SCHOOL ORDER DISSOLVED BY 91ST COURT

An injunction granted recently to restrain the county school superintendent from recording to their minutes any order rescinding the detachment by the group of Dan Horn and Nimrod from the Scranton consolidated school district was dissolved by Judge G. L. Davenport this week, attorneys and court records disclosed Saturday.

County Supt. C. S. Eldridge indicated the school controversy would be ironed out by the county board.

In connection with dissolving the temporary injunction, Judge Davenport said:

"In dissolving the temporary injunction granted June 3 restraining the school board and county superintendent from recording the order of the county board rescinding the order of June 4, 1934, which, if enforced, would have placed Dan Horn and Nimrod schools back into the Scranton consolidated school district, and heard in the 91st court June 14, the court has reserved its decision pending further information on the case. The decision to dissolve the temporary injunction was arrived at after finding by the court that it was the intention of the state superintendent to remand the case for determination to the county school board, instead of dismissing the appeal, leaving the 91st district court without jurisdiction in the premises."

Previous to his decision to dissolve the injunction, Judge Davenport discussed the history of the case since the disagreement between the schools composing the Scranton consolidated school district was formed, and conclusions reached during the several trials of the case in the 91st court. He said:

"About four years ago there was an attempt to merge three or four schools, including Dan Horn, Nimrod, Scranton, Haskell and Atwell, but it developed in these hearings that two of the schools, Haskell and Atwell never joined the consolidation.

"Later by petition Dan Horn and Nimrod sought to be released from the consolidation, which was acquiesced in by the county school board, whose order was just as binding as that of the district court. This action made it necessary for the Scranton school board to appeal the case. Two avenues were open, direct to the state superintendent or to the district court. Scranton perfected its appeal direct to the state superintendent, and during the appeal it was understood that Dan Horn and Nimrod was out of the consolidation. The state superintendent delayed his final decision, but at one time, it is understood, he reversed the ruling of the county board, but rescinded, and promised the parties to the appeal a rehearing. However, he failed to act for six or eight months. Last April he is purported to have dispensed of the case. Instead of entering an order on his minutes as was proper, he contented himself with writing letters stating his holdings to the opposing litigants, which were susceptible of different constructions. It being important to determine whether or not he left the order of dissolution by the county board in effect, or whether or not it was his intention to remand the case to the county board for further action.

"In order to supply this information has been the cause of the delay in reaching a decision. If it was the intention of the state superintendent to remand the case to the county board for action, then the district court is without jurisdiction to hear or determine the controversy between the parties. Litigants in this case."

Recently the Carbon Peanut company has acquired additional properties in Eastland for storage purposes, in anticipation of continued increases in business. During the pecan season they use their plant for grading and shelling purposes. Thousands of dollars are paid by this firm to growers of products in this entire section of the state as well as purchases that are made from South Texas to meet the demands of their customers.

Another fast rodeo for Monday, Trades Day, is promised by H. C. Davis, Chamber of Commerce secretary.

Prizes will total many times over what has been offered in the past, the Chamber of Commerce secretary stated Wednesday. "Merchandise is being given by merchants to winners of the rodeo."

"I have received notification of many outstanding rodeo performers of this section stating that they will be at the premier rodeo event of this section," Davis stated.

"Our rodeo grounds on North Seaman street and all equipment is in good shape."

Davis stated invitations have been mailed rodeo contestants who live in towns which include the following: Morton Valley, Breckenridge, Ranger, Cisco, Baird and Carbon.

"The show Monday will be one of the snappiest presented to date," Davis stated. "Wild broncs will test the mettle of prospective riders."

Carbon Peanut Company Has Developed Into One of County's Largest and Leading Industries

Peanuts by the peck. Peanuts by the bushel. Peanuts by the carload and peanuts by the two whole warehouses full. That's the story when the Carbon Peanut company is running in full blast.

During the past week a visit to this plant, one of the most interesting in the county and an industry that adds to the payroll in a big way, was made while the plant was in full operation.

