Funeral Held for G. H. Donaldson

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Nazarene church in Eastland for George H. Donaldson, 44, painter who died Saturday of heart failure at the county courthouse.

Rev. Groggins, pastor of the Nazarene church, was in charge, assisted by Rev. W. E. Moore, pastor of the Church of Christ minister, of Eastland. Burial was in Eastland cemetery under the supervision of the Standard Undertaking Company.

Donaldson, an Eastland resident for 15 years, formerly lived in West Worth and Comanche counties. He was born in Etha, Ala., July 21, 1892.

Survivors are his father, J. C. Donaldson, Eastland; the widow, Eastland; seven children, Delma Donaldson, Eastland; Mrs. Wilma Day, Breckenridge; Mrs. Murrel Harris, Eastland; Johnson Donaldson, Eastland; Modene Donaldson, Eastland; I. C. Donaldson, Eastland; and Alta Fay, Eastland; and one sister, Mrs. H. M. Carleton, Eastland.

Mrs. J. M. Mathena Succumbs at Home

Funeral services were to be conducted from the family residence Monday afternoon in Hillcrest Addition in Eastland for Mrs. J. M. Mathena, who died suddenly Monday morning of heart failure.

Mrs. Mathena would have been 77 November 1.

Rev. E. R. Stanford, pastor of the First Methodist church, was to be in charge of the services at the home. Interment was to be in the Eastland cemetery.

Mrs. Mathena had lived in Eastland since 1919. Previously she lived in Ranger. She was born in Tennessee.

She was a member of the Methodist church for 50 years. She had been married to her husband 40 years.

Survivors are her husband; six children, R. V. Mathena, Ranger; Bill Mathena, Eastland; Mrs. Viola Washburn, Eastland; Mrs. Anita Roach, Gladewater; Miss Anna Mae Mathena, San Antonio; Mrs. Nancy Scott, San Antonio; and one brother, R. W. Copeland, of Mineral Wells. Mrs. Florie Reynolds of Dallas is a half sister.

Hammer undertaking company was in charge.

$96,262,722.98 Is Loaned In Texas; $393,935 in County

SAN ANTONIO—Disbursements by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in Texas during the period February 2, 1932, to June 30, 1936, aggregated $96,262,722.98, it was announced today by H. P. Drought, state director for the National Emergency Council for Texas. The figure did not include amounts that went to various government agencies, or relief grants to the State of Texas as authorized under the Federal Emergency Relief Act of 1933.

In Eastland County during this period, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation distributed $393,935.42, Drought said.

The principal purposes for which the money was distributed in Texas were as follows: loans to banks and trust companies, including receivers, liquidating agents and conservators, $25,993,602.58; subscriptions to preferred stock of banks and trust companies, $22,742,875; loans to building and loan associations, $1,612,733.96; and an additional amount of $18,747,090.23 to mortgage loan companies.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation gave assistance to industrial and commercial businesses in Texas totaling $455,274.33. Self-liquidating projects were aided in the sum of $1,993,012.85.

A further amount of $199,551 was furnished to finance agricultural commodities and livestock, while the state received a disbursement of $7,952,291 for relief and work relief.

Total disbursements made in the United States during the same period not including amounts disbursed in the form of relief grants to states amounted to $6,012,771,180.71.

Garner to Break Silence, Vie With Rival for Votes

VICE PRESIDENT GARNER plans to enter the 1936 campaign in an active way soon with a series of speeches. Born in Red River County, Tex., in 1869, Garner punched cattle, edited a country newspaper, practiced law and then served 30 years in Congress from Uvalde, Tex., before becoming a rival of Roosevelt for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1932. He accepted second place on the ticket, and has been an inconspicuous figure in Washington, though a very able and well-liked presiding officer of the Senate. Garner's genial manner and his many congressional friendships have made him an invaluable link between Roosevelt and Congress.

"FRANK" KNOX has been extremely active in the present campaign, even long before his choice at Cleveland as Landon's running mate. Born in Boston in 1874, he served with "Teddy" Roosevelt in the Rough Riders during the Spanish War, and then fought his way up through the newspaper business from cub reporter to publisher. He served in the World War as major of field artillery, and after being for several years general manager of the Hearst newspapers, became publisher on his own hook of several newspapers in Chicago and New Hampshire. A tireless and effective speaker, Knox has been one of the oratorical mainstays of the Republican campaign to date.

