MAVS TO PLAY SWEETWATER ON SATURDAY

Correcting what he said was a prevalent misunderstanding, Supt. P. B. Bittle announced Tuesday that Eastland Mavericks will play Sweetwater Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Sweetwater.

Many were under impression the Mavericks' second game of the season was scheduled under mazdas Saturday night.

Though non-conference and following on the heels of a defeat meted by Mineral Wells last week, interest in the game is high and a large delegation will make the trip, fans indicate.

The school bus setup in Eastland county is under direct control of the county board, the superintendent said.

"It is necessary that all contracts for driving busses must be approved by the county board, deputy state superintendent of this district," said Eldridge. "Otherwise warrant for same will not be approved."

All drivers must be at least 21 years of age.

The state nepotism law which is applicable to bus drivers has been given for benefit of school trustees and others as follows:

"No officer of this state or any officer of any district, county, city, precinct, school district, or other municipal subdivision of this state, or any officer or member of any state, district, county, city, school district or other municipal board, or judge of any court, created by or under authority of any general or special law of this state, shall appoint, or vote for, or confirm the appointment to any office, position, clerkship, employment or duty of any person related within the second degree by affinity or within the third degree by consanguinity to the person so appointing or so voting, or to any other member of any such board, the legislature, or court of which such person so appointing or voting may be a member, when the salary, fees, or compensation of such appointee is to be paid for, directly or indirectly, out of or from public funds or fees of office of any kind or character whatsoever."

Cisco, the only other team in the district and the one about which little has been heard in this part of the county so far, will play a night game at Cisp with the Electra High School, formerly coached by Eck Curtis. Electra has a team that shows up on paper as about 13 pounds to the man heavier than the Lobos, although one report has the Lobos weighing 162 and Electra 165, while another estimate gives the Lobos an average poundage of 152. One or the other, no doubt, is a misprint, since there has been considerable newspaper comment on the fact that the Lobos will be outweighed considerably in their first game.

Although Eastland's Mavericks will be slightly lighter than the Mustangs more of their players have had some previous experience and Coach Johnny Kitchens, new Eastland mentor, has been getting much out of his charges, aided earlier in the season by Darrell Lett, All-America center from TCU.

The Ranger Bulldogs will throw a more balanced team against the Bobcats Friday night, with the line being slightly heavier than the backfield, though some of the members of the forward wall are still fairly green, having played only a few minutes during the 1934 season.

Coach Moore has been giving the team stiff workouts on running plays the last week, strengthening his offense. Wednesday afternoon he put them through the hardest workout of the season with the entire squad of more than 40 boys reporting for the last hard scrimmage before the first game.

The schedule for the entire Oil Belt for the week-end is as follows:

Thursday—Comanche at Brownwood.

Friday—Mineral Wells at Breckenridge; Ranger at San Angelo; Electra at Cisco.

Saturday—Abilene at Big Spring; Eastland at Sweetwater.

HALF OF PWA APPLICATIONS NOT STANDARD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—More than half the 11,600 PWA applications for federal allocation which totals more than $1,100,000,000 do not meet standards set by President Roosevelt, PWA heads said today.

Administrator Ickes said no meeting would be called by the advisory allotment board to pass on remaining unallocated portions of the $4,880,000,000 work program.

The original deadline was today but he said President Roosevelt's revision of the program eliminated the deadline. The only stipulation now is that contract work be let by Dec. 15, he said.

This means the president has allocated the agencies their share of the funds, leaving reallocation to specific projects.

Cuba Is Subject Of L. R. Pearson At Eastland Club

Mindful of its obligation to the United States, which in a great measure is responsible for its freedom, Cuba welcomes Americans and displays sincere courtesy, L. R. Pearson, Ranger attorney, who recently visited the island, told the Eastland Rotary Club Monday.

In an address touching upon the social and economic life in Cuba, Pearson pointed out that the main income of the country is from growing and selling of sugar, tobacco and fruits. Reciprocal trade agreements with the United States accounts for the presence of many American products in the country, Pearson said.

The depression is a recent passed economic stage and "the relief business" in Cuba is a "better job than in the United States," the attorney observed.

