MASS MEETING TONIGHT TO BRING HOMECOMING PLANS BEFORE PEOPLE

A mass meeting, at which plans for Ranger's 20th anniversary homecoming will be discussed and explained, will be held tonight at 8:30 in the Colonial ballroom of the Gholson, with a large group of business men and women and others who are interested in seeing Ranger celebrate the 20th anniversary of the discovery of oil expected to be present.

After the first meeting, held Tuesday morning, many have expressed the opinion that Ranger could put on a real celebration, as tentatively outlined, at a very nominal cost, and provide plenty of entertainment for the thousands that are expected to be here on Oct. 21, the day set aside for the homecoming.

A large number of citizens have been solicited to attend the meeting tonight and to take a part in the meeting and help plan the details of the homecoming.

From those who have expressed an opinion on the homecoming and who are in favor of an inexpensive but impressive program for the day, the following suggestions and statements have been secured:

Hall Walker, Mayor — "I am of the opinion that the 20-year homecoming can be made very attractive to out-of-town people and to home people. Plans so far worked out are very satisfactory, yet inexpensive for the local people. I believe everyone should come out to the meeting tonight at 8 o'clock, get our views, get your views, each lend some thought and be helpful and the job will not be so big for a few and we will all get a lot of enjoyment and fun out of the homecoming."

CCC Not a Hothouse for Cannon Fodder

America's lot in the depression was bad enough to suit the most discriminating pessimist, but along with the hard jolts came a few innovations which proved their value not only as emergency trouble-shooters but as semi-permanent projects as well.

One of these was the Civilian Conservation Corps. Its immediate service was to take thousands of boys off the highways, out of railway yards and slum districts, away from the evils of idleness and give them a job to do and a decent place to live.

Through all the pitfalls of changing government policies, through the criticism of skeptics, and the dangers of possible exploitation by militarists, the CCC was kept responsible. And it earned its place as probably the noblest of all the New Deal alphabetical agencies, both in purpose and in practical accomplishment.

For those reasons, citizens have a personal interest in a proposal made by the Veterans of Foreign Wars at their recent national convention.

A resolution "demanded" that the 300,000 youths now enrolled in the CCC be signed as a permanent corps and "be recognized as a complement to our national defense."

This plan, carried out to its logical conclusions, would mean, in the first place, that every boy seeking the advantages of the CCC as it stands today would have to admit the government's right to call him out for military duty in case of war.

It follows also that the duties which the CCC has performed so admirably thus far in conservation and community building projects would have to be curtailed to allow for the teaching of the basic principles of army practice.

And out of it all would come the inevitable growth of a junior military clique patterned after those now in vogue with the European dictatorships.

Of course, the CCC candidate himself would have to approve this plan before it could be put into successful operation, supposing, naturally, that enlistment would be voluntary.

But the blessing of the American public would be necessary, too. And it is extremely doubtful whether that blessing would be forthcoming. For one thing, the CCC was accepted as a depression emergency measure, and should be continued only as long as the emergency exists.

Opposition to this proposal and insistence on keeping the CCC on its present basis until it can be disbanded will prove that the nation is smart enough to know just how far to go with a good thing.

Heart Scraped, Then Put Back; Patient Lives

ROME.—Italian heart specialists are studying the report of Prof. Defrise, a Milanese surgeon, who claims to have taken out the heart of a 50-year-old man, scraped it for an hour, put it back and restored the patient to health.

The patient, Signor Lelli, was suffering from pericarditis — or inflammation of the smooth membrane which surrounds the heart.

Prof. Defrise says he "opened a shutter" between Lelli's ribs, took out the heart and held it in his hands for 80 minutes, scraping it all the time.

The surgeon, who is only 36, claims that this is the first operation of its kind ever completely successful.

Big Spring and Eastland Out For First Win of Season Friday Night

Two teams who opened their seasons with defeats will be fighting for their first victory Friday night at Big Spring when the Eastland Mavericks meet on the Steer's field at Big Spring.

Eastland lost last week after a hard battle with the Brownwood Lions, 13-0. Big Spring lost to Wink, a Class B eleven.

Coaches of Eastland and Big Spring are expected to have profited greatly in the revelations of games last week.

Here are some of the comments on the Big Spring-Wink game in the review of the engagement Sunday in the Big Spring Herald.

"The locals made anything but a bad showing. Murphy may go places yet despite the fact that he hasn't the best of material to work with."

"He has a slow starting ball club that may hit its stride later in the season. If it does, this old Oil Belt may get a package yet."

