Procedure Given For Absent Vote

Stricter absentee voting procedure was explained Saturday by County Clerk T. M. Collie at Eastland.

This year, Collie stated, prospective absentee voters must make application at his office, showing a poll tax receipt, exemption certificate or an affidavit that they have either been lost or misled.

After making the application, the voter must mark the ballot in the presence of the clerk in such a manner that it is not known how he is voting.

After marking the ballot and sealing it in an envelope it is given to the clerk. The absentee voter must pay 24 cents to the clerk for costs of the ballot and mailing to the election judge. The county clerk will mail the ballot.

Voters out of the county will make application to an authorized officer at his temporary address from where it is sent to County Clerk Collie. Collie will mail the ballot to the officer to whom the voter has made application. The voter will mark the ballot in the presence of the officer to whom he has made application. The out of county officer then sends it to Clerk Collie who forwards it by mail to the election judge in the voters precinct.

Personal absentee voting will open Aug. 5 and mail balloting on Friday, Aug. 9th.

The affidavit, printed on back of the ballot envelope, requires the voter to swear to his occupation necessitating absence from the city on election date. He must swear that the ballot was marked in secret.

Adjournment Would Be "God-Send" Says Congressman T. L. Blanton

Commenting on a recent editorial in this paper, described as "able and pertinent," Congressman Thomas L. Blanton, in a communication received Wednesday stated "It would be a God-send to the people if congress could adjourn tonight sine die."

Congressman Blanton's comment on the editorial titled "Congress Wants Rest But So Do We All," was as follows:

"I quite agree with you that congress should continue in session until it properly concludes all of its important business.

"But it would be a God-send to the people if congress could adjourn tonight sine die. Over a million dollars will be wasted every day that congress remains in session. There have been 9044 bills introduced during our continuous session since Jan. 3. Most of them are bad bills, and should not pass. There are several thousand of them private bills seeking to take huge sums of money out of the treasury and put same into the pocket of individual. One bill is for $15,000,000. One pay an attorney's fee of $94,400. From now to adjournment, determined efforts will be made every day to pass these private bills. Many will

Funeral Is Held For Wife of Rev. W. W. Chancellor

The services were conducted from the First Baptist church, of which Rev. Chancellor was pastor, after which the body was taken to Bowie for burial.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Chancellor were well known in Eastland county as he had held revival services in Ranger and has preached at the Eastland Baptist church.

Miss Edith Norman of Mineral Wells, also riding in the car, was recovering at her home today. She is suffering from a chest injury.

The Chancellor machine overturned seven miles west of Weatherford as the party was returning from a visit to that city.

The Chancellors have lived here five years.

Greatest Evil of Rural School System—Lack of Co-operation—Asserts County Superintendent

Greatest evil of the rural school system—lack of co-operation between adjoining districts—that is the opinion of County Superintendent C. S. Eldridge.

The expression came Monday when the superintendent addressed members of the Eastland Rotary club at their weekly luncheon.

Co-operation is needed between towns and the rural districts, Eldridge stated. Let the city schools get the rural districts' high school pupils, but the rural districts should retain their grammar grades, the superintendent stated.

Grammar school is the foundation of learning and more important than high school work, Eldridge stated.

The county superintendent has a panacea for the rural schools' ills, he told the club. Dubbed the "trade territory system," Eldridge recommended schools in certain districts merge. "It's coming to that anyway," he confided.

Removal of rural school students to the city by way of bus and other activities is sounding the death knell for social intercourse of communities, Eldridge stated.

Stress was placed upon co-operation of cities and rural districts. "What may seem little to cities is important to the rural section."

He used a slogan of a southern newspaper, "Civilization begins and ends with the plow," to illustrate importance of the rural sections.

"We've gone to see on our degree system," Eldridge stated.

"You can talk about your curriculum revision," he said, then stated, in his opinion, far more important is the teacher.

"Have you ever heard a preacher who made you 'jittery'?" he asked the club, "who made you want to go outside and smoke a cigarette?"

Referring to teachers, he stated there were those who made students "jittery."

He recommended stricter methods of selection of teachers. "Teachers are born, not made," Eldridge stated.

Clyde Chaney, Eastland scout, reported on the recent trip camp at Richland Springs.

H. C. Davis, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, announced publication of a book, authored by Boyce House, on the section's past oil boom.

Earl Bender was program chairman.

Roy Carney of Robstown was a visitor. L. D. Black, new resident, was a guest of Rev. Charles W. Estes.

B. M. Collie and Rev. Estes are next week's program committee.

TWO MEXICANS ARE CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Angelo Romero, Mexican, was in the Ranger city jail this morning, charged with assault with intent to murder, and Amdo Moreno was in the West Texas Clinic and Hospital suffering with gunshot wounds as the result of a fight at a Mexican dance Saturday night. Moreno was also charged with assault to murder.