Ben Hamner, club president, passed a challenge of the Lions Club to play a football game for benefit of the band to B. M. Collier, appointing him team captain.

A. Neill and O. E. Harvey are program committeemen next week.

May Appeal Cause From County Court To Higher Tribunal

Notice of appeal to the 11th Court of Civil Appeals has been given to the county court by Edward H. Fritz, following judgment in which he obtained nothing in a suit against Asa Skiles. The county ruled that the defendant recover court costs accruing from the case.

Mrs. Horton Wins Her Second Title

Mrs. Jim Horton of Eastland won her second All Southwestern Woman's Skeet championship at a meet in Dallas Sunday, it was stated here today.

Mrs. Horton broke 81 out of a possible 100 pigeons to win her second consecutive title in the women's division.

BARNES GIVEN FOUR YEARS IN ARSON CASE

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Sept. 16.—The jury in the case of Cleve Barnes, Ranger, charged with arson and assault with intent to murder, Saturday, a few minutes after the case was received, filed back into the court room bringing a verdict of guilty and assessing his penalty at four years in the penitentiary.

The verdict was read after a trial lasting two days, during which the state put on many witnesses to show that Barnes had a part in the burning of a house near Lacasa, and that he engaged in a gun fight with peace officers before surrendering.

When the jury filed into the court room the heavy-set man, a little past middle life, was seated at the table before the bar with one attorney of the three employed, his wife and grown daughter.

Verdict Brings Tears. It was all over in a jiffy. The verdict was handed to Judge Carl Hamlin and the few words quickly read, ending with the sentence of four years. Mrs. Barnes, who was nervous as the verdict was awaited, burst into tears, and the daughter making use of her handkerchief, Barnes attempting to console his wife.

The case represented one of two indictments in connection with the burning of the unoccupied dwelling, and a fight with peace officers in which a large number of shots were fired. J. S. Lemley is the other man indicted, his case to be heard later. He was wounded in the leg during the fight.

One Defense Witness. Defense put only one witness on the stand during the trial and that was with reference to testimony introduced by the state to show the house owned by persons other than the defendant. It was understood notice of appeal will be given.

The testimony tended to show that officers went to the house on the evening of its burning apparently on a tip. That while they waited nearby a car drew to a stop and in the darkness the forms of two men were seen entering the place. One went in the house and the other stood outside.

When the man inside emerged and there was a light as of burning inside, the officers advanced and called upon them to halt.

Both opened fire, Barnes with a shotgun, which jammed after one shot. That shot was directed at Ray Hickey of Breckenridge, who at the time it was fired had his attention on the other man firing.

Barnes was arrested near the house and Lemley some distance away in a pasture, and after being shot.

Negro Given Four Years For Theft, Burglary Monday

Pleading guilty to charges of burglary and theft over $50, Sam Taylor, colored, Monday was sentenced to four years in 91st district court by Judge George L. Davenport. The sentences were concurrent and were to begin July 23, of this year.

Indictments charged Taylor with entering the home of Mrs. Elma Craig, who operates the Englemann hotel in Eastland, on July 23 of this year and taking the following items:

One velvet suit, crepe dress, eight yards damask, one bed spread, fourteen sheets, one pair shoes, one pair gloves and eight electric fans.

Couple Slightly Injured In Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Dempsey, while en route to Ranger Saturday evening about 8 o'clock from their home five miles north of Ranger on the Caddo highway sustained an accident when the car in which they were riding was accidentally struck by an approaching automobile.

The car was driven by an unidentified driver, and sped away without rendering aid.

Mrs. Dempsey, who was thrown against the windshield, received painful bruises about the head and shoulders, while her husband received bruises about the abdomen.

The Dempsey car was damaged to the extent of about $50, it was estimated.

Bricks Torn From Store As Truck Is Driven From Road

Bricks from the side of the H. C. Nix grocery store in Olden were torn loose, the front part of a Hasco Gasoline company truck was telescoped and fingers of Jimmie Ballard of Breckenridge were cut in an automobile accident in Olden late Thursday afternoon.

