Youth Still Prepared For Life's Hardships

Sentimentalists have been quietly weeping into their beer over the passing of the sailing ship for many a weary year. But William McFee, veteran mariner and author, rises in the current issue of "Today" to remark that the sailing ship is still going strong.

To be sure, the old-time square rigger has just about vanished. But the schooner, the barkentine, and lesser varieties of the fore-and-aft rigged vessel are still doing a good business; indeed, says McMcFee, there are probably more ships of 40 or 50 tons under sail today than there were in the days of Francis Drake.

But the old square-rigger, of course, is a rare sight on modern seas; and Mr. McFee suspects that it was the very hardships of the life she offered to her people that make men lament her passing. Should the world suddenly run out of fuel, he remarks, so that its ocean commerce would have to depend again on the out-moded full-rigged ship, we would see a great outpouring of young men eager to sign on as seamen.

These men, he says, would come from everywhere—from gas stations and banks, from college lecture rooms and schoolteachers' desks, from chain stores and "stock-brokers' offices; all that would be needed would be to pass the word "that men were wanted to man ships, not floating hotels or steam-driven warehouses, and the men would come in a hurry."

There is little doubt that Mr. McFee is entirely right, and the thing is a little perplexing. The old sailing ship life was absolutely certain to give its devotees one thing—a solid bump on the chin—with monotonous frequency.

It was a dog's life from start to finish, and it meant poor pay, long hours, bad food, hard work, and considerable risk of life and limb.

Why, then, should men want to have it restored?

The answer probably is that the ordinary human animal is a lot less interested in security, safety, and ease than he is usually supposed to be. He wants a life that will test and challenge him, something that will take him everlastingly over the bumps and show him whether he is rightfully a he-man with whiskers on his bosom.

If he can find such a life, he will leap to it—kicking like a steer about it, to be sure, but nevertheless leaping.

And the chief trouble with the years through which we have been passing is that they have offered youth neither a hard life nor an easy one. Their color has been a dead gray.

Man will take security thankfully if he can't have the challenge; it is when he can get neither that he finds himself in a bad way.

We probably can never restore to modern life the kind of raw-meat living the old wind-jammer represented. We have to devise an alternative; and youth's dissatisfaction today is simply a sign that we have not yet done so.

Don't Blame Morgan For Our War Share

With all midgets securely under lock and key, Mr. J. P. Morgan will ascend the witness stand before the Senate Munitions committee within a few days, the idea being that he will unbosom himself about the way in which the United States got into the World War.

All this will produce many headlines, and will probably bring forth some valuable facts about the interlocking of economic and diplomatic forces. But the American public will only be kidding itself if it expects to get confirmation of its suspicion that the House of Morgan led us to war.

To be sure, the House of Morgan had the allies on the cuff for some hundreds of millions of dollars, in those dark days of early 1917, and if the allies failed to win the war the noble house stood to lose everything down to and including its cuff links.

And this same house is able to wield an enormous amount of power in the United States when it really wants to.

But the picture isn't as simple as that, and we would only be laying ourselves open for more trouble in the future by supposing that it is.

It is nothing less than childish to suppose that J. P. Morgan, fearing for his loans, privately went to Washington and demanded that we declare war. Members of the firm have denied that they ever brought any kind of pressure on anyone to get us into it, and they may well have been telling the exact and literal truth.

For the thing goes deeper than that.

Those loans that were extended to the warring governments, comparatively early in the war, struck a mortal blow to our neutrality without anyone intending that they should. Observe what happened:

We became banker, workshop, and granary for the allied governments, specifically for the French and English. This was not only an excellent thing, a veritable lifesaver, for those two nations; it was also an excellent thing for us, viewed from a short-range, dollars and cents position.

It brought us a tremendous boom. The farmer prospered, the manufacturer waxed fat, the railroad man and the exporter and the banker found business humming at an unheard-of rate, the laboring man found work plentiful and wages high—everyone in America, in short, benefited in one way or another through these war orders.

By 1917 the thing had gone on too long. We were geared to the pace of the boom. We were the allies' silent partners, and we were making money at it.

We had arranged everything on the expectation of allied victory. We had come to believe that they would and should win—for a man does not quarrel with his best customer—and when the crisis came it was inevitable that we should decide as we did.

On the details of this Mr. Morgan may throw some valuable light. But let's not delude ourselves by making him the archvillain of 1917.

No one man or group got us into the war. We simply followed our own blindness.