Charges against the two were filed by Chief of Police Jim Ingram in justice of the peace court before J. N. McFatter, and both are to be turned over to county officers.

Two different versions of the shooting scrape were told, one by one of the participants and the other by witnesses.

Reamero said that Moreno started shooting and he took the pistol from Moreno, shot him once in the face and then beat him over the head with the pistol, according to the chief of police. Witnesses, however, told the chief a different story, stating that both Mexicans were shooting. Only one gun was found, however.

Districts which the busses will reach are:

Methods to Destroy Leaf Worm, Which Threatens Ruin of Cotton in County, Are Explained By County Agent Heald

Destruction of the cotton crop by leaf worm infestation is threatened in this county, but it can be easily controlled, C. Metz Heald, county agent, announced Wednesday after an investigation.

Heald states the best method is to use calcium arsenate, otherwise known as arsenate of lime. This is the same material as is ordinarily applied for the control of boll weevil. Under ordinary conditions and where dusting machinery is available, it is applied in dry form.

Heald states it should be applied in an even dust cloud, five pounds per acre ordinarily being sufficient, although in cotton of large growth it may be necessary to apply 10 pounds per acre, Heald states. It should be applied preferably in the early morning when there is dew on the plant, although it is claimed effective when applied in mid-day provided there is no wind.

Those who are equipped with spraying machinery, Heald states, insist that it is more conveniently applied with water as a spray. If

Cisco State Bank Liquidation Gets Underway Tuesday

CISCO, Aug. 6.—Voluntary liquidation of the Cisco State bank through the First National bank was under way here today.

Alex Spears, president of the First National bank, said the other institution had deposited with his bank an amount in cash equal to its deposits, and would liquidate its affairs. J. D. Lauderdale of the Cisco State bank will be employed by the First National.

J. H. Reynolds, president of the Cisco State bank, in giving his reason for liquidation of the bank's affairs, said that he had believed for a long time the community could not quite support two banking institutions.

"There is no question but that Mr. Spears has a strong bank, and this one will make it even stronger."

He pointed out that the Cisco State bank had been "breaking even," but had not been a great paying institution.

1934 TOTAL IS LOWER THAN IN BIG YEAR, 1933

Is Revealed In Three-Year Official Figures of AAA for County

Eastland county farmers received for their cotton last year $254,731.64 compared to $107,606.60 in 1932 and $281,403.29 in 1933. C. Metz Heald, county agent, announced Wednesday, on the basis of complete official three-year county cotton figures just released from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The income last year was more than double what it was in 1932, and almost equal to that of 1933, a very favorable year, the county agent points out.

The farm value of lint and seed last year was almost $12,500 more than it was in 1932, and added to this was $22,428.84 in benefit payments.

Values are based upon yields and prices as furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture. The benefit payments include all those to April 30, 1935.

The value of unsold Bankhead certificates held by farmers is not included in the amount of benefit payments. Texas farmers have about nine million dollars' worth of these certificates on hand, according to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

This increased farm income has been the means of helping farmers stay in business, maintain their farms and homes, and remain customers of merchants, it was pointed out at the county agent's office.

Last Rites For Mrs. R. H. Bundick Held On Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Esta Bundick, 80, pioneer resident of Ranger, were conducted from the First Baptist church of Ranger Monday afternoon with Rev. G. J. W. Thomas conducting the services, assisted by other pastors of the church. She died in a Ranger hospital after several days illness.

Interment will be in the Evergreen cemetery following the services at the church.

Bill Robinson, inimitable coored dancer, teaches the picnians a little fast footwork. Robinson and his "gang" are showing the world how it's done in this scene from RKO Radio's "HOORAY FOR LOVE," which features the blonde players, Ann Sothern and Gene Raymond, and boasts a cast of headliners from various entertainment fields, including, Jeni LeGon, Maria Gambarelli, "Fats" Waller and Lionel Stander. Powell in Powerful Cast of "Escapade"

Viennese gaiety and music, whimsical comedy and lilting musical sequences mark "Escapade," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new Continental romance coming today to the Lyric theatre, and in which William Powell is introduced in an entirely new type of role.

The picture has many interesting surprises. It brings to the screen the golden voice of Enrico Caruso, amplified from existing records into the most lifelike re-

Raymond's Screen Appeal Rated As Engagingly Different

"Different" is what Hollywood said when it first saw Gene Raymond.

Strikingly blond, whereas most screen heroes must struggle along with brown or black hair; possessed of a buoyant, boyish vitality and great personal appeal, Raymond brought a distinctive individuality to the screen. Audiences saw him and remembered.