Citrus By-Product Industries Started In Lower Valley

McALLEN, Tex. — Two new industries founded on citrus by-products will start operations here within the next few weeks to give new impetus to the Lower Rio Grande Valley's $125,000,000 citrus industry on the eve of the opening of the 1936-37 season and furnish another outlet for cull fruit.

Lee Akin, owner-manager of Riona Products Co., pioneer McAllen fruit and vegetable processing firm, announced the purchase of new machinery costing about $40,000 to handle the two new departments of the Riona plant. He is completing a $75,000 plant for canning all types of regular Valley fruits and vegetables, but the huge plant buildings were originally designed to handle the new citrus peel dehydration and grapefruit juice concentrate units.

Akin explained the concentrate or reduced the cubic content of citrus juice by an evaporation process and handles about 500 gallons of juice hourly. The citrus peel dehydrator can handle 75 tons of citrus peel every ten hours.

Purchase contracts for his entire output of dehydrated citrus peel have been signed, Akin stated. His own by-products plant will not supply enough peel to warrant operation of the plant and he is now planning to handle the waste peel from other juice plants in the Valley, which in the past have been troubled by lack of disposal facilities for peel after juicing the fruit.

Decision to establish the new units in what is already recognized by canners and packers as the biggest plant of its kind in the southwest resulted from conferences between Riona officials and W. D. Aitken of Los Angeles, vice president of the Mission Dry Corporation, which has recently been specializing in distribution of a concentrated orange juice. Aitken visited McAllen on the invitation of the McAllen Chamber of Commerce after first inquiring of Bentsen Bros., Mission, concerning the possibilities for such a plant here.

Man Boxes Shadow And Gets Whipped

PORT ARTHUR — A Port Arthur man has devised something new in shadow boxing—and he got the worst of the match.

The man entered his home in a somewhat inebriated condition. He saw a pugacious individual facing him. Both men scowled and swung their fists. Neither landed a blow. Tiring of sparring the intoxicated man decided to end the fight with one glorious haymaker. He swung from his heels. The blow landed true to its mark—the bedroom mirror. He was taken to a hospital for treatment of cuts over his eye and on his right arm and hand.

Farm Income Was Higher In August Than In Aug. 1935

WASHINGTON — Cash income received by farmers from the sale of their products during the month of August, plus Government payments, amounted to $649,000,000, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics announced today.

This compares with $734,000,000 received in July this year and $610,000,000 in August, 1935. The August, 1936, income figure includes $12,000,000 estimated Government benefit payments, compared with $44,000,000 representing Government payments in August, 1935.

The decline in receipts from July to August, which is not unusual, was caused largely by the exceptionally heavy and early movement of the wheat crop to market. Heavy July sales of wheat were followed by a more than seasonal decrease in wheat marketed in August. This drop in the sales of wheat more than offset the sharp rise in the price of wheat.

Income from the sale of livestock products decreased less than usual from July to August, this being due to a continued heavy movement to market of cattle, calves and hogs, and to well-sustained prices.

Candle Is Blamed For Small Blaze At Negro's Home

Slight damage resulted from the fire at the servant house in the rear of the T. A. Bandy residence, 507 South Walnut, Sunday at Eastland, Fire Chief A. W. Hennessy reported Monday.

The chief stated the fire presumably started from a candle carried by a negro child of the family occupying the house. Clothing which caught fire from the candle was the heaviest damage, he said.

farm products advanced from July to August to the highest point reached for the month since August, 1929.

For the first eight months of 1936, the total farm cash income, including Government payments, was $4,677,000,000, of which $205,000,000 were Government payments. In the corresponding eight months of 1935 total farm cash income was $4,125,000,000, of which $350,000,000 represented Government payments.

State Troopers Are Called To Get Bear

GROTON, Conn. — State Troopers Roy Goodale and George Seidell are now the "big game hunters" of Connecticut's "finest". They went out bear hunting and brought a full-grown Bruin back alive.

The bear, tired of maneuvering at the end of a chain, reared and dragged up the stake to which his bonds were attached. Leaving the Buddington game farm, the bear took to the woods. State Police were notified. Goodale and Seidell motored to the edge of the forest and with drawn guns penetrated the brush. A half hour later the troopers emerged, their clothes torn from the brush and branches, leading the bear, who was fairly docile when approached.

Old Superstitions Defy Solutions

NEW ORLEANS—Lyle Saxon, author of "Old Louisiana" and "Fabulous New Orleans," has uncovered many weird superstitious practices by residents of the state in a research by his federal writers' project.