The two men who operate the Carbon Peanut company, G. C. Adkins and H. Flowers, are men of unusual ability and foresight and from a small beginning have built up a plant that is composed of two buildings of 19,046 square feet besides other nearby buildings under lease for storage purposes. The buildings are equipped with every facility to handle the peanuts for shipping purposes to manufacturers of peanut products.

Mrs. S. M. Flowers, who is proud of the fact that she grew up with the industry, in her charming and graceful manner and a full knowledge of what it was all about, took the visitors through the entire plant.

Twenty girls, the first sight that greeted the visitors in what is termed the culling room. Here three large belt carriers glide the shelled peanuts along while the girls with nimble fingers pick out all the bad ones. The number two grade was first on the job. Later the number one grade was being culled.

Wondering where it all started and where it ended, Mrs. Flowers took the visitors to the beginning. There large hoppers of large capacity were feeding the peanuts in their shells to the shellers. After they start they are never touched and keep going back and forth three times for thoroughly shelling and cleaning. Dust blowers take out every particle of dirt and other foreign substance. After all this is done by machinery they go back down to the first floor and are sacked according to grade.

In a large building close by is the equipment for making peanut ground feed from the shells. Here it is fed from a blower from the shelling building and the big hoppers feed it to the grinders and it is mixed with a proportion of molasses according to the wishes of the customer. It is then sacked and is ready for the cow. In this building there is also equipment for grinding peanut hay, which eliminates the danger of injuring cattle by sand and other substances.

In addition to the big peanut factory Adkins and Flowers have large tracts of land on which they grow peanuts, blackeyed peas, popcorn, pinto beans and regular field corn. They expect to add facilities for taking care of blackeyed peas and pinto beans if the crop and market justifies. A visit to the farm gives one an insight as to how really energetic, efficient and worth while these men are to the county and state in general.

Oversize Loads Can Be Authorized at Eastland In Future

J. D. Blankenship of the State Highway department, who is stationed at Eastland, announced Wednesday that he had received blanks and authorization to grant permits on oversize and overweight truck loads.

This service has been available at Brownwood and Abilene in the past, and truckers who needed to carry larger loads than the law allowed without a permit, were forced to go to one of the two towns for the permit.

Truckers in this section can now secure these permits in Eastland, saving much time, expense and trouble.

Boy Who Will Not Chew Lives 20 Years Without Any Meat

PHILADELPHIA.—Douglas Baker, 20, never has bitten into a juicy steak or a sweet apple. He is known as "the boy who will not chew."

Since an infant, Douglas' diet has been only liquids. He has lived on milk, orange juice, tea, coffee and cornstarch—but physicians hope to correct the strange malady. Douglas is only 5 feet, 3 inches tall and weighs only 99 pounds. "I play all the sports the other boys do," he said. "I play baseball, football and swim. I'm not so good at running, but I manage to get through the ball at a football game." The youth revealed that he was sick for four years when a baby and "had to be carried around on a pillow."

"Maybe I got used to having only fluids, and I've never gotten over it," he said. "I'm crazy about milk. But I don't like cream." Physicians said the youth's case is unusual, but in "no means" unique. They pointed out that life can be maintained for many years on the proper variety of fluids.

PERSONAL LIBERTY AND LAW

Temperance Lesson
Romans: 14:13-21; I Cor. 8:9-13

Paul wrote the letter to the Romans from Corinth during his three months' stay in Greece in the course of his third missionary tour A. D. 57. As he preached in the beautiful but wicked city he must have observed deeply into the lives of his converts.

He saw many go as a social courtesy and eat meat that had been offered to idols. They themselves said, "It is not evil to eat this meat because idols are only stone and wood," and took no thought for the new convert, who was still weak and abhorred the "tainted" meat.

He must have seen, studied and analyzed human nature until he knew that the demand for personal liberty was its chief attribute.

His picture of the convert swagging off to the feast in the wicked heathen temples is also the picture of the disloyal Christian today who says, "I will have my 'personal liberty.' I will answer to one but God," and fails to study God's word and falls into the clutches of the devil in ignorance.