Four years of screen work have failed to place him in any cinematic mould.

"Different" is still the verdict of film capital and film audiences on Raymond, who is currently appearing with Ann Sothern in RKO Radio's new musical romance, "Hooray for Love."

Raymond himself has seen to that, and it took rare courage to do it. Only one picture at a time will he commit himself for, and he will accept only those roles which appeal to him.

It was when he was only five years old, in fact, that Gene made his stage debut with a walk on part. When he was 10, he entered the Professional Children's School in New York. When he was just 14, Raymond left the school to go month or from July last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Reports from 1,581 Texas establishments covering the week ended July 13 give a total of 75,760 employees, a decrease of two-tenths of 1 per cent from the like week of the previous month and five-tenths of 1 per cent from the corresponding period last year, the bureau's report said.

"Aggregate payrolls of the firms were $1,762,000, an increase of two-tenths of 1 per cent over the previous month and 2.1 per cent greater than during the like period last year.

"Cities showing a gain over the two comparable periods were Abilene, Austin, Houston, Laredo, and Wichita Falls. Industries showing gains over both the previous month and the corresponding period last year were: Beverages, commercial printing, electric railway car shops, flour mills, foundries, machine shops, furniture manufacturing, ice factories, laundries and dry cleaning, meat packing and slaughtering, men's clothing manufacturing, petroleum refining, structural iron works and wholesale stores."

on the road in the play, "Why Not?" That started his career as a professional.

It was after he had scored decided hits in the New York presentations of "War Song" and "Young Sinners" that Raymond was contracted for picture work.

He still likes the intimate contact with audiences permitted by stage work. For that reason he makes occasional personal appearance tours. Shortly before starting "Hooray for Love," he filled such an engagement, to an accompaniment of enthusiastic receptions, which broke box office records.

Like Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, and a favored few other screen players, Raymond possesses versatility which makes him equally at home in musical and "straight" productions.

Employment and Payroll Conditions Show No Change

AUSTIN. — Employment conditions and payrolls in Texas during July showed practically no change either from the previous 14, Raymond left the school to go month or from July last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The new picture, directed by Robert L. Zemon, is a unique blend of whimsical humor with romance and a thread of serious drama, with unique dramatic twists embellished by amazing new tricks of photography.

Its cast includes Frank Morgan, Virginia Bruce, Mady Christians, Laura Hope Crews, Reginald Owen, Henry Travers, Mathilde Comont and others of note. A great Vienna state ball, a lilting evening in a Viennese music hall, and a Caruso premiere at the Imperial opera, are among its spectacular musical highlights.

A doctor's race to save a man's life is drama contrasted to a hilarious comedy of errors surrounding the mysterious model of a picture that arouses suspicions of a jealous husband, as the action shifts from drama to laughter in lightning-like plot action.

Connellee Theatre Re-Opening Aug. 18

The Connellee, Eastland county's largest theatre, will be reopened on a permanent policy Sunday, August 18, according to Manager Burke of the Texas Consolidated Theatres. The very finest screen attractions available will be presented at this theatre and the stage will be kept in readiness to present vaudeville shows that can be booked for Eastland on a reasonable basis.

During the time the Connellee has been closed it has undergone a complete reconditioning and renovating and the house will be reopened in excellent condition for the comfort and enjoyment of the theatre patrons of Eastland and the surrounding communities.

A policy of four changes of programs each week will be the opening policy of the Connellee. A one day picture will be played Sunday only, one attraction will be played Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Another one-day attraction Thursday only and the fourth attraction of the week on Friday and Saturday.

In re-opening the Connellee the Texas Consolidated Theatres have expressed their belief that the coming month will bring a decided up-trend in conditions and in these larger quarters will be in better condition to take care of the present patronage as well as the anticipated increase during the fall months.

After August 18, the Lyric will be operated on a part time basis until such a time that business will warrant the full time operation of this theatre.

FORMER OLDEN BOY NOW AT RANDOLPH FIELD IS HOME ON 30-DAY LEAVE

By OLIVE FORD STEPHENS
Living in a government army camp is like being in a different world, Carvie Fullen, Olden boy, stationed at Randolph field, San Antonio, comments. Carvie has served one year and five months of his three-year enlistment.

He says there is no depression at camp and never has been one. The boys get their three meals daily, sleeping quarters, free hospitalization, and their pay just the same as army men have for years. No one mentions the problem of living because there is no problem to it. No one is rich but no one is broke, or if he is, he knows it is only temporary and his next pay is on the way.

Carvie has one of those flashing, contagious smiles and visiting with him this morning, I was impressed with the fact that if he is a fair sample of Randolph field boys, then Randolph field is o. k. He has the happy-go-lucky attitude of youth, to which he is adding a store of valuable experience and information.

