County-Wide Centennial Celebration Would Attract Attention, Editor In Colorful Oil Belt Era Is Convinced

Boyce House, Oil Belt editor for 10 years and observer of the county's colorful oil boom period, in Eastland last week as a correspondent for a Fort Worth newspaper, believes a county-wide cooperative Centennial celebration would attract many visitors. "This county has been the scene of events that made Texas history and I believe a revival of the oil boom color at a Centennial celebration would attract national attention. "If Cisco, Ranger, Eastland, Rising Star and Desdemona planned a cooperative celebration, former residents should come from over Texas and the nation. "Perhaps celebrities and colorful persons—and the oil boom did bring them—would again visit Eastland county towns," said the writer of "Were You In Ranger," a book detailing events during the oil boom era. "It's just an idea of course, but I do believe it would be a success. July as the opening of a week's celebration might make an appropriate time. Then the Dallas and Fort Worth celebrations will have opened and by the latter part of July the county would get the benefit of the influx of Texas visitors who travel through Eastland county." The Fort Worth newspaperman advanced the opinion certain days might be assigned for each town, although features could be arranged on all days in the cities.

Election Order Is Sent Out by Court To All Precincts

Orders issued by the commissioners' court of Eastland county, issued on April 1, ordering an election on legalization of "vinous and malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of 14 per cent by volume" have been sent to the voting precincts of Eastland county for posting. The date for the election is set for Saturday, April 18.

The election was called by the commissioners' court after a petition, signed by the required number of voters in the county, was presented to the court, and after a ruling by the attorney general that such an election would be legal.

The order for the election, as sent to the voting precincts of the county, is as follows:

"On this 1st day of April, 1936, came on to be considered by the commissioners' court of Eastland county, Texas, petitions signed by qualified voters of Eastland county, Texas, requesting that this court should order an election in Eastland county, Texas, for the purpose of determining whether or not there should be legalized the sale of vinous and malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of 14 per cent by volume in Eastland county, Texas; and the court after having heard and considered said petition is of the opinion that it is sufficient and it is the opinion of the court that said election should be held in each voting box in Eastland county, Texas, on the 18th day of April, A. D., 1936, as is provided for by the laws of the State of Texas, this being Article 666 of Vernon's Annotated Civil and Criminal Statutes of the State of Texas, and being what is commonly known as the Texas Liquor Control Act.

"It is therefore ordered on this 1st day of April, 1936, that said election shall be held at each voting box of Eastland county, Texas, on the 18th day of April, 1936, and the clerk of said court shall post or cause to be posted at least one copy of this order in each election precinct for at least six days prior to said election; which election shall be held and return thereof made in conformity with the provisions of the General Laws of the State of Texas, and by the election officers appointed and qualified under such laws, and all officials shall take such further action as may be necessary to hold said election and carry out the purpose of this order. "The vote shall be by official ballot and there shall be printed on each ballot the following words: "For legalizing the sale of vinous and malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of 14 per cent by volume," and "Against legalizing the sale of vinous and malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of 14 per cent by volume." Bell testified as the administration and business oppositionists marshaled final witnesses for what was expected to be the last day's hearing on President Roosevelt's $1,127,000,000 tax proposal.

FARM PROGRAM URGED FOR U. S. TO END WASTE

SAN FRANCISCO.—Scrapping of the AAA has led California industrialists, economists, scientists and farm leaders to launch a nationwide movement for complete rehabilitation of American farming through normal scientific and economic channels.

At the basis of the movement will be two fundamental principles: Development of non-food outlets for agricultural products.

Utilization of all farm waste products.

In California alone, backers of the movement declare, a new income of $26,000,000 annually is possible for the farmer through proper utilization of the waste materials of California vegetables alone.

At the preliminary meeting of backers of the new movement here steps were taken for a Far Western States' Conference on the subject to be held at Fresno, Cal., March 26 and 27. From this regional meeting, it is hoped the movement can be launched on a nationwide basis.

Aided by Chemists The fundamental program for this new drive for the re-establishment of American agriculture as a profitable industry had its origin last May at Dearborn, Mich., when the Farm Chemurgic Council was organized under the sponsorship of the Chemical Foundation.

Carl B. Fritsche, of the Farm Chemurgic Council, will preside at the Fresno meeting. He will have the help of Dr. Robert A. Millikan, of the California Institute of Technology, the Dean Hutchinson, of the University of California's College of Agriculture.