Ballard, who was driving from Ranger to Eastland, stated as he approached Olden a car going east turned to the driver's left, making it necessary to swerve in order to avoid having a collision.

Mrs. M. S. Holt, whose husband is employed by the Magnolia company, was approaching the highway when the accident occurred, witnesses said.

Ballard was the only occupant of the truck while Mrs. Ballard's children, Christine, Nita Jean, Melvin and Kenneth, were with her. She was driving a Chevrolet 1933 sedan.

The name of the woman driving the automobile east and turning in near the Nix grocery was not learned.

Sweetwater Grid Captain Suffers Shoulder Injury

SWEETWATER, Sept. 18.—An injury in the ranks of the Mustangs who will play Eastland here Saturday afternoon is one reason for extra training this week.

Capt. A. J. Roy, one of a few veterans, suffered a badly injured shoulder when Roscoe, a Class B team, defeated Sweetwater last week 6-0. The team captain may be out for the rest of the season, extent of his shoulder injury indicates.

Eastland White Way To Be Extended On West Main Street

Eastland's "White Way" will be extended two blocks on West Main street, M. H. Kelly, city clerk, stated Wednesday.

White way light standards will replace regular type utility poles located at the postoffice and in front of the filling station being built on corner of South Daugherty and West Main.

Now that all Scouts are in school, almost every scoutmaster is going to see a decided increase in their troop advancement program—especially so where tests are more of a scholarly nature. Contrary to the opinion of most people that Scouts make the greatest advancement during the summer vacation period, they make more advancement during the school months. The tests that have to do with the out-of-doors are the ones that are passed most during vacation time. This is largely due to their wanting to forget about tests that require "indoor" thinking.

Scout Rallies
The council is planning for a scout rally, for each of the four sections of the council, during the fall months. The date for the Central section is Oct. 12. Dates for the other sections will probably be announced next week. The usual contests will take place in various scoutcrafts.

County Fairs
A number of troops are planning to take part and have exhibits at their home town fairs, which are to be held during the fall.

Court of Honor
Breckenridge district states that they are to have a big Court of Honor for their district, Sept. 20. Odie Minatra, chairman of the Court of Honor, will be in charge, assisted by scouters in the district.

Archery
More and more interest is being shown in archery—more evidently is this true since the summer camp and the handicraft schools, which have been conducted. It is hoped that a number of archery tournaments can be worked out in the near future, and that by next spring the Comanche Trail Council will have a real group of archers.

FAMILY reunion is certainly the place to get new recipes and ideas. We are just back from one and never was there such food—cakes, salads, meat loaves, fancy breads, and baked beans, for our family has both New England and Southern branches.

Trying out the recipes, it's a pleasure to find that Cousin Martha's whipped cream cake, delicate as a lovely dream, is practical for the home, that Aunt Agatha's spice cake with toasted frosting will turn out well in any careful oven, if not perhaps as superlatively as in hers.

Cousin Martha's Whipped Cream Cake

One cup whipping cream, 2 eggs, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 1/2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-8 teaspoon salt, few drops vanilla.

Put cream in mixing bowl and whip firm. Add eggs, unbeaten and beat up well with spoon. Beat in sugar. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and add to first mixture. Add vanilla and stir lightly. Turn into an oiled and floured dripping pan and bake thirty-five minutes in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.). Cover with a boiled frosting.

Rio Grande Flood Control System Faced Big Test

McALLEN, Tex.—The Lower Rio Grande Valley's gigantic flood control system was called upon to face its greatest test last week as flood waters from tributaries of the Rio Grande poured a huge volume of water into the main river channel.

The huge control system was built in 1925 by Hidalgo and Cameron counties at a cost of about $3,600,000, of which $1,600,000 was expended in Hidalgo county from proceeds of a bond issue. By a special act of the Texas Legislature, state ad valorem taxes in both counties were remitted for a period of 25 years in order to finance the control work, but that law was recently declared unconstitutional by the Texas Supreme court.

In 1932, negotiations were begun by which the federal government was to take over the Rio Grande flood control project. These negotiations were terminated in 1933 when the government agreed to assume control of the project and immediately started improvement of the entire system.