Asked what his advice to a boy wanting to be an aviator would be, Carvie unhesitatingly replied, "Go through high school and get as much of college as you can. You can't even get to first base without a high school education." Carvie knows, because in his senior year of high school, he and three other boys left to seek their fortune in Arizona, about a month before he was to have been graduated from high school. The fortune somehow failed to materialize and now Carvie has been attending night school to make the rest of his credits there at Randolph field.

Carvie laughingly related the experience of his first flight. He said he had been trying to get a "hop" but hadn't had any success until he asked a captain who grinned and said, "O. K.; go get your chute." Carvie said the captain was already tuning up his motor, so Carvie fell all over himself hunting attendants and getting a "chute." But in his hurry he could not manage to find anyone with a key to the locker where helmets were kept, so he scrambled out and fell into the cockpit minus a helmet. He said the captain asked, "Can you take it, kid?" and he said, "Yes, sir."

Carvie did not know the seats were adjustable for comfort and wind resistance, so when he found a terrific wind beating against his forehead all he could do about it was to lower his head in a strained position and keep it that way during the ride. Most of the time he held his hands over his ears to keep the noise of the motor from bursting his ear drums. Also he was absolutely certain that should he even attempt to change the position of his feet, so much as a fraction of an inch, it would mean a "crack up." He was afraid he would touch the stick. But sitting woodenly still and bent forward, his legs cramped and one hip felt paralyzed because what he had supposed was merely a little "hop" turned out to be a trip to Austin and back.

When the plane finally nosed down to Randolph field, Carvie said he was too tired and cramped to know whether he was scared or not. And on the ground, when the captain yelled at him, he could not hear a word and had to ask him to repeat it. It was, "Are you o. k.?" And Carvie's reply was, "O—Ye—ye—yes, sir."

Since then Carvie has had many "hops" and enjoyed them all. That is, all but the one when he lost his goggles just as they left the ground and they fell through the hole by the stick and down into the fuselage and worked back toward the baggage compartment, with Carvie madly watching and fishing for them. But it was not until he landed that he finally retrieved the goggles and once more could breathe at ease.

Because the government goggles cost $36 a pair and enlisted men don't have $36 running around loose much of the time. Camp life is very complete. There are commissary department, groceries and sundries, drug store, soft drinks, moving picture show, barber shop, filling station and all necessary accommodations, but now and then the boys go to San Antonio to see the sights. Once in a while one or more of the soldiers get into a little row with civilians but among themselves there is very little trouble. In fact in the 17 months he has been there, Carvie states he has seen only one fight between men in that camp. The next day their captain said, "Next time you boys decide to stage a battle, let us know so we can sell tickets. We could use a little money."

Yes, sir, talking with Carvie one gets the impression that here is a boy going after those high school credits and he will get them. And also here is a boy who is going places and seeing things in aviation.

Letters From Our Readers

An opportunity will be offered the people of Texas in the Aug. 24 election to assume their rightful authority to speak quickly in times of public emergency without waiting for the next regular session of a legislature that convenes but once each two years.

To take advantage of this opportunity the voters should adopt the amendment to the constitution, fourth in order on the ballot, which provides that "in cases of extraordinary emergencies affecting the state as a whole amendments to the constitution may be proposed—upon the submission of the proposed amendment by the governor at any special session."

As the constitution now stands, the people are prevented from adopting any emergency measures, no matter how dire the need, without a wait that might mean permanent disaster. As an example, the next regular session of the legislature is in 1937, and, if some holocaust should strike now, in the combating of which the people would have to amend their constitution, we should have to wait a year and a half before an amendment could be offered.

The rapidly changing policies of the national government—the changing social and economic life of the people of Texas both show conclusively that the people should be able to vote quickly on matters affecting their welfare. Especially is this true when extraordinary conditions exist affecting the state as a whole. The need of this privilege and this right is emphasized by the certainty that lawful authority must be furnished the state and local communities to care for the orphan, the destitute widow and the sick living in our midst when their needs are acute.

As these orphans, widows and impoverished sick find their wants no longer can be supplied through national government relief sources, their cries will be directed as is now being done in many instances to the local communities and to the states as a whole. Surely the people of this state would not want to see these appeals made in vain, yet unless a favorable vote is given Amendment 4, no power exists in this state that will provide food, clothing and shelter for this group of our people. We should remember as we go to the polls on Aug. 24 that Amendment 4 does not involve an issue of opinion. It is merely a change in our fundamental law giving to the people a power and a right to do that which they always should have the power and right to do; that is, to change their fundamental laws as necessity demands.