"The center of the Big Spring wall leaked like a sieve. When the Wink secondary got tired of seeping through the line they simply went around end."

The Big Spring center may not leak as described in Friday night's game. Co-Captain Doug Rayborn, a center, out of the Wink game, is expected to be back in the lineup when the Mavericks toe the mark.

Eastland will be handicapped to an extent by the absence of Sparks, one of the Mavericks best punters, and Bagley, both injured in the Lion engagement.

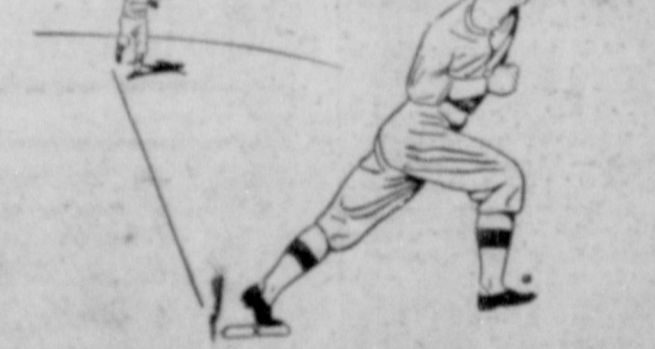

Many observers in the Oil Belt agree that Brownwood is one of the leading teams in the district.

While Brownwood won against Eastland the statistics don't reflect such overwhelming strength. First downs were eight for the Lions and seven for Eastland. Eastland's passing attack is to be improved. Here's the roster of the Steers:

Inviting Yet Forbidding Are Gates of Hollywood, Which May Be Open To Local Talent

Inviting... yet forbidding... Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Test Crew are the gates of any of the great motion picture studios in Hollywood. Countless thousands have in the past and are today, trying to crash them; and almost as many thousands who try meet with failure for it simply isn't "in the cards" for all those with ambitions for a screen career to find success or even a chance at success.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, one of the more famous of the Hollywood studios have gates equally as hard to "crash" as any of the other major studios. But by the magic of special arrangements and ideas hatched by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer executives, they are going to swing wide for four Texas people yet to be found and nominated for this rare chance at a screen career.

M. G. M., as the firm is more familiarly known in the "trade" is possibly the most eager of all the major producers to find and develop new talent. But new talent is hard to find. Perhaps it is constantly knocking at MGM's own gates, but MGM doesn't think so and for the reason that it believes the new talent will be searched out it is literally turning Texas into a hunting preserve of its own for the purpose of searching out those with screen possibilities. To this end this important producing organization has committed itself to making seventy-five screen tests and in addition, to taking four of the most promising among those tested to the studios for the purpose of making further tests.

Simple though such a procedure may sound, the problem is a different one. First off, if a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer test crew made its appearance in any city or town in Texas and announced itself as ready to make film tests it would be mobbed and nothing would be accomplished. The process of weeding out those with no possibilities would take forever. And that is where the Interstate-Texas Consolidated Theatres enter into the picture.

In each of the towns and cities throughout the state where the company operates theatres, Interstate-Texas Consolidated Theatres will conduct screen test auditions for the purpose of selecting the most promising materials. The selections from these various auditions will be sent to four Texas key cities where the actual film tests will be made. In this way Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will have a first rate chance of securing the most promising screen material in the state, at the same time giving those with screen ambitions a better chance at having their talents brought to light.

Local auditions will be conducted along competitive lines for the purpose of selecting one person to be sent to Fort Worth for actual screen tests. Participants, who will appear before audiences at the Arcadia will be given regular studio "shooting scripts" to read. Allowances will be made of course, for lack of experience. Selections will be made by a local committee and a representative of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

After the final selection is made the one chosen for screen tests will be sent to Fort Worth with all transportation and living expenses paid. In Fort Worth the participants selected from all towns in the Fort Worth zone will be given the same attention that is given to regular studio screen tests. Each participant will be made up, directed, photographed and voice recorded by an expert.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Test Crew headed by C. Edward Carrier, director. He will be assisted by two cameramen, a sound technician, an assistant director and lighting experts.

In each of the four "test cities," namely, Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth and Dallas, two of those tested will be selected and sent to Dallas, the final test city, for further auditions and interviews by C. Edward Carrier who will be in charge of all tests. After interviews Mr. Carrier will select four from among the eight special selections. These four will be sent direct to the MGM studios at Culver City, California for further studio tests. All expenses of these four will be paid.