Large crews of men, directed by the International Boundary Commission, cleared underbrush out of the floodways, strengthened huge levees, repaired breaks and cracks and otherwise worked over the entire system. To date more than $2,000,000 has been spent on this system.

The work was only begun in the fall of 1932 when the first important flood since 1922 hammered into the Lower Valley from Texas and Mexican tributaries of the Rio Grande.

The flood was the greatest in nearly 20 years, the following peaks being registered at three important Upper Valley points: Rio Grande City, 34.8 feet; Mission, 28.7 feet; Hidalgo, 25.85 feet, and Donna, 20.6 feet.

That flood ripped away levees in several places, flooded many thousands of acres of land in Southern Hidalgo county, flooded Sebastian in Willacy county and finally subsided.

Before the broken levees had been repaired, two new floods roared into the Valley in September, 1933, on the heels of a destructive tropical hurricane. Neither of these floods, however, was as destructive as the one in 1932.

The control system now includes about 175 miles of huge earthen levees. They are built along the banks of the old riverbeds, traversing the Valley through the southern parts of Hidalgo and Cameron counties. These numerous

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

THE grand old pastime of baseball will lose a lot of its color when this rapidly waning diamond season passes into history. The dramatic careers of many of the sport's greatest stars probably will come to a close as they start down the other side of the hill into the dimness that finally engulfed phenoms of the past.

Already the game has lost its greatest of all stars, Babe Ruth. Memory of that barrel-like torso on toothpicks that once tore around the sacks in American League parks has faded in the minds of the fans who hasten to create new idols to worship for a while, and then forget.

But such is fame. There are others who, not having created the stir in baseball circles that the great Ruth did, will find it even more fleeting than did the Sultan of Swat.

Al Simmons, despite his declaration that he has found a way to put the lost punch back into his hickory, and vows he'll come back with a vim and vigor next season, is one.

Connie Mack, despite his need of a wash in hand in 1932, when he peddled Al and Dykes to the White Sox for $100,000, realized Simmons was on the way out. And the fact that the Milwaukee lad has worn out his breeches riding the bench much of the season is evidence of the fact that Jimmy Dykes thinks Al isn't the player he used to be.

Simmons Pleads Guilty

THE fact that Simmons acknowledges he has lost his punch at the plate is sufficient evidence for conviction. Once a ball player loses his stock in trade, he seldom recovers it, although Wes Ferrell and Lefty Grove are notable exceptions.

Another of those colorful Athletics of 1929-31 is due to do a fadeout by next spring. He is

Rabbit Deserves a Job

MARANVILLE has a place in baseball, even though he is actively through. No matter who gains control of the shaky Boston Braves, it should be his moral obligation and duty to find some soft spot for the bunny-like fellow to park his dogs.

Those are just four of the fellows you've come to know intimately through their antics on the diamond who are being shunted into the scrap heap by young blood.

Oh, yes, the game will lose a lot of color, but it's a color that has changed to a somber hue of late years, and there'll be new color, of a much brighter tint, to take its place.

Italy Teacher Has Oldest Certificate

ITALY, Tex.—P. P. Brewster of Italy is the owner of what is believed to be the oldest certificate to teach school now extant.

The certificate is dated at Castroville, Medina county, on Aug. 30, 1858, and is signed by A. H. Noonan for the Dallas Board of Education.

It certifies that Joseph Kempf "is qualified to teach, in the English language, the subjects of spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, geography and grammar."

Brewster acquired the document several years ago and plans to exhibit it at the Centennial Exposition.

River Project In Nebraska Heralds A Coming Boom

NORTH PLATTE, Neb.—The task of putting the lazy Platte River to work, 18 months ago only one man's visions wrapped in blue prints, rapidly is shaping into reality.

Water will be pouring into the Sutherland reservoir, man-made lake which will have the longest shore line of any body of water in Nebraska, by Dec. 1, Donald D. Price, general manager and chief engineer of the Platte Valley public power and irrigation district, said.