But how different is the Christian who walks after God. Love for all humans is in his heart. His understanding is opened to the beauties of God's grace and the weakness of his companions whom he would help upward. His good deeds are not spoken evilly of but are "acceptable to God, and approved of men." He follows "after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another" realizing that "For the Kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

The apostle exemplifies the solution of the disloyal Christian in I Cor. 8:9-13:

"But take heed by any means this liberty of yours becomes a stumbling block to the weak." The indifferent Christian today says, "What difference does it make if there is a saloon on every corner? I can take a drink or leave it alone." Swaggering—he does not see that some day at the judgment seat he will have ruined and blasted lives perhaps with blood on their hands to answer for. He did not think of the weak or perhaps the reformed drunkard to whom one taste of the vile liquid would cause him to stumble and fall so hard that he would never arise in decency or right-mindedness again.

"For through thy knowledge he that is weak perisheth, the brother for whose sake Christ died. "And thus sinning against the brethren, and wounding their conscience when it is weak, ye sin against Christ."

Can any Christian claim God's protective power in his life and sin against Christ in his indifferent plunge after self in the search of personal liberty.

For there is no power but of God; and the powers that be are ordained of God (Rom. 13:1). How puny self looks beside that statement. How protective it looks to the loyal Christian who looks to God and is "in subjection to the higher powers," and who "seek good, and not evil, that ye may live."

How pitiful it is to see a capable young man puffed up in his conceit of his knowledge that makes him successful, turn to strong drink. Perhaps he starts drinking as a social courtesy. He does not realize that it is a poison, running all the organs of the body and especially the brain. The word "intoxicate" comes from the Latin word "toxicum," which means poison.

When he deliberately takes this poison, his mind has forgotten that the body is the temple of the soul, and should be cared for religiously. "The Spartans denied intoxicating drinks to their sons, and compelled their slaves, the Helots, to get drunk in the presence of their young men, that they might witness the degradation of drunkenness. Their aim was to develop a superb physical manhood."

To betray a trust is an act of cowardice. Every Christian should remember first of all Christ, then the struggles of our forefathers who fought against hardship and dangerous untold to make this a land of the free and the home of the brave, with homes of comfort, ing. Strong drink is the arch enemy of all that is good. It would destroy the home, church and schools, enslaving the men and women of the nation, baiting them with personal liberty.

The man who drinks may exercise his personal liberty but what of the wife and children who are denied the right of a decent home and perhaps the right to healthful food.

In the coming events of this summer all need to remember the Golden Text: It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything, whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.—Romans 14:21. Poem by Rev. C. H. Mead, D.D.: God give us men!—determined, brave, and strong— Who stand for right and dare to smite the wrong; Whole-hearted men — unselfish, fearless, bold—

Whose love of truth outweighs the greed for gold; Devoted men, who think and pray and plan How best to serve and help their fellow man. While selfishness misrules, and greed and lust Entice and drag their victim in the dust, Send up a prayer, again and yet again. With faith unflinching still—God give us men!"

Commerce Aide President Ousted

In coming to stay in Washington 'until I clean up this town,' Ewing Y. Mitchell (above) of Missouri, was removed by presidential order, after more than nine months controversy, from his post as Assistant Secretary of Commerce. Revelations concerning conduct of certain bureaus of the Department of Commerce were expected to follow his ouster.

South Plains Area May Become Big Dairying Section

LUBBOCK.—The South Plains area of Texas is destined to become one of the leading dairying centers of the country, according to H. L. Wilson, cheese specialist with the Department of Agriculture.

Wilson said he believe branches of several large cheese manufacturers would eventually locate in this area.

In 1935 Texas cheese production will be approximately as large as in 1933, when this state led the South with 8,095,000 pounds of commercial cheese, ranking eighth among all the states, Wilson said.

Texas has a important for cheese production in 1928 when 981,000 pounds of cheese was made. In 1929 2,202,000 pounds was produced and in 1930, 2,621,000.