The underlying principles of the program by purely scientific, economic and industrial methods instead of by statutory regulation are embodied in the following program:

Gradual absorption of much of the domestic farm surplus by domestic industry.

Profitable utilization of idle acres.

Increase of the purchasing power of the American farmer on a stable and more permanent basis.

Complimentary increase in the demand for manufactured products.

Ultimate creation of new work for idle hands, revival of American industry, restoration of American labor to productive enterprise and relieving of economic distress of the nation. "We must get rid of the idea," declared Fritsche, "that there are no new frontiers to conquer and of the belief that the farm problem can be solved by enacting statutes."

"We feel that we can go a long way toward solving the problem by developing new uses for farm surpluses through the application of the discoveries of science."

The program, according to Dr. Alonzo Taylor, of the Stanford University Food Research Institute and a member of the Farm Chemurgic Council, "is something which economists have been waiting for years."

"It is a question," declared Dr. Taylor, "of directing agricultural surpluses into profitable non-food outlets, the products of American farm labor are being used less and less proportionately for food and more for the production of goods and services, as the standard of living rises."

Backers of the new movement are confident American inventive genius and initiative will find ways of turning all of the productive possibilities of American farming into a profitable use that will entirely rehabilitate agriculture.

Waste Products Used

According to Fritsche, the Farm Chemurgic Council already has a definite program of projects not only for the use of waste farm products but for the non-food absorption of agricultural products in various forms of industry.

For example, Fritsche points out that the Mississippi Valley has demonstrated that the soy bean crop is capable of being utilized in production of an oil used in paints and varnishes.

Artificial wool, he asserts, can be made from casein extracted from dry milk. Furfural also is obtainable from the waste hulls of oats and forms a solvent for composition materials such as tiles, linoleum, paneling, etc.

There also can be intensified in agricultural regions, he declares, the production of wood and cotton cellulose which results in celophane and rayon.

Vast quantities of California raisins which are not quite up to the fruit market standard are capable of conversion into industrial alcohol in the proportion of 90 gallons to the ton. Peaches which is obtained from California citrus fruits, is used in a number of chemical operations

Death Cheats Some Of Their Pensions, But More Qualify

By United Press

DALLAS.—Death which takes no account of the hopes of the living, already has jerked from the grasp of many applicants for old age pensions the $15 a month they expected from the state.

J. T. Mallory, division supervisor for 11 North Texas counties, said the Dallas office had knowledge of the deaths of 50 persons since they applied for assistance, and that there may be many others of whose deaths the office had not been appraised.

"At the same time," he pointed out, "their places are being taken by others who have just reached the age of eligibility, so that the total number of applicants remains about the same.

"Persons cannot apply for old-age assistance under the Texas laws until on or after their sixty-fifth birthday. For that reason, we have a constant stream of new applicants who have just become eligible."

Lotief Firm Is New But Well Established

Although new in the field, the Lotief Dry Goods company has made many friends in their new location in Eastland. Moving to Eastland was worth while to Mr. Lotief and his admirable family and has created a new asset to Eastland. Their department store is full of inviting values and a visit to the store gives promise to the customer that they will receive something with a guaranteed background of a complete satisfactory purchase.

"Gas Cookery" is MODERN

... when your Range is MODERN

1 Simmer Burners

Light automatically. The only burner that makes possible a simmering or fast boiling heat instantly at the turn of a valve.

2 Oven Heat Control

Automatically maintains oven heat at any predetermined cooking temperature as long as desired, without care or attention. Only gas can be regulated so accurately.

3 In-a-Drawer Broiler

Slides in and out on roller bearings to the full length of the drawer, eliminating the necessity of reaching into a hot compartment. New broiler grid eliminates any smoke.

4 Oven Insulation

Keeps kitchen cool and makes possible more cooking on the same amount of gas. Heavy rock wool is used on the modern gas range for this purpose.

DESIGNED and engineered to give the modern housewife a definitely superior cooking instrument, the modern gas range stands alone. It alone has a cooking heat instantly controllable to any desired temperature. No other range has its basic features pictured above. No other range can match its economy. No other range has its speed. No other range matches it in style and beauty. It is truly the modern cooking appliance!

A modern gas range simplifies all methods of cookery ... introduces new convenience of use ... reduces operating costs ... eliminates cooking failures and waste of food. It makes possible the retention of the health building vitamins and mineral salts in meats and vegetables. It removes drudgery from daily meal preparation.