Estimated to cost $7,500,000, the big power and irrigation system next summer will begin operating; will be turning electric dynamo and irrigating thousands of acres of farm land.

The project has a starting point but no ending place that one can place a finger on—for the power plant at North Platte will develop 100,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity annually. That is one-sixth of the entire electrical load of Nebraska.

Its starting point is the Keystone diversion dam, three miles west of Keystone. This dam, which will divert 900,000 gallons of water a minute from the North Platte River, is 67 per cent completed. Price said. The contract says the job must be finished by Sept. 25.

Water which pours over the spillway of Keystone dam will flow down a canal skirting the North Platte River, through tunnels near Paxton and into a siphon which will pull it across the South Platte River. This job is 60 per cent completed, according to Price.

The huge Sutherland reservoir in which this water will accumulate is nearing completion. Contractors have excavated 2,900,000 cubic yards from this 1,800-acre site. They still have some 498,000 cubic yards to excavate.

Construction of the great power and irrigation system has made business activity hum in western Nebraska. About 2,500 men have been employed during the summer and the number is expected to be increased to more than 3,000 during September.

Businessmen and farmers are looking forward to its permanent benefits—development of cheap electricity and irrigation of about 178,000 acres of western Nebraska farm land.

Songs Mark "Two For Tonight"

BING CROSBY AT HIS BEST IN LAST COMEDY

Bright-spirited comedy, liting love songs, and gay romance make Bing Crosby's "Two for Tonight" which opens at the Connellee Theatre Monday, one grand hour of fun and entertainment, topped by a supporting cast of skillful, but none the less hilarious, comedians, headed by the buoyant inanity of Mary Boland and the droll humor of Lynne Overman.

Prepare yourself for gales of rib-tickling laughter in Bing's newest laugh riot which provides the crooner with plenty of opportunity to indulge his flair as an ace singer and master of farce. Presenting Crosby in one mirth-provoking dilemma after another, "Two for Tonight" is a perfect vehicle for Bing's light-hearted, insouciant, personable style of acting.

The comedy centers around the humorous experiences of a struggling young singer when he is erroneously taken for a playwright. Bing is one of three brothers, sons of Mary Boland, who are evicted from their home. Secreting themselves in the garden of a renowned music publisher's home, Bing sings while the other plays the piano, unaware that the publisher is deaf as a post. An airplane crashes, putting Bing in the hospital. Miss Boland, in her effort to collect $50,000 damages, writes the pilot that the accident has prevented her son from completing his play. The pilot appears, in the person of Joan Bennett, secretary to a famous stage impresario, Lynne Overman. Through her, Bing and his family have an appointment with Overman who straightway assigns Bing to write a play for his star, Thelma Todd without giving him a chance to explain.

The fun begins when Bing, finding himself short of ideas, acts upon the suggestion of Ernest Cossart, Overman's astute butler and ex-theatrical producer, to go out and make things happen to get more material for his play. He starts an hilarious seltzer water-siphon-shooting battle in a night club which sends him to jail. By this time Miss Bennett has fallen in love with the romantic tenor, but runs away when she sees him in an embrace with Miss Todd, re-hearing a love scene. Overman, suddenly returning from Europe, also sees them, and fires Bing.

A sparkling, breezy sentimental finale forms an exciting climax to the fun fest. A fine assortment of catchy melodies have been provided by Gordon and Revel, including "From the Top of Your Head to the Tip of Your Toes," "Without a Word of Warning," "Two for Tonight," "Takes Two to Make a Bargain," and "I Wish I Were Aladdin." Frank Tuttle's direction is swiftly paced, attains distinction by its excellence.

Mary Boland, Overman, Cossart, James Blakely, Douglas Fowley, Charles Arnt and others carry off high honors on the amusement end.

SEE REVIVAL OF SPECTACLES IN "INFERNOS"

The screen has taken a lot of kidding about the word "colossal," but the fact remains that "colossal" pictures made the motion picture industry what it is today.

Twenty years ago an infant industry was distributing its product in the nickelodeons, confining the early dramas to a few sets. It took years before producers discovered that iron bars did not a prison make, nor four-walled sets a motion picture.