In 1931 the production figure jumped to 4,496,000 pounds and in 1932 8,095,000. No figures are available for 1934.

There are now 14 cheese factories in the state and the plant at Denison is reported to be the largest in the country.

"Nearly all Texas plants use pasteurized milk in making their cheese," Wilson said, "and I think that this makes a more uniform type of product."

"It is the only safe method of utilizing milk that is shipped in from over a large area."

It seems that "radio ear" is a device which aids the deaf to hear, and not something caused by listening to crooners.

Mosquito Fight Has Meant Much To Check Disease

AUSTIN.—A fight on mosquitoes and other disease bearers has been of "immeasurable benefit" to Texas citizens and has increased the value of much property, state Relief Director Adam R. Johnson said today.

In Southeast Texas, relief workers dug 525 miles of drainage ditches, drained thousands of acres of land, reclaiming the land as well as eliminating breeding places of malaria-carrying mosquitoes. "I feel that these health and sanitation projects like our projects in school buildings, are a distinct contribution to the civilization of our state."

In drought-stricken West Texas, wells were dug and improved to insure healthful drinking water.

General sanitation, especially in rural districts has been improved, Johnson said. In one East Texas county it was found that more than 50 per cent of the rural school children had hook worm infections.

Cities also benefited in the relief program. Unemployed built 254,290 feet of sewer lines, 17,960 feet of water mains, eight sewage disposal plants, and 1,020 septic tanks.

In addition, repairs were made on 1,580 water wells, 106,170 feet of sewer lines, 11,220 feet of water lines, and 34 disposal plants.

Oregon Fears Fires In Vast Timber Area

SALEM, Ore.—Forest fires may streak across Oregon's vast timberlands with unprecedented fury this summer, forestry officials fear.

The driest May since 1890 was recorded this year. To make it worse, spring vegetation—usually a valuable check to the dread forest fires—was months behind schedule after a cold winter.

Foresters—faced by this double danger—were tightening restrictions on timber areas. Many of the areas are "closed" now, which means that all fires started by campers are to be carefully watched, licensed and in some cases entirely prohibited.

QUINTS GET DIONNE NAMES

KENOSHA, Wis.—Five kittens born here to "Sally," a Persian cat owned by Clara Gregorske, on the first birthday of the famous Dionne quintuplets of Callander, Ontario, Canada, were named Yvonne, Cecile, Annette, Emilie and Marie.

Interest Shown Over Section In Amateur Contest

Amateurs over this entire section are entering the Chevrolet amateur radio contest sponsored by the Dallas zone Chevrolet dealers of which the Harvey Chevrolet company of Eastland is a part. Eastland will have her share of talent in the event which promises to increase in interest until the final night of the audition for the local entrants which will be held at the Connellee theatre. Johnny Burke, manager of the Lyric, states that this will be the opening night also of the Connellee in which two special film attractions have been booked in conjunction with the Chevrolet contest, "Woman in Red," Thursday and Friday, July 4 and 5, with Barbara Stanwyck; Saturday, June 6, "Stranded," starring Kay Francis, is booked.

Entrants for the Eastland amateur Chevrolet contest are being turned in rapidly and many well known Eastland entertainers have already entered this contest. The sponsors with the co-operation of the Texas Consolidated Theatres, of which the Lyric is a part, are selecting amateur entertainers who will be presented at the Melba theatre in Dallas in a program that will be broadcast over WFAA. The grand prize for the winner of this contest is an all-expense paid trip to California and the San Diego Exposition and a paid radio engagement over Station WFAA of Dallas. Anyone wishing to enter the contest should do so at once by obtaining the official entrance blanks from John R. Harvey at the Harvey Chevrolet company on East Main street or at the Lyric theatre.

Latin America—a friendly country—the food not so hot—B. M. Collie, Eastland delegate to the recent International Rotary convention held in Mexico City, D. F., reports.

The Eastland delegate states that the Spanish and American food concoctions were not to his gastronomic taste. The Mexican food, he indicated, might have been satisfactory if partaken alone, but when mixed with American dishes not prepared to U. S. rules or recipes, it just didn't go.