LOCAL UNITS NOT ABLE TO AID IN RELIEF

Officials of eight counties, called to Eastland to discuss ways and means local authorities may care for those without means of support by F. A. Wells, Texas Relief Commission District No. 14 Administrator, Saturday sent a telegraphic plea to Washington that federal aid be continued.

Financial inability of counties and cities to care for those unable to support themselves and not on governmental relief agencies' rolls was admitted by city and county officials from counties of this district.

Dr. Jack Johnson, director of economics and sociology at North Texas State Teachers College in Denton and given leave recently to serve as administrative consultant for the Texas Relief Commission, called attention to those "most worthy" reportedly excluded from work on the Works Progress Administration and PWA because they weren't on relief prior to Nov. 1—a requirement which he said must be met by those in that group.

The plea for continuation of governmental aid to President Roosevelt and WPA Chief Harry Hopkins, was drafted by a committee composed of H. Schwartz, mayor of Baird; Charles B. Palmer, Brown county commissioner; Mayor J. T. Berry of Cisco; Cisco City Attorney R. E. Grantham; Mayor C. W. Hoffmann of Eastland; City Manager J. F. Little of Eastland; Stephens County Judge Bryan Atchison; Ranger City Commissioner L. H. Flewellen; City Secretary of Ranger Roy Jameson; Henry Davenport, county commissioner; County Judge Clyde L. Garrett; Callahan County Commissioner Pete King of Baird; County Judge J. H. Carpenter of Callahan county.

The situation in large cities, said Dr. Johnson, who recently compiled figures on those without means of support and were former relief clients, is "terrible." He pointed out that federal aid has made it necessary that the TRC only give relief to unemployed. That change was effective from Jan. 1.

"Society owes an obligation at least not to permit anyone to starve," Johnson declared.

The administration, said Johnson, was facing criticism of heavy spending and was charged that the relief was a political motive. "The administration decided to drop the whole thing and let local communities take it."

A survey of the needs of communities and counties was urged by the speaker. After the survey compilation, said Dr. Johnson, ways should be devised for the care of those that need relief.

"Speaking for Eastland county," said County Judge Clyde L. Garrett, "I know it is impossible for the county to aid in the situation."

Others announcing that counties, cities and other relief organizations could not aid in the situation included: J. E. Spencer, chairman of the county Red Cross chapter, of Cisco; Judge Carpenter, county judge of Callahan county; J. T. Berry, mayor of Cisco; A. Schwartz, mayor of Baird; C. S. Eldridge, county superintendent; R. E. Grantham, Cisco city attorney; H. L. Dyer, president of the United Charities organization in Cisco; Stephens County Judge Bryan Atchison; B. L. Russell, Baird, Mayor Hoffmann of Eastland; R. A. Jameson, city secretary of Ranger; Charles B. Palmer, Brown county commissioner; County Judge R. S. McCharen, Comanche county.

Personal responsibility of individuals to aid their fellowman was urged by B. L. Russell of Baird, L. H. Flewellen of Ranger, city commissioner, urged that the situation be treated with contribution of many, according to their tax rendition.

About 250 attended. F. A. Wells, district administrator, and Judge Garrett presided. Dr. Johnson was introduced by Rev. Charles W. Estes of Eastland.

Counties in this relief district are Eastland, Erath, Shackelford, Stephens, Callahan, Coleman, Brown, Comanche.

MONTGOMERY WARD

JOHN GILBERT DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 9.—John Gilbert, screen lover and playboy of Hollywood, died today in his home on Tower Grove drive, on the outskirts of the film colony.

Members of a rescue squad of the Hollywood fire department worked for an hour in an effort to rekindle a spark of life in his body. The effort failed. Gilbert died apparently from heart disease.

He had been ill since before Christmas and spent some time in bed. He was in bed this morning resting when death came.

Gilbert, who rose to the pinnacle of film fame in the "Big Parade," suffered a severe loss of prestige when the talkies came in. His voice was not suited to talking pictures and despite the fact that he spent a small fortune in attempting comebacks, he never reached, again, the heights of his first successes.

TALMADGE IS ONLY OPPOSER OF ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia appeared at the convention selection meeting of the Democratic national committee and with a single word opened his campaign to prevent re-election of President Roosevelt.

Talmadge uttered a firm and distinct "no" against a resolution by which the committee endorsed the Roosevelt New Deal.

The resolution stated the Democratic national committee "congratulates the party on the opportunity to ratify" the Roosevelt administration and "reaffirmed loyalty to the president and endorsed his efforts to cure economic ills."

After everyone had voted for the resolution except Talmadge, they turned to see what Talmadge would do. The Georgia governor said in a loud voice:

"No."