CONNELLEE SUNDAY

Ted Lewis in "Here Comes the Band"

In luring audiences from the legitimate theatre houses and from concert halls, the motion picture had to prove it was more than merely a device by which stock company plays could be filmed.

David Wark Griffith staked his screen life on "The Birth of a Nation," which was filmed back in 1915 at a cost and on a scale unprecedented for the times. Marcus Loew paid a huge sum for the screen rights to Wallace's "Ben Hur," but international audiences showed their appreciation by paying more than $4,000,000 for the privilege of seeing the picture.

Spectacle is not as common now as it once was. Still there come moments in the progress of every producer when the larger subjects beckon.

Fox Film Corporation again experienced the old urge not so long and singled out "Dante's Inferno," now playing at the Connellee Theatre, as a theme for epic treatment.

The famous Italian poet, product of the Italian Renaissance and exiled for political reasons from his native city of Florence, penned a word-picture of his descent into Hell that has endured through the centuries as one of the most vivid descriptions of the Inferno that the mind of man could conceive.

Fox, in fashioning "Dante's Inferno" into the photoplay of the same name, found itself with an over-supply of material for spectacle. To film the "Inferno" as Dante saw it would be to send picture audiences shivering to their beds, to bring nightmares to the children, to pave the way for an abundance of revival meetings.

What it did, then, was to fashion a modern drama, produced by Sol M. Wurtzel and directed by Harry Lachman, equipping it with the talents of Spencer Tracy, Claire Trevor, Henry B. Walthall, Alan Dinehart and a cast of thousands of extras, and use the Inferno as a flash-back, conveying its audiences briefly—but not too briefly—on a rescent through Hell as Dante had pictured it.

"Dante's Inferno" as it now stands is a story of a modern singer and his climb to wealth through deceit, trickery and arch-knavery. It is when this man does penance for his crimes that the startling, colorful and frequently awe-inspiring Inferno sequences are employed.

"HERE COMES THE BAND" CHASES YOUR BLUES AWAY

Mirth and melody blend as Ted Lewis weaves magic melodies in "Here Comes the Band," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's musical romance with the high-hatted master of syncopation, playing at the Connellee Theatre Sunday.

A dramatic story dealing with the reunions of an army band, a young composer, a stolen song and a musical lawsuit that restores it to him, the new picture is packed with liting song hits and rollicking comedy. Through it runs the love story with Harry Stockwell, singing stage star of "As Thousands Cheer," and beautiful Virginia Bruce in the romantic leads.

"Headin' Home" is the principal song hit of the new picture, and figures in a lavish choral ensemble. "You're My Thrill" is the big production number with Ted Lewis and Spanky McFarland, "Our Gang" comedian, working with bevy of beautiful dancing girls. Lewis introduces his own hits such as "Me and My Shadow," "When My Baby Smiles," "Wear a Hat with a Silver Lining" and "Peanuts."

Virginia Bruce is gloriously beautiful and talented. Stockwell is heard in "Roll Along Prairie Moon" and "Headin' Home."

Paul Sloane directed the new picture, in which are many spectacular highlights and an hilarious "Amateur Night" in a broadcast station. Nat Pendleton and Ted Healy provide comedy, and Donald Cook, Addison Richards, Robert Gleckler, May Beatty, Ferdinand Gottschalk, Robert McWade, Henry Kolker, Charles Lane and others of note are in the cast.

REVEL'S RHYTHMIC EAR GIVES HIM SONG IDEAS

If you want to be a song writer, you've got to have a "rhythmic ear."

All song writers, particularly the composers of music, have to have this sense, declares Harry Revel, who, with Mack Gordon, has turned out some of the screen's biggest song hits. One of the new tunes that Revel and Gordon wrote for Bing Crosby to sing in Paramount's "Two for Tonight," coming to the Connellee for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is based on a rhythm Revel got while standing outside the print shop at Paramount. The steady clack of a job press gave him the basic rhythm idea, from which he worked out the tune.

Ability to hear rhythm in music doesn't constitute a "rhythmic ear," but the ability to hear rhythm in the monotonous crash of a printing press; the clatter of a pneumatic rivet gun, the hum of a motor, or the whir of a propeller, does.

