MAV, LOBOE GAME PROMISES TO BE ONE OF CLOSEST SEEN IN DISTRICT THIS SEASON

What promises to be one of the closest games of the season will be played Thanksgiving afternoon at 2:30 against the revived Cisco Lobos and the plucky Eastland Mavericks at the new Cisco stadium.

At stake is the mythical "Eastland County Championship," both teams having previously defeated Ranger Bulldogs. Eastland and Cisco teams have each won two games this season.

Cisco won over Brownwood and Ranger while Eastland has defeated Ranger and Big Spring.

The Cisco Lobos are considered the Mavericks' arch foe. For years the Mavericks and Lobos have added a new chapter in one of the district's most colorful gridiron storybooks.

To the late Coach S. J. Petty went the credit, along with his players, for the first Eastland team to defeat Cisco Lobos.

Adding interest to the game is that the present Cisco team is coached by J. T. Petty, brother of the late Eastland coach.

Not since S. J. Petty's first victory over the Lobos have managed to win over the Mavericks. One of the problems with which the Lobos must cope is the passes of Tommy Samuels, one of the top ranking quarterback and aerial chief of the Oil Belt.

The Mavericks, under the tutelage of Coach E. B. Grady Jr., likewise are on the up grade. While, as the standings show, the Mavericks have not been victorious in the majority of their games, the players have always been highly respected by other teams because of pluck, despite in most cases, overwhelming odds.

Today's game is the last of the 1938 season for Eastland.

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 24.—District Judge Thomas Coe issued a temporary restraining order at Beaumont today, forcing the District 14 Athletic Committee to certify Port Arthur High School's football team as district champions.

Judge Coe also ordered the committee not to enforce its "eight semester rule" which would bar Port Arthur's 12-grade school.

The Eastland County Agricultural Conservation committee will meet Saturday at 10 a. m. in the office of County Agent Elmo V. Cook to consider recommendations on peanuts in the 1938 conservation program.

The meeting was called by Cook on suggestions of E. N. Holmgreen, administrative officer of the state committee, College Station, who stated the group is considering making recommendations to national officials in regard to including commercial peanuts in the general soil depleting base, rather than maintaining a special base for the crops.

Farmers have been advised to tell their committee their opinion before the meeting. Members of the county committee are Dick Weekes of Alameda, J. D. Guy of Carbon and W. A. Williams of Rising Star.

Points to be considered by the committee will include: 1. The average rate of pay per acre for diversion from the peanut base as compared with the average rate of pay for diversion from the general base.

2. The number of peanut farms in the county with a home needs requirement small enough to enable them to divert from the general base after it has been revised to include commercial peanuts.

When the Duchess of Windsor was Mrs. Ernest Simpson, she first made the name famous by her smart appearance; the new Mrs. Simpson, the former Mrs. Mary Kirk Raffray, promises to make it famous for her statuesque beauty, which is vividly portrayed in this latest picture made by Dorothy Wilding, British court photographer. The Simpsons will make their home in London after honeymooning.

Oil Belt Season Will End With Five Games Played Turkey Day

The Oil Belt football season will come to an end today, with Ahlene favored to win over San Angelo, despite reported injuries to the Eagles, and thereby take the Oil Belt title for the second consecutive year. Should Ahlene lose, the Stephenville Yellow Jackets, who play the Bulldogs of Ranger this afternoon, will be left in a tie with the Eagles for the championship and it would likely be left to the executive committee of the district or the two schools as to which would represent the district, the winner being chosen on the basis of previous records.

The Bulldogs are expected to play this afternoon, are more evenly matched, with early season records favoring Eastland and the Angelo, despite reported injuries to the Eagles, and thereby take the Oil Belt title for the second consecutive year.

Early in the season Stephenville defeated San Angelo 8 to 0 and San Angelo defeated the Bulldogs 61 to 13. Stephenville defeated Cisco 45 to 0 and the Lobos won the Bulldogs 32 to 6. The Jackets won from Breckenridge 13 to 7 and the Bucaroos won 67 to 0 from Ranger.

Sweetwater fell 20 to 0 before the Jackets and then defeated Ranger 64 to 0. Big Spring held the Jackets to a 13-12 win but defeated Ranger 20 to 0. Ahlene won over Stephenville 7 to 0 and defeated Ranger 62 to 12. Eastland fell before the Stephenville machine 38 to 18 and Eastland defeated Ranger 47 to 15, while Brownwood lost to Stephenville 17 to 0 and defeated the Bulldogs 46 to 0.