One of the most interesting features of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer "Search for Talent" is that is being done primarily as an experiment, aside from the principal object of finding new talent, to determine the possibilities of finding screen material through an intensive general search. Such a procedure has never before been attempted on so large a scale. A further purpose is to discourage ambitious people from going to Hollywood where thousands go every year only to meet with disappointment and sometimes actual hardship. The producing company feels that finer talent is to be found abroad that is to be found at its own gates.

The local auditions, conducted under the auspices of the Rangers Times and the Arcadia Theatre will take place at the Arcadia for two days, Wednesday and Thursday, October 6th and 7th. Auditions are open to all between the ages of sixteen and twenty-eight.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE!
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!
The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If bile does not flow freely, your food doesn't digest. It just clogs in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink. Laxatives are only makeshifts. A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmonious, gentle, yet convincing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox

NEVER fall in the soup, but by all means put soup in the fall menu. A pleasant autumn luncheon consists of a cream soup served with croutons, or toasted crackers, a salad and a simple dessert. Serve for formal dinners a clear soup. For a simple home dinner serve almost any type of soup and plan your dinner accordingly. If you start with a heavy soup, such as chowder or split pea, have a simple dinner. If your soup is clear soup or a noodle or vegetable soup, the dinner may be a bit more hearty.

Orange Soup (4 to 6 servings)

Two and one-half cups orange juice, 1 cup water, 2 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1-2 cup sugar, pinch of salt. Boil water, add sugar and salt. To this add tapioca and cook until tapioca is clear. Add fruit, juice, heat and remove from fire. Serve hot or cold.

Cream of Watercress Soup (4 to 6 servings)

Three stalks of celery, 1-4 onion, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 bunch watercress, 2 tablespoons flour, 3 cups chicken or veal stock, 1-2 cup of heavy cream. Chop celery and onion very fine, saute in butter, cook about five minutes. Wash watercress, chop and saute with celery and onion for five minutes more. To this mixture add flour, stir well, and then add stock, stir until slightly thick and cook slowly for about one hour. Strain through a fine sieve, add heavy cream which has been heated and serve.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Honeydew melon, bacon and apple rings, whole wheat muffins, coffee, milk. LUNCHEON: Canadian cheese soup, hot rolls, grapefruit and lettuce salad, tea, hot cocoa. DINNER: Tomato and clam juice cocktail, broiled lamb chops, baked acorn squash, string beans, pineapple and cream cheese salad. Sponge cake with whipped cream and chocolate sauce, coffee, milk.

Chicken Soup de-Luxe (4 to 6 servings)

Three cups of chicken stock, 6 fresh tomatoes, 2 stalks celery, 1-4 carrot, 1-4 onion, 1-2 cup cooked rice, 1-2 teaspoon salt, little pepper, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-2 cup heavy cream. Skin tomatoes. Cut celery, onion and carrot very fine, saute in butter, add tomatoes and sauteed mixture to chicken stock and cook slowly for about one hour. Add rice, salt and heavy cream.

Canadian Cheese Soup (4 to 6 servings)

Two cups chicken stock, 1-4 cup diced carrots, 1-4 cup diced celery, 2 cups milk, 1-8 cup butter, 1-4 cup chopped onion, 1-8 cup flour, 3-4 tablespoon cornstarch, pinch soda, 1-2 teaspoon salt, little paprika, 1-2 cup cheese, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. Cook celery and carrots in stock. Saute onions in butter. Heat the milk, add flour and cornstarch which have been dissolved in cold milk. Stir until thick, add grated cheese and serve with chopped parsley.