A vote for this amendment will not mean that any particular provision must be made. It is simply the granting to, or the assumption by, the people of a power to provide what might be reasonable and necessary to the public welfare. Any such questions of specific needs will be submitted in future amendments, as authorized by the one now under discussion, when such needs arise. Then only will the people be asked to vote on a specific provision for the needs of these same widows, orphans and sick.

A vote against this amendment would continue to tie the hands of the state and local governmental agencies and so prevent them from doing anything adequately to meet the situation. Citizens who are interested in public welfare can not afford to permit this amendment to fail. It is their duty to acquaint their fellow citizens with its purpose and its need; to organize their communities in active groups that will further an intelligent understanding of our problems so that on Aug. 24 a tremendous vote for Amendment 4 will be given by the people of Texas.

Air Travelers Prefer Sleeping In Pajamas

NEW YORK.—Pajamas in dark shades are women's favorite sleeping garments for air travel and only rarely is a nightgown worn. This conclusion was reached by Anne Clegg, American Airlines stewardess, after observing habits of travelers on sleeper planes for the past year.

Nine out of ten times the garment is of a dark color, she noted, but she hesitated to set any ratio on pajamas as compared to nightgowns.

Farmers Having More Seed Tested

LUBBOCK.—Texas farmers are becoming more and more interested in having their seed tested, according to G. L. Boone, assistant state seed analyst.

"I have received at least one-third more samples this year than any other year," he said.

As a matter of fact seeds have been sent to him at the Texas Technological college station from Kansas, New Mexico, Arizona, Missouri, Oklahoma, Iowa and even from South America, to be tested, he added.

Any one may send seeds to be tested without charge, according to Boone. Minimum weights of samples to be tested are: two ounces of grass seed, white or alkali clover or seeds of that size. Five ounces of red clover, alfalfa, millet, rape or seeds of similar size.

One pound of cereal, vetches or seeds of similar or larger seeds should be sent, he explained, adding that if the seeds is to be examined for origin at least five times as much should be submitted.

Honest John got his name from the fact that he never kills more than one hog at a time, always picking the carcass clean before he seeks another porker.

He's doing very nicely without legislation of any sort so far. Hunters and dogs have found him too smart. He lost a toe in a bear trap many years ago, but he won't be caught again.

Every School Child In State Will Be Counted By Fall

AUSTIN.—Early fall will see completed a gigantic task, the purpose of which has been the counting of every child in Texas who is disabled, or whose father is a war veteran, or whose parents are on the relief rolls. This child welfare survey, started by the Texas Relief commission about a year ago, was abandoned in the fall by that organization and was resumed by the Bureau of Research in the Social Sciences of the University of Texas. Collection of material was completed during the winter and spring, and a special investigator, Miss Grace E. Benjamin from the American Public Health Association, was employed this summer to make a number of special surveys and to write the report of the project, with particular attention to an analysis of some of the facts shown by the statistics accumulated.

This study has involved the checking of 140,000 homes in 170 counties of Texas, and represents actual case histories of more than 500,000 children. In two counties of the state, an actual canvass of every home in the counties of the state, an actual canvass of every home in the county was made, while in others visits were paid to homes of families on relief, to veterans' homes and to homes where it was known there were disabled children. All counties containing cities of more than 100,000 population, most of the counties with cities of more than 50,000 population, and representative counties of less dense population were studied. Statistics have been tabulated for the state as a whole as well as by counties.

Results of this study have already become of use, according to Dr. W. E. Gettys, university professor of sociology and chairman of the research bureau in charge of the study. For one thing, cards containing case histories of disabled children in all of the counties contained in the survey have already been turned over to J. J. Brown, director of vocational rehabilitation in the state department of education. Legislative appropriation has made available for this division considerable funds for the 1935-36 fiscal year, and immediate steps can be taken after Sept. 1 to provide vocational training for these disabled children.

C. T. LUCAS IS SWORN IN AS A COMMISSIONER

C. T. Lucas, service station operator, was a new city commissioner for Eastland Wednesday.

He was elected, sworn in Tuesday night.

Lucas won the commissionership over Donald Kinnaird, former mayor, in Tuesday's election to fill the vacancy created by resignation of O. E. Harvey June 5. Lucas polled 372 votes to Kinnaird's 162.

The victor was sworn in as a new member Tuesday night at 9:05 p. m., at a meeting attended by Commissioners C. W. Hoffmann, T. M. Johnson and H. O. Satterwhite. Commissioner Ben Pryor was absent.

The vote was under total for the April 2 election when approximately 700 ballots were cast.

Eastland's newly elected commissioner, C. T. Lucas, Wednesday thanked citizens of Eastland who favored him in Tuesday's city election.

"The vote has given me a greater understanding of my obligation towards Eastland and my duties," Mr. Lucas stated.

"I intend to be guided by a spirit of what is best for all during my tenure as city commissioner."