Collie returned early this week with C. A. Hertig and Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Springer, all of Eastland.

Keynote of the convention was plea of speakers for world peace, Collie stated. Sessions of the international club were held in the Palace of Fine Arts, comparative to a municipal auditorium in the United States, he said.

The building, costing 20 million pesos, was started in 1904 and completed in 1934, is an elaborate structure, Collie noted. A peso, the Rotarian discovered, is equivalent to 29 cents in American currency.

Lighting a mild cigarette of Mexican manufacture, costing considerably less than those of Kentucky and North Carolina vintage, Collie told of side trips—five in all. One took the party to pyramids, presumably constructed by the Aztec Indians centuries ago. A woman guide explained they appeared to her as those she had seen in Egypt.

The convention was opened by an address of welcome by President Cardenas of Mexico. Though the presidential mansion which he viewed is for use of the chief executive, it is not used by Cardenas, Collie reported. "He was elected on a 'poor man's ticket.'"

Seen from the district at the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newnam of Ranger, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Anderson of the same city, and Tom H. Taylor of Brownwood, district governor.

Returning from Mexico, at Cameron they tarried 14 hours while tracks, washed out by heavy rains, were repaired on the 20-mile stretch to Laredo. Rails between the cities were placed in what Collie described a "horse-shoe shape."

Answering a puzzler to the average American, Collie stated the "D. F." that follows Mexico City means "federated district," as D. C., District of Columbia, after Washington.

Convention notes: Edward Johnson of Roanoke, Va., elected Rotary International president, succeeding Robert Hill of Missouri. Two thousand, six hundred and seventy-six of the 3,800 clubs were represented. Meeting opened Monday, June 17, ending Friday, June 21. Multi-lingual police were on duty for convenience of delegates. Over 5,000 delegates attended.

DEFENSE ASKS
VENUE CHANGE IN WOOD CASE

BROWNWOOD, June 24.—Defense attorneys filed a motion for change of venue for the trial of Stanley Wood, charged with murder for the killing of Fred Brown, Talpa ranchman.

Brown was beaten and robbed and his car driven over a cliff to give the appearance that he had been killed in an accident, the state alleges.

Officers who found the body discovered the killers overlooked a sack containing $1,700 in currency, tied under Brown's arm.

Witnesses were heard this morning on the motion, giving their views as to whether they thought Wood could obtain a fair trial.

Prosecutors indicated they would demand the death penalty.

The case was brought here on a change of venue from Coleman county. Wood and Louis Reis, both were charged with murder in the indictment. Reis still awaits trial.

GATE RATE FOR GAS DISCUSSED AT A HEARING

AUSTIN, June 24.—Fairness of the 40 cent per thousand cubic feet rate charged by West Texas gas companies for domestic gas delivered at the gates of 42 West Texas communities, was subject of a hearing today before Olin Culberson, head of the gas utilities division of the railroad commission.

Culberson announced he would recommend that the commission overrule an objection that the commission had no power to fix the gate rate where the same company distributes gas to consumers.

He made a similar ruling on an objection that if a gate rate is fixed, the commission also must specify the burner tip rate. The same questions are pending decisions in a case now before the third court of civil appeals.

An agreement was reached on the value of physical properties used in transmitting gas. The figure was $5,640,609, admitted by both sides to be the reproduction cost.

ATTENTION EVERYBODY!

With grateful appreciation and sincere thanks we extend our hand of fellowship to the people of this entire community for the wonderful co-operation extended to us on our annual picnic held in Eastland Saturday, July 22. Every employee and official of the Lone Star Gas company feel that the hospitality given them on every side was one of the feature occasions for the wonderful time that they all had and enjoyed. It's good to be in a community with such fine folks and those who were visitors from other sections were high in their praise for this annual affair of the Lone Star Gas employees.

To Emily Newel Blair, head of the old consumers' advisory board, went the distinction of being the only woman named to the membership on the new NRA Advisory Board.