If you're not now enjoying the use of a new gas range ... go MODERN! Install one now. You can do it for so little money each month that it seems like pin money.

The new farm act to be based on the conservation of our soil, it means the Farmer-Stockman in editorial in March 15 issue, will be just as valuable as we see it.

In the most bewitching role of a dance hall girl who captivates the entire Pacific navy personnel, Ginger Rogers sings, dances and romances with Fred Astaire through the gay musical, "Follow the Fleet," to a complete musical score by Irving Berlin. Numbers she interprets include: "Let Yourself Go," "All My Eggs in One Basket" and "Let's Face the Music and Dance" in the RKO Radio film.

spirit in which it is being offered, it will mark the turning point in the farm industry in the south-west.

"Up to this good day we have mined our soil of the store of fertility which nature put in it. Few of us have farmer to maintain the fertility. That farm is an exception which is as fertile as the day it was broken out.

"That sort of farming can't continue. Sooner or later it runs its course. The gullied hillsides and the dead, hard soils which contain no longer a proper store of humus testify to our destruction.

"In the past three to five years we have done, in total, a fine lot of terracing. But the known total of land terraced as compared to that needing terracing, does not comprise a record of which we can be proud. The big job is still ahead of us.

"In fact, we have not yet reached the point that we are holding our own. We are losing soil faster than we are saving it. This new program can reach every farmer in the South during the first year of its operation. If we wholeheartedly accept the program, we can, in 1936, make a most definite start in conserving the soil resources on each and every farm.

"... this new farm bill will be offered to every farmer en-the soil, it has been learned recently that a fresh supply of "canned" bacteria often increases the yield noticeably."

Governor Proud Of Parole Reform During First Year

AUSTIN.—If Gov. James V. Allred were to choose the accomplishment he was proudest of during his first year as executive of Texas, probably that choice would be prison and parole reforms.

One serious reverse was encountered last year when Dave Nelson, first Allred choice as prison manager, died. O. J. Ellingson, Nelson's successor, has taken over, however, and is putting into practice many of Allred's ideas gained as a governor, attorney general and prosecuting attorney.

Classification and segregation work at Huntsville's prison, undertaken jointly by the University of Texas bureau of research in social sciences and the Rockefeller foundation, is a pet project of the governor. Even more proud is he of the county parole board system.

Observers at the conference here last week were surprised at the enthusiasm of voluntary parole agents. The spirit was something like that of a "big brother" club which many cities sponsor at Christmas time. Few of the board members have had important dealings with law or lawlessness, yet they have given of their own time and money to aid paroled ex-convicts.

Allred read one letter which he viewed half-seriously despite a chuckling in the crowd. It was from an anonymous Houston writer:

"Dear Governor: I am sure that you do not have time to be bothered with every fool thing that arrives at your desk. However, here is the homespun opinion of a cotton tail rabbit chaser in Harris county on the apprehension of criminals which is as follows: "Put them to death just as quickly as they can be got to the chair and also put his lawyer to death if he appeals the case. This nation has got to be rid of these damn scoundrels."

Allred termed the letter "an attempt to express the feeling of a large number of our people."

Prisoners in Texas penitentiaries are getting more studious—at least more are going to school. Not always is the attendance at prison classes an indication of desire of learning—the inmates get "time" deducted for going to school. Significant figures were revealed in the prison's 1935 report.

More than 6,000 convicts are now in prison. Of those admitted in 1935 alone, 956 were unable to read or write. Prison classes attracted 4,484 men last year, with 1,686 in the first and second grades. Tests given 3,000 prisoners revealed that less than one-third have the equivalent of a grammar school education.

While the total served in prison schools was 4,484, the daily average attendance was 2,234, a 30 per cent increase over the last year.

If we do our whole part, we will find at the end of three to five years that we have stopped our loss of soil and have, at least, started the process of building back to a once more productive agriculture."

THROCKMORTON—Contouring 70 acres of land in 1934 gave H. E. Builes, Throckmorton county farmer, $300 more profit in 1935 than he would have realized had the contouring not been done, according to R. O. Dunkle, county agricultural agent.

The 70 acres produced 165 pounds of lint cotton per acre, while near-by lands not contoured produced only 130 pounds per acre. The contouring was done in August, 1934, at a total cost of $32.