"Co-operation, suggestion and ideas extended to a city commissioner which make for the best interests of all are earnestly solicited," Mr. Lucas stated.

Appreciative of the votes accorded him in the Tuesday election and congratulating the victor, Donald Kinnaird Wednesday stated he felt nothing but good will for those towards all concerned in the voting.

"The city commission may feel at ease, at any time, if there is any occasion, to call on me when I may be of aid to them," said Mr. Kinnaird.

"I am appreciative of votes given me in the election," Mr. Kinnaird said, "and feel no ill will towards others."

"I am sure the now completed body will be in harmony and build toward a greater Eastland, which, after all, is engaging all of our undivided attention."

"Building of a better city should be the concern of Eastland and seems destined to be a project definitely shaping its way."

are made available for the first time by this survey, Dr. Gettys said. Miss Benjamin pointed out that this study is the most comprehensive and the most significant child census ever taken for any state, and the published report is expected to be immeasurably valuable as a handbook for use in remodeling the state's laws governing child delinquency.

"For example, it is almost unbelievable that the laws of Texas do not provide for a juvenile court," she said. "Instead, child offenders are brought up and tried before a judge just as a mature criminal. Indeed, children are being tried and convicted in Texas before they reach the age of what is known as 'criminal responsibility.' Exercising all the license given him by law, the judge can only sentence the child offender to a definite term in the reformatory. At the end of that term he is released to return to his old environment, the home and the crowd that fostered his first misdemeanor, without any effort being made to train him while he was imprisoned and without any attempt to prepare a better environment for him. No regard is taken of the fact that he may have been 'reformed' before his term is over, and on the other hand he can not be detained after his term is completed even though he may be quite incorrigible."

Lack of adequate truant laws has resulted in truant children's being treated as delinquents, she added. Another shortcoming in the state's treatment of children is the utter lack of any fund for the care of delinquent negro girls.

Miss Benjamin will complete her analysis of the statistics collected in this survey during the remainder of the summer, and it is expected that the report will be available for distribution by Oct. 1.

Ninety-Two Per Cent Of Knowledge Is Gained By Vision; Eyes Important

Optic Nerve Largest In Body; Care Is Greatly Needed

It is not generally known or appreciated that 92 percent of the knowledge which the individual who is not blind has of any object in the world separated from his body by space comes through the visual senses, and the balance of 8 percent through the sense of hearing and smelling; and that the largest single nerve in the human body is the optic or second cranial nerve, exceeded in size only by the spinal cord, and the eyeball is but a special ending of this nerve, and is not an organ of vision.

The eye is simply a natural instrument for the formation of images by light which is reflected from objects and which enter it; that to maintain the highest amount of nervous efficiency one must conserve their sense of sight; that the eyeball itself does not see. It merely forms images which cause a chemical action or fading of the visual purple in the back of the eyeball, which in turn causes impulses to be carried to the brain and they are there interpreted as sight; that the knowledge obtained from such impulses are wholly interpreted from the memory which was caused by the knowledge from the sense of touch of objects whose images were formed in the eyes of the child shortly after birth, and which first images when interpreted by the sense of touch, became a footrule or a standard to the eyeballs, but when on account of their shape they did not form true images they started the child out in life handicapped.

Using False Conception Merely testing eyes with lenses to find out what is wrong with them is using this false conception of the child who may be now grown to maturity, and who has these irregularly shaped eyeballs because of the fact that his knowledge of external objects was obtained by touch and he must of necessity use the footrule he possesses to determine whether or not he would accept or reject lenses by such testing.

If the public understood that the optic nerve where there is a distortion of an eyeball can burn more energy than any other nerve in the body, they would at once understand why the fitting of lenses to defective eyes must be a scientific art and be based on the ability and skill of the examiner rather than upon the reliability of the answers of the individual undergoing the examination.

Have You Ever Blamed Your Eyes For Headaches?

All set for a full day's work! You feel fine. And then—suddenly where in the back of your head—a vague little pain. It grows. It takes possession of your entire brain. Most of the day is lost in fighting a headache. In the evening, you're unfit to do anything. No wonder the experts say that the greatest loss of time in modern business is caused by minor illnesses—little colds and headaches.

So many headaches come on toward the close of the day—after your eye muscles have been exhausted by close work. You know how one strained muscle can make your whole arm or leg sore and tender. Thus, any one of your several eye muscles can cause an intense headache.

These headaches force their way into your brain at its two most exposed points—your two eyes. With their complex muscular systems, these two eyes—really end-organs of the brain—are the source of nine out of ten headaches.

Hence a headache is literally the poorest excuse in the world—poor, because often it can easily be avoided. Attack your headache at its source. Have your eyes examined!