Eastland and Cisco, who also play this afternoon, are more evenly matched, with early season records favoring Eastland and the Angelo, despite reported injuries to the Eagles, and thereby take the Oil Belt title for the second consecutive year.

Other games scheduled for the afternoon in the Oil Belt include Big Spring at Sweetwater, Ahlene at San Angelo and Brownwood at Breckenridge.

FIVE MEETINGS FOR NAMING GROUPS TO ADMINISTER '38 FARMING PROGRAM ARE SET

Five meetings of farmers and ranchers of Eastland county to elect committees for the 1938 farm and road program were announced Wednesday by County Agent Almo V. Cook for next week.

All farmers, ranchers and landlords in Eastland county were urged by Cook to attend the meeting in their respective section of the county and vote in their election.

The committees elected at the meetings must derive the principal part of their income from farming or ranching and must be a resident of the section of the county for which they are elected to serve. They are not eligible to hold office as committeemen if they are holding or become a candidate for an elective or appointive county, state or federal office, it was explained.

Any person who solicits election as a committeeman is not eligible to serve. The five divisions of Eastland county for the purpose of electing committees and conducting the agricultural conservation program for 1938 are the same divisions as those used in the 1936 and 1937 programs. Farmers and ranchers bordering on the boundary lines may vote in either election but may not vote in both elections.

The five divisions of the county are described, briefly as follows: Section 1—All of county commissioners precinct No. 1, including Eastland and Ranger. Election meeting to be held at Ranger at 2 p. m. Tuesday, in the Gholson hotel.

Section 2—All of county commissioners precinct No. 4, including Cisco, plus a strip of land from the north end of the Rising Star commissioners precinct cut off by the road running east and west through Cook community. Election meeting will be held at Ranger at the City Hall, Monday at 2 p. m.

Section 4—The western half of county commissioners precinct No. 2, including Carbon. Election meeting will be held at Carbon at the Methodist church Thursday at 2 p. m.

Section 5—All of county commissioners precinct No. 3 except the northern part cut off by the road running east and west. Election meeting will be at the Rising Star theatre at 2 p. m. Friday.

Proclamation of 87 Years Ago Is Applicable Today

AUSTIN, Nov. 24.—Although Thanksgiving Day first was proclaimed a state holiday 87 years ago, much of the original proclamation might have been repeated appropriately by Gov. James V. Allred in this year's proclamation.

Gov. P. Hansborough Bell issued the first Thanksgiving proclamation for Texas. It did not call for the usual November observance, but for a day of thanksgiving on the first Thursday in March, 1851. The proclamation was issued on the last day of 1850. In scholarly language it reviewed events of the year for which the governor deemed a day of thanks should be observed.

None of the Presidents of the Republic of Texas had issued any Thanksgiving proclamations. So far as records show none was issued by any governor preceding Bell. One later governor omitted the annual proclamation, explaining he thought prayer and thanksgiving a religious matter that should be kept distinct from affairs of the state.

That times do not change greatly is illustrated aptly by the old proclamation. The year 1850, Governor Bell said, "has been pregnant with peril to our glorious institutions of government and full of incident worthy to be engraven on the memories of the living and by them to be faithfully recorded for the information and benefit of posterity.

PROFITS TAX REVISION SEEN LIKELY TODAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—A series of conferences on Capitol Hill today suddenly renewed speculation that the administration would speed efforts to re-assure business in regard to relief from undistributed profit tax burdens.

The move coincided with the call by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler for reassurance to business. The Montana senator said that the administration has "slipped materially in the country as a result of the court fight and of the business recession.

"It has slipped so much," he asserted, "I'm afraid the pendulum may swing back to the reactionary."

Whether an administration approved move would revise the profits tax at this session would result, or whether there would be encouragement of an effort to encourage business was uncertain pending the outcome of discussions among treasury and congressional leaders.

Meanwhile Chairman William Douglas of the Securities and Exchange Commission offered the department cooperative "progressive action" to eliminate alleged abuses or subtraction to thorough federal control. He spoke in the midst of the worst market slump since 1929.

Striving for Something More

Seed of that happy phenomenon, Thanksgiving, was sown back in the legendary days of our earliest settlers when, around the third Thursday of one cold, snowy November, they came to the conclusion that their half a loaf was better than none—and gathered to praise the thought.