To date, Ethiopian military strategy might be summed in a "one Bill" parody—"If you know of a better bush, go to it."

THE PROGENY OF A SINGLE BACTERIUM. WITHIN ONE WEEK, COULD CROWD THE HUMAN POPULATION OFF THE EARTH, IF FAVORABLE CONDITIONS FOR BACTERIAL REPRODUCTION WERE MAINTAINED.

The "POMPADOUR" FASHION OF HAIRDRESS WAS NAMED FOR MADAME DE POMPADOUR, A MISTRESS OF KING LOUIS XIV OF FRANCE.

The PRICKLY PEAR, KNOWN ALSO AS THE INDIAN FIG, IS NEITHER A PEAR NOR A FIG, BUT A CACTUS!

MOST bacteria reproduce by the simple method of splitting apart. One individual becomes two, two become four, and so on. This can happen every half hour, under favorable conditions. At this rate one bacterium, in 24 hours, could give rise to 281,500,000,000,000 descendants.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

IT IS POSSIBLE TO SEE AN ECLIPSED MOON, WITH THE SUN VISIBLE, ALSO.

THIS SEEMINGLY IMPOSSIBLE PHENOMENON IS CAUSED BY THE REFRACTION OF THE EARTH'S ATMOSPHERE BRINGING INTO VIEW A MOON THAT ACTUALLY HAS NOT RISEN AND A SUN THAT ALREADY HAS SET.

The GALAPAGOS ISLANDS ARE NAMED FOR THE GIANT TORTOISES WHICH WERE NUMEROUS THERE AT ONE TIME (GALAPAGO IS THE SPANISH WORD FOR TORTOISE).

...IN ALASKA... DURING THE GOLD RUSH, BEEFSTEAK SOLD FOR 48 DOLLARS A POUND AT CIRCLE CITY

A FEW instances of such an eclipse as mentioned above have occurred although it seems impossible, since it is a cardinal principle of eclipses that the sun, moon and earth must be in a straight line. Due to the refraction of the earth's atmosphere, the sun and moon are displaced about one-half of a degree, which is sufficient to bring them into view.

Consumption Of Cotton Exceeds Expected Output

By JOHN H. McFADDEN, Jr., NEW YORK, N. Y.—With world consumption of cotton running in excess of probable production this season, and with the general trend of world business and world buying power pointing upward, there seems to be good reason to be hopeful of world cotton trade prospects for the coming year.

From the American Cotton standpoint, the outlook has been improved to some degree by the fact that the government wisely refused to establish a loan value on the current crop at a level which would throw prices of the American staple out of line with prices of foreign growths, and it encouraged the planting of a larger acreage this season, with the result that the current crop is about one million bales larger than the previous one.

However, it is discouraging to all who are interested in the American cotton industry to find that, largely in consequence of the severe restriction of production in this country and the withholding of large quantities of cotton in government pools, world consumption of the American staple is being limited to a much smaller share than normal of the all-cotton consumption of the world. In other words, we have not yet taken the necessary steps to recover lost markets for American cotton.

Those necessary steps are, first, the production of a larger amount of American cotton, and, secondly, the free offering of our supplies in competition with foreign growths. Only by such a program can American cotton regain its former relative place in the world cotton trade. Such a program could be put into effect without temporary hardship on the growers through the possible lowering of prices, if it were accompanied by adjustment payments such as the government has made to growers this season.

A program based on these policies would restore the American cotton trade more nearly to its former proportions, bring more permanent prosperity to the South, and increase the net returns to the cotton growers of this country.

U. S. SURVEYS JOB DECLINES DATING TO '20

WASHINGTON.—The new deal is hiring 24,000 jobless to determine to what extent the modern machine is responsible for more than 10,000,000 persons being dependent on the government for food and clothing.

The $12,000,000 study will seek to answer this specific question: "To what extent is the present volume of unemployment the result of recent changes of industrial technique?"

Results of the nation-wide survey will be used in shaping the administration's future employment policy, now taking form around a $500,000,000 public works appropriation for 1936-1935.

Financed By Relief Fund

Administrator Harry L. Hopkins financed the project from his current $4,000,000,000 employment fund after Federal Emergency Relief Administration economists pointed out that:

"During the period from 1920 to 1929 the physical volume of production in manufacturing industries increased 37 per cent while employment dropped around 2 per cent.

"Freight car loadings increased 6 per cent from 1923 to 1929, while employment on steam railroads declined 10 per cent.