THE DEAD LINE 9-22

OUT OF THE NIGHT

BY MARION WHITE Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS PRISCILLA PIERCE—heroine, young woman attorney. AMY KERR—Cilly's roommate and murderer's victim. JIM KERRIGAN—Cilly's fiancé. SERGEANT DOLAN—officer assigned to solve the murder of Amy Kerr. ... 'Evidently not. And Miss Amy's been giving you a cock-and-bull story about her relatives. Now why, I ask you, why did she have to do that?' 'I don't know,' Cilly said wearily. 'I'm sure I don't know. The whole thing gets more impossible every minute. Whatever will I do now? There aren't any other relatives, I'm sure. Amy never mentioned a soul except her Aunt Harriet.' 'That's a funny one, all right. If she spoke so much about her aunt, why didn't she tell you that she was dead. Where's she been keeping herself for the past four years, eh? Guess I'll have to do a little checking up in New Hampshire.' Dolan made some more notes in the little black book. 'Now about these young men who were visiting you last night,' he proceeded. 'What can you tell me about them?' 'I can tell you about Mr. Kerrigan, because I know him very well. The other young man—Amy's friend—I met for the first time last evening.' 'Was Amy in love with him?' 'Oh, I don't think so,' Cilly answered quickly. She was not going to blemish Amy's memory by letting the police think she was the victim of a one-sided love affair. And Harry Hutchins, with half an eye on Gloria Harmon and her father's chain stores, would certainly not admit being in love with Amy. 'How long had she known him? Where did she meet him?' 'She knew him before I met her. I understood that Amy met him quite informally on a train, in the dining car. They were both coming to New York and so they just naturally got to be friends.' 'Hutchins from out of town too?' 'No, I think he's lived in New York, on and off, for many years. He has a great many friends here.' 'What does he do for a living?' 'He writes. Trade journal articles, I believe. On business management and economics.' 'What's the name of the paper he's with?' 'He's not with any paper. He's free lances.' 'And you don't like him.' 'I didn't say that at all.' 'You don't sound very enthusiastic about him.' 'Possibly I didn't like the way he played bridge,' Cilly offered. 'But certainly I have no reason either to like or dislike him.' 'I see. Don't think he measured up to this friend of yours, Mr. Kerrigan. Is that it? What's his business?' 'He's the New York representative of a Chicago publication, 'The Mid-West Review.' He has a small office at 190 West 42nd.' 'THE sergeant made a note of that. 'Have you gotten in touch with the young men yet?' he asked. 'No, I haven't.' Cilly hesitated. 'Jim is out of town. I don't know exactly where. He mentioned something about it last night.' 'Why haven't you told Hutchins? Seems he'd be interested, don't you think?' Cilly nodded. 'I meant to phone him the first thing this morning, but Mrs. Corbett awakened me. And you arrived as soon as I'd finished dressing.' 'I'll tell him. What's the number, do you know?' 'Here it is,' Cilly pointed to a tiny phone pad on the desk. 'Marlborough Hotel, Endicott, 5-0980.' Sergeant Dolan dialed the number. 'Hello. Marlborough? Let me talk to Mr. Hutchins, will you? Oh, say, wait a minute. Give me the desk first. Hello. This is the police. Sergeant Dolan talking. Special investigation. Can you tell me what time Hutchins got in last night—Harry Hutchins? What's that? ... Wait a minute, let me get that number ... Yes. Thanks. All right, now connect me with him, will you?' Cilly waited while Sergeant Dolan told Harry about Amy's tragic death. She noticed that he did not mention the fact of her being murdered. He did not ask Cilly if she wanted to speak to Harry. He finished speaking and replaced the phone. 'Looks as if Hutchins is O.K.,' he said. 'Desk clerk didn't see him come in last night, naturally—he was off duty—but there's a record of a phone call he made at 12:20. He must have gone right home; if he left here at 11:30, Takes a good 40 minutes on the subway over to the Marlborough. You're sure it was 11:30 when they left?' Cilly nodded. 'Exactly. By the banjo clock there.' 'He looked in his black book again. 'Twelve-twenty. That's just about the time Miss Kerr was killed, isn't it? Yep ... 12:20.' Cilly remembered that the big clock on the vanity said 12:20 when she had first gone to bed. And they always kept that clock a few minutes fast. (To Be Continued)

Jesse Jones Being Boomed As Likely Presidential Timber

AUSTIN, Tex.—Talk of Jesse Jones for President is being heard again about the State and its capital as politicians seem hesitant to choose between President Roosevelt and Vice-President Garner for the 1940 Democratic candidate. Some professed to believe that neither the President nor the Vice President would seek the nomination. If a sizeable boom is worked up for Garner, one practical politician speculated that "Cactus Jack" might prefer the fishing around Uvalde and step aside for Jones. Mentioned by a national publication as a presidential possibility, Jones said he had not heard any nation-wide demand for his candidacy. If President Roosevelt should seek a third term, it appeared likely to capitol observers that Gov. James V. Allred would announce promptly for a third term as governor. The difficulty about such a governorship campaign might be, though, that the Texas campaign would be over before President Roosevelt might feel called upon to make any declaration. Meantime, however, discussion of a third term for President Roosevelt might help Gov. Allred to overcome a generally recognized prejudice against continuity in office.