By grace of public proclamation and a national weakness for turkey, that earnest little beginning has grown into a custom of sturdy proportions.

And as a custom, it is such a good one that it stirs conjecture of what might happen if it lasted the year around.

Imagine all the cliques and classes, all the social and economic subdivisions of the nation giving up their private ambitions in order to keep the Thanksgiving spirit at high tide for, say, 12 whole months.

Strife and turmoil would disappear magically. The labor wars would fold up and collapse; there would be no more high tax worries, no more carping at Nazis and Communists. There would be no concern over Japan's war on China, or the high cost of living, or the neighbor's roving chickens, or Siwash's fifth football defeat of the year.

In plainer words, life would be just too nice, too sweetly smooth to be real in a modern era which requires lots of realism—and the ability to fight back when it's called for.

Today's human beings aren't striving merely for enough corn and meat to carry them through a hard winter. They have to contend, as well, with a welter of new political, economic and social schemes which may remold life virtually over a week-end.

Perhaps that's why we can't spend a whole year as disciples of the credo of gratitude. Like those early pioneers, we have other duties that monopolize our attention. Three hundred and sixty-four days of the year, we are striving to keep our balance and our jobs through the confusion that has become the hallmark of the first half of the 20th century.

Keeping the level head through the depression deeps and the weird aftermaths of the depression has required all the balance, judgment, and discernment the nation could muster.

But we did remain sane and the nation is still intact. There can be no gloating until many still hungry persons are fed and clothed, but in the meantime, Americans have proved to themselves that they can take it on the chin, and they have every right to be thankful for that.

Purchasing Power Of Cattle Follows Trend of Numbers

COLLEGE STATION — Cattle numbers and the purchasing power of cattle follow cycles varying from 4 to 6 years in length, according to W. E. Morgan, economist of the Extension Service division of Texas A. & M. College.

When the purchasing power of cattle is high, production is stimulated, and cattle numbers increase, Morgan points out. On the other hand, when purchasing power is low, production is curtailed.

In 1920, there were about 49 million head of cattle in the U. S., Morgan says. In that year a steer was worth, in terms of what the ranchman could buy with the proceeds of the sale, 79 per cent as much as it was in the years 1910 to 1914. In 1930, 10 years later, there were 38 million head of cattle in the country and a steer was

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, evening puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Hudson Terraplane Is a Great Auto Local Dealer Says

Back from the Hudson dealer meeting at Dallas, where he previewed the new 1938 Hudson and Hudson Terraplane motor cars and heard plans for the coming year outlined, C. J. Moore, distributor for Hudson Terraplane in Ranger, declared today that the new cars were the greatest value achievement in the history of the Hudson Motor Car company.

"When the three new 1938 cars, the roomiest and most luxurious that Hudson has ever built, were unveiled for us the entire gathering of dealers sat hushed for a moment, and then thundered their applause in one of the most inspiring demonstrations I have ever seen," Mr. Moore said in describing his visit.

For 1938, Moore stated, the line will consist of three completely new Hudson-built cars. On these three chassis Hudson places the roomiest bodies ever built, continuing the 55-inch front compartment width, an outstanding feature in 1937, and in addition providing greater interior body length which is used to gain leg room in the rear compartment sufficient to satisfy even the tallest man.

Not only have the lines of the cars been beautified by a brilliant new treatment of the front grille which accentuates the longer hoodline, but the interiors of the cars have also been brought to a new high level of luxury and refinement.

For the first time in the lower price ranges, a "style surprise" is presented in upholstery and trim which is highly suggestive of custom body practice. In addition there is a host of engineering refinements for greater safety, economy, smoothness, power and easier driving.

In the 1938 cars Hudson's selective automatic shift transmission clears the front compartment of all levers and enables the driver to select gears handily up under the steering wheel with a flick of the finger and shift at any and all speeds by a touch of the toe without ever touching the clutch pedal. So far reaching has been this exclusive Hudson contribution to easier and safer driving that a number of other manufacturers are announcing a similar development for the coming year.

During the business sessions which followed the preview it was revealed that Hudson would enter the 1938 selling season with the largest sales organization in the past seven years, some 1,446 new distributors and dealers having joined the company during the past year. Also announced at the meeting were the details of the most aggressive sales and advertising program ever launched by the Hudson factory.

Mr. Moore now has one of the new Hudson Terraplanes on display at his local showroom and invites the public to see this great car.

