'Ahead to 1940!' Not 'Back to 1929'—

The greatest hope for labor, for industry, and for the American people generally lies in a vision of a standard of living an and industrial level far above that achieved in 1929.

For a time, in the depths of the depression, it became the fashion to look back to 1929. "Our job," we said, "is to get production and wages back to the 1929 level."

Increasingly, we begin to see now that it is no such thing. We have seen production and wages rise in many industries, such as the auto business, to around that level. And it is not enough. We know now that the unemployment problem, and our other besetting problems, will not be solved by any such thinking.

One by one, leaders have been expressing this point of view, this vision of a level of production and living far beyond the limping prosperity of 1929, which meant millions unemployed even then, and scale of prices which largely nullified the high wages that then prevailed.

Latest of these prophets of plenty is Dr. W. E. Wickenden, president of Case School of Applied Science in Cleveland, O. In a recent speech to industrial and civic leaders there, Dr. Wickenden observed that industry needs "a first-class prophet who can dramatize and idealize the great task of serving more people, giving them more and better goods at less cost and creating more, better, and higher-paid jobs."

The unemployed, Dr. Wickenden emphasizes, can never get jobs in merely satisfying our old needs. Their jobs lie ahead in "satisfying wants we have yet scarcely discovered, in industries not yet created, using processes not yet invented, and employing facts of nature we have not yet even discovered."

Spreading our present income more equitably, through the higher wages the present strikes are aimed at getting, is not enough. "High wages benefit a few," Dr. Wickenden notes, "and their effect is temporary. But lower costs benefit everybody, and their effect is lasting." The exhaustive Brookings reports on the economic situation have already suggested such a solution.

Research, effective management, enterprise, and vision, those are the things which are going to lead us forward to a higher scale of living than ever before.

You need not be a philanthropist, or a sentimentalist who wishes more people to have more things because it is nice for them. All you need to be is one who looks facts in the fact and sees the direction in which our high-g geared industrial machine is headed.

That machine is not a stationary engine. It moves, and to run at all, it must move in the direction of greater plenty for more and more Americans.

SHE'LL CARRY ON—ALONE

Widowed by the plane crash that put her in the hospital with severe injuries, Mrs. Osa Johnson nevertheless has decided to carry on alone, as soon as she is able, the trip to the Belgian Congo which she and Martin Johnson had planned prior to the tragedy. "Any woman who wants to can be an explorer," she insists. This hospital bedside picture of the beautiful explorer shows her "carrying on" on rehearsal of a speech which was to be telephoned to the audience at the premier of the film she and her husband made in Borneo.

Ranger Man Claims Record Production For His Five Hens

Frank Deaton, Ranger trucking contractor, claims the record to date on early egg production for the city. Deaton says he has five hens and for the past several days he has been getting never less than five eggs per day and some days as many as nine. It was suggested to Deaton that maybe some of the neighbors hens were paying his chicken yard a visit each day, but Deaton says he has chickens that need no help to make the above record.

Deaton stands ready to prove his story to any who might be skeptical. He will join in this year's observance. Developments in Europe are responsible for a more virgous promotion of Brotherhood Day this year than in the three preceding years, according to conference spokesmen.

Co-chairmen of the National Conference of Jews and Christians are Hon. Newton D. Baker, Prof. Carlton J. H. Hayes of Columbia University, and Roger W. Stevens of New York.

Governor Endorses Brotherhood Day

NEW YORK.— Announcement of the official endorsement of the observance of Brotherhood Day throughout Texas by Governor James V. Alfred was made today by the National Conference of Jews and Christians, under whose auspices the nationwide observance will be held.

Brotherhood Day will be observed Feb. 20 and 21. Its purpose, according to the officials of the national conference, is to emphasize cooperation among Protestants, Catholics and Jews as American citizens and to present a united front against current totalitarianisms and the importation of foreign propaganda of hatred and strife.