"The production of coal increased 10 per cent from 1919 to 1929 and was accompanied by a decrease in employment of about 14 per cent.

"Despite an increase in the production of agricultural commodities, 800,000 agricultural workers were displaced between 1919 and 1927."

Job Changes Necessary

The workers who lost their jobs during the so-called 1919-1929 "boom" period, relief officials said, are those now on relief rolls. Although private industry is absorbing some, indications are that a major number cannot be returned to their former trades.

The study, Hopkins said, will be "an effective approach to the basic questions involved," requiring a "comprehensive examination of the human and economic resources, of the development of production techniques . . . on the volume of employment and unemployment."

The project will be under active charge of Corrington Gill, assistant to Hopkins, and David Weintraub, the relief administration's "director of study." Work will be conducted from branch offices in Philadelphia.

With the AAA structure which they had built razed by the U. S. Supreme Court decision, Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. ARE A GUIDE TO VALUE

Experts can roughly estimate the value of a product by looking at it. More accurately, by handling and examining it. Its appearance, its texture, the "feel" and the balance of it all mean something to their trained eyes and fingers.

But no one person can be an expert on steel, brass, wood, leather, foodstuffs, fabrics, and all of the materials that make up a list of personal purchases. And even experts are fooled, sometimes, by concealed flaws and imperfections.

There is a surer index of value than the senses of sight and touch . . . knowledge of the maker's name and for what it stands. Here is the most certain method, except that of actual use, for judging the value of any manufactured goods. Here is the only guarantee against careless workmanship, or the use of shoddy materials.

This is one important reason why it pays to read advertisements and to buy advertised goods. The product that is advertised is worthy of your confidence.

Merchandise must be good or it could not be consistently advertised. Buy advertised goods.

The Colony boys' basketball team will enter a tournament on Thursday night at Morton Valley. These games will furnish much excitement to spectators, due to friendly rivalry between the teams. Morton Valley boys were defeated Friday night by Colony with a large score. This was the first victory over Morton Valley in several years.

The Colony P.-T. A. met Thursday afternoon in the auditorium of the high school in a business session. Mrs. George Cayce had charge of the program. Interesting contribution to the subject, "Community Health and Hygiene"

This organization meets on the first and third Thursday of each month, and members are urged to consult their yearbook frequently. The first meeting is taken up with a business session and social, and the second, with a study course. Another meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 16, 1936. Better Year Is Seen Ahead For Cotton Industry

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Cotton futures were depressed sharply early in the year but recovered and the spot position closed 1935 not far below a year ago. Cotton traders looked ahead to 1936 more cheerfully because of the change for the better in fundamental conditions.

Abandonment by the government of its price-fixing venture and recapture subsequently of American foreign markets were features of the year. The Italian-Ethiopian war and general business improvement combined to aid the cotton market once it had overcome the difficulties of a change in the government loan plan. Before those changes the market was gloomy. Exports fell as did world consumption of the American staple while foreign growths were stepped up.

With start of the 1935-36 season the AAA abandoned its price fixing program and substituted a bounty system designed to allow American cotton to compete abroad and at the same time to check the rising trend of government accumulated loan staple. It guaranteed an average return of 12 cents a pound to co-operating farmers by payments to equal such difference between 12 cents and the average price of middling in the 10 designated spot markets. It fixed the loan basis at 10 cents so that if prices fell below that mark, farmers could turn staple into the pool until the price was bettered.

The immediate result was a price break. Later, however, prices made progressive improvement. Exports were accelerated. Shipments to Great Britain tripled. They rose some 50 per cent to the continent, but dropped about 15 per cent to the Orient. The total movement from Aug. 1 to end of the year rose nearly 1,000,000 bales over 1934.

World consumption of American cotton, now relatively cheap against foreign growths, increased to an indicated seasonal rate of better than 12,500,000 bales—with October pace the highest since 1929.

The 1935 crop also was bullish totaling 10,734,000 bales, a large percentage of which was low in grade and staple, compared with earlier indications of 12,000,000 bales.

In view of the producers' pool holding of some 5,100,000 bales of spot and 1,000,000 of futures a scarcity of American cotton portended, since carryover at the end of the 1934-35 season including pool stock, aggregated only 9,000,000 bales.

Uncertainty regarding disposal of the pool cotton and sporadic sales of this staple retarded price recovery.