Rev. Hugh Blair to Preach Here Sunday

Announcement was made yesterday by officers of Central Baptist church that Rev. Hugh Blair, association missionary, would preach at both morning and evening services Sunday. Immediately following the morning service conference will be held for the purpose of considering the call of a pastor.

The membership of the church is urged to be present Sunday morning in order that all may take part in the business meeting to be held, according to officers of the church.

Recitation Heard At Rotary Meeting

F. P. Brasher had charge of the Rotary Club program at noon Wednesday and presented Mrs. L. E. White, who in turn presented Blenda Morris, who gave a recitation on the Pilgrim Fathers, telling of their trip to Holland and finally to America to seek freedom. She ended her recitation with an illustration of a turkey, representing the traditional Thanksgiving Day motif.

Brasher then told of his recent hunting trip to New Mexico where he said the deer were "really wild," and told of killing a three-point black tail buck. He said that there was snow in the mountains of New Mexico, in some places 30 to 50 feet deep.

It was reported that the Ranger club had a 100-per cent attendance record during the month of October.

Visitors at the meeting were Walter Jarrett, and R. V. Adams of Abilene, J. C. McAfee of Cisco, Albert Taylor, D. Richardson and Dr. J. H. Canton of Eastland.

C. B. Pruet will have charge of the program next week.

Church-Maintained Store For Needy Is Now In Need Itself

A Thanksgiving service was held Wednesday evening at the Church of Christ, to which members of other congregations in the city were invited. Those who attended were urged to bring items of food for the church store, which has been in operation for several weeks.

The store was originated to help care for the needy who were unable to obtain the necessities of life from the relief office. Members of the church bring items of food for the store, which are placed in the basement and issues are made to those who are investigated and recommended by the relief office.

A number of contributions from those who are not in the congregation of the church have been received, it was stated by a member of the church, these gifts of food being entirely voluntary on the part of those who have thought the cause worth while.

The minister, W. W. Layton, is now urging that more people contribute food to the store, as the demands upon it have begun to surpass the supply and there are several needy cases, which have been investigated and found deserving, which need this assistance at present.

No "drive" is contemplated to secure food for the store, but an appeal is being sent out by the church and the minister to all who think the cause is deserving to contribute anything they may have in the way of food in order that the store may be made even more extensive in its scope.

"Several who are not members of the church, but who belong to other churches have contributed," one member of the church stated Wednesday. "They have come by to tell us that they had purchased a number of small sacks of flour or other items, which they wished to contribute. Anything that can be eaten, canned goods, flour, coffee, or just anything that happens to be in the cabinets of those who can afford to make donations will be appreciated."

Students Selected For Sheriff School

By United Press

EL PASO.— Fifty outstanding students from El Paso city and county schools were chosen for enrollment in the sheriff's junior police training school.

The school, organized by Sheriff Chris Fox, is designed to teach the students how law enforcement agencies work. Only boys receiving better than average grades and recommended by the school principals will be accepted.

The course will last for twenty weeks. There will be two hours of study every Saturday morning with one 15-minute recess.

The boys will receive regulation police training and will be given practical training in the operations of every branch of law enforcement in the city and county.

They will be taught fingerprinting, photography, first aid, scientific crime detection and crime prevention by more than a dozen instructors. They will be taught to detect blood stains with chemicals and other tricks of modern criminal investigation. Practical courses in how to unravel murder mysteries, burglaries and apprehension of fugitives will be given. Moving picture films of traffic problems and safety measures will be shown.

Sheriff Fox said the school was not for the purpose of training youths to become law enforcement officials, but rather to give that even if he rotted on the ledge later. He found 19 rooms in the place, and crumbled walls of what must have been six or eight more. The rooms were invariably small, about 8 by 10 feet in most cases; obviously there had been many occupants, and space was precious.

There were no windows. Doors were less than four feet high. "More pygmies," Bob muttered, smiling. That was an old mistake, he knew: the ancient people made low doors for defense. Enemies might rush a six-foot door and take a fortress, but they would have to stoop to enter a low one; one squaw inside with a club could thus defend it.

He saw an abundance of shards, and many unbroken bowls and storage jars. Several weapons were in evidence, also fireplaces, bits of wood, even charred corn-cobs which he knew to be centuries old. Partly wrapped in a shroud woven of grass fibers, now decayed, was the dried shrunken mummy of an old man.

Bob wandered, enthralled, as long as he dared. He realized his obligation to his associates, and so reappeared after half an hour on the outside or eastern edge of the great rock lip. He gave thought to getting out safely.