Louis Hughes Elected President
Of Senior Class and Gladys Larson Secretary
Tuesday proved an interesting day at Ranger High since the day was designated as annual students day for the election by popular vote of president and secretary.
Both the junior and senior classes were enthusiastic in the voting and nominees were Louis Hughes and Homer Smith for president, and Gladys Larson, Clara Bell Coffman and Rita Mooney, for secretary. President Hughes was elected by a vote of 315 over 82 for Smith. Gladys Larson, her second year as secretary, scored 188 over 73 for Clara Bell Coffman and 139 for Rita Mooney.

Baptist W. M. S. of Olden Picnic at City Park
The Women's Missionary Society of Olden First Baptist church staged a pleasant outing Monday when members motored to Eastland and spread a noon picnic luncheon on the attractive grounds of the Eastland city park.
These fellowship gatherings prove most worthwhile, bringing about a closer tie of friendship. There were seventeen members present. Bible study was observed in the afternoon with the lesson centered on the topic, "General Bible discussion."
Gala Play Party
Saturday afternoon last afforded a happy hour for a group of youngsters invited to the home of Mrs. T. L. Dupree celebrating the important third birthday of her little daughter, Joy.
The small tots entered into games and enjoyed a gay frolic until the serving of dainty refreshments passed by the honoree's mother and assisted by mothers attending. Misses R. H. Snyder, H. H. Stephens, Roy McCleskey, R. O. King, Jr., Tom Wilson, O. M. Lemmond, J. E. Ogg and Mabel Williams.

Sulphur Dipping of Goats Is Planned

A goat dipping demonstration with wettable sulphur is scheduled Tuesday morning at 9:30 a. m. on the R. L. Williams ranch five miles southwest of Gorman, according to County Agent Elmo V. Cook.
Cook reports four ranchers well pleased with results of wettable sulphur dippings. F. E. Harrell and Tom Poe of Cisco, he stated, were two of the ranchers. Cecil Shulte of Rising Star reported a better grade of mohair and that there were no lice on the animals at shearing time.
Dan Childress, Eastland, told Cook that after clipping he found mohair increased 20 per cent because of the wettable sulphur dipping. He also reported the mohair was clearer and more lustrous.

Sensational Values Be There Early
A three day bargain carnival has come to town and will be found at Montgomery-Ward's where reduced prices prevail from one end of the store to the other. Wise is the shopper who watches the bargains and realizes the saving to be had by taking advantage of them early. Quantities are limited and it is suggested that you be among the early visitors. The host of articles are too numerous to name but nothing has been overlooked to make it a very special carnival.

You Will Want to Take Advantage of...
The authentic advice to be given at the Oil City Pharmacy next week when Miss Auline Glenn representative with Cara Nome cosmetic company comes to town for a week's visit. Particular emphasis is to be given the skin and its condition following a blistering summer if you are to be pleasing to the eye this winter. Perhaps you are in the mood for a new "outfit" with a dash of smartness in every detail but the results will be entirely disappointing if your complexion fails to be clear and attractive. The old adage putting your best foot forward might well be reserved and one might say putting your only face in condition to attract. There are many of us who would have been more familiar with Cara Nome products ages ago but it has only been of late the Rexall item has been added to the large stock at Oil City. Now in order to further acquaint women with the results to be obtained Miss Glenn and Mr. Crawford cordially invite you to the store during Miss Glenn's visit for a personal and courteous introduction to this popular product, Cara Nome.

Killingsworth Cox Is Holding a Big Philco Radio Week

A special showing of the many new 1938 Automatic Tuning Philcos is being held this week at the radio showrooms of Killingsworth, Cox of Ranger. Prominently featured among these new sets are the 1938 Philco Double-X models, embodying, among other major advancements, Philco's new Incline Control Panel. This innovation is exclusive with Philco, according to Killingsworth, Cox, and makes for complete tuning ease and grace, whether standing or sitting. All of the Double-X Philcos are Automatic Tuning models, so devised that a simple flick of the finger brings in any one of a number of favorite stations instantly, tuned with absolute precision.
Mr. Killingsworth also states that big trade-in allowances, easy terms and free demonstrations are being offered to those who come in during this special Philco Week showing.
"Hundreds of people have already taken advantage of our special Philco Week offer," said Mr. Killingsworth today. "The interest in Philco this year is greater than ever before, due largely to the ease and speed of tuning these new sets; and with our extra-easy payment plan during Philco Week; more new Philcos are being sold than at any other time in our history."
Now that everyone has tried to pronounce Knatchbull-Hugessen, it's easy to see why the European custom of merely intaling treaties is so popular.