Women Find Life At Middle Age Best

PHILADELPHIA.—A woman's life is happiest when her first baby or her first grandchild is born, rather than during her courtship or honeymoon, 400 members of the Twentieth Century Club of Lansdowne decided. "About 50," was the favorite age of the women considering the problem. They expressed varying opinions, but voted for the contentment of middle age, after children are grown, the hard work of home life is over, and when a woman's time is her own. Many of the women recalled happy memories of "sweet 16," but none wanted to return to that period. The older members of the club said they preferred to look forward to the "quiet of the twilight years."

Mexico Planning New Hospitality

SAN ANTONIO.—Stirring activity on the other side of the Rio Grande is going on now with Mexico completing plans for hospitality when Texas Centennial visitors start pouring into the country, according to Thomas Sinclair Gore, president of one of Mexico's leading hotels. Completion of the Pan-American highway was given by Gore as one of the reasons why Mexico is going ahead with plans. Gore has just completed a two-month tour of the United States and indicates that Texas and Mexico may expect a wealth of "company" during the celebrations next year.

Livestock Prices At 5-Year High; Receipts Lower

CHICAGO, Ill. — Livestock values at the Chicago stock yards boomed to the highest level in five years in spectacular price fluctuations during 1935. The smallest receipts in the modern history of the market forced hog prices to the highest level since the boom days of 1929. A peak of $12.25 per hundred pounds was paid for choice hogs on Sept. 14, climaxing two months of steadily advancing prices. It was the highest price paid at the world's largest stock yards since July, 1929.

the smallest since 1872, and stock yards officials were forced to close acres of hog pens in August when receipts were lightest. Refusal of housewives to pay the high prices asked for dressed pork and slightly increased receipts of new crop pigs finally brought a recession from the highest points. The low price for the year was the $8 top per hundred pounds paid on Jan. 5 and February 2. Receipts for 1935 were 2,750,000 head lighter than a year ago. Light receipts also prompted an advance in cattle prices. Best steers sold at a top of $16.25 per hundred pounds on May 14, the peak since January, 1930. The drought largely was responsible for the small supply. Receipts were 375,000 head lighter than in 1934. The high price on choice vealers was $11.50, touched four times in September and October. The $8 top paid for vealers Jan. 5 and July 29 was the lowest of the year.

An improved wool market and the advance in other livestock prices lent strength to the sheep market. The top on lambs soared to the highest point in more than five years. Old crop lambs sold at a top of $11.65 early in December, while the low of $8.25 on these kinds was touched in the spring. On the new crop a peak of $8.15 per hundred pounds was reached on July 22. The low of $7.15 on clipped lambs was paid May 2.

Last Spotlight For Bruno Gleams Over Death Chair

TRENTON, N. J.—A single directly over the electric chair, is the only illumination in the New Jersey death chamber where Bruno Richard Hauptmann will die for the murder of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

The one light, however, casts a strong glow and the German carpenter will be able to see perfectly the details of the death room and the spectators present.

His first interest probably will be the electric chair, solid, cold and made of oak.

The instruments for operating the current are built in the wall directly to the rear of the chair.

Beside the chair are the mask, sponges, straps and other implements necessary for an electrocution. A battered old scrub bucket contains the water with which the sponges are dampened.

The death chamber is 34 by 20 feet. It is painted a cream color. It holds 30 spectators, who must sit on folding chairs.

The witnesses will include physicians, prison officials, six newspapermen and 12 official witnesses. A rope cord will separate them from the chair.

The death chamber is a part of the death house, a dingy one-story building without windows. The building has 18 cells in death row and two showers.

Hauptmann, in his 10 months residence in cell No. 1, has had many looks at the door to the death chamber—the door the New Jersey courts have decided he must walk through. He never has had a peek inside, however.

Cell No. 1, like others in the death house, is 6 feet by 9. It is painted a cream color and contains a lavatory, chair, bed and writing desk.

Each cell is separated by a solid partition and when murderers' row does not have too many tenants the doomed prisoners are placed on each in alternate cells.

Daylight comes to the death house through one large skylight. The inmates can tell day from night, but not the state of the weather.

The door separating the death house from the death chamber is of oak (not green) and the death chamber is soundproof. Accordingly, other prisoners in the death house and in other parts of the state prison can not hear the hum of the motors when the electricity is turned into the chair.

The morgue where autopsies are performed after the electrocutions lies directly behind the death chamber. There are three doors in the chamber. One leads from the outside, one into the morgue, and the third is the one through which Hauptmann will be led.

A wounded Italian soldier cried, "Long live the Duce; long live Italy." He might make up his mind.

"Twin Sisters" Are Back In Texas

DALLAS.—Texas' historic "Twin Sisters" have come home. The people of Louisiana are responsible for sending the now famous cannons back to their native state.