The rope was beyond reach—so far that he wondered now how he had ever swung far enough to leap into the cave. He still could see no possible means of entrance or egress, unless a series of six or eight long ladders, supplemented by chiseled finger and toe holds, were placed on the face of the cliff. There were some natural steps and footholds, nevertheless. Defiance Castle was the most impregnable of all the cliff fortresses he had ever seen, he knew.

When he was sure that no other means offered, Bob did a simple thing. He grinned to himself as he worked. "I'll look like a real cave man when I descend," he told himself. But it wouldn't work. Logic wasn't the answer. Her eyes filled with unvoiced tears, and a sob came. She got up hastily then, to go and look for old Hades Jones. She must talk to somebody.

The white girl's chin was wet, and her eyes were strangely hard, as she walked away. She knew there was just one thing in all the world she wanted, and she meant to have it.

Most people like an occasional vegetable dinner. When it is served to a family, the housewife must provide sufficient food to satisfy hungry children and weary husbands. She should remember that we all require a certain amount of protein daily, a good part of which is usually furnished by the meat at dinner so that in planning her vegetable meal she must provide a substitute.

Here are three dinner menus using vegetables as the main course, yet keeping the protein requirements filled.

Sport Glances. By Grayson

By HARRY GRAYSON, Sports Editor, NEA Service

SANTA ANITA having demonstrated that there really is gold in them there California hills, more than a dozen foreign-bred horses will chase it this winter.

They are more than welcome, for the American turf is sadly in need of handicap horses. Again it principally is the Hollywood picture colony that is peeping up racing on this side. It's a case of new blood two ways—owners and horses.

Last year Raoul Walsh brought Grand Manitou from France. He also imported Sunset Trail II from Ireland in hope of copping the Kentucky Derby.

Grand Manitou did not live up to promise, although he is a stakes winner in this country and may be of considerable value later on. And the producer and director was sufficiently satisfied to try the experiment again.

So this trip Walsh is importing Proxo from France. Proxo is eligible for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap in February, while a pair of 2-year-olds no doubt will be pointed for future editions.

THERE seems little question but that the South American horses, Caballero II and Sahri II, will journey to the plant of the Los Angeles Turf Club this winter.

In any event, Senor Lawrence Barker already has three importations from Chile at Santa Anita, with more en route. Senor Bing Crosby has a half interest in the Argentine thoroughbred, Sabuco. Incidentally, the other half of that interest rests with C. S. Howard's son, Lynn, so Seabiscuit has a family rivalry.

Two more foreign-bred plugs which will appear during the Santa Anita meeting opening Christmas Day were strayed by Night Raid, which got the lamented Phoebe Lap.

Greatest interest surrounds the French-bred Le Bambino, however. He is owned by Monsieur Ralph Beaver Straasburger, expatriate American sportsman. The Straasburger stud is situated in France, where Le Bambino was born and where he bagged a pair of events as a juvenile, but his owner also maintains an English stable.

LE BAMBINO is a more or less diminutive animal, being about as high as War Admiral. His sire was unbeaten Cavaliere D'Arpino, and Le Bambino, despite a mediocre record, has shown enough to indicate that he may be a worthy son. He prevailed twice in England this year, and raced to within a length and a half of Middy Sun in the latter's warm-up victory before the English Derby. He finished seventh in the English Derby.

Santa Anita, with its $100,000 in a lump sum, in addition to four or five other races of $10,000 and much more, is an attractive spot for owners.

As related in the foregoing, the new crop is a welcome addition to handicap competition there and elsewhere in this country, but so far neither War Admiral nor Seabiscuit has shown the slightest sign of nervousness, except in looking at each other.

Rattler Errs In Role As a Pet

By United Press

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Friendliness of a rattlesnake at an Ouachita National Forest lookout near here resulted in its death.

The snake, named "Old Spot" by the forestry lookouts, had loitered near the tower atop Oak Mountain for two years, "chumming" with the observers. In the cool of the day the snake could be found at the foot of the tower, waiting for his human companions to come down and "play with him."

Recently a new helper who was not so familiar with the snake's ways was assigned to the tower. The helper was hanging up clothing one morning when "Old Spot" crawled up the hill. The reptile was playful, but the lookout thought the snake meant business.

"Old Spot" got too close. Now he won't come back for any more games.

"Old Spot" was one of three rattlers that were seen around in the vicinity of the lookout tower. A little later one of its mates was found dead.