Right hand man to James L. O'Neill in the new NRA will be Leon C. Marshall, economist, whom President Roosevelt named head of the important new Board of Review.

Hoping "to save all that is good of NRA," James L. O'Neill, formerly its control officer, became head of the Stogap organization created by President Roosevelt to replace the outlawed bureau.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MODERN DRY CLEANERS & DYERS FOR INSTALLING SANITONE CLEANING PROCESS TO KEEP ABREAST WITH THE TIMES ON MODERN SUPER-SERVICE TO SATISFY CUSTOMERS BERRY BROS. & DONAHUE Fort Worth, Texas

"This Summer Lets Tour Texas" Is Plea Of the Humble Ads

"This Summer Let's Tour Texas." That is the caption of an Humble Oil & Refining company advertisement appearing in today's issue of this paper.

Many services that go to make a pleasant vacation tour are offered by the Humble stations along the way such as plentiful free ice water, free air and water for the car, spotless restrooms and prompt, courteous station salesmen.

A feature of the advertisement in this issue and in six more to follow is a motorist's time table for Texas, which gives the time required to travel from any principal city in Texas to any other city, computed on a basis of 40 miles per hour average speed.

Another item of special interest to those who contemplate a motor vacation is a coupon featured in the advertisement offering free booklets outlining travel tours in Texas. Each booklet covers a special section of Texas and there are five of them in all.

Texas are certainly very fortunate for as the Humble people say: "A network of famous highways leads you to any kind of vacation you can ask for—right here in Texas. There's the Hill Country for camping, hiking, horseback riding, canoeing; there's a sea-coast known the world over for its gentle surf, the brilliance of its sunshine, its unsurpassed fishing; there are dude ranches in the high country way out west, and the last frontier in these United States lies in the loop of the Rio Grande's Big Bend. For Texans, there's no vacation can compare with a vacation within the wide boundaries of their own state; especially now, with centennial year just around the corner. The traveler on Texas highways follows in the footsteps of Spanish grandees and Anglo-Saxon pioneers; each town, each city he passes through is linked by historic association with the past."

New Oil Town is Expected to Grow

DALHART, Tex.—Jack C. Collins, who laid out the townsite of Sunray, feels that the little oil city, 30 miles east of here, will see a steady and fairly rapid growth in the next few months.

Livestock Ranges In Good Condition

AUSTIN.—Extensive rainfall in May put Texas livestock ranges in the best condition in many months, the federal division of crop and livestock estimates reported today.
 East and Southeast Texas had so much rain that damage resulted, but grass over the state generally was good on June 1. Only counties yet needing rainfall are those on the western edge of the Panhandle where the drought killed the grass roots.
 Cattle ranges improved 13 points in May to 79 per cent normal, one per cent more than the same month last year. Sheep ranges also were 79 per cent normal on June 1, and 20 per cent better than the preceding month.
 Good pastures and ample drinking water aided improvement in cattle conditions generally. Cows were 77 per cent normal condition on June 1, seven per cent better than on May 1, and only 2 per cent less than their condition a year ago. Cattle losses have been light since the first of the year.
 The condition of sheep improved 9 points during May to 81 per cent normal, the same as on June 1, 1935.
 Calf and lamb losses have been fairly heavy this year, the report said, due to poor condition of the stock.

Schools to Gain Money Because of Per Capita Hike

Raise by the State Board of Education of the pupil per capita apportionment from 16.50 to $17.50 will mean $1,145 more income for Eastland schools this year, C. A. Hertig, school business manager, figured Wednesday.
 The 1,145 scholastic census shows 36 additions to the roll over last year's, the school business manager stated.