Deluxe Chair Cars Added To Train On T. & P. Railway

The Texas & Pacific railway announces that ten new deluxe chair cars, assuring a degree of travel comfort heretofore unknown in chair car travel, have been placed in service on its three crack trains, the Sunshine Special, the Texan and the Louisiana Limited.

In making the announcement, Frank Jensen, general passenger agent, said the new chair cars "embodied every new feature known in passenger car equipment and that they meant a new high point in pleasure and relaxation for passengers."

"The new cars," Mr. Jensen explained, "introduce an innovation in reclining arrangements. The chairs, heavily upholstered to make them soft and comfortable can be turned entirely around. If the occupant wants to face the window, his chair will turn that way. If a party of four want to face one another, the chairs are quickly turned to accommodate them. In addition, the reclining arrangements have been greatly improved. The chairs tilt back farther so as to provide a greater degree of comfort than was possible in the old style chairs."

Lounge compartments are provided at both ends of the cars, where passengers may lounge and smoke. These compartments also have mirrors and dressing tables for women. There are dental laboratories, free soap and towels, sanitary water coolers and parcel racks.

The cars are lighted by a new system of indirect lighting that prevents glare and makes it possible for all lights in the car to be lowered so as not to interfere with the sleep of passengers. Floors are covered with a material that acts as a sound deadener. Window shades and interior decorations strike a new note in modern passenger car construction. Provision has been made for tables for passengers who want to play cards, write or eat their food in their chairs.

Building Permits Continue Uptrend

AUSTIN. — Building permits issued during June in about forty of the leading cities of Texas were well above those of the like period last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Permits for the month totaled $2,492,683, a decline of 14.7 per cent from the previous month but 50.4 per cent above the similar month last year. During the first six months permits aggregated $17,179,779, an increase of 98 per cent above the corresponding period last year. Cities showing increases over the previous month, the like month a year ago, and the first six months of the year in comparison with the corresponding period last year are: Big Spring, El Paso, Fort Worth, and Sherman.

No matter how hot or dusty it may be outside, air conditioning insures fresh, cool, clean air and comfortable temperatures at all times. To add further to the comfort of passengers, noise and shock absorbing material has been placed in trucks and springs.

"What a contrast these new chair cars present with passenger equipment of other days!" exclaimed Mr. Jensen. "They are far more comfortable and enjoyable than Pullmans were not so long ago."

The inauguration of this new equipment makes it unnecessary for passengers traveling on the Louisiana Limited between Fort Worth or Dallas and points in

Rehabilitation of Rural Districts Is Expected to Start

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Rexford Tugwell swung today into his $500,000,000 program to rehabilitate rural America.

He applied for $10,800,000 to set up eight projects in seven states, converting some 750,000 acres of poor farm lands into public forests.

The projects to be established in Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Mississippi and New York, will give employment to 6,731 persons on relief rolls.

Parents Should See If Children Are Physically Fit

AUSTIN.—Now is the time, according to Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, that every parent should ask himself if his child is physically ready for school. A visit to the family physician and dentist will answer this question and give time for the correction of minor defects before time for school to open.

A child with defective vision can not be expected to do the required work in school until this handicap is removed. Inflamed, watery eyes, granulated lids, chronic styes, nervous actions as habitual winking, maybe caused by defective vision and should be attended to immediately.

The far reaching effect of infected tonsils on the system has been recognized by health workers for many years. Many of the ills of later life, as heart disease, arthritis, deafness, etc., are directly traceable to tonsils that became infected during childhood and were allowed to remain untreated.

Dental defects are found in more children than any other imperfection, and for this reason children should be taken regularly to the dentist for examination and cleaning of the teeth. This precaution keeps the mouth clean and makes it possible to discover dental defects as soon as they appear. Postural defects appear in the life of a child much sooner than we formerly suspected. Have your family physician see if your child's shoulder blades project and if his arches are low. Simple exercises, diligently adhered to, when the child is young, will prevent later serious developments in many cases.

ETHIOPIA IS THANKFUL FOR LEAGUE PLANS

GENEVA, Aug. 5.—Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia telegraphed the League of Nations today expressing Ethiopia's intentions of reaching a peaceful solution of the dispute with Italy.

The emperor's telegram said: "Please thank the members of the council for efforts to arrive at the council resolution. The imperial government repeats Ethiopia is resolved to reach an equitable and peaceful solution. It is hoped the league will be successful in maintaining peace."

League officials regarded the telegram hopeful, since in "thanking the members of the council" it applied thanks to Italy, which is a member and did not vote against the resolution passed Saturday.

INMATE FROM ASYLUM TELLS OF A MURDER

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 5.—A former inmate of an insane asylum confessed he stomped Dr. Paul Rogers, dentist, to death.