The third reptile, sensing a change in attitude, apparently found a new home. It hasn't been seen since in the vicinity of the tower.

SORE THROAT WITH COLDS Given Fast Relief

Take 2 Bayer Tablets with a full glass of water.

Crush 3 Bayer Tablets in 1/2 glass of water—gargle twice every few hours.

The speed with which Bayer tablets act in relieving the distressing symptoms of colds and accompanying sore throat is often amazing, and the treatment is simple and pleasant. This is all you do. Crush and dissolve three genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets in one-third glass of water. Then gargle with this mixture twice, holding your head well back.

This medicinal gargle will act almost like a local anesthetic on the sore, irritated membrane of your throat. Pain eases promptly; rawness is relieved.

You will say it is remarkable. And the few cents it costs effects a big saving over expensive "throat gargles" and strong medicines. And when you buy, see that you get genuine BAYER ASPIRIN.

Training Program Of NYA Youths Is Endorsed by Board

AUSTIN, Texas—The training program for youths assigned to National Youth Administration Work Projects was endorsed last week by the State NYA Advisory Board, which voted to notify Aubrey Williams, Executive NYA Director, that the Board believes the time is at hand in Texas for extending and expanding the program further.

NYA youths have been assigned to Work Projects which were calculated to provide job discipline and work training, with the development of some primary skills. They have been encouraged to attend night schools and Emergency Education classes, and have been provided with some special training courses during their spare time, in order that they may gain through experience some knowledge of vocational opportunities.

Hudson Terraplane Sedan for 1938

The Hudson Terraplane Sedan in the Deluxe series is on 117-inch wheelbase and has a 96-horsepower engine. The Hudson Super Terraplane, on the same wheelbase, has five additional horsepower.

The statement adopted by the Advisory Board recited that since the beginning of the National Youth Work Program, the Texas Director and his staff have striven for and have obtained a dollar's worth of value for each dollar expended. It continued: "Through parallel training courses and work experience, youths assigned to the Work Program have been given training looking to vocational and leisure time accomplishments. It now appears that, without losing sight of the necessity for getting full value for each dollar expended, the Texas Youth Administration can extend and enlarge the training aspect of the program. The State Advisory Board pledges its assistance to that end."

The statement was communicated to Mr. Williams by A. J. Wirtz of Austin, chairman of the Advisory Board. Other members of the Board are Miller Ainsworth of Luling, R. B. Anderson of Vernon, C. E. Doyle of Beaumont, Beauford Jester of Corsicana, Sid Kyle of Pecos, Joseph S. Myers of Austin, D. H. Perry of Robstown, and H. J. Lucher Stark of Orange.

Thanksgiving Program Made Colorful Through Artistic Background
Among Thanksgiving programs and varied modes of entertainment giving accent to the holiday is a feature of entertainment which shall linger long and colorfully in the minds of every person making up the audience gathered at the First Christian church Tuesday evening, when Mrs. L. E. White presented her dramatic class and those known as persons of the Little theatre group.

The entire church was decorated to resemble a wooded scene or brightly hued forest. The background reflected a harmonious setting with its profusion of leaves and foliage. Here and there were seen huge pumpkins casting their golden hues against the more sombre shades of leaves. Furniture to add the comfy atmosphere was furnished through the courtesy of Montgomery Ward and manager Mr. J. L. Ambler.

The program members added extra color to the scene with the girls wearing pastel formals and the boys in dress suits. Miss Billie Jean Joseph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Joseph acted as usherette and wore a lovely light blue taffeta formal. Mrs. Homer D. Smith presented her orchestra who played appropriate selections at intervals during the program made up of the following numbers:

"Thanksgiving Greetings" Charlotte Love, "The Pilgrims" chart talk: Glenda Faye Morris. The pre-school class in reading: Alvin Langley, Nancy Lee Phillips, Jane Varner and Jaynett Cawley, "A Musical reading," "Second Hand Trousers," Tommy Powell, accompanist Francis Hatley, "Hungry" Eula Edna Smith; "City Ignorance" a play; Scene: The Roadside; characters: Jewel Christine White, Linnie Bryant, Juanita Love, Billie Jean Joseph, and Murell Lee Stiles, "Her Grandfather's Hymn" Montrell Langley, Murell Lee Murell, violinist, Francine Hatley, pianist, "Dance of the Pumpkin" Nancy Lee Phillips and Jaynett Cawley.