Black Widow Spider Beats Tarantula In Battle; Eats Victim

Among many uses for which the money may be applied, it was said, is raise of teacher's salaries.
 CISCO, June 27.—The controversy over the relative deadliness of the black widow spider and the Texas tarantula was settled here yesterday—at least as far as representatives of the two species were concerned.
 The black widow, a vicious brute at best and acclaimed by doctors as the most dangerous of Texas spiders, turned giant killer and slow Primo Tarantula. Then, not content with that, the champion celebrated with a victory feast, the vanquished spider being the chief dish on the menu.
 Eugene Lankford, who discovered a black widow in a tire he was changing and promptly bottled it, yesterday found a tarantula and placed it in the bottle with the killer. Inside, three minutes the two spiders were at it, and there was no referee to award a technical knockout.
 Although much smaller than the tarantula, the black widow had the better of the scrap from the first, piling up points in the early part of the battle. Finally it bit the tarantula and that settled the matter.
 The victor then spun a web about the tarantula and turned cannibal, devouring its victim and growing all the while. As soon as it finished its grisly meal it cut the web and allowed the tarantula's exoskeleton, only part remaining un eaten, to fall to the bottom of the bottle.

Austin's Population Boosted In Quality, Says Writer in Column Devoted to Judge, Mrs. Hickman

Austin's population received a boost in quality since Judge and Mrs. J. E. Hickman moved from Eastland, according to the writer of "Diantha's Dairy" in a recent issue of the Austin American.
 Eastland's loss was viewed as only fair by the writer because "for hasn't Eastland had Austin's good folk, the Albert Taylors, for a past year?"
 Judge and Mrs. Hickman moved to Austin when he was appointed a member of the supreme court commission of appeals.
 "Diantha's" views in the column were as follows:
 Austin has had a big boost in population recently, in quality at least, if not numerically speaking in the addition to its citizenship of Judge and Mrs. J. E. Hickman, who came from Eastland when the Judge was named a member of the Commission of Appeals.
 Eastland told the world how he felt about it at a farewell party for the Hickmans. An extra, purportedly of the Austin American, contained all sorts of tributes and expressions of regret at losing these beloved folks.
 It was really pathetic and Diantha was, and is, most sympathetic, and is saved from feeling a real kidnaper by recalling the old saying, "Fair exchange is no robbery," for hasn't Eastland had Austin's good folk, the Albert Taylors, for a year past?
 Several novel tributes were paid the Hickmans in the "extra" which an Eastland friend sent to Miss Annie Hill, just by way of letting Austin know what she is really gaining.
 A testimonial column of the well known "before and after" type such as formerly boosted sales for patent cure-alls, and a "classified" column gave the best opportunity of expression, though there were editorials and other departments, all expressing the same thought.
 Here are two of the notices: "LOST—Somewhere in Austin, two valuable members answering

Chevrolet Amateur Program to Be On Connellee S

The Connellee theatre will be opened Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 4, 5 and 6, to present a special stage feature in addition to a regular film program that will be run for these three days.

The special stage feature will be the Chevrolet amateur contest, that is being sponsored by the Chevrolet dealers of North Texas, in co-operation with the Texas Consolidated Theatres, Inc., of which circuit of theatres the Connellee is a unit.

The purpose of this contest is to select amateur entertainers, to be presented in a stage presentation and radio broadcast at the Melba theatre in Dallas at an early date. Six acts from the Eastland will be selected by popular vote of the audience, to go to Abilene for the district finals of this contest that will be held at the Paramount theatre in that city July 8. One winner out of these six will be selected to represent Eastland at the Melba theatre in Dallas at a later date. The winner of the audition at the Melba will be awarded as a grand prize an all-expense paid trip to California and a paid radio engagement over Station WFAA at Dallas.

Two special feature film productions will be presented on the Connellee screen in conjunction with this contest. On Thursday and Friday the attraction, "Woman in Red," starring Barbara Stanwyck, will be presented. On Saturday only "Stranded," with Kay Francis in the starring role will be the screen attraction. The regular program of short features will be presented with these feature pictures.

The Chevrolet amateur contest is open to all amateur talent in Eastland and nearby towns and anyone wishing to enter this contest can obtain entrance blanks, giving full particulars, from John A. Harvey at the Harvey Chevrolet company, or from the Lyric theatre.

ROGERS PERFORMS ACROBATICS IN FILM

"Will Rogers — Wag and Falls DeLuxe"

If business ever gets tough for the pride of Claremore, Okla., he can safely have his business cards printed with the above words and hire out as a stunt man.