The confessed slayer, Clarence Edwards, who lives near Smithville, Mo., did not resist arrest at his farm home.

Later at police headquarters he re-enacted the stomping, rattling the floor with the force of his jumping.

The dentist's crushed body was found Sunday beside a Missouri river bottom road near Wellborn, Kansas.

Heel marks were on his shirt and several ribs fractured. One pierced his heart.

Edwards, 35, told officers he hit Rogers several times after the man reached for a heavy glass mug during an altercation.

ROMANCE IN THE AIR

Out of the west flew Jayne Shaddock, motion picture actress, who, until her divorce a few days ago, was the wife of Jack Kirkland, the playwright. Meeting her at the Newark, N. J., airport is wealthy young Harry Topping, Jr., who, say the wisecracks, will be her next husband.

FIANCEE TELLS OF LAST SEEING MURDERED MAN

CHICAGO, Aug. 6. — Pretty Josephine McKinley, her slender body shaking with sobs, identified from the witness stand today the torn and bloodstained garments of her fiance Ervin Lang. She was called by the State in the trial of Evelyn Smith and Blanche Dunkel, charged with first degree murder in the torso slaying of Lang.

The girl, rival of Mrs. Dunkel for the attentions of Lang, told in a voice barely audible, how her fiance had come to visit her on the night of July 6, the night he was killed.

"We talked about our forthcoming marriage and had a wonderful time until Ervin said he had to go pick up his mother," she said.

The next time I saw him was four days later when the police called me."

There she was called upon to identify the legless body of her sweetheart whom the State charges the two women, both middle aged, had strangled, dismembered and secreted in a swamp south of the city.

Oklahoma Gasser Makes 50,000,000 Ft.

BUYMON, Okla., Aug. 6.—The Cabot gas well, north of Buymon, blew in today as an estimated 40 to 50 million cubic feet sweet gasser. The largest previous well in the section has a production of 22,000,000 feet.

The well came in at 2,625 feet. The hole was baled over the weekend and drilling resumed after delays from rains Friday.

with the administration of American industries, small as well as large, the name of the individual whose achievement as an administrator during the preceding year seems to them most worthy of praise. To that individual Fortune will award $1,000 in cash and an appropriate certificate.

The editors express the opinion that an industrial administration in an industrial society is as fully, if less formally, charged with a public interest as was political administration in a political society. "Industrial administration," the announcement said, "as contemporary industry understands the term, is as much an art as politics is an art" and "industrial administration in the modern world attracts very much the same kind of energy, intelligence and ambition as was attracted by the art of politics in the politically minded world of the 18th Century."

The editors believe that a "series of such decisions, honestly made and publicly criticized, cannot fail to clarify the state of public opinion upon the standards of industrial conduct."

Farm Systems To End Floods

WASHINGTON.—Floods such as recently paralyzed farming in the middle West can be reduced by a thorough application of erosion control measures, according to H. H. Bennett, Department of Agriculture chief of the soil conservation service.

Bennett, a department report said, drew his conclusion from reports submitted to him by regional directors of the agency in Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado—the states most affected by the floods.

A. E. McClymonds, Colorado Springs, advised Bennett that "proper erosion control measures and a well-balanced farm management program would prevent a repetition of the recent flood."

He explained that terraces, conservation reservoirs and contour cultivation between the drainage area and water courses would reduce run-off by more than one-fourth in torrential storms and would completely control the run-off in ordinary storms.

Regional Director F. L. Duley, reporting from Mankato, Kan., said that "if the whole basin were treated we could keep enough of the water out of the stream so that the flood stage would seldom be reached."

The "elimination of over-grazing" was emphasized in the report of R. L. von Treba from Nebraska.

All three directors reported the department said, that the region presented "ideal conditions for a flood," because the drouth of the past few years had depleted vast areas of vegetation which formerly helped to hold rainfall in the soil.

Board to Contest Acreage Basis In Prorating Crude

AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—The State Board of Mineral Development was engaging a lawyer to contest a ruling by the state supreme court which the board construes to make acreage a basis for oil recovery in East Texas.

The board declared the acreage method of proration harmful to state interests because it would restrict drilling in river beds and on vacancy strips that belong to the state permanent school fund.

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Joseph Maxwell, 87, retired mule trader, believes he has sold more mules than any man in the world.

Retired 10 years from active trade, Maxwell started selling mules during the latter part of the Civil war. A youth in his teens, he bought eight wild Mexican mules, trained them and sold them to the Union army. He also sold mules to the government during the Spanish-American war. "Once I got $610 for a mule," Maxwell said, "but there's no longer a market for fine mules. People don't buy mules for looks any more. They want plain old working animals." Maxwell was born in St. Louis. It was there that he earned a dollar from Gen. U. S. Grant.