The two small cannons made up Sam Houston's artillery at the battle of San Jacinto. Soon after his inauguration as the President of Texas, the little guns were taken by federal officers to Baton Rouge, La., where they were sold for junk. One became the property of a foundry and the other was purchased by an individual.

An appeal from Texas for the return of the "Twin Sisters" resulted in their coming back to the Lone Star State. The people of Louisiana appropriated $700 for remounting and putting the guns in good condition, after which they were presented to Texas with the compliments of the State of Louisiana.

of 1926, brought farmers less than five cents a pound. So low was the price that pecan farmers, depending on their crop for Christmas money, asked federal loans to allow them to hold crops until prices went up. Farmers generally received three to four cents per pound for pecans.

Texas' pecan tree has one distinction no other Texas tree can offer—it is the state tree. The 39th Texas Legislature in 1919, adopted the pecan as state tree. Many prominent Texans have made pecan-growing and improvement a hobby. Gov. James S. Hogg ordered a pecan tree planted on his grave. Other pecan seedlings were planted on the capitol lawn.

During 1936, centennial year, seedlings from the present trees will be carried from Austin to other parts of the state.

This is the season of year when gift ties strain the family variety.

Man Arrested In Ranger Sentenced

FORT WORTH, Jan. 7.—Leslie Medlin, 30, today pleaded guilty in district court to possession of 74 half gallons of whisky. He had been arrested with two companions in Ranger Oct. 13. He received a 14-month suspended sentence.

He told the court a profitless filling station near Weatherford and a heavy debt and taxes caused him to go into the liquor business.

Texas Pecans Are More Plentiful Than In Years

DALLAS, Tex.—Texan pecans, which helped fill the nation's Christmas stockings, were the most plentiful in history—and almost the lowest in price.

Because most pecan trees grow wild in this state, no exact figure is available on the number of trees. Experts estimate there are from 80,000,000 to 100,000,000. Federal crop authorities estimated 44,000,000 pounds were produced from those trees in 1935.

Choicest pecans are those cultivated in private orchards, with the quality improved through grafting. Pecans from such "improved" trees, total less than 5 per cent of the state's output. Drought and other bad growing conditions in 1934 cut the state's yields to 13,000,000 pounds, of which 390,000 pounds were from "improved" trees.

This year's bumper crop, exceeding by nearly 2,000,000 pounds the previous record yield

I'LL TELL YOU WHAT ROLL-YOUR-OWN TOBACCO I RECOMMEND — PRINCE ALBERT

DICK TRUITT is another fast one with Prince Albert and the "makin'" papers—rolls 'em in 8 1/2 seconds.

No-risk trial offer still held open by dealers of RANGER

We recently made a remarkable straight-from-the-absolider offer to roll-your-own smokers through the columns of this paper.

The effect was electrifying! Smokers by thousands took us at our word... tried Prince Albert... and met up with a better "makin'" tobacco than they had smoked before.

Tobacco must please, or you've smoked it FREE! The offer is repeated today. Prince Albert delights you, or you pay nothing. And you are the judge. Could anything be fairer?

Choicest, top-quality tobaccos are used in Prince Albert. Many grades are rejected.

Prince Albert is "crimp cut" for easy rolling and slow, cool burning. Mild, mellow flavor is assured by our special "bit-removing" process. Prince Albert is packed right—in tin. No bother—no waste. Tobacco keeps in prime condition.

And you get real money-in-the-bank economy too. There's tobacco for around 70 cigarettes crowded into every big red 2-ounce tin.

Remember that it is Prince Albert which makes the fair and square NO-RIEK offer. And there are 2 full ounces in every tin of Prince Albert. So start rolling P. A. today! It's a mighty neighborly smoke in a pipe too.

THE OFFER

Roll yourself 30 swell cigarettes from Prince Albert. If you don't find them the finest, tastiest roll-your-own cigarettes you ever smoked, return the pocket tin with the rest of the tobacco in it to us at any time within a month from this date, and we will refund full purchase price, plus postage. # POWELL, DVORAK MUSICAL AT ARCADIA

STARS FILL "THANKS A MILLION," JAMBOREE OF SONGS AND FUN

If it's songs you are looking for, "Thanks a Million" has more than you count; if it's laughs, it's the season's top joy show; and if it's romance and stars, how about Dick Powell, Ann Dvorak, Fred Allen, Patsy Miller, Paul Whitman and his band with Ramona, Rubino and the Yacht Club Boys!

Crammed with entertainment, 20th Century's spectacular new fun-music film, "Thanks a Million" comes Sunday to the Arcadia Theatre.