In one Louisiana city the statue of a man holding his marriage license was discovered in a cemetery. Further research evidenced, assumedly, that it was erected to set wagging tongues at rest. Thousands of keys surrounding the statue of St. Peter were found in a small local chapter. These keys are votive offerings to the saint as keeper of the gates of Heaven, according to Saxon.

In north Louisiana, Saxon reports graves of many children are surmounted with stone replicas of the shoes and stockings these youngsters wore in life. The reasons for this practice have not been determined.

PASADENA, Cal.—A. L. Hamilton, former superintendent, has replied to a critic of McGuffey's Reader. "Each generation," he says, "goes trooping upward—at what seems to be at least a 25 per cent grade—but in reality is 1 per cent."

Like the proud cities of Texas, and the busy towns... Humble products are continuously improved

In 1836, Texas villages were scattered, homes were crude, population was scarce—in all not much to build on... These days, Texans are proud of their towns and cities. In neither will you find a placid contentment with things-as-they-are! New resources are being developed, new people are coming to town. The rat-tat-tat of a rivet gun signals new structures; the whine of a carpenter's saw indicates new homes-a-building; industrial areas echo the clang and clamor of construction. Improvement is in the air!

Here's the motor fuel that delivers all the performance automotive engineers have built into that car of yours. Try it. Stop today at a Humble Service Station or at a Humble dealer's, tell the man at the pump to fill it up with Esso and—watch the difference. Test it in traffic and on the road; compare it with gasolines you've used. When you've tested a tankful, you'll be so pleased—you'll come back for more!

Esso is a premium motor fuel*, but if you're an average motorist, it will cost you only 5c a day more to get the benefit of Esso's superlatively fine performance. It's more powerful than any gasoline, accelerates faster, starts easier, has a higher anti-knock rating. Like all Humble products, it's continuously improved.

* In computing gasoline prices, don't forget that what you pay includes a State tax of 4c per gallon and a Federal tax of 1c per gallon. Gasoline is cheap, only the tax is high.

HUMBLE KEEPS STEP with the continuous improvement of the towns and cities of Texas. It is a fundamental Humble policy to find new products for new needs, to conduct a never ceasing search for ways and means of giving the Texas motorist a better motor fuel, a more dependable motor oil. Humble technicians are ever alert to give you everything the automotive engineer asks of the petroleum industry. Continuous improvement is their slogan—and continuous improvement keeps Humble ahead.

When you drive through the proud cities of Texas and the busy towns, look for the Humble sign. Fill your tank with a Humble motor fuel, drain and refill with a Humble motor oil. Test both of them thoroughly, in your car... You'll come back for more.

At the Centennial Exposition, Dallas-Humble's Hall of Texas History

You are cordially invited to visit the Humble Exhibit at the Central Centennial Exposition in Dallas. Striking dioramas recreate dramatic moments and vivid episodes from Texas History. See the battle of the Alamo, the capture of Santa Anna, the prisoners of the Mier Expedition drawing the black beans, the battle of Sabine Pass, Colonel Goodnight treating with Comanche Quannah Parker. Then see and listen to the story told by the rocks of Texas, and how Texas oil is drawn from many thousands of feet under the ground. On your way to and from Dallas—stop for service where you see the Humble sign.

War Debts Help Keep America Out of War

The famous war debts may be as dead as a salted herring, but it is beginning to look as if they have left some very lively ghosts to stalk about the chancelleries of Europe.

It has been several years since all the European nations except Finland agreed that there was no sense in paying Uncle Sam what was due him. Since armies and navies are the only international collecting agencies that amount to anything, and since Uncle Sam obviously was not going to get that tough about it, winking seemed perfectly safe.

Uncle Sam would just have to take it—rather, not take it—and like it. There was one little thing the American Congress could do, and it proceeded to do it with all speed. It passed the Johnson act, prohibiting American loans to any foreign governments which were in default on their war debts.

But that looked very much like an empty gesture, at the time, because nobody was trying to borrow anything, anyway.

With the passing of the years, however, the picture has changed a little. The world depression isn't quite as bad as it was. Governments are getting into a spending mood once more.

Furthermore, a new war seems to be in the cards, and all hands would like to be able to do a little more business with the American banks, munitions makers, and raws material brokers.

Both France and Italy, for instance, recently found it advisable to seek funds from abroad; and both nations found the American banks closed to them.

Now it is reported that Great Britain is likewise interested in getting funds in this country for its vast rearmament campaign; but the Johnson act stands in Great Britain's way also.