In endorsing this year's observance, Governor Alfred said: "I think the idea of Brotherhood Day is a splendid observance and indicative of the friendly relations existing in this country among the Protestants, the Catholics and the Jews in all of the tasks and duties which they share alike as American citizens. I am most happy to add my endorsement to Brotherhood Day and compliment the National Conference of Jews and Christians upon this worthy move."

Plans for the observance are being pushed by Protestant, Catholic and Jewish lay and clerical leaders in many communities throughout the state. National Conference officials estimate that altogether more than 1,000 communities throughout the country

Electric Refrigerator Dealers Plan Display at Cooking School

Electrical refrigerator dealers, at a luncheon at the Paramount hotel today, decided upon plans for displaying their merchandise at the Happy Kitchen Chautauqua to be held at the Recreation building beginning March 23.

Much interest in the school was shown, and all dealers in town agreed to cooperate in helping to make this the best electrical refrigerator display ever seen here.

A program committee, composed of H. C. Clark, F. P. Brashier, and A. N. Larson was appointed to furnish entertainment for the ladies during the four days of the cooking school. It was suggested that a night meeting be held prior to the opening of the school in order that plans might be more thoroughly worked out.

J. E. Lewis of Eastland, who was present at the meeting, was called upon for a short talk. He stated that he was delighted to see the refrigerator dealers working in harmony for the good of all.

JAPAN STRIVES FOR SYNTHETIC FUEL SUPPLIES

POLICY OF SELF-SUFFICIENCY IN PEACE OR WAR OUTLINED

By HENRY WOOD

United Press Staff Correspondent SAN FRANCISCO—Japan, with an intensity equalled only by that of Germany, is devoting itself to the production of synthetic fuel supplies that will make it self-sufficient in peace or war, according to a survey just completed by the Institute of Pacific Relations.

For the present, the survey found, the newly created national fuel policy of Japan is centering on the development of substitutes for petroleum by the process of coal liquefaction and the manufacture of alcohol. The necessity for this lies in the fact that Japan's petroleum resources are below normal requirements even in peace time.

The survey showed that Japan's peace time demand for petroleum has been increasing immensely during the last few years until in 1935 it reached 22,000,000 barrels, excluding government importations for its own purposes. War-time demands would increase that figure immensely, the survey pointed out.

thetic production of liquid fuel. The latter process is believed to hold the greatest promise for Japan.

Four firms, it is said, are already producing this product, the Korean Coal Engineering Company, the South Sakhalin Colliery and Railroad Company, the semi-official Japan Iron Manufacturing Company, and the Kajima Chemical Engineering Company.

Other projects, it was found, are underway, the most important one being that of the South Manchuria Railway Company, which is building a plant at Bushun and another in Korea.

Meantime, the great Mitsui interests have obtained rights on the liquefaction and are preparing a German Fisher process of coal develop it on an extensive scale. They have decided to build an experimental plant in connection with one of their coal mines in Kyushu, to be followed, if successful, with another and larger one at Hokkaido.

The Mitsubishi interests also have been studying the problem and collaboration with the Mitsui in developing the process on a large scale is assured. Several of these projects, it was found, are receiving support and technical assistance from the navy.

Despite Beliefs Juries Sentence Liquor Sellers

AUSTIN. — Despite a widespread belief to the contrary, juries are not responsible for the failure to convict violators of the liquor law, Liquor Administrator Bert Ford today said an investigation had apparently proved.

"Not only public officials but newspapers as well often make the statement that the law cannot be enforced because juries won't convict," Mr. Ford asserted. "This statement has been given such wide circulation that it is being generally believed, but the facts prove it is not true."

Check-up on the records of the Liquor Control Board, Mr. Ford brought out, has shown that juries almost invariably refuse leniency toward liquor law violators. But few cases, he said, ever reach juries.

"In the larger cities when the first cases went to juries the result was almost a foregone conclusion, with large fines and jail sentences a common occurrence," Mr. Ford declared. "This was so often repeated that violators shortly began making overtures for settlement without having their cases taken before juries. Jury trials, in fact, became exceedingly rare because of the belief that the public generally favors strict law enforcement and if given full opportunity to prove it through jury service would do so.