"Anything," says Revel, "that has a natural rhythm can give a song writer an idea. He can pick a rhythm out of almost any noise providing it is a steady beat that ordinarily people don't hear. His ear is just built that way."

The hit melodies that this famous song writing team turned out for Bing, whose new comedy features Joan Bennett, Mary Boland, Lynne Overman, Thelma Todd, and Ernest Cossart, are "from the Top of Your Head to the Tip of Your Toes," "Takes Two to Make a Bargain," "Two for Tonight," "Without a Word of Warning," and "I Wish I Were Aladdin."

Centering around the hilarious experiences of a crooner who is mistaken for a playwright and is forced to write a play, "Two for Tonight" is studded with comedy situations, romantic interludes, and laugh-getting scenes.

Bing Crosby, who has entertained millions with his singing, has at last realized a secret ambition to be a tap dancer.

In this latest Paramount picture, "Two for Tonight," featuring Joan Bennett, Mary Boland and Lynne Overman, starting at the Connellee Theatre Monday, and running on Tuesday and Wednesday, Bing is given a chance to do a short tap routine. Although it is strictly a comedy routine, supposedly Bing's idea of what a troupe of chorus girls should look like in action, the singer has danced and is content.

"Two for Tonight" is a gay, romantic comedy, with music, in which Bing is cast as a singer, one of three sons of Mary Boland. In an effort to sell a song to a deaf music publisher, Bing is hurt as an airplane crashes. The pilot of the plane, Miss Bennett, given the impression by Miss Boland that Bing is an author, arranges an interview with her boss, Lynne Overman, theatrical producer. Overman orders Crosby to write a play for his star, Thelma Todd. Events lead the singer to a night club in search of more material to finish his play. After an hilarious seltzer water, siphon squirting contest in the club, Bing lands in jail. An exciting, laugh provoking climax brings Bing to the realization of the girl he really loves.

THREE IN "TWO FOR TONIGHT"

Mary Boland apparently approves the love light in the eyes of Bing Crosby and Joan Bennett in the crooner's new Paramount comedy, "Two for Tonight," with five song hits, no less, at the Connellee Theatre Monday. Frank Tuttle directed. Lynne Overman and Thelma Todd are in the cast.

Glimpses of a Flaming Purgatory

The noted artist, Frederick Dorr Steele, pictures here a modern sinner's terrified view of a flaming purgatory and its millions of tortured sinners as it is brought to the screen in Fox Film's great dramatic spectacle, "Dante's Inferno."

From the Top of Your Head to the Tip of Your Toes . . .

Signed up or single you're going to tingle to the tuneful triumph of those Mississippi sweethearts, Bing and Joan, not to mention the madcap meanderings of Mary Boland... in the fanciest, fastest, funniest show Bing has ever boo-boo-boasted to glory!

Casing Is Set on Offset to Kirk, Davisson's Well

Ten inch casing was being set at 402 feet on States Oil Corporation No. 1 J. O. Gowan, section 65, H. & T. C. Railway survey, block 2, near Gorman.

The Eastland corporation's well is an offset to Kirk and Davisson's No. 1 Gowan well, block 25, H. & T. C. Railway survey, which is credited as being a pointer to what was formerly known as a dormant Gorman area. Davisson and Kirk's well was brought in the latter part of July and gauged 120 barrels per 24 hours on its own flow. The well is still flowing at 70 barrels per day and is being pinched back, G. A. Davisson of Eastland said recently. The Davisson-Kirk well underwent an acidization test however, before production hit the 120 barrel mark.

Other operations are in progress near Gorman, some being in Comanche county.

CISCO, Sept. 19.—Initial plans were made to hold the annual Eastland County Livestock Show here in the fall rather than in the spring. The date for the show was set as Oct. 25-26, at the regular meeting of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce directors.

Reasons given for the change were that sale of the animals would be more brisk and that better stock could be shown at less expense.

Dr. F. E. Clark was named chairman of the arrangements committee for the show.