GIDDINGS—Terracing to stop the washing and fill up the ditches in his field is the first step that A. N. Beasley of the Adiana community in Lee county has taken in restoring the fertility of 50 acres of his farm, according to L. M. Gandy, county agricultural agent.

Beasley aptly describes the fertility of his farm when he states that today 25 acres are necessary to produce as much corn as 70 rows did when he put the land into cultivation.

This land was very difficult to terrace, as the major portion of the farm sloped from both sides to the center of the field where a large ditch was forming. This ditch, if not prevented, would take out 10 acres of good land. The land had an average slope of 8 per cent and in the last 15 years had washed down to the clay.

CONROE—By the use of artificial inoculation on his peanuts in 1935, C. H. Page of Montgomery county increased the production of both peanuts and hay by 35 to 40 per cent, according to G. L. Clyburn, county agricultural agent.

"The difference in the inoculated plants and those that were not inoculated, was visible right up to the row," Page said. "It seems that any farmer could hardly make a better investment than the 20 or 25 cents per acre for artificial inoculation of peanuts and legumes. Although cowpeas and peanuts will grow in this section without the addition of bacteria to have legally served their sentence, those who leave on parole are expected to be meticulous in their personal conduct. If returned to prison for violation of paroles, they are put in "stripes," very obvious to visitors and fellow convicts.

Four printed forms fairly accurately describe the life of a law-breaker out on parole. Two of them are addressed to the department of state at Austin and signed by county parole board members. One shows when the parolee "checks in" at his home county after receiving clemency. The other is the regular monthly report form, showing how the parolee spent his wages—if any.

Form three is addressed to L. G. Phares, director of the department of public safety. It is a notice that (blank) parolee has failed to appear for his regular monthly report and would the state police please "contact" him.

The fourth form is a small card carried by the parolee. It gives the name of his county advisor and the parole number. For the bearer, the cards are often valuable. Zealous local officers sometimes know their one-time criminal on sight and wonder how he got out of prison.

State Health Officer Warns of Typhoid

AUSTIN.—"High up on every health officer's list of 'Disease Prevention Duties' at this time of the year, is the reminder, 'Typhoid Fever Immunization,' stated Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

Through the protection of public water supplies from contamination, the pasteurization of milk supplies, vaccination against the disease, improved sanitation of homes not served by protected water supplies, sanitary supervision of sources of food supplies and other protective measures, typhoid fever can be controlled.

Here are the facts: As somebody has aptly said 'Nobody catches typhoid—he swallows it.' Typhoid is a filth-borne disease. It causes great suffering and many deaths. That is not all. It is like an endless chain. A certain number of the people who have the disease and recover from it, become 'carriers.' They continue to pass the typhoid-producing germs in the discharge from the bowels and kidneys. If the discharges are not disinfected before they are disposed of, the germs may spread into the soil and pollute it, or they may be carried into an unprotected water supply and contaminate it. A carrier may also spread typhoid when he handles or prepares food and is not careful to wash his hands.

In vaccination against typhoid we have an effective means of protection which lasts a certain period and then must be renewed. If you have not been protected against typhoid within the last two or three years, go to your doctor and have it done now.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

WE NEVER SEE THE SUN WHERE IT IS, BUT WHERE IT WAS, EIGHT MINUTES AGO!

IN ANCIENT EGYPT, DOCTORS NOT ONLY WERE EXPECTED TO CURE THEIR PATIENTS, BUT ALSO TO RID THEIR HOMES OF SNAKES AND VERMIN.

A PERSON looking in the direction of the sun sees light that left that body eight minutes ago, and since that time, the sun has advanced steadily along its path in the sky. Although light travels at the enormous rate of 186,000 miles per second, it must be remembered that the head of our solar system is about 93 million miles away.

Reporters Talk and Politicians Listen As Tree Is Planted

AUSTIN.—A tiny pecan tree stood on the Texas capitol lawn after a planting ceremony unique in the annals of journalism.

The tree was a seedling from the parent pecan planted by Gen. Sam Houston at Huntsville a century ago. The dedication was by capitol news correspondents who saw a lifetime ambition fulfilled—they made speeches while politicians listened, and liked it.

The audience touched Texas from gardener to governor. High state officials present included Gov. James V. Allred, his secretaries, the state board of control, old age assistance commission, liquor board, and representatives of education and highway departments. Claude Teer, chairman of the board of control, who gave the newsmen their chance was permitted to speak briefly.