"There is absolutely no ground for the contention that in so-called 'liberal' communities juries are not interested in the prosecution of liquor law violators," Mr. Ford said. "Let local officials insist on jury trials, and the public, I'm sure, will amply prove their attitude to the satisfaction of everybody."

DRYS RE-ELECT OFFICERS LAY PRELIMINARY PLANS FOR ELECTION IN APRIL

Preliminary plans for an election to remove legalized 14 per cent alcoholic beverages from Eastland county were taken Monday morning at a session of the United Dry Forces.

Officers of the organization, who were elected, were delegated to draft a petition for presentation to commissioners court for the calling of a vote after April 18—the date last year when 14 per cent beverages were legalized.

In the session, held at county courtroom, business was punctuated and market by the condemnation of legalized alcoholic beverages in the county.

Texas liquor laws specify that elections on any issue may be called each year. In 1936 the drys were victorious in a January election on a 3.2 proposition. Following that vote the wets called an election, held April 18, which resulted in legalization of 14 per cent beverages. The drys sought a remedy in court action, which was refused.

The dry forces contended the 14 per cent election was illegal as it provided for the legalization of 3.2 beverages. The district court ruled that 14 per cent drinks would of necessity contain 3.2 per cent alcohol.

The January, 1936 election was called following the Nov. 1935, ruling of a high court in Texas that a dry county could not contain wet precincts, which had existed in Eastland and other counties.

The election plans are in the hands of the reelected United Dry Forces officials who are: G. M. Meglasson, Cisco; Earl Bender, Eastland, vice president; Les Taylor, Ranger, second vice president; Rev. W. A. Tate, Gorman, third vice president; H. S. Childress, Rising Star, fourth vice president and Rev. Robert E. Bowden, Eastland, secretary-treasurer.

The sentiment of the meeting was typified by the statement of a woman prior to the reelection of officers: "The ones we elect ought to be on fire. I could just fight it," referring to alcoholic sales in the county, "to hell."

The officials plan to augment the executive staff with three women. The meeting was attended by 25, representing Eastland, Carbon, Cisco, Olden and Ranger. Meglasson presided.

File Applications For Brown Oil Wells

Two applications for drilling in Brown county were in papers filed for the week ending Saturday in the Railroad Commission office at Eastland.

K. E. Sherman Trustee of Cisco filed papers for drilling No. 2 B Mrs. J. F. Denstman, block E 1-2 17, Juan Delgado 789 survey, 11 miles southwest of Rising Star. The application called for penetration of the earth to 1,200 feet unless paying production is found at a lesser depth.

King Leon of Rods Is In Love But He Won't Abdicate

By United Press MINNEAPOLIS—King Joseph Leon Cohen Segal Lazarowitz, leader of the rod-riders, defender of the no-work crowd, and emperor of the jungle dominions, is face to face with a dilemma.

King Leon, as he prefers to be addressed, is in love with a "commoner."

The king was in Minneapolis recently, "resting" and cogitating his difficulty. Also he wanted to talk over with Gov. Elmer A. Benson reports his "subjects" are not treated with proper respect in certain Minnesota towns.

Since he succeeded the old king, J. Eads How of St. Louis, Leon presumably has done a grand job of ruling. His subjects admire him; worship him, he says. He admitted frankly, however, that his present problem has him blanked completely.

If he marries his lady love, he will have to go to work, that is clear. And if he goes to work, he will have to quit his throne. Whoever heard of a hoboo working?

He is going to make up his mind—soon; as soon, that is, as he visits a certain woman in Winnipeg. Maybe she will have something to say about the decision. King Leon isn't sure.

Leon talked with a slightly ragged, slightly used cigar as he discussed the problems of the day. He talked freely on national economies and their relation to the knights of the rods.

"We want to return to a 40-hour week," he said, flicking the ashes from his stogie. "We went back to a longer-ride week when the NRA passed out, but that's too much work. We are going to do something about it."