As a result of all this, rumors are afloat to the effect that one or another of the foreign powers will presently be taking steps to reopen the war debt question.

One report—quoted recently by the Business Conditions Weekly of the Alexander Hamilton Institute—suggests that England may devalue the 246,000,000 pounds sterling of gold now held by the Bank of England and offer the resulting profit, some $700,000,000, to America as a lump sum settlement of the British debt.

It would seem odd to find the war debts on the front pages again, after we had kissed them goodbye forever. But it is quite possible that is just what will happen.

If it does happen, there must be at least a few Americans who will suspect that the war debts are worth more dead than alive.

Defaulted, the debts stand as a barrier against our getting financially and industrially entangled with a Europe which is on the verge of indulging in another world-shaking row.

Paid up—at a dime on the dollar, or some such rate—they would cease to be a barrier, and the way would be open once more for us to be a Good Time Charley for the world at large.

News of the rebels' "Big push" should irk Hitler and Mussolini, each of whom thinks he is the big push.

Coal Mine Fire May Be Bridled After Half Century

By United Press NEW STRAITSVILLE, O., Oct. 8.—A smoldering coal mine fire that has burned for 52 years and destroyed millions of tons of "black gold" in this southeastern Ohio community soon may be extinguished.

For the first time since 1884 there is promise that the malignant blaze will be blotted out by fire-fighters enlisted by the government. WPA engineers have surveyed the area and found the fire-fighting project to be feasible from the standpoint of cost and available labor supply.

Concrete makes your car run better; lets the motor settle into a sweet, steady hum that literally eats up the miles. It relieves you of tension and fatigue. There are no ruts to fight; no bumps and jolts to tear at the steering wheel; no tendency to skid or slip. Without a conscious thought, you go faster because you know you're safe on concrete!

Of course you know that concrete roads are economical from the standpoint of upkeep. But do you know that they actually cost less to build than other roads of equal load-bearing capacity? And that they cost less to drive on than inferior surfaces? "An Open Letter to Henry Ford" gives the facts about concrete. Free for the asking. THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson. FIVE RHINOCEROSSES, BROUGHT INTO CAPTIVITY AT ONE TIME WOULD GLUT THE ENTIRE RHINO MARKET. MORNING GLORIES WIND AGAINST THE SUN... FROM LEFT TO RIGHT: HOP VINES WIND WITH THE SUN... FROM RIGHT TO LEFT. THE RIM OF THE BALANCE WHEEL IN A WATCH TRAVELS AS MUCH AS TEN MILES A DAY. CAPTURING a rhinoceros alive is a dangerous business, but that is only the beginning of the hazardous undertaking. He must be transported to the coast, then shipped to his destination. Since the price runs into thousands of dollars, not many zoos can afford the animals.

GREATEST FINISH UNDER FIRE IN GOLFING HISTORY: Tony Manero came through with a spectacular 282 to win the 1936 National Open Golf Tournament. His digestion stands the strain. As Tony says: "I'll go on record as one who thanks Camels for stimulating digestion. I enjoy food more—and have a feeling of ease afterward when I enjoy Camels with my meals. Camels set me right." CHAMPION BOWLER, Johnny Murphy says: "Smoking Camels at meals and after works out swell in my case. Camels help my digestion. After a meal and Camels, I really enjoy life." ALL-AROUND ATHLETE from Texas, Miss Mary Carter says: "Since I've learned how pleasant Camels make my mealtime, I wouldn't be without them. They never get on my nerves." "WHAT A PLEASANT AID to digestion Camels are!" says this busy homemaker, Mrs. Charles Sickles. "They add zest to any meal. No matter how jumpy I may feel, Camels set me right. So many women I know smoke Camels. Camels are so mild!" "FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE ... SMOKE CAMELS!" Camels increase digestive activity—encourage a sense of well-being! WITH healthy nerves and good digestion, you feel on top of the world. When you smoke Camels with your meals and after, Camels help in two special ways: Tension is lessened and Camels promote digestive well-being. So enjoy Camels between courses and after eating. Strain eases. The flow of digestive fluids, so vital to proper nutrition, is speeded up. Alkalinity is increased. Food tastes more delicious and you get more good from what you eat. For good cheer—for invigorating "lift"—for matchless taste—and "for digestion's sake"—the answer is Camels. Camels set you right! And they don't get on your nerves. HOLLYWOOD RADIO TREAT!