Home Work Can Be Done Faster and Better with Good Lighting

Lighting makes all the difference in the world in how home-work is done. Poor lighting reflects unfavorably in the thoroughness with which lessons are prepared. Good lighting makes it easy and pleasant to absorb quickly next day's lessons. Students face a difficult task at best in keeping up with their book-work—great care should be taken to see that bad lighting doesn't add to their difficulties.

"Camels don't get your Wind"

FAMOUS GOLFERS SAY

CRAIG WOOD (right)—Tommy Armour—Helen Hicks—Gene Sarazen—Bill Mehlhorn—Denny Shute—Willie Macfarlane!

Their names sound a roll call of tense moments that have made golfing history, when prime "condition" and healthy nerves were at a premium. All are outspoken in their preference for Camels.

"Camels are so smooth and mild they never affect my wind," says Craig Wood, pictured at the right as he pauses to smoke a Camel. Willie Macfarlane, the former U.S. Open Champion, adds: "Camels are mild. They don't get my wind." Miss Helen Hicks brings up the feminine viewpoint. "There's a delicacy of flavor in Camels that appeals to women. Camels never interfere with one's wind." And Denny Shute says: "I switched to Camels years ago. I smoke them constantly, without upsetting my nerves or disturbing my wind."

You'll Like Their Mildness Too!

Such experiences with Camels can be matched right among your own friends. You'll like Camels too. Camels are made from costlier tobaccos. They never tire your taste.

ARMOUR. "I've smoked Camels for years," Tommy declares. "Camels never bother my nerves."

SARAZEN. "Camels are milder," reports Gene. "They never get my wind or upset my nerves."

Dallas Scorpion 'Old Rip's' Rival

DALLAS, Sept. 16.—Old Rip famed Eastland county horned toad, had a new rival Saturday when workers on the Commerce street viaduct extracted a scorpion, alive and kicking, from a block of the structure's original concrete.

For the first time in a quarter of a century, since the viaduct was built, the scorpion saw the light of day, the workers claimed.

A worker said the creature was white in color when first knocked loose from its prison but after about five minutes' exposure to the air its original brownish color returned. The scorpion's head and three of its front legs were still encased in concrete when exhibited.

The workers were breaking up the concrete block when they noticed the scorpion. At first they thought it was dead but then one leg moved and then the tail—a sure sign that life still existed after the long years of solitary confinement.

Abilene Citizens Stage Bear Hunt

ABILENE, Tex.—Citizens here recently staged a bear hunt, but not for a wild animal. Instead they went gunning for "Bill," the 500-pound black bear which had lived in the stone pen at the zoo for the past few years.

"Bill" may have thought escape from his prison would be easy. He was mistaken. When he tore the planks off the top of his cage, he found Bob McDaniel waiting for him with a pitchfork.

The pitchfork proved an ineffectual weapon, however, and G. W. Baggett, zoo keeper, called police to help in the chase.

"Bill" then climbed a tree and remained there until a limb broke and he fell to the ground. Enraged he showed signs of putting up a nasty fight, so officers decided to shoot him.

He died ignominiously in a puddle of mud.

Cities Are Urged To Have Regular Traffic Regulations

DALLAS. — A recommendation that all cities in the Southwest work out a uniform schedule of regulations governing violations of traffic laws, was being studied by the city manager today.

The recommendation was made by Corporation Court Judge King S. Williamson and was studied by the citizens' advisory traffic commission.

"I believe this is one of the most constructive ideas advanced in the enforcement of traffic laws in a long time," C. J. Rutland, chairman of the traffic commission said after studying it.

Under the plan, mayors and city managers of all cities of any size in Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana would be called to attend a conference studying traffic violation problems.

If all cities in this area had similar traffic regulations, Judge Williamson pointed out, a great many persons arrested for traffic violations could no longer plead ignorance of local laws.

It would also lead to better understanding among motorists and help reduce accidents, Judge Williamson said.

If the plan is thought feasible, representatives from San Antonio, Houston, Fort Worth, Tyler, Waco, Austin, Oklahoma City, Shreveport and other cities would be invited to attend a preliminary conference.
