will replace the battleship because the navy needs the battleship's gunpower."

Admiral Fenner said that no fixed number of ships could defend adequately the United States' coastline if another nation developed greater strength.

"Everything in naval work is relative. Under the last treaty, the program of the United States provided for an adequate naval defense. However, it appears that Japan intends to obtain naval parity and have as many or more ships than we have.

"We cannot see why, under existing conditions, Japan needs as large a navy as the United States," he said.

The only limit to a "wide open" naval building race between nations, he said, is the length of each nation's "purse strings."