Being a hoboo, Leon wanted to make clear he is a gentleman. He produced a little book in which he had marked down towns where he had taken baths. There was Philadelphia, Chicago, New York and one or two others.

Reporters wanted to know more about his contemplated swing down the aisle; for instance, what kind of work he would do.

we enjoyed the game. The referee was being initiated, we believe his name is Harmon Almsworth. Zat right? On Tuesday and Wednesday night the high school girls played Colony Both times the Colony girls walked on the Ranger girls by a score of 15 to 2 and 15 to 3. We believe the Ranger girls should go more for team work rather than individual playing. No offense girls, just a hint. However the high school basketball season is over now.

The Rangers' Diary Feb. 8.—School went as usual today. Practiced for "The Neighbors" at seven then took in the high school ball game.

Feb. 9.—The C. L. F. can think of nothing but the party being held at the home of Maurice Croom at the home of Maurice Croom in Strawn tonight. Practiced for play at four, went to college basketball game and again saw our boys get whipped and Mr. Hill was back in harness. The Rangers played Hillsboro and both teams giggled and laughed the whole game, but we could see nothing to laugh at except when Mr. Hill called the fouls and I declare anyone would think he intended to beat the poor boys head in! Line up for Hillsboro: Counts and Delaney, forwards, Rogers, center, Lawrence and Dean, guards and Head, Duff, Parks, Scruggs and Crenshaw subs.

Line-up for Ranger: Wright and Wood (with a crippled knee) forwards, Weaver, center, Sneed and Coalson, guards and Hague as a sub.

Feb. 10.—The C. L. F. members and their guests enjoyed themselves last night at the home of Maurice Croom in Strawn. A color motif of red and white was carried out. Various Valentine games were played and Lowell Rapp was awarded a becoming prize in a contest of collecting the most of the girl's hearts. Dainty refreshments were served to Wanda Castleberry, C. F. In the chapel today Mr. Walton conducted several songs, then Miss Margaret Watt, accompanied by her mother on the piano, entertained us with her tap dancing. Yours truly has heard several college students say they wished we could have a program committee who would arrange chapel programs for us. Feb. 11.—The basketball boys and Mr. LaMance went to Decatur to play ball tonight. There is a bit of excitement over the Valentine party the college students will have in the reading room this evening at seven-thirty. The college bus wasn't held over for the party, but J. W. lost the bus key and they were delayed until after six. Quite a number enjoyed the party and everyone agreed that Lester Bendix made a very lovely blushing bride.

Feb. 12.—Abraham Lincoln would be 127 years old today if he were living. Too bad about the basketball boys, but things like that will happen.

Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea in "Banjo on My Knee," Drama With Music

A drama with music, deftly relieved by comedy and enlivened by several new song hits, combine to make "Banjo on My Knee," the Twentieth Century-Fox picture which opens Friday at the Arcadia theatre, a hit screen production. Add to this a story that is distinctly different in theme and plot construction; with the locale of Tobacco Road and for characters the shanty-boaters who live, love and die on their ramshackle barges on the lower Mississippi, and the sum total is something new in movie entertainment. Fighting—loving—laughing—weeping, the tempestuous emotions of these picturesque children and intrigue the interest of everyone, from opening scene to thrilling climax. The selection of a cast to delineate these difficult roles was little short of inspired, with Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea co-starred, supported by such talented and popular players better than any girl on the river." Victor Kilian, who buys the fish catches of the colony, tries to kiss Barbara, and Joel knocks him into the river. Searchers cannot find Kilian and Joel decamps, believing himself a murderer. Kilian is not drowned, but Joel is far at sea, and is not heard from for six months, while the shanty-boaters jeer at Barbara as an unskipped bride. Walter Catlett, traveling photographer and lady-killer, tries to persuade Barbara to go to New Orleans with him as his retoucher. She refuses. Joel returns but tells her that he is going to leave her again, to set up a home for her in the West Indies.