Master of ceremonies was Byron C. Utecht, veteran Fort Worth Star-Telegram correspondent. Speakers were Vann M. Kennedy, International News Service correspondent and secretary of the state Democratic party; S. Raymond Brooks, staff correspondent of the Marsh-Fentress papers in Texas and director of the Colorado river authority; and Utecht.

Only untoward incident of the program occurred when Newsman Brooks inferred that Correspondent Kennedy had conducted a filibuster in the preceding address.

Bill for one day's Electric Service	3 hrs. Radio entertainment	2c
	Vacuum Cleaning Rugs	3c
	Electric Refrigeration	5c
	Ironing and miscellaneous	2c

If you paid for electric service each day, just like you buy groceries, this is about the way your daily bills for electric service would look. The cost of electric service in the average home is very similar to the amounts shown in the illustration above, but will vary according to the daily use of electricity.

But it is impractical to divide the cost of electric service for each appliance. Yet at the end of the month, your electric service bill accounts for these few cents worth of electric service you use each day.

When you receive your electric service bill, think back over the many times you have used electric service during the month; divide the total by the number of days and see how little electric service costs in comparison with other expenses.

Storm Wrath Vividly Shown

Indescribable fury of the tornado that slashed a swath of ruin and death through Tupelo, Miss., is vividly shown in this picture, with debris piled in every direction and a substantial brick building in the rear unroofed and shattered. and, under the name of grasshopper, is one of the most serious grain pests in the United States and Canada. The locust, or grasshopper, with strong chewing jaws, breaks off the stems of the succulent young grain on which it feeds, and soon devastates a field. The periodical cicada—a toothless insect—sucks its food from plants without seriously harming them.

Startling features of periodical cicada outbreaks, one of which occurs every year in some part of the country—are the suddenness with which the insects appear and the enormous numbers that congregate in one area. Overnight the ground will be riddled with millions of holes through which the pupae have crawled.

The adult emerges from the pupal shell as a small, bizarre-looking creature, mulky white, with red eyes. Its body soon hardens and turns black and its four nearly transparent wings unfold. The legs and margins of the principal veins of the wings are bright orange. Near the outer end of the front wing is a very distinct black "W," produced by deeper pigmentation. This letter has given to another myth—that the coming of the periodical cicada is an omen of war.

Early in June the adults start to die—first the males, then the females—littering the ground with wings and dismembered bodies. Innumerable larvae, hatching from the eggs, fall to the ground, burrow in, attach their mouths to a nourishing root, and wait for another 17 years to roll round.

Each of the 30 known broods of the periodical cicada follows regularly its period of emergence—17 years in the north and 13 years in the South. Originally, Mr. Strong says, the broods probably were evenly distributed. Unfavorable weather, a catastrophe such as a forest fire, or undue activity of natural enemies may have given the initial impetus to periodical

State Highway Department Starts Improvement Plan

By United Press
DALLAS. — The Texas state highway department has launched a gigantic $250,000 program of road improvement on State Highways 40 and 1 in five counties surrounding Dallas, rehabilitating and smoothing surfacing in anticipation of the Texas Centennial Central Exposition, Clifton Rice, division engineer, announced.

The program, which affects only the two highways, will be completed by June 1, and will provide improved highway facilities into Dallas for the Centennial, Rice declared. He received announcement of the program from Gib Gilchrist, state highway engineer, in Austin.

Highway 40, through Kaufman county, 23 miles; 25 miles in Dallas county; and 24 miles in Denton county—a total of 72 miles—will be the first to receive attention. General maintenance will be augmented by laying of asphalt in chug holes and uneven surfaces and rehabilitation work.

Starting at Garland in Dallas county, Highway No. 1 will be similarly improved through Rockwall and Collin counties to the Hunt county line, a total distance of nearly 35 miles.

Three hundred men will be hired on the two projects. Equipment and materials were being moved into location in Denton county this week.

Also included in the general Centennial program of the state highway department, are the widening and paving projects on Highways 14, 15 and 6, Rice said. Work is under way on 15 and 6, and a work order has been issued on the Highway 14 job.

SALINAS, Cal.—Sinclair Lewis' "Main Street" has made such an impression on Mayor V. J. Barlogio that he has asked that the name of the principal street of the city be changed from "Main" to something more civilized. He believes a name like "Santa Lucia" would relieve the city of the implication that "Main Street" means it is a "hick" town.

Motorcycle Balks, Spilling Two Cops

SAN ANTONIO. — Motorcycle Officers Sammons and Kent were short on skin and temper after a pile-up on a San Antonio street.