It has a frivolous plot, woven about the wildest adventures of a troupe making one night stops under the masterful misguidance of comedian Fred Allen.

Dick Powell is the company's songster, and Ann Dvorak its leading dancer, and as you might guess they're wild about each other. In some fantastic manner, Allen manages to get the troupe entangled with a bunch of wild-eyed politicians, and before they have extricated themselves, plenty happens.

The romance of Powell and Dvorak is threatened by the intrusion of Margaret Irving, Powell becomes temperamental and Allen becomes more nutty than ever. But it all comes out happily in the end, with Powell a radio star, and Miss Dvorak ready to say "I do!"

The film's songs, largely from the pens of Gus Kahn and Arthur Johnston, include "Thanks a Million," "I've Got a Pocket Full of Sunshine" and "Sugar Plum."

Adapted from a screen story by Nunnally Johnson, "Thanks a Million" was personally produced by Darryl F. Zanuck and directed by Roy Del Ruth.

Raymond Walburn, Benny Baker and Alan Dinehart are prominent in the supporting cast.

"CORONADO" INTRODUCES TWO TALENTED YOUNG PERFORMERS ON SCREEN

Lavishly garnished with catchy tunes and bringing two new youthful and talented players to the screen, Paramount's musical romance, "Coronado," which showed at a midnight show recently at the Arcadia Theatre, is a film worth anybody's time and money.

Eddy Duchin and his orchestra provide the musical background for the film and his popular dance band's first motion picture on-

Together In New Musical

agement is auspicious, to say the least.

The performance of the two leading players, Johnny Downs and Betty Burgess, indicates to this reviewer that Hollywood has discovered something refreshingly new. These two young people not only act competently—they are talented singers and dancers as well.

The action, in the main, takes place at the Hotel Coronado in Southern California, a resort frequented by the upper crust of society. Miss Burgess is cast as an entertainer with Eddy Duchin's orchestra at the hotel, though she lives on the wrong side of the tracks in a "teat city" with her ebullient father, Leon Errol, and her sister, Alice White, who is somewhat addle-pated.

Young Downs is the son of a wealthy automobile manufacturer stopping at the hotel, and from the moment they meet the rich boy and the poor girl go for each other. Vicissitudes arise on all sides, blasting their romance again and again, but at the conclusion, they're still "Johnny and June—songs, dances and funny sayings."

The cast fits the story perfectly, and there is no end of comedy in the picture, contributed mainly by Jack Haley and Andy Devine as two marine-hating sailors, and Leon Errol as father of the two girls. The performances of Berton Churchill as the tolerant motor magnate and of Alice White as "Vivvy," merit special mention.

The songs which form an important part of the film were written by Richard Whiting and Sam Coslow. You will like them, especially the featured number, "You Took my Breath Away," which Miss Burgess sings. The picture, directed by Norman McLeod, has superb settings and the dance ensembles, performed by some of the loveliest girls in Hollywood, are staged with a maximum of cleverness.

Ford Company to Have An Exhibit At Centennial

DALLAS, Jan. 9.—The Ford Motor Company will enter the Texas Centennial Exposition when it opens here in June with a building and exhibit investment of $2,250,000. Announcement of the Ford Exposition program was made from Dearborn, Mich., after a conference between Henry Ford, Edsel Ford, Nathan Adams, chairman of the exposition directors, and Paul M. Massman, director of exposition exhibits.

Plans for a $1,200,000 Ford building for the exposition have been drawn by Albert Kahn, New York architect. Work is to start on or before Feb. 15, with completion date set for May 1.

The structure will be of steel and concrete, with wide patios and exhibition spaces. It will include an amphitheatre for a series of elaborate musical and entertainment programs which the Ford company will present during the progress of the exposition.

A feature of the Ford plans will be "Roads of the Southwest." This will consist of a series of replicas

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
SEA SERVICE STAFF WRITER

WHETHER you call it a "rabbit" or "rarebit," the Welsh rarebit is a concoction that always is greeted with delight when it appears as the piece de resistance of the evening. And one of the nicest things about a rarebit for entertaining a buffet supper is that you make it at the table. Everybody at the party can help—"comes to the aid of the party."

I know of no better beginning for a menu featuring cheese than a frosty, fruity cocktail made quite tart and accompanied by the enticing salty tang of herring and anchovy and caviar. Since the rarebit is to be served on crisp toast, use whole wheat, plain rye and pumpernickel breads for the canapes.