Informed, Barbara demands that he take her with him and, when he refuses, she runs away with Catlett. In New Orleans, Barbara tells Catlett she will not go through with it, and gets a job as dishwasher in the nearby Creole Cafe, a river-side cabaret. Joel appears at Catlett's studio, learns that Barbara has fled, and gives Catlett an enthusiastic beating. He goes to the Creole to drown his woe, but meeting former shipmates, agrees to sail for Havana that night and misses seeing Barbara. Brennan, arriving at the studio, also hands Catlett a trouncing and goes to the Creole where he "woos" the crowd playing on his musical contraption.

Anthony Martin, crooner at the Creole, falls in love with Barbara. He tells her of the river man playing his contraption and she rushes to the cafe. Brennan embraces her and promises to find Joel. Buddy Ebsen, ne'er-do-well from the river, brings word that Joel docks in New Orleans that night. Brennan, Barbara and Buddy are putting on an act at the cafe. Catlett is giving her a dollar she overpaid him, when Joel, returning, sees it and wrecks the place, going to jail. Katherine, just arrived, pays his fine and he goes back to the shanty-boat to marry her.

What happens at the wedding ceremony provides one of the most dramatic and, at the same time, hilarious climaxes ever brought to the screen.

Pneumonia Often Follows a Cold

AUSTIN. — Pneumonia is always a serious disease, and early treatment is of paramount importance to lessen the severity of the disease and prevent death, is the warning issued by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

"A person previously well may develop pneumonia suddenly," he said, "but most often it occurs in persons who have, or who recently have had, a cold. Yet many people do not take the cold seriously enough. Suspect every cold. Go to bed immediately if you have a fever with a cold, call your physician, and do exactly what he says. By intelligently following your physician's advice at the beginning of the attack you may ward off the after effects which so often follow neglected colds—pneumonia among them."

"Almost any part of the air passage may sometimes be attacked by bacteria. When the nose is affected we call the condition a cold. The tissues of the nose react to such infection by a profuse mucous discharge of mucous liquid. This discharge is really an attempt on the part of the body to get rid of the germs and their poisons. If the infection is lower down, it causes a sore throat. If the voice

If the germs reach the bronchi, the disease is known as bronchitis. If the germs get down to the lungs the person affected has pneumonia. Thus it may be seen that the common cold may be the beginning of one of the most serious complications of the respiratory tract.

"These respiratory diseases may be avoided many times by establishing individual health measures. Help prevent colds and pneumonia by proper personal hygiene. Eat moderately, drink plenty of water and sleep 8 to 10 hours every night with the windows open. Do not allow the temperature of your home or working place to exceed 70 degrees Fahrenheit. Wash your hands frequently, especially before eating. Take some exercise out of doors every day, but avoid fatigue and unnecessary exposure to cold weather and rain. Watch your health habits and avoid a cold if possible—but if colds develop, take care of them and avoid complications of pneumonia."

Museum Shows Surrealist Art

PHILADELPHIA—An exhibition of Surrealism—the latest thing in art—has been attracting considerable attention at the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

About 500 works of art, painted from the imagination of 150 Surrealists, arrived here recently from the Modern Museum of Art in New York City to be placed on exhibit at Philadelphia's art center.

This type art is a newcomer to circles where artists and critics gather to discuss art. The average citizen is hard put to find a definition for it.

According to Fiske Kimball, director of the museum, Surrealism is supposed to represent a sort of "Alice in Wonderland" in art. Another artist said that it is simply a dream of the artist put on canvas and might be considered in the same light as the "stream of Consciousness" writing.

Surrealism had its start early this century in Paris. A number of young painters and etchers decided that everything had been done in classic art and youth needed a new field. The result was that two-headed people, multi-legged cows on trapezes, and trains going forward in reverse, appeared on canvases.

Decorators and commercial artists were quick to sense that here was something new and useful. Merchandise displays and decorations soon began to feature Surrealists.

An example of the art seen at the preview of the exhibition was a wax foot with six toes and swollen ankles underneath a pink umbrella and titled "Man Throwing Stone at Bird."