This was well illustrated during the making of Will Rogers' latest Fox Film, "Doubting Thomas," coming today to the Lyric theatre, when Will was required to fall down a flight of stairs. He was directed to sink down out of camera range and a double was to complete the roll down the stairs.

Everything was in readiness and Director David Butler gave the signal for the camera to "shoot." When the proper time arrived, Will hunched one shoulder and took the entire fall, hitting each step separately and bouncing down to the very bottom of the flight. According to the script, Will lay there until other members of the cast picked him up and carried him to a couch. As soon as the shot was complete, Butler and Producer B. G. DeSylva rushed over expecting to find an injured star.

But Rogers arose and inquired whether it had to be done over again and if so, he was ready. When asked if he was hurt, he replied, "You boys seem to forget I play polo once in a while, where the horse doesn't ask you when he should fall and everybody has mallets, too!"

In the supporting cast of "Doubting Thomas" are Billie Burke, Alison Skipworth, Sterling Holloway, Gail Patrick, Frances Grant and Frank Albertson.

"OIL FOR LAMPS OF CHINA" FEATURE AT LYRIC TODAY

Alice Tisdale Hobart's best selling novel, "Oil for the Lamps of China," comes to the Lyric theatre today as a Cosmopolitan production, released by First National Pictures.

Mrs. Hobart spent a large part of her life in China, and after years of collecting her data, spent five years in writing her story of the romance, sacrifice and hardship endured by the men and their wives who are the pioneers in introducing American oil into the Orient.

The picture sweeps from the snow wastes of Manchuria, through picturesque Chinese cities and valleys to the torrid interior. There are shots also in the cherry blossom land of Japan and in New York.

Cameramen were sent to Manchuria early in 1934, to make atmosphere shots, more than a year before the picture was started at the studio. Director Mervyn LeRoy also spent some months in China studying the country and the customs of its people before even casting the picture.

Pat O'Brien, Josephine Hutchinson and Jean Muir head the cast which includes John Eldredge, Lyle Talbot, Arthur Byron, Henry O'Neill, Donald Crisp and Ronnie Cosby.

Several hundred Chinese work in the picture in roles from important speaking parts to extras.

His Most Dramatic Role

Astor's Thrift In 1838 Shown

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Sale of the former Union Congregational church here recently recalled aid given by John Jacob Astor and Washington Irving to house Wisconsin's first protestant organization, formed Jan. 9, 1836.

The congregation, continuing unbroken since that date, although its first edifice burned and it has moved from the second, participated in many stirring events recounted in its records. The belfry of the old church at least once, and perhaps on other unrecorded instances was a refuge for fugitive negro slaves. Mrs. Jeremiah Porter, wife of the pastor, tells in a letter, how a fleeing negro father and his three children were hidden there in 1855.

Astor Gave Cash and Land

Astor, nationally famous as a fur trader, was reputed to be the wealthiest man in the United States at the time he donated land and $200 for the church. Interesting traits of the old trader are evident in his letters regarding

In a letter dated at Yorkville, Oct. 1, 1838, he grumbles to a church committee that he did not anticipate being asked to donate a bell after giving land and money.

"Yet I have complied with your request," he adds, "and have purchased today from Mr. Force an excellent bell of 696 pounds cast by him the present year. It has a fine and full tone, and will effectually notice all who are disposed to give attention to their duties from its summons."

He adds in a postscript: "You will please see that the church settles the account of the freight and expenses."

Advice on 87 Cents

N. Goodell, Astor's Green Bay agent, received directions regarding expenses of transferring the property donated for the church.

"You have in your account 87 cents for recording the deed to the church," Astor wrote. "The church ought to pay this. Please collect it."

Irving, creator of Rip Van Winkle, Icabod Crane and other famous American literary characters, contributed $50. James Duane Doty, then Wisconsin's governor, gave $200; and Zachary Chandler, Detroit, later secretary of the interior, contributed 10 yards of carpeting worth $22.