They were in a driveway, watching for speeders. A speeding automobile passed, and Sammons rolled out in pursuit, with Kent following.

Sammons shifted gears; his machine stalled, and Kent crashed into him. Both men and motorcycles rolled on the pavement.

The "speeder" sped on.

Animal Comparison With Man Censured

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE, Cal.—Brother Leo, famous savant of St. Mary's College, has taken to task modern psychologists who base their study of human beings upon the latter's resemblance to animals.

"Too many colleges and universities," he insists, "overemphasize the resemblance of man and animals instead of concentrating on those manifestations of mind distinctive to humanity.

"The Chinese officials," says Brother Leo, "who as late as 1931 banned 'Alice in Wonderland' did an unwise thing but acted on a very sound principle. Animals should not use human language, and it is disastrous to put human beings and animals on the same level."

Grady Owen, criminal district attorney of Eastland county, who has announced his candidacy for re-election, subject to the action of the democratic primary of July 25.

Grady Owen, criminal district attorney of Eastland county, today issued the following statement in presenting his announcement for re-election:

To the Citizens of Eastland County: In presenting for your consideration this formal announcement of the fact that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Criminal District Attorney of Eastland County, Texas, please permit me to express my very grateful appreciation of your support, influence and co-operation.

The success of a district attorney depends to a very great degree upon the assistance and co-operation of the general public. In this respect you have indeed been helpful. Because of your aid and sympathy with the program of law enforcement we feel that Eastland county has become a better place in which to live, and has gained a reputation for the enforcement of the law that ranks it as one of the best counties in the State in this respect. Both personally and as your district attorney I desire to commend your attitude of helpful co-operation, and to express my very deep appreciation for the good citizenship which this speaks for Eastland County.

It is also unquestionably true that a successful program of law enforcement must have the co-operation of all officers and law enforcing agencies. I am very happy to state that since I have been your district attorney I have had the close and active co-operation of all such agencies, national and state as well as local. I have constantly sought and obtained their help, and in this public manner desire to offer my continued full co-operation and to request the continued full co-operation of all concerned with the program of law enforcement.

In the many and varied duties of the office I have tried to make you a good district attorney. It is for you to say whether I have done so. Naturally I have had my successes and my disappointments. I make no claim to super-human powers. At the same time I have made a close study of the office and its duties, and feel that with-qualified for the office, and to have had a very successful administration of the office.

The records show that since I have been your district attorney a greater percentage of the cases have been tried, and a greater percentage of convictions obtained; that there have been fewer reversals, only two cases having been reversed; that out of the hundreds of indictments prepared not a single one has ever been held defective in any way by any court; that law violations have been reduced until we are now having only about one-fourth as many as were occurring in the county a few years ago; that no major crime has gone unsolved, and the malefactors have been brought before the bar of justice in order that their degrees of guilt and the amounts of their punishments might be passed upon by that great American institution, a jury of peers.

Feeling that I am now in position to serve you better than ever, and realizing that you desire the best of which I am capable, I place before you my desire to be re-elected to this, your office, and earnestly solicit your friendship, your co-operation, your support and your influence.

Gratefully yours,
GRADY OWEN.

"FOLLOW THE FLEET," SONG AND DANCE REVEL FOR ASTAIRE

The nimble feet and lusty lungs of Fred Astaire are given a thorough workout in RKO Radio's musical, "Follow the Fleet," in which the King of Terpsichore again has Ginger Rogers costarred.

Astaire sings four brand new Irving Berlin melodies, one with Ginger Rogers; and dances four times, three times with Miss Rogers, and one solo dance, along with his engaging comedy performances.

He sings "We Saw the Sea," "I'd Rather Lead a Band," and "Let's Face the Music and Dance," and he and Miss Rogers join in the rendition of "All My Eggs in One Basket."

He and Miss Rogers do a hot collegiate ballroom routine to "Let Yourself Go." Later they join in a comedy pantomime dance to "All My Eggs in One Basket." And for a finale, they do an interpretative dance to "Let's Face the Music and Dance."

For his solo dance, Astaire does a sensational seven minute tap routine to "I'd Rather Lead a Band." Twenty-four sailors accompany him in this novelty drill dance which is the rhythmic highlight of the picture.

Astaire and Miss Rogers are supported by a brilliant cast including the lovely Harriet Hilliard and Randolph Scott in featured roles.