Then after the rarebit, serve a crisp green salad with a tart dressing. French endive, escarole, romaine, head lettuce, cress, parsley and chicory, and arrange them in a big wooden bowl. Provide two or three dressings so that your guests will have a choice.

Perhaps you prefer an English monkey to a Welsh rabbit. Here are recipes for both.

English Monkey
One cup dry bread crumbs (stale but not crisp), 1-2 cup evaporated milk and 1-2 cup water or 1 cup whole milk, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 package Liederkranz cheese, 1 egg slightly beaten, 1-2 teaspoon salt, few grains cayenne.

Soften bread crumbs in milk and water which have been blended. Melt butter in blazer of chafing dish over hot water. Add cheese cut in pieces and cook and stir until melted. Add crumb mixture, slightly beaten egg and sea-

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Halves of grape fruit, cereal, cream, soft cooked eggs, toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: English monkey (made in double boiler in the kitchen) or at the table in chafing dish but ready to eat when the family come in), fruit salad, chocolate roll, milk, tea.

DINNER: Baked fresh ham with pineapple, potatoes au gratin, broccoli with lemon butter, cress and apple salad, cranberry sherbet, sponge cake, milk, coffee.

Cook until thoroughly blended and thick and smooth and serve on crisp toast. You know you must be very careful not to over-cook cheese dishes and a chafing dish which operates on the principle of the double-boiler is ideal.

Here's the recipe for Welsh rarebit.

Welsh Rarebit
One-half pound mild cheese, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon powdered mustard, few grains cayenne, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1-2 cup ale or beer, 2 eggs.

Melt butter and add cheese and seasonings. The cheese must be cut in small pieces as in the preceding recipe. Cook and stir and as cheese melts gradually add ale or beer, stirring constantly and vigorously. As soon as all the ale is added, stir in eggs well beaten and continue to cook and stir until thickened and smooth. Serve on crisp hot toast. The rarebit is cooked over hot water.

ceived by school children occur on the campus or in the building; 32 per cent in homes; 9 per cent while going to and from schools and the remaining 24 per cent on streets and other places.

Wood stressed safety education as a factor in reducing children's accidents and lauded the work of junior safety councils, school boy patrols, and safety clubs.

Precautions advocated by Wood were:

1. To put things in their proper places, avoiding trash fires.
2. Not to lean out of windows.
3. Helping parents see that homes do not contain worn stair treads, loose or torn carpets, unguarded steps, poorly lighted halls and stairs, loose banisters, slippery floors, worn lighting connections, or cans of gasoline and benzine.

Precautions while on school buses included:

1. Urging grown-ups not to pass school busses which are loading or unloading children.
2. Against alighting from busses while they are in motion.
3. Against riding fenders or on the outside of busses and cars.

Lady Took Cardui During Middle Life

Women who are entering middle life will be interested in the experience of Mrs. L. C. McDonald, of Paragonia, Ark., who writes: "I cannot say anything but good about Cardui. I think it is a grand medicine. I took Cardui during change of life. I was so weak, so nervous, I could hardly go. I just dragged around. I had fainting spells and would just give down. My back and head hurt. I knew I had to take something to give me strength. I read of Cardui. I took about seven bottles. It gave me relief and strength. I am now 60 years past, and can do a pretty good day's work in the house and garden."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Spinal Meningitis Shows an Increase In State of Texas

AUSTIN.—A definite increase in the number of cases of epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis has been noted in Texas, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. While the number of these cases is not alarming as yet, preventative measures should be followed.

The best method of escaping this disease is the prevention of overcrowding either at home or in public. Overcrowded conditions in camps, barracks, jails, or other institutions where men are brought in close contact are most favorable for outbreaks. Children and old people are more susceptible than those of middle age, and Negroes contract meningitis more frequently than whites.

Persons with colds and coughs should stay indoors if possible, should practice personal hygiene and cough into their handkerchiefs.

The early symptoms of meningitis are those of a cold or influenza. If one has headache, backache, fever and chilly sensations, he should consult his family doctor at once. Healthy carriers spread the disease from their nose and throat to those who are susceptible. Most adults are not susceptible to the disease. The earlier the diagnosis is made, the better are the chances of recovery. All suspicious cases must be isolated.

Safety Campaign Among Children Is Being Planned

AUSTIN.—A safety campaign among Texas' 1,558,855 school children and 42,000 teachers will be inaugurated immediately by State Superintendent L. A. Woods. In a personal letter to each school, Wood addressed teachers and pupils with special warning to the 200,000 Texas children who ride school buses to and from their homes. He pointed out that 35 per cent of the injuries re-
